"Biggest Dove Crop" Says State Game Dep't.

By NORMAN WRIGHT

We have been trying to get around to writing this column ever since August 22, one week ago today, when the new laws went into effect, but have shied off to one reason or another until we're running right on schedule, seven days behind.

Anyway, 10 brand new laws went into effect in this state last week, and we wanted to mention them briefly since some of you might have overlooked them elsewhere, and most of us had darn sure better know them since ignorance of the law is no excuse.

Briefly the 10 new laws are as follows:

1. From now on parents are liable for property destruction by their minor children. This law should have been in effect all the time, since people who have suffered severe and costly damage at the hands of minors have had no recourse whatsoever to recover their loss. The parents are now required, by law, to pay for such damage.

2. Manufacture, sale or use of dangerous fireworks are prohibited. We imagine there will be all sorts of arguments on what kind of fireworks are dangerous or not dangerous, but to use the tiniest sparkler is dangerous. Even if it won't hurt you, it can certainly set a kid's clothes on fire and burn him to death.

3. News reporters cannot be barred from precinct, county or state political conventions. That's another good law because any time anything is held in secret, especially among a bunch of politicians, something screwy is going on nine times out of ten. Nothing concerning the public should be done behind locked doors, even the firing of college professors.

4. Garages must report cars left over 30 days. We understand one of the reasons this law was passed was because auto theft rings were parking stolen vehicles in garages around the country and leaving them for months until the "heat" was off and thus hiding them from officers.

5. Dangerous substances such as poisons, must be labeled. Countless accidental deaths have occurred on account of poisons not being properly labeled in their containers. Chief target of this law was thallium sulphate, an insecticide and rodenticide sold on little cookies resembling graham crackers and vanilla wafers for rats and bugs to eat. Fifteen Texas children ate them and died last year. The substance can also kill by absorption through the skin, or by inhalation.

6. Tuition fees at state colleges are doubled (beginning this fall). That's all there is to it. Kids going to state supported colleges and universities now have to dig down and come up with twice as much cash for tuition as they did before. State schools are losing their money in case they need a bigger stadium.

7. Voters will have to return to the "scratch" method of marking ballots. No longer can you sit down (Continued on Page Eight)

"Reports from all over the state indicate the biggest dove crop in years."

Those are the words of E. M. Sprout, director of law enforcement of the State Game & Fish Commission, as the 1957 shooting

Henry L. Basham Services Held At Church of Christ

Funeral services for Henry L. Basham, 50, who had been a resident of Ranger and Olden for the past 35 years, were held at 3 p. m. today, Thursday, at the Church of Christ, corner of Rusk and Mesquite Streets in Ranger, with Lonnie Branam, minister, officiating.

Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery under direction of Killingsworth Funeral Home. Mr. Basham died of cancer at West Texas Clinic in Ranger at 10:40 p. m. Tuesday. He had just returned from the J. D. Anderson Clinic in Houston Tuesday afternoon, a few hours before being placed in the Ranger Clinic.

A former farmer and rancher, Mr. Basham had been employed for the past five years at the Tip-Top Feed and Hatchery Company of Ranger. He was born April 2, 1907 in Coryell Co., and married Viola Northcutt July 22, 1926, in Gatesville.

Funeral services were held at McDonough, Hubert Pounds, Verne Peterson, Bill Barnes, Weldon Cunningham and T. C. Weaver.

EASTLAND COUNTY HISTORY REVIEW

More Indian Fights

(Editor's Note: This is the tenth of a series of articles taken from the book, "A History of Eastland County, Texas," written by Mrs. George Langston in 1904.

In the month of November, 1868, another Scout, composed of Messrs. Bayler, Balfour, Andrew Taylor, George Bigley, J. Peter Davidson and the Allen brothers, Sam, William, Joe and Luther, discovered Indian signs at Mansacker Lake. The trail which led east was hard to follow. Evidently the Indians were few in number and had purposely traveled apart. The men had frequently dismounted and looked closely for the trail.

When they had gone thus tediously a mile or two however, a black hound pup, belonging to Mansacker which had attached itself to the scout, suddenly scented the trail and was off on a long run never looking to the right or left, as the men hoped hard after him all the day long. It is said that a dog seldom took up a trail, in this way, but when one did it was safe to follow the lead. It proved so in this instance.

Late in the evening, when two of the men had fallen a mile or two behind, their horses having failed, the Scout came upon the "indians" about in number, at the head of Highway. The hound they recognized it as their Nemesis, and each Indian greeted him with "welcome" and "good night." The leader of the scout, Mr. Bayler, entered a charge. Then followed a fight and for some time the Indians who had dismounted were in a most discomfited state. To escape they had to climb up over rocks season gets ready to start in the north zone at noon Sunday, Sept. 1.

Thirty days later the season will open in the south zone.

"Mourning doves are plentiful now in every area," Sprout said, "and unless there is a drastic change in weather conditions they are expected to remain in the localities in which they are now feeding."

Rain Could Change Things Sprout said cooler weather or rains could change this condition before the season was over, however. "Water hole shooting can be effected greatly," he said, "especially if heavy rains should fill new water holes in areas where food has not been grazed over by the doves. In this event they would naturally go to the fresh feeding areas."

The seasons extend from Sept. 1 to Oct. 17, inclusive, in the north zone, and from Oct. 1 to Nov. 17, inclusive, in the south zone.

The white wing season has been authorized for the Rio Grande Valley area for Sept. 13, 15 and 17, according to the Game & Fish Commission which estimates that there are 600,000 white wings available for the Valley Hunt.

10 Per Day Limit The dove bag limit is 10 per day, with 10 in possession. Shooting is allowed from noon until sunset only. Under federal and state regulations all shotguns must be plugged to three-shell capacity. Shooting from vehicles or across the highways is prohibited.

The Game & Fish Commission has issued a warning to shooters to make prior arrangements with landowners for their hunts in order to avoid possible trouble later on. It also warned that all persons between the ages of 17 and 65 must have licenses when hunting outside their home counties. These licenses are now available from all game wardens and from many sporting good stores throughout the state.

"Every safety precaution should be used," director Sprout said. "Hunting season usually brings on several accidental deaths, due entirely to carelessness. All Ranger sporting goods stores and other establishments handling sporting equipment, are now fully stocked with guns and ammunition and all other field equipment needed by dove hunters."

The Times office will be closed. Anything for Tuesday's paper will have to be turned in Saturday.

Note to Lake Leon Skibugs... ain't as easy as it looks!

LAKE LEON ski enthusiasts may want to try this old innertube stunt over the Labor Day holiday, but pretty Scarlett Voris of Cypress Gardens, Fla., warns it isn't as easy as it looks. Hardest job encountered here is getting up on top of that thing in a standing position, the young lady says. Next hardest job is staying there because waves have a tendency to upset this "poor man's ski." Anyway, it ought to be fun to try, just for the sake of "being different."

City Commission Acts As Own Equalization Board In Valuations

Rather than to appoint some other group of citizens to take on what they termed to be the "tremendous, thankless and unpopular job of raising tax valuations in Ranger," the Ranger City Commission decided to do the job themselves at a meeting held last Friday night and plunged Saturday afternoon into the monumental task of reviewing the 1957 tax roll.

Spokesmen for the City Commission said the City's finances were in such a state that they had no choice other than the one they are taking to raise valuations slightly to at least partly offset the City's loss of revenue that occurred when the City started taking water from the new lake, and to take care of other operational expenses that are necessary to run the City.

Elementary Grades Register Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the day when all the elementary school children in Ranger assemble for registration at their respective school buildings, and also the day for seventh and eighth graders to register in Junior High School.

Registration for all students will begin at Hodges Oak Park and Young school, as well as Junior High School at 8:00 a. m., with but one exception. Eighth graders are not to report for registration until 10:00 a. m. at Junior High. Eighth Grade pupils and their parents are asked to please note this 10:00 a. m. reporting time, the purpose being to let the seventh graders get through with their registration and out of the way before the Eighth Graders arrive.

Registration was taking place today in Senior High School with Freshmen reporting at 8:00 a. m., Sophomores at 10:00 a. m., Juniors at 1:00 p. m., and Seniors at 2:30 p. m.

High School Principal Charlie Garrett said today that a complete tribulation had not been made of every registration in Senior High School but he estimated there would be around 200. He said there would be some, of course, who could not register today, and would have to be registered when school starts next Tuesday.

The Band Marching School and musical rehearsals have been going on all this week, as has football practice which started Monday.

Ranger Men Fly And Drive To Austin for Meet

Ranger delegates joining others from Eastland for a meeting with the Highway Department in connection with the strip of road from one Cedar Crossing to Lake Leon Jan. 1, both flow and drove to Austin for the meet.

R. V. Galloway and A. Larson drove to Austin Wednesday, and have picked up C. B. Frost flow down Thursday morning. Morris George, who was in Houston on a business trip, flew from Houston to Austin this morning to join the group at 9:30 a. m., when the meeting was scheduled.

Purpose of the meet is to have the State Highway Department take over the strip of road in question as a part of the Farm-Market System, then hard-surface it and maintain it.

Oil Well Fire Causes Heavy Damage Tuesday

Several volunteer firemen from Eastland and Ranger brought a raging oil well fire under control near here Tuesday after an hour long fight.

Damage to the well was estimated at $2000 by John Earnst, foreman on the job. The well, the No. 3 M. L. Daniel and Wyatt, is located 1-1/2 miles north of Morton Valley.

The burning well caught fire at about 10 a. m. Tuesday. Cause of the blaze was not determined. Owners of the well included volunteer firemen from the two cities for their efforts.

Ranger looked like old times again Thursday morning as school students again took over the downtown streets and they will continue to dominate the thoroughfare until the last diploma is passed out next May 26.

Polio Shots... Well, Not Yet

Ranger school kids worrying about that third round of polio shots coming up soon can relax for a little while, at least.

Dr. A. W. Brazda, City Health Officer, said the shots were not really due until October, and it would probably be that time before they were given.

This will be the third and last round for most of the students, although only the second for some, and perhaps the first for a few.

Costly School Buildings Limit Classrooms

Palatial public schools, built or building in many American communities, will not provide enough classrooms for students nor adequate pay for teachers and are creating an intolerable tax burden, writes Holman Harvey in a September Reader's Digest article, "Do School Pupils Need Costly Palaces?"

Harvey says if the trend toward dream palaces for public schools is not reversed, the country will not make up its shortage of 200,000 classrooms, and school districts will go deeper into debt.

"A school board in the far west," he writes, "recently put up a high school containing a $750,000 gymnasium with bleacher seats from which 3000 spectators might watch the basketball games. In the Middle West a $300,000 auditorium was built into a new high school. At the same time, grade school children in both communities were limited to half-day schooling. Money spent on the splendid gym would have built some 30 new classrooms; that spent on the auditorium, 12 classrooms.

Teen Towners Thank Carl Page For Plumbing

By GAY DASKEVICH

Teen Town members wish to express their appreciation and thanks to Mr. Carl Page for installing the water fountain at Teen Town. Mr. Page installed the fountain quite some time ago but it has just recently come to our attention. We want Mr. Page to know that we really appreciated it, no matter how long ago it has been.

We also want to thank David Fickrell II for mowing the lawn at Teen Town.

With the fall and winter season just about here, Teen Town will soon be back to the regular nights of Thursday, Friday and Saturday instead of Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. But, with football season just around the corner, and everyone so enthused over it, we can't very well open Teen Town on Friday nights. So, on the nights that the football games are played here, Teen Town will open after the game. However, when the games are played away from here, Teen Town won't be open at all. Watch the Times for more complete details.

Electronics No Great Help To Weatherman

AUSTIN.—Even with modern electronic computers, the weatherman cannot accurately forecast day-by-day variations in the weather more than one week in advance, University of Texas Meteorologist K. H. Jehn says.

"Many persons tend to believe that the computer is the final achievement in weather forecasting. They think that present weather conditions can be fed into the computer, which will then produce a perfect forecast. That is not the case, however. Computers may answer certain problems faster, but they are not necessarily more accurate than man," Jehn says.

Explaining just what the public may expect from professional meteorologists, Jehn says that detailed weather forecasts are possible for two or three days in advance, but the reliability of the prediction decreases progressively after the first day.

Individuals or organizations sometimes publish forecasts for conditions more than one month in advance, but they are misleading the public if they do not clearly describe the forecasts as experimental and of unproved value, he added.

Weathermen now have a hard time pinpointing tornadoes and other severe local storms. Such forecasts usually cover a much wider range in both time and space than is actually affected by a particular storm. Current research with electronics equipment is encouraging, however, Jehn says. Such research points toward improvement in weather bureau facilities for alerting the public to impending tornadoes and thus saving lives and property.

How Savings Bonds helped his ship come in—twice!

Ulysses K had adopted America with the fervor of a lover of liberty.

And one of the big dreams of his life was a trip back to his native Greece to tell his friends of the wonders of this country.

He had a plan to make that dream come true, too. Like more than 40,000,000 other Americans he saved for his goal through U. S. Savings Bonds.

When he had enough, he arranged his passage to Greece and set off for a New York bank to cash his Bonds.

He arrived but the Bonds didn't.

Somewhere on the way, he'd lost them and to further complicate matters, his ship sailed in 72 hours.

He told this story to a bank official who got in touch with the Treasury Department. Records were checked and Ulysses received his money in time to sail on schedule.

And he sailed with another story of the wonders of America for his friends. Naturally, when he returned, he became an even bigger Bond buyer than before.

This true story illustrates the indestructibility of U. S. Savings Bonds. Any of your Bonds that are lost, stolen or destroyed will be replaced without charge by the U. S. Treasury. That's why Bonds are said to be "safer than cash."

And now "safer than cash" Savings Bonds are better than ever. Every Series E Savings Bond purchased since February 1, 1957, pays 3.4% interest when held to maturity. It pays higher interest, too, in earlier years and matures in only 8 years, 11 months.

Now more than ever it's smart to save with guaranteed-safe U. S. Savings Bonds. Buy them regularly where you bank or through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Part of every American's savings belongs in U. S. Savings Bonds

Decision On Abolishing Smaller Precincts Due

The touchy question of abolishing some voting precincts in Eastland County came up again Monday morning at the regular meeting of the County Commissioners Court, and after a brief discussion the Court voted to hold a special meeting Friday afternoon at 3 to take some final action.

The delay in making and definite decision was made in order to give commissioners more time to check the reaction of citizens concerned.

In May of 1956 the County Court voted to hold a special meeting Friday afternoon at 3 to take some final action.

FOR ATHLETE'S FOOT USE T-4-L BECAUSE—

It sloughs off infected skin. Exposes more germs to its killing action.

IN ONE HOUR,

If not pleased, your 40c back at any drug store. Use STRONG, instant-drying T-4-L day or night. Now at Swaney's Pharmacy.

Democratic convention passed a resolution urging that precincts polling less than 29 votes during "the last general election" be abolished. When the issue came before the Commissioners Court commissioners decided to let the voters of the smaller precincts decide for themselves whether or not to do away with their precincts. They did. None of the precincts were abolished.

Under the 29 vote ruling, nine of the 25 precincts in the county would have been abolished. Alameda, Scranton, Nimrod, Dohman, Romney, Pleasant Hill, Staff and Cook would fall under the rule. The Court Monday seemed to be working on a new idea. Precincts which are not close to another precinct are more needed than others, they seemed to agree.

The question is touchy, of course, since the smaller precincts do not want to abolish themselves. The commissioners and county judge are elected by these citizens, it must be remembered.

Many people do not understand that in primary elections it is not the county which pays the cost of the elections, it is the candidates. For instance, during the 1956 election it cost $67.50 just to run for constable, a job that paid $900 a year, at that time. And to run for district judge the cost is much more, $675 the last time around.

James West, Morton Valley boy, has a nice Holstein heifer that he is training to lead. He plans to enter her in the dairy division of the annual Eastland County Livestock show at Eastland next spring. James recently made his 4-H Club camp and reports a fine time. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. West.

Our thanks again to Floyd and Mrs. McBee, Mangum Community who again cooked for the group at the recent Lake Cisco Club Camp. Their son George, an all time 4-H Club boy great, is now an Agronomist with the Texas Agric. Experiment Station in the Valley. The McBees report that George and his wife and daughter, are expected in for a visit the last of the month.

County 4-H boys took several honors and won a flock of ribbons at the Lake Cisco Camp. They got 2nd place in senior baseball, 3rd in Junior baseball, 3rd in horse shoe pitching and first in washer pitching. They got both 2nd and 3rd in the Tug Of War contest.

Warnie Kanady, President of the Nimrod 4-H Club, recently had two dairy animals at the club meeting. On the lawn in front of the club house he pointed out to the members the good and bad points of the animals. Warnie was a member of the Eastland County Dairy Judging Team that won district honors in April and tried for state honors in June. He along with Harold Reese and Jimmy Johnson, Scranton were awarded a fishing trip to Pecosm Kingdom. They report the coots raided not only their camp for cookies and light bread that night but also pulled their sack with their fish in it up out of the water and ate the fish, cutting holes through the tow sack to get the fish out.

Bob Griffin, Poultry Husbandman, A&M, was in the county recently to visit some of the club members with Kincaid turkeys. Bob will give the club members a good write up in the "Turkey World" that will be read by turkey growers from coast to coast. Entries for the turkeys for the Junior Market Show held at the State Fair in Dallas are due in by the last of the month. They are being prepared. The 3 hens and 3 toms of each club member with both Kincaid and Sears turkeys will be selected next month.

STALK STOCKINGS—Making the switch from a shapely leg to a stalk of grain, an old nylon stocking is stapled over a head of hybrid milo at an experimental nursery of the seed division of the Missouri Farmers Association at Marshall. The nylon prevents the pollen from escaping, yet is thin enough to permit penetration by sun and air. Stapler is Max Thomas.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

One of the richest men in America many years ago built a mansion in Port Arthur, when the future city was little more than a village, but never occupied the palatial home; his wife even declined to set foot in it.

This has always been an intriguing mystery—but to this chronicler in 1945 George M. Craig, Port Arthur bank president, explained it in one word:

Mosquitoes!

In 1899, Arthur Stillwell, builder of the Kansas City Southern Railway, brought a group of millionaires to the new town, which bore his name and which he had founded as the terminus of his railroad. In the group were John W. (Bet-A-Million) Gates, Isaac Elwood, inventor and manufacturer of barbed wire, and James Hopkins, vice president of the Diamond Match Company.

Craig then manager of the Port Arthur Land & Townsite Company, sold lots to Gates and Elwood, who built winter homes side by side, at a cost of many thousands of dollars. After the Elwood mansion had been completed, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood arrived in Port Arthur aboard Gates' private railway car and they were met at the station by Craig and in his survey they set out for the new mansion home.

Port Arthur had no paved streets, the mud was deep and at times mosquitoes were so bad that sulphur smudges were kept burning in the stores. This was one of the times. So Craig handed his guest mosquito nets to wear over their faces on the drive but Mrs. Elwood did not fit the net down well and the insects bit her until her face bore numerous welts.

When the group reached the new home, Mrs. Elwood made no move to get out of the surrey. Her husband asked, "Do you want to go in?" She turned and, with a wan smile, replied, "No, I think that place we have in Florida is good enough for me."

So Craig turned the carriage around and they returned to Gates' private car. Upon alighting from the surrey, Elwood asked the group, "How much am I offered for my Port Arthur home?" Someone humorously started the bidding at $100; someone else raised it to $100 and the price went up until Hopkins bid $10,000. "Sold!" cried Elwood.

The new owner suggested that Craig and his family occupy the home, rent free, and the offer was accepted. Several times, Craig asked Hopkins to name a price for the property but he parried the requests. On one visit, Hopkins and his family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Craig for a week. Mosquitoes again were bad and so the ladies remained indoors while Hopkins, Gates and Craig went duck hunting. Craig tried again:

"Uncle Jimmy"—(the affectionate way his younger friends addressed Hopkins)—"Will you trade your house for Texas Company stock with a par value of $10,000?"

This was in the early days of the Texas Company but the stock was worth about $12,000. The match magnate showed interest but suggested they wait until he could talk the matter over with his family. Next morning he called at Craig's desk in the bank and accepted the offer.

An interesting sidelight is that if Craig had retained the Texas Company stock and had exercised the rights a stockholder had to acquire additional stock as the company expanded, his holdings
