Giants Back In 1st Place After 9-2 Win from Dodgers

STANDINGS

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Giants	5	1	.833	-
Dodgers	4	2	.666	1
Indians	3	3	.555	2
Yankees	0	6	.000	5

After being thrown into a tie with the Dodgers last Tuesday, the Giants were back in undisputed possession of First Place in the Little League standings after administering the Dodgers a 9-2 defeat Thursday night.

Giants pitcher Lockwood held the Dodgers to one hit all night and they did not get a run until the last inning when Mendoza and Peterson crossed the plate with the help of a number of walks and wild pitches.

The Giants collected six hits off of Peterson with McGee and Sanders being the top scorers with two runs each. Other Giants players making runs were Lockwood, Jones, Young, Comacho and Ewing, each having one apiece.

Indians - Yankees

Backed up by a 17-hit barrage and a number of errors, walks and wild pitches, the Indians squeaked by the Yankees 30-5. Every Indian player that got into the game made at least one run with Owens setting the pace with five. Santos, Merritt, Garcia and Matthews, each made four runs, and Robinson got three. Scoring one run each were May, Milmo, Hale, Earnest, Garcia and Fisher. Their big inning was the fifth when 11 runs crossed the plate.

Owens, pitcher for the Indians, pitched a no-hit game as he a Yankee connected with a fair ball all night. Their five runs came as the result of men getting on by way of the free pass route.

Scoring for the Yankees were Townsend, two, and Seymour, Browning and Ausburne, one run each.

Also in the procession, back of the two thieves, came another man surrounded by a bigger and louder mob, also struggling with a cross.

This man did not look like a thief, Simon noted. His deep eyes were filled with wisdom and kindness, and his features seemed to bear all the troubles of all the world and he seemed griefed for those who laughed at him and mocked him.

Suddenly, when the man came abreast of Simon, his cross seemed to become more than he could bear and he stumbled and fell to the ground.

Seeing Simon, a guard ordered him to pick up the cross and carry it to the fallen prisoner.

And thus a man named Simon, the Cyrenean, bore the cross of Jesus of Nazareth to a place called Golgotha where they crucified our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Simon of Cyrene was a father, having two sons, Alexander and Rufus, who were also just a nud honorable men.

Thinking about it, as we came to this Father's Day 1,924 years later, we think it was only fitting and proper that fate should decree that a Father should bear the cross of Christ to Calvary.

Millions of times since, the fathers of this land have been called upon to bear crosses for others, and no cross has ever been too heavy for a father to bear for his loved ones.

It is an honor for the Times to pay tribute to him this day, and to wish for him many more happy Father's Days to come.

WHAT'S... COOKING?

By NORMAN WRIGHT

Once upon a time in the long, long ago there lived a man named Simon in a place called Cyrene. Simon was a very devout and religious man, and when the time came for the Feast of the Passover he traveled a thousand miles from his home to Jerusalem so as to observe this holy event.

Upon entering the city of Jerusalem Simon beheld a mob of people coming down one of the narrow streets and he stepped aside to observe what was taking place.

Presently there came along two thieves, half carrying and half dragging crosses of crucifixion, making their way painfully toward a hill on the outskirts of the city.

Chester Dooley Is Holding Own After Accident

Word from Ranger General Hospital is to the effect that Chester Dooley, who is suffering with a fractured skull, a broken jaw and facial lacerations, is holding his own, although his condition is still considered serious "but not critical at this time."

Dooley was injured shortly before noon Thursday at the Premier Oil Refining Company plant, at Mingus when the gin poles on a winch truck apparently fell on him. Nobody witnessed the accident.

Dooley is said to have conversed briefly with members of his family Friday, although he was still in a semi-conscious state due partly to medication.

Dooley is known to have been working on his truck trying to put up the gin poles when the accident took place.

Another New GI Home Under Way

Contractor M. L. Lawson has his third new GI home under way in Ranger and has been waiting for favorable weather to go full speed ahead with it.

The three bedroom frame home is being built for Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Guess and is on Mesquite Street in either the 400 or 500 block. Lawson said he didn't know which because the numbers were so mixed up out that way.

Rain has held up work on the new brick home of Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Jolly but Lawson said he hoped to have it ready for occupancy by July 4.

Plans for four more GI Homes, the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh, are almost complete, Lawson said.

Farm Tanks Full; Owners Want Fish

AUSTIN — Land owners whose stock tanks and farm ponds have been dry since they were built now are wanting fish to stock them, according to the Director of Inland Fisheries of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

On Tuesday the Department received 204 applications in one mail. During the past two weeks thousands of others have poured into the office.

Several of the hatcheries have been badly crippled by flood waters, curtailing the production materially. Applications will be processed and efforts will be made to distribute the fish as equitably as possible to the major independent owners, according to the Director.

On ponds smaller than ten acres, no fish can be delivered by the Department before September 1. Owners, however, whose applications have been approved, can pick up fish by calling at the hatcheries. Since house fry are no longer available, lakes in excess of 9 acres cannot be stocked with them before the spring of 1958.

Ranger Boys "Road-Blocked" By Ft. Worth Cops In "Robbery"

The Times would hesitate to print this story if everybody in Ranger wasn't acquainted with the high, outstanding character of the two lads involved. But that's what makes the actions of the Fort Worth police department all the more ridiculous.

Little did Jackie Neeley and Dale Cozart know when they left here Wednesday morning to visit a twirling school at TCU that they were soon to have the biggest portion of Cow Town law enforcement officers down on their necks.

With Jackie driving his daddy's green and white Chevrolet, the two boys were approaching the traffic circle on the western city limits of Fort Worth where four carloads of plain clothes detectives had thrown up a road block.

Not recognizing it for what it was, Jackie drove his car carefully through the block and kept going until his rear view mirror told him that a car was bearing down on him from behind. The car was coming at great speed, weaving in and out among other cars, passing them on the wrong side, and violating every other known rule of the road. Pretty soon the occupants of the car began blowing the horn and waving the two boys to pull over and stop.

The car had nothing on it to identify it as a police car, and its occupants looked like a bunch of rough characters out of a gangster movie. Jackie said his first thought was that they were being held up and high-jacked.

Jackie and Dale pulled over to the side of the road and stopped, fearing they would be shot if they didn't, and the men in the pursuit car unloaded with guns bristling.

The surprised youngsters were told not to start shouting or to try anything violent because they were covered from all sides and were wanted for robbing a filling station in Weatherford.

The time was then 11:45 a.m., and the filling station had been robbed at 11:00 a.m., by a couple

Farmer Accuses Cox of Infringing Rights

An Eastland County farmer charged this week that County Treasurer Richard Cox refused to cash a check he turned over to the county for payment of work done for him by the county and also refused to give him a receipt of payment.

The farmer, W. H. Halley of Route 1, Gorman, declared in a letter to the Eastland Telegram editor that County Treasurer Richard Cox "infringed upon my rights as a taxpayer and a free American citizen when he refused to give me a receipt for my check upon my request without proper authority to do so."

The letter to the Telegram editor was sent as a result of a news story carried in Tuesday's edition of the Eastland Telegram and Ranger Times telling of a "warm debate" between County Attorney Joe Nussle and Cox concerning the check. Nussle, asked by the commissioners court what could be done to get the money, said the Court could look to three places, "the farmer, the county treasurer or the county treasurer's bonding company."

At the commissioners court meeting Cox was asked several times by Nussle if he had not been requested by the farmer to write him a receipt for the amount of the check. Each time the county treasurer said he had not. In Halley's letter, he said that he requested Cox to write him a receipt on more than one occasion and the county official refused to do so.

Here are the pertinent parts of Halley's letter:

"I read your account of the proceedings before the county commissioner's court last Monday regarding a check for about $190

Member Relations

1. Wide use of membership on committees (your very best opportunity to expand the work of the chamber, and to develop needed participation in your organization. Ordinarily your most effective board members and officers are those trained in committee work).

2. Chamber program of work (adopt formal work program and inform your membership).

3. Chamber Education Program (regular or periodic meetings of chamber membership — this keeps members according to the Director of Inland Fisheries of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.)

With the drive against unvaccinated and untagged dogs within the city limits of Ranger well in hand, city officials will begin issuing warrants next week for the arrest of people who are hiding dogs and refusing to comply with the city ordinance.

Spokesmen at City Hall say the names and addresses of practically all of the "dog hiders" are known, and in fairness to several hundred people who have complied with the law they can not afford to let others defy it.

When warrants are issued for those who have refused to have their dogs vaccinated and tagged, they will be picked up by officers and taken to City Hall where the fine is from $1.00 to $25.00, with each day counting a new and separate offense, until the ordinance is complied with.

If the dog-owner refuses to pay, he can be jailed. If he chooses to plead not guilty, he will be required to make a bond in order to stay out of jail and then appear before corporation court where his guilt or innocence will be determined.

Dog-owners who have steadfastly refused to obey the law can avoid all this trouble and expense if they will do like all the others and have their pets vaccinated and tagged, the City Hall says. Vaccinations against rabies can be obtained at Hodges Veterinary Clinic for $2.00. City dog tags are $1.00 for male dogs and $2.00 for female dogs and may be obtained at city hall.

It is said that somewhere between 80 and 100 dogs have already been destroyed in the present campaign and those, together with the hope-number that have been vaccinated and tagged, just about constitute the dog population of Ranger. Most of the violations now are among those who are keeping their pets hid, and that is where the crackdown will be concentrated next, it is said.

The City Commission announced from the beginning that ALL dogs would have to be vaccinated and tagged, in accordance with the city ordinance requiring it, and there are to be no exceptions left in Ranger, they say, since they have gone this far with it.

Status of Forces Treaty

The Status of Forces Treaty which the United States has with Japan and a number of other countries, and which is causing all the uproar today over Specialist William S. Girard and his up-coming trial for murder by a Japanese court, can be compared with the agreement you have with your baby sitter.

For example, you can tell your baby sitter that it is all right for her to spank your baby if he does something he is not supposed to do, but it is NOT all right for her to spank him if the baby does something you have told him he CAN do.

That is where all the trouble hinges in the Girard case. He was doing something he had been TOLD to do, and therefore Japan has no right whatsoever to "spank" him. Girard's own commanding general has said the boy was on duty and his actions were in the line of duty, when he fired a warning shot that killed a Japanese woman who was picking up scrap metal on the firing range.

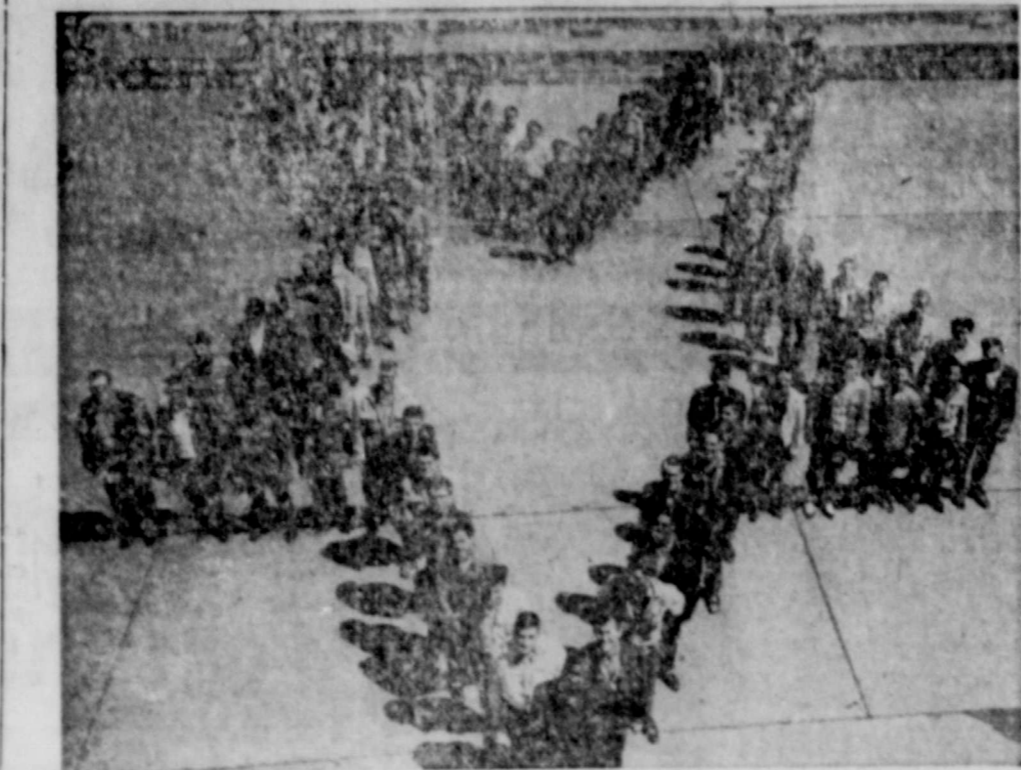

The commanding general said that competition had become so great among the women picking up the scrap metal that it was almost impossible to keep them off the firing range. He said they had learned to time the firing practice and they were very much like spectators at a football game who swarmed onto the field a few seconds before the game was over.

On this particular occasion the American GIs who had been using the firing range were off for lunch, and Girard, among others, had been assigned as guards to keep the women off the field. This particular woman walked on to the field, and Girard fired a warning shot at her. He did not even fire a bullet. He fired an empty cartridge case that had been attached to a grenade launcher. It had about as much accuracy as a bunch of firecrackers tied together. The empty shell case accidentally hit the woman, causing her death.

Japan demanded that Girard be tried in a Japanese court for murder. For some unexplained reason that nobody can figure out, the United States consented to turn him over. They are denying Girard his inherent constitutional right as a citizen of the United States to be tried by a jury. They have denied Girard all of his rights as an American citizen in order to appease a foreign government, whose cruelty against Americans during the war was hideous, infamous and unspeakable.

Fair minded people in the United States do not want to see any American boy made a sacrificial lamb to appease anybody. That is why they are objecting so loudly to the stand taken by Eisenhower and his henchmen in their rage of the democratic process.

The next time it could be your boy!

Former Ranger Girl, Kansas Boy Are Married In Canyon, June 1

In a double-ring ceremony Saturday, June 1, at Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel on the campus of West Texas State College, Ann Dorris, daughter of Mrs. J. K. Dorris, Canyon, and formerly of Ranger, became the bride of Noel W. Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Maxwell, of Stanley, Kansas.

Rev. Carlton H. Thomson, Methodist minister from Wheeler read the service at 10 a.m. The altar was decorated with candelabra and baskets of pink gladiolus. Miss Juanelva Rose, organist, played "Adagio" by Mendelssohn, "Air" by Bach, "I Love You Truly" and "Through the Years" as a prelude. The traditional wedding marches were used and during the ceremony she played "Andante" by Franck, Beanie Gollehon sang "Because," "Do Not Intrigue Me To Leave You," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Adrian Maxwell, brother of the bridegroom, and Miss Donna Drennan, niece of the bride, were candlelighters. Miss Drennan wore a dress of pink arnel faille with a matching pink net overskirt and a headress of pink net and flowers. Mrs. Carlton Thomson attended her sister as matron-of-honor. She wore a blue faille sheath with matching net overskirt. The junior bridesmaids, Misses Jane Thomson and Carol Drennan, nieces of the bride, wore dresses of pink faille with net overskirts and headresses. Misses Patricia Copland and Linda Drennan, bridesmaids, wore blue faille sheaths with matching headresses and net overskirts. All of the attendants carried bouquets of blue or pink asters in contrast with their costumes.

As flower girl, Patty Dorris, niece of the bride, wore a pink dress identical to those of the Junior bridesmaids and carried a white satin basket filled with pink rose petals.

Joe Mack Hill of Spearman was best man. Serving as ushers were Dean Foshoe of Canyon and Don Smith of Amarillo. Tommy Thomson, nephew of the bride, carried the rings.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Glenn Dorris, wore a white satin gown designed with a long torso. The full gathered skirt germinated in a chapel sweep, and the neckline was framed with Alencon lace. Her veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of sequins and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Dorris, mother of the bride, wore a gray lace dress over pink taffeta with navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Maxwell, wore a navy lace dress with white accessories. Both had corsages of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was feted at a reception at Stafford Hall. The serving table, laid with a linen cutwork cloth over pink, was decorated with pink asters. Mrs. Don Drennan, sister of the bride, served the tiered cake, and Mrs. Carlton Thomson, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Alvis Fuquay, cousin of the bride, registered the guests.

After a trip to New Orleans, La., the couple will be at home June 7 at 2617 E. 3rd, Canyon. In traveling, the bride chose a navy suit with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Display Window At Arterburn's Pays Tribute to June Brides

Almost as lovely as a June Bride herself, is the beautiful show window at Arterburn's which pays tribute to this fair lady during the biggest wedding month of the year. Window shoppers stop by the dozens to gaze enviously at this lovely creature as she stands beside a table, elegantly attired in full bridal raiment, gazing upon her wedding cake.

Mrs. E. N. Varner, in charge of Arterburn's Gift Shop, prepared the window with the cooperation of other Ranger merchants and friends.

Mrs. Harry Henry of Sweetbriar's furnished the mannequin and the bridal gown.

Mrs. George Rogers of 500 Cleaners furnished the table cloth which is white net edged with poms and white satin ribbon spread over satin bridal cloth.

Mr. and Mrs. Carville of Ranger Bakery contributed the beautiful three-tiered wedding cake with pink roses which sits on a reflector and is topped by a miniature bride and groom.

The table is laid with Wallace

Sterling and crystal, and the tea service is of Ascot community-plate. The table centerpiece is Bhrta's bridal arrangement of white satin grapes and white gardenias.

Mrs. Varner extends a cordial invitation to all brides to register their showers with Arterburn's Gift Shop.

Letters To Editor

Editor Ranger Times

Dear Sir:
On this Father's Day we wish to submit the following in memory of R. J. Raines, the sweetest husband and father that ever lived. Mildred and Glenda Raines. A precious one from us is gone. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our home That never can be filled.

The loneliness in our hearts is all that we can bear, We miss you more each day, Since God called you to His care.

You are not dead—not lost, But gone on before, You live with us in memory, And will forever more.

God needed another Angel, To worship before His throne, So, he looked down from Heaven And called our loved one home.

Time has passed since that sad day The one we loved was called away. God took you, it was His will But your memory lingers still.

More and more each day we miss you, Friends may think the wound is healed. But they little know the sorrow That lives in our hearts concealed.

Yes, God took you home, it was His will, And in our hearts your memory liveth still, But only a star shines over the grave Of the one we loved, and could not save.

The State of Texas House of Representatives Austin, Texas June 12, 1957

Mr. Norman Wright, Editor The Ranger Times Ranger, Texas

Dear Norman:
I want you to know that I appreciate the editorial in the June 9th issue of The Ranger Times. Basically, I agree, that the Taylor County Bar Association had a lot to do with the defeat of this bill in the Senate, however, I believe that the bill would have passed the Senate this time had it ever been brought to the floor for a vote. I one would need some help due to their growth of population and crowded court docket.

I think this legislation is important since it would strengthen some of our smaller courts and give Abilene some relief at the same time without the creation of an additional court in Texas.

Yours very truly,
Paul Brashear

It Wasn't Your Fault—

... that the party with whom you are dealing to buy real estate did not get an abstract but it will be your fault if you trade with him without an abstract. What about the title? One authority on titles puts it this way: "Titles were good yesterday, only fair today, but worse tomorrow." Better get an abstract when you buy real estate of any kind. It's safer, more business-like and a sure sign of good judgment.
