Truck Plunges Off Caddo Road, Burns

Judge: What's your name and occupation and what are you charged with?
Finner: My name is Sparks. I'm an electrician. I'm charged with battery.
Judge: Put him in a dry cell.

The sixth grade graduating class of Young School had its share of honor students, Colleen Scoggin said Monday.

Graduating with honors were Maurice Owen, Teddy Joe Neely, Judy Wright, Charles Ferguson, Helen Blackwell and Janie Adams. The Parent - Teachers Association of Young School also had a surprise for the graduates following Saturday graduation exercises. Each girl was given a corsage and each boy was given a pen and pencil set.

Five-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harper, visiting here from Brady, took a bone from a piece of round steak from his pocket while changing his pants. When asked what the bone was for, the boy, amazed at a grown adult not knowing the purpose of the bone, replied, "That's for unfriendly dogs. When I see an unfriendly dog, I take the bone out and let him smell it, and then he gets friendly."

The most recent weekly report of Omar Burleson, representative of the 17th district, outlined the trend of the nation's economic picture in his article titled "As It Looks from Here."

It's the symbolic trend of the Republican party. Bigger profits for industry and nothing for the working people and the farmer.

Burleson carefully pointed out that after taxes and bonuses, General Motors profits equaled about 31 per cent of its entire worth, compared to an average rate of about 12 per cent for U. S. industry as a whole. Yet, the company feels that a price reduction on its products is not justified.

Small business in many parts of the country are having rough sledding. A recent Dun and Bradstreet report shows that there were 277 commercial and industrial failures in the week ending May 3. This was the highest number of failures in seven weeks. It was an increase of 17 per cent over the same last year, and 34 per cent over the same week in 1954.

However, in favor of the working people, even though we are in an area where unions are not generally accepted, we can say that they have been the only agency protecting the wage worker.

Even though living costs have not risen too sharply and further unemployment looms in the near future and the profits of the large corporations continue to grow, we have and never could see how the working people could vote a Republican ticket and even now the ability to visualize the situation even grows dimmer.

Take for instance the farmer, whose taking the beating of his life with both the elements and Republicans turning their back on him. Where is his survival. The caretaker of the earth—now broken financially and spiritually.

But even when the farmer's produce is abundant, his margin of profits is far less than that of the corporations, and he has less opportunity of receiving government contracts or tax write-off benefits for expansion.

Just where do we go from here?

A 27-year old Ranger man narrowly escaped serious injury this morning when the truck he was driving plunged off Caddo Road into a 20-foot ravine and burned.

Jack McDow, driver of the truck, was uninjured.

The truck, belonging to Sargent Oil Well Cementing Service, failed to negotiate a sharp curve after the wheels locked on the vehicle that was rigged especially for the company's use.

Faulty wheel bearings apparently caused the wheels to lock.

McDow threw himself into the floor board of the truck and large trees cushioned his plunge into the ravine. He was returning from a job near Caddo when the accident occurred.

Trees were bent and scarred for more than 80 feet from where the truck first left the road.

Splashing gasoline ignited causing the blaze which nearly destroyed the truck.

WORST SUSPICIONS CONFIRMED—Married citizens convinced of the omnipotence of the tax collector will be horrified to know that the girl peering from the mail collection rack, above, is an Internal Revenue Service employee. Margie Spencer, who works for the Internal Revenue department in Indianapolis, Ind., is appearing in a strictly unofficial capacity. She's posing to emphasize attractiveness of Uncle Sam's new mail collection racks and is not scrounging the mails for late tax returns. Citizens perform first steps in mail sorting operations by depositing air and special delivery matter at left; out-of-town first-class mail goes at right and local letters drop on top of Margie's head.

Four Injured In Head-On Crash Sunday Afternoon

First offense DWI was to be filed against Jules R. Soule of Fort Worth today after his car, being chased by a sheriff's car from Parker County, crashed into a second car Sunday afternoon in the Ranger city limits, injuring three persons.

Most seriously injured of the three was Mrs. Ben Young, about 45, who suffered three broken ribs, a deep cut on the forehead and bruises about the body.

Also hurt, were her husband, a double amputee, who had bruises over his body and their 14-year-old granddaughter, Becky Rawls, who suffered minor bruises. Miss Rawls was released from the West Texas Hospital Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Young, who had been to the baccalaureate services at TCU in Fort Worth, were driving a practically new 1956 Chevrolet that had just been rigged with hand controls for Mr. Young, who has lost both legs. He was driving at the time of the crash.

The wreck occurred slightly east of Blundell Street where the construction company engaged in rebuilding that section of U. S. Highway 80 had thrown dirt embankments on both sides of a new bridge, also under construction.

Detour signs direct traffic around the dirt heap.

Soule did not negotiate the gradual turn as he approached from the east and Young rolled between Soule and the dirt mound, where the cars struck headon.

Soule, a mechanic by trade and also a diabetic, had been fishing at Possum Kingdom. His only injury was a cut artery on his right leg.

Eastland - Cisco Gas Pipeline Plans Announced

Announcement was made this week that Lone Star Gas Co. will build a new 8.8 miles pipeline in the Eastland - Cisco area. Julian L. Foster, vice president, made the announcement in Dallas.

300 Hear Memorial Day Services Here

More than 300 persons heard Herman Fitts, Mineral Wells attorney, outline the principles of democracy at the American Legion's Memorial Day services Sunday at the Ranger Evergreen Cemetery.

Following the prayer beginning his speech, Fitts outlined the principles of democracy that Americans had given their lives for. He said that he did not believe that Americans would ever sacrifice their principles.

The program opened at 3 p.m. with a color guard composed of Johnnie Gay and Ray Williams, placing the Legion flag and the United States flag by a casket representing all veteran dead in this area.

Morris George led the group in the singing of "America." Rev. C. A. Stark led in prayer and Rev. Calvin Bailey read a scripture. Bill Knighton sang "My Buddie"

Temper flared briefly Monday during the last few minutes of an otherwise uneventful Eastland County Commissioners Court meeting.

The meeting's atmosphere changed like rainmakers claim a cloud's does when the silver icicle generator is turned on when Commissioner J. B. (Tip) Arther brought up the question of county bills being paid without proper authorization.

Arther's questioning immediately set off thundershower activity in the courtroom, but all ended in a matter of minutes and a rain-bow came out when commissioners left for a cup of friendly coffee.

The question which set off the brief flurry was this: "I'd like to know about some bills being paid when not authorized." Arther stated, after County Judge John Hart had said he supposed the meeting was over since there was no further business.

Before the Judge could rap his gavel to officially end the meeting, Arther had stated, "We're paying bills that don't even come across the table."

Judge Hart asked what bills Arther had in mind and he stated that the county treasurer, Richard Cox, had told him that checks for an Eastland doctor and for a Cisco hospital were on his desk, although the Court had not approved either. Arther went on to say that there were quite a number of other bills paid "that we don't know anything about."

County Auditor C. H. O'Brien told Arther that only "routine bills" are paid without monthly approval of the Court, and the Precinct One commissioner replied, "They may be routine to you but they are not to us."

O'Brien went on to add that the bills he paid without court approval were those that the Court had previously ordered paid each month, "such as the $200 which goes to the county hospital."

Arther then asserted that, "We don't have the control of the money as a group that we should have."

O'Brien said that he paid only bills approved, and pointed out that the two bills in question had been approved by Judge Hart and Commissioner J. E. McCannles. Arther said, "But not by the Court."

McCannles said he thought that the Court had agreed to pay the bill and that was his reason for submitting it to the auditor's office for payment.

Arther then said, "I have no complaint other than individual commissioners are approving bills for payment instead of the entire Court."

The hospital bill in question was for $150 to the Cisco Hospital for a charity patient.

Commissioner B. M. Bennett of Gordon then said that that bill was going to be paid he wanted a similar one for the Gordon hospital paid. Both the bill and the Gordon bill were rejected at the same time by the Court, their last meeting.

"We are starting something that's going to be hard to stop," Commissioner Henry Carter of Rising Star asserted. "But if you are going to pay one its only right to pay all of them."

It was brought out that other hospitals might have such claims, and that in the past such claims had been refused. Carter made a motion to pay both bills and McCannles seconded the motion. Before a vote was taken Bennett started to make a motion that as long as the County is paying $200 a month for the county hospital the county will not pay any other hospital for charity cases." Judge Hart pointed out that the first motion had not been (Continued on Page 3)

What Happened To The Road?

Bill Hinman, former Ranger policeman and now captain with the Handley Police Department, used to know these local roads fairly well—that is until construction began a few months ago on U. S. Highway 80.

Coming into Ranger early Sunday morning, Hinman and his wife pulled around one of the construction signs on Ranger Hill and then back onto about the same section of road on which they had been driving. Only thing there wasn't any road there.

There was just a cut straight down about three feet for the new road bed. Hinman got one wheel and the front end off before he could stop.

A wrecker removed them from their perch later.

For All Teams

One Baseball Agency May Be Formed Here

A group interested in forming a Pony League in Ranger, decided in a meeting recently to ask the Chamber of Commerce to allow them to develop the radio grounds into a playing area that would furnish a lighted field for not only the Pony League but also for the American Legion and Teen-Age teams.

Officers of the Pony League were not elected as anticipated, but a second meeting to begin at 7 p.m. Friday night in the American Legion hall was scheduled.

The group decided that the first order of business was the securing of another lighted field. It was pointed out that the Pony League could probably share the Little League field but the prescribed Little League playing area is smaller than that of Pony League.

Also suggestions were heard to incorporate all organized baseball in Ranger into one organization with funds for each team's operations coming from one agency.

However, Little League is the only organization that, at the present, has any financial standing. Other teams would have to find sponsors, which seems evident in the near future.

Indians Thump Giants

Dodgers Take Two Game Lead In Little League Play Monday

The Premier Dodgers took a game in the Little League lead Monday night, but the remaining three teams found themselves in a second place deadlock, following Monday's doubleheader.

The dodgers eased into their two-game lead with a 9-6 victory over the Yankees and the Indians stayed off a Giant rally, 13-12, in an abbreviated five inning contest.

In the initial contest, the Yankees found themselves in trouble in the second inning when the Dodgers pushed seven runs across home plate.

Actually it was all the runs the Dodgers needed but they picked up two cushions in the top of the sixth. The Yankees in the meantime were being held to only one hit through the first three innings of play by Richard Cozby the starting Dodger pitcher and winner of the contest.

The Yankees rallied shortly in the fifth inning as they scored four runs on four hits. The Dodgers outthrew the Yankees 7-6 with five of the Yankee hits falling in the last three innings, four in their big fourth frame.

Gerald Hodgkins and Tommy Comzcho were the leading batters for the winners as they each collected a double and a single.

Bob Koenig poked a double for the Yankees.

In the finale, the Giants saw a six run fifth inning shorted off after they had given the Indians 12 runs in the opening frame as the 9:30 curfew law caught the two teams in the fifth inning with a score of 13-12 which went into the score books as a completed contest.

The Indians dropped their bat-rack on the Giants in the first frame with eight hits for their big 12 runs. The Giants, however, pushed one score across in their half of the first inning, passed up a scoring opportunity in the second frame then began pecking away at the Indian lead with a score in the third, four in the fourth and six in the fifth frame, before time caught them.

Charlie De Los Santos, the Indian starter, got credit for the win. Butch Owens was the leading Indian hitter with two doubles and a single. Bobby Owens and De Los Santos also punched doubles for the Indians.

Johnny Merritt led the Giant batters with two singles and a double and Dee Hatman had a double and a single.

Country Echoes

By Mrs. Bill Tucker

To all those friends who have enjoyed reading our Echoes, and have passed to tell us so, our thanks and appreciation for their kind words. When our efforts have pleased someone, then we are encouraged, and pleased, also. Nothing like the local newspaper for a pickup on news and views, is there?

We had a pleasant chat with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Redwine of Salem Community, near Chaney, on Saturday afternoon, in Gorman. They told us of the arrival in the states of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Burley Saint, from Japan, where he has been stationed for a long while. They are now in El Paso, until the end of school. Saint is from Desdemona, where his parents operated a grocery store for many years. The Redwines are farming and their son, Floyd, is employed in Fort Worth.

We attended the called meeting of the Eastland County Farm Bureau Directors, Thursday night in Eastland with Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Campbell, of New Hope. Campbell is president of the County Farm Organization.

Mr. Stephens, who has been staying for the past six weeks with his daughter, Mrs. Lee Anglin, here at Oakland - Indian Mountain, was able to take a wheel chair spin about the yard on Friday. He has been a wheelchair patient since a fall many months ago which resulted in a broken hip and leg.

He spends part time with his two other daughters, Mrs. Pearl Palmer of DeLeon and Mrs. Maggie Tucker and family of Arlington.

Our sympathy is extended, with that of the community, to the Slade Heatherton family near Duster. Mr. Heatherton passed away last week in the DeLeon Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Broom paid us a delightful call on Saturday night. Then on Sunday afternoon Mrs. Richard Tucker, Mrs. Mary Tucker, Miss Betty Tucker and Mrs. Charlie Miller, all from Chaney, made a round of calls. First in our home, then in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Joiner, to visit Mrs. Billy Tucker and baby son, Dale, and last, in the Lee Anglin home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lasater and the Almus Lasater family also visited the new baby. Needless to say, all the men went fishing.

Season For White Wing Doves Doubtful

Whether Texas will have birds enough to resume open seasons on white-winged doves this year will not be determined for another six weeks or so, according to the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the once plentiful and popular game bird has been reported in good numbers in upper south Texas but added that the population estimates in the Rio Grande Valley's principal habitat have not been completed.

The season on whitewings has been closed since 1953 because of a severe population slump, dating back to a crisis five years ago when a freeze killed many citrus trees, influencing land owners to convert to field crops. Brush clearing practices have also reduced the birds' habitat.

Meanwhile, plans are going ahead, said the Assistant Director, for the annual study of nesting conditions in Mexican areas which occasionally build a rick feeding flocks flying northward into the Valley during the early September harvest period.

The Commission moved last year to help relieve the white-wing habitat crisis by arranging with the International Boundary and Water Commission to use a Falcon Dam, for whitening propagation.

A group, representing the Pony League organization, will meet with the Chamber of Commerce during their monthly meeting June 5.

Governors Pledge Four Month Safety Campaign

The governors of the 48 states, the Territory of Puerto Rico and the commissioners of the District of Columbia have signed a joint declaration pledging to support the nation's "Slow Down and Live" traffic safety campaign by employing "every available means to make our streets and highways safe from Memorial Day to Labor Day, 1956."

result it will be observed at Army, Navy and Air Force installations throughout the world.

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association and coordinator of the Slow Down and Live campaign in Texas, said that emphasis this year will be on enforcement and will center around the campaign's central theme: reduction of violations associated with excessive speed, speed too fast for conditions, improper passing, following too closely and failure to yield the right-of-way.

In discussing the program, Musick stated: "Thousands of vacationists will swell our highways during the 'Slow Down and Live' period bringing highway travel and congestion to an all-time high. The declaration by the governors paves the way to greater highway safety through a strong traffic law enforcement program throughout the nation."

TALKS BACK—Marilouise Graymount gives ear to Uncle Sam at a talking mailbox in New York City. It's one of the first of its kind. A two-way communications system installed in the box makes it possible for persons to obtain postal information without waiting in line in the post office. A clerk in the inquiry section wans a microphone to supply answers to queries made on air.

All commissioners voted yes except Arther, who voted no. Bennett then withdrew his motion, saying it might be impractical.

In other business the Court heard the monthly report of the County Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Minnie Hart, and de-lated right-of-way for the new Gorman highway.

There is an Old Chinese Proverb—
... reminding us that every long journey begins with the first step. Likewise all achievements require the act of starting. He who never tries, never does, never enjoys, never grows, never really lives! And failures usually follow wrong starts. For example, those who are buying real estate for the first time should get an abstract. In this they not only find themselves in harmony with the wisdom expressed in the proverb, but also following the course of generations past who knew the Chinaman was right.

Dry Period Blamed For Nesting Sag

AUSTIN — Temporary relief from dry weather in some Texas areas is counted on by the director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission to check a negative nesting condition among upland game birds in Texas.

Before the April-ending shower period moistened wide stretches of the state, the director received unfavorable reports particularly about mourning doves. These described the popular game birds as forming in flocks which, he said, means at this time of the year that nesting has been abandoned probably because of inadequate food.

Teachers Wanted Who Have 'What It Really Takes'

WASHINGTON, D.C. — An invitation to teaching — but only for those who really qualify — was issued here today by the National Education Association (NEA) through a new booklet entitled "Invitation To Teaching — If You Have What It Takes!"

Prepared by the NEA's National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards and National Association of Future Teachers of America, the publication points out that "teaching in today's schools is an exacting job that calls for top-notch ability. The fact that there is a critical need for teachers is not sufficient reason for just any young person to select teaching as a career. The children, the schools and the nation deserve only those young people who have what it takes."

"Invitation To Teaching" is an attempt to provide up-to-date and accurate information on the teaching profession in as compact a package as possible. It covers today's job openings and opportunities, requirements and responsibilities of teaching and summarizes salary schedules and tenure, leave and retirement plans in all the states. It includes a chapter on preparation for teaching, considering such questions as "How much will college cost?" "How should a prospective teacher select a college?" "What courses should be taken?" and "What are the scholarship, loan and part-time employment opportunities?"

LIFE RAFT FOR NEAR-SPACE VOYAGERS—Pilot of this near-space craft watches body of his ship begin the long, incinerating fall toward earth as he drifts free in the control portion of the vehicle. Drag of the parachute will become effective as the almost nonexistent atmosphere thickens on the long fall toward earth. It will slow him sufficiently to allow him to survive re-entry into the sea of air which is our atmosphere. Main fuselage of the craft will flame across the sky as friction at supersonic speed destroys it. The sketch, above, is one artist's conception of how man will return to earth after first reaching into space toward the stars. This possible solution was offered by A. M. Mayo, Douglas Aircraft engineer, in an address made before the Aero Medical Assn. at Chicago, Ill.

But throughout the publication the emphasis is on the importance of being "cut out for teaching" and answering the question "Would I enjoy teaching?" Many tests are presented for determining teaching aptitude. "But actual experience with children and youth," says the book, "is perhaps the best test. The opportunity to work with children — in Sunday School, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H, FFA — to help with details of organization, some of them dreary routine, will quickly bring a reaction. If the prospective teacher finds it monotonous, maybe he is not 'cut out for teaching.' However, he shouldn't give up the first day or first week. Every job has its dull aspects. The real test is whether the inspiring and the thrilling moments offer full compensation for the 'humdrum' ones."

Addressing itself directly to young people, "Invitation To Teaching" says, "Your choice of a career may well determine how you will spend the next 35-40 years of your life. Have you considered the opportunities for building your career in education? There is a growing need for teachers. Opportunities now exist and will continue to exist at all levels. Do you think you 'have what it takes' to become a good teacher? If you do, then you will wish to find out as much as you can about the teaching profession. Remember, it's your life — your decision. Read this presentation carefully — study it. Then, it's up to you!"

Change

Progress Requires It — Human Nature Resists It

By F. G. VOLLMER
President, Texas & Pacific Railway

Change, like death and taxes, is something we cannot escape. Its impact upon our lives is constant, relentless, and sometimes revolutionary. Human life constantly is in motion. Ideas and ideals, attitudes and actions, aims and ambitions always are undergoing some form of change. Change is a dynamic force which sometimes comes in small hesitant steps . . . and sometimes in giant strides.

But come it does, relentlessly and unceasingly, moving us onward and upward, or brushing us aside.

Good Change Leads

Change does not always produce good results. Sometimes the results are evil and destructive, as the pages of history and the events of our day so somberly attest. But the wholesome, constructive and progressive results produced by change far outweigh its evil counterparts.

Within the past half century we have witnessed sweeping changes in industry and agriculture . . . in commerce and finance.

Transportation Changes

As in other phases of our society, rapid and revolutionary changes have taken place in transportation. Fifty-eight million motor vehicles, 60,000 airplanes, 173,000 miles of pipelines have joined the railroads as important transporters of goods and people. These instruments of transportation were hardly more than a faint dream 50 years ago.

Rail Improvements

In the railroad industry itself, changes in motive power, in freight and passenger equipment, in terminal facilities and road operations, in communications and operations have been vast and varied . . . constructive and progressive.

These changes in our industry have not attracted unusual public attention, for they are not spectacular or romantic in character. Yet, they have involved capital expenditures of a billion dollars annually for the past ten years.

Progress Welcomed

Those of us on the Texas and Pacific recognize that change is constant and inevitable and we have moved forward with it, improving our physical properties and our operations so as to keep pace with the march of human events.

That is not only the prudent course of action; it is the practical, constructive and progressive thing to do.
