Police Report Only Three July 4 Drunks

Three out of town people were arrested, fined, then released by Ranger police over the July 4 holiday.

A man was released after being charged with drunk in car and paying a $35 fine. Two others were fined $15.70 and released.

Chief of Police W. G. Pounds reported no wrecks over the holiday.

From the Quill of Bill

We've come to one conclusion already. We're not going to support Virgil E. Moore for governor. What is this deal, anyway, a rat race?

You've got to give the chap credit for one thing, though. No other candidate is a combination of J. Evins Haley—who likes to call people liars, podnash; Price Daniel—who rabidly dislikes "left wingists"; and Sam Rayburn; and Ralph Yarborough—who the guy who wants to be governor worse than anybody else and is still batting a big fat 10.

But there's one thing which will go against him, his health. Health will be a major issue in the campaign despite what the Republicans say. And for all we know there might be a rule that governors have to weigh at least 100 pounds. That leaves Moore out.

Another thing. These governors have to be able to throw their weight around. If Mr. Moore doesn't add weight pretty quick, somebody else besides him will be throwing his weight around.

Up Hereford way (that's where we came from) Jimmie Gillentine of the Hereford Brand seems to be carrying a fight with both the Baptists and the "wet" forces. Sounds like one of those middle of the road guys.

Seems as though back around 1950 a full-blooded Indian who lived in Hereford at the time decided to do a "rain dance." He talked a member of the city commission, who was also part Indian, into doing the dance with him. It hadn't come a good rain in a month or so, and we guess they figured they wouldn't keep it away with a rain dance. The next night after the rain came a frog strangled him from above.

So about a month ago Hereford citizens decided they wanted another rain. The full-blooded Indian had moved away but the people got up a petition for the other chap to leave his with the rain dance. He was somewhat reluctant and finally backed out, saying that he thought some people might take him seriously.

That's just what they did. The editor of a well known Baptist magazine bitterly condemned Hereford's residents as "heathens" for participating in such idolatry. The Mr. Gillentine up and tells him just whose bear ate the cabbage with a somewhat frank editorial.

Then a group of Hereford people were getting up a petition to bring up a "wet-dry" election vote in Hereford. This Gillentine took a strong stand against it. You never can tell about these middle of the road fellows.

We have to keep talking about Hereford, but we noticed an advertisement in the Sunday edition of the Abilene Reporter-News which was quite interesting.

It was advertising pure Hereford water, telling about its fluorid content and about the 15 different minerals contained in it. Water has not Hereford on the map. The Hereford area is one of the most highly diversified farm-

Plug And Trigger (AT LAKE LEON)

As the water clears up at Lake Leon, bass are becoming more active and crappie are also contributing their quota to lucky fishermen. The water is about clear now, but has been murky since filling up the first of May. Mr. Margueff of Cisco reports a two-pound crappie caught on minnow, bank fishing. D. W. Moss, of the Chuck-A-Block dock, caught a 1 1/2 pound crappie.

J. B. (Tip) Arther Thursday issued a formal statement in behalf of his candidacy for commissioner of Precinct 1.

Jackson Calls For Lions To Be Active Americans

The true meaning of the Fourth of July was brought out for Eastland Lions Tuesday at the club's regular weekly meeting by guest speaker, E. L. (Stonewall) Jackson, past commander of the Texas American Legion, and an active American Lion.

Jackson, who is one of few men who have the distinction of having served three different Lions clubs as president, was introduced by Pop Garrett, program chairman.

The speaker said he wondered "what we would do today" if the United States was under a foreign (Continued on Page Two)

Giants Grab League Top Spot With Win; Indians Scalp Bums

The Commercial State Bank Giants gained the league lead with a 5-3 victory over the Killingsworth Yankees, while the Art's Tool & Supply Indians pulled one out of the fire to whip the Premier Dodgers, 12-11, in Little League play here Monday night.

A victory didn't come easy for the Giants, however. They trailed the Yankees for the first four innings of the contest before catching up and finally wresting the lead from the Yankees in the top of the sixth.

Dan Richey traveled the distance on the mound for the Giants, giving up four hits. Charles Ferguson gave up only three hits during his tour of duty on the mound for the Yankee cause.

The Yankees first took the lead in the bottom half of the first frame, Pete Hunter led off the frame by drawing life on a miscue. David Webb walked, and Bob Koenig unleashed a single to score Hunter. Billy Johnson went down by the "K" route, but Webb scored when third baseman Carol Jowers erred on Tommy Robinson's grounder. Another tally counted when Terry Townzen was safe on John Nicholson's error at second base.

This lead the Yankees held until the fifth. Yank moundman Charley Ferguson effectively handcuffed the Giants with no hits or no runs for the first four cantos. The Yanks, however, could tally no more runs and only a pair of bingles throughout the rest of the contest.

The Giants finally broke the ice in the fifth. Hits by David Lockwood and Don Riehey, coupled with a pair of walks given up to Carol Jowers and John Nicholson proved fatal for the Yankee lead. The score at the end of five innings was all knotted at 3-3.

Then came the fatal inning for

Company Takes Expansion Step

The first of five additional kilns to be installed by the American Aggregate Company in their huge expansion program arrived in Ranger Tuesday by truck.

The kiln is 85 feet long and weighs 25 tons and is six feet in diameter. It is made of half-inch steel and was manufactured by Standard Tool and Machine Co. of Longview. It was trucked in by the Eagle Trucking Company of Kilgore. It will be lined with six-inch fire-brick.

The American Aggregate Company now has a four-kiln operation located in Ranger and when the expansion program is complete a total of nine kilns will be in operation, according to Charles Bomar and Emmett Korff who are in charge of Ranger operations. When the five kilns are in operation it will probably be the largest light weight aggregate plant in the United States.

The five-kiln unit being installed will be a complete operation including a crusher for the raw product and a crusher for the finished aggregate, which crushes the product to specifications and loads it on hopper cars by conveyor belts.

Little League In Action Tonight

Little League action tonight (Thursday) pits the Commercial State Bank Giants against the Art's Tool & Supply Indians and the Premier Oil Dodgers against the Killingsworth Yankees.

In their last outing, the Giants defeated the Yankees, 5-3, to take over the league lead and throw the Yankees into second place. The Indians took out the Dodgers, 12-11.

New Water Line Solves Problem

A new water main is expected to make it possible to pump water into the Ranger water tank at night. City Manager Les Crossley said Tuesday.

The new main will run from the Eastland County Water Supply District's line three blocks from their main on the T & P right-of-way to Marston Street where it will tie in with the existing eight-inch main which goes directly into the water tank.

The object of the new line, Crossley stated, is to reduce the amount of head pressure in the distribution system so that more water can be pumped into the tank. "During the day, when everybody is using their water," Crossley said, "it reduces the pressure in the head. Now we expect to be able to pump water into the tank at night, whereas we previously had not been able to."

The new main is being constructed on the advice of Freeze and Nichols Engineers of Fort Worth. R. M. Sneed, Eastland contractor, is doing the work.

Work was started on the new line 1 1/2 Saturday morning. Crossley said, and work is expected to be finished by the latter part of this week. The Eastland County Water Supply District is footing the cost for construction, he added.

"The capacity of the pump is not enough to supply the tank, but with the new line we feel our problem is solved," the city manager concluded.

Soil Bank Payments Are Announced

Average payment for reduction of crop acreage in connection with the new Soil Bank program were released this week by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The average payment for reduction of peanut acreage is $12.00 per acre. This is an average. For some farms payments are slightly higher and some are smaller.

The average payment on cotton reduction is approximately $15.00 per acre. Payment on 1956 wheat will be either $4.00 or $6.00 per acre. Payment depends on several conditions.

If cotton or peanuts are to be plowed under for Soil Bank payments, this must be done by July 20. Farmers are asked to contact the county ASC office before attempting to carry out any part of the Soil Bank Program.

The land designated as the Soil Bank Reserve acreage must not have a crop harvested from it during 1956. The acreage must not be grazed from June 22, 1956, to January 1, 1957. Reserve acreage may be sown to summer or winter legumes.

All farmers interested in this program must have the contracts signed by July 20. Emmett E. Powell, office manager of the Eastland County A.S.C., said.

Chigger Larvae Cause The Itching; Red Bugs Don't Bite, State Says

Whether you call them red bugs or harvest mites or chiggers or just plain Eutrombicula alfreudugesi, you'll meet them this spring and summer. Forewarned is forearmed.
Texas, say state health department entomologists, has more than its fair share of the parasites, a statement with which anyone who has endured ceaseless spasms of itching misery from red bug bites will agree.

They—the chiggers—have a special affinity for low, damp places covered with vegetation. Bermuda grass lawns harbor them well, but for some unexplainable reason they are not usually found in carpet grass.

Bugs Don't Bite
Just for the record, it's the larvae which do the damage, attaching themselves with their mouthparts and sucking blood until they become engorged and fall off. The severe itching is caused by an anti-coagulant material they inject into their host.
Although adult chiggers—large, red, and velvety—are entirely harmless to man, their wayward offspring can be serious as well as annoying. The entomologists say they do not spread any specific disease entity in this country, but their bites often produce secondary infections in the form of sores and boils.

Few Immunities
A few people have an apparent immunity to chigger attacks, but the vast majority are fair game from about May until cold weather reduces chigger ranks. Favorite spots to attach themselves for blood meals seems to be hands, feet, and the stomach around the belt line.
They attack lizards, snakes, birds, and rodents with the same vigor and resourcefulness they display in attacking man. No distinction is drawn between humans and lesser animal species, which is hardly complimentary to us Homo sapiens.
Light applications of sulphur dust on lawns and low branches of shrubs have been used for years to successfully control chiggers. Nowadays, the newer organic insecticides such as chlordane and lindane give better results. Just follow the directions on the label.

Caution Urged
A word of caution: be sure to avoid unnecessary exposure to the insecticide. If you spill the concentrated material on your skin, wash it off immediately. And be sure to keep children and pets out of the yard until the spray dries.

Former Olden Man Honored With Banquet

J. Fred Warren, formerly of Olden and now of Electra, was honored with a retirement banquet by the Magnolia Petroleum Company June 15 in the First Methodist Church in Electra. Warren is retiring from the company after 27 years continuous employment with the firm.

Frank Wall, head of the material department in the Magnolia headquarters in Dallas, presented a plaque and emblem to Warren along with a brief resume of the honoree's affiliation with the company.
After having received his army discharge on July 15, 1919, Warren went to work for the Magnolia Petroleum Company at Olden, July 22, 1919. He remained with the producing department 11 years before transferring to the material department. He transferred to the Electra District in 1940 as assistant material foreman and was advanced to material foreman in 1950.

Those attending the banquet from Olden were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Crone, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Crowder, Mrs. W. P. Edwards, Stella Jarrett and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lawrence.

WARNING

The Russia-China Axis

While our politicians are giving our money away to our foreign friends and taxing us to death to the delight of the Red Chinese and Russians, you might be interested in what Dimitry Z. Manvilsky stated at the Lenin School of Political Warfare in Moscow in 1931.

"War to the hilt between Communism and Capitalism is inevitable—We shall begin (1951-1961) by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be—unheard of concessions. The capitalist countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clenched fist."

It is not too late for we the people to get more statesmen into Congress and fewer federal governmental politicians.

We cannot pin our hopes on the false friends and bogus peace promises.

We need refreshing representation in Congress. Spokesmen, for the people. Stop giving our billions away. We better have the atomic weapons, aircraft, and missiles to take care of any emergency. If we don't have, we should find out what our politicians have been doing all these years with our money and our liberties.

IT'S THE LAW

AGENT'S ACTS BIND PRINCIPAL

Suppose you hire your neighbor's teen age son, Jimmy, to cut your grass, and he runs your new mower into another neighbor's hedge. The hedge is ruined. Are you responsible for the damages? Quite likely you are.

Or let us suppose that you find you need a loaf of bread for the evening meal. You ask a friend to take your car and run to the store for it. On the way, he runs down old Mr. Peabody, seriously injuring him. Can you be held responsible? It is possible that you can.

In both instances, an "agent" was acting for you. His acts while performing those duties are, in the eyes of the law, your acts. In legal terms, you are the "principal."

You may be liable despite the fact that you may have cautioned him to be extremely careful. The average individual expects to answer for his own actions. He does not usually consider that he may be responsible for the actions of other persons. That, however, is frequently the case.

Suppose you ask another person to do something for you, that is, to act as your agent. You may pay him, or he may be doing it without compensation. You may ask him to buy or sell property for you. Or, his responsibility may be to negotiate an agreement for you with a third person.

If representations or warranties are made by your agent in performing the task which you assigned to him, you are responsible. In a like manner, you are responsible for the contract made by him while he was acting for you. You may be held responsible for the acts of a person who customarily represents you even though he entered into a contract for you without your consent or approval.

For example, you may have a partner in a business, and you and he have agreed that certain contracts shall be made only upon the signature of both of you. Unknown to you and without your consent, your partner signs such a contract with a third person involving partnership business. If the person with whom this contract is made has no knowledge of the terms of your partnership agreement, you are responsible for the contract which your partner has made.

You may have agreed between you that neither of you would buy, without the other's consent, any items of merchandise costing more than $50. You did not give this information to salesmen that called on you. In your absence on a Thursday afternoon, your partner ordered merchandise for your store costing more than the $50 limit.

When the merchandise is delivered, you can not refuse to accept it because you can be bound by the contract of your partner. This is true in many situations, and the salesman is not bound by your partnership agreement because you did not advise him of the $50 limitation.

As the actions of your agent are considered to be your actions, you assume the responsibility of his doing them correctly. (This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Enriched bread, like the vote getter above, is the winning contestant at the nation's popularity polls. Year after year in the competitive food field it is the people's choice. Breadmaking has moved from the home to commercial bakeries out of which daily move 40 million loaves.

Here, where the race is diverted among numerous attractive varieties of bread, the decisive vote is won by enriched white bread—the people's choice. The new publications of the United States Department of Agriculture, "Bread—Facts For Consumer Education," reports that 86 percent of the families purchased enriched white bread during an average week. Second contender, whole wheat bread is bought by 22 percent of the consumers and the group—cracked wheat, rye and raisin breads—comprises about 10 percent of household bread.

Interested in the wide margin won by enriched bread, the Department of Agriculture surveyed families in a midwest town regarding their preferences for different types of "panned" enriched white bread. In the four-way competition—texture, sweetness, fat and milk contents—the popularity poll was won by a very light, fluffy loaf made by increasing the volume as much as almost 50 percent. For another aspirant, sweetness, the highest level of sugar was preferred.

The third test determined liking for different amounts of nonfat milk solids in the loaf. These influence texture and taste. Out and about, were the usual loaf made with four percent milk solids and the one with eight percent milk solids. These were preferred over breads made without milk.

The fourth issue concerned fat content. Bread made with larger amounts of this ingredient failed to win appreciable votes.

County Girl's 4-H Club Camp To Be Held July 23 and 24 at Cisco

Twelve persons attended the planning meeting held Saturday for the annual Eastland County Girl's 4-H Club Camp. The camp will be held July 23 and 24 at the Presbyterian Camp at Lake Cisco.

Three workshops have been planned for the camp. These include recreation, crafts, and a handbox workshop. All of these will be taught by 4-H girl's serving as junior leaders.

Other camp activities will include swimming, miniature golf, skating, flag ceremony both night and morning, and devotionals.

Each girl who attends camp will be asked to pay a fee of $1.25 to help pay for the cost of the camp and the crafts. Also each girl will be asked to bring a small amount of food and their best lines.

Mothers of the girls are cordially invited to attend camp along with their girls. A number of adults have already indicated that they will attend.

Everyone who wants to attend the Girl's 4-H Club Camp should send their money to Mrs. Don Hart, County Home Demonstration Agent, by July 16.

Honey is used extensively in the baking industry, because it is easy to keep, easy to measure, adds flavor and extra food value and helps keep baked goods fresh longer than usual.

Honey is a safe food to feed to infants because its high sugar content discourages the growth of disease bacteria. Many doctors tell mothers to sweeten baby's milk with honey.

Whip cream and sweeten lightly with powdered sugar. Fold in two tablespoons creme de menthe and chill half hour in refrigerator. Fold in well-drained canned or fresh sweetened peach slices. Serve with sprig of mint.

happy vacations begin in a Chevy

You'll love to travel in it, because it loves to travel! When you get this Chevrolet out on the road, you'll want to keep going—and so will the whole family.

Of course, even in a Chevy the happiest vacations may involve one or two minor problems. Like fidgety small fry who want gallons of water and keep asking if you're almost there. The big things, though, are well taken care of by this roomy Chevrolet's smooth and easy way of going.

The fact is, few cars at any price hold the road with a Chevy's grace. That idea about the best riding cars being great oversized affairs went out with the introduction of Chevrolet's outrigger rear springing and low, precisely balanced chassis design. With horsepower up to 225, the Chevrolet moves out like a whiplash, for safer passing. And with it you've always got that solid feeling of stability.

It's no wonder that many people who used to buy higher priced cars are changing to Chevy! Stop by for a ride.

Open Season On Antelope Foreseen For West of Pecos

AUSTIN — Herd counts now underway indicate the antelope population west of the Pecos is sufficient to warrant an open season this fall, according to the director of wildlife restoration for the Game and Fish Commission. P. B. Uzzell of Alpine, wildlife biologist in charge of the aerial census scheduled for late June completion, reported to the director that up to 500 buck antelope probably will be available for the proposed October harvest.

Whether the season will include surplus doe antelope will be determined when the commission acts on the fall hunting program at its July meeting.

Last year, hunters took less than one half of the buck and doe antelope declared surplus west of the Pecos, said Uzzell. Permits were authorized for 1100 buck antelope and 250 doe antelope. The five hundred ninety persons obtaining the special licenses bagged 558 bucks and only 28 doe antelope.

After the hunting season failed to reduce the herds to the desired number, trapping crews moved in and transplanted approximately 600 head of antelope from the west of Pecos ranches. Uzzell said 200 head were trapped from one ranch alone and that the current herd count showed that this particular ranch still has surplus antelope which will be included in the proposed open season prospectus for this fall.

The director of wildlife restoration said recommendations have not been made yet on the Panhandle where an open season on buck antelope is considered likely.

Antelope license holders generally are determined through a drawing for applicants held in the commission's Austin office. Permit holders are entitled to one antelope.

Omar Burleson
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In a number of cases at different intervals during the last twenty years, the Supreme Court has directly and indirectly ruled that the Federal Government has the power to control that to which it contributes.

If this philosophy were strictly enforced, there would be fewer States' Rights left than have already been usurped by Washington. We hear much about States' Rights, and most people are all for it. However, many of us as individuals and as communities, are willing to sell off a little bit of these "rights" in return for Federal money. It is something like selling royalty interest under land. When we sell a part of oil and gas royalty under our land, it is gone forever unless we buy it back, and this is seldom done.

There are those who really believe that most all our government should come directly from Washington. A considerable amount of the Federal Government which we today find in our lives and in our business has been bought with the States' Rights we relinquished. It works both ways — there is a buyer and a seller.

This week there was a bill passed in the House of Representatives more or less erroneously entitled a "Water Pollution Bill." Research and study are greatly needed to find the answer to cleaning up many polluted streams in order to safeguard a clean water supply for human consumption and to protect wildlife. The bill, however, carried the well known "grant-in-aid" provision, which would permit towns and cities to receive directly from the Federal Government money for their sewer systems.

Now, no one could imagine that the Federal Government would want to control the sewer system of any town or city, but probably they could if it came to a Court test.

There is pending in the Congress a bill known as HR 3, introduced by Congressman Howard Smith of Virginia. It is an effort to redefine the basic concept and the historic doctrine of States' Rights. The essence of the measure provides that in the absence of a Congressional declaration depriving States of passing laws on a particular subject, and in the absence of any conflict between the State and Federal laws, the States will be presumed to retain the right to enact and enforce similar laws.

The Smith Bill is highly important piece of legislation. It should be passed before the end of this session of Congress to guarantee States their proper legislative power.

If HR 3 becomes law, and we as citizens look less to Washington for Governmental help of some kind, States' rights will be more secure.

This is really the way to bring Government back to the people. — Bright Sayings Department: — "The world is full of willing people — some are willing to work, and the rest are willing to let them."

USDA Approves New Chemical for Cotton Farming

A new dual-action chemical for cotton defoliation and regrowth control will be widely available throughout the cotton belt this summer. After extensive testing by the USDA and State Experiment stations, American Cyanamid Co., producers of 3 A T (amion triazole), is introducing this versatile material commercially.

In addition to defoliating the crop, amino triazole has the unique, added harvesting aid of holding back new plant growth from three to five weeks. By slowing second growth after defoliation, amino triazole extends the harvest period, makes picking easier, and reduces trash and green stain to a minimum. The material's versatility makes it useful alone or in combination with other defoliants. Addition of small amounts of amino triazole to other water soluble defoliants will permit the grower to reduce by as much as one half the dosage of the other defoliant required. Field tests on mature cotton have shown no adverse effect on seed germination, yield and fiber quality, nor any harmful soil residues. Other advantages of the new product include excellent storage characteristics, lack of bulkiness, compatibility with other chemicals and water solubility.

Concerning the product, the U.S. Department of Agriculture recently reported, "Research that is defining proper application rates for the promising cotton plant defoliant and regrowth inhibitor, amino triazole, should lead to better and more extensive grower use of this new organic chemical this year."

new way to get rid of RATS!

Rats cost money. It doesn't take many rats to eat enough feed to winter a steer. And that's aside from what they ruin and contaminate.

Research has recently moved far ahead with control work. From this work has come two exciting compounds called Pival and Pivalyn. They're hard to pronounce, but they really kill rats.

Actually, you don't have to remember these names. Just ask us for the new Purina Rat Controls. Both Purina products carry one of these "bleeder" type killers that all the farm magazines are playing up so big.

They're easy to use; cost next to nothing when you consider the terrific job they do. And best of all, rats never get wise... never develop "bait-shyness".

Yes, these products work like a charm. We're happy to recommend them to you. Pick up a supply next time you're in the store.

Low-Calorie Snack Fits To A Tea!

A pleasant way to shun the sun these sultry days is to take a tea-time-out from your chores, relaxing beside a tray like this of nibbly icebox cookies and tall, frosty glasses of iced tea.

Heat-producing calories are kept to a minimum in these slim-minded snacks, for both the cookies and the tea are sweetened with pure saccharin, more than 400 times sweeter than sugar but containing not a single weight-adding calorie.

To sweeten the tea, choose from several brands of liquid saccharin, or dissolve 24 1/2 grain tablets in one-half cup of water to make your own syrup. A teaspoonful equals one teaspoon of sugar in sweetening power.

You can freeze and keep rolls of these icebox cookies handy for munching in a matter of minutes.

Orange Pecan Cookies

- Dissolve..... 6 saccharin tablets (1/4 grain each) in 1/4 cup unseasoned orange juice
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
- Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with orange juice mixture
- Blend well into dough..... 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 2 tablespoons pecans, finely chopped

Shape dough into a roll 2 inches thick and wrap in waxed paper. Chill in refrigerator until firm enough to slice, about 2 hours. Cut into 1/4-inch slices and place on ungreased cookie pan. Bake on rack slightly above center in 400° oven (moderately hot) for 12 minutes. Makes 18 cookies. Calories per cookie: 44.

Handy Wall Racks

ATTRACTIVE and handy wall racks for various household uses can be made easily from small pieces of Marlite paneling left over from a wall or ceiling installation.

Such a rack, made of a size to hold loose sheets of note paper might be hung near the telephone. Or a rack for the telephone wall might be made for directories. Or one might prefer to design a rack to keep catalogs, magazines, mail or other articles easily accessible but out of the way.

Wood grain patterns in Marlite paneling are especially suitable for wall racks. Authentic reproductions of selected wood in decoration and harmonize with a variety of backgrounds.

For a simple and interesting construction, the rack may be put together with leather or plastic lacing, threaded through holes in the pieces of paneling that form the rack. The predecorated paneling, made of Masonite tempered hardboard, can be drilled with a hand drill. Holes should be started on the finished side.

Because of its baked plastic finish, the paneling needs no waxing. It can be damp-wiped clean.

Open Season On Antelope Foreseen For West of Pecos

son this fall, according to the director of wildlife restoration for the Game and Fish Commission. P. B. Uzell of Alpine, wildlife biologist in charge of the aerial census scheduled for late June completion, reported to the director that up to 500 buck antelope probably will be available for the proposed October harvest.

Whether the season will include surplus doe antelope will be determined when the commission acts on the fall hunting program at its July meeting.

Last year, hunters took less than one half of the buck and doe antelope declared surplus west of the Pecos, said Uzell. Permits were authorized for 1100 buck antelope and 250 doe antelope. The five hundred ninety persons obtaining the special licenses bagged 558 bucks and only 28 doe antelope.

After the hunting season failed to reduce the herds to the desired number, trapping crews moved in and transplanted approximately 600 head of antelope from the west

Omar Burleson
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In a number of cases at different intervals during the last twenty years, the Supreme Court has directly and indirectly ruled that the Federal Government has the power to control that to which it contributes.

If this philosophy were strictly enforced, there would be fewer States' Rights left than have already been usurped by Washington. We hear much about States' Rights, and most people are all for it. However, many of us as individuals and as communities, are willing to sell off a little bit of these "rights" in return for Federal money. It is something like selling royalty interest under land. When we sell a part of oil and gas royalty under our land, it is gone forever unless we buy it back, and this is seldom done.

There are those who really believe that most all our government should come directly from Washington. A considerable amount of the Federal government which we today find in our lives and in our business has been bought with the States' Rights we relinquished. It works both ways — there is a buyer and a seller.

This week there was a bill passed in the House of Representatives more or less erroneously entitled a "Water Pollution Bill." Research and study are greatly needed to find the answer to cleaning up many polluted streams in order to safeguard a clean water supply for human consumption and to protect wildlife. The bill, however, carried the well known "grant-in-aid" provision which would permit towns and cities to receive directly from the Federal Government money for their sewer systems.

Now, no one could imagine that the Federal Government would want to control the sewer system of any town or city, but probably they could if it came to a Court test.

There is pending in the Congress a bill known as HR 3, introduced by Congressman Howard Smith of Virginia. It is an effort to redefine the basic concept and the historic doctrine of States' Rights. The essence of the measure provides that in the absence of a Congressional declaration depriving States of passing laws on a particular subject, and in the absence of any conflict between the State and Federal laws, the States will be presumed to retain the right to enact and enforce similar laws.

The Smith Bill is highly important piece of legislation. It should be passed before the end of this session of Congress to guarantee States their proper legislative power.

If HR 3 becomes law, and as citizens look less to Washington for Governmental help of some kind, States' rights will be more secure.

This is really the way to bring Government back to the people. Bright Sayings Department: "The world is full of willing people—some are willing to work, and the rest are willing to let them."

new way to get rid of RATS!

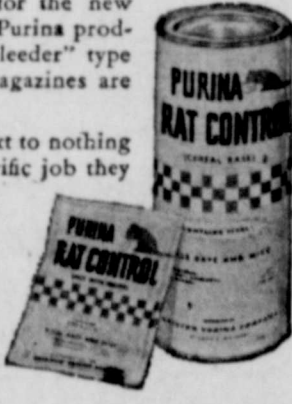

Rats cost money. It doesn't take many rats to eat enough feed to winter a steer. And that's aside from what they ruin and contaminate.

Research has recently moved far ahead with control work. From this work has come two exciting compounds called Pival and Pivalyn. They're hard to pronounce, but they really kill rats.

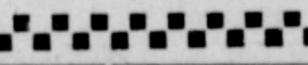

Actually, you don't have to remember these names. Just ask us for the new Purina Rat Controls. Both Purina products carry one of these "bleeder" type killers that all the farm magazines are playing up so big.

They're easy to use; cost next to nothing when you consider the terrific job they do. And best of all, rats never get wise... never develop "bait-shyness".

Yes, these products work like a charm. We're happy to recommend them to you. Pick up a supply next time you're in the store.

of Pecos ranches.

Uzell said 200 head were trapped from one ranch alone and that the current herd count showed that this particular ranch still has surplus antelope which will be included in the proposed open season prospectus for this fall.

The director of wildlife restoration said recommendations have not been made yet on the Panhandle where an open season on buck antelope is considered likely.

Antelope license holders generally are determined through a drawing for applicants held in the commission's Austin office. Permit holders are entitled to one antelope.

USDA Approves New Chemical for Cotton Farming

A new dual-action chemical for cotton defoliation and regrowth control will be widely available throughout the cotton belt this summer. After extensive testing by the USDA and State Experiment Stations, American Cyanamid Co., producers of 3 A T (amion triazole), is introducing this versatile material commercially.

In addition to defoliating the crop, amino triazole has the unique, added harvesting aid of holding back new plant growth from three to five weeks. By slowing second growth after defoliation, amino triazole extends the harvest period, makes picking easier, and reduces trash and green stain to a minimum. The material's versatility makes it useful alone or in combination with other defoliants. Addition of small amounts of amino triazole to other water soluble defoliants will permit the grower to reduce by as much as one half the dosage of the other defoliant required.

Field tests on mature cotton have shown no adverse effect on seed germination, yield and fiber quality, nor any harmful soil residues. Other advantages of the new product include excellent storage characteristics, lack of bulkiness, compatibility with other chemicals and water solubility.

Concerning the product, the U.S. Department of Agriculture recently reported, "Research that is defining proper application rates for the promising cotton plant defoliant and regrowth inhibitor, amino triazole, should lead to better and more extensive grower use of this new organic chemical this year."

Low-Calorie Snack Fits To A Tea!

A pleasant way to shun the sun these sultry days is to take a tea-time-out from your chores, relaxing beside a tray like this of nibbly icebox cookies and tall, frosty glasses of iced tea.

Most-producing calories are kept to a minimum in these slim-minded snacks, for both the cookies and the tea are sweetened with pure saccharin, more than 400 times sweeter than sugar but containing not a single weight-adding calorie.

To sweeten the tea, choose from several brands of liquid saccharin, or dissolve 24 1/4-grain tablets in one-half cup of water to make your own syrup. A teaspoonful equals one teaspoon of sugar in sweetening power.

You can freeze and keep rolls of these icebox cookies handy for munching in a matter of minutes.

Orange Pecan Cookies

- Dissolve 6 saccharin tablets (1/4 grain each) in 1/2 cup unsweetened orange juice
- Cream in a 6-cup bowl 1 teaspoon vanilla cup shortening
- Sift together 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with orange juice mixture.
- Blend well into dough 1 teaspoon grated orange rind 2 tablespoons pecans, finely chopped

Shape dough into a roll 2 inches thick and wrap in waxed paper. Chill in refrigerator until firm enough to slice, about 2 hours. Cut into 1/4-inch slices and place on ungreased cookie pan. Bake on rack slightly above center in 400° oven (moderately hot) for 12 minutes. Makes 18 cookies. Calories per cookie: 44.

Handy Wall Racks
ATTRACTIVE and handy wall racks for various household uses can be made easily from small pieces of Marfile paneling left over from a wall or ceiling installation.

Such a rack, made of a size to hold loose sheets of note paper might be hung near the telephone. Or a rack for the telephone wall might be made for directories. Or one might prefer to design a rack to keep catalogs, magazines, mail or other articles easily accessible but out of the way.

Wood grain patterns in Marfile paneling are especially suitable for wall racks. Authentic reproductions of selected wood, they supply a distinctive touch in decoration and harmonize with a variety of backgrounds.

For a simple and interesting construction, the rack may be put together with leather or plastic lacing, threaded through holes in the pieces of paneling that form the rack. The predecorated paneling, made of Masonite tempered hardboard, can be drilled with a hand drill. Holes should be started on the finished side.

Because of its baked plastic finish, the paneling needs no waxing. It can be damp-wiped clean.
