Sudan Enjoys Distinction Largest Shipping Point From Lubbock to Clovis

Under the inconspicuous heading "Lubbock Men Visit Sudan," The Hub, official organ of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, has the following to say:

"B. Sherrod and Dean A. H. Lehigh represented the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the Sudan Chamber of Commerce, March 15. Both men reported much progress in Sudan and Lamb county."

The Hub does not do justice to Sudan in reporting Dean Lehigh's talk to the Chamber of Commerce. The Dean went farther than The Hub's report would indicate. In fact, he went so far as to assert that according to Santa Fe statistics, Sudan is the largest shipping point on the road between Clovis and Lubbock.

This should be a matter of gratification and pride to Sudanites. Muleshoe, to the northwest, is a county seat. Littlefield, to the southeast, is a would-be county seat, an older town, and in many ways aspires to leadership in Lamb county.

But Sudan leads! And, there are reasons. Sudan, and the territory contributory thereto, is peopled by a class of citizens noted for their aggressiveness and forward looking propensities. While others talk, Sudan does. In eleven years, Sudan has grown from nothing to a force to be reckoned with.

Also, Sudan has contributing territory that is unsurpassed in the entire Panhandle. Midway between the two cities of Clovis and Lubbock, this central position has a drawing power from every direction.

Where, ten years ago, were large ranches, composed of thousands of acres, now those estates are being rapidly dismembered and in their stead valuable farm homes are being developed. General agriculture is advancing by leaps and bounds. And while it is true that the big stock ranches are disappearing, that fact by no means indicates a decline in the live stock industry. Exactly the opposite is true. The breaking up of the large ranges and development of the farm homes has developed a higher grade of animals from the fact that whereas heretofore stock was practically forced for six months out of the year to "root, hog, or die," now, with an abundance of good feeds of all kinds, live stock have the advantage of continuous and uninterrupted growth from birth to maturity.

Then, the poultry industry in this section is a large contributing factor in our growth and prosperity. Where only a few years ago one could see a few scrawny, nondescript fowls loafing about the doorways, now on hundreds of farms one may see large flocks of blooded fowls, all well kept and paying handsome profits. And these flocks are steadily increasing, until it is no rare sight to see from 200 to 500 well bred fowls in a single flock. This, it can be readily seen, is no mean source of revenue to the people. And, now, with a mammoth hatchery in our midst, the poultry industry is due for a still greater growth and development.

Yes, Sudan leads.

Run Runner Sunk by Guns of Coast Guard

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The sinking of the British schooner "I'm Alone," in the Gulf of Mexico, was defended today by Secretary Mellon, supervising head of the coast guard service. He held the patrol boat Dexter within its rights in pursuing the suspected run runner and firing on the craft after its refusal to obey a summons to heave to.

At the same time Britain and Canada made known through their diplomatic representatives that they were prepared to protest should the circumstances warrant.

The Canadian government has become involved since it is believed that the vessel was of Canadian registry.

While Secretary Mellon has defended the action of the Dexter in sinking the vessel, which resulted in the death of a British member of the crew of the "I'm Alone," both the British and Canadian viewpoints are to the effect that the incident will be a serious one if newspaper reports on the matter are correct.

The coast guard report submitted to the state department said there was continuous pursuit of the "I'm Alone" from within the 12-mile line off the Louisiana coast by the Walcott until the vessel was sunk by the Dexter some 200 miles off the coast. The coast guard contended this pursuit was justified under international law.

The known British and Canadian positions on the international doctrine of pursuit at sea are that this pursuit must begin within the three-mile limit of the coast—the only territorial waters limit recognized by international law.

Charles and Anne Will Marry in June

MEXICO CITY, March 20.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow, expect to be married some time in the month of June, it is stated upon the highest authority. The place of the ceremony has not yet been decided.

Says Northwest Texas Takes Lead in Cotton

(Terry County Herald.)

Victor H. Schoffelmayer, agricultural editor of the Dallas News, gave a bunch of Dallas business men the low down on cotton production in Texas the other day that may have almost caused a lot of them to swallow their false teeth. After telling them that north and central Texas were gradually decreasing in the pounds of cotton produced per acre on account of erosion, root rot, and one thing and another, he then made them sit up and take notice by informing them in comparison that while north Texas was only producing an average of 130 pounds per acre, and central Texas 125, northwest Texas was producing 185 pounds per acre. And to rub it in a little more, he informed them that the northwest Texas farmer with tractor and modern farm machinery could work 200 acres in cotton, and produce all the feed they needed on the farm. The truth sometimes hurts, but Victor doesn't beat about the bushes when he talks.

Marshal Foch Passes To His Reward

PARIS, March 26.—Marshal Ferdinand Foch died this evening almost in the twilight hours. The sun had not yet set and the marshal lay on a lounge near an open window. He was conscious and silent while the nurse was making up his bed.

Dr. Daveniere said to the marshal, while the nurse was arranging his bed:

"Monsieur Le Marechal, we are going to put you back in bed."

The marshal replied: "Bien allons," which may be translated: "All right, let's go ahead."

Suddenly there was a change in his face, a twitching, he placed his hand on his heart, lay down on his bed and spoke no more.

The world had known that the end of the great soldier was not far off. Yet when he died there came a great throb of sorrow that encompassed the hearts of all men. With his passing, the greatest military figure of the greatest of all wars disappeared.

A small man, a frail man, Marshal Foch in his last fight displayed those qualities of grimness, of determination, of the will to win that distinguished him through all his years, from youth to gallant old age. He was in his 78th year.

Three Judges State Bench Face Charges

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 21.—Thirty-two charges against three members of the state supreme court—Chief Justice Charles W. Mason, and Justices Fletcher Riley and J. W. Clark—were adopted by the house of representatives general investigating committee in executive session today and probably will be reported to the house for consideration tomorrow, Homer Paul, Garvin county member of the sub-committee which has been investigating the court announced late today.

FORD SELLS FORD A FORD

No, no relation of Henry's, but, according to Mr. W. H. Ford of Sudan, the car is as good as the name and that can't be beaten. Mr. Ford purchased a new Tudor from Muleshoe Motor Company through Salesman J. H. Dameron.—Muleshoe Journal.

I. O. O. F. MEMBERS

All who are interested in a lodge at this place, please meet at the Hi-Way Garage, Sudan, Friday night, March 29, and we will see to sending for a charter.

"DIXIE REVUE TO BE PRESENTED NEXT WEEK"

Rehearsals for the "Dixie Revue" which constitutes the second of the Lamb County Band attractions, are being held regularly, and those in charge report that the entertainment will be ready for the public on the evening of Wednesday, April 10. Holders of season tickets to the three attractions are urged to note that the date has been changed from March 29 to April 10.

This program will be of an entirely different nature from that of the last entertainment, which consisted of a band concert. To say that it is a "modern negro minstrel" would probably describe the program best. Six black-face comedians and the interlocutor have a repertoire of gags and cross-fire which are guaranteed to make the audience forget its troubles and join the others in laughter.

And there are going to be beautiful chorus girls, too. To add to the irresistible feminine touch of the program, the management secured the Amherst Glee Club, a group of vivacious and tuneful young ladies from our neighboring town. Their choruses, duets and solos are sure to be a great treat for the lover of music.

Some of the "cullud gemmen" are excellent musicians, and they perform on stringed instruments in genuine Alabama style. Only a darkey could play the fiddle, guitar, and banjo like they do.

A special feature of the occasion is that all the songs are accompanied by a special orchestra assembled for the occasion. Obviously, the management has gone to considerable expense to obtain music especially written for the piano, violin, cornet, saxophone, clarinet, bass horn, and drums. In fact, nothing has been left undone to make this entertainment the equal of any big town musical comedy.

Admission is 50c and 25c to those not holding season tickets. Tickets can be purchased from the pep squad girls or the band boys. The place is Sudan High School Auditorium, and the date is Wednesday, April 10.

A MATTER OF COMMON DECENCY. (An Editorial.)

It has come to the attention of The News (since the recent raids by federal agents in which three "joints" were captured and their operatives arrested) that more or less criticism of Sheriff Irvin and his force is being expressed. It is even rumored that ouster proceedings have been suggested, if not actually begun. The assertion is made that the sheriff, if not guilty of actually shielding violators of the prohibition laws, at least is guilty of gross neglect of official duty.

The News sincerely hopes that no right thinking citizen of Lamb county will be led astray by any un-called for attacks on the honesty of an officer who has again and again demonstrated his official integrity. The fact that these joints were located and broken up by federal agents is by no means evidence of neglect of duty on the part of Sheriff Irvin. If the reports of the raids are correct, these agents obtained their evidence by purchasing liquor at the places under suspicion, which led to their taking action. This they were able to do because they were strangers to the operators. Is there a single sane citizen of Lamb county who really believes our sheriff could have bought a drop of liquor from these parties? Then, how else was he to obtain evidence of law violation? Also, it seems to have required a government expert on locks to gain access to the "dispensaries." Was that expected of the sheriff?

Again: It was stated in the reports of these raids that the three locations were doing a net business in excess of $400 per day. Were the purchases of the federal agents added to the occasional patronage of a tourist, sufficient to total this huge sum? No? Whence, then, came this enormous patronage?

From the people of Lamb county, of course! Now we ask, in all fairness, with this huge sum of Lamb county money going daily into the stomachs of these three blind pigs, doesn't it necessarily follow that a goodly number of Lamb county citizens were in possession of evidence that would have been welcomed by the sheriff? Was there a single man to offer him this evidence? If so, and the sheriff neglected or refused to act on the same, let that man come forward and say so.

On the other hand, how many times have our officers heard this song and dance: "Such and such a situation prevails down at that place. So and so is bootlegging all the time and corrupting the community. Go down and clean up on the gang—but for God's sake keep my name out of it."

Who ever heard of a bootlegger carelessly leaving evidence lying around loose in the way of an officer? It isn't being done. Doesn't any sane person know that is the last thing these men would do?

Now, The News takes this position: If the people of Sudan want the prohibition laws enforced in Sudan, the people of Sudan can have it done. If the people of Littlefield want those laws enforced in Littlefield, the people of Littlefield can have it done. If the citizens of Lamb county want prohibition to prevail throughout the county—prohibition will prevail throughout the county. And, until such time as the citizens of Lamb county DO determine to enforce the law, all the sheriffs, all the deputies, aye, even the U. S. army will be powerless to effect that end.

Are we acting the part of fair-minded men and women when we elect a sheriff, tell him to go forth and clean up the county, and then sit back and refuse to give him the least cooperation in bringing offenders to justice? Or are we acting fairly when we hint of official connivance, when in truth we have not the slightest evidence to back up our hints? It is easy to insinuate corruption—any half-wit can do that. But isn't it the part of common decency to wait for evidence of such corruption?

Now, Mr. Citizen of Lamb county, if YOU want the prohibition laws enforced in Lamb county, get out and help your officers enforce them. Don't elect officers and expect them to do your dirty work while you sit back and, perhaps, occasionally sample the contents of that bottle in the closet, the while giving these officers absolutely no help—unless an occasional kick in the seat of government could be construed as encouragement.

Let's be fair; let's be decent. If we have no evidence of law violation, let's come out before the wide world and say so. If we have evidence, and think the risk is too great in divulging it, let's say so honestly, or else get out with the officers and help in the clean-up. But don't let's ride these officers for failing to obtain evidence that we ourselves have not gathered or, having obtained, are too timid to use.

The Sudan News has no inclination to shield an official who is found guilty of violating his oath of office. On the other hand, the Sudan News will at all times withhold judgment until such offense is proven beyond a doubt, and that, too, before a legally constituted tribunal. Therefore, we repeat, let's be decent, give every man the benefit of the doubt until such time as there remains no doubt. But we have never yet learned to credit rumor with the sanctity of positive evidence.

Floods in South Again Take Toll of Many Lives; Great Property Losses Result

Two Girls Trail With Bank Bandits

BRADY, Texas, March 21.—Four youthful alleged bandits, two of them girls, were in jail here tonight charged with robbery with firearms as the aftermath of a daylight robbery of the Farmers and Merchants State Bank here today. Officers were searching the surrounding country for a third woman, believed to be in possession of loot estimated at $5,000.

Charges were filed against Lucille Awtit, 24, Brady; Billie Ballard, 20, believed to live in Austin, and their male companions, R. C. Turner, 21, and Coy Nigh, 18, Brady. None of the four made a statement, officers said.

BRADY, Tex., Mar. 23.—Hidden in one of the bank's books into which Harold Johanson, bookkeeper of the Farmers and Merchants' bank, evidently placed it in the excitement after being held up Thursday, $212 was found today.

With the $2,000 found the day of the robbery near town, this accounts for about all the money reported missing from the bank.

The examining trial of R. C. Turner, identified by Johanson as the man who entered the bank, was set for Monday.

Oklahoma Governor Is Impeached

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 20.—The senate court of impeachment today removed Henry S. Johnston as governor of Oklahoma. His predecessor, J. C. Walton, was ousted in the same manner.

The court found Henry S. Johnston guilty of a charge of general incompetency, preferred by the house, and exonerated him of nine other charges. The vote was 35 for conviction and nine for acquittal. J. C. Walton, Johnston's elected predecessor, was removed in November, 1923.

W. J. Holloway, lieutenant governor, was sworn in as Johnston's successor after the court had completed its vote on the impeachment charges. Holloway had been acting governor since Johnston was suspended two months ago.

Johnston, who last night expressed confidence he would be restored to office, received the verdict passively. Mrs. Johnston, at his side almost constantly during the lengthy trial, made no demonstration.

The senate vote ended more than two years of political turbulence which reached impeachment pitch late in 1927. At that time, however, Johnston dispersed hostile legislators by court action after they had sought to convene on their own call.

Expect Moody Will Approve Theatre Bill

(Raymond Brooks, in Amarillo Daily News.)

AUSTIN, March 24.—That the bill to permit cities to regulate Sunday closing of motion picture shows will be approved by Gov. Dan Moody was believed here this week, on the ground that it will end the tacit and open disregard of the obsolete "blue law" this will repeal.

The measure will permit cities that want to permit motion picture shows to operate on Sunday to regulate their open hours and to require conformity with the law. It will permit cities whose sentiment is for closed picture shows on Sunday to close them.

At present over two-thirds of the cities and towns have Sunday picture shows, including many of the small communities. The blue law is disregarded in all the large cities.

The law, passed nearly half a century ago, was in effect long before the first motion picture was shown in Texas. It has been held in some communities to apply to picture shows, as affecting all "theatrical performances."

Approval of the measure has been foreseen as a way of securing actual enforcement of a law and of providing machinery for the enforcement. It has been found in cities where popular sentiment is for open picture shows, juries will not convict those charged with violation of the ancient statute.

Some towns have sought Sunday motion picture entertainment to prevent large numbers of their citizens from spending Sundays elsewhere.

FIND FISH IN ARTESIAN WELL.

Possibly you hear lots of fish stories, but Herman Jones comes forward with one of the strangest. Last week, while drillers were cleaning out an artesian well on the Turknett place southeast of town they ran into what appeared to be a bottomless cavity. The well originally was supposed to have been drilled to a depth of 795 feet, when a measuring line was run the drillers ran over 1,300 feet of line and still did not find bottom. In the bailing process that followed, a fish measuring three or four inches in length was brought to the surface in the bailer.

Fish have previously been found in artesian wells of the Pecos valley.—Artesia (N. M.) Advocate.

DAYTON, Tenn., March 23.—White creek flood waters caught a party of 21 Boy Scouts on the roof of a creek-side cabin near Rockwood, Tenn., today, and a Scout master and two Boy Scouts were drowned. Five others are missing and believed dead. The rest, 13, were rescued.

Fifteen Die in Flood Waters. ATLANTA, Ga., March 23.—Tornadoes, rainstorms and floods which whipped the South from Louisiana to Virginia this week-end, tonight had claimed 15 lives, and had swept as many others to almost certain death.

Ten persons were missing after Emory river had churned its burden of Mountain river water through Harriman, Tenn., today at a depth of 30 feet. All ten were believed to have met death, but their bodies had not been recovered.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 23.—A relief train was being made up here tonight to be sent to Harriman, where it was reported 15 or more persons perished in flood waters sweeping the town.

C. J. Burnell, of the Tennessee staff, who flew over sections of the middle Tennessee flood area today, reported on arrival here tonight that flood water was nine feet above the top of the Tennessee Power and Light company's dam at Rock Island and that the plant had ceased operations.

The strain on the dam was "terrific," Burnell said.

Long Fight in Prospect. MEMPHIS, March 23.—The lower Mississippi valley faces prospects of a long fight against high water. Heavy rains along the upper Tennessee and Cumberland rivers sent them and their tributaries far above flood stage.

Two Women Die In Crossing Crash

AMARILLO, March 25.—Mrs. David L. Hollis, 31, of 2604 Northwest Second street, and Mrs. G. R. Chewning, 507 North Taylor street, were instantly killed late yesterday when their coupe was struck by Santa Fe passenger train No. 1 at the rail crossing in East Amarillo near the cottonseed oil mill.

The trainmen said the women had been driving at a speed of about 10 miles an hour and apparently did not see the train approaching until a moment before they were struck, when the driver attempted to turn the automobile from the rails. One of the bodies, they said, was thrown clear of the car while the other was removed from the wreckage. Both were badly mangled.

A large crowd soon gathered, and the bodies were removed to the N. S. Griggs & Son funeral chapel.

After an inquest held by C. G. Landis last night at the mortuary, a verdict of death by accident was rendered.

Two Perish in Fire at Berger, Texas

BORGER, Texas, March 24.—Two men were burned to death and a third perhaps fatally burned in a fire which, spread by a high wind, burned four business houses "shacks" on Main Street of this oil town this afternoon.

One of the dead was identified as J. W. Farmer, 60, of Borger. The other victim was not identified.

Otis Hilderbrand, 60, a veteran oil field worker, walked calmly from the flaming building where his comrades died, almost a living torch.

Efforts were being made to save his life.

The three men were asleep in rooms at the rear of the drug store, one of the four or five establishments housed in the four shacks, built during the town's peak days.

Preaching Next Sunday At School Auditorium

Elder W. D. Black of Petersburg will preach at the high school auditorium Friday evening, Saturday evening, Sunday morning and Sunday afternoon of next week-end.

Sunday morning his subject will be a typical Easter sermon—A Risen Christ. Sunday afternoon his subject will be Position and Work of Women in the Church. Everybody invited to hear this strong gospel preacher. He has a message to deliver and brings into play lessons that are adaptable to the life interests of his hearers.

Come and hear him.

"BOOST OR MOVE."

THE EASTERTIDE.

"Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen."—Luke 24:5-6.

White lilies, white thoughts, Eastertide.

The Lord said: "I am the resurrection and the life." As the flowers come upward from the darkness of the soil, so the soul of man may soar above the darkness of its enchainment.

Just before Christ took up the sad way to the Cross, speaking in the Temple, he said: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind."

This is the first and greatest commandment. And the second is like unto it. "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

For two thousand years these commandments have rested upon the world. On the coming Easter Sunday of a hurrying age, are they taken more closely to hearts? All things hang on them.

"He is risen." These words have carried comfort to millions.

Easter is the brightest and most radiant of all days in the church calendar, a day shot through with the glory of a new life.

The world knows no finer, gentler, more helpful occasion than its annually recurring Easter celebration.

May this coming Easter day mark the new resurrection, that of the spirit of man, so that the glory of that sacrifice on the cross of Calvary may be enshrined anew in the heart of man.

DARROW ON CRIME.
(Shamrock Texan.)

In a recent address, Clarence Darrow, the celebrated lawyer, said that the increase of laws against personal liberty was responsible for a large percentage of the increase in crime in this country.

"We are in the midst of the most reactionary period this country has experienced since the Civil War," Mr. Darrow said, "with the laws being tightened so harshly in an effort to jail the guilty as to endanger the innocent."

"Probably a quarter of the persons behind prison bars are confined for offenses which were not considered crimes 15 years ago."

A great part of this modern movement to curb liberty, which he called "a wave of hatred," Mr. Darrow laid at the door of fanatic reform organizations.

Mr. Darrow speaks strong words, but no one with a knowledge of modern legislation can deny what he says. There has been an almost wholesale movement to control and rule against the individual, under the guise of "reform," and the result has been a reaction against law and authority that is causing our crime record to mount to dizzy heights.

WE MUST KEEP BUSY.

"The competition these days is between towns to an extent never dreamed of in the old days of horse-drawn vehicles," observes an exchange, "and the town which rests on its oars is apt to have nothing upon which to rest but oars."

The News is for Sudan and Lamb county every hour of every day in the year, but the town needs to be alert. We have a particularly good town, but we must not be content to rest on our oars. Our town will not take care of itself. To cease to grow is to perish, one way or another.

Our town is well and responsibly governed, and it is an attractive, healthy community in which we live, and it should be a pleasure for every one of us to work and boost for it. Our people should never overlook anything that will add to the permanent prosperity, comfort and attractiveness of Sudan.

DOBBIN IS BACK.

Bottomless roads is the verdict of rural mail carriers all over the country where the roads are not paved. And the talk about good and bad roads is mostly in favor of good roads at any price, according to newspaper reports. Many carriers have had to revert to their first love and are making their rounds with Old Dobbin and a buggy or cart. It is to be imagined that since the first of the year rural carriers have heard very few of the old hackneyed comments about how easily they make their salaries.

THE BILLIONAIRES.

Another financial merger in New York produces the two-billion dollar bank, which is the biggest thing we have of its kind, up to now. Of course, we have had a couple above the billion mark and the second billion would soon have been turned—but here it is already. In big things we have gotten so that we can think only in billions. The day may come when a man won't be considered dressed unless he has a billion buttons on his shirt.

Anyhow, it appears we are to have a Good secretary of war.

LIVE WITHOUT WORK.

Of course, it isn't very easy to live without working, but some of those who try it are not a bit discouraged. They keep up the good old bluff.

How to Raise

Beating Trouble To the Draw

Poultry Raisers Find That the Least Expensive Trouble Is That Which Is Never Allowed to Happen—Preventive Measures Cost Little Compared With What They Save.

In the roistering days of the old Wild West, the fellow who was quickest in getting his gun into action had the best chance for long life. Consequently, it was not surprising that men spent hours practicing the art of beating the other fellow to the draw. Their lives might some day depend on it. Today, far less effort invested in preventive measures would save the lives of thousands of fowls that now are sacrificed annually.

For one thing, too little attention is often paid to weeding out the unfit. Chicks that are obviously deformed or hopeless weaklings contract diseases that healthy, well developed chicks would throw off easily, thus making easy the spread of trouble among the rest of the flock. It is most certainly false economy or none at all to save some of the fowls one often sees in flocks otherwise fairly well cared for.

Another way to beat trouble to the draw is to adopt every possible means for eliminating vermin of every description. Lice, mites, ticks and all other such pests sap the vitality of fowls to a point where they easily become prey to all sorts of diseases. Constant vigilance is needed to guard fowls against these tiny enemies. They should be inspected periodically and dusted with a good lice powder if there are any parasites on their bodies. Lice powder should be added to the dust bath and let the hens use this as will. Their quarters should be thoroughly cleaned out at frequent intervals and every nook and cranny should be sprayed with a strong solution of dip and disinfectant. Whitewash is another preventive that is not used nearly so much as it should be. It is well to apply it at least twice a year and put it on hot. If two or three ounces of dip and disinfectant is mixed in each gallon of whitewash it will be very effective in killing mites and other insects. It should be forcibly sprayed on if possible, as that will drive it into every crack and crevice where parasites might find a hiding place.

Tainted foods, too, can cause no end of trouble. Moldy grains are particularly dangerous. Damaged or cheap inferior feeds of any kind should not be fed at all. Cheap feed is dear at any price. Limberneck, bowel disorders and other troubles are caused by eating spoiled feed. Feed of the best quality only should be fed.

In plain everyday cleanliness, however, comes the greatest protection against the possible invasion of disease. Houses should be so constructed that they can easily be kept clean, and have either solid board or concrete floors that will permit of easy cleaning and disinfecting. Clean quarters cannot very well harbor disease germs. Special care should be exercised in disposing of the droppings. Noxious gases arising from droppings are very harmful to the fowls. Furthermore, the droppings harbor disease germs without number, and intestinal worms besides. Droppings should be removed frequently and used for fertilizer away from the flock. Dead birds should be burned or buried deeply, and a regular cleanup program should be carried on often. This, with the regular use of a good coal tar dip and disinfectant, will prove very effective in preventing many diseases and insect pests.

Of course, disease may take its toll of any flock, no matter how carefully cared for. As a rule, however, any extra effort invested in such preventive measures as those described above will pay big dividends. Strong, healthy fowls, protected as much as possible from the various sources of disease, will resist epidemics that would wipe out others. They are also more vigorous and productive in every way.

Gas Forces Woman to Sleep in Chair

"Nights I sat up in a chair, I had stomach gas so bad. I took Adlerika and nothing I eat hurts me now. I sleep fine."—Mrs. Glenn Butler.

Even the FIRST spoonful of Adlerika relieves gas on the stomach and removes astonishing amounts of old waste matter from the system. Makes you enjoy your meals and sleep better. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you.—H. G. Ramby, Druggist.

MADE MONEY BY TERRACING.

SHAMROCK.—"It's a little troublesome to cultivate curved rows of cotton," declares B. R. Lane who farms near here. "but it doesn't make my mules drunk to follow the curves and it's making me money." Mr. Lane terraced 26 acres of land last year with the aid of T. R. Brown, county agent, and from this land he gathered 18 bales. The same kind of cotton on similar land nearby yielded only 11 bales on 50 acres. This is a return of three to one in favor of terracing as reflected by yields in the first year after the work was done.

SCHOOL ITEMS

Holiday Visitors, Track Meet, Accident at School, Monday Program, Other Items of Interest.

We sophomores are simply lucky. We get to report the University Intercollegiate League Meet held at Olton last week. It was one of the most successful meets ever held in the county from the standpoint of people and schools participating. In this meet Spring Lake was a heavy participant for the first time, and Fieldton and Hart's Camp came in for their first contests. Sudan did not emerge from this meet as well as we had hoped, but we placed eleven contestants in the district meet to be held in Lubbock next week. Littlefield won over all high schools, the points of the high school meets being as follows: Littlefield 242 1-2, Olton 157 1-2, Sudan 110, Amherst 88, Spring Lake 85, Fieldton 61, Hart's Camp 83. Hart's Camp was the only rural school competing, and in many events had only to enter a contest to win it. The grammar school contest came next: Littlefield 167 points, Olton 115, Amherst 80, Sudan 77, Fieldton 51, Spring Lake 45. Everything considered, we did fairly well, but we shall not be content again with doing fairly well.

In all the county meet three boys were named as grand champions. They were Hopper of Olton, senior boy; Randolph of Spring Lake high school, junior; and Nuttall of Sudan grammar school, junior.

Gold medals were given to first place winners in individual events; silver medals to place winners, and bronze medals to third place winners.

We had a presentation day at school Monday afternoon instead of our regular program by the seventh grade pupils. The seventh grade will give us their program next Monday.

Last Monday we had presented by Messrs. Wilkins, Talbot, Herren and Brown, Mrs. Grason and Miss Bond the following medals: Hazel Shore, bronze medal for third place winner in declamation; gold medal to Rufus Gilbreath for first place win in extemporaneous speaking; Gertrude Ford and Helen Williams, each gold medal for winning first in tennis doubles; Elsie Carpenter, silver medal for second place in tennis singles; Arnold Purcell, a gold medal in javelin throw; Otto Workman, gold medal for first in shot put; Marvin Thomas, gold medal in mile race; Pfeiffer Ramby, bronze medal for first in javelin throw; Arnold Purcell, bronze medal for third place in broad jump and another bronze medal for third place in high jump.

Nolan Nuttall won three gold medals in high jump, broad jump and in the 100-yard dash, making him the most valuable man in the junior meet. Among those other wins for which we received no medals were: fourth place in essay writing to Neal Wilkins; second place in junior high school spelling to Wayne Wilkins and Amy Kline; third place in boys' doubles tennis to Marvin Thomas and Elmer Carpenter; third place in both playground contests to our school, junior high and junior grammar school both winning; Donald Robertson fourth place in broad jump; Arthur Shuttlesworth fourth place in high jump and fourth in high hurdles; Elwin Hamilton fourth in 100-yard dash; Rex Hamrick fourth in pole vault. One event overlooked was the winning of third place and a bronze medal by Donald Robertson in the low hurdles. The grammar school girls won second place in the whole county in volley ball, only Olton high school beating them. Our senior spellers from high school won second place in the county. The Sudan high school relay team won third place in the county, while the junior high school relay team won second place in their class, and the grammar school relay team won third in their class.

Several of the teachers took advantage of the holiday and lack of teams coached by them, and visited over week-end. Messdames McMillan and Wells visited in Lubbock. Misses Eads, Love and Jackson were also Lubbock visitors.

Among the visitors connected with the school were the wife and son of Professor Herren who motored over from Dawson to spend a few days with him. They expect to move here in the near future and make their home in our midst. We welcome them to our town and school.

A very unfortunate accident occurred in school last week when a small girl was accidentally run down by crossing the street in front of the school. The little girl run down by the car was little Mary Jean Sturgess, and Miss Virginia Lumpkin was the driver of the car. It seems that either pupils or drivers are not very careful enough. Fortunately it is that Mary Jean was not seriously hurt.

The Lam Band furnished a portion of the attractions at the county meet last week, giving a number of appreciated selections and cheering on our boys and girls to do their utmost in contest.

"That Rascal Pat" is to be presented next week for the benefit of the baseball boys. It will be shown at the theatre in addition to the regular screen pictures. The cast of this farce is as follows: F. B. Talbot, Rufus Gilbreath and Martin Shuttlesworth, together with Misses Neal Wilkins and Elsie Carpenter. Mr. Wilkins is coaching it and it is said to be one of the most amusing comedy-farces presented on the amateur stage today. Watch for the exact date some time next week. Attend it, and enjoy yourself and help the baseball boys while you rest.

Mr. Newton is at work now shaping up his judging teams for the Plains contests of the next few weeks. After that they are to enter the A. & M. contests late in April. We hope to see our boys as fortunate as they were last spring when we were the proud winners of several nice trophies.

In a statement of the county meet we overlooked the fact that our athletic team led the county, defeating a team coached by one teacher who had not lost that contest in five years. Altogether, we are proud of the showing made there. It is our hope that Sudan schools may entertain the county meet next year and that our own people may see what and how we act under strain of competition.

Contributed by the Sophomore Class.

METHODIST NOTES

The Easter services of the Methodist church will be in the form of an Easter cantata, "Joy After Sorrow," in which twenty-four voices will tell the tragic story of the Cross and the glorious message of the Resurrection in beautiful music. The program will last one hour and thirty minutes. In addition to local talent, there will be two artists from Amarillo to assist with this magnificent presentation of one of the most beautiful of Easter cantatas. This service will start promptly at 8:00 p. m. You are urged to be in your seats by this time. A supply of extra chairs will be available, and, if the weather permits, cars may park around the church and be able to hear the music.

The pastor will preach an Easter sermon Sunday morning in Amherst, to which local people are cordially invited. The first Sunday in April he will preach an Easter message here.

The annual revival of the Methodist church will begin here with the first Sunday in April. Rev. Lewis N. Sturkey, pastor at Polk Street, Amarillo, and one of the leading preachers of Methodism will conduct the two weeks' meeting for us. Organization plans are going forward now to make this one of the most effective revivals of religion ever held in this community. We need a revival, and it is hoped that Christian people will be in earnest prayer that the harvest here will be great.

The second Quarterly Conference will be held here Thursday night, April 14th (being next Thursday night), with Bro. Doak preaching. We expect full reports and presence from all officers of the organizations of the church.

It was the great joy of the pastor to receive six first boys and girls into membership of the church by baptism and vows at the last regular preaching service here. Eleven others gave their hearts to Christ. These were instructed in a School of Religion conducted last week by the pastor on what it means to become a Christian and church member. This fine class of earnest children will be received into membership April 17th, at the morning service.

Great credit for this excellent showing is due to the prayers and personal work of the teachers and officers of our Sunday school, together with the helpful cooperation of interested parents. These are days in which we should exert every proper effort to thwart the effective work of the devil. Christianity has a power that no life, young or old, can afford to be without. It is our privilege and duty to bear the good news to the young ones about us, as well as to those on whom Satan has already worked his deceptions. Services at the Methodist church Sunday will be as follows: Sunday school, 10 a. m., Supt. J. A. Dryden; Epworth League, 6:45 p. m., Mrs. W. A. Peachey, Supt.; Evening worship at 8:00 p. m., Easter cantata, Mid-week Quarterly Conference, Rev. D. B. Doak preaching. You are cordially invited to all of these services to worship God with us.

C. R. HOOTON, Pastor.

Believes in Sudan's Business Future

While Sudan has experienced its share of business ups and downs, enterprises changing hands and being traded about, still the town has a number of enterprises that are, and have been for some time, on a solid financial basis, and the men at their head are constantly demonstrating their faith in the future of the community.

Among those we wish to mention Mr. J. A. Hutto, proprietor of the Hutto Chevrolet Company. Mr. Hutto is one Sudan business man who is not afraid to invest in every appliance and convenience that will enable him to broaden and perfect his services to the automobile trade. Mr. Hutto already had a well equipped plant, but has recently added to this a building 50 by 60 feet, which, added to the space already occupied by the business, 150 by 50 feet, gives the plant a floor space of 9000 square feet.

But he does not stop there. He is constantly adding machines and appliances that better equip him to handle the business which is constantly growing. He has recently installed a Stormizing machine, which he invites his friends and customers to come and inspect.

The Hutto Chevrolet Company aims to keep abreast of progress and furnish the highest type of service.

Dangerous Business

Our stomach and digestive systems are lined with membrane which is delicate, sensitive and easily injured. It is dangerous business, then, to use medicines containing harsh drugs, salts or minerals, when we are constipated. In addition to the possibility of injuring the linings of our digestive system, these medicines give only temporary relief and may prove habit forming. The safe way to relieve constipation is with Herbine, the cathartic that is made from herbs, and acts in the way nature intended. You can get Herbine at H. G. Ranby Drug Store.

CUTTING Lubricating Costs

Our volume of sales on Conoco Amalie Oils is growing larger each month, and there is a reason for this growth.

Our customers are buying these oils time after time and they are telling their neighbors about the lubricating satisfaction they are getting.

In this way the news is spreading that the CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY is the one to go to for cheaper lubricating values.

Tests are proving that tractor owners are getting more hours of running on Conoco Amalie Oils, and are holding up a better pressure on their indicators than with any oil they have ever used.

Car owners are finding their oil looks better and has a better body when drained from their car after a THOUSAND MILES OF RUNNING than other oils they had used after five hundred miles of running.

The proof is there before their eyes that by using Conoco Amalie Oils they are CUTTING THEIR LUBRICATING COSTS.

Chinese Eggs Now Menace Our Market

Chinese eggs are the "cloud like unto a man's hand" which has appeared on the horizon of the poultry industry, the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman points out in its March 15 issue.

For years Chinese eggs have threatened to interfere seriously with the market of the American poultryman and at times they have had a serious adverse effect upon egg prices in this country.

Egg prices in China are often as low as 5 or 6 cents a dozen. It is not surprising that the American "egg" or eggs has attractions for this oriental hen fruit.

A tariff of 8 cents a dozen on eggs in the shell that has prevailed for several years, has been too much of a wall for most of the Chinese eggs to get over. Once in a while, however, they have come to the Pacific coast markets and demoralized prices for a time. Invariably the other markets take a nose dive when that happens, and the effect is felt all over the country.

The most important effect of Chinese eggs in the American markets is felt in the dried egg and frozen egg trades, which are becoming more and more important as outlets for the eggs produced on American farms. There the Chinese eggs are playing hob with American products.

Present tariffs are 8 cents a dozen on eggs in the shell, 6 cents a pound on frozen eggs, and 15 cents a pound on dried eggs. The poultry organizations are asking for 10 cents a dozen on eggs in the shell, 12 cents a pound on frozen eggs, and a sliding scale on the various forms of dried eggs, running from 30 cents a pound on the yolks to 60 cents on the albumen. They seem to think that this schedule of rates will preserve the American market for American producers.

BUYING THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS

Tony DeCapello was one of several hundred Americans and near-Americans who at one time or another had been offered the Rocky Mountains, the Washington Monument or the Woolworth Building at a ridiculously low price. Some had fallen by the wayside and purchased. Tony hesitated and served himself by the tarrying.

"Why you no buy da Rocky Mountains?" asked a friend.

"You see," remarked Tony, "there is too mucha da bunk in dis American. Before I buy, I picka up da beez magazine to read all about da big mountain. On one page da words say for me to reacha for a cigarette and no esta da sweet. Dat make me skinny. Ho! Ho! My wife Marie she esta mucha sweet and she skinny like spaghetti. Me, I smoke all da time and I weigh two hundred pretty near. Too mucha da bunk. Dose Rocky Mountain owned by man named Denver, already. No can fool Tony lak dat. No, sir. ### Lamb County Farm Bureau Meeting

About seventy-five Farm Bureau members attended the meeting held in Littlefield, Tuesday, March 26, from 2:30 to 4 p. m.

Mr. M. S. Hudson of Hale Center, Texas, told some interesting things about the present year's operation of the Cotton Association, and about how independent the farmer was until he finished the planting and harvesting his crop, but as soon as he hauled the crop to the streets and offered it for sale, his independence was all over with.

Mr. Lynn Stokes, president of the Farm Bureau Cotton Association, was the next speaker on the program and made his talk "very much to the point" about what cooperative marketing means to the cotton farmers and the present outlook of this season's operations. He concluded his remarks by speaking of the gin program of the Texas Farm Bureau and what it would mean for the members to "gin their cotton on their own gin."

The new county agent, Mr. D. A. Am, explained some of the differences in the Cotton Association Farm Bureau Federation. He expressed his willingness to cooperate at all times with any forward move to help the farmers solve their agricultural problems.

The program was concluded by Mrs. M. S. Hudson, the only woman director of the Farm Bureau Federation, who made a splendid talk to the farmers present about the aims of the Federation, telling them that it was nothing more nor less than the "Farmers' Chamber of Commerce."

The next meeting of the Farm Bureau members will be held on April 6th to select delegates to the district convention.

WARDEN SNOOK RESIGNS ATLANTA PENITENTIARY

ATLANTA, Ga., March 17.—Warden John W. Snook of the Atlanta federal penitentiary announced today that he had tendered his resignation to Attorney General Mitchell effective April 1.

The warden said his letter contained an unqualified determination to leave the service. He came here as warden in 1926.

The request for his resignation followed Warden Snook's protest against the "planting" of department of justice agents in the prison here as prisoners.

Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prisons, at Washington yesterday said the warden had been asked to resign "because of utter lack of administrative ability." It was also said other things entered into the request, but that the warden's integrity and character were not involved.

JUST ONE ISSUE

The following will give many an insight, as to what it means to produce one issue of one metropolitan newspaper. Below is a clipping from the Cincinnati Post:

"In producing today's Post 151,349 pounds, or three carloads of print paper were used.

"Ink consumed weighed 2,498 lbs.
"If the pages of today's Post were laid end to end they would reach a distance of 1,800 miles.

"If the papers were piled on top of each other they would reach an altitude of 7,920 feet, or about one and one-half miles.

"Mt. Mitchell, the highest peak on the eastern coast of the United States is 6,711 feet in height. In order to reach the same altitude as today's copies of The Post, piled one on top of another, it would be necessary to place two and one-half buildings the height of the Union Central Building (320 feet) on top of this mountain."

Levelland

(Hockley County Herald.)
Elder R. C. Ledbetter of Abilene has accepted the pastorate of the Church of Christ at this place, according to an announcement made by members of that congregation.

The name with which Levelland's new hotel, erected on the site of the old court house, has been christened is "Hotel Levelland," and its opening will be celebrated on Monday, April 1st. This is according to the plans announced by D. N. House and J. A. Stroud, owners, who have recently contracted for the complete furnishing of the new structure with the provision that the installation be complete by that date.

Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company, one of the big chain lumber concerns operating in West Texas, announce the purchase of the interests of the Langford Lumber Company yards and business in Levelland.

George Beakley, Jr., the seven-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Beakley, of Levelland, won first place in a violin contest held last week at the Sixth Annual Spring Music Festival held in Lubbock.

What is considered by many as being the best attended and most enthusiastic meeting of the Workers' Conference of the Lubbock Baptist Association was held at Smyer, the progressive little town fifteen miles east, Tuesday.

Pierson & Berry, of Ropesville, are preparing to take two registered Jersey calves to the Panhandle Stock Show which will be held at Plains from April 2nd to 5th, inclusive.

At a meeting of the Levelland Golf Club held here Monday evening arrangements were made to further improve the grounds for the season which with the advent of warmer weather is expected to renew the interest in the game.

There seem to be few aspirants for municipal honors in the coming city election. Those few who are out are being groomed and exhibited as candidates by their friends, rather than by any volition of their own.

Littlefield

(Lamb County Leader.)
For the first time in the history of the Littlefield Parent-Teachers' Association, there will be a representation of members at a district meeting to be held at Floydada April 8, 9 and 10.

A deal was closed here Tuesday night whereby the C. W. Furr Store Company, operators of 30 chain grocery establishments in West Texas, became owners of the "M" System stores in Littlefield and Lubbock. These stores were formerly operated by A. R. Hendricks and associates.

Jimmy Singer, former Littlefield citizen, and district manager of the State Telephone company here, has been transferred as manager for the Crosbyton district, effective April 1.

There were about 275 citizens who turned out last Friday to do improvement work on the local cemetery. Some of the business men closed their stores and offices that the entire force might assist.

Sam Rumback, proprietor of the Littlefield Bakery, this week moved into his recently completed new brick building on the corner of Main street just opposite the First National Bank.

The leader is in receipt of a letter from Prof. W. D. T. Story, former superintendent of Littlefield public schools. He is now located at Magnolia, Arkansas. He intimates he may be back in this country in a short time. He owns a good farm about two miles north of town.

Amherst

(Amherst Argus.)
A dispatch from Stephenville says: Promotions in the Cadet Corps of John Tarlton Agricultural College were recently announced to become effective at once. First Lieutenant Manry Brantley, son of Harris Brantley of Amherst, was promoted to the rank of captain. Manry is making Tarlton a good student.

The Glee Club girls of Amherst high school are putting forth much effort to assist the local band boys in raising money to make the trip to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at El Paso.

W. J. Harris, Jack Brannen and W. S. Mitchell of Littlefield were here Wednesday interviewing the business men in regard to the moving of the county seat from Olton to Littlefield.

Mrs. Jack Mullin, a recent bride, was honored by a surprise shower Thursday evening. Those attending gathered at the home of Mrs. O. G. Wagner before departing for the home of Mrs. Mullin, where many beautiful gifts were presented to the bride who graciously expressed appreciation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Webb recently sold their residence to Dr. Rochelle and moved to Lubbock. Dr. Rochelle had the home remodeled completely making it one of the nicest in town.

Over a Billion Deadly Germs in a Single Drop of Water

Germs are so small that there may be as many as one billion, seven hundred million of them in a drop of water. And just a few of these tiny germs, if they get into your blood through a cut in your skin, may make you so sick you will be in bed for weeks—may cause the loss of a limb through blood poisoning—may even infect you with that most dreadful and fatal of diseases, lockjaw.

Just because you can see no dirt in a cut does not mean that it is clean. You cannot see germs. The only safe and sane thing to do, is to thoroughly wash every cut, no matter how small, with Liquid Borozone, to kill the germs, and then dust it with Borozone Powder, to hasten the healing. Liquid Borozone costs 30 cents, 60 cents, $1.20 and $1.50; Borozone Powder, 30 cents and 60 cents, and can be had at H. G. Ramby Drug Store

Urges Terracing for Soil Conservation

LUBBOCK.—Making a plea for conservation of the soil in West Texas and giving some practical suggestions as to how it could be done, D. E. Dickson, agricultural agent at Spur, gave a practical address before the Farm Short Course held at Texas Technological College. It is generally thought, owing to the general level character of the country, that there will not be much soil waste in West Texas, but Mr. Dickson shows that this is not true and he points out that the production of the black land belt of Texas has been cut in half by soil waste. He thinks this can and should be prevented in this section.

Mr. Dickson said with reference to the rainfall: "We have exactly the same rainfall here that East Texas has from May to October inclusive. In East Texas they plant in April and bring crops into maturity in July. They have to plant in April to get past the boll weevil in August. The big point is to get it through July and safely to maturity in August. Over half of the April rains come in the last ten days of April. Through May there is average weather. During the first ten days of June is the rainiest period of the year. Then there are no other big rains until the last ten days of August. We must keep the rains during the first of June, to bridge across to the rainy period in August.

"Much of Plains land has a two per cent slope.

"A considerable amount of rain comes in the form of light, ineffective showers which are gone before night. During the years 1926, 1927 and 1928 the average rainfall was 29.23, 4.49 per cent of this was light, ineffective showers.

"It takes grass to make grass. It takes grass to save water and it takes water to produce grass. We lose more water off of grass lands than off of cultivated land.

"We did not think at first that we had problems of soil losses. We lost 40.71 tons per acre in 1928. It is impossible to save soil without saving water, and impossible to save water without saving soil. In milo crops there is more tons of plant litter left on top of the soil than from cotton. This has an effect on wind erosion. It also has a direct bearing on water erosion.

"Seventy-five per cent of the land in this section can have all of its water saved. Terracing helps to save the water. It is not a hard job. They should be wide.

"In the black lands of Texas the crop yields have been cut in half by soil waste. Practically every man here is familiar with the fact that the black lands of Texas are not as productive as they were 50 years ago. Losses are much greater in East Texas than here. Soil losses will never be as great here as at those places. It is our duty to ourselves and posterity to preserve the land. We have a lease in it only for the time we live on earth. We should think of generations coming. Putting manure on the land is one thing and keeping it there is another. We are going to get the best results by keeping it there. We can never replace the soil that goes off with rainfall. Anything that furnishes an obstruction of water movement is a thing that adds to the amount that goes into the ground. We have been studying for 20 years about saving water in soil. The country has turned not to the wasting of water, but first to getting water in the soil."

Question: Should ground be terraced if it is practically level?
Terracing would not do any damage, even though the ground is level. It doesn't take much of a slope to water to move lots of land. Much land here has a fall of 3 inches in one hundred feet. The friction is so little that we do not have to have much slope.

2. What about terracing land with stalks?
Remove them. Just as a case of having a cotton crop where worms destroy the cotton—you won't accomplish anything until you turn the stalks under. Burning stalks on wheat land will save moisture better than turning it under, but it will not keep up soil fertility nor prevent blowing.

WHAT HIS MOTHER KNEW.

Mrs. Ruth McEnery Stuart's imitation of the negro dialect is excellent, and her small son, who was very proud of her accomplishment in this line, frequently boasted of it among the other children. Once, when some of his schoolmates were vaunting the accomplishments of their various mothers, he was overheard to declare:

"Well, my mother is smarter than any of yours. She can speak two languages."
"What are they?" demanded his companions.

"White and colored."

Farmers Can Best Apply Group Effort

Group action is required in certain phases of the farmers' business today. Any forward-looking program must consider efficient production, economical marketing and purchasing, and better living, declared Chris L. Christensen, economist of the United States Department of Agriculture, in an address before the Farmers' Institute, at Anderson, Indiana.

Farm production under present-day agricultural conditions is primarily an individual act, but marketing farm products and purchasing farm supplies, he said, can be done most effectively through group action. Mr. Christensen described progress of farmers' cooperation during the last fifty years, the development of large-scale organizations in the last ten years, and more recently the tendency toward the consolidation of cooperatives.

"The American farm of today," he said, "is no longer a self-sufficient unit. Many farmers are specializing in the production of a single crop, and must purchase most of their food. Cash outlays for feed, fertilizers, farm machinery and seed also form a large part of the expense of operating many farms. Group action is required in both the purchase of supplies and the marketing of products.

"Cooperative organization enables farmers to apply modern business methods to the assembling, grading, financing, distributing and selling of farm products. The farmer as an individual has no control over the conditions under which his crops or livestock products are sold, whereas farmers associated in groups are in a position to exert such control and to secure the results of more efficient marketing.

Christensen cited, as illustrative of recent tendencies of cooperative organizations to consolidate, two types of large-scale cooperative associations: the federation and the centralized large-scale association. The federation of 450 cooperative creameries in Minnesota and Wisconsin were cited as an example and also the large cooperative livestock commission agencies.

"We have today 25 cooperative livestock commission agencies operating on 19 central markets," said Mr. Christensen. "Those cooperatives are expected to handle this year livestock valued at about $290,000,000." The California Fruit Growers Exchange was also cited, a large-scale organization composed of 220 local packing-house units which are federated into one selling and distributing agency.

The 16 large-scale cotton marketing associations, it was stated, are now establishing local units, and becoming more nearly like the federation in form of organization.

News of Texas Told in Brief

DALLAS.—Erection of an airplane hangar large enough to accommodate the largest airplanes now flying was announced today by Love Field here. The new hangar will be 100 by 200 feet.

HOUSTON.—Captain William Christl, 50, cotton factor, former city alderman and member of Hood's Texas brigade, died at his home here today. For 30 years he had been a resident and had played a prominent part in business, social and civic affairs.

PEBBYTON.—In the election here Tuesday to determine whether this city should issue bonds to the extent of $45,000 for paving 14½ blocks in the business district, the vote was 8 to 1 in favor of paving. This sum will be added to approximately $100,000 to be paid by property owners.

LA GRANGE.—John Kollaja, 52, farmer, was buried at Fayetteville today. He died from hemorrhage of the brain brought on in trying to force open the back door of his automobile which his daughter was driving.

AMARILLO.—Prisoners shouted, whistled, sang at the tops of their voices at 10 o'clock last night, when, when out went the lights in the county jail. Silence followed. To guard against a possible riot or attempted break, Sheriff Will N. Thompson called members of the city detective squad to stand guard outside the jail with riot guns, while an electrician located the trouble—a blown fuse.

BORGER.—Bernstein is the name of the newest town on the Amarillo-Liberal line of the Rock Island. It is located in Hansford county on land owned near the north end of the county by Capt. J. Bernstein, a retired sea captain.

DALLAS.—Ardell Landers, negro, was tried, convicted and sentenced to death here today for the murder of Joe Piccola, grocer, while a jury in another room of the court house was deliberating the fate of M. L. Lacy, negro, alleged companion of Landers in the crime. Landers' trial was one of the speediest in the county's history. It was the fifth death penalty inflicted by juries here since the Christmas holidays.

WASHINGTON.—The preliminary fight on freight rates on wheat from Texas points is to be held before Interstate Commerce Commission Examiner Archer at the United States court rooms, Amarillo, May 24.

LUBBOCK.—Tuesday, April 23, is the date chosen by the city commission for holding the special $75,000 city bond issue election, to provide funds for the creation of a municipal airport.

SEALY.—Santa Fe passenger train No. 20, running late, plowed into a Katy freight train which had stopped across its right-of-way before the depot here, lured four box cars from the track and injured five workmen standing on the station platform.

LUFKIN.—Roofs of buildings at Zavalla were demolished, all vegetation around the city leveled, automobile tops and bodies ruined and traffic halted in the worst hail storm in its history, according to reports received here. Zavalla is 12 miles from here.

KERRVILLE.—Workmen excavating on the banks of Guadalupe river have discovered bones of what is believed to have been a prehistoric animal. The largest, apparently a thigh bone, measuring about four feet in length, was uncovered 12 feet under the surface. Other small bones were found.

YOAKUM.—Trapped on the second floor of their home by a fire believed to have started from escaping gas, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jaresh and two daughters, Dorothy and Edith, were forced to leap from a porch in night clothes. Both Jaresh's legs were broken and Mrs. Jaresh suffered one broken leg. Dorothy suffered a sprained ankle.

HOUSTON.—Counsel began arguments to conclude the murder trial of Thomas F. Whiteside, Jr., young Houston attorney, whom the state contends so frightened his wife, Rosa, that she jumped to death from a second story window to avoid him.

CANYON.—Final preparations are complete for the annual meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society which will take place here Friday, March 29.

HOUSTON.—John Henry Kirby, millionaire Houston lumberman, probably will be a Democratic candidate for the governorship in 1930, it was learned here.

SLATON.—Slaton will have a modern creamery in operation by April 10. It was officially announced here Tuesday. The plant has been partially financed by stock sales to nearly 200 Slaton farmers and business men.

WOW!

Mr. Nance—"How much is five and two?"
Jack—"Nine."
Mr. Nance—"No!"
Jack—"Alright. We'll leave it to mother."

Jack asked his mother the question.
"What would you have if you had two dollars and dad would give you five more?"
Mrs. Nance—"Hysterics."

We owe a great deal to the Pilgrim Fathers, says a Boston editor. All right, let 'em sue.—New York Evening Post.

Painter Made Devil's Face "More Awful"

NYED, Sweden, March 27.—A bill submitted by a church interior decorator nearly a hundred years ago, now in the archives of the Nyed parish church, itemizes the services rendered as follows:
"Altered the Ten Commandments and repaired the Sixth."
"Polished Pontius Pilatus, put new furs on his bonnet."
"Put new wings on the Angel Gabriel."
"Expanded heaven, improved the fires of hell and made the devil's face more awful."
"Cleansed the Red Sea, which was really very dirty."

MUST HAVE MEANT JANUARY.

A merchant in a Wisconsin town who had a Swedish clerk sent him out to do some collecting. When he returned from an unsuccessful trip he reported:

"Yim Yonson say he vill pay ven he sell his hogs. Yim Olson say he vill pay ven he sell his wheat and Bill Pack say he vill pay in January."

"Well," said the boss, "that's the first time Bill ever set a date to pay. Did he really say he would pay in January?"

"Vell, Aye tank so," said the clerk. "He say it bame cold day ven you get that money. Aye tank that bame in January."

An Unpleasant Subject

All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 35 cents per bottle from H. G. Ramby Drug Store
