Hundreds Of Fish Saved From Death Below Leon Spillway

WHAT'S...

COOKING?

By NORMAN WRIGHT

The other day we mentioned that Highway 80 was not only to skirt a lot of towns and cities with its new route, but it was even going so far as to skirt a lot of counties, through which it now runs, in its conversion to a super thoroughfare.

One of those counties is our old home county of Wood, in East Texas, in the oil field, and let us tell you briefly about the dirtiest highway deal ever handed to anybody, as reported this week in the Dallas Morning News.

About two years ago the Highway Department surveyed a route through Wood County, which closely paralleled the existing U. S. Highway 80, and sold the Wood County commissioners court to get to work and buy the right-of-way.

The court employed a group of men to buy the strip which had been designated by the state, and after several long months of work during which a series of long condemnation hearings were held, the court finally had title to all the land for which the taxpayers of Wood County had paid $50,000.

During the course of securing the right-of-way, the commissioners court even had to go to the expense of moving one cemetery at the little town of Crow, near Hawkins.

Then on the second day of this month, June 2, Wood County picked up their newspapers to read where the Highway Department had decided on another route for Highway 80 and the road would miss Wood County by 16 miles.

Nobody in the Highway Department had said a word to anybody in Wood County about it, except as late as last May, when the county was still busy buying up right-of-way, representatives of the Highway Department told them to go right ahead, they were doing exactly what they were supposed to do.

Of course, all of this has brought on a battle royal between Wood County and the State Highway Department and as far as we are personally concerned, Wood County can't (Continued on Page 6)

EDITOR'S NOTE: Since the accompanying story was written, Lake Leon officials have moved a pump to the scene and the water holes are now being pumped dry. This operation will result in rescuing hundreds of fish that otherwise would have died for lack of oxygen.

Lake Leon caretaker Eb Richardson, together with State Game Warden M. S. Dry and all the other help they could get, have been carrying on an "Operation Rescue" below Lake Leon Dam since last Tuesday in an attempt to save hundreds of fish from drowning.

The fish became trapped in the small puddles of water below the dam when the lake quit overflowing and there were so many of them they used up all the oxygen in the water and were suffocating for air, or literally, drowning.

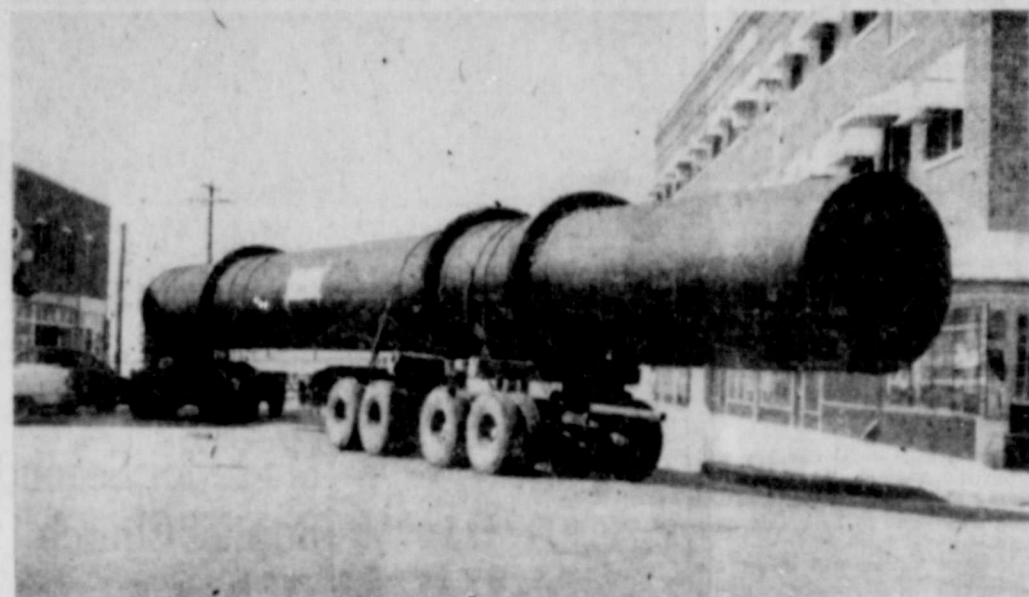

Richardson first noticed the plight of the fish when they began to come to the top for air, then later dead ones began to appear by the scores.

Using nets, dip nets and their bare hands, Richardson and his helpers rescued at least a hundred of the fish and put them over into the big lake. They were mostly all yellow catfish weighing from 5 to 45 pounds, with the big majority of them being in the 25-35 pound class.

Two State Hatcherymen, Harmon Henderson from the Possum Kingdom Hatchery and Hip Williams of the Dundee Hatchery, near Wichita Falls, came over with their big tank trucks to try to salvage some of the smaller fish. They estimated there were thousands of small blue and yellow catfish in the waterholes averaging 10-12 inches. However, all they could catch were those that could be picked up with dip nets. The bottom of the holes was too rocky to use nets and seines.

The Hatcherymen were hoping that somebody connected with the lake would arrange for the waterholes to be pumped dry so the fish could be saved. They estimated the water could be pumped out in something like 10 hours with a good pump.

Both State Hatcherymen said the fish came to Lake Leon dam all the way from Belton Dam some 150 miles away. They said the fish came up the stream as soon as it (Continued on Page 6)

KILN NO. 8: Rounding the corner at the Paramount Hotel is Kiln No. 8, a giant 7-footer, bound for the Featherlight Corporation. This kiln, together with No. 7 which is still in the process of installation, will increase Featherlight production by one-third and will bring total production to an excess of 25,000 yards of aggregate per month. Plans for Kiln No. 9 and Kiln No. 10 are pending, according to Charles Bomar, plant manager. Featherlight is one of Ranger's newest and most booming industries.

Peanut Producers To Elect Director For Dist. No. 2

An election has been set for July 10 for the purpose of naming a director of District No. 2 for the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association at the home office in Gorman.

According to the rules of the election, it is said that only one name can be printed on the official ballot, and if any other person is to be benefited by the directorship, his name must be written in on the ballot.

One group of peanut producers is pushing a write-in campaign for Lee Starr of Cisco, son of W. B. Starr who was founder of the Association.

In a paid political ad running elsewhere in today's Times and other papers throughout District No. 2, "Friends of Lee W. Starr" are urging producers to write in his name in ink on the official ballot and mail it to the home office in Gorman not later than July 7.

Duard B. Warren is the candidate whose name is printed on the ballot.

Representatives of the City of Ranger, or any other group, but as representatives of the "People of Ranger," because every last one of Ranger's citizens is affected.

The delegation did not come right out and say so, but it is Highway 80 that has Ranger "broke" now. Ranger has been out enough money on that road to have a street of solid gold out there. First, the town spent all sorts of money getting the west side of town ready for the Highway Department, but that was only chicken feed compared to what was spent on the right-of-way in the eastern part of town.

The city had to secure a lot of additional land, had to move a large number of buildings, had to pay for a lot of curbing and thousands of dollars on a new route which the Highway Department needed for the 4-lane road.

Ranger's argument before the Highway Department was this: The route through Ranger now, from Ranger Hill and beyond on the east, to several miles further on to the west, is already 10 or 15 years ahead of all the rest of the Highway. Why change it until other parts of the Highway at least catch up to Ranger's part of it?

It was pointed out that much of the route through Ranger, which cost the people of Ranger so much, is less than a year old. The delegation asked the Highway Department to at least give the (Continued on Page 6)

Beautiful Copies Of Constitution Free at Sinclair

A. P. (Pat) Thomas, Ranger Market for Sinclair, invites everyone to drive by any Sinclair Service Station during the Fourth of July holiday period and they will be given a beautiful copy of the Declaration of Independence.

Reproduced on heavy, parchment type paper, the documents are most valuable, and are exact reproductions from the original, a full 14 x 16 inches in size. The documents are also being made available to civic, veteran, religious and educational organizations.

In addition to calling attention to the patriotic significance of the holiday, Sinclair also hopes to promote safe driving over the Fourth by posting "Drive With Care" posters at all service stations.

New Minister Stumped Over Lions Club Menu

Jack Barker, new minister at the First Christian Church of Ranger, was stumped Thursday over one item of food on the menu at the Lions Club luncheon at Ranger Junior College cafeteria.

Coming from the State of Washington, Mr. Barker had never seen the item on a plate before, more especially for human consumption.

It was black-eyed peas, but the preacher ate 'em with relish.

Teen Town Hours Changed Slightly

The Juniors and Seniors have changed meeting nights at Teen Town, it is announced. From now on, Seniors will meet on Monday night, Juniors will meet on Tuesday night, and both will meet together on Thursday night.

A call also has gone out from directors of Teen Town for more girl members. They want at least 50 new girl members during the month of July. Girls are asked to please cooperate by joining.

Mr. Wimpee, associate secretary of the Texas Brotherhood, has an outstanding record in the field of entertainment and as an after-dinner speaker. He appeared on the Billy Graham program, has appeared in Madison Square Garden, Soldiers Field, Times Square, and the Hollywood Bowl. He always brings an inspirational message and program.

For many years Mr. Wimpee has public relations man for Baylor University, and leaving the field of professional entertainment and promotion came to the Brotherhood department of Texas.

The barbecue supper will be served from 6:30 to 7:30. Each group of men may eat upon arrival.

The local Brotherhoods have made arrangements for boats to carry the visiting men and boys on a cruise over lively Lake Leon. Men and boys will be privileged to enjoy the boating from 8:30 until the close of the program. Those who do not desire to eat may come anytime. The program proper will begin at 8:30 p. m. The Brasher and Pruet Dock will afford a wonderful place for the boating and the lovely area around these cabins will be a fine place for the program.

Mr. Harold Hill of Eastland is Promotional Vice President in charge of the evening entertainment. H. E. Geyer of Biling Star is Program Vice President and will preside over the program. J. B. Houghton of Ranger is Secretary; Treasurer, L. G. Ball of Cisco is Membership; V. P. Carlton, holder of Cisco, is Song Leader; James Fleming of Eastland is Pianist; and Gene Falk of Eastland is R. A. Leader.

One of the greatest, forward reaching steps Eastland County has taken in years, took place this week when the Lone Cedar Land Company became fully subscribed. As the June 30 deadline was reached, only about five members were lacking in Ranger's quota but they were in sight, or else enough Ranger and Eastland County citizens were prepared to underwrite the five shares.

Organization of the Lone Cedar Land Company was the first step in organization of the Lone Cedar Country Club which will one day be an attraction on the shores of Lake Leon that will have its influence felt all over West Texas, and which has unlimited possibilities for the future development of Eastland County.

According to Dr. James C. Whittington of Eastland, a member of the Board of Directors of the Land Company, a complete and revised list of all members will be published within a few days.

The next step in the huge development program of the Lone Cedar Country Club will be the erection by the Land Company of the shell of the beautiful new club house, the building of the swimming pool, the building of roads and fences, and the roughing in of 18 holes of golf.

In the meantime the Lone Cedar Social Club is to be organized, having its own officers and board of directors. The Social Club will later complete the club house, complete nine holes of watered fairway golf, build tennis courts, lay out picnic areas and make other such improvements as the Social Club deems advisable and necessary.

Dr. Whittington said that work would start not later than August 1 on building the roads and fences and it was hoped that all other work could be timed to fall right in line with no wasted motions or efforts.

The land for the country club, which has been purchased by the Land Company, is on the north shore of the lake and commands some of the most beautiful scenery anywhere in the area.

Final Teen Town Bake Sale Set For Wed., July 3

What Teen Town Mothers hope will be their final Bake Sale in their current campaign to raise money for a new annex for the Teen Town building has been scheduled for Wednesday, July 3, at Worth's Food Mart.

Again an appeal is sent out to everyone who will please donate something for the sale, and take it to Worth's early Wednesday morning. The sale will last all day.

Teen Town Mothers have been quite fortunate, they feel, because a building has been given to them for the purpose of making the annex. It is the building, or at least part of it, that has been used as a Field House at Bulldog Stadium. The mothers now need about $100 to move the building and to fasten it up to Teen Town and to spruce it up a bit after it has been relocated.

The building will be fastened on to the back of Teen Town, making a "T", and the new part will have an airway leading into the main building. Much of the new annex will be used for more space for Teen Town equipment and game tables, and a small portion of it will be partitioned off into a kitchen and a store-room that can be locked. There is no storage space at all in the present building, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Perry even have to take the punch bowl back and forwards from home every night the youth center is open. The locked pantry can also be used for storage place for ingredients used in preparing refreshments.

The cooperation of everyone is asked in the July 3 sale, so that enough money can be raised to complete the project without having to ask for any more help on the annex.

Black Dots Mark 120 Texas Tornadoes This Year

UNPRECEDENTED FLOODS, tornadoes and severe weather during the first five months of 1957 took a property toll in Texas estimated at $91,306,224. In all, a history-making 120 tornadoes were sighted in the state. It was on May 24 that 22 tornadoes churned across a terrified Texas in one day alone. Never before in the history of the weather bureau had there been such a day of violence, Ranger citizens stuck close to home, staying near storm cellars with open doors, ready to jump into at a moments notice.

Auto Speed Pitch Ended

The nation's automobile manufacturers have wisely decided to drop the big advertising pitch they have been making on speed during the past few years.

The decision was made at a meeting of the directors of the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. Included as directors of the association are the top executives of every company which is a volume producer of passenger cars.

The resolution passed by the directors points out that they share the public interest in increasing the safety of highway travel. The association says its members should encourage owners and drivers to evaluate cars in terms of useful power and ability to provide safe, reliable and comfortable transportation, rather than in terms of capacity for speed.

It is also recommended to the member companies that they not participate in any speed contest or encourage or assist employees and dealers to engage in races or other speed events.

Since World War II, the horsepower and speed of cars has been rising, and at the same time deaths on the highway have been increasing. Not all highway deaths are attributable to speed, but too many of them are.

The acceleration and speed of a car are important to a law enforcement officer, but we cannot see why the advertising geniuses have in the past found it necessary to harp on the fact that the family car could go 40 miles an hour faster than the legal speed limit in Texas.

It is to be hoped that all members of the auto industry will adhere to the adopted resolution and that as a consequence the public will concentrate on safety in buying and driving a car.

Christian Science Announcements Made for Second Baptist Church

How spiritual understanding of the inspired Word of the Bible brings hope and healing will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Christian Science" will include the following from Romans (15:4): "For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (547:23-25,31-32): "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained. . . . It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith."

And then the Lord asked Eve, and she caught the same disease, for she replied: 'The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.' Yes, the devil did it! You see? We are too prone to

One authority on titles puts it this way: "Titles were good yesterday, only fair today, but worse tomorrow." Better get an abstract when you buy real estate of any kind. TELEPHONE TALK

SHE'LL GET YOUR NUMBER

Is your personal list of out-of-town telephone numbers complete and up-to-date?

If it isn't, we'll be glad to get any new numbers you need—free of charge, too. Just call Long Distance and ask the operator for the numbers you want.

As always, you'll find Long Distance service is much faster and more convenient when you keep a list and call by number.

Long Distance is a real bargain, too. You can call from Ranger to Dallas for only 60c (station-to-station, after 6 p.m. and all day Sunday).

I LIKE MY PHONE BECAUSE...

If you were asked to name the one "main" reason why you like having a telephone, what would it be?

Time-saver, maybe? Housewives, especially, get so much more done during the day by using their telephone as an errand boy.

Business aid? The phone is an essential tool for most business and professional people.

Companion? Folks who have to stay close to home because of illness or family responsibilities find the telephone a reliable friend. Frequently, it's their number one means of keeping up with friends they don't often get to see.

Others find it reassuring just to have a telephone close by, knowing they can use it to call for help in an emergency.

But most of us, I imagine, like having a telephone simply because it's an easy, pleasant way to visit the people we enjoy and want to talk to.

Telephone service means a lot of different things to a lot of different people. For whatever reasons you like having a phone, you can be sure we're always searching for new and better ways to make it even more useful, convenient, and economical.

NOT OUT TILL YOU COUNT TEN

Remember this old saying? "Don't lose your temper. Count to 10." Still pretty good advice, I guess.

And 10 can be a magic number for saving your telephone temper, too.

When you make a call and don't get a quick answer, a good rule of thumb is to wait at least 10 rings before you assume no one's there.

Especially during the summer—when people are out in the yard so often—it's a good idea to allow them some extra time to reach the phone.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Leaving On Your Vacation? Don't Tip Off Thieves

Local law enforcement officers have urged citizens who are planning to leave on vacations to avoid leaving tattletale signs around their deserted homes which invite thieves to visit.

Between the peak vacation months of July and August this year it is estimated that some 500 American homes will be burglarized every 24 hours. Those figures are given by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Local police recommend these pre-vacation steps to thief-proof deserted homes:

(1.) Tell the postman about your temporary change in address and cancel milk and newspaper deliveries until you return home. A collection of unopened milk bottles, a stuffed mail box or a pile of newspapers on the front porch is an invitation to burglars who constantly watch for such signals.

(2.) Notify police and tell them how long you will be away. The police will keep watch for any signs of unusual activity at your home.

(3.) Inform a trustworthy neighbor of your plans and give him your vacation address.

(4.) Do not leave cash or valuables in the house unless protected in an approved armored steel money safe. Otherwise place valuables in a bank.

(5.) Securely lock all windows and doors. Don't just slam the door. Lock it with a key so the bolt provides added security.

Ten Persons Will Die In Texas In July 4 Traffic

Austin, (Sp)—Faced with the prediction that 10 persons will die in traffic accidents in Texas during the 24-hour period of July Fourth, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has called state police forces together for a coordinated effort to prevent death and injury on our highways during the forthcoming holiday.

Col. Garrison has ordered all facilities of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Division and the License and Weight Division to bolster the force of the Texas Highway Patrol. Their mission will be that of patrolling our highways July 4 to remove dangerous drivers from the road before accidents occur.

"At least 120 more units from other divisions of the department will be in operation during the 24-hour holiday to add to the Patrol strength," he said. "Our divisions will patrol around the clock, and every effort will be made to reduce the death count from the 10 we anticipate."

The prediction of 10 deaths came from N. K. Woerner, chief of the department's Statistical Division, who said 12 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the holiday last year.

Col. Garrison said law enforcement officers throughout the state

Red Cross Explains What to Do When Child's Breathing Suddenly Stops

The 1957 version of a centuries-old method of artificial respiration has been adopted by the American Red Cross for reviving infants and small children whose breathing has stopped. A. W. Cantwell, national director of safety services, announced today.

The technique, known as mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Modern refinements for application to children, Mr. Cantwell explained, were developed through studies, financed by a Red Cross grant, at Presbyterian Hospital in Chicago under the direction of Dr. Archer S. Gordon. The studies led to a recommendation to the Red Cross by the National Academy of Science-National Research Council that the method be adopted. The mouth-to-mouth technique was used in Biblical times to revive apparently suffocated persons.

When the Red Cross six years ago adopted the back pressure-arm lift method or artificial respiration, Mr. Cantwell recalled, a modification of this method was described for use on small children to lessen chance of injuries to the chest wall.

Since 1951, a search has been pursued by the Red Cross for an even safer method, resulting in adoption of the mouth-to-mouth process. One of its great advantages, Mr. Cantwell said, is that the rescuer can tell at any stage of the operation whether it is effective.

Steps in the mouth-to-mouth technique are as follows:

1. Clear the mouth of any foreign matter with the middle finger of one hand. With the same finger hold the tongue forward.

2. The state police director urged all Texans who plan to celebrate the holiday to plan safety in their activities, especially while swimming. And he suggested that special care be taken with foods to prevent them from spoiling before eating time.

The department's OPERATION DEATHWATCH will be in effect for the 24-hour period at 12:01 a.m. July 4. In the operation all forms of death and violence will be reported to the department here.

The state police director urged all Texans who plan to celebrate the holiday to plan safety in their activities, especially while swimming. And he suggested that special care be taken with foods to prevent them from spoiling before eating time.

WHAT TO DO WHEN BREATHING STOPS

These five figures illustrate, from top to bottom, the steps in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation now being taught in Red Cross First Aid courses.

(1) Mother, using middle finger of one hand, clears child's mouth of any foreign matter. With same finger, she holds the tongue forward.

(2) Mother places child in a face-down, head-down position, and pairs him firmly on the back with the free hand, to help dislodge any foreign object in the air passage.

(3) The child is placed on his back, and the mother, using middle fingers of both hands, lifts the lower jaw from beneath and behind so that it "juts out."

(4) With one hand only, the jaw is held in this jutting-out position.

(5) The mother, covering the child's mouth and nose with her mouth, breathes into the child with a smooth, steady action. The free hand applies continuous moderate pressure to the child's abdomen, between navel and ribs, to prevent the stomach from being filled with air.

2. Now place the child in a face-down, head-down position and pat him firmly on the back with the free hand. This should help dislodge any foreign object in the air passage.

3. Place the child on his back and use the middle fingers of both hands to lift the lower jaw from beneath and behind so that it "juts out."

4. Hold the jaw in the position described in Step 3, using one hand only.

5. Place your mouth over the child's mouth and nose, making a relatively leakproof seal. Breathe into the child with a smooth steady action until you observe the chest rise. As you start this action, move the free hand to the child's abdomen, between the navel and the ribs, and apply continuous moderate pressure to prevent the stomach from becoming filled with air.

6. When the lungs have been inflated, remove your lips from the child's mouth and nose and allow the lungs to empty. Repeat this cycle keeping one hand beneath

Driving Tips for A Safe July 4 Motor Holiday

As millions of fun-seeking motorists head for the lakes, mountains or beaches over the Fourth of July holiday, safety experts are hopeful that extra care and caution will keep the highway accidents toll at an all-time low.

To help achieve this goal, Jeanne Smith, Dodge safety consultant, has prepared this list of 10 driving tips.

1. Control your temper when behind the wheel. Highways are crowded and travel is slow; don't "blow-up" and take unnecessary chances.

2. Start early, expect frequent delays and leave for home early, preferably during daylight.

3. Watch out for careless drivers who are over-anxious to reach their destinations.

4. Slow down, to allow passing cars extra room to get back into the right lane ahead of you.

5. Always give the other driver more than his share of the road.

6. Get into the proper lane well in advance of turning—and always signal your intention to turn or stop.

7. Pull your car entirely off the road when stopping for sightseeing or a roadside picnic.

8. Check traffic in all directions, especially to the rear, before pulling out of a parking spot onto the highway.

9. Reduce speed at sundown and drive within the range of your headlights.

10. Concentrate on your driving—it's a full time job.

The jaw and the other hand pressing on the stomach at all times. Continue at a rate of about 20 cycles per minute. After every 20 cycles the operator should rest long enough to take one deep breath. If any time you feel resistance to your breathing into the child and the chest does not rise, repeat Step 2 then quickly resume mouth-to-mouth breathing.

The question often arises concerning the technique to use on adults when the chest cage is injured and compression of the chest would do further damage or when fractured upper extremities would eliminate the expansion phase of "push-pull" techniques. The mouth-to-mouth or mouth-to-nose technique may be used in these cases; however, the cycle should be slower than that used for children. Approximately 12 cycles per minute should be adequate. The lower jaw must be held in the "jutting out" position with both hands at all times.

became navigable for fish soon after the overflow started. The men said the fish could easily make the trip in 24 hours, and had been here ever since.
There is no telling how many more fish remain in the water below the dam, which is estimated to be at least 20 feet deep at the end of the spillway pipe. It is known there are many hundreds of them, and they will all die unless they are removed. The only way to remove them now is to drain the water.

The fish will not bite a hook because, as the state hatcherymen said, they are too sick for that right now.

make it hot enough for them.
Far be it from us to stand in the way of progress, but one is forced to admit that something is seriously wrong in this case. One of the Wood County citizens wrote: "The public is entitled to know how much more and how often such similar deceit has been the policy of the State Highway Department."
It is absolutely foolish to assume that members of the State Highway Department are super-human mortals who can do no wrong. Maybe there is some ground to question them on what's the big idea of moving the entire road in the first place and seriously disturbing thousands of towns and hundreds of thousands of citizens who are going to have to pay the bill for all this road-building.
What right does a handful of men in the Highway Department have to almost destroy thousands of towns in Texas so that some New Yorker, maybe, can enter the state from the East and drive non-stop to the West and on into New Mexico and Old Mexico without having to bother about Texas even being here?
Has the Highway Department asked the citizens of the State about all this? Apparently not, in the case of Wood County, and where they have asked they pay about as much attention to what the citizens have to say as they would the bees buzzing. Here it is brother, we're running it down your throat and you take it and like it and pay for it and keep your mouth shut!
Take even the case of Ranger. Here we have a big 4-lane highway right on the edge of town, with broad, divided lanes for miles in both directions. The only town in the county that has a

Ranger By-Pass-

people time to get back some of the money that they dug up and paid out at the specific request of the Highway Department. There never was a more reasonable request made of anybody.
And as far as Ranger is concerned, Highway 80 never has gone "through" Ranger. It has always been on one edge of town. When the Highway Department decided the road should be on the other side of the tracks, Ranger cooperated to the fullest extent and helped to build a wide, roomy, 4-lane route that is as straight as an arrow for all practical purposes and doesn't have a bottleneck in it. The one traffic light at the east end of Main Street slows traffic to only 40 miles an hour.
Regardless of where the Highway Department puts any new road, it will not be any wider than the one that goes through Ranger right now. To abandon all the new construction that has recently been completed in and around Ranger would be the greatest waste of money that a person could imagine.
If Highway 80 did, indeed, go 4-lane highway through it, and what is the Highway Department going to do? Move the road over a mile or two and build another one exactly like it!
We don't know but what the whole Highway 80 program ought to be examined from end to end by some impartial experts. No telling what they might turn up. We don't know whether we're doing this thing right, or not, just because the State Highway Department says so.
The only thing we do know about it for sure is this: We'll never get it paid for!

War Widows Due Benefits Under Loan Program

The service-connected death of a World War II or Korean conflict veteran may entitle his widow to benefits under the Loan Guaranty Program, even if the veteran had obtained a GI loan before he died.
The statement was issued today by Mr. Scott B. Harrington, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Dallas, Texas.
However, he added, if the widow herself is an eligible veteran, she accrues no additional GI loan rights because of her husband's death.
Widows of World War II or Korea veterans whose death was service-connected, also may obtain direct loans from VA in those areas eligible for direct loans.

Direct loans, Mr. Harrington said, are obtainable for the purchase of a home or farmhouse. The law does not authorize direct business loans.
GI loan applications from widows, based on their husband's deaths as a result of World War II service, must be made by July 25, 1958. For Korean conflict eligibility, loans must be made before February 1, 1965, Mr. Harrington said.
Complete information is available from the VA office in Dallas, Texas.
