By NORMAN WRIGHT The Russians may have launched the first Baby Moon, but shucks, how many golf balls have they launched lately?

One of the most prominent men in Ranger came into our office the other day and said he was greatly kim, he said he had been out driving in the country the afternoon before and passed by the home of a farmer who had a whole field full of white turkeys.

Our visitor said he understood that was clearly against the law this day and time and wanted to what could be done to get that farmer to mix a few black turkeys in there with the white

We have thought about that question a lot, and have decided it all depends on whether those are Yankee turkeys, or plain water Strands poor-white-trash Rebel turkeys. If they are Rebel turkeys, Ike St. Commissioner can send out another regiment of paratroopers with bayonets and occupy the farm and make this farmer get some black turkeys. paratroopers with bayonets

But if they are Yankee turk-eys, Ike wouldn't fool with them because he knows the white turkeys wouldn't let the black turkeys in there in the first place, so why bother about

Just like this guy Gbedema, the finance minister of Ghana, who is over here from Africa. Gbedema was in Delaware the other day, and that is strictly Yankee coun try. He went into a Howard Johnson restaurant in Dover and told the girl he wanted some orange The management told him to get the h --- out of there and

So what happens? Ike has the man and fetch him to the White House. He not only serves him a whole breakfast as well, com-plete with newsreels, TV, newspaper photographers and the

If that had been a Southern restaurant, Ike would have called out the paratroopers again, without a doubt, and the Yankee press, more especially the Yankee magazines including Life and Time, would have been screaming about the backward, uneducated renegades down South and they would have launched an all out attack en the governor of whatever Southern state it happened to be in that Gbedemah was refused his

But did Ike send paratroopers te occupy the Delaware restaurant, or did Time and Life launch an attack against the Governor of Delaware? Not for a moment did it occur to them! And we're afraid that's the way it is about those white turkeys. If they are Rebel turkeys, the Yankees will be down here with the army and integrate them as quick as they find out about it. If they are Yankee turkeys, you'll just have to leave 'em like they are, because they don't want any black government isn't going to

All of the money turned in to date by the workers represents only a part on, and some of the workers have not turned in any money at all.

The bad weather of Monday kept many of them from making rny calls, and there are also sev ral letters to be heard from from ut of town firms.

A survey of the reports thus far, however, and an estimate of what is to come, indicates to experienced workers in the Commun ity Chest drive that many, many ore small gifts are going to have be received if the goal is to be Surveying Damage reached. The Bulldogs have every right end Winters games.

> ren 8-0 loss against mighty Stamford. Ballinger has an impressive schedule of wins to date, but the fact remains that outside of the first two teams, they played very much of anybody to date. Ballinger will probably be bicked as the favorite, but the game can be considered nothing more than a toss-up and the Bulldogs have just as good a chance of winning it as the Bearcats if they get any breaks at all.

Coleman is the powerhouse. They won the District last year and are undefeated this year to man on Nov. 8 in a game to be played right here in Ranger. Playlug on the home field will give the Bulldogs some advantage, but whether it is enough is anybodys guess. Coleman will be here en reasse, including all the students and the biggest part of the town, and the Bluecats will not be lack
