Bulldog Aerials Rip Cisco Loboes 39-7

By NORMAN WRIGHT

On Thursday of this week for the first time we met, heard and talked with, as cozily as a person can in the middle of a great West Texas ranch, surrounded by a hundred other fellows, one of the most powerful and influential men in the United States, Lyndon Baines Johnson, majority leader of the United States Senate, and senior senator from Texas.

There is a tall man, tall in the cord-leon frame of a man used to being fit. He is brown with the imprint of the Texas sun etched in his face and around his eyes. His laugh comes easily and he regains back to give it hearty support. His voice is clear and strong and garmented in the unmistakable accent of the ranch Texas.

East Texas, North Texas, South Texas, West Texas, Central Texas, he is TEXAN all over.

There is a gentleness in his manner, but there is no disguising the taunt, crackling energies that spill out of him even when he's standing still. And no mistaking either the feel of strength, unending as a mountain crag, tough as a jungle fighter.

If the senator had a heart attack, then coronaries are good for you. He looked like he could do a quarter-mile and four rounds with a bear without even being winded.

The odd thought struck that here is a Johnson City boy who once was a high school teacher and who came within 88 votes of being politically smashed, and now today bears the valid label of the dominant force in the Democratic Party and possibly one of the world's 10 most powerful leaders.

If Henry Clay was justly called the Great Compromiser and Oliver Wendell Holmes the Great Dissenter, then Lyndon Johnson is the Great Persuader. Tying together in even a loose, oddly shaped agreement such diverse characters as Douglas of Illinois and Eastland of Mississippi, and Byrd of Virginia and Neuberger of Oregon, takes persuasion of such a high order that surely Saint Paul would have embraced Senator Johnson as a true brother.

The Senator talked, and as he talked, fiddling with loose change in his pocket, it was possible to melt out the West Texas rangeland and imagine him in a Senate cloakroom.

This was the personal force and the soft yet remorseless voice thatajoled, argued, suggested, exhorted, persuaded and patched up the rents of sectional senatorial fury. The senator freely admits his creed is the prophet Isaiah: "Come, let us reason together."

We left West Texas feeling good about our senior senator. We liked him and who wouldn't, whether they ever supported him or not. He bears heavy problems, in times that shiver with chill tension as the Nation waits and watches for what is going to happen next. But he's a smart, tough, earnest man.

Cisco Business Men of 1900 Recalled by Writer

(Editor's Note: This is the 33rd in a series of articles taken from the book, "History of Eastland County, Texas" written by Mrs. George Langston in 1904.)

Davis-Garner Company Nineteen years ago the senior partner of the above firm came to Cisco. An indomitable energy and a determination to succeed were his only capital. He embarked in the dry goods business with Col. J. H. Holcomb, buying an entire half interest on a credit. In 1893 he bought out his partner and was sole owner of the business until March, 1903, when he sold a half interest to J. H. Garner.

Mr. Davis is "All the way from Ike," (having been born in Pike County, Missouri, 48 years ago). He was reared on a farm and received his education in subscription schools and in William Jewell College. In 1875 he came to Texas, crossing Red River the day he was 21.

Mr. Davis is a Missionary Baptist, believes in and supports church work and charitable institutions. His family consists of one good wife and four children.

in the auditorium of the church. After recognition of men from the various churches, special music, and the introduction of officers, there will be a special message delivered by Rev. Hubert Foust, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Graham. Mr. Foust is an outstanding speaker and will have something worthwhile for members of the Brotherhood.

Goals have been set, and the goals from the three Ranger churches, Eastside, Second, and First, will be 50 men. Cars will be leaving these churches about 5:45 to 6:30. Any one desiring transportation should communicate with the Brotherhood president or the local pastor.

Final Gifts For Mrs. Hernandez In Excess of $300

Money and gifts donated by the people of Ranger and surrounding communities to Mrs. Transito Hernandez following the death of her husband recently, have been estimated to have a total value of $300, following a final check-up by Father Boemans, pastor of St. Rita's Catholic Church.

Money totaled well over $200, it is said, and the value of other gifts in the way of groceries and clothing reached at least another $100. One offering alone of groceries brought in by ladies of the Lacasa community, was estimated at $50.

On behalf of Mrs. Hernandez, who can speak no English, Father Boemans said he wanted to express deepest thanks to everyone who contributed in any way to the offering. "It is one of the finest things I have ever seen any town do," Father Boemans said.

Resolutions were read and adopted after group discussion at the county meeting and they will be presented to the state resolutions committee before the annual convention.

Mrs. Herman Schaefer will serve as new publicity chairman for the county organization. She takes the place of Mrs. Bill Tucker, who is now working as office secretary for the Farm Bureau in Eastland.

Building Activity Progressing At Eastside Baptist

New sidewalks are being put down around the educational building, and construction is to begin soon on the new auditorium for the Eastside Baptist Church in Ranger, according to the Rev. K. C. Edmonds, pastor. The pastor said a building had been purchased which was to be wrecked, and a new 40-foot extension would be added to the Church.

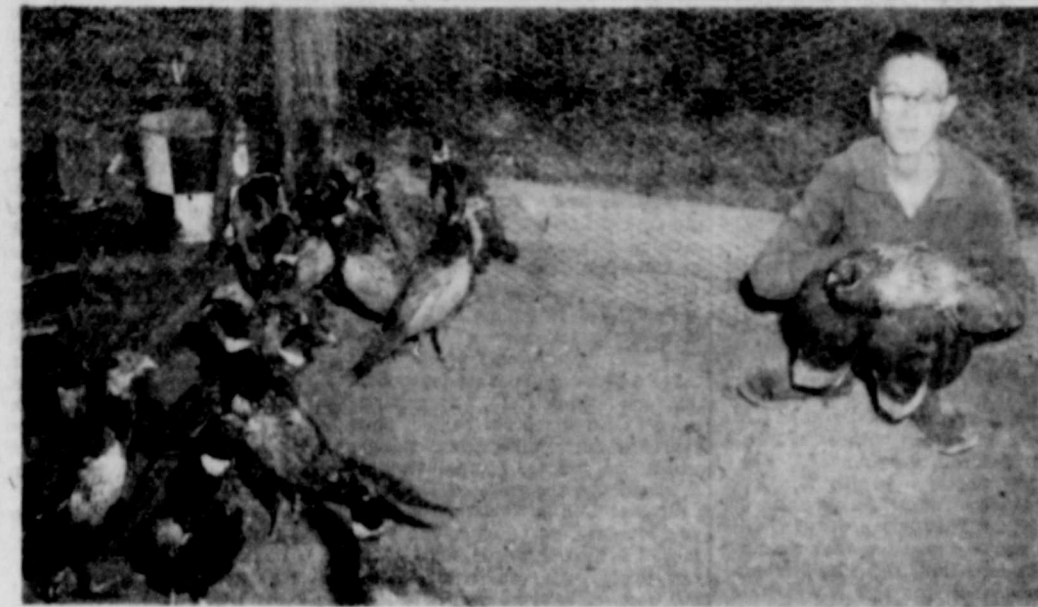

Interest also continues to grow with additions and modifications in every service," the pastor continued. "We extend a special invitation to everyone to join us, especially those who are looking for a small church in which they will be proud to hold membership."

The church's weekly schedule is as follows: Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; Worship, 10:50 a. m.; Training Union, 6:30 p. m.; Evening Worship, 7:30, and the Wednesday night hour of prayer, 7:30.

Ranger Folks May Enjoy Wild Pheasant, Ready for the Oven

Ranger folks, or anyone else within driving distance of Ranger for that matter, in search of a feast that is different for themselves or their guests, may now enjoy wild pheasant with all the delicious fixin's, and not even Luther to have to dress the bird.

In one of the most novel side-line businesses to come to Ranger in years, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Pirkle, greatly assisted by their son Johnny, have raised more than 1,000 of the fabulous Asian birds this year and they are ready for market right now.

Many Ranger people are buying the pheasants, having them dressed, and placing them in frozen lockers for use during the holiday season. The Pirkles will do the freezing themselves, if their customers request it.

Raised from Biddies In one of the most novel side-line businesses to come to Ranger in years, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Pirkle, greatly assisted by their son Johnny, have raised more than 1,000 of the fabulous Asian birds this year and they are ready for market right now.

The Pirkles raised the pheasants from egg-size biddies and the birds have spent their entire life inside a score of huge wire pens erected on the Pirkle farm. They have eaten only the best of grain bought from the feed stores and they're as fat as well-fed, caged birds can get.

A few of the pheasants were available for the holiday season last year, and housewives cooked them in much the same manner as they would a small hen, baking them with plain dressing, or oyster dressing, or some other favorite stuffing enjoyed by the family.

Although the white and dark great resembles that of a chicken, it nevertheless has a sort of wild taste, and is perfectly delicious.

Birds Worth A Visit The Pirkle Farm and residence is only a short distance beyond the Featherlite plant, and can be reached by going out the road to Featherlite. It is a "little over a mile from town and it is worth driving out there just to see the brilliantly plumbed birds which have made such fabulous culinary delights all around the world.

Somebody found one of the new 1958 Models on sale on a used car lot and it had been there for four days. Everybody from Henry Ford II on down was in Oklahoma, it is said, trying to find out what had happened.

All new cars have their official unveiling date, and Ford's happens to be Nov. 7. Until their announced official dates, car manufacturers try to keep their cars covered up, even in transport. Ford has had its troubles this year!

There will be many paintings of all sizes in the exhibit, featuring everything from the Western Prairies to Springtime in Holland. Mr. and Mrs. Sparling are former residents of Ranger, and returned here last May after an absence of five years. He is with Lone Star.

Flu Absentees Holding Steady In Ranger Schools

At week's end absenteeism in Ranger Public Schools had improved very little, if any, on account of the flu that kept an estimated 125 pupils out last Wednesday.

A little improvement was noted Thursday when a goodly number of absentees returned, but by Friday it was back to the higher figures reported earlier in the week.

School heads are hoping that the week-end recess will give the absentees time to get back on their feet, and it is advised that every precaution be taken to prevent as many new cases as possible.

Ford Motor Co., Having Trouble Holding New '58's

The fact that a Ford Motor Company transport loaded with brand new 1958 cars stood uncovered in downtown Ranger for several hours this past week while scores of people viewed the new models, was all dark soap compared to what happened to Ford in Oklahoma yesterday.

Lone Cedar To Start Soon On New Clubhouse

Dr. James Whittington of Eastland, president of the Lone Cedar Country Club, told a meeting of stockholders this week that construction on the clubhouse at the new country club might possibly get under way in November, if everything worked out satisfactorily.

Stockholders met with representatives of an Abilene general contracting and engineering firm and reviewed floor plans and other specifications for the new building.

Dr. Whittington said, however, they would meet with representatives of two other firms before setting a contract.

Under present plans, the parent stock company will build the shell of a clubhouse, a swimming pool, and rough in nine holes of golf. Committees are at work now getting the clubhouse site cleared and ready for construction when the final contracts are let.

Rangers Vow To Plow Under Plowboy Foes

The Ranger College Rangers left here Saturday vowing to "Plow Under the Plowboys" of Tarleton State Saturday night at Stephenville, if it's the last thing they ever do.

"We haven't won a game and they haven't either, and that is one crowd that is going to get licked again," one of the Rangers said, tossing his equipment into the bus.

The Rangers were so sick with the flu two weeks ago they had to postpone their game with San Angelo, and they were only about half recovered last week when they racked up 13 points to 22 for the H-SU Buttons.

The Rangers were playing good football together last week and are ready to improve on it in Saturday night's game.

Nothing happened during the first quarter except the ball was kicked back and forth until Ranger punted just as the quarter ended, giving Cisco the ball on their own 27 as the second quarter began.

Wharton Scores First The Loboes managed to pick up one first down, and four plays later the ball went over to Ranger on downs on the Cisco 41. Wharton, Underwood and King worked the ball down to the Lobos 15 on straight running plays, and from the 15 Wharton went around right end for the first touchdown and Welford kicked the extra point, making the score 7-0.

Ranger kicked off and Cisco took over on their own 41. They tried two running plays and got

Chest Drive Takes Healthy $322 Jump

The Community Chest Drive in Ranger took a healthy jump Friday when $322.50 was turned over to Mrs. H. E. Angus, treasurer, to make the total raised to date $3,258.50. That leaves $1,481.50 yet to be raised on the 1957-58 budget of $4,840.

The $322.50 increase came from regular campaign workers who turned in some of the cards they had been calling on and the collections they had received.

If $300 a day could be turned in for the next five days, the chest would be over the top and everybody could forget about it until next year.

Mrs. Angus said as far as she knew, only one man had come to her office voluntarily to leave a donation to the Community Chest. Also, there has been only one man to call at City Hall voluntarily and leave a donation. As far as anybody knows, nobody has sent any money through the mail to the Community Chest. It has all been raised by Community Chest workers calling for it and asking for it.

The more substantial gifts from some of the larger business firms in the city have all come from the firms' out of town headquarters, and there are still a few of these to be heard from.

Workers have still not seen all the names on their cards, and very few have turned in their material and announced that they were through. Some of the workers in

King Completed Eight Out of 14 Aerials That Floated Through the Air as Gentle as a Feather

Having been coached all week on how to stop fallback David Wharton, the Cisco Lobos had never heard of end Charles Welford who snatched three touchdown passes from quarterback Lee King to lead the scoring Friday night in the Bulldogs' 39-7 rout of the Loboes who haven't won a game from Ranger since 1946.

In addition to Welford's three touchdowns he kicked three extra points, giving him a total of 21 points for the evening.

Although covered by eleven Loboes all night, Wharton, himself made two touchdowns on runs of 7 and 15 yards, and Jerry Underwood accounted for one score as the Bulldogs racked up the prodigious total of 42 yards, 162 by hand and 166 by air, for the biggest yardage gain of any game of the year.

In addition to Welford's three touchdowns he kicked three extra points, giving him a total of 21 points for the evening.

A splendid turnout of Ranger fans shivered in the stands and they won't get any colder all winter than they did Friday night, no matter how much colder the weather gets. The sudden blizzard blowing straight in from the north on a 20mph wind nearly froze everybody to death, and so cold was the blast that neither hand tried to take the field at half-time.

The public is invited to attend the Sunday morning Bible study for all ages at 9:45 a.m. On Wednesday evening, 7:00 p.m., the study will begin with John 19:31. All visitors are welcome!

The pastor, Lonnie Eranham, gives the following thought for today: "What is my duty? Surely no one can question that my duty is to fear God, and keep His commandments; for this is the whole duty of man."

The best service I can tender to my loved ones is to discharge my full obligation to my God.

Love can be satisfied with nothing less than loyalty. Estimating my love by loyalty, what shall be the verdict of my friends? What shall be my own conscience? What shall be the verdict of my Lord?

First Baptist Pastor Makes Announcements

"The Supreme Rule of Duty" will be the theme Sunday morning, as the Rev. Ralph Perkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church uses the text, "For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in Heaven, the same is my brother, and sister and mother." Mark 3:35. Rev. Perkins said, "Righteousness is of God, sin is of the devil, regard well the position you are in at present."

The sanctuary choir will furnish the special music, "All Hail the Power."

Sunday school attendance has been reaching an all time high for the past twelve months. Members and visitors should be found in Sunday school this Lord's day. There are departments with teachers and classes for everyone.

Training Union, beginning at 6:30, has had a most remarkable record for the past twelve months. "Careful planning, excellent programs, consistent visitation, and people who love the Lord on Sunday night, have all had their part in this record," said the pastor.

The evening message at 7:30 will be based upon the first chapter of Philippians, Paul's letter to the church at Philippi. The theme will be "Magnifying Christ." The male quartet, Walter Arterburn, J. C. Price, Lee Russell, and Jesse Sutton, will sing, "Forward Through the Ages."

The nursery will be open for all services.

Letters to the Editor...

Editor
 Ranger Times
 Ranger, Texas
 Dear Sir:

Your editorial in last Thursday's paper regarding paving the Lake Leon road left quite a few of us in Olden disturbed. You gave a lot of figures concerning a school that were far from accurate.

In the first place we did not have 15 students that were stranded, as your paper stated, but we did have one. We had five other students who had to be brought out through the pasture. These students did not have to miss school, however.

You also stated that we had an enrollment of 111 students. If you will check with our school Superintendent you will find that we have a good many more students than that. I think I could tell you in this letter how many we have, but I may be mistaken and I had rather you got the figures straight.

You also mentioned that if our enrollment fell below 100 we would lose our school. That might be possible but I don't think that it would necessarily close a school.

We at Olden would like to see that road paved as much as anyone. It would mean a lot to our school and save a lot of bus repair. Our bus stuck on that road this morning.

Please, the next time you write a story, with facts and figures about Olden school get the figures straight. I do not know where you got the statistics for this editorial.

Your truly,
 Gilbert Copeland,
 Vocational Ag. Teacher

EDITOR'S NOTE: The figures were given to us as those presented to the State Highway Board by a group of Eastland, Ranger and Olden citizens who called on the Board in Austin in the interest of getting the road paved.

Anything which might cause the average daily attendance of a school to be lowered is bad, whether it is an epidemic of sickness, an ice storm or flooded roads. An epidemic of sickness is God-made and little can be done about it, but a bad road is Man's problem and can pretty well be fixed.

That is why we thought if there was a possibility that bad roads around the lake might possibly be a detriment to the school at Olden, the Commissioners Court ought to see that they were fixed. However, if the people of Olden have no concern in the matter, perhaps there is no reason why we should have.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated by Carbon Couple

Open house was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pierce of Carbon, Sunday, celebrating their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The old Pierce home, two and one-half miles south of Carbon, home of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce, was the setting for the "happy occasion." Mr. and Mrs. Arless Pierce of Cisco, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Pierce of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Adelle Nelms of Levelland, assisted by friends and relatives, planned and executed the celebration.

Arrangements of cut flowers and pot flowers, roses, chrysanthemums, dahlias and marigolds, bearing the color scheme of gold and white with red and pink adding color were in each room of the house.

The table was laid with a gold linen cloth and centered with a tiered wedding cake and candles. Refreshments of cake punch, and coffee were served throughout the afternoon.

The cake was white and trimmed with gold roses and topped with a beautiful arrangement suitable for the occasion.

Mrs. Pierce chose a navy dress for the occasion. She wore a corsage of white and gold mums. Both Mr. and Mrs. Pierce were "radiant with pleasure" over the many gifts. They were "overjoyed" that so many of their friends and relatives were able to attend and scry that some were unable to attend.

Roy Pierce and Miss Jennie Tye were married on Oct. 20, 1907, at Carbon. Brother Cobb, who was a resident of Carbon, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce have one daughter and two sons, Mrs. Adele Nelms of Levelland, Arless Pierce of Cisco and Lee Roy Pierce of Fort Worth. The also have five grandchildren.

Strawn Chapter of the Eastern Star Celebrates 50th Anniversary

The Strawn Chapter No. 361 of the Order of the Eastern Star celebrated its 50th anniversary Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Masonic Hall.

The colors of gold and bronze were used throughout. As guests registered, gold corsages were presented to the ladies and gold boutonnieres were presented to the men. The hall was decorated with arrangements of gold and bronze mums. All the officers were dressed in gold taffeta and net dresses.

A beautiful drill, given by the officers, began the program. A welcome in song was also given by the officers. In the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sinclair, who were called out, gold corsages due to the death of Mrs. Sinclair's mother, Mrs. Jimmy Gailey and Dave Goforth presided as Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Bruce Brannon, and the Rev. Morrison, pastor of the Methodist Church in Strawn, led the opening prayer. The history of the chapter was given by Mrs. J. E. Guest.

Two charter members of the Strawn chapter were present. They were Mrs. Dora Croom of Ranger, and Mrs. Lucille Tremble of Strawn. Mrs. Winnie Waugh of Bastrop, Texas, is also a charter member, but she was not present at the celebration.

Mrs. Croom and Mrs. Tremble were escorted to the east and presented gifts of white Bibles with their names on the backs, and "1907-1957" engraved in gold on the fronts. Mrs. Gailey made the presentation in behalf of the chapter.

Mrs. Croom and Mrs. Tremble thanked the chapter and expressed joy for being in the Eastern Star fifty years. Miss Vivian Simmons of Ranger sang "Always" and "Indian Love Call." Miss Simmons was accompanied by Mrs. Frank Hicklin at the piano.

Morris Frasier introduced the guest speaker, R. Bruce Brannon, who brought a very impressive message, entitled, "How Old Are You?"

The closing prayer was led by Dave Goforth.

After the program, the guests went into the banquet room. The table was laid with maderia linen and crystal. Honored guests included members of Mrs. Croom's family and the members of Mrs. Tremble's family.

Moving pictures of the entire program were taken by Lewis Croom of Dallas. Decorations were by Miss Maggie Gato of Strawn.

Halloween Party Given By College Business Dept.

The Business Department of Ranger College under the direction of Vivian Simmons sponsored a Halloween Masquerade party Thursday evening, Oct. 24 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Decorations in the Union Building carried out both the Halloween and autumn theme. Guests came in costume, and prizes were given for the most unusual costumes to Betty and Dickie Fletcher, who came as Abe and Mary Lincoln. During the evening many contests were held, and dancing was enjoyed. Punch and cookies were served from a table decorated in a fall motif. A large group of students attended.

After the dance a snappy pep rally was led by the cheerleaders back of Cell Block to get everyone in a winning spirit for the coming game with Tarleton, Sat., Oct. 26. It was a fitting conclusion for a very enjoyable evening.

Charles is a young man of unusual courage and determination. Last year Charles began his freshman year in college at Ranger College only to be injured seriously in a car wreck during the first month of school.

His injuries were to the extent that he had to drop from school to remain in a cast and then in a wheelchair for several months; in fact, the doctors told him he would never play football again. He proved the doctors to be wrong, though, by returning at mid-term last year to start his schooling again and by going out for spring football training. I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Memories of a long-ago campaign: In 1938, when Senator Ralph Yarborough was making his first race and I was handling his publicity, we saw—over in his five East Texas—the first dog-wood blossoms of the season—the first I had ever seen for I was from West Texas. He stopped the car, sprang out and got two sprigs for our lapels.

When we reached El Paso, where he had started in the practice of law, he hurried, with boyish eagerness, to the park in the center of the city and on over to the pool to see the alligators again.

He suggested we have dinner in Juarez and we did. Afterward, as we walked around looking at the shops, we came to the jail. "Would you like to see it?" he asked. I thought he was joking but when I said, "Yes," he escorted the sentry and we were admitted for a sight-seeing tour. As Judge Yarborough, our guide and I were standing in the jail yard and the prisoners were around in little groups, guards were pacing along the wall, rifles in their hands. I asked, "Do prisoners try to escape?" The guide replied, "Oh, yes, every now and then. Right here, the ground is a little higher and, only last week, a prisoner tried to get over the wall at this point. He was shot and fell dead right where you are standing now." I moved over several paces.

Judge Yarborough's knowledge of Texas history was amazing and, in order that I might see some interesting spot for the first time, he would drive out of his way and lose valuable campaign time. For example, Langtry. Incidentally, the roof of Judge Roy Bean's old Jersey Lily building was almost worn out and I wrote an article about it. Whether as a result or merely a coincidence, the State Highway Department repaired it soon afterward.

Yarborough was an eloquent speaker. At Elgin, he cited a bill which one of his opponents had voted for as a State Senator, and the description which Yarborough gave of the provisions of the measure was so stirring that, afterward, a citizen walked along the street and, with a pocket-knife, slashed each of that opponent's placards as he came to them and his fellow townsmen looked on approvingly.

And at Richmond, Yarborough spoke with such eloquence that when he had finished, a dozen men piled into cars and drove to Rosenberg to hear the speech all over again!

Farmers Reminded To Name Workers For Social Security

Employees of farm workers were reminded of their responsibilities under the provisions of the Social Security Act by C. M. Vaden, Jr., Field Representative of the Abilene Social Security office.

Anyone who is employed to do farm work is covered by the social security law if he: (1) receives wages of $150 or more from any agricultural employer in a year, or (2) works on 20 or more days in a year, where his wages are figured on a time basis such as by the hour, or the day, rather than on a piece-work basis such as by the row, or the hundred pounds.

According to Vaden, the crew leader who furnishes and pays the workers in his crew is always the employer, unless the farmer and the crew leader have agreed in writing that the crew leader is the farmer's employee. When there is such a written agreement, the members of the crew, as well as the crew leader, are the farmer's employees.

The employer of farm workers should: (1) keep a record of each worker's name, social security number, and the amount each one earns, and (2) arrange to pay the social security tax of 4 1/2 percent of the total covered wages; one half the taxes may be deducted from the worker's pay. The taxes are payable to the Director of Internal Revenue in January of each year.

"It is from these annual reports which are filed by crew leaders and farm operators that workers receive credit for their earnings. These wage credits are the basis for a worker's retirement income in his older years, or income to his family in the event of his death," Vaden explained. Crew leaders, farmers, and their hired workers may get social security numbers or information about the insurance from the Abilene Social Security office. Additional information about social security taxes may be obtained from the Director of Internal Revenue.

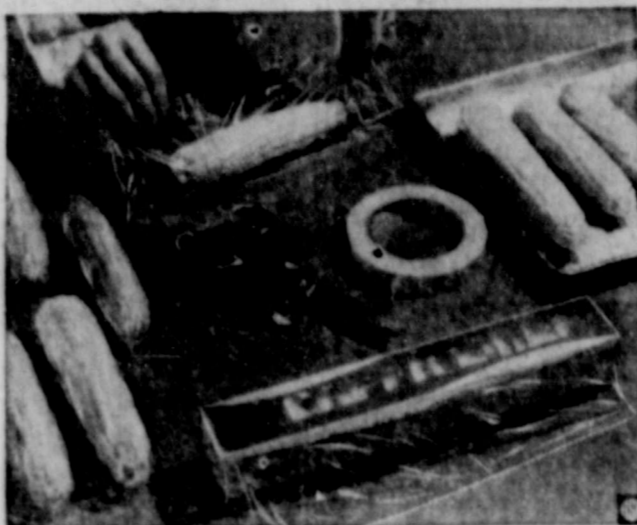

Texas Pacific Coal And Oil Declares Regular Dividend

Directors of Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company today voted a regular third quarter dividend of 25¢ per share, payable December 5 to shareholders of record November 8, it is announced.

Earnings in the quarter ending September 30 were $1,565,700, equal to 43¢ per share, according to H. H. Fuqua, board chairman and president. This compares to 48¢ per share in the third quarter of last year, and to 52¢ in the second quarter of this year.

For the nine months ending September 30, earnings were still slightly ahead of 1956, Fuqua said, totaling $5,514,756, or $1.53 per share, compared to $5,505,963 in the same period last year.

Corn on the Cob for Winter Meals

When winter arrives nothing will give more satisfaction than the knowledge that summer fresh corn on the cob is available in the family freezer. Many gardeners will find that now is the time to freeze late varieties of corn, and as a rule, those varieties are among the best for flavor and freezing quality.

Transparent plastic wrap is ideal for wrapping corn for the freezer. Wrap ears individually or in groups of two or three, depending on individual family needs. The use of plastic wrap for freezing corn will make the job of wrapping so much simpler. This wrapping material which is ideal for so many foods for the freezer, molds itself around the corn easily and makes it possible to force out the maximum amount of air. Transparent plastic wrap helps keep air out and moisture in. This assures the homemaker that the corn she freezes now will be kept at top condition until she takes it from the freezer later on. The wrap's transparency also permits easy identification of foods in the family freezer.

In preparing the corn for the freezer, select only ears that have slightly immature kernels and milk that is thin and sweet. All corn should be blanched before freezing. For steam blanching, small ears—5 1/2 minutes; medium ears—8 1/2 minutes; large ears—10 1/2 minutes. If corn is being blanched in water, reduce the time by 1/2 minute for each size of ear. Here is the procedure for the whole operation. First of all, husk the corn, wash and trim. Then comes the blanching followed by chilling in ice water for 4 minutes. After chilling, place the corn in the refrigerator for from 10-15 minutes. Wrap carefully in plastic film using the technique shown here.

exactly nowhere, after which they threw a pass. Wolford is the man who received it and he ran 35 yards before being knocked out of bounds. There came a 14 yard pass, King to Anderson, followed by an 8-yard pass from King to Wolford and the Bulldogs had another six points in exactly 50 seconds after they had made the first marker. Wolford missed the extra point on this one and the score was 13-0.

38 Yards To Wolford

Again Ranger kicked off with Cisco taking the ball on their own 35. The Lobos picked up nine yards on three plays and needing a yard they gambled for it on fourth down and got tossed for a two-yard loss with Ranger taking over on the Cisco 38. On the first play from scrimmage, King dropped back and tossed a 38-yard pass to Wolford who was standing in the end-zone waiting for it with nobody in a million miles of him, all the Lobos being up front catching Wharton. Wolford converted after this score making it 20-0 as the half ended.

As the third quarter opened, Ranger kicked off again, and with the aid of a 15-yard penalty against the Bulldogs, Cisco took over on Ranger's 40. They ran one play and fumbled, with Jerry Underwood promptly punning on the ball on Ranger's 42. From this point Wharton picked up 4, a King pass to Anderson was good for 30, Busham got 9 through the middle, King picked up 11 on a keeper, and Underwood went around left end for 5 yards and another TD and Wolford converted, making the score 27-0.

Again Ranger kicked off and in three plays Cisco got exactly nowhere and punted, with the Bulldogs taking over on their own 25.

Another one of those passes you dream about was good from King to Anderson for 30-yards and this, plus a 15-yard penalty against the Lobos put the ball on the Cisco 25.

Two Touchdowns For One

On the next play King threw a touchdown pass to Wolford but the referee said he would be enchanted to see if he could do that again from five yards further back, so after stepping off a 5-yard penalty against the Bulldogs, King threw Wolford another one just like the one before and the referee said he guessed he could, so that was another six points. Wolford missed the extra point and the score was 33-0.

At this point Ranger sent in a bunch of "B" Teamers who kicked off. Cisco failed to gain and punted. Then the "B" Teamers failed to gain and they punted and they just ought not to have done it because halfback Charles Lipsey returned the thing 70 yards for a touchdown, and Randal Hess booted the point, making the score 33-7.

Wolford Returns for 60-Yds.

As the fourth quarter opened, one of the highlights was a pass interception by Wolford which he returned for 60 yards to the Cisco 11. With Ranger in possession, Wharton made a touchdown from the 2-yard line, but it was called back on account of backfield in motion. Ranger finally lost the ball on downs without scoring, and Cisco took over on their own two.

About all they could do was to punt out and Ranger took over on the Cisco 48. From there the Bulldogs worked the ball on down to the eight, featured by one 20-yard gain by Wharton, and from the eight Wharton went over. Wolford missed the point and it was 39-7. Again Ranger kicked off and Cisco tried one pass which was intercepted by Wayne Jowers with about four minutes left to play. The "B" Teamers played the game out from there, keeping possession of the ball from that time on, but doing no further damage.
