Bulldogs Seek Winning Streak Rangers to Open Pioneer Circuit

Many A Slip Possible Before Victory Over Rugged Jacksboro

Having won a game and lost a game the Ranger High School Bulldogs are going into their tilt with AA Jacksboro Friday night hoping they can touch off a winning streak that will stay with them for a week or two but there's many a slip between dreams and reality, the main one being at this time, beating Jacksboro.

Conches Harold Barrett and Drennon Daves have been working out the squad this week, with the same determination as if it were a state championship game coming up.

The Bulldogs should consider themselves extremely lucky if they come away from Jacksboro with any kind of a victory and all players still intact. Jacksboro has long been noted for having a tough ball club to beat when playing in their own class, and that will be the situation Friday night.

The Bulldogs have had many areas to work on this week in which they needed plenty of polishing. If Jacksboro was interested in scouting Ranger's passing game last week, they didn't see any. Ranger passed plenty of times but the Bulldogs didn't get anywhere with it.

However, in the passing department Ranger has a golden opportunity to deal somebody a lot of misery one of these nights if their air game ever starts to click. Lee King is a good passer and he throws some beauties at Mineral Wells—a lot of them that should have been caught. Even playing against the great Mountaineers with all their weight and speed, King had plenty of pass protection and never failed to get one off. He was even given plenty of time to spot his receivers.

Can Deal Passing Misery One of these nights the receivers will start receiving and somebody will run into a lot of misery from Bulldog passes. The Bulldogs also showed that even against Mineral Wells, they could gain yardage on the ground. They pulled off two sustained drives to score against the Rams, one from (Continued On Page Eight)

Members of the Teen Town Mothers Club are in desperate need this week to sell more Teen Booster Tickets for $1.00 each to help finance the enlarging project that is now in full swing.

Teen Town has already been featured in a full page write-up in the Abilene Reporter-News as being one of the finest youth centers in West Texas even before (Continued on Page Eight)

All in all, the Mothers are going to have to sell 1,000 tickets at $1.00 each, to make ends meet, but Rangers will have a Teen Town headquarters for its youth second to none in the State of Texas, and something for which

All Ranger is invited to one of the most impressive ceremonies held at Ranger College all year which is the Opening Assembly, to be held Friday morning in the new auditorium at 11 o'clock.

A most cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend, college students and members of the faculty look forward to having a packed auditorium.

Rangeanns To Stage Big Show

Not only do the Ranger College Rangeanns kick off their first home game of the season Saturday night at Building Stadium, but they launch the opening game of the entire Pioneer Conference as they take on the powerful Cameron Aggies from Lawton, Okla.

The school has gone all out to make this a conference opener befitting the biggest and best known circuit in Two-Year College circles anywhere in the U. S., as the Pioneer loop is the "Big Ten" as far as Junior Colleges are concerned.

To Welcome New Member The game in Ranger will also welcome into the conference its newest member as the Cameron Aggies have been admitted for the first time this year.

After a game with Paris Junior College last Saturday night which the Rangers lost 20-0, they have spent a week going over their mistakes and they are fully confident that they have a winning ball club. The Rangers are packed with talent this year, and they can be expected to have a good season even if they don't win any championships.

Rangeanns to Perform The colorful Rangeanns of Ranger College have also spent a week of intensive drilling for their half-time show Saturday night and they're going to put on an act entitled "Satan's Holiday," or some such, that is a brand new drill and they will be accompanied as usual by the Ranger College Stage Band.

Although this is Cameron's first season in the Pioneer Loop, they are already prime favorites to win the crown. The Oklahomans have a tremendously large school at Lawton, and they stopped Cisco last week 39-0 in the season opener for both clubs. It was another (Continued on Page 8)

Lions Club two-thirds across the nation from Frederick, Md., to El Paso, and is due to arrive at Fort Bliss at 1 p.m. Saturday.

One of the most amazing things about the pony's trip is that it left Frederick at 8 a.m. Monday, Sept. 9, and has been right on schedule at every stop, and it had been handled by some 35 Lions Clubs by the time it had reached Ranger.

As a matter of fact, it reached Ranger 40 minutes ahead of time, having been brought here by Weatherford Lions. Ranger Lions had been notified to meet the Weatherford crowd in front of the Gholson at 2:30, and the Parker County Club arrived with the pony at 1:50. As a result there was nobody on hand to welcome them, and Lions had to be rounded up in a hurry.

Ranger Lions were also ahead of schedule arriving in Abilene. They were due downtown at 4:30 and were sitting on the outskirts of the city ready to drive in at 2:00 o'clock. While the Lions drank coffee at the Thunderbird Lodge outside of town, a motorcycle escort alerted the Abilene police department who, in turn, rousted out the Abilene Lions.

Lion President M. E. Jolly, accompanied by R. V. Galloway, O. C. Warden, Norman Wright and the horse, were met in front of the Paramount Theatre by Abilene's Mayor Jesse F. "T-Bone" Winters, Walter Posey Jr., president of the Abilene Lions Club, all sorts of other assorted Lions, plenty of by-standers and on-looking curiosity seekers acting like (Continued on Page Eight)

Board of Equalization To Start Hearings Saturday

The City Commissioners, sitting as a Board of Equalization, will begin their hearings on the new property valuations promptly at 1:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the City Hall.

Every property owner in Ranger who is not satisfied with the new valuation placed on his property by the Board of Equalization is invited to appear before it and his objections will be heard and his case reviewed, and if any inequities are found they will be adjusted.

Major W. F. Creager said there had been quite a number of property owners indicating that they wished to appear before the Board, and that it would be impossible, perhaps, to hear all of them Saturday. In that event, meetings will be resumed Monday night, the Mayor said, and continued each right until all were heard from.

"Everybody will be given a chance to speak," the Mayor said. "It has been learned by the Times that out of 1,600 separate evaluations on the tax rolls, the Board of Equalization found it necessary to re-evaluate only 492 out of that number. The Board found the other valuations to be in line with what it was striving to achieve—an evaluation of 25 per cent of what the property is worth today.

The Board found some cases where property was actually rendered for too high a figure. Some property was found to be valued at 80 per cent of what it is worth today. In those cases, the Board lowered the valuation to 25 per cent of what the property is worth today.

City Manager Lester Crossley has said that of the people calling City Hall to check their new valuations, about 90 per cent of those who had been given raises ok'd them without protest. He said that taken as a whole, the property that had been raised would average from $200 to $300 for each piece, although there were some pieces of property that it was (Continued on Page Eight)

FREE SATURDAY PARKING HERE HIT WITH RANGER SHOPPERS

Ranger Merchants again invite everybody from everywhere to do their shopping in Ranger over the weekend where there are no parking worries on Saturday. Shoppers in downtown Ranger are guests of the city each Saturday from now until Christmas and parking meters are covered up.

Shoppers for the past two Saturdays have expressed appreciation for the parking holiday as they have spent unhurried hours viewing the beautiful new fall merchandise with which Ranger stores are loaded this year. Merchants continue to offer scores of attractive buys for the week-end, and Ranger Food Stores are full of week-end grocery values.

Everyone is invited to meet their friends in Ranger for their week-end shopping headquarters where every store in town extends a hearty welcome, just to come in and look around.

FATHER BOESMANS ADDRESSES ROTARY Father C. Boesmans presented the program to the Ranger Rotary Club at its regular meeting Wednesday. He gave a picture of present day Belgium and how the country is solving its post war problems. Belgium is also preparing for the World Fair which will be held in Brussels in 1958.

Dr. A. W. Brazda, president, presided. Visitors were Pete Nance of Cisco and Ronald Burton of Eastland.

Editor's Note: This is the 19th in a series of articles taken from the book, "A History of Eastland County, Texas," written by Mrs. George Langston in 1904.)

Eastland City "There is a tide in the affairs of man," taken at the flood, leads on to fortune; We must take the current when it serves, Or lose our venture."—Shakespeare. Two young men in a land office in Dallas pondered over the truth contained in the quotation above as they again went over the map before them.

"We must take it, then, or else lose our venture." "The current serves" is a way, "or they won't put up buildings at Merriman, I am told," said one. "We must take it, then, or else lose our venture."

These young men, late of the University of Kentucky, had just brought from J. A. Speers the C. S. Betts survey, 320 acres, centrally located, and had conceived the idea of moving the County Town from Merriman, and locating it on their own land.

On their way to Mansker Lake to have District Clerk A. J. Stuart, who resided there, to record their deed, the younger met J. H. Ellison, to whom they disclosed their purpose. "It can never be done," he said. The adverse opinion of the old frontiersman did not daunt them. They located the southwest corner of the C. S. Betts survey, selected a slightly elevated spot of ground between the North and South forks of the Leon River, made a rough sketch, and staked out the public square of Eastland, (the name the Legislature had provided for the county town), January 15, 1875.

After having employed a Mr. Allen to cut logs for the cabin to be raised in May, the young men, Jack Daucherty and C. H. Connelley, returned to Dallas.

In May Mr. Connelley, accompanied by J. B. Amernman, who had become a member of the firm, returned. The survey of the town was completed, the log house put up where the La Rue Hotel (Mr. Greenfield Owner) now stands, and a frame store-house built on the lot now occupied by the Eastland County Bank, in which was put a stock of general merchandise. The goods and the lumber for the store were hauled in wagons from Dallas, the nearest wagon point, by way of Granbury and Stephenville, thence on the Fort Griffin military road by way of Desdemona and Merriman. From a point near where Uncle George Moss now lives, and where the Texas and Pacific Railroad crosses Cotton Creek, a (Continued On Page Eight)

City Manager Lester Crossley says hardly a minute has passed without the telephone ringing since the City Commission asked the citizens of Ranger to call City Hall and check on their new property valuations.

The City Manager says he has kept a fairly accurate check on those calling and it shows that fully 90 per cent of the people whose property valuations were increased have given their ok on the new assessments and have stated that they would offer no objections.

Such an overwhelming acceptance to the new valuations proves two or three different things unmistakably. One is that the City Commission has exercised care and caution in raising the valuations and that the property owners concerned think them to be fair and just.

Another thing the overwhelming acceptance shows is that the vast majority of Ranger citizens know and understand the predicament the city is in and they are ready and willing to do their fair share of whatever it takes to remedy the situation.

Another thing shown by the acceptance of 90 per cent of the people of the new valuations is that they were sold on the method chosen to arrive at the new assessments, and accepted the City Commissioners judgment in the matter without question.

We also think the best piece of work the City Commissioners did in the whole program was the way they laid their cards on the table face up at the very beginning and told the people the truth about everything. The story was got over to the people so that they understood the situation, and once being sold on it, they were sold from then on. It is axiomatic that any group of people, faced with a crisis, can always be depended upon to do the right thing if they are told the truth about their situation. We imagine the biggest majority of them were surprised to get out as light as they did.

There are a number of people who have indicated they wish to talk over their new valuations further with the Board of Equalization and that is good, too. They not only have the right to object if they think they have not been dealt with fairly, but it is their duty to object. The Commissioners might very well have made some mistakes, and certainly nobody, most of all the Commissioners, want to see any inequities on the (Continued on Page Eight)

Letters to the Editor...

Ranger, Texas
Sept. 17, 1957

Dear Sir:

Has the wording of our Constitution ever been changed since it was drawn up and signed by the original 38 signers? Have any of the constitutional amendments ever been altered since they were accepted and added to the Constitution? The answer is NO. In Article I, section 7 of the Constitution it says verbatim—"Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it becomes a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approves he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law." (end of quote).

Has the above mentioned procedure ever been carried out in regard to making desegregation in the South lawful? The answer is NO. The general conception of the duties of the Supreme Court is that their jurisdiction is confined to passing on the validity of laws, not to make laws. Then from the Constitutional wording, the Supreme Court has no right to make desegregation a law. No law has ever yet been passed in the South which says that a minor group has the right to force their society upon a major group when the major group is evidently none too happy about the matter.

The segregation question has been thrashed out on at least 7 occasions in the past prior to the

May 17, '54 conception of the present Court. Prior to the last ruling, the Court held segregation valid provided equal and separate facilities were maintained.

Who has changed, the Constitution or the Court? It is quite evident that the Court has changed conception. The majority had better wake up and start checking the Constitution or the old saying about "Beware of the camel who once gets his nose under the tent" will come to pass.

Yours respectfully,

The program was explained by Mrs. Thomas as being a buzz session among each school patron and teacher to express what the parent-

It was announced that the fifth and sixth grades would give the program at the next meeting. Also at this meeting delegates to the state Parent-Teacher Convention to be held in Galveston would be

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
By BOYCE HOUSE

A rancher most of his life, Ira G. Yates decided it would be a fine thing to become a merchant, so he traded 215 cows for a store in the West Texas village of Rankin, in Upton County. But, after 18 months of keeping books and selling flour and kerosene, he had a hankering for life in the open again, so he swapped the store, in 1915, for a ranch "across the Pecos."

Emigrant Crossing was used by westbound travelers and is said to have been on the route of wagons going to the California gold fields soon after 49. Horsehead Crossing was used by cattlemen and settlers. Pontoon Crossing apparently derived its name from military use; perhaps the soldiers used pontoons to get wagons across. S Crossing was said to have been named for a horse ranch nearby with the brand "SSS". Lancaster Crossing was near the fort of that name, a post in Indian days.

Old Spanish Crossing was below a dam that was built by Mexicans to provide water for irrigation to produce grain and vegetables for the troops at old Fort Stockton. A layer of brush was placed on the bottom of the stream and weighted down with rocks. Layer after layer was built and the chinks were soon filled with sand and silt. The dam was faced with rocks and it turned the water into the ditches.

When Yates acquired the ranch, a friend who had formerly been its owner, advised him, "Get rid of it at once," adding that he had lost money on the ranch himself. An acquaintance glibly, "Even the buffalo knew better than to cross the Pecos." Another joined in, "Why, a crow wouldn't fly over that land," and a third said, "It ain't worth the taxes."

But Yates ignored alike the well-meant counsel and the rough but friendly "joshing." A severe drought came and he followed 1916 and the two years that followed "tough going." But he stuck it out and even improved the place. Then in 1923 the Reagan County field was discovered "and we all got the oil fever," Yates related afterward.

The Pecos, however, was regarded as the deadline for the production of oil. It is true that, some years before this, small production had been found by shallow wells near Toyah in Pecos County. And in January, 1921, Fort Stockton, the county seat, was thrilled by a well (some 60 miles from the Yates ranch) that, from the amazing depth of only 96 feet, flowed several thousand barrels in less than 24 hours—then stopped. Other wells around the "Mystery Well" proved dry holes. For all practical purposes, therefore, the Pecos River had come to be considered the deadline for oil.

Much of the romantic and the historical was associated with that stream—frontier memories of cavalry, of ox wagons and of Indian arrows whizzing a song of death. The very names of the crossings kept alive the thoughts of a chance to breathe again. The town was in such a cramped position that it could not move up or down or sideways. It could not pay its bills and it couldn't borrow any more money and bills kept piling up and expenses kept going on, and we all know, as individuals, that such a predicament is a hard thing to be in.

Teen Town-

(Continued from Page One) the expansion program began, and visitors from all over the area are amazed at the facilities Ranger has provided for its youth.

Ranger citizens who have not bought tickets are asked to please contact any Teen Town mother, or Mrs. Dave Pickrell, and tickets will be made available. For that matter, any High School or Junior High School student will be happy to see that anyone gets a ticket who asks for one.

Ticket Drive Is On A campaign is on now to sell the tickets city-wide and any $1.00 purchase will be greatly appreciated by all those connected with Teen Town, and at the same time someone might possibly be the winner of one of the two $100 Bonds to be given away.

Pecans Are Possible Major County Crop

One of County Agent J. M. Cooper's main contentions every since he has been here is that the county should make pecans a more important crop. A statement made by The Dallas Morning News this week makes Cooper's arguments sound logical.

The News' said that, "The market for pecans has the capacity to absorb at least twice the present pecan production." At present, Eastland County is among the top five counties in the state in production of improved pecans. Latest records show the county produced 92,861 pounds of nuts in 1955.

with comparatively few native pecan trees, usually exceeds Texas in the production of nuts. Most of Georgia's pecan production comes from commercial orchards which produce some types of paper-shell pecans.

The fact that some 86 percent of Texas' pecan crop is of native hardshell varieties does not make Texas pecans any less desirable since more than 75 percent of all pecans are shelled before reaching the consumer, experts point out.

is ideal for planting pecans. He says the county could build up a profitable crop with some fast-sighted work.

Another advantage Eastland County growers have is the closeness of the U. S. Pecan Field Station in Brownwood. There on a 60-acre tract U. S. Agricultural horticulturists study proper orchard management practices.

Pecan experts recommend a five-way program for further growth of the industry: thinning the trees for proper spacing; spraying for insect and disease control; irrigating and fertilizing where needed; efficient grading and marketing; and developing groves of improved varieties.

Light Cotton Crop Is 1957 Forecast

The Crop Reporting Board has forecast a 1957 cotton crop of 11,897,000 bales—11 percent less than last year's crop of 13,310,000 bales and compares with the 1946-55 average of 13,669,000. An average loan rate of 28.81 cents a pound, basis Middling 7-8 inch, was also announced.

Handicapped by unfavorable early season weather, crops made an exceptionally good response to favorable late June and July weather. However, lateness of crop in northern areas of Central Belt, Oklahoma and Northwest Texas, which was only partially overcome, remains the limiting factor.

The expected yield per acre for the U. S. of 416 pounds per acre is only one pound less than the 1955 record high and compares with the 1946-55 average of 300 pounds. Record - high yields are expected in Georgia, Texas, Arizona and California with better than average yields in other states.

The average loan rate of 28.81 cents for middling upland cotton is an increase of 0.66 cents above the advance "minimum" rate announced last winter. This final rate reflects 78 percent parity price of 36.93 cents a pound for upland cotton as of August 1, 1957.

ATTENDS TEXAS TECH

Al Tunc left Wednesday for Lubbock where he will attend Texas Tech. This will be his last year.

PLEASE PHONE 224 and give us your news items. They will be of interest to others, and we always happy to hear from you.

Bulldogs-

(Continued from Page 1) their own 25 and another from the 26. If the Doggies should happen to get their passing and running game to both clicking the same night, they would be hard to beat by anybody.

If the Bulldogs can manage a win from Jackboro, next on the schedule are DeLeon, Dublin and Eastland, and it just might be possible to extend the winning streak a little further, anyway. If the Bulldogs can go up to the Eastland game undefeated from here on, there is no telling what might happen over in the county seat.

Following the Eastland game on October 11 comes an open date and then the conference schedule begins. The Ranger High School Band and a tremendous delegation of students, plan to leave Ranger Friday afternoon for the Jackboro game. Adult tickets are available at the school office for $1.25. They are reserve seats, between the 35 yard lines.

Board of-

(Continued From Page One) necessary to raise more than that. A $200 increase in valuation would amount to $5 a year in taxes. All of the money raised by the new valuations goes 100 per cent to the City of Ranger. Not one penny of it automatically goes to some other place. It is all to be used by the City of Ranger to pay its bonds and its operating expenses.

Citizens wishing to appear before the Board of Equalization are urged to do so at their earliest convenience as tax statements must go out by Oct. 1, and are now in the process of being prepared.

Rangers-

Lineman of Week Coaches Tom Hestand and Roy Barrett have nominated Wiley Wyman, 220-pound Ranger tackle from Austin, as the Lineman of the Week following his performance against Paris. This is Wyman's first year at Ranger College and he plays a rough game of tackle and is a standout on defense. "We expect to see a lot of this boy during the next two years," says Coach Barrett. "He is a brother of the Wyman Twins at the University of Texas."

Back of the Week Doug Jordan, 160-pound quarterback back from Rusk, was named by the coaches as "Back of the Week." Doug is a second year man at the college and he runs the team like a veteran. He runs with the ball and also passes and was leading ground gainer in the Paris game. The coaches are expecting a lot out of him during the coming season and he is a youngster that can deliver the goods.

The students and the college invite all football fans in Ranger and surrounding areas out to see the Saturday game because plenty of "home town" boys will see action, and it is guaranteed to be a real thriller with plenty of speed, skill and power to be unleashed before the evening is over.

County History-

(Continued From Page One) road was blazed to the new town, and the wagons proceeded. The drivers were Heath Hale and George Martin. The founders encouraged by offering to deed free any lot to any person who would put up either a residence or business house.

Six miles west of Eastland lived John T. Townsend, R. S. Drake, Ira Townsend Tip Saunders, William Munn, and a few others lived on the South Fork of the Leon; lower down the stream, nearer Eastland, were Uncle Martin, Jack Drake, and others, and about two miles northeast of the town C. E. Johnson lived. He is the father of Dr. J. L. Johnson. With Mr. Johnson boarded Mr. Connelley and his bride, and three bachelors—J. E. Gold, John S. Bedford, and William Gwaltney, who were surveyors and interested in farming and cattle raising. Down at Mansker Lake, at A. J. Stewart's, there boarded a young lawyer, who spent his spare time dreaming of a practice that would some day be his. His dreams came true and he presides over the District Court to-day.

Fishing Reports Again Are Heard From Lake Leon

Something new was heard from Lake Leon this week that hasn't been heard in a long time—fishing reports.

Believe it or not, bass are said to be hitting pretty good at top water baits, and a few of the large size crappie have been caught. Lake Leon Lodge reports that Don Pines of Fort Worth caught two crappie that weighed 2 1/2 pounds each, and three that weighed from 1 1/2 to 2-pounds each.

Choc-A-Bloc reported that Joe Nixon of Cisco caught one bass that weighed 2 3/4 pounds and two crappie that weighed 1 1/2 pounds each.

Arthur Deffebach of Ranger caught three bass weighing 3 pounds each and two that weighed 2-pounds each. He was casting with top water lures.

James Townzen and Dr. M. E. Jolly caught an 8-pound yellow catfish on a trot line. The same old report was going around that somebody had caught an 8-pound bass out there. Has anybody heard who it was?

Reindeer-

After considerable picture-taking (the press also had to be rounded up due to the early arrival) the pony was taken to the riding stables at Abilene Christian College where he was removed from his trailer and more picture-taking took place.

The halter was then removed from Reindeer and he was turned loose in a huge corral all by his lonesome self and nobody ever saw a happier pony. He ran and kicked up his heels and got the stiffness of 1,700 miles of travel out of his joints and then found himself a place in the soft loose sand and took the darndest wallow anybody ever saw. Made a person feel right just to watch him.
