John Kasper is a self-styled Yankee rattle-rouser who has been wandering around in Tennessee since this time last year stirring up all the trouble he could stir in the school integration disputes.

Kasper had been out of jail on bond for months pending appeal on a couple of convictions that were handed him in a Knoxville district court last year as a result of some of his activities around Clinton High.

Then this past week he got into it up to his neck again on account of integration disorders at Nashville in which he was taking a prominent and leading role. He was arrested and charged with vagrancy, loitering, disorderly conduct and offensive conduct for which he was fined $50 on each charge, plus costs.

At first Kasper refused to be tried, telling the judge his rights were being violated, but hizzoner couldn't see it that way and when he handed down the fines he said to Kasper:

"I wish I had the authority to have you picked up by the seat of your pants and the nape of your neck and tossed bodily out of Tennessee."

That was a happy thought on the part of the judge but the hour when lightning may strike in our own communities.

It is just such fellows as John Kasper that are fomenting all the trouble everywhere about a question that is extremely delicate at the very best, and as long as they are allowed to remain at large, tremendous hardships are going to be experienced by both sides. Believe you, in the great social question that is confronting this country today, there is no place for rattle-rousters.

We read about the integration problems in other states and never stop to think that they are getting closer to home by the minute and we never know the day nor the hour when lightning may strike in our own communities.

We are indeed sorry for members of the Dallas School Board who have been ordered to integrate their 106,000 children by Christmas. If there ever was a group of men who needed all the wisdom of a hundred Solomons it is the members of the School Board at Dallas.

On the one hand they are confronted with a state law which says, there shall be no integration of schools unless it is first passed by a majority vote of all the people in the school district.

Now, certainly, that is according to the Constitution isn't it? Doesn't the Constitution guarantee that the will of (Continued On Page Four)

Ranger "B" Team to Play Mineral Wells "B's" Here Tonight

The Ranger High School "B" Team, which will be the front line Bulldogs next year, will play the Mineral Wells "B" Team in a full length tilt tonight, Saturday, at Bulldog Stadium beginning at 7:30, and everybody in town is invited to come out and see the scrap.

Coach Boone Yarborough says the "B's" are "plenty good" and he's proud of them. They have been giving the "A" team a run for their money in the daily scrimmage sessions, and Yarborough says every youngster on the squad is showing the fight and spirit that it takes to make a football player.

Yarborough said there would be a small charge for the game, he didn't know what, but they had to get enough money out of it to pay the referees.

Coach Yarborough said he intended to play every able-bodied man on the bench before the night was over, but his starting lineup would probably be as follows:

LE Jimmy Burnett
LT Earnest Stephens
LG Tommy Robinson
C Ronnie Daskevich
RG Chuck Garrett
RT Jimmy Robinson
RE Edward Mendez
QB Charles White
LH Bert Young
FB Richard Robie
RH John Perkins

Coach Yarborough said it took a boy who really wanted to play football to be a "B" team player because there was a lot of hard work connected with it and practically no glory at all. The "B's" are rarely always used behind the scenes to be guinea pigs in a scrimmage mates for the A Team, and a boy willing to go through (Continued On Page Four)

Rams Rip Ranger 38 - 14

Couldn't Overcome Weight Advantage

Game At A Glance		By NORMAN WRIGHT
Ranger	M. Wells	If the Ranger High School Bulldogs got trampled on 38-14 by the Mineral Wells Friday night they were not alone on the mountaineer's bench because every other team in District 7-AA with the exception of Coleman also bit the dust and Ranger was the only one in the bunch playing a AAA outfit. The others were all playing around with ball clubs their own size.
16	First Downs	12	But even if the Bulldogs did take a licking over in the resort city they proved one thing—that they can move the football. Flung against a team that literally stacked up man for man and pound for pound with Southwest Conference eleven as far as weight goes, the Bulldogs made more first downs, 16 to 12, than the Mountaineers did and came within 64 yards of gaining as much total ground.
227	Rushing Yds.	312	But the Mountaineers got 35
50	Passing Yds.	29	yards to 14 for the Bulldogs and
5 of 18	Passes Comp.	3 of 7	somebody passed a crazy rule once that whichever side got the most of those things won the ball game.
0	Passes Intercepted by	1	Too Much Weight
1 for 39	Penalties, Yds.	3 for 34	The Bulldogs never could overcome the big weight advantage and the ponderous Rams simply wore them out. Paul Hinds, Ranger's great quarterback of last year, said in the press box, "you can't imagine what it is going four full quarters against a gang of boys that size with them starting at you every 15 or 20 seconds. It will wear you down to a nub just totting them around."
0	Fumbles Lost	0	But even so, the Bulldogs never seemed to slow down for a moment and another comment heard in the press box, this one from the Mineral Wells public address announcer, was, "I've seen them play for the past four years and I don't care if Ranger is behind 100 to nothing, those Bulldogs are going to stand up and fight you 'til the last shot is fired."

Famed Pony to Arrive In Ranger Wednesday

The now-famous pony "Reindeer," which is traveling across country in its own colorful trailer and being pulled from town to town by Lions Clubs across the nation to join its little blind mistress at Fort Bliss in El Paso, is due to arrive in Ranger at 2:50 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 18.

The pony is being pulled here by a delegation of Weatherford Lions who will be met by members of the Ranger Lions Club in front of the Gholson Hotel, and Ranger Lions will take the pony and trailer on to Abilene where Lions of that city will care for it overnight and start it on the next leg of its long Journey Thursday morning.

The pony left Frederick, Md., on Sept. 10 and is due to arrive in El Paso at 1 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 21.

The story of "Reindeer" all started last March when the Lions Club of Frederick, Md., became interested in a little blind girl named Danilea Diette, daughter of Sgt. Daniel Diette who was with the Army and stationed near Frederick.

The little 12-year-old girl could not ride bicycles and play like other children, and she had her heart set on a pony that could ride around the neighborhood and act as her eyes at the same time. The Frederick Lions sponsored her on the CBS "Strike It Rich" television program and she won the pony which she named "Reindeer."

Since that time the little girl's life had been filled with happiness with her new companion, but tragedy struck when her father was transferred to Fort Bliss, Texas. With freight costs so high, the family didn't have the money to ship Reindeer all the way across the United States and the pony was put up for sale. To put it mildly, the little girl's heart was breaking.

Lions Step In Again
At this point the Frederick Lions Club stepped in again and vowed to get the pony to Fort Bliss one way or another. They bought a trailer for the pony, loaded it down with feed, and organized the "Lions Club Pony Express." The Frederick Club arranged with 14 Lions Clubs all across the nation to pull the pony in 50 to 75 mile jumps from Maryland to Fort Bliss and an elaborate log was prepared and hundreds of Lions contacted in order to carry out the project.

Before leaving Maryland the pony was given every sort of vaccination against every disease, and every Lions Club enroute that will handle the pony has been furnished with a monographed sheet on the "Feed and Care of Reindeer While in Transit."

Invited To See It
The pony will probably not be taken from its trailer in Ranger, since it is due to be taken out for the night in Abilene. But everybody is invited to be at 1 h o'clock on Wednesday and take a look at the pony which is traveling so far, in such a novel way, to join its little blind mistress who is anxiously awaiting it at Fort Bliss, Texas.

DR. A. W. BRAZDA receives recognition

Ranger Doctor Listed In Three Biographies

Dr. Adolph William Brazda of Ranger, has been listed in the new publication "Who's Who in Texas," of which Vol. 1 for 1957-58 has just been released by the publisher.

This brings to three the number of outstanding biographical publications in which Dr. Brazda has been listed, the other two being "World Biography" and "Who's Important in Medicine."

The new Texas publication describes itself as "A Biographical Dictionary of Notable Men and Women in Texas." In its preface the book states that it contains the names of hundreds of persons in official positions and other high places such as in the civil, military, religious and educational fields, "as one might expect to find in such a book," and then it states further that it contains the names of many other people whose works are better known than themselves outside of their own communities.

Ranger Women Escape Serious Wreck Injury

Two Ranger women escaped serious injury on Highway 80 in front of Wheat's Welding Shop in Ranger, about 5:30 p.m. Thursday when the 1950 Chevrolet in which they were riding apparently went out of control and crashed into a light pole, knocked over two mail boxes, uprooted a gas meter and turned over several times before coming to a stop 93 feet away from the point where the breaks were first applied.

Mrs. Donald Ray Wells was driving the car towards town when the accident occurred and Miss Nancy Graham was in the front seat with her, according to investigating officer Barney Wheat.

Mrs. Wells was only slightly injured, but Miss Graham was carried in a Killingsworth ambulance to West Texas Clinic where she remained unconscious for about three hours, according to Dr. P. M. Kuykendall. Dr. Kuykendall said she also had a cut place on the back of her head but it was not big enough to require stitches.

The doctor said she suffered no shock of any kind and he expected to release her Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Leola Crabb, a nurse for West Texas Clinic, said she happened to be at her home at the time of the accident and saw the car hit the telephone pole, throwing Miss Graham through the air for 25 or 30 feet before she landed on her face on the pavement.

Finis Wheat said the impact was so terrific the vibration knocked his master electric switch loose, disconnecting his electricity. Sound of the crash was heard six blocks away.

The car was almost a total loss and its occupants were fortunate to come out alive. The only casualty was a black cat that was hiding in the tall grass in the ditch. The cat was killed when the car apparently rolled over it.

After completing a careful and painstaking 15-day study of tax values on the City of Ranger tax rolls, members of the City Commission, acting as a Board of Equalization, have placed new valuations on much of the property and are now asking that all property owners either go by the City Hall or telephone City Hall and ask if the evaluation of their property has been changed and if so, how much.

The Commissioners also ask property owners to give their o. k. to the new valuations if they think the increases are fair and just and equitable so that their part of the tax rolls can be considered closed.

If there are property owners who feel that they have not been dealt with fairly, the Commissioners want to know so that arrangements can be made to discuss the matter with them further at one of the regular sessions of the Board of Equalization.

State statutes require that there be a lapse of ten days between the time that Equalization Boards complete their review of tax rolls, and their sessions with property owners who wish to appear before them.

The Commission therefore requests that all citizens check their new property evaluations within the next few days and either give them an o. k. or make their request for a hearing. Citizens who are not heard from at all either way will be considered as having o.k.'d their new evaluations, according to Mayor W. F. Creager.

It is essential that all hearings and everything else be got over with before the end of the month because the new tax statements are supposed to go out on October (Continued on Page Four)

Played Hard Defense
In the defensive department, every Bulldog on the squad showed himself with glory in stopping those rambling mountaineers when they came charging through like so many run-away tanks. Sometimes they would get drug for 15 or 20 yards before they were downed (Continued on Page Four)

David Wharton, Jerry Underwood and Jake Basham were the big guns in the Bulldogs backfield. Wharton and Basham played their usual brilliant game, although they didn't run wild like they did against Merkel. And Underwood showed up like a comet in a storm cloud. There were many observers who thought he was by far the toughest man on the field Friday night, and every time quarterback Lee King called on him to carry the ball he flat delivered the mail.

At 11:00 a.m. Friday 13, the first assembly was held in the auditorium of Ranger College.

This was followed by the invocation given by Dr. Price Ashton. After several announcements, the faculty members were introduced to the student body by Jackie Davis.

Since Coach Barrett and Mr. Allsup had not been abiding by the rules of the freshmen initiation (it's their first year at Ranger College) they were given their freshmen hats and instructed to wear them. Coach Hestand then introduced the football squad and gave a pep talk about the Ranger-

Paris game Saturday. A rousing pep rally followed. The assembly was concluded with the singing of the school song.

New '58 Mercury Outboards High In Horsepower

Three completely new motors, the widest choice of power in industry history, the highest horsepower in outboards, greater fuel economy, greater quietness, new styling, new colors and major new engineering, performance and safety advancements are highlights of the Mercury outboard motor line for 1958, according to L. E. Black and Raymon Bryan, owners of Ranger Boat Shop and Mercury distributors for this area.

Lead model in the new line announced by the Kiekhaefer Corporation of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, is the all-new Mercury Mark 78, a six cylinder outboard with 66 cubic inches displacement. The most powerful outboard for 1958, its introduction further extends Kiekhaefer leadership in range of horsepower and is the company's second engine in the over-50 horsepower class.

The four cylinder Mark 58 with 44 cubic inches displacement and the two cylinder Mark 28 with 22 inches displacement are also entirely new engines added to the line as Mercury for the second year has the widest choice of power in the industry. There are nine basic models in the 1958 line. In addition to the three models added, the line includes the 6 horsepower Mark 6, 10 hp Mark 10, 20 hp Mark 25, 30 hp Mark 30, 40 hp Mark 55 and 60 hp Mark 75.

The Mark 78 and 75 are electric starting models. Electric starting is optional on four other models—the 20, 30, 40 hp motors and new Mark 58. A new generator with 50 percent greater output for increased electrical accessory demand is standard on all electric models except the Mark 25.

All the new models have the in-line design which Mercury, now in its 18th year, has consistently developed in twin, four and six cylinder in-line outboards.

Both the Mark 78 and 58 along with the Mark 75 and 55 are available with long shafts for 20 inch boat transoms; wider and longer forged aluminum clamp brackets for the new thicker transoms; and a full reversing powerhead using the single lever throttle and motion control. The single lever combines starting, speed, and forward-reverse which simplifies remote control of dual motor installations since now there are only two levers (one for each engine) instead of the usual four.

Increased horsepower ratings of the new motors were not disclosed by the company as well as a number of engineering advances which brand-new to outboarding and which represent important contributions to motor performance and safety.

The Mark 78 will be the industry's leader in providing the most horsepower per cubic inch, horsepower per pound and horsepower per dollar. Along with the Mark 75, the Mark 78 will be available with a choice of propellers so that a buyer can choose the propeller that best fits the use to which his boat will be put. The built-in slowness of the Mark 78 permits twin engine installations with only 16 inches between propeller centers requiring only a 34 inch transom notch cutout for a dual installation.

The Mark 58 is the newest four cylinder outboard to be developed by the company in its 10 years of experience with the four-cylinder design. It incorporates the special Kiekhaefer "Economy" fuel economy device which promises to make this engine the most economical of any outboard in 1958 by providing up to 60 percent more miles per gallon when the engine is throttled back to cruising speed.

The 22 cubic inch Mark 28 will have an automatic transmission, making it the first outboard over 50 horsepower to incorporate this Kiekhaefer engineering advance, which makes possible one hand shift and speed control for the owner in the twist-grip steering handle. The motor has the "look of motion" styling and the new slanted design which proved so successful on the Mark 10 this last year. The Mark 28 uses the new propeller hub exhaust outlet which buries exhaust gases and noise well aft of boat in the propeller slipstream. The front of the motor has been sealed and the air intake relocated at the back of the cowling to muffle noise. This new Mark 28 will trail as low as one mile per hour yet has sufficient horsepower and speed for use as a ski tow motor. It also features the one hand control.

Increased horsepower ratings of the new motors were not disclosed by the company as well as a number of engineering advances which

What's Cooking—

(Continued from Page 1) the majority shall prevail? Isn't that the way this country is governed? But the Supreme Court of the United States says that in this case the constitution itself is unconstitutional. How mixed up can they get. For Heaven's sake? The Supreme Court says the will of the majority has nothing to do with it so far as integrating schools is concerned.

Look at it another way. Suppose there was a law in the United States which prescribed that all schools be integrated, which there isn't. Congress has never enacted a law prescribing integration. But suppose there was such a law. There is also a law in this country declaring the sale of liquor to be legal all over the country, but from a local standpoint, the majority still rules and if the majority in a Community says no liquor, there is no liquor despite the law.

If Dallas goes ahead and integrates as prescribed by the Supreme Court, its schools lose all accreditation and about $1,500,000 a year in state aid, according to the new Texas law.

Another problem is, the Dallas schools are so crowded the only way they can let Negro children into the white schools is to kick the white children out, and they have no place to kick them.

The white children of Dallas moved out of one of the biggest and finest school buildings in Dallas last year and turned it over to the Negroes, completely, as it set. But that was not enough, apparently.

The government of this country should be ashamed of itself to put any civilized community in such a predicament.

Commission—

Mayor Creager said that by and large the new evaluations are very, very low. The city is not trying to make any money or get a bank balance, he said. It just wants barely enough to operate and get by on and pay its bills and its bonds.

The Mayor said that as far as the big overall picture was concerned, the average raise in evaluations for the city as a whole was from $200 to $300. A $200 raise in evaluation would mean an annual tax increase of only $5, the mayor said.

Mayor Creager did say that there were some pieces of property that were increased considerably more than this with an accent on "considerable." He said, though, the evaluations were still heavy in favor of the property owners who were given every benefit of all doubts.

In an economy move put into effect last week, members of the Commission voted to abolish their own salaries amounting to from $40 to $50 a month each for the rest of their term of office, and four city employees were discharged, effecting a total economy of $12,576 a year.

If all property owners will check their new evaluations within the next two or three days, and either ask them or request a hearing, it will be greatly appreciated by the City Commission and those responsible for getting out the tax statements by October 1st, Mayor Creager said. It was emphasized again that if citizens did not speak up either way, it would be taken for granted their new evaluations were satisfactory and they would be billed accordingly.

Check Heating Equipment Now, Conn Advises

Now is the time for homeowners to have their gas heating equipment inspected and adjusted for winter use, it was pointed out today by Louis Conn, Lone Star Gas Company manager. He urged people not to depend on the first cold day to remind them to call for such service.

"Heating service companies and Lone Star," he said, "receive hundreds of calls for service within a period of a few hours on the day cold weather makes its first appearance. This means a considerable delay in filling many individual service orders."

He suggested that users of gas floor furnaces, wall heaters, unit heaters, central heating plants and other gas heating equipment arrange now to have them inspected and adjusted by calling their heating equipment company or Lone Star Gas Company.

"In this way," he added, "the comfort of the entire family will be assured during the cold weather that is sure to come. And the homeowner will have this important service completed and out of the way."

View mirrors were contained in a wooden box that at one time had a lid and a lock on it. The box was size, expensive hub caps and perovesees having a return address of APO 208 N.Y., N.Y., and was addressed to Mrs. E. F. Arterburn, Box 139, Ranger, Texas, U.S.A.

Police said the discovery partially accounted for a wave of hub cap thefts that had been reported recently, but no clue as to the identity of the thief had been found at press time Saturday.

VISITS IN RANGER

Mr. and Mrs. Ven White and daughter, Ren, are visiting Mrs. Ella White.

Wharton, Wolford, Jowers, Busham, Wilson, Hutchins, King, Anderson, Yarbrough, Vead—all were names that were repeated over and over as being in on the tackles, and with the exception of two or three long break-away runs that accounted for Mountaineer scores, it was a much closer game than the final results would indicate.

The Mountaineers drew first blood when Ranger, standing on the 25 yard line in punt formation, got a bad pass from center and fumbled the ball. Minerals Wells took over on Ranger's 8 and it was a simple matter for tailback Crockett Grimes to slide off of left end for a touchdown. Bob Watson missed the extra point and the score was 6-0.

The Bulldogs went ahead on the following kickoff, however. Taking the ball on their own 25, the Bulldogs put on a sustained march, highlighted by one 32 yard scamper by Wharton, and scored before ever giving up the ball. Wharton made the final 9 yards around left end. Wolford converted, making it 6-7 as the first quarter ended.

The Mountaineers scored again early in the second quarter when they had fourth down and five to go at midfield. With Ranger looking for a punt, tailback Jackie Ingle set sail for home and made 32 yards before Hutchins brought him down. A pass, Ingle to wingback Charles Pratt, was good for 14 yards and the score. Watson missed the point again, making the score 12-7.

Late in the second half, Crockett Grimes made the most sensational run of the night when he went squarely through the middle of the line, picked up his blockers and ran 43 yards for the Mountaineer's third touchdown. Watson kicked the extra point and the half ended 19-7.

Wingback Pratt practically duplicated this performance at the opening of the third quarter when he took the ball on the first play after Ranger's kickoff and carried it 44 yards to the Bulldog 15. Fullback Bud Frazier went off left tackle for the next score and a n d Watson missed the point.

Bulldogs Score Again Following the Mountaineer's kickoff after this score, Ranger put on another one of its sustained drives starting on her own 26. The Daggies picked up three first downs getting to the 25 where Busham took off on one of his famous jaunts through the middle and was long gone for a score until he tripped and fell over Wolford, his own interference. However, he made it to the 5, and Wharton carried it over on the next play and Wolford kicked the point, making the score at that point 25-14.

Pratt went 19 yards for the Mountaineer's next score and Watson kicked, making the score 32-14, and tailback Jackie Ingle went over from the 4 for the final scoring of the night, leaving the count 38-14 about mid-way of the last quarter.

The Bulldogs kept possession of the ball mostly from there on, making a lot of first downs and a lot of yards but couldn't score.

It was a clean game from start to finish. Ranger didn't draw a penalty all night, while the Mountaineers were off-side 4 times and drew one 15-yard penalty for roughing the punter, but it was an unintentional rough, and Ranger was glad to get the first down.
