RANGERS TO OPEN AT BRECK BULLDOGS TO MINERAL WELLS

Local Team to Give 15 Pounds on Line; 21 in the Backfield

The Bulldogs of Ranger high, feeling the sting of defeat in the opener last week with Merkel journey to Mineral Wells this Friday night for a game with the Mountaineers. The big, experienced red and white team has 11 lettermen listed as starters this year. On Sept. 9, 1955 the Dogs held Mineral Wells to a 13-13 tie. This year both teams are out to win and although Mineral Wells will be the favorite, Ranger is anxious to wipe out the blot on their record and will be going all out to win. With 1950 pounds of beef on the starting team, the "Big Red" will throw a 184-pound line and a 166-pound backfield at the local boys. Spearheaded by Phil Shewmake, a 230-pound tackle and Larry Brock, a 212-pounder holding down the other tackle slot, the Mountaineers present practically a ton-on-the-hoof for the 169-pound line and 145-pound backfield of Ranger to "butt their heads" against. In the center of the line, John Hagaman will be nearly the same weight as his opponent, Hagaman weighing 190, will be pitted against Jack Amason, 192.

which the two teams are rated even in the number of squadmen. Both listed squad strength at 24, this week. Bobby Burris, 166, 3-year letterman and a senior, will carry the brunt of the Mountaineer backfield attack. Probable starters are listed by Coach Glen E. Johnson of the Mountaineers as Roger Groves, end; Phil Shewmake, tackle; Robert Lunday, guard; Jack Amason, center; Gary Green, guard; Larry Brock, tackle; Crockett Grimes, end; Bud Frazier, back; Don Claybrook, back; Bobby Burris, back; Charlie Pratt, back. Head Coach Boone Yarborough of the Bulldogs will probably start with Jerry Cantrell, end; John Tibbels, tackle; Jerry Bradford, guard; John Hagaman, center; Dan Cruise, guard; Charles Bonney, tackle; Gene Bagwell, end; P. a. u. Hinds, back; Lee King, back; Charles Wolford, back; David Wharton, back. Game time is scheduled for 8 o'clock at Mountaineer stadium.

Hold Annual Meet for Representatives and Guests of Humble Co.

The fall meeting of Humble Oil and Refining company agents, service station owners, managers, operators, employees and their guests was held Wednesday night at the Vickor hotel dining room in Cisco. A well-planned and smoothly-conducted program was presented for those present. Speakers included H. I. McMillen, Wichita Falls, district manager of West Texas; Oscar Golden, district merchandising assistant; Zolas Motley and Gene Penner, district safety manager. Total increase in petroleum products sales has increased four per cent in the past year, and Humble leads all other producers in retail sales, it was stated. Movies were shown to those present on how not to give service and how to give service—a helpful workshop for Humble's retailers. The Humble company started football broadcasts some 23 years ago, it was reported. This year, six games will be televised, live, 100 radio stations will carry 61 Humble-sponsored classics. The company now has a total of 247,699 credit cards in the hands of its customers. Five thousand of these were issued during the month of July. Morris Campbell, Humble dealer for Ranger, was present and had as his guests, Coach Tom Hestand of Ranger junior college; his assistant coach, Fred Weir; Coach Harold Barrett, of Ranger high school and Ed Johnson of the Ranger Times. An outstanding highlight of the program was a film showing the 1955 SWC games in color. The film was narrated by Kern Tipton, football commentator.

Paris JC is Foe for Saturday Opener in Buckaroo Stadium at 8

The RJC Rangers will travel to Buckaroo stadium in Breckenridge Saturday night where they will tangle with the Paris Junior college Dragons in the opening contest of the season for the local 11. The Paris gridsters were defeated 13-7 last year in a game on their home soil. It is the Rangers intentions to repeat this performance. Ten returning lettermen will be on hand in an attempt to upset the charging Dragons and 20 new hopefuls which add both speed and drive to the backfield and holding power on the line. In the line will be veterans Eddie Jo James, Jim Mangum, Teddy Henderson, Buddy Hightower, Dan Mitchell, Dan Mitchell and Loyd Truenbeck, supported by new performers Charles Smith, Gene Ashcraft, Lionel Crisp, Nickelson, Robert Johnson, and Kalenik and ...

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

STATUTORY DIVISION OF SEPARATE ESTATES EXPLAINED

The death of an intestate person (one who has made no will) may give rise to many problems regarding distribution of his separate estate. In a recent column we investigated the manner of dividing the community estate upon the death of a husband or wife. Now we shall see that, where separate property is involved, a completely different set of rules applies in determining heirship and apportioning the estate among the rightful claimants.

It may be well to recall that the separate estate of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Now, here is a general idea as to how your separate property will be divided if you do not make a will with contrary provisions prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and if, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of previously deceased children, the children and their descendants immediately obtain a full (fee) title in two-thirds of the real estate involved. The surviving spouse receives a life interest in the remaining one-third of the real property, which passes on to the children and their descendants upon the death of the spouse.

The rule for distributing personal property — cash, stocks, bonds, furniture, or any other items not constituting real estate — is different. Here the surviving spouse gets full ownership of one-third, and the children and their descendants inherit the balance.

Now suppose your husband or wife survives, but there are no surviving children or their descendants. In this case the surviving spouse inherits all of the personal property involved.

With regard to real estate, the survivor obtains full title to one-half, and the other half is divided between your mother and father, if both survive you. If only one of them survives, he or she receives only half of this portion, and the other half (or one-fourth of the entire real estate) will be divided among your brothers and sisters (and their descendants) who survive. If there are no surviving brothers and sisters and their descendants, then the one surviving parent inherits the full one-half.

Where no parent survives, but there are brothers and sisters and descendants, the full one-half is divided among these survivors.

And, if there are no parents and sisters (and their descendants) surviving, then the surviving husband or wife inherits all of her real estate.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Ticklers
By George

"The Senator expects to shake hands with a lot of people, and he doesn't want to miss anybody!"

Broilers Have Become Big Business

Farmers produced well over a billion broilers in 1955, compared with only 143 million in 1940. Their value was over 10 times the $72,000,000 grossed by the 1940 broiler producers. Production in Texas in 1955 was 79 million birds valued at $60,411,000.

It used to be that chickens for eating were produced for the most part in fairly small farm flocks, mainly as a by product from egg production. But in the past decade and a half, broilers have become a mass production business. K. F. Schlab, extension poultry marketing specialist, suggests that much of this change has been due to contract and other methods of financing.

A small (by today's standards) sideline flock of 3,000 to 5,000 broilers requires about $2,000 to $3,000 of working capital, on the average, according to Schlab. A flock of 12,000 to 15,000 birds, which could take the full time of one man, requires around $7,000 capital before the birds are fully grown. It takes about 9 to 11 weeks to raise a flock of broilers to market size, and financial risks are greater than in most farm businesses. Most Texas producers sell at about 9 weeks.

For this reason, contract financing has become a rather familiar pattern in the 22 important broiler states. Under the contract system, someone other than the farmer may provide chicks, feed, medications, even buildings and equipment. The farmer provides his labor and management ability, and possibly his buildings and equipment. When the broilers are sold, profits are divided in a proportion agreed upon in the contract — frequently about 25 percent to the investor and 75 percent to the farmer.

Other financing plans provide for the investor to pay the farmer so much per week for "boarding" the chickens, regardless of the price of poultry meat, or so much per pound for broiler meat produced. Under either type plan, bonuses may be provided for better than average efficiency.

Many broiler producers have found that contract financing provides a chance of income at small risk and a way to use family labor. It also may train the farmer in a new skill if the investor — frequently a feed dealer or hatcheryman — provides supervision and advice on the best methods of feeding and caring for chicks.

Consumers, too, have benefited from an expanding broiler industry, says the specialist, because of the larger supplies of a favored meat at moderate prices.

16 Unlimiteds To Compete in President's Cup

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Owners of 16 unlimited inboard hydroplanes have entered their craft in the 25th running of the President's cup regatta on the Georgetown channel of the Potomac river off Hains Point here Sept. 15-16, according to Earl Hildebrand, race chairman.

ner in 1950, '51 and '52, the big twin-Allison powered Miss Pepsi, owned by Roy Dossin of Detroit, and driven by Chuck Thompson, has come out of retirement for the second time and heads the entry list. This conventional hydro went well on her way to a fourth win before the gun in the final heat. Another challenger is Willard E. Rhodes' Miss Thriftway of Seattle, Wash., holder of the President's cup course record of 92.676 mph for the 45-mile race set last year. Both Miss Pepsi and Miss Thriftway were embroiled in the protested gold cup race at Detroit last week, with both boats claiming the championship. The American Power Boat association's Inboard Racing committee has been called in to investigate and settle the issue.

HITS and MISSES

By ED JOHNSON

Hunting, when properly undertaken, provides the type of relaxation needed by the man doing monotonous work or under constant strain. Hunters should have a physical examination regularly, watch their weight, and take long walks in the summer in preparation for the hunting season—they should avoid strenuous activity when in the woods. Even the man with a disability can enjoy the physical relaxation and emotional pleasure of hunting by careful and prudent management of his activity field. Just a timely reminder that hunting is a sport of one's leisure time and best enjoyed in a leisurely fashion. This advice is given by Dr. N. A. Eidsmo, a prominent physician and surgeon who to my knowledge has been a hunter for the past 24 years.

Relax. Don't worry about the job you don't like. Someone else will soon have it.

Reducing diets seem to have reached the dimension of a craze in this country. Elemental wisdom demands that no one should undertake a diet—especially those of an experimental and strenuous kind—without first obtaining competent advice.

A note of discouragement enters too—even those that tried the original, successfully regained weight when they quit the diet. Some people wrongly blame protein for causing their obesity and, left on their own, may go to a dangerous extreme of protein reduction or elimination. It has been proven that a substantial protein intake is necessary to the mental and physical vigor of the great majority of people. In any event—think before you diet.

There are two kinds of discontent in this world—the discontent that wrings its hands and the discontent that works. The first loses what it has and the second gets what it wants.

Here are 10 do's and don'ts for safe boating:

- 1 Use the right motor on the right boat. Don't underpower or overpower.
- 2 Keep low when you get aboard. Don't carry things aboard. When you put the motor on the transom, get in the boat first then lift the motor from the dock or have someone hand it to you.
- 3 Don't jump or step off the gunwale. Keep your hands free when you get aboard. Keep low when you move around in the boat.
- 4 Don't overload the boat.

- 5 Don't smoke around gasoline.
- 6 Watch the weather.
- 7 Look out for stumps, rocks, fishermen, other boats.
- 8 Lower the anchor, don't throw it.
- 9 Stay with the boat if you tip over.
- 10 Use common sense and don't be a cowboy.

When women gather for a gab fest, their collective sex appeal drops to less than their individual quotas.

While you are watching the World series on your TV set, let's see about a few things that will parade before your eyes:

The stars of the drama are the opposing pitchers. You will find the cameras focused on them more than anyone else. Generally speaking, they are fine actors, too. At the start of each inning they wait until their team has taken the field before the walk—very slowly and grandly—to the mound for their warmups. And when the inning is over and everyone else trots happily to the dugout (and a chance to sit down), the pitchers bow their heads and walk—again slowly and grandly—back to their seats.

When it becomes necessary to remove a pitcher in the middle of an inning, the picture on your screen will resemble a mob scene in a Cecil B. DeMille spectacular. All the infielders, the catcher and the manager gather around the fallen hero who is forced to stay on the premises until his replacement has arrived. He then trudges his lonesome way to the showers, a dejected, humble and beaten man. It's very touching and some less-hardened fans may give way to tears, not realizing that the victim may be receiving upwards of $50,000 a year for six months work.

Go in at the narrow gate. For the road that leads to destruction is broad and spacious, and there are many who go in by it. But the gate is narrow and the road is hard that leads to life and there are few that find it.

Rangers vs Dragons at Breckenridge Saturday night. The nod goes to the Rangers in this one.

Life offers no higher pleasure than that of surmounting difficulties, passing from one step of success to another, forming new wishes and seeing them gratified. He that labors in any great or laudable undertaking has his fatigue supported by hope and afterward rewarded by joy.

feed Purina Cage Layena

Almost 3 million hens now are producing eggs in cages in the South and Southwest—and 90% of them eat Purina Cage Layena. There is only one reason—these cage operators are making more money the Purina Way. They make more money because they get more eggs per bag of feed than on other rations they have tried. 50,000 Eggs Needed To Make Living For The Average Poultry Producer

How many hens are needed to provide a living income for the producer? The answer to this frequently asked question involves not only hen numbers but more important, says Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman, is the number of eggs required each week to earn the expected living income.

It is generally considered, says the specialist, that about 50,000 dozens of eggs are required to earn a living for a poultryman. Production on a weekly basis would need average about 1,000 dozens.

If average earnings were five cents a dozen, this production would return to the producer $50 each week. Since feed and flock depreciation represent about 90 percent of the cost of producing eggs, the successful producer should concentrate on these two items of management.

To produce 52,000 dozens of eggs in a year with hens that average 17 dozens of eggs each, about 56 percent production, the poultryman would need a flock of slightly more than 3,000 laying hens in production the year-round. Since mortality and culling will take out about 20 percent of the hens during the laying year, the poultryman will have the equivalent of a 12 months production from 90 percent of the pullets housed, points out Wormeli.

By upping the rate of lay per hen, the total number required to produce the 1,000 dozens of eggs each week can be cut. Too, says the specialist, it is just good business for the poultryman to carefully estimate his average costs and earnings and thus set a reasonable potential profit per dozen.

Too, Wormeli urges egg producers to seek a dependable graded egg market where he can get full pay for producing eggs of top quality. By starting replacement chicks several times each year, the producer can maintain both uniform marketing of egg volume and income from his egg business. Thus making his living income more stable.

Pleasant Hill HD Club Awarded Hundred Dollar Prize at Fair

By MINNIE MAE HART

Eastland county can be proud of the Pleasant Hill Home Demonstration Club for the recognition they have brought to the county this week. Pleasant Hill won first place on their educational display at the West Texas Fair in Abilene, which they entered in the Home Demonstration Division. They were in competition with clubs from Jones county and Coleman county in addition to the 10 home demonstration clubs in Taylor county. For this honor the Pleasant Hill ladies will be presented a $100 check from the West Texas Fair Association.

Each of the 13 home demonstration clubs who entered an exhibit in the division set up an educational booth. The Pleasant Hill booth was on "Safety First." The background of the booth had a mirror hung with the words "Your Safety Depends On This Fellow" written above. The floor of the booth had displays of farm and home safety measures.

Mrs. Herman Scheafer, president, Mrs. Leona Hale, and Mrs. Wenifred Tucker assisted by the county home demonstration agent, Mrs. Minnie Mae Hart, were in charge of the planning and arranging of the educational exhibit for the club.

The Pleasant Hill Home Demonstration Club, though it may be small in number, is strong in spirit. Their club is composed of women from Carbon, Nimrod, Pleasant Hill, and Cisco. At the present time, the majority of their members have become employed, and are inactive members. This has not proven to be a handicap to the ones who remain in the club. They are confident that their membership will again increase. Any activity that will give their club and Eastland county recognition is a challenge to this group of willing workers.

Mrs. L. W. Tucker expressed the feeling of her club when she said, "We are so thrilled and can just hardly believe it is true. We never expected to win, but we are glad we could do this for Eastland county."

Speaking on behalf of the extension staff in the county and the home demonstration ladies, I would like to say we are very proud of the Pleasant Hill Home Demonstration Club for the leadership they have exhibited and the prize they have won. We wish more of the Eastland County clubs had entered. It is an honor to win in our county, but it is the biggest thrill of a life time to win outside of the county. The Pleasant Hill Club had stiff competition with the 12 other Home Demonstration Clubs who entered. They were all good, and that makes us that much more proud of their success. Whether they had won or lost as far as prizes go, they would have still been winners in the experience they gained from their efforts.

A Coleman county club won second place and received $75. Taylor county, Potosi HD Club won third and $50. Hamby Club got fourth place honors and $25. All the other clubs who entered received $15.

RANGERS TO OPEN AT BRECKENRIDGE BULLDOGS TO MINERAL WELLS

Local Team to Give 15 Pounds on Line; 21 in the Backfield

The Bulldogs of Ranger high, feeling the sting of defeat in the opener last week with Merkel journey to Mineral Wells this Friday night for a game with the Mountaineers.

The big, experienced red and white team has 11 lettermen listed as starters this year.

On Sept. 9, 1955 the 'Dogs held Mineral Wells to a 13-13 tie. This year both teams are out to win and although Mineral Wells will be the favorite, Ranger is anxious to wipe out the blot on their record and will be going all out to win.

With 1950 pounds of beef on the starting team, the "Big Red" will have a 184-pound line and a 165-pound backfield at the local boys.

Spearheaded by Phil Shewmake, a 230-pound tackle and Larry Brock, a 212-pounder holding down the other tackle slot, the Mountaineers present practically a tin-on-the-hoof for the 169-pound line and 145-pound backfield of Ranger to "butt their heads" against.

In the center of the line, John Hagaman will be nearly the same weight as his opponent, Hagaman weighing 190, will be pitted against Jack Amason, 192.

which the two teams are rated even in the number of squadmen. Both listed squad strength at 24, this week.

Bobby Burris, 186, 3-year letterman and a senior, will carry the brunt of the Mountaineer backfield attack.

Probable starters are listed by Coach Glen E. Johnson of the Mountaineers as Roger Groves, end; Phil Shewmake, tackle; Robert Lindsay, guard; Jack Amason, center; Gary Green, guard; Larry Brock, tackle; Crayton Grimes, end; Bud Frazier, back; Don Claybrook, back; Bobby Burris, back; Charlie Pratt, back.

Head Coach Boone Yarbrough of the Bulldogs will probably start with Jerry Cantrell, end; John Tibbels, tackle; Jerry Bradford, guard; John Hagaman, center; Dan Cruise, guard; Charles Boone, tackle; Gene Bagwell, end; P. A. Uhlir, back; Lee King, back; Charles Wolford, back; David Wharton, back.

Game time is scheduled for 8 o'clock at Mountaineer stadium.

Hold Annual Meet for Representatives and Guests of Humble Co.

The fall meeting of Humble Oil and Refining company agents, service station owners, operators, employees and their guests was held Wednesday night at the Victor hotel dining room in Cisco.

A well-planned and smoothly-conducted program was presented for those present.

Speakers included H. I. McMillen, Wichita Falls, district manager of West Texas; Oscar Golden, district merchandising assistant; Zola Motley and Gene Penner, district safety manager. Total increase in petroleum products sales has increased four per cent in the past year, and Humble leads all other producers in retail sales, it was stated.

Movies were shown to those present on how not to give service and how to give service—a helpful workshop for Humble retailers.

The Humble company started football broadcasts some 23 years ago, it was reported. This year, six games will be televised, live, 100 radio stations will carry 61 Humble-sponsored classics.

The company now has a total of 247,000 credit cards in the hands of its customers. Five thousand of these were issued during the month of July.

Morris Campbell, Humble dealer for Ranger, was present and had as his guests, Coach Tom Hestand of Ranger junior college; his assistant coach, Fred Weir; Coach Harold Barrett, of Ranger high school and Ed Johnson of the Ranger Times.

An outstanding highlight of the program was a film showing the 1955 S.W.C. games in color. The film was narrated by Kern Tipp, famed football commentator.

Paris JC is Foe for Saturday Opener in Buckaroo Stadium at 8

The RJC Rangers will travel to Buckaroo stadium in Breckenridge Saturday night where they will tangle with the Paris Junior college Dragons in the opening contest of the season for the local 11.

The Paris gridsters were defeated 13-7 last year in a game on their home soil. It is the Rangers intentions to repeat this performance.

Ten returning lettermen will be on hand in an attempt to upset the charging Dragons and 29 new hopefuls which add both speed and drive to the backfield and holding power on the line.

In the line will be veterans Eddie Jo James, Jim Mangum, Teddy Henderson, Buddy Hightower, Dan Mitchell, Don Mitchell and Loyd Truenbach, supported by new performers Charles Smith, Gene Ashcraft, Lionel Crisp, Bob Nickelson, Robert James, Butch Kalenie and Bud Remyne.

Assisting veteran Ranger backs, Lonnie Wood, Snag Hanson, Jack Rutledge, Harold McCarry, Ronald Darnell, Don Davis, and John Butler will be Douglas Jordan, Shorty McLearn, Gerald Dunn, Franklin Sims, Billy Beebe, Lawrence Claton, Tommy Sutton, Joe Karkoska, and Jodie Beal.

Game time is eight o'clock under the sponsorship of the Breckenridge American legion and the Quarterback club.

Not only does the game promise to be a thriller, but it will be the first performance of the 1956 Rangeams and RJC band under the direction of Al Lipspeich.

Tickets are on sale at Crawford drug, Kings cafe, Lone Star Gas, Commercial State bank, Ben Franklin's, Gholson Coffee shop, Swaney's drug, Dr. Jolly's office, Ranger Auto Parts, Montgomery Ward's, Chamber of Commerce, Texas Electric, Ranger high, Ranger Mfg., Ranger furniture, and Ranger junior college.

Indecent Charge Filed on Ranger Man in Eastland

A 35-year-old Ranger man, Buck Edwards, has been charged with indecent exposure following a complaint filed by the parents of a five-year-old Ranger girl.

Edwards posted $500 bond in Eastland Wednesday, and denied the charges.

He is charged with having made indecent advances toward the child. Edwards said he had not made any advances except to urge the child to get down off a barn saying he felt she was going to fall and hurt herself if she didn't. He told officers the child just made the story up after she got mad at him for making her get down.

STATUTORY DIVISION OF SEPARATE ESTATES EXPLAINED

The death of an intestate person (one who has made no will) may give rise to many problems regarding distribution of his separate estate. In a recent column we investigated the manner of dividing the community estate upon the death of a husband or wife. Now we shall see that, where separate property is involved, a completely different set of rules applies in determining heirship and apportioning the estate among the rightful claimants.

It may be well to recall that the separate estate of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Now, here is a general idea as to how your separate property will be divided if you do not make a will with contrary provisions prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and if, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of previously deceased children, the children and their descendants immediately obtain a full (fee) title in two-thirds of the real estate involved. The surviving spouse receives a life interest in the remaining one-third of the real property, which passes on to the children and their descendants upon the death of the spouse.

The rule for distributing personal property—cash, stocks, bonds, furniture, or any other items not constituting real estate—is different. Here the surviving spouse gets full ownership of one-third, and the children and their descendants inherit the balance.

Now suppose your husband or wife survives, but there are no surviving children or their descendants. In this case the surviving spouse inherits all of the personal property involved.

With regard to real estate, the survivor obtains full title to one-half, and the other half is divided between your mother and father, if both survive you. If only one of them survives, he or she receives only half of this portion, and the other half (or one-fourth of the entire real estate) will be divided among your brothers and sisters (and their descendants) who survive. If there are no surviving brothers and sisters and their descendants, then the one surviving parent inherits the full one-half.

Where no parent survives, but there are brothers and sisters and descendants, the full one-half is divided among these survivors.

And, if there are no parents and sisters (and their descendants) surviving, then the surviving husband or wife inherits all of her real estate.

Ticklers

By George

"The Senator expects to shake hands with a lot of people, and he doesn't want to miss anybody!"

Broilers Have Become Big Business

Farmers produced well over a billion broilers in 1955, compared with only 143 million in 1940. Their value was over 10 times the $72,000,000 grossed by the 1940 broiler producers. Production in Texas in 1955 was 79 million birds valued at $60,411,000.

It used to be that chickens for eating were produced for the most part in fairly small farm flocks, mainly as a by product from egg production. But in the past decade and a half, broilers have become a mass production business. K. F. Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist, suggests that much of this change has been due to contract and other methods of financing.

A small (by today's standards) sideline flock of 3,000 to 5,000 broilers requires about $2,000 to $3,000 of working capital, on the average, according to Schlamb. A flock of 12,000 to 15,000 birds, which could take the full time of one man, requires about $7,000 capital before the birds are fully grown. It takes about 9 to 11 weeks to raise a flock of broilers to market size, and financial risks are greater than in most farm businesses. Most Texas producers sell at about 9 weeks.

For this reason, contract financing has become a rather familiar pattern in the 22 important broiler states. Under the contract system, someone other than the farmer may provide chicks, feed, medications, even buildings and equipment. The farmer provides his labor and management ability, and possibly his buildings and equipment. When the broilers are sold, profits are divided in a proportion agreed upon in the contract—frequently about 25 percent to the investor and 75 percent to the farmer.

Other financing plans provide for the investor to pay the farmer so much per week for boarding the chickens, regardless of the price of poultry meat, or so much per pound for broiler meat produced. Under either type plan, bonuses may be provided for better than average efficiency.

Many broiler producers have found that contract financing provides a chance of income at small risk and a way to use family labor. It also may train the farmer in a new skill if the investor—frequently a feed dealer or hatcheryman—provides supervision and advice on the best methods of feeding and caring for chicks. Consumers, too, have benefit-

A tribute to the American housewife

"Just a housewife" is a term we hear too often. That's about like saying "just a doctor" or "just a company president." The job you're doing as a housewife is one of the most important anybody is doing in America today.

Who is mainly responsible for your family's health? It's you—the housewife. And our fine national health record testifies to the good job you're doing on this score.

Who sets your family's standing in your community? You do. You not only create an attractive home for your family and plan the entertaining, but also make most of the outside social contacts in church, club and community. How far would the charitable operations of these groups get without your help?

And your family's financial standing depends as much upon your ability to manage money as it does your husband's ability to earn it. Your family savings program is as much your responsibility as it is your husband's.

That's why so many women today are urging their husbands to invest in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds. They know that the principal invested in Bonds is safe—not subject to market fluctuations. And the returns are sure—an average 3% interest, compounded semi-annually when held to maturity (9 years and 8 months). With the automatic extension privilege, Bonds will continue to pay that same high interest for 10 years more. That means $1.80 in returns for every $1.00 invested.

Remember, you can help your family win financial security tomorrow—by encouraging your husband to invest regularly in Savings Bonds today.

And the next time you hear someone say "just a housewife," stick up your chin and speak up for the job you're doing. Where would your family or your country be without you?

For the big things in your life, be ready with U. S. Savings Bonds

16 Unlimiteds To Compete in President's Cup

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Owners of 16 unlimited inboard hydroplanes have entered their craft in the 25th running of the President's cup race on the Georgetown channel of the Potomac river off Hains Point here Sept. 15-16, according to Earl Hildebrand, race chairman.

ner in 1950, '51 and '52, the big twin-Allison powered Miss Pepsi, owned by Roy Dossin of Detroit and driven by Chuck Thompson, has come out of retirement for the second time and heads the entry list. This conventional hydro was well on her way to a fourth win last year, when she was disqualified for crossing the starting line before the gun in the final heat.

Miss Thriftway were embroiled in the protested-gold cup race at Detroit last week, with both boats claiming the championship. The American Power Boat association's Inboard Racing commission has been called in to investigate and settle the issue.

HITS and MISSES

By ED JOHNSON

Hunting, when properly undertaken, provides the type of relaxation needed by the man doing monotonous work or under constant strain.

The stars of the drama are the opposing pitchers. You will find the cameras focused on them more than anyone else. Generally speaking, they are fine actors, too. At the start of each inning they wait until their team has taken the field before the walk—very slowly and grandly—to the mound for their warmups.

When it becomes necessary to remove a pitcher in the middle of an inning, the picture on your screen will resemble a mob scene in a Cecil B. DeMille spectacular.

Relax. Don't worry about the job you don't like. Someone else will soon have it.

Reducing diets seem to have reached the dimension of a craze in this country. Elemental wisdom demands that no one should undertake a diet—especially those of an experimental and strenuous kind—without first obtaining competent advice.

Some people wrongly blame protein for causing their obesity and, left on their own, may go to a dangerous extreme of protein reduction or elimination. It has been proven that a substantial protein intake is necessary to the mental and physical vigor of the great majority of people. In any event—think before you diet.

Life offers no higher pleasure than that of surmounting difficulties, passing from one step of success to another, forming new wishes and seeing them gratified. He that labors in any great or laudable undertaking has his fatigue supported by hope and afterward rewarded by joy.

There are two kinds of discontent in this world—the discontent that wrings its hands and the discontent that works. The first loses what it has and the second gets what it wants.

Here are 10 do's and don'ts for safe boating:

1. Use the right motor on the right boat. Don't underpower or overpower.

2. Keep low when you get aboard. Don't carry things aboard. When you put the motor on the transom, get in the boat first then lift the motor from the dock or have someone hand it to you.

3. Don't jump or step on the runwale. Keep your hands free when you get aboard. Keep low when you move around in the boat.

4. Don't overload the boat.

- 5 Don't smoke around gasoline.
- 6 Watch the weather.
- 7 Look out for stumps, rocks, fishermen, ether boats.
- 8 Lower the anchor, don't throw it.
- 9 Stay with the boat if you tip over.
- 10 Use common sense and don't be a cowboy.

When women gather for a golf fest, their collective sex appeal drops to less than their individual quotas.

While you are watching the World series on your TV set, let's see about a few things that will parade before your eyes:

The stars of the drama are the opposing pitchers. You will find the cameras focused on them more than anyone else.

If average earnings were five cents a dozen, this production would return to the producer $50 each week. Since feed and flock depreciation represent about 90 percent of the cost of producing eggs, the successful producer should concentrate on these two items of management.

To produce 52,000 dozens of eggs in a year with hens that average 17 dozens of eggs each, about 56 percent production, the poultryman would need a flock of slightly more than 3,000 laying hens in production the year-round.

Since mortality and culling will take out about 20 percent of the hens during the laying year, the poultryman will have the equivalent of a 12 months production from 90 percent of the pullets housed, points out Wormell.

By upping the rate of lay per hen, the total number required to produce the 1,000 dozens of eggs each week can be cut. Too, says the specialist, it is just good business for the poultryman to carefully estimate his average costs and earnings and thus set a reasonable potential profit per dozen.

Too, Wormell urges egg producers to seek a dependable graded egg market where he can get full pay for producing eggs of top quality. By starting replacement chicks several times each year, the producer can maintain both uniform marketing of egg volume and income from his egg business. Thus making his living income more stable.

It is generally considered, says the specialist, that about 50,000 dozens of eggs are required to earn a living for a poultryman. Production on a weekly basis would need average, about 1,000 dozens.

50,000 Eggs Needed To Make Living For The Average Poultry Producer

How many hens are needed to provide a living income for the producer? The answer to this frequently asked question involves not only hen numbers but more important, says Ben Wormell, extension poultry husbandman, is the number of eggs required each week to earn the expected living income.

It is generally considered, says the specialist, that about 50,000 dozens of eggs are required to earn a living for a poultryman. Production on a weekly basis would need average, about 1,000 dozens.

Pleasant Hill HD Club Awarded Hundred Dollar Prize at Fair

By MINNIE MAE HART

Eastland county can be proud of the Pleasant Hill Home Demonstration Club for the recognition they have brought to the county this week. Pleasant Hill won first place on their educational display at the West Texas Fair in Abilene, which they entered in the Home Demonstration Division. They were in competition with clubs from Jones county and Coleman county in addition to the 19 home demonstration clubs in Taylor county. For this honor the Pleasant Hill ladies will be presented a $100 check from the West Texas Fair Association.

Each of the 13 home demonstration clubs who entered an exhibit in the division set up an educational booth. The Pleasant Hill booth was on "Safety First." The background of the booth had a mirror hung with the words "Your Safety Depends On This Fellow" written above. The floor of the booth had displays of farm and home safety measures.

Mrs. Herman Schaefer, president, Mrs. Leonal Hale, and Mrs. Wenifred Tucker assisted by the county home demonstration agent, Mrs. Minnie Mae Hart, were in charge of the planning and arranging of the educational exhibit for the club.

The Pleasant Hill Home Demonstration Club, though it may be small in number, is strong in spirit. Their club is composed of women from Carbon, Nimrod, Pleasant Hill, and Cisco. At the present time, the majority of their members have become employed, and are inactive members. This has not proven to be a handicap to the ones who remain in the club. They are confident that their membership will again increase. Any activity that will give their club and Eastland county recognition is a challenge to this group of willing workers.

Mrs. L. W. Tucker expressed the feeling of her club when she said, "We are so thrilled and can just hardly believe it is true. We never expected to win, but we are glad we could do this for Eastland county."

Speaking on behalf of the extension staff in the county and the home demonstration ladies, I would like to say we are very proud of the Pleasant Hill Home Demonstration Club for the leadership they have exhibited and the prize they have won. We wish more of the Eastland County clubs had entered. It is an honor to win in our county, but it is the biggest thrill of a life time to win outside of the county. The Pleasant Hill Club had stiff competition with the 12 other Home Demonstration Clubs who entered. They were all good, and that makes us that much more proud of their success.

Whether they had won or lost as far as prizes go, they would have still been winners in the experience they gained from their efforts.

A Coleman county club won second place and received $75. Taylor county, Potosi HD Club won third and $50. Hamby Club got fourth place honors and $25. All the other clubs who entered received $15.

Judges were Dr. Marie Wilmet, head of the Home Economics department of Abilene Christian College; Miss Sue Hawburn, home demonstration agent from Sweetwater; and Mrs. Beth Hensgen, art teacher of Abilene High School.
