HAIL THE GLORIOUS DAY OF INDEPENDENCE!

Building of Boulder Dam to Start Soon

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 23.—Secretary Wilbur, weary from two days of intensive inspection in the Boulder Canyon dam vicinity, left here today for San Francisco after promising the citizens of this city that work on the big dam in the Colorado river would begin as soon as final plans could be drawn and certain legal questions settled.

The promise meant much to Las Vegas, where employment furnished by the construction work will relieve a situation brought about by the town "booming" when the legislation was passed six months ago.

Hundreds of persons looking for work, hearing that the government was going to build Boulder Dam, flocked here and now are living in tents and shacks. On every side the great American desert stretches, making it impossible for the stranded moneyless people to get away.

The permanent citizenship of the city, built in the lower middle of the great desert around a great artesian well, has done its best to care for the stranded people, but in spite of these efforts, there has been, and still is, suffering.

In addition to the influx of laborers for whom there was no labor, many substantial citizens have looked askance at a land boom that blew over the section like a desert sandstorm. No lots have been sold that were under water, but a large number have been sold sight unseen, where there is no chance of ever getting any water.

City officials estimated today from reports received from the water department that at least 2,500 persons have arrived from the outside since the Boulder legislation was passed. These people did not know that the law was not effective for six months and that construction probably would not be started for seven or eight.

Wheat Not Damaged By Last Rains

AMARILLO, June 24.—Rain which fell over widely scattered sections of the Panhandle, Sunday afternoon and night did but small damage to wheat and other small grains and will be of great benefit to grass, row crops and cotton, according to reports received here yesterday.

The rain was heaviest over the North Plains area, with virtually that entire section reporting from one-half to two inches of moisture. Harvest scheduled to start in full swing in that territory Monday, will be delayed several days.

Dahart, Spearman, Canadian, Pampa, Borger, Stinnet, and White Deer reported one inch or more of rain.

Widely scattered showers fell throughout the South Plains country.

Testing Gold Sands At Allenreed

ALLENREED, June 26.—The placer gold sands, four and one-half miles south of Allenreed, are being tested by a party of research men of Dallas.

Dr. W. W. Sands, J. B. Apperson, J. F. Roark and I. J. Thompson compose the party now on the ground with a unique machine adapted to the removing of flour gold from sands without using chemicals.

The men are said to have had many years' experience in placer mining and will make a thorough test of the gold-bearing sands, which were discovered several years ago.

Hamilton Trial Is Moved to Weatherford

AMARILLO, June 29.—R. H. Hamilton, charged with the slaying of Tom Watson, Jr., will be tried at Weatherford, Parker county, probably the latter part of October or early in November.

Weatherford was named early Wednesday by Judge Henry S. Bishop, after attorneys in the case had met for the third time without reaching an agreement. The matter was left entirely up to Judge Bishop, attorneys stating that they had disagreed so long they had no suggestions to offer.

City Pleads for End of Terrorism

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn., June 26.—Declaring that previous appeal to President Hoover "to end the terrorism inflicted by federal customs patrolmen engaged in prohibition enforcement," has remained unanswered, a resolution memorializing the president to respond to the "pleading of this community" was forwarded to Washington today by the city council.

HEMSTITCHING.

Bring or send your hemstitching to Mrs. H. A. Douglas, Muleshoe, Tex., Box 74. 6-20-29c

Hereford Assns. Settle Differences

SWEETWATER, June 23.—Differences between the Texas Hereford Association and the American Hereford Cattle Breeders' Association which had been brewing for months and which threatened to disrupt the parent organization, were ironed out in Sweetwater Thursday when a meeting, called as a war dance and ending in a lovefeast, brought the two associations to terms and ended for a time at least, the proposal that Texans set up their own registering body.

Some 75 Texas breeders were here for the conference, called by President John M. Gist of Odessa. They came most of them with more fuel to add to the branding iron fire of dissatisfaction that was boiling in the Texas association, and they left with the pot of trouble set aside to cool.

R. J. Kinser, secretary of the American Association, Kansas City, and Albert K. Mitchell, president of the national body, were the oil on troubled waters. They agreed, without protest, to request of the Texas breeders that this state be furnished a full-time field man at no expense to local breeders, and the meeting ended.

Tenant's Land Law Held Unconstitutional

AUSTIN, June 19.—The tenant's land law, enacted at the instance of former Governor James E. Ferguson in 1915, after he had been elected to office with it as the principal plank in his platform, was declared unconstitutional and void by the supreme court today.

It provided that a landlord should not charge rental to exceed one-third of the grain crop and one-fourth of the cotton crop, where the tenant furnished everything but the land, or more than one-half where the land owner furnished everything except the labor.

The provision was attached to the landlord's lien law, enacted in 1874, which provided that a landlord should have a preferential lien on the property of a tenant to secure rental due.

The court held the amendment "void and of no effect in its entirety." It violated both the state and federal constitutions, the court said.

Cow Vetoes Gov. Moody's Resolution

TYLER, June 22.—Governor Dan Moody participated in a milking contest here today, but was disqualified when the cow kicked over the bucket and Col. C. C. Walsh, governor of the eleventh federal reserve bank district, captured first honors.

The contest was a part of the celebration incident to the opening of a new milk products plant here. Governor Moody told the guests that he had been reared in the dair business and that he was fifteen years old before he knew what it was to sleep after 4 o'clock in the morning.

New Marriage Law Not So Popular

AMARILLO, June 19.—Texas' new marriage license law is not so popular in Amarillo and vicinity, if the records at the county clerk's office can be taken as evidence.

The law requiring the filing of "intentions" three days in advance, accompanied by a health certificate of the bridegroom, has been in effect since June 13, and only two applications had been filed last night, and only one of the two certificates applied for had been issued.

LAMB COUNTY COW HEADS COW TEST BY MAIL ASSN.

Black Beauty, owned by J. E. Holladay of Fieldton, has the distinction of being the highest butterfat cow in the Cow Test By Mail Association organized by county agents of West Texas, for the first month of the organization. This cow, a grade, made a total of 53.7 pounds B. F., leading the second by several pounds, having a record of 43.2 pounds, and owned by a man in Shackelford county.

Through this association the men who are in this work are finding out just what kind of cows they really have, and are finding where herd improvement is essential in the up-building of the dairy industry. It is hoped that before many months are passed, Lamb county cows can always lead the association in butterfat records.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their greatly appreciated help on June 24 when our home and household goods were burned. We wish you all to know it was appreciated more than we can put into words. We thank you all for each kind deed and each kind word spoken. May God bless you.

H. M. GILBERT.
ORALEE GILBERT.

Next Thursday is the Fourth of July—the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence of these United States. This anniversary animates and gladdens and unites all American hearts.

The American nation is 153 years old. Its history spans so momentous an era that there scarcely remains a material thing to remind today of yesterday, and none dares prophesy that tomorrow will not undo and forget both.

Some one has said "the Declaration of Independence is the grandest, the bravest, and the profoundest political document that was ever signed by the representatives of a people."

The Fourth thrills with the glories of past deeds: of Washington and Valley Forge, of Betsy Ross, Lincoln at Gettysburg, the Yanks at Chateau Thierry. Whether future Fourths will throb with new stories as full of vigor and good citizenship depends on us; on the security with which we this day pledge ourselves to the cause of good government.

Many persons will observe the day in the old spirit, but for many others the glorious Fourth seemingly is become little more than another holiday, giving rest from the breadwinning routine and opportunity for recreation without any formal observance or patriotic manifestation.

The best rule to follow in celebrating the Fourth of July is the Golden Rule. Any person who makes this holiday an excuse for tormenting others violates the prime purpose of our independence day celebration.

No matter how you look at it, the Fourth of July is the one day of the year that tells the great American story. The day that commemorates the clean, straight-from-the-shoulder character of the men and women who gave us the Land of the Free. Free to do and be the best that is in us.

Let us fling Old Glory to the breeze. Hail the Fourth of July!
"My heart and hand salute thee, dear Flag of Liberty."

Two Bull Circles Organized by County Agent D. A. Adam

Two bull circles organized under the direction of County Agent D. A. Adam, and financed by the First National Bank, under direction of J. C. Barron have been completed and the bulls delivered last Wednesday to the members. These bulls come out of two of the very best herds that could be found in Missouri, the county agent having spent some ten days making the selections, with the help of County Agent R. O. Dunkle of Hereford, and it has been stated that these two circles of bulls are some of the very best that have ever been delivered to the South Plains of Texas during the past few years. Also, each bull has a register of merit record behind the dams of the individuals both on the maternal and paternal sides. Each one of them trace back to gold medal cows, and some of them three times.

Following are the names of the bulls, and the keepers: Golden Dairylike Majesty—G. T. Guess; Bagot's Royal Majesty—Mr. Terry; Goldie's Gumbo Majesty—Mr. McCollum; Wonder Western Star—Mr. Sims; Rusite Ivy Raleigh's Oxford—Steve Sullivan; Rustic Ivy Raleigh's Victor—W. M. Pool; Rustic Ivy Favorite Prince—H. P. West.

The Farmers' Short Course of the A. & M. College is to be held at College Station, Texas, from July 29 to August 3. This week is set aside for the purpose of conducting a state-wide short course for farmers, and is attended each year, by some 4,000 farmers, their wives and children. It is expected that a Lamb county delegation will attend this year with County Agent D. A. Adam as their leader, and any one wishing to attend is invited to get in touch with the county agent so that he can make reservations for them. The Lamb County 4-H Clubs will be represented in full force, and they, too, are wanting the adults to go with them. Let's make Lamb county known at the Short Course.

To Ignore League and Prohibition

RIVER FOREST, Ill. June 21.—Strongly opposed to the intrusion of the church into politics, officers of the Missouri synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church have announced there would be no resolutions "urging the United States to join the League of Nations or get out of Nicaragua," passed in the 10-day biennial church conference opening here Wednesday.

"The platform of the Missouri synod," the church officers announced, "conceives its only purpose to be the preaching of the Gospel. It maintains no lobby in Washington. It advocates neither prohibition nor saloons."

"Individual members may feel very strongly on some of these points. They will not make their church a vehicle for driving these convictions somewhere."

"The efficient conduct and expansion of missionary undertakings and the strengthening of the synodical educational system will be the chief topic for discussion at the conference."

Mississippi Governor Scores White House

JACKSON, Miss., June 18.—Governor Bilbo in a statement concerning the entertainment of the wife of Congressman Depriest, negro Republican, in the White House Tuesday, said he was "not at all surprised at the Hoovers trying to give the negroes social recognition."

"His (Hoover's) inclination along this line was well known before his election and the people, especially the South, were so advised," said the governor.

"In the heat of the campaign last year many good people passed up the statement that Hoover favored giving the negroes social recognition. They thought the declarations were political propaganda."

"If the vote could be taken today, in the face of this disgraceful and shameful affront to the ideals and sentiment of the southern people, it is a safe bet that Hoover would not receive a corporal's guard south of the Mason-Dixon line."

Seek to Build Dams Above Boulder

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 21.—Applications for preliminary power permits for a $200,000,000 project including 13 dams on the Colorado River between the Arizona-Nevada and Arizona-Utah borders, were filed here with the Federal Power Commission by Fred T. Colter, president of the Arizona High Line Reclamation Association.

Colter stated the applications were made on behalf of water users under the projects named.

The 13 dams, Colter said, would develop an aggregate of 5,000,000 horse-power and would be located above the proposed Boulder Canyon dam for which congress has provided legislation to build it.

Wants Wisconsin to Manufacture Liquor

MADISON, Wis., June 20.—A constitutional amendment which would permit the state of Wisconsin to engage in the manufacture, transportation and sale of intoxicating liquors "to be consumed away from the premises where sold," was introduced in the state senate by Senator Bernhard Gettleman, of Milwaukee.

151 Millions for Farm Aid Signed by Hoover

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Hoover today signed the farm relief appropriation bill making $151,000,000 immediately available for the use of the newly created federal farm board, the personnel of which is expected to be announced shortly.

LADIES OF THE CHURCH OF CHRIST BIBLE STUDY.

We had nine members, and one visitor, Mrs. C. T. Vessels of Leveland, present at Mrs. Hutto's. We had a new member to be enrolled, which is encouraging. But we will have to remind some of our old members that they are getting rather slack in their attendance.

If any of our out-of-town friends chance to be in town on Tuesdays about 2 o'clock, we insist that you come and be with us in our study.

We meet with Mrs. J. B. Foster next Tuesday.

Our lesson will be the Conquest of Canaan, continued; Scripture covered, Josh. 9 to Judg. 1.

Let us talk about these weekly meetings to our friends and encourage them to come. In so doing I think we will be better prepared for our revival which, if I am not mistaken, will begin Aug. 12.

Weimhold Corrects False Report

To Poultry Raisers of Lamb County and Surrounding Territory:
It has come to our attention that a report is being circulated that we will not buy eggs from home people, any other season. This report is false, every word of it.

For two years now, we have been exerting every effort to aid the poultry people of this section to build up worthwhile flocks of pure-bred poultry, with the primary object in view of obtaining ALL our hatching eggs from home territory in the future. It is greatly to our advantage to buy at home, providing we can secure the right quality of eggs. This season, we have been greatly handicapped in having to order eggs from a distance. Shipping eggs tends to lessen hatching quality, and we have missed much profit that might have been ours had we been able to secure our eggs at home.

Of course, there are a few simple conditions that must be complied with in order to make your eggs desirable for hatching purposes.

First, your flock must be thoroughbred. Mongrel mixtures will positively not be accepted.

Second, eggs must be produced and handled under conditions that will guarantee a good degree of fertility and vigor in the chicks. This will also include health of the flock.

The manager of the hatchery is ready at all times to aid his customers, by advice and personal attention, in bringing and keeping their flocks up to standard.

Don't let evil-minded and irresponsible people delude you into the belief that your eggs will have to be thrown onto the open market next season. There will be a market right here at home for all acceptable eggs, up to our full capacity.

To Hike State Tax to Limit by July Next

AUSTIN, June 24.—The state tax rate will be raised from 54 to the maximum, 77 cents, in July.

This has been stated by members of the legislature and confirmed by Treasurer W. Gregory Hatcher, member of the automatic tax board which will make the increase.

This means there will be $7,000,000 more property taxes collected in the next two years than in the past two.

Appropriations now being made are based on the maximum rate of 35 cents for support of the government, instead of the 22-cent rate that applies this year. Members of the appropriations and finance committees have conceded that the maximum rate will be required to meet the lowest of two sets of appropriation bills.

And Treasurer Hatcher predicted the legislature likely will create a deficiency beyond the total revenues under the highest rate allowed by the constitution.

Kills Wrong Woman; Murderess Surrenders

CUMBY, Texas, June 24.—A victim of mistaken identity, Mrs. W. E. Reid of this city was shot and killed here late today by Mrs. Oscar Cross. Mrs. Cross surrendered at once and at first refused to make a statement, but later told County Attorney Emmet Thornton that she had killed the wrong woman.

Mrs. Cross was liberated tonight on a $10,000 bond.

The shooting occurred on Main street in front of the postoffice. Mrs. Cross firing four times. One of the bullets struck Mrs. Reid in the head, killing her instantly.

County Attorney Thornton told a representative of the Greenville Morning Herald that Mrs. Cross had made a statement to him, saying that the bullets had been intended for a Dallas woman supposed to have been in the vicinity at the time.

Wheat Harvest in Full Swing by Mid-Week

AMARILLO, June 22.—With more than 300 carloads already shipped, the harvest of the 1929 wheat crop is expected to be in full swing throughout the Panhandle by the middle of this week.

The harvest neared the peak on the South Plains Friday and Saturday and is gradually moving northward. Plainview, Tulla, Lockney, Floydada, Hale Center, Abernathy and other South Plains cities report a constant stream of trucks and wagons bringing the golden grain to the elevator.

Farmers are jubilant over the rise in prices during the past week and since their yields in the majority of instances are larger than expected, they are more than pleased with the outcome.

Railroads report an ample supply of cars and do not anticipate any shortage whatever.

"BOOST OR MOVE."

THE SCHOOL TAX VALUATIONS.

The News is not at all disposed to offer criticism of those of our citizens who are objecting to the recent action of the school board raising property valuations. It freely concedes the honesty of the objectors as well as their right so to object if they consider they have been unfairly dealt with.

But The News would like to call to the minds of these citizens one point in the matter which probably they have not considered—namely, that Sudan's school system is largely responsible for the present values of property in the town, and in fact in the entire district.

One Sudan citizen summed up the whole matter in few words when, in answer to the protest that valuations were too high, he replied pointedly: "All right; kill your school and you will have no cause to complain of high tax valuations." This gentleman is one of the heaviest taxpayers in the district, and told the board that all he asked was that they treat him as they treated all other taxpayers.

The gentleman was right. The one outstanding attraction that Sudan possesses for homeseekers is her school system, second to none on the Plains. It is the one and final convincing argument why the home-seeker should go no farther when seeking a place where he can not only rear his family, but where that family can secure the best high school education obtainable.

Yes, the gentleman was right. Kill or cripple our schools, and tax valuations will soon cease to be an issue. On the other hand, make a little sacrifice now if necessary, and property values—~~not merely valuations~~—will soon, if they do not even now, keep right along up with the tax valuations.

THEY PLEASE THE EYE.

Every shrub and every plant and every flower adds to the beauty of Sudan. People plant flowers to gratify their own sense of the artistic and to please the eyes of those who pass by. A flower in the front yard looks vastly better than a weed. Pretty flowers are a splendid tonic. Indifference to the other fellow's rights is responsible for many of the annoyances, the irritations, the tragedies. The person who snatches another's flowers is actuated by the same disregard of the other fellow's rights as the man who hurls up passersby, the burglar who rifles homes and the reckless autoist who knowingly endangers lives and limbs. No such person has the community spirit.

HEAP OF DIFFERENCE.

The country boy is early in bed and up early. He eats heartily of ham and milk and eggs and of all the fruits of the field. He breathes uncontaminated air, and his constitution is hardened by infinitely varied physical labor. He feasts on vitamins. He soaks up violet rays by the ton. His exercises make all setting up movements look light and simple by contrast. And yet some so-called experts say this lad is not so healthy as the youngster who bats a tin can in the city alley. Huh! Some fellows have a keen sense of humor.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON.

As the father dashed gallantly up the hill at San Juan in Cuba, so will the son peacefully ascend the slope at San Juan in Porto Rico to occupy the governor's mansion. These San Juans are not so very far apart at that.

FESTIVAL OF LIGHT.

Amarillo Daily News.

In Atlantic City there is taking place an historic event—the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the incandescent lamp by Thomas Alva Edison, the electrical wizard and benefactor of mankind.

Few men have lived to see their vision realized and reaped the rewards therefrom as has Edison. From the simple feat of wrapping an ordinary thread around his finger, Edison evolved the electric lamp which was achieved on October 21, 1879, and from the light which Edison thus produced in his little ramshackle New Jersey laboratory, there has grown an industry capitalized at $23,000,000,000 in the United States alone. His little electric lamp was the forerunner of the whole great electrical industry.

With the incandescent lamp came man's conquest and master of darkness. Even if it had ended there, Edison would have been entitled to all the laurels and praise that have been bestowed upon him. But that was only a beginning or starting point for some of the greatest activities in the world. In the same eventful year Edison designed a better dynamo; then came the motor and this led to the development of the central power plant with its distribution of power for private and industrial consumption. This needs no further comment.

All this has come about in 50 years. Today a great Festival of Light is being held to celebrate the initial event. It is a celebration international in scope, but too much honor and homage cannot be given to the man who has so revolutionized the entire world in such a short time.

LAMB COUNTY DAIRYING ON INCREASE; TWO BULL CIRCLES COMPLETED IN LAST 30 DAYS

Realizing the necessity of the up-building of the dairy industry and knowing that through purebred bulls the production and butter fat records of cows can be built up most economically, County Agent D. A. Adam is entering a great deal of his time on the organization of bull circles, and the importation of bulls out of register of merit dams.

During the past fifteen days the county agent was in Missouri selecting ten head of bulls and three heifers for use in Lamb county territory. Eight of these have gone into circles, four to each circle, and two to privately owned herds, making a total of 25 pure bred bulls in Lamb county at the present time. County Agent D. A. Adam was accompanied to Missouri by County Agent R. O. Dunkle of Hereford, who helped in making the selections.

The two circles that have been organized are located in the Sudan territory, and were financed by the First National Bank of Sudan, under the direction of J. C. Barron, cashier. According to the county agents who selected these bulls, and went to the records attached to them, it was found that these circle bulls are eight of the very best that have ever been brought to the South Plains of Texas. One circle is composed of Line-bred Oxford You'll Do bulls and Line-bred Oxford Majesty bulls. These were purchased out of the herds of Mr. Earle Thomas, of St. Joseph, and Mrs. Mary Culver of King City, Mo., two of the best developed herds in that state. All of these bulls have a 100% B. P. average behind their dams.

Fruit prospects in this section of the South Plains are as fine as could be asked, according to several farmers who have trees on their places. One may drive out in any direction from Littlefield and see young orchards coming to maturity, all of them heavily laden with the fruit now setting on the branches and developing into luscious maturity. ##### THAT TEA PARTY.

The Democrats of Texas and the South are peeved and the Hooverites of the same section are plumb mad! And it's all about a tea party! There have been other historic tea parties in our country and if the Washington episode stirs up as much of a mess as the Boston event did, we're liable to have a lively summer. The first lady of the land has surely started something and the nigger congressman and his wife have added fuel to the flames. Politics makes queer bedfellows and it is an illuminating example of the "gratitude" of political parties that the first Republican president who has ever split the democracy of the "Solid South" by polling a considerable southern vote, amounting to a majority in some of the states, should be the first executive to publicly slap the face of the South by an affront which southern congressmen will find it difficult to overlook. Never before has a nigger woman been entertained at the White House and it seemed scarcely necessary to start such an innovation, knowing full well how the South would take it. Evidently, the nigger vote in Illinois is worth more to the Republican party than the goodwill of the southern states. Southern legislatures which happen to be in session, including Texas, have gone on record as condemning the action. Mrs. Hoover and much section feeling which all loyal Americans must keenly regret, has been engendered by the incident. The South was not prepared for such a blow and the Hooverites are chagrined to find that their "idol" has "feet of clay."—The Southwest Plainsman.

COTTON EXCHANGES SHOULD BE REGULATED.

(Farm and Ranch.)
The future markets for cotton in the United States are operated almost without restraint or supervision by the government. No outsider knows of the deals which advance or lower the price of cotton; no one knows how many million bales are sold short, and no one can control the manipulations on the part of speculators and gamblers. To remedy these defects and to make possible the publication of information regarding operations on exchange, Congressman O. H. Cross has introduced a bill very similar to the grain futures act and asks its passage. The grain futures act, if strictly enforced, would greatly reduce the amount of gambling on the grain exchanges and prevent violent fluctuations. This act has been reviewed by the United States supreme court and held to be valid. Therefore it would be valid if applied to cotton.

While the grain futures act has never proved to be of large value to the producers of grain, it is because of the most liberal interpretation of its measures by the administration officials. It is hoped that in case cotton producers are given a similar act, public sentiment will force a more rigid adherence to its provisions. As it now stands, neither producers nor manufacturers of cotton can use the exchange as a place to sell or buy the staple. Manufacturers do not even hedge their purchases and producers are forced to market on the basis of the chalk marks on exchange boards. The activities of the exchanges are more than 95 per cent gambling.

Lamb county has good crop prospects. It looks to the writer at the present time that Lamb county and most all the surrounding territory has about the best crop since 1926. Most every one who was here at that time remembers how great our hopes were at this time of year. Then to have cotton, and most everything else we had to sell, drop so low by the first of November that we could barely afford to harvest it at the prevailing price.

When any crop drops below the cost of harvesting, the farmer knows better than to look to the cotton exchange, or any other exchange, for help. So right about this time when considerable influence is being brought to bear on the producer to persuade him that his co-operative organizations have not been of much use to him, he would do well to look back to the 1926-27 season and see if he received much help from the great cotton exchange when cotton as good as we grow here sold for ten cents per pound at harvest time, with the loss falling directly on the grower.

It has taken so many years to prove the value of cooperative marketing that it would be about the most foolish thing we could do at this time to let our confidence weaken just when help is in sight from the farm marketing act.

Wheat has gone up more than ten cents per bushel just on the threat of help from Washington. Surely the cotton farmer will have as good a chance as the grain grower if he will just stand by his organization and have his business in shape to use the help when the opportunity comes.

SAYS HOOVER TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR SUCCESS OR FAILURE OF FARM AID BILL.

Some of the leading newspaper writers who seem to be secretly hoping for the failure of any kind of farm legislation, now come out boldly with the statement that it is up to President Hoover to make the marketing act a success or a failure, and that the blame will all be on one man if it fails, etc.

They know very well that any plan, to be a success, cannot be entirely satisfactory where selfish people are refusing to cooperate with those who are honestly trying to make the United States a more desirable place for the farmers, and all other useful trades. Then if there is any room for criticism they will howl loud and long about how they knew all the time that it would not be satisfactory, when its success could have been possible if the business interests would enter heartily into trying to help, instead of standing idly by, hoping for failure.

THOSE PANHANDLE WINDS.

(The Southwest Plainsman.)
Trees will not grow in the Panhandle! Neither will flowers bloom, and no resident of this section can expect to gather any fruit, no matter how much he plants! Everybody knows these things and is more than willing to spread the news to the world. And it's all on account of the wind! Such being the case, of course it's a waste of time and money to purchase, plant and care for flowers or fruit or trees—but anyone driving around Amarillo can scarcely fail to note that the citizens have made a rather remarkable showing in the face of these "can't be done's." To be sure, housewives who counted upon having a nice array of canned cherries in addition to sundry cherry pies, found that they had reckoned without the neighborhood kids who didn't even wait for the fruit to get ripe. Never before have property owners been subjected to such bold-faced pilfering and it is high time that something be done about it. Possibly it would be better for the morals of the rising generation if the "can't be done's" had prevailed, but, wind or no wind, the impression has got abroad that most anything will grow in the Panhandle and just a lot of folks are putting over any number of hazardous stunts along the line. Speaking of wind, one wonders how, in the light of statistics, this region ever came to have the reputation it has acquired in this particular. Nobody appears to think that Dallas has an excessive amount of wind, and yet a comparison of the figures for Dallas and for Amarillo furnishes some interesting facts. For instance, in 1927, the total wind movement in miles for each month was greater in Dallas than in Amarillo, and in all but one month, the maximum velocity was greater at Dallas than at Amarillo. May of that year was the one month when the maximum velocity at both points was 46 miles per hour. In March, April, May and November of that year there was a greater total wind movement each month at Dallas than the weather bureau records at Amarillo showed for any month of the twelve-year period from 1916 to 1927. Out of those two hundred and forty-four months, the maximum velocity at Amarillo exceeded fifty miles per hour just one time. The maximum for October 1916 was fifty-two miles per hour. At Dallas, in the twelve months of 1927, six showed a maximum velocity of fifty miles or over, and in August of that year, the maximum was sixty-six at Dallas and 27 at Amarillo. Dallas folks, as well as people all over the country, get a lot of kick out of telling "windy" stories about Amarillo. Of course, they are not greatly concerned as to whether what they say is true or not. It's a pity to spoil a good joke by too close an adherence to the truth and Amarillo and the Panhandle have certainly survived many a joke of that sort. It really doesn't matter a bit, but we are reproducing these figures just to "keep the record straight."

TRY A BLOW-TORCH.

THE TRADE OF GUNMAN.

Boonville (Mo.) Advertiser.
Much of the news of today is highly colored and sensational, but we do not always see how it differs from that of former years. One of the sinister new developments is the rise of a type of people ordinarily referred to as gunmen or gangsters. These people are one of the worst types ever developed in the history of the world. They are reckless fellows, ready for brutal enterprises, and to use their weapons for a price against anyone whose presence is deemed inconvenient.

It is customary to blame all these developments on the world war, and it could hardly be denied that that had much to do with it. During such a war as the last one, the spectacle was presented for four years, of human life being blotted out on a vast scale. A great many coarse and brutal people acquired a contempt for human life, and they were ready to take it on slight provocation, particularly if they were paid a price for so doing. Hence the trade of gunman.

But the whole blame for such characters can not be placed on the war. These creatures must have escaped early from home control. They came in contact with good influence in the schools, but their hard hearts did not respond to appeals to virtue. They learned enough from books so they could make a fairly good appearance, but they refused to accept any moral lessons.

The coarse hearts of these brutal gunmen will not in many cases be softened, though the right kind of penal treatment sometimes works wonders with tough criminals. But the community has its chance to prevent a new generation of such desperate characters from coming up to plague it. If every boy had a chance to develop a normal mentality, an opportunity for normal play to work off his spirit of adventure, we should have few gunmen and gangsters.

USE CALCIUM ARSENATE TO CONTROL WORMS ON COTTONWOODS, CHINESE ELMS

It is noticed by the county agent that the cottonwoods and elms in the county are being eaten up by worms, and it is recommended that calcium arsenate be used in the control of these. This should be sprayed on at a rate of about 5 pounds to 50 gallons of water. It is very effective, and will give a hundred per cent control. One should be careful to keep all the calcium arsenate stirred up in the barrel as it does not dissolve, merely hanging in suspension in the water, but is very effective. This poison will stay on the leaves until it rains and washes it off. Any other information desired can be obtained from the county agent.
