We're thoroughly convinced that Friday's frog-strangler was a direct result of our mentioning this rain dance. What kind of rain dance have we had? About two inches of rain fell Friday, all in about two hours.

The only think which has us worried is this Baptist editor. He'll probably hear of the fine rain we had down here, see our mention of a rain dance, then load up his typewriter for an all-out war.

We notice where Virgil Moore had mention of a rain dance over in Eastland. If this Baptist editor finds out about us, Moore and I may have to join forces to ward him off. Then I don't know whether we can get out of the situation as well as Jimmie Gilentine did.

Eastland seems to have been left out of the moisture proceedings Friday. We'd say Ranger got a fair share, but Eastland folks are lamenting over the fact that they measured out only .17 of an inch there.

Maybe they haven't been living right or something over there. A rain dance might be a good idea after all.

A high school band in Wisconsin had prepared to spell out "Hello" as a visiting dignitary. But when half-time came and the band marched onto the field, the "O" formation lost directions, and stood in front of the other four.

That's almost as bad as the time a newspaper back home carried a story about polio next to a story on a new pastor in a church there. One of the lines of the polio story was accidentally placed in the story about the pastor. It read like this: "The Reverend either has or carries polio." Nothing ever came of it, but for them.

People may joke and make fun of J. J. Hales, but that fellow has gained more popularity than most people think.

He seems to have a pretty good foothold in the Fort Worth and Dallas area. We wouldn't venture so far, however, as to predict victory for him. It's just like a statement we heard a while back: "This governor's race is going to be so mixed up that Daniel, Yarborough, Pappy, Senterfitt, and Holmes are going to be fighting it out, with Hales right in the middle of them ying 'nigger, podnah!"

We couldn't help but notice an article in the Baseball Magazine the other day. The article had Bob Addie's name under it and was titled, "Little League Baseball is a Waste of Time."

Bob Addie is a nationally known sports writer for the Washington Post and Herald. He has no doubt investigated the matter thoroughly before tagging his name under an article in a nationally read magazine. We're in no position to argue with him.

Addie says that the emphasis is on the wrong age group. He claims that LL Baseball is no help in fighting juvenile delinquency.

"The teenagers are the ones who need guidance," he says. "Naturally, they are more independent and harder to get along with. LL Baseball is for boys 12 years of age and younger. These are boys who readily cooperate with their elders."

We won't argue with Mr. Addie. But after investigating several Little League setups, both in the Panhandle and down here, his article doesn't hold water.

A pessimist is a person who furnishes the money for an optimist.

Corruption Is The Big Issue, Judge Ralph Yarborough Says

RALPH YARBOROUGH

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles written for this newspaper by the six candidates for governor. W. Lee O'Daniel outlined his platform Sunday, today it's Ralph Yarborough and Thursday it will be Price Daniel.)

Ralph W. Yarborough, Democratic candidate for governor, sees the central issues of the campaign as a double-barreled affair: Corruption in government and the state's perilous water emergency.

Through the Austin attorney bases his "Platform of Progress" on the bedrock of moderation, he said at the opening of his 1956 race: "I'm not moderate about corruption in public office." Yarborough insists it will take a new government in Austin to clean up the insurance and land

Manufacturing Firm Resumes Operation

The Ranger Manufacturing Company resumed operations here Monday.

The plant shut down two weeks ago for the installation of new equipment, 296 feet of cutting tables, and 18 additional sewing machines. The machines were moved to Ranger from Dallas.

The plant operations will now include complete operations in the making of dress shirts and pajamas, including the cutting of the materials here instead of in Dallas as was previously done.

Plant superintendent Clayton Stanton said the same group was still employed but that others will be gradually added.

Materials for the shirts and pajamas in the future will be shipped direct to Ranger from the mills, according to Stanton, and the local factor will handle the entire output of shirts and pajamas for the Higginbotham-Bailey Co.

Stanton explained that it might have been possible to start operations last Monday July 2, but that a holiday coming in the middle of the week and also due to the fact that another week of cutting would enable him to get enough material cut for both lines without further shutdowns entered into the decision to put the opening off for another week.

Legion To Elect Officers At Thursday Meeting

The Ranger post of the American Legion will elect officers at its next meeting, Thursday, July 12.

The meeting will be held at the American Legion Hall located on Pine Street.

De Court Say No... But De Unit Blow

Eastland County Commissioners voted against buying an air conditioner unit for the jail living quarters at their regular Monday meeting, but the jail was 30 degrees cooler inside despite their action.

A check revealed that an evaporative cooler had been installed at the jail "last week" at a cost of just over $100. A County Grand Jury recently recommended that it be purchased.

Probably the situation came about because of a ruling by the Court at their last meeting. At that time commissioners voted in favor of buying the unit providing that it could be paid for out of the permanent improvement fund. A check with the attorney general proved that such a transaction could not take place, however.

When the cooler problem came up at Monday's meeting, the Court—apparently eyeing two situations which exist in the County—turned thumbs down on buying the unit out of the general fund. The two situations are these: (1) The general fund is going to be hard pressed to stay within the budget; and (2) the Court has been trying to ward off an effort for more air conditioning in the courthouse.

Just who authorized the purchase of the unit is unknown, but apparently it was believed that the cooler had been approved by the Court. Commissioners were scheduled to meet again today to study tax renditions, and it is likely that the air conditioner may come up again.

At any rate, things were cool at the jail.

Burleson Returns For Campaign

Congressman Omar Burleson returned to his home in Anson from Washington last Saturday to begin his active campaign for re-election to Congress.

In a statement to the press, Burleson said that it has not been possible for him to leave his post of duty earlier without neglecting highly important responsibilities, as the Congress is in session.

Burleson states, "During the past week Congress considered and defeated the so-called Federal Aid to Education Bill. This bill carried the well-known Powell Amendment which would deny federal funds to all schools failing desegregate races. Several votes were taken where a vote one way or the other would have made all the difference."

The Congressman further said that due to the extreme importance of some other measures pending, it may be necessary that he return to Washington for crucial votes between now and election time. "I shall, however," he said, "be in between now and July 28, and I hope it will not be necessary for me to return to Washington even for one day."

Burleson intends to visit every town and community in the Dis-

'Don't Give Up The Ship...' Resounding Victory Recorded By Giants

The Flatbush Bums are still having tough luck.

At least that's what Monday night's Little League results would indicate. In the second game of the twin-bill the Giants smashed the Dodgers, 9-2, while the Yankees had a somewhat harder time stopping the Indians, 8-5.

The Yankees never trailed but never managed to build up an unassailable lead. The Indians were always within striking distance—but they never turned the tables. The Giants were king-pins all the way in the second frames, the contest lasting only four innings because of the ten-run rule.

Gizley Ferguson and Bobby Koenig divided pitching chores for the Yankees and between them allowed the Indians eight hits. Butch Owens and Teddie Neely worked on the mound for the Indians and yielded only six hits to the Yankees.

The Indians first broke the ice in the top of the second frame after both teams had been held without a run in the first inning. Alec Garcia popped out to begin the inning, but Billy Matthews walked. John May cracked a single to send Matthews to third. Bobby Owens drove in the first run of the game with his clutch single, and John May churned around on Charley De Los Santos' single.

But the Bombers counter attacked and tied the count in their half of the stanza. Tommy Robinson was hit by a pitch. Billy Johnson walked, and Terry Townzen scored Robinson with a hit. Johnson crossed the plate before the second had reached its completion.

The Yanks took the lead for good in the bottom half of the third. They sent across three runs without the aid of a base hit, however. These runs were mostly accountable to a wave of wildness by the Redskin moundmen.

David Webb, Bob Koenig, Tommy Robinson, Billy Johnson, and Terry Townzen all drew consecutive walks to open the frame. Two runs had already crossed when Charley Ferguson fanned. But Butch Seymour drew a walk behind him to force in the third Yankee run.

The Yankee lead vanished to only one run after the top of the fourth, however. With one out in inning Tommy Smith lashed a double. He scored when Teddie Neely was safe on an error. Neely charged around when Butch Owens rapped a single and rightfielder Buddy Harper fumbled the ball.

The Bomber lead mounted to 7-4 at the end of the fourth frame however, thanks to a pair of tallies in the before-mentioned inning. David Webb popped out to start the inning, Bobby Koenig singled. Koenig counted when Tommy Robinson was safe on third baseman Alec Garcia's error. Robinson scored on Billy Johnson's hit.

Each team counted one more in the fifth, but the Yankee lead stayed intact.

The only time the Dodgers were close to the Giants was at the end of the first inning. At this point the Giants held only a two-run lead, but this margin lost all proportions as the game progressed.

David Lockwood handled mound duties for the Giants, giving Bum batters only one safe single. The Giants pounded out 11. The Giants scored in every inning and the Dodgers scored in only two.

The Giants got the ball rolling with a pair in the first. They added three more in the second. But (Continued on Page Two)

WASHINGTON, D.C. — This will be the last newsletter of the weekly series for this year. Except for obvious reasons, this column would continue until the Congress adjourns this session, which is now expected to be nearer the latter part of July than the middle, as has been hoped for.

An effort has been made through this column each week to comment upon those things behind the scenes in Washington that usually reported in the daily press. Many times the "little things" between the headlines become most significant, and often the action behind the headlines is more important than the event which makes the black type.

This generally has been the intent of this column, and thanks and appreciation go to those who have written me their reaction to many of them. It will be continued at the appropriate time.

As is usual in every session of the Congress highly important legislation comes late in its deliberations. At the present time, the so-called Federal Aid to Education, or more properly defined as Federal Aid to School Construction, is being debated.

Two measures embodying extremely different philosophies are the so-called Civil Rights Bill and

Eastland County Bids for State Pecan Convention

County Agent J. M. Cooper and B. B. Freeman, pecan grower of the Cheaney community, left early Tuesday to attend the annual convention of the Texas Pecan Growers Association meeting in that city today and Wednesday. Freeman is a director of the organization. Both he and Cooper are on several committees. A number of pecan growers over the county are also expected to attend the annual meeting. A movement will be initiated to invite the organization to meet in Eastland County the next time they meet in the western region, some four years hence.

Landowners are reminded of the favorable payment rate available for terrace construction. The Federal cost share is 70 percent of the cost not to exceed three dollars and 50 cents per 100 feet for completed terraces. There is a great need in this area for terraces. Your County A.S.C. Committee district supervisors, agricultural workers and others have recognized this need and provided a very good program to encourage your participation in this and other need conservation practices.

ABOLISH THE INCOME TAX LAW NOW!

Our founding Fathers never wanted national bankruptcy, so they left the taxing power to the individual states of our Union. But in 1913 the evil 16th Amendment went into effect, the first real good step toward Communism.

The people were told this was a "soak the rich policy" and caught the poor man off guard. The middle and low income groups work three months free out of each year and give all this money to our Federal Government who turns around and gives it to our foreign friends who never had it so good. The working man is paying most of the taxes.

You are actually paying the government for the privilege of working.

The politicians tell you this is a "soak the rich" deal but don't you believe it. It is a cold blooded "soak the poor" deal. Most of you work Monday and Tuesdays free before you earn enough to take home to your wife and children. Some of you work Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and part of Thursday free so our foreign friends can get the big hand out.

A tax revolt is in the making.

All around the country there is opposition to this evil tax set-up whereby the working man is paying all the bills. But so far all we had from our politicians is conversation.

The communistic tax law prevents the poor man from accumulating any worthwhile savings in his life time, while the rich families of the country are growing richer and richer and all the money they had before this vicious law was put into effect. They loan out this money and make millions in interest and the taxes they pay represent practically nothing while the working man are paying most of the bills and also running into debt. The salaried worker, professional men, storekeeper, owners of small businesses, executives, everyone who has had to make his own way is getting the worst of the deal.

Refer to my previous articles on this terrible subject and my proposals.

Moore, Johnson County; and Melvin Little, Wise County. This committee met in the Stephenville office June 29.

The program committee from Erath and Hamilton Counties met in Stephenville July 3 and elected E. C. Johnson to preside at the meeting next month. Those attending the meeting were E. C. Johnson, Erath County; Obie Grief, Erath County; Clyde Boren, Erath County; E. Bradley, Hamilton County and T. S. Redford, Hamilton County. Three members of this committee from Erath County who were unable to attend were J. A. Herring, M. D. Stewart and Jerry Schrimsher. From Hamilton County R. W. Threast; J. D. Webb and F. E. Williams were absent.

Plans are being laid for an "interesting and educational meeting this year," Johnson said. Prizes will be given and a free movie at a Stephenville theater for the youngsters and a barbecue dinner are some of the highlights of the program will be worked out at a later date.

In the bottom of the second the Dodgers were scoring half of their run output for the entire contest. It came as the result of a pair of walks, an error, then another walk. The Giants really broke loose in the third with eight big runs while allowing the Dodgers to complete their night's scoring total. Gerald Hodgkins doubled to start the rally and charged around on a series of errors and passed balls. The fourth saw six more tallies make it 12-2 for the Giants while the Dodgers were being held scoreless. The Giants had stayed in first place while prolonging a Dodger losing streak. VISIT IN BEN YUNG HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yung have had two of Mrs. Yung's sisters visiting them the past week. Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Alexander of Hobbs, New Mexico and Mrs. Claud Crews of Colmesneil.

MULLING WITH MULLER

Make the light remark that "a woman's work is never done"—friend husband will be fast to reply "a woman's work should be done—and quickly—with all the modern appliances bought during the past few years." I hate, of course, to be reminded of "grandma's day" but I suppose we have taken to day's modern living pretty much for granted... and heaven knows life is easier than in grandma's time!

In a large measure "big business" has made this possible and deserves a great deal of credit. For example, there's a fabulous self-sufficient "small city" covering 330 acres, near Detroit, within whose fantastic buildings with its equally fantastic equipment, talented scientists, engineers, technicians and stylists, create products and processes which touch every home—kitchens, automobiles, military vehicles, fabrics—to name only a few. I'm referring to the amazing GM Technical Center—dedicated to "a better tomorrow through research today."

I might add its role in medicine seems incredible too, and has been demonstrated with the first successful mechanical heart, a new artificial lung, a device now used to purify vaccines and blood plasmas, and the electro-stethograph, which records the human heart's insensible sounds.

It is incomprehensible to imagine what new products "big business" will create in the next 100 years but I bet the people of 2056 will still be taking their "modern" living pretty much for granted!

Salads come into their own during the next few months—no the least of these will be shrimp. Want something special and a little different? Try the Creamy Shrimp Combine shrimp, lettuce, celery, green pepper and small slices of meaty tomatoes. Over this mixture pour sufficient French dressing to macerate well. Refrigerate for about an hour. Just before serving time add a very firm diced sweet apple to the salad. Drain off French dressing and add enough mayonnaise to bind ingredients. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves and place strips of red and green pepper over the top. Will you make a hit!

WISTFUL VISTA FOR UNIQUE BIRD—Tiny turkey poul on scale, hatched from an unfertilized egg (parthenogenesis), is weighed by Dr. Marlow W. Olsen, co-discoverer of the phenomenon in turkey eggs, at Department of Agriculture's research center, Beltsville, Md. The bird, first of known parthenogenetic origin to live for more than a few hours, has already made poultry history. Dr. Olsen and co-workers hope to grow the poul to maturity so that it can be used as a breeder, to test, against normal breeders, the incidence of the occurrence and whether it is hereditary. Researchers hope it will provide a key to unlock at least part of the mystery surrounding fertility and hatchability of turkey eggs, a serious problem to the turkey industry.

FINDERS KEEPERS?

"Finders keepers, losers weepers." Is this old rhyme true or false? Lawyers say it is not always strictly accurate under the law. It is sometimes rather difficult to define the rights of a finder in court.

There are some rather fine distinctions and exceptions to the "finders keepers" maxim that have plagued the courts — and finders — for generations. In the first place, the finder is not entitled to keep the property unless the original owner is not known and cannot be located. Neither may he keep it unless the object is truly "lost," and not merely "mis-laid."

In general, property is legally "lost" when parted with involuntarily — through accident, neglect, forgetfulness or any other unintentional circumstance. Property is not lost in the legal sense when voluntarily left by the owner, intending to pick it up later — even though he fails to do so. Such property is "mis-laid."

 Thus, if one loses a watch on the street by having the clasp break, not knowing where or when it was dropped, it is legally "lost." The same is true of a fountain pen falling through a hole in one's pocket unobserved. In such cases, the finder owns what he has found against all but the true owner.

On the other hand, a package left on the seat of a bus is "mis-laid" rather than lost. In one southern state, a pocketbook left in a barbershop by a customer was held to have been "left," not "lost." The barber was arrested and convicted of larceny when he spent the money that was in it.

Under the law the finder of either lost or mislaid property should make a "reasonable effort" to find the real owner.

When articles are left on a train or bus, in a public room, or even when dropped on a shop floor, under circumstances indicating that the true owner will later return to claim them, such items are not considered lost. The proper custodian to hold them for the owners return would be the proprietor or other person in charge.

Remaining unclaimed, the property sometimes goes to this custodian, sometimes to the finder. The distinction here appears to be whether the place it is found is private or semi-private, or is used by the general public.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No one should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Santa Fe Halts Brownwood Train Service To Temple

Discontinuance of Santa Fe Railway motor trains nos. 73 and 74 between Temple and Brownwood, authorized by the state railroad commission, has been effected, L. M. Olson, vice president and general manager of the Santa Fe, announced today.

Olson said the discontinuance was requested because the service was operating at a loss and there was no expectancy of any business which would justify the costly operation. Baggage and express between these two points will be handled by the Santa Fe Trail Transportation Company, Olson said.

The fact that a loaf of bread is taxed about 70 times has little outward criticism from the masses as we resolve ourselves into the complacent attitude that we can do nothing about it. But we should! Study The Men
Compare Their Records

Both candidates for County Attorney have compiled past records in the office. Earl Conner, Jr., has been publicly taking great pride in his record and promising the voters to continue to work, if elected, in the same manner as before. At the same time his supporters are charging that the present County Attorney does nothing and is inactive in the performance of his duties. Here are the facts concerning the past records of the two men. Earl Conner, Jr., seeking a 6th term, paid to the County Treasurer $13,280.03 during his 10 years in the office, for fees received for the prosecution of criminal cases. This averaged $1328.00 per year. Joe Nuessle, seeking a 3rd term, paid in $18,563.75 during his 4 1/2-years in office, from the same source, averaging $4,125.27 per year, or OVER THREE TIMES as much as Conner. These figures are on record in the County Auditor's office, and based on the same fee scale in effect prior to an increase in September, 1955.

According to the Criminal Minutes of the 91st and 88th District Courts, Conner tried an average of 27 cases per year, and Nuessle an average of 33, despite the fact that the county's population decreased approximately 25% between 1940 and 1950, and the number of crimes proportionately. The lower courts show the same picture, particularly the County Court where Conner tried an average of EIGHT (8) cases per year, as shown by the Criminal Minutes, Volume 2, pages 88-166, and Nuessle tried an average of SIXTY-FOUR (64) such cases per year, according to Volume 3, pages 419 to 425, and Volume 4, pages 1 to 281, of the Criminal Minutes.

It should be added that Earl Conner "kept his dockets clean" because according to Volume 2, pages 8 to 15, of the Criminal Minutes of the 91st District Court, Mr. Conner DISMISSED 332 FELONY CASES, then pending on GRAND JURY INDICTMENTS, on December 30, 1946, alone, his last day in office, 258 of which were filed during his 5 terms. Joe Nuessle has dismissed only 46 felony cases that were filed while he has been in office and has only 23 cases pending in the District Court in which arrests have been made and are ready for trial.

This all shows which candidate has really served the people of Eastland County. Let's re-elect the able young veteran of War II, who has led our county back to a position of prominence in law enforcement, where it belongs, by performing an outstanding job.
