Fumbles Hurt as Rangers Lose 21-13

Cisco JC Wins By Lone Touchdown Before Good Crowd In Final Game

Miss Sonja Irwin Crowned Rangers Sweetheart

Four times the Ranger Junior College Rangers were within touching distance of pay dirt, and four times they lost the ball within a step of the goal line as they dropped their final game of the season to the Cisco Junior College Wranglers by a lone touchdown Thursday afternoon, 21-13.

Once the Rangers were turned back on about the 1-inch line when the ball went over on downs, once they fumbled on the 2-yard line only to have the ball pounced upon by a Wrangler, again they fumbled inside the 25 and again they had a pass intercepted as they were heading for home on the 20-yard line.

It was a breath-taking ball game from start to finish, played before a fair crowd of boosters for both teams, and nobody was in a position to tell what the final outcome would be until the final gun ended the game.

Karkovs, McLearn, Jordan, Sims, Davis, Stebb, Butler and McCarty matched the Wranglers yard for yard and there were only 10-yard difference in the rushing statistics with the Rangers piling up 196 and the Wranglers 206. Outside of the fumbles, the big difference came in the 181 yards the Wranglers chalked up by completing 3 out of 17 passes, against 54 for the Rangers on 33 completions out of 8.

Story in Figures

	Ranger	Cisco
First downs	13	10
Rushing yardage	196	206
Passing yardage	54	181
Passes	3 of 6	3 of 17
Passes int. by	2	1
Punts	2 for 51	2 for 32
Yards penalized	30	50
Fumbles lost	4	2

Cisco got off to a fast start in the scoring column, pushing across a touchdown the first time they got the ball. The game opened with Cisco kicking off to Ranger, and after Ranger failed to get a first down they punted to Cisco who took the ball on their own 29.

By combining one pass play for 33 yards and a lateral from Coulter to Reynolds that ate up another 25 yards, Reynolds made the TD with Coulter kicking the extra point.

Following Cisco's kickoff to Ranger after this score, the Rangers put together a hard charging ground game that carried them all the way to the 2 where they were held for downs. Cisco never could get going from this spot deep on their own goal line and punted out, getting off a short kick that Ranger took on the 28. From this point they headed for home again and lost the ball on a fumble on the 12.

Again Cisco was behind the eight-ball, deep in their own territory and trying to work their way out and the Wranglers, themselves lost a fumble which Sims of the Rangers recovered on the 25. From this point Ranger was off again with McLearn and Davis working the ball down to the 6 where it was first down and goal to go. McLearn drove to the 3, and then McLearn drove to the 2 and fumbled, with Cisco again taking over, covering the ball in their own end zone.

Cisco put the ball into play on the 20 and got exactly nowhere, but kicked out of danger with Ranger taking over on the Cisco 48. From there the Rangers drove for their first touchdown. Davis picked up 9 on a pitch-out, McLearn got 11 on another pitch-out, and the series of eight plays was climaxed by a 24-yard touchdown pass from McLearn to Mangum.

The kick for extra point was no good. Ranger kicked off following this one with Cisco taking over on their own 17. Coupling a 43-yard pass to Kelley and a 35-yard pass from Coulter to Sims, Kelley went over from the 1 with Coulter making the extra point and the half ended 14-6.

Cisco added their final counter in the third quarter after taking over on a pass interception on their own 35. They made one first down working the ball up to the 45 where they finally ran into a punt situation. Coulter dropped back to do the kicking and Rangers two safeties pulled back into position, but instead of kicking the ball, Coulter handed it to Kelley who stood in front of him, and Kelley took it all the way to the Ranger 9-yard line where it was first down and goal to go. Kelley took it over on the next play, and (Continued on Page Two)

RJC Pep Leader Gets Married

Editor's Note: Shortly before press time today we asked Thelma Edwards of Olden, one of the RJC Cheerleaders, how come Doris Day of Eastland, another one of the Cheerleaders, wasn't at the RJC-CJC game Thursday.

"Oh, she got married and couldn't make it," we were told. She married Stanley Harris, an employee of Early Tire Service at Eastland, we were told further.

Well, congratulations!

TCU Programs Available for Club Meetings

The Times has been informed by Amos Melton, director of the TCU News Service, that Texas Christian University has fifteen programs that are available for Lions Clubs, Rotary Clubs, Civic and Social Clubs and other organizations that might have use for them during their regular meetings. He said they were also available for church groups.

The programs range all the way from one-act plays to talks by foreign students, and there is no charge for them. However, organizations using the programs will be expected to provide transportation to and from Fort Worth, and other small incidental expenses.

Among the speeches available are "The Twenty-On May Still Serve," a discussion of the rehabilitation of brain-washed prisoners of war by Brain Patton, a Fort Worth junior; "On Your Toes," bullet steps and training by Doris Nolan, a Galveston senior; "The Devil's Dictionary," a humorous talk on words by Worth Dalton, a senior speech major.

There are numerous readings, and four one-act plays, we are told. The complete list may be obtained by writing Dr. Press, TCU School of Fine Arts, TCU, Fort Worth, Texas.

The list of foreign students who are available for talks may be obtained by writing Dr. George P. Fowler, Department of Relations, TCU.

ONE OF A SERIES OF PICTURES FEATURING RANGER STORES TO BE RUN BY THE RANGER TIMES DURING THE HOLIDAY SEASON—TODAY ROBINSON FOOD MARKET

—Print by Capps Studio

Pictured above is an interior scene at Robinson Food Market, 121 N. Rusk, one of the many excellent food stores in Ranger that is prepared now and at all times to provide the finest in foods for your table regardless of whether you're planning a feast for a family reunion or a quick snack before a movie. Owned by R. V. Robinson, the store is pretty much of a family enterprise as Mrs. Robinson and daughter Ann take regular turns at the checking counter, and son Jim is a stock boy. Earl Ewing is in charge of the market, and B. L. Hager is also a checker and stockman. Dale Cozart looks after the deliveries. The Robinsons offer a personalized type of service, and like every other store in town extends a cordial invitation to everyone to visit them or call on them when in need of something for the table.

Hot Check Season Opens, So Beware

Starting right now and continuing for the next four weeks, it will be Hot Check Season in Ranger and everywhere else as people get busy shopping for the holidays.

Based on figures of the past, it has been estimated that hot checks in this country as a whole will run around $2,000,000 a day.

These checks are not given to regular customers and home folks, but by check fraud artists who make it a business of fleecing the careless, unobservant and hurried sales clerk or merchant when stores are crowded and everybody is busy. These people are as much professionals in their business as a trained surgeon, and they know so many tricks of the trade that it is impossible to keep abreast of all of them.

They operate in small towns the same as big ones and, as a matter of fact, many of the hot checkers concentrate on small towns where they have a better chance of getting away with their schemes of fraud. Small stores are not apt to have store detectives and security organizations and are much easier prey for the hot checkers than most of the big stores in the big cities.

The Times is in receipt of 12 basic rules to follow in handling holiday checks, and they are passed on to you for your study and guidance.

1. Don't let anyone hurry you. It's your money being paid out.
2. Don't cash a check for a stranger without positive identification. Social security cards and auto licenses are easily forged.
3. Don't cash checks signed with a rubber stamp, written in pencil, or showing any signs of alteration.
4. Beware of out-of-town checks.
5. Be extra careful when cashing checks while banks are closed. This is a favorite time for the check crook to operate.
6. Don't cash checks for juveniles. They are not legally responsible and often are used as "runners" for check crook gangs.
7. Don't cash bank counter checks. They are designed for use only in the banks issuing them.
8. Do not accept pre-endorsed (Continued on Page Two)

Don't Forget Union Services At 1st Methodist

Ranger is reminded that all churches will dismiss their evening worship hours Sunday night to attend joint services at the First Methodist Church sponsored by the Ranger Ministerial Alliance. The special Thanksgiving services will begin at 8:00 o'clock and everyone is invited to attend.

Rev. C. Boesmans, pastor of the Saint Rita Church, has been selected to deliver the message. J. N. Sutton, musical director of the First Baptist Church, and Miss Vivian Simmons, choir director of the First Methodist Church, will have charge of the musical part of the services. Also, several special numbers have been planned appropriate to the Thanksgiving season.

All of the ministers in Ranger join in urging their congregations to attend the joint services Sunday night.

OES-Masonic Banquet To Be Monday Evening

Members of the Ranger Chapter of the O.E.S., and their husbands, together with members of the Ranger Masonic Lodge and their wives, are ready to hold their annual banquet at the Masonic Banquet Hall Monday night.

The food is being prepared by members of the OES but the menu is not being announced since it has been planned to make it a surprise dinner.

All members of both organizations are reminded of the time, which is 6:30, and are urged to be present for an enjoyable evening, for which a program has also been planned.

Junior-Senior High School Play Is Monday Night

"The Boarding House Reach," is the title of the 3-Act Comedy Play that will be staged Monday night by members of the Junior and Senior classes of Ranger High School in an all-school play beginning at 7:30.

The play has a large cast from both classes and a full-house of school patrons is expected to be in attendance. All proceeds will go to the Annual Year Book fund.

Eastland Downs Cross Plains 26 - 7

By playing heads-up wide-awake football and taking advantage of every break of the game, Eastland's 10-A Champion Mavericks downed Cross Plains Friday night 26-7 for Bi-district honors and the "right to meet Henrietta in the regional play-off at a time and place yet to be determined.

A pass interception set up the first Eastland score, as recovered Buffalo fumble set up the second, an 86-yard cross-country run by fullback Saul Pullman accounted for the third and another pass interception paved the way for the fourth.

After taking the kickoff, Buffalo quarterback David Jennings went to the air on the first play from scrimmage. The results spelled disaster.

The Cross Plains aerial ended up in the arms of Maverick halfback J. C. Jarrett on the Eastland 45. Senior left half Jim Martin was the big gun in the Maverick's first period score which followed in five plays after the interception. He moved with the pigskin 38 of the 85 yards, getting the last nine of the scoring drive.

COOKING?

Virgil Moore, the editor over at Eastland, is disturbed over the fact that we have a new Page One slogan, "Gateway to Lake Leon." He says he thinks it is a wonderful slogan, with Eastland the "Home of" and Ranger the "Gateway to." But Moore makes one suggestion. Quoth he: "You might better oil the hinges on that gate!" Replied we: "Don't worry about those hinges, old buddy, they were never working better and we've got 'em self oiling. Come over some time and enter the lake through the front door."

We couldn't help getting a laugh out of that Page One picture and story in the Abilene paper last Wednesday showing the kid with the dog that got stuck in a chimney. Boy's dogs can do the darndest things. How ever come the dog to be in the chimney to start with!

We had a dog once, when we were a kid, that was good for a tragedy a day without half trying. Once upon a time when we were about 10 years old we were walking through town on our way to school and Old Boone was trotting along in front of us. He was an old Airedale with a two-inch tail that stuck straight up all the time and he was ugly and horrible looking as something from another world. But he was a friendly, neighborly cuss that would lay around in the barber shop scratching fleas and eating cigarette butts in his spare time, and folks had come to know him pretty well.

So here goes Old Boone trotting down this sidewalk and he was approaching Mr. Amson's grocery store. Mr. Amson had a habit of setting out a tubful of fresh turnip greens on the sidewalk every morning, and this particular morning they caught Old Boone's eye. He slowed his pace and went over to give them a good smell and 20 seconds later my dad had to buy the whole tubful. Old Boone took off for the creek bottom and we were hurrying on to school with the seat of our pants on fire. Dogs do the doggedest things, but kids are not complete without one.

Old Boone was a great hunter and retriever. Nobody ever told him he was just an Airedale so he went around treating squirrels and setting birds, with the best of them. The sportsmen around there wouldn't go hunting without him, and he could give all the high-powered bird-dogs a lesson every time out. He could run with the fox hounds all night and was forever and eternally coming home scratched and chewed up from a moon fight. He was an expert duck retriever and we've even had him retrieve fishing poles that had been pulled out into the water by big fish. And he would bring in the fish, too.

Old Boone got into a nest of snakes once and was snake-bit from one end to the other. He swelled up to twice his normal size and for days we all waited around for the time to come to heal him off, but he finally started getting better and made a full recovery.

On another occasion he took the (Continued on Page Two) manage. Every last hair on him came off and he was covered with scabs and sores. Our dad ran a drug store and he decided the time had come to put Old Boone out of his misery because the old reprobate was really and truly suffering. Dad brought home a o m e strychnine and we loaded a piece of beef with it and sorrowfully and reluctantly handed it over to the poor fellow.

 We felt terrible the next morning as we went down to the barn with a burlap bag to bury him in, but Old Boone wasn't there. Our dad heard a noise and looked out across the back pasture and it was Old Boone in hot pursuit of a rabbit, literally tearing through the grass and brush like a blue streak. From the night he took that dose of poison the old dog started to get better and recovered from the mange completely, sprouting a brand new coat of hair and looking better than he ever looked in his life.

No telling how many times he was run over by an automobile but he seemed to thrive on such stuff as that. We had a little old horse that simply delighted in kicking him as far as he could, landing his blows on Old Boone's head or in his ribs, but that just stirred him into a playing notion. And he could ride that horse, too, as good as we could. He was also a bicycle handle-bar rider, and it was impossible to throw him off the running board of a car.

One time Mr. Horton was hauling a huge load of 5-foot firewood for his gin. How come Old Boone out helping with firewood nobody knows, but on the way back to town he was trotting along behind the wagon when a cross-cut saw fell off the top of it and landed across his back, teeth down, almost cutting him in two. But he even got over that. As a matter of fact, Old Boone finally died a natural death of old age, long after we were grown and gone from home.

Yep, a boy and his dog are two of a kind, and it's hard for one to get along without the other.

As you people know, newspapers make a lot of mistakes. We never do, of course, but others do. Misspelled words, transposed lines, badly phrased sentences and other things combine to spread a lot of confusion. Anyway, a gent by the name of Bryant House has made a collection of several thousand of these things which he has compiled in a book called "They Goof." One of them, the prize goof of them all to our notion, appeared in our sister paper, The Eastland Telegram, several years ago when the editor wrote: "Eastland's population will be 10,000 by 1950 if we all do something."

ing two of his four attempts. After Upchurch missed his first attempt, the Mavericks had a 6-0 edge with only 3:05 gone in the first quarter.

Jarrett was again the man of the hour on the second play for Cross Plains in the second stanza. He fell on a Buffalo fumble to give Eastland the ball on its own 10 yard line.

The touchdown drive was interrupted momentarily when quarterback Harvey Lewis boomed a 49 yard punt to the Cross Plains 30. The Buffalo safety man fumbled and it was recovered by Eastland end John McMahon.

Martin and Pullman punched the ball from the 30 to the nine yard line from where P. A. Cox blasted over for the score. Upchurch's kick was good and the Mavericks led 13-0 with half the second quarter yet unplayed.

Eastland pushed the margin to 19-0 with only 25 seconds elapsed following the half.

Eastland took the second half kickoff on its 15. On the first play from scrimmage the hard-charging Pullman blasted into the secondary, found a wide open field, and rumbled the 85 yards for the score. Upchurch failed to convert.

The Buffaloes finally got moving deep in the third quarter when they took over on their own 30 after a Maverick punt. After working the ball down to the Maverick 21, quarterback David Jennings hit Harold Gray with a pass on the 10 and Gray took the ball over from there with Baum converting.

 Ranger's final score came in the last quarter with 35 seconds to go. They had recovered a Cisco fumble on the Cisco 31, and a 26-yard pass to Hanson put the ball on the 5. Safety Island Built To Curb Head-Ons

A new device that is expected to curb head-on crashes is being tested by the New Jersey State Highway Department.

A steep-sloped vine-stabilized embankment of earth has been built to separate opposing traffic lanes on a 7 1/2 mile stretch of the Garden State Parkway, according to Engineering News-Record, McGraw-Hill publication. Low barriers of concrete or steel are normally used as safety medians.

Such medians offer protection against head-on collisions, but do nothing to prevent same-direction accidents that result from oncoming headlight glare. To shield himself from such glare, the motorist's natural tendency is to swerve to the right, thereby jeopardizing his and other drivers' safety.

The mound-type barrier has been adopted to overcome this hazard. Four-foot-high earthen embankments leave visible only the tops of oncoming cars. Except in areas of converging downgrades, headlight glare is completely eliminated.

Hot Checks-

checks. Have all checks endorsed in your presence, and place the presenter's address on the check.

9. Don't cash checks for considerably more than the amount of the purchase. It may be an attempt to defraud you of cash in addition to merchandise.

10. Make sure all checks are the checks of existing persons or concerns, and that the check is drawn on an existing bank. Completely fictitious checks are top favorites with check crooks.

11. Be sure your own checks are protected checks which cannot be successfully altered with ink eradiator or by erasures. One type of check flashes hundreds of previously invisible reproductions of the word VOID when ink eradiator is applied to the surface.

 12. You can assure yourself of additional protection for your own checks by using a mechanical checkwriter and signer in preparing them. Machines which shred the amount indelibly into the check fibers, and which print a multi-colored protected facsimile signature, handuff check crooks by making it virtually impossible for them to raise or alter your checks.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet at the church Monday afternoon Nov. 26 at 3:30 for the last session of the Mission Study Course, on Southeast Asia. There should be good attendance at this special session. Mrs. Arthur Deffebach is the leader for the study.

The Choir will meet Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock for the weekly rehearsal and all members are expected.

The Adult Methodist Convocation for Sunday school workers will be held in First Methodist Church, Fort Worth, November 29 to Dec. 2.

If not required to be elsewhere, worship with the First Methodist church. A warm welcome awaits you.

Christian Science

The inability of evil to withstand spiritual understanding of the Christ, Truth, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the lesson-sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will include the following (Philippians 2:5, 13): "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus... For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do his good pleasure."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (287:27): "The five material senses testify to truth and error as united in a mind both good and evil. Their false evidence will finally yield to Truth, to the recognition of Spirit and of the spiritual creation."

The Golden Text is from III John (1:11): "Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good."

Church of God Services Set

The following is the weekly schedule of services for the Church of God, Strawn Road and First St. as announced by the pastor Rev. J. C. Atkins.

Not So Far From Here-

... we know of an improved farm for sale at a reasonable price. There are ten children in the family and the father is dead testate passing his interest to the widow now a non-compos-mentis. One of the boys is missing, believed to be in the penitentiary, with a wife and several minor children residing on the farm. One other child, an adult female, married a citizen of another country and is living abroad incognito. Who will make us an offer for this farm without an agent?
