First National Bank Sudan Passes Half-Million Mark

December Statement Indicates Prosperity of Sudan and Community.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Sudan News will be found the statement of the First National Bank of Sudan. This statement reflects the condition of the institution at the close of business December 31, 1929.

It will be noted that the statement reveals total resources of $507,265.34. Note also that loans and discounts total $291,212.21, while demand deposits total $435,295.87.

This is a statement of which every patron and friend of this institution should be justly proud. Very few are the banks in this state the size and age of Sudan that can make a statement even approximating these figures. The figures evidence a confidence in the integrity of the institution which should be very gratifying to every person connected with the bank. And for this comfortable state of affairs the splendid personnel of the institution should have full credit.

This institution is headed by V. C. Nelson, president, with P. E. Boesen, vice-president; J. C. Barron, cashier; Herman Lyles, assistant cashier, and all ably assisted by a competent corps of clerks and bookkeepers.

These officials are worthy representatives of the solid business interests of Sudan and Lamb county. All stand high in the respect and confidence of their fellow citizens. They are loyally supported by a board of directors representing the flourishing business interests of Sudan.

With the continued growth and prosperity of Sudan and her trade territory, the future of this institution is bright.

A. H. MCGAVOCK FOR COUNTY AND DISTRICT CLERK

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the announcement of Mr. A. H. McGavock for re-election to the office of County and District Clerk for Lamb county.

Mr. McGavock comes before the voters of the county on his record as a public official and as a citizen. He is now serving this county the second term in this office, and points with confidence to his record of service. He has in every instance endeavored to conserve the interests of his constituents, and has given to the duties of the office his most zealous and constant care.

Mr. McGavock made the race in the last election without having an opponent, which goes far to indicate the confidence placed in him by his county people.

Mr. McGavock states plainly he seeks the support and influence of every voter of Lamb county; he promises service to the best of his ability, and will remember with deep appreciation every vote cast and good word spoken in his behalf.

LADIES OF THE CHURCH OF CHRIST BIBLE STUDY

We were very glad to have five ladies present for Bible Study Tuesday. The bad weather and sickness prevented several from being present.

We had a new member enrolled. Mrs. B. R. Beck. Mr. and Mrs. Beck have just moved here from Lubbock. We are glad indeed to have them with us in the Church. The class meets with Mrs. J. B. Powell next Tuesday. We want to meet as soon after noon as we can, for we are to quilt awhile.

We urge all members to be at the meeting. And visitors are welcome at all meetings.

MEET THE CATCLAW MAN.

T. C. Johnson, the Catclaw Land Man, has located in Sudan and engaged in the real estate business. Mr. Johnson is well known here having been connected with the Panhandle Lumber Company for a number of years. He says that after traveling over many counties in Texas and other states that he has decided Sudan was the place for him.

B. Y. P. U. SOCIAL.
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moore entertained the Senior B. Y. P. U. with a social at their home Wednesday night. About thirty people were present. A number of games were played.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cocoa, cookies and fruit were served. The B. Y. P. U. people wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Moore for the fruit. Everyone present had an enjoyable time.

Must Reduce Cotton Acreage, Says Board

Says Last Year's Cotton Acreage
Too Large. Pioneers May Be Under 16 Cents in 1930.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. — The Federal Farm Board is anxious to reduce the cotton acreage in the South during the coming season and has issued a statement urging the farmers in the cotton growing states to not only diversify and grow food and forage crops but to limit their cotton planting to land which has produced an average of at least a third of a bale to the acre during the last five years.

The warning is given that last year's cotton acreage was too large. Greater, in fact, than any in history save 1925 and 1923. The board, in its statement, says: "Nothing but the crop failure in Texas in 1929 prevented a total yield of 16,000,000 bales in the '29. That is more American cotton than the world will take at a fair price."

Had there been a yield in 1929, such as was produced in 1925, it is declared the crop would have been 17,500,000 bales, while a 50 per cent reduction in the 1929 acreage, even with the yield in 1925, would have given a crop of 15,500,000 bales with the average yield would have produced 13,500,000 bales.

Stress is laid on the fact that whereas the 10,000,000-bale crop of 1923 sold for $1,500,000,000 that the 15,000,000-bale crop of 1923 sold for less than a billion dollars. Thus, it is urged, although they picked and ginned 8,000,000 more bales during 1926 than they had in 1923 the farmers of the South not only did this work for nothing but paid $600,000,000 for the privilege of doing so.

Continuing, the statement says: "Some cotton farmers think that because the Federal Farm Board has been leading to co-operatives at an average of 15 cents a pound on middling 7-8 inch staple of the 1929 crop, the board means to see to it that the price will be at least that much for the crop of 1930. This is not so. The Federal Farm Board can not protect farmers when they deliberately over-plant. What the board will do to help in marketing next year's crop will depend upon what farmers do at planting time.

"If Southern farmers should raise their own food and feed and in addition to that should raise food that Southern city people eat so far as the climate and soil will let them, there would be small danger of any cotton surplus or of an unprofitable price. The Federal Farm Board recommends that Southern farmers plant no cotton next spring unless they have first provided acres high for a reasonable supply of home-raised food and feed. The board further recommends that no land be planted to cotton which has not produced at least one-third of a bale per acre on the average of the last five years."

"JIMMIE" BRITAIN FOR COUNTY TREASURER

In this issue of The Sudan News M. M. (Jimmie) Britain announces himself a candidate for re-election to the office of County Treasurer of Lamb county, subject to the will of the voters of the county in the coming Democratic primary.

Jimmie, as he is familiarly known by his many friends over Lamb county, is a native son of Texas, being born in Bosque county. He is a graduate of the high school of Meridian, also of Meridian College. He has been a citizen of Lamb county for the past seven years, and has proven himself a successful business man, both in his private affairs and in the conduct of the office which he now holds, which he has conducted efficiently and honestly. His books, regularly examined every three months by the county commissioners and audited each year, have always been found correct.

Jimmie asks The News to express his deep appreciation for the confidence reposed in him by the citizens of this county by electing him to this responsible position, says he believes he has conscientiously and correctly fulfilled his duties, and upon this basis with the added experience of the past, he feels he can handle the duties of the office even more efficiently in the future.

Quoting from the auditor's report for 1927, Mr. Britain's work is complimented in the following manner: "The records of the Treasurer's office are well kept and no difficulty was encountered in arriving at an analysis of the accounts."

Also, in the auditor's report for 1928 the auditor again takes opportunity of complimenting him in a similar manner for the excellence of his accounts.

A MESSAGE To the People of Lamb County

As we enter the new year lying out before us, with all its possibilities, the publisher and the editor of The Sudan News feel that a message to the good people of Sudan and the surrounding territory will not be out of place.

Nearly five years ago the publisher came to Sudan with his entire worldly goods in a boxcar. He had previously surveyed the possibilities of Sudan, and decided to cast his lot with her people, "sink or swim, survive or perish." In this car, among other appurtenances, hereditaments, etc., was about a gallon of printers' type and a little old job press (the latter now sits in a remote corner of the News office, an eloquent reminder of a hard-fought battle which at this writing gives promise of being won).

The Sudan News was, with the backing and assistance of valued friends, founded and started on its career. Soon another and larger job press was installed, and for some time there appeared in Sudan a little four-page, five-column paper printed on this press. Later, the publisher was enabled to add to his equipment a real newspaper press and a linotype machine, after which The News began to assume the appearance of a real newspaper.

Since that time The News has, from time to time, added items of modern equipment until today its publisher confidently asserts that no county paper in the Plains country is better equipped in both the newspaper and job printing lines than the Sudan News. The News now has a modern Lee two-revolution newspaper press, than which there is none better in its line; a large Chandler & Price job press; a model 14 linotype carrying seven type faces; a printer's saw for both wood and metal; wire scaper, perforating machine, paper, punch, numbering machines, facilities for book binding, an ample supply of type or many modern faces for both ads and jobs, in fact most anything needed in a modern printing plant. And whereas in the days past, hand or foot power was needed to propel the various pieces of machinery of the old plant, now each piece is electrically driven by its own individual motor; even the metal for the linotype being melted by a modern heating system, automatically controlled, with power taken from the high lines of the Texas Utilities Company. The foregoing has been all paid for in the past five years and is free from encumbrances.

Our readers will pardon us for all this enumeration when we state the publisher feels that a very large portion of the success of The Sudan News is due to the loyal support accorded it by the good people of Sudan and surrounding territory. Without this support our most strenuous efforts would have availed naught. For this we thank you one and all—business people of all lines, readers, loyal friends who have had a good word to speak for us in our struggle, when every good word counted—we thank you from a full heart.

And now we enter a new year of endeavor. What it holds of good or ill for us and our friends, no man may know. However, with the firm confidence that the people of Sudan and surrounding territory will support us in our efforts to give them the best newspaper possible, we enter the new year with no thought but of success.

From the publisher, from the editor, from the entire News family, this message is sent to every citizen of Sudan and Lamb county, including also its loyal friends in surrounding neighborhoods:

May the year 1930 fulfill for you your most cherished hopes; may the sun of happiness and prosperity light your pathway; and may each be enabled to add his or her quota to the total of human happiness.

Fire In The Nation's Capitol Endangers Valuable Documents

ECHOES FROM SCHOOL PLATEAU

The Grammar School.

This department is the fastest growing department of the entire school. A number of the grade rooms are simply overflowing with the increase of pupils. There are nearly thirty more pupils than desks in our division. Some of the rooms have enrolled nearly 60 pupils, and few of them have fewer than the maximum of 35 as allowed by law. Our total enrollment to date is 683 with an actual attendance of 608. Our urgent need today is more teachers, and more money to pay the increase in teachers.

Our group study work is moving on very nicely. This plan helps us to get more time which is an asset where we are so crowded. Many of the pupils who have been out for weeks often running into months are drifting back into school now. These pupils must be cared for, or their entire year will be lost.

Mid-term examinations come this week. Next week will see us through year promotions. We shall then start in on our newly adjusted situation.

High School

The office reports much work being done clearing the way for our meeting of the Interscholastic League. This meet will take place this year with Sudan Schools. We hope to make ourselves known to our contestants are already taking much interest in this work, and more are going into it almost daily.

At a meeting of the county executive committee in the office in the local high school, January 2, it was decided to set March 21 as the opening day of the meet, arriving it through to next day. Arrangements for track and field contests will be the biggest problem in getting ready for this meet. Mr. Tillman Carter, coach at Olton, is athletic director of the county, and he has promised to come and help get the field ready. Rooms in the building will be made ready to serve as headquarters for the different schools. It is planned to use the high school building as headquarters for all literary events.

School is daily growing in enrollment and in attendance. Records are being daily broken. Our total enrollment has reached the figures of 882. Our actual attendance record is 793. Our heaviest bus total was Tuesday of this week when the ten buses carried in 424 pupils, although there was a drift of sleet and a low temperature. There are now a number of pupils more than there are seats for them in school. Probably the most serious condition facing the schools, however, is lack of funds to care for such a great increase in student body. The entire people of the Plains may be cramped for funds in this way for a number of years, the time depending upon exploitation of its raw lands.

One of the serious problems facing the people of the Plains where there are no gymnasiums in their schools is the new law requiring teaching of physical education. This law does not go this year, so it may yet be saved in most instances.

Misses Taylor, Bowlin and Reeves were in their home towns last week-end. Miss Taylor extending her visit to take in Dexter, New Mexico while she was home. Misses Bowlin and Reeves only accompanying Mr. Reeves to Lubbock.

The basketball teams have won games over their opponents at Felton last week, the girls winning by a score of 17-2; the boys by 18-12. Both our coaches played most of their reserves, Miss Runnels playing every one on her team. This week these teams and the junior boys, as well, having games for Friday night. The girls will play Muleshoe at Muleshoe, while the teams of the boys will go with Messrs. Aldredge and Jenkins over to Morton.

The Debating Clubs.

The debating club met at the home of Mrs. W. A. Peachey last week for their regular meeting hour. Dan Lewis is another member recently added to our club list.

This club is now working hard under the direction of Miss Craghton getting ready to send our representatives against other schools of the county in practice debates. We hope to win honors for Old Sudan High this year in debating in the county meet. The debate tournament will be fought out at Lubbock this spring except the two best teams each, boys and girls, the two best in the county contesting in the County Meet to see who shall be our representatives in the district.

Janers.
The junior class is at work on their annual play. We expect to use the funds from this play to defray the expenses of our sen-

Breaks Out in Artist's Room Beneath Roof. Valuable Documents Are Damaged.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3. — Fire blazed more than 30 minutes tonight about the dome of the capitol of the United States.

Originating in the room of a capitol artist, it damaged the documents of the house and sent flames shooting toward the great figure of liberty on its top while thousands within the parkways stood by in fear that the historical building would be destroyed. More than 20 fire companies were called to fight the stubborn blaze which at first smoldered beneath the roof and then broke through to shoot shafts of reddish hue into the air. The blaze could be plainly seen all along Pennsylvania Avenue and from the White House itself, where a Christmas eve blaze burned President Hoover's executive offices.

Carl Moberly, the artist, was found almost suffocated and was moved to an office of the building. The capitol officials immediately began an investigation to determine whether a carelessly tossed cigarette might have caused all of the damage.

MEETING OF PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

There will be an evening meeting of the Sudan Parent-Teachers' Association at the high school building Thursday, January 16, at 3 p. m. There will be a program as well as a social time and everyone interested in school and home is cordially urged to be present and have a good get-together.

The Parent-Teachers' Association is an organization meant "to raise the standard of home and school; to develop wiser, better trained parenthood; to bring into closer relation the home and the school; and to help develop good citizenship." Every community needs such an organization and Sudan must not lag its coming citizens. We must get behind the school and show that we are interested in the best for our children. We are proud of our school—let us prove by our presence Thursday night that we appreciate the close relationship between home and school and the cooperation that should exist, and exist, between them in our own community.

MAINTENANCE DEPARTMENT OF STATE HIGHWAY IS MOVED TO SUDAN

The State Highway has moved its maintenance department from Mueshoe to Sudan and has located Roadmaster Butts and his crew here. The department has just completed a large warehouse and storage building on the highway south of town where road machinery and supplies will be kept. This gives Sudan an addition of five or six families.

or-Junior banquet.

Three new members have entered this class, Dan Lewis, Villa Cartmill and William Mohley.

Seniors.

This class has planned for its memorial this year a concrete walk from the high school building to the street. It will begin work on it immediately after mid-term and hopes to see the fruits of its work long before school closes.

We have had none of the increase in pupils, still keeping our thirty-eight enrollment with our thirty-five attendance record.

Freshmen.

We have five of the new pupils this week, and feel that we shall still have several more.

We are crowding this week getting ready for mid-term examinations which come this week. We ALL hope to be sophomores next year.

Two of our new pupils this week have entered the freshman home economic class, making this class twenty-three members now. We have already more pupils in that class than we have equipment to furnish. Should others come in we shall be at a loss for something for them to work with. Ida Lynn Herrell, a sister to one of the grade teachers, Mrs. A. K. Boyd, spent a day recently assisting the freshman class.

The Pep Squad.

This group of fighting pupils hopes to back the debating teams in their coming contests. We shall stay by them all we possibly can. We are looking forward to spring training for football boys. It is useless to say that the three girls who ordered their honor sweaters for their pep squad work are proud of them. They are cheap, serviceable, and distinctive. We hope to have them in a few days.

The squad, accompanied by some guests, had the joys of a hay-ride last week-end. We were under the direction of Mr. Aldredge, and spent several hours Saturday just riding about.

"BOOST OR MOVE."

RESUMING A DISCUSSION.

It is our purpose to bring to your minds two great questions relating to the future of Vocational Agriculture in the Texas schools. These two are: technical knowledge and practical experience. Possibly these two should be the last in the discussions, but as it is coming time for school boards to begin selecting men for instructors for next year, we wish to emphasize these phases early.

As it is generally conceded that an institution of any kind can not well go beyond its head and organizer, we shall develop briefly the requirement for the director. As the director must at times appear before college men and at other times appear before the tenant farmer of the state, it is very necessary that he be well qualified in both knowledge and experience. He should be developed to a high degree in professional ethics. He should know the real relationship of the superintendent to the board and to the community, and respect the same.

It would be a laughable farce for a state director who is lacking in technical training in agriculture to appear before a group of college men, who have their B. S., M. S. and Ph. D. degrees in agriculture and attempt to explain to them why their institution is not yet qualified to give instruction and training of sufficient quality to get men ready to go on the job. The director, as we see it, should have training equal to theirs. If his qualification are fully equal to those of the men whom he consults, then his arguments will have weight. If he wishes to aid the men on the job, he should have technical knowledge equal to these men.

One of the greatest assets for a director is first hand knowledge or training, and this can be obtained only in the school of experience. Henry Ford and Edison tell us that what they became was from and through the school of experience, and not from a swivel chair in an office. As a rule the editor climbs the ladder from the devil up. Lacking this experience, a director may go into an exhibit room prepared by farm women, and his antics will remind you of a pet bull in a chinaware display. Lacking experience with the farm life of the tenant the director will go for a short drive among the tenant farmers and he will remind you of the old time boy with his first pair of long trousers and a date with his Sallie. He does not know what to do with either feet or hands. He attempts to put hand and arms into his pockets, and at the same time appear owly wise. He puts his foot into it. Yes, he puts his foot into the future of agriculture simply because he does not understand the problems of the life of the tenant farmer. Why do we refer to the tenant farmer so often, you may ask. It is because in many parts of Texas the greater part of the farming is done by the tenant.

Following the above discussion, it is not difficult for the layman to see what we should like to have required of the vocational agriculture instructor.

First, he should have sufficient practical, technical knowledge that he may assist those with whom he labors; and, second, he should have sufficient practical experience to get him acquainted with farm problems and the life of the farmer.

We believe that the future success of vocational agriculture must depend solely upon the men who are on the job. If we are correct in this, for several years to come the men should serve their apprenticeship as farm boys, then be given a high school training in agriculture, and follow with at least four years of college agriculture. All of his course should deal with the problems of the farmer and farm life. That is, we mean the courses in technical agriculture. He should have related courses, too. We could name these. During his last two years of college work he should be given practical work in class organization and how to put the matter over. After this college work he should be given two or more years of apprenticeship on the ranches or farms in the section in which he will begin his work. This training would possibly be best given as a ranch or farm hand and he should develop at least one or more projects vital to that section. In all of this training he should never forget the training of the future citizens of Texas, for at times this is far more important than the training of the F. F. T.

A man who does not know from experience the difficulties in getting six mules hitched to a disc plow with the thermometer registering 30 degree F. and the wind making fifty per, is not qualified to give advice to a farmer. If he has not had experience with a tractor in zero weather, again he is not qualified to give information along the tractor line. If he can not cut rafters and put them in place during a high wind on the Plains, he is not trained as a shop man. If he can not reline the Ford brakes and put them in place again, he is not yet ready as a shop man. If he can pull a Stromberg carburetor on a cold Sunday morning and take it to pieces, clean, reassemble and get his car going without ruining a suit of clothes and disturbing the peace of that section, he is getting ready to be a shop man. If he knows colic from milk fever and what to do for it, he is becoming useful. If he knows typhoid fever, roup, worms, etc., among fowls and what to do, he is becoming still more useful.

If the vocational man knows the things above, and others, and how to teach them to others and get stay on the job, he will not need to put in a large part of his time tying knots and making rope in a section that never uses a rope. If he can teach the boys practical problems of the farm and how to solve them, he will not need to devote fifty or more per cent of his time to stock judging in a section where the only stock left are the milk cows and a few hogs for the farmers' own use. The efficiency of many teachers falls fifty per cent or more below par because they fail to become acquainted with the community and its needs. They do not give service over the week-end. They refuse to become acquainted with people. They do not know the pupils in their games. They do not know the pupils and the people where they actually live, but only in the forced atmosphere of the school room.

In concluding this chapter, we shall ask that you give us the things that we suggest herein and we will not need the "Linear Mies of Bull" that is getting so much weight toward promotion. Give us only a small part of the things that we suggest herein and the "Bull Spreader" will go the way of the Texas longhorn, and a modern basis for sound vocational agriculture in the schools of Texas will have an opportunity to make strides of actual progress.

WAR IS COSTLY.

President Hoover says 72 per cent of every dollar paid into the U. S. Treasury goes for army, navy, pensions, war debts. Probably some European countries can beat that percentage. That's about the best argument there is against any future war.

OUR FRIENDS.

The second hardest thing to do in life is to make friends. The hardest is to keep them after they are made. The one thing finer than the keeping of the friends of our early days is the holding of our friends for a lifetime.

WORTH-WHILE EDITORIALS

INLAND WATERWAY IMPORTANCE.

(Amarillo Daily News.)
The importance which the Hoover administration is placing upon inland waterway development is most strikingly shown in the recently issued report of the war department for the fiscal year, 1929. One half of the report is devoted to that question while less than one quarter of it discusses the purely military functions of the war department.

Referring to the improvement of rivers and harbors for navigation, the late Secretary Good said that the program being carried out by the war department "constitutes one of the commanding civil activities of the federal government," and discussing waterways in general, he said: "Cheap transportation is a corner-stone of nation-wide industrial and agricultural prosperity, and by improving waterways or navigation we are making possible the use and expansion of our most economical form of transportation."

President Hoover has long been a devoted advocate of inland waterway development. He gave it work a mighty impetus in his speech at the dedication of the opening of the Ohio river. He will undoubtedly see that the provisions of the river and harbor act of 1927 are carried out to the fullest extent possible.

As to the late Secretary Good, his report was an unusual and significant document for the war department. He had not completed it when he was fatally stricken and taken to the hospital for an operation from which he did not recover. He gave detailed instructions for its completion, however, and Secretary Good's last piece of work will stand as an important milestone in the progress of our internal national development.

THEY WANT TO BE FAIR.

(The Dallas Morning News.)
The Sheboygan Press writes the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers' Board to reconsider its broad forbiddance of dealers to offer for sale within that state Texas citrus lands. The Press would not encourage rascality any more than Texas would. But it notes that the Chamber of Commerce of San Antonio and the governor of this state have officially protested, and fears that if Wisconsin does not give Texas a square deal the people of this section will be inclined to feel ill-will toward the Badger State.

The editorial is full of the spirit of fair play, and undoubtedly expresses the real sentiments of Wisconsin more nearly than the seeming hostility of the brokers' board. The Press doesn't ask the board to permit the sale of questionable lands to Wisconsin persons. But it realizes that people from that part of the country come down to the Rio Grande to buy, raise grapefruit and oranges, ship them back to Wisconsin and get good honest dollars for good honest Texas fruit.

Twenty years ago the action of the board would have been supported wholly by the facts. It may be supported in part by the facts now. But there is plenty of profitable citrus fruit land in Texas and there are plenty of absolutely reliable dealers of and in this state. Texas wants Wisconsin people who know how to grow citrus fruit, or who are smart enough to learn how, to come to Texas and grow it on their own land under their own supervision. And in the meantime Texas appreciates a comment of broad view and friendly tone such as the Press offers. After all, Texas and Wisconsin do a good deal of business together. It profits neither of them to try to get the better of the other of them.

COLLEGE
Without doubt all college students and professors will enjoy the wit of the following story, though the educational application isn't always strictly true. A group of professional men had gathered in the lobby of a hotel, and proceeded to make themselves known to one another. "My name is Fortesque," one said, extending his hand. "I'm a painter—work in water colors." "Indeed," chimed in another, "I'm an artist, too. I work in bronze." "Well, this is fine," a third broke in. "I'm a sculptor—work in stone." Then a quiet little fellow who had been inclined to keep apart stepped up with a dry smile. "Glad to make the acquaintance of you gentlemen for I have a common interest with you. I'm a college professor. I work in ivory."—Texas Outlook.

Electric Cooking

The causes which underlay the success of electric cooking are many. To begin with, it is far the most convenient method of preparing food in the household kitchen. A turn of the switch turns on the heat, there is no fire to build, nothing to be lit with a match, no fuel to bother with.

Automatic control, too, adds much to the convenience of Electric Cooking. A meal is placed in the oven and, without further attention, its cooking will be started and stopped by automatic control. Its cleanliness also commends it to the modern housewife.

Westinghouse Electric Ranges

We handle the very best Electric Range on the market, and can recommend the Westinghouse to you as being thoroughly dependable as well as economical.

Mechanical Step-Mothers for Chicks

This Article Should Help the Beginner Materially in Choosing the Type of Artificial Brooding Most Suitable to His Individual Requirements.

One of the penalties of being regarded as an authority on anything is having to answer all sorts of questions more or less closely related to your specialty. One of the many questions that I am called upon to answer quite frequently is, "What type of artificial brooder do you consider best?" I invariably reply that there is "no best system and no best device." Any of the devices and systems now in general use will give satisfaction if the manufacturer's instructions are carefully followed. A brooding system should be so arranged that it can be easily cleaned and disinfected; it should be guarded against fire; it should be able to develop high temperature and distribute heat evenly; it should be easily ventilated.

The terms brooder and hover are rather loosely used by many people. Strictly speaking, a hover is that part of the brooding apparatus which confines the heat to a given place and to which the chicks have access for warmth. It is usually a circular metal canopy shaped to deflect heat downward onto the backs of the chicks just as it would come from the body of a hen. It is sometimes adjustable to various heights and is quite often surrounded by a slit curtain to confine more of the heat to the area beneath it.

Many types of heating plants are used. A kerosene burner is the most common form, although coal, gas, hot water and electricity are also used to furnish brooder heat. If an oil burner is used it should be so constructed that the flame cannot be easily blown out or smothered and there should be some provision for the easy escape of fumes into the open air as they are very harmful to young chicks. With coal heaters it is also necessary to have a good draft.

Small portable lamp hovers having a capacity for from 50 to 100 chicks are deservedly quite popular as they are small and are easily cleaned, simple to regulate and offer little fire hazard if ordinary precautions are observed. They are usually circular in shape. A centrally located lamp is surrounded by a metal drum which carries the heat up against a metal canopy which deflects the heat downward. The canopy is usually surrounded by a curtain to confine the heat and slits in the latter allow the chicks to come and go as they please.

Large stove brooders are in quite general use and have much to commend them. In principle, they are much like the portable brooders mentioned above except that they omit the inner drum and the surrounding curtain. As they radiate heat over quite an extensive area gradually decreasing in intensity with the distance it travels, the chicks can find almost any degree of heat they wish. With this type of hover poultrymen can take care of 5000 chicks or more.

A plan which offers many advantages to the poultryman is the Colony Brooder system. A large hover or brooder of from 200 to 400 chicks is placed in the center of a colony house and a temporary fence of one-inch netting is put around it to keep the chicks from scattering. The size of the enclosure is increased from time to time as they grow and need more room. The advantages of this plan are obvious. If disease develops, for instance, it can be confined to one colony house, or in case of fire only one brood of chicks will be destroyed. The colony houses used are of the regular type familiar to all practical poultrymen.

There is a comparatively new system of brooding called the "battery brooding system" that I have seen in operation in several different states, and in most of cases is giving satisfaction for the production of early broilers, etc. These batteries are made up of compartments about 3x4 feet and four to six of these are usually built on top of each other. The floor of each compartment is made of 1-2 inch mesh wire and about 2 inches beneath the wire is a galvanized pan which catches all the droppings and is removed and cleaned every morning. About 100 chicks are put in each compartment at the start, but the number is reduced as the chicks grow. When the chicks are old enough to determine the sex, the pullets are usually put out in a regular brooder and raised for layers and the cockerels are left rapidly as possible for broilers.

In Texas and in other southern states, electricity is the usual heat in the batteries, while farther north hot water heating systems are usually installed. The advantages of this system are the small space required and the sanitary measures afforded by the wire floors in the battery compartments.

EXCERPTS FROM THE HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

Home Demonstration Club work was begun in Lamb county September 21st, 1929.

Home visits were made in nearly every community in the county. Eight Women's Home Demonstration Clubs have been organized with one hundred sixteen active members and five Girls' Clubs composed of one hundred and eighty-five members.

The work with the women has been principally nutrition and food preservation. Nutritional work includes demonstrations and lectures as to food value on the following: school lunches fruit cakes, salads and salad dressings, and candy making.

Many women found that fruit cakes could be cooked in about one-half the usual time by using steam pressure cookers. There is also a great saving in fuel.

Food preservation work has been the canning of beef and chicken. Three beeves have been canned as demonstrations in which steak, roast, chili, meat loaf, stew, and soup stock of a total value of one hundred eighteen dollars and forty cents ($118.40) have been preserved.

All girls' clubs are starting their required work in clothing by mastering the fundamental principles of sewing.

Saturday, November 23, 1929, a county council was organized. The council, with the agent, have a year book for 1930 in the hands of the printer. This book contains programs for each meeting in 1930, the canning budget, the productive diet, and other valuable information.

Congress is again in session, together with the various lobbies.

1930 Review of Littlefield

Littlefield is surrounded by everything you want—Good Climate, Agriculture, Stockraising, Dairying, Poultry, Hunting, and Good Roads. Littlefield has improved streets, good schools and churches, and as progressive citizens as has any town in the State. The value of money is what it will buy—the necessities, comforts, luxuries of life. Money spent in your section to buy these things for its people stays here where each and every person shares in the new profits its trading produces. More modern conveniences, a wide social life greater business activity—in fact, a far-reaching, ever-growing wave of benefits to every citizen of the section follows the practice of buying in your own section. Littlefield manufacturers, merchants and professional men help financially to support our civic improvements. They donate to our church affairs, to advertising space in this and that program (which in most cases is merely a donation), in fact do more than their share in dozens of worthy causes each year to help make "Our Section of the Country a Better One in Which to Live." Surely it is not asking too much when we ask that when you shop, "Try your home town and neighboring towns first." We have never heard of a mail-order house contributing to our civic improvement.

Tremain, Norman & Company

Positively Everything in Farm Implements, Machinery and Supplies. Service includes Full Line of Repairs and Parts. Under the Management of Men Whose Past Experience Enables Them to Give Valuable Information on Any Problems That Confront Farmers of This Section. This is the Home of the International-McCormick-Deering Line of Farm Machinery.

The Tremain, Norman & Co. establishment of Littlefield, deals on a large scale in farm implements, farm machinery and supplies, and are popularly known throughout this section as "Farmers' Headquarters," featuring the famous International line. In this review of Littlefield we are glad to give commendable mention of this popular house and the men who own and manage this successful business. Carl C. Tremain came to Littlefield when there was practically no city but only a railroad stop. In fact, the railroad had only been in one year when Mr. Tremain decided that he would cast his lot with others to help build "A Good Town" in "A Good Country." He was farming when he started in this district, and has since been County Commissioner and is at the present time a trustee on the Federal Farm Board. During the entire sixteen years that he has been a resident of this section he has studied the needs of the district. Since he was a farmer himself, he naturally studied the particular needs of the farmer in this soil and climate, and consequently is in a position to give much valuable information upon the needs of the district in farm equipment.

In 1927 James E. Norman came to Littlefield, and after having spent fourteen years on the road covering all of the principal farming sections of the country, decided that Littlefield was "The Place." He and Mr. Tremain established the present business on December 1st, 1927. Mr. Norman had spent years in the implement business in the capacity of road man for various implement houses, and was traveling for the International people when the partnership was formed. His years of experience with different lines of farm equipment taught him that there was no better than the famous International line, so this business was started as a 100 per cent International, and has continued to the present time. The Tremain-Norman business has, like the county and city, grown beyond all expectations. On Dec. 1st, 1929, Messrs. Tremain and Norman decided to expand the business. So Mr. Charles O. Akard was taken into the firm as an equal partner. Mr. Akard has, like Mr. Norman, seen fourteen years of experience as he was with the International people in the office and on the road. It goes without saying that with Mr. Tremain's years of experience in this section and Mr. Norman's and Mr. Akard's years of experience over all sections of the country studying the needs of the farmers and helping to solve the problem of making each acre produce its top capacity, this concern's management is in a position to render service that is unexcelled by any concern. One particular feature of the service of this popular concern is their courtesy and understanding. They are never too busy to pass the time of day with any one who happens to stop in this favorite trading place. There is that feeling around the place of not "knocking." Just come in and call for Carl, Jim or Charley and be assured of receiving intelligent advice and information without a feeling of any obligation on your part. The farmer of today, who wishes to secure the maximum return from his land and labor, must keep pace with the inventions in farm machinery, and the farmers are indeed fortunate in having the services and modern stock offered by this wellknown house.

John H. Arnett Motor Company

EXPERT WORK BY EXPERT MECHANICS.

Located in Littlefield with phone 24, the John H. Arnett Motor Company is the Mecca for tourists from all the states, the local autoist and native citizens when in town, and offer the glad hand to every one whether they need a little service or just want some information.

This garage is among the best known garages of this section of the state. Service and supplies for the motorists are features of their very magnanimous service, and are sold as reasonably as any place in Texas.

They welcome all to Littlefield and ask them to make their place their auto home while in town. The management and assistants are thoroughly familiar with all the roads over the state and will be pleased to route anyone anywhere, give information upon the rapid development of this part of the state, as well as to see that your car is always ready to go. They make a specialty of their car repairing department and this department is in charge of very capable mechanics and has equipment to furnish the very best of work.

This popular firm also maintains a used car department and all used cars that are offered to the public are honestly represented. Here is one concern that it is possible to purchase a car from and have it honestly represented and get value for your money. This fact makes this one of the most popular garages with the motorist in this section.

The manager is courteous and accommodating and will be pleased to show you the advantages of patronizing this concern when in need of any kind of automotive service. We are pleased to compliment the firm on the efficiency of their service and the wonderful manner in which they have built up their large and growing patronage.

Hogan Dry Goods Company

CONVENIENTLY LOCATED IN LITTLEFIELD, FEATURING METROPOLITAN SERVICE.

Littlefield is the location of the well-known Hogan Dry Goods Co., which is one of the complete family department stores in this section, carrying at all times a complete stock of ladies' ready-to-wear, men's and boys' clothing, and furnishings, and a complete line of dry goods, notions, etc. Their buying power assures quality goods at prices which quantity buying affords, which is real service to the public; a most popular store which offers the best quality at reasonable prices, under direction of competent twentieth century business men, and merits the patronage of the surrounding country.

This is a day and age when the public demands not only magnanimous service, but the best in quality at a reasonable price. Thoroughly conversant with both the manufacturing, wholesale and retail conditions of the country and with a wide experience in their particular field of endeavor, the management of this popular institution has been able to render a service to the people in their line that is distinctly satisfactory. Real value, at the most reasonable price possible, has been the guiding influence of their policy and it has brought them trade from all the surrounding territory.

There is no more public-spirited citizen in the community than the manager of this well-known establishment, and in making this review of the progress of Littlefield, we wish to compliment him and direct your attention to this establishment as one of the reliable business institutions of the community that has added to the development and progress of Littlefield.

First National Bank

A BANKING SERVICE COMPLETE.

Located in Littlefield, The First National Bank is a modern banking institution under the able direction of financiers who have conducted its affairs in accordance with the great cardinal laws governing banking and finance. It has been a most important factor in the upbuilding of this section of the country.

Among the financial institutions of this part of the state there are indeed few which can show more substantial progress than this well known institution. From the date of its organization up to the present time they have been noted for their sound, energetic and conservative business, commanding a marked degree of confidence of their depositors and the public at large, a condition that is the aim of an executive board.

Another feature is the savings department, where courtesy and efficiency are always in evidence, and many who have enjoyed the confidence which the possession of a bank account gives to every man will find this savings department a stepping stone to success. Many people from the surrounding country have found this a very desirable place to accumulate quite a fund for the proverbial rainy day.

It is arranged not only for the convenience of the officials of the bank but as well for the accommodation of the public. Real magnanimous service to the public has been the policy of this bank since its inception, and thus the people have learned that it is the intention of the management that they should not only give interest, but show it.

It is quite fitting and proper in this review that we direct the attention of our readers to this bank as one of the distinctive features of Littlefield.

Conveniently located in Littlefield, with phone 168, the Home Bakery is one of the most widely known concerns not only because they maintain a modern, scientifically equipped plant which is under experienced and expert management, but also because the fame of their family high grade product has spread far and wide. Of course everyone knows their excellent service in this connection. When the people who handle important articles of food, and the place in which they are han-

Home Bakery

is as described above, it is safe to wager that what they offer is the best that money can buy.

So great has been the care in their efforts to give the people the most wholesome food that their hosts of customers have learned to refuse goods from any other establishments because they have confidence in their products.

Their bread is always crisp and fresh, it supplies strength and energy and is protected by a sanitary wrapper.

Their bakery goods are the very best that money can buy. They are baked under the most wholesome conditions, and the very best ingredients mixed and baked under the very freshest of conditions. Those who have never tried the products from this bakery are missing one of the accomplishments of the perfect meal, as hosts of people are praising the work of this concern and are demanding that their supply houses carry this excellent line of pure food products.

The standard of this institution is the best grade of flours, a pure shortening, sugar, salt, and other ingredients, mixed and baked under clean, sanitary conditions by skilled workmen. As a consequence they find the business of the institution spreading far and wide over this section of the state, and in this review of our progress we are glad to give commendable mention to their activities and to predict for the place even greater extension in the future.

Chisholm Studio

With a modern studio located in Littlefield, with phone 240, the Chisholm Studio is the art center for this section and enjoys an excellent patronage from Littlefield and all the surrounding territory.

In a review of this character it is eminently fitting that we devote some of our space to a testimonial of the excellent work performed at this studio in the successful practice of an interesting and artistic profession.

The art of photography which was introduced by Daguerre nearly a century ago has within the period developed from a mechanical trade to an art of science. As regards the photographer of today, he must be a person of advanced ideas and thorough training so as to successfully compete with those who are now making this profession an art. As this studio is in charge of finished photographers who have made a life study of this interesting and artistic profession, they never let an opportunity pass to improve themselves.

They have in this studio, which may be termed this section's art center, the latest mechanical devices for the production of artistic photographs, and are admirably equipped to produce anything in the way of modern photography to please the most critical.

In the artistic production of children's pictures they have gained well merited commendation and have an excellent display including photographs of many well-known people of this section. We might make this suggestion that a Portrait Picture will make an excellent gift and would advise our readers to make an immediate appointment for a sitting. The business is under the direction of a latter-day business lady who appreciates the value of good service as a trade winner and she and her associates are always anxious to accommodate their patrons.

Hammon Brothers Company

Located in Littlefield, With Phone 64, Operate an Up-to-Date Furniture Store, Under the Capable Management of Mr. Hammon.

The home builder of today has good taste and takes pride in the erection of a building with definite lines, and in order to have interior furnishings and decorations to match with the architecture, no matter whether it is Colonial or French in design, the furniture must match.

It is because of this modern idea in building that this store has a stock in such wide variety, produced by master furniture craftsmen and weavers of the world, and the most fastidious may secure here a service, no matter whether it is refurnishing of an old place or the furnishing of a new one that will make the interior beautiful and more than a mere house. This service represents the difference between the Hammon Company and just a furniture store.

Their department for rugs is one of the best. Not only do they carry a most complete stock, but they are also familiar with every feature of the rug business, both as regards quality and harmonious selections of proper floor coverings for each room.

Every shopping convenience is provided and you are made to feel at home and know when you buy that you are getting value and styles of the day.

Mr. Hammon, the manager, is making a reputation throughout the country for many miles around of treating every customer honorably and alike. With fair and honest business methods he is building up a large trade and when one goes to this attractive and complete store they know they will get value received for their money.

Yellow House Land Company

With Offices at Littlefield, Phone 40, Is headquarters in this Section for Anything in the Realtor Line and Enjoys the Patronage and Confidence of All the Surrounding Territory.

This is the day and age when conservative men are constantly seeking investments where they are not only assured a permanent source of income but a reasonable certainty of increasing in value, and the realtor is doing his full share to meet these demands. This locality is fortunate in having in its midst such a firm as this well known agency.

The Yellow House Land Company has made a close study of real estate conditions so that they could offer both the buying and the selling public the very best of service. They have on their books a large list of most desirable properties for sale, both city and farm properties, at prices and terms that could not fail to be attractive to the investing purchaser, and they have closed many important deals in this section.

This firm has always made it a rule not to show property listed at more than its true value and this is where their close study of local conditions renders them authorities on values. Knowing that the word of this firm is reliable and dependable, people have come to look upon them when seeking an investment or to dispose of property at proper price.

We take pleasure, therefore, in this review of referring to our readers this well known firm and you may be assured that when you have property of any nature to sell or want to purchase a home or a farm you will do well to see The Yellow House Land Company.

Hancock and Gentry Grocery Store

Successors to

Porter Grocery Store

A Food Department Store Where Quality and Service Meet. They Have Installed a Meat Market Which Has the Latest Refrigerating Devices to Keep Their Meats in the Freshest of Condition. They are Going to Close Out the Entire Stock of Dry Goods. We Request Our Readers to Watch This Paper for Full Announcement of This Sale in an Early Issue.

The Hancock and Gentry Grocery Store is one of the largest food stores of its kind in this section, doing an extensive business in staple and fancy groceries, meats, and maintains a first class establishment.

This is one of the reliable institutions of this section of the state doing extensive business throughout the territory.

By reason of the fact that the management has had wide experience in every branch of the trade, this establishment has continued to witness the increase in the number of its patrons.

It is important to citizens of the community that we have firms like this one, who will aid in the reduction of the price of living for the people. Their policy along this line will be interesting reading for many business men, as through this policy they have built their large and growing business.

Here the shopper can select anything he wishes from their shelves of freshly stocked pure foods and groceries. In their line will be found standard and famous brands. There are no more public-spirited citizens in the community than the management of this well-known establishment, and in making this review of this section, we are pleased to commend them and give them the prominent position their progress and reliable policies have merited. We assure our readers that at this store they will receive the best of treatment.

Littlefield Service Station

In Littlefield, with Phone 68, is a very popular stopping place for Motorists. They Feature Simms Gas, Quaker State and Mobil Oil, and Free Crank Case Service.

The Littlefield Service Station is a very popular place for the autoists from everywhere as people here always meet a warm reception and are given the best of attention.

They handle a fine line of gas, oils and motor lubricants, the use of which will greatly prolong the life of your car, and are prepared to offer the public the best of crank case service or give your car a thorough lubrication.

They operate a modern filling station where the very latest of equipment has been installed for the expeditious handling of the trade.

Expert crank case service is a feature at this station. All you have to do is to drive in and they will change the oil in your engine. This service is a great accommodation to motorists and aids in keeping the engine in fine condition.

No matter which way you may be traveling you can drive in here as they have a two-way place at all times.

They have only careful helpers always on the job and no matter what you want there is no delay at this place. They will fill your tank with gasoline in a minute and fill your radiator with water, look after the oil and keep you running smoothly.

They always insist that the very best attention be given to every patron and as a consequence people from every point of the compass are praising the excellent service at this popular establishment.

Dr. Maynard V. Cobb

Chiropractor and Radionist—Is a Three Year Palmer Graduate.

With offices in Littlefield, with phone 124, Dr. Maynard Cobb is enjoying a large and well merited clientele from Littlefield and adjoining territory.

As we think of the afflictions that mankind is accidentally subjected to we look at the smooth exterior of our body and wonder why.

But the more we know about ourselves the easier we can understand cause and effect. In the first stage of life the principal thing to be noticed is the brain. The brain being first, must be the medium through which Nature builds a complete body.

The baby is born with the organism working normally. As long as Nature can continue the constructive energy, the baby will grow and remain normal in every respect until like an old machine, it will finally wear out. If you were once well and normal, why are you sick now?

Dr. Cobb will prove to you that the so-called disease of the stomach, dyspepsia, headache, special nervous diseases and the nerve centers are due to interference with the constructive energy partially or wholly through pressure on the spinal nerves, causing disease wherever the nerve extends.

We wish to call our readers' attention to Dr. Cobb, who has a reputation above reproach, and is among our most successful chiropractors.

1930 Review of Littlefield

Littlefield is the home of friendly merchants who want to see their city grow into one of the most progressive little cities in this section. This section of the state is now enjoying a period of progress and prosperity. Littlefield concerns of all kinds—banks, merchants and manufacturers—can be depended upon to do their part to help this condition continue. If the residents of a district have to do their shopping in some distant city, the home community suffers accordingly. The wants, desires and demands of the entire population of the district are taken care of by your local and Littlefield business firms, who carry metropolitan stocks of quality merchandise. In our survey of practically every line of business in the city we find that these concerns, reviewed on these pages, carry stocks and give service that would be a credit to a much larger city than Littlefield. We also found that their merchandise was marked at moderate prices. Allow us to suggest that before you drive to some distant city to shop, "Try Littlefield Merchants First."

Jones Brothers Motor Company

The Jones Brothers Motor Co., Located in Littlefield, Offers Latest Oakland and Pontiac Motor Cars. They Want You to Call and Look Them Over.

While the Oakland motor cars are "winning and holding good will" throughout the nation, this progressive and popular automobile concern is building up and increasing its business through the same policies. It is the effort of the Jones Brothers Motor Co. to offer fine motor cars and a service which will win and hold for them this good will. With the Pontiac, never before have such engineering advances been offered in cars so attractive in price as Pontiac now offers. Ample capital, organization and resources combined with long experience in motor car building makes General Motors prices possible. It is quite fitting that such fine cars should have their home at the establishment of this up-to-date concern. The management here has had experience in the automobile business and maintains a policy of magnanimous service at all times. They also have a fine line of used cars which are offered at very reasonable prices. In all the new "All American Oakland" Sixes they have achieved a triumph of engineering. Its rubber silenced chassis, cushioned supports for the engine and its power transmitted through rubber allows the passenger to ride undisturbed by those noises so prevalent in the average motor car. These improvements added to the already famous list of unique features of the Oakland all work to the end that Oakland drivers will be the best satisfied in the world. The new Pontiac is powered by the largest six cylinder motor in any car costing less than $1200. It has a spring suspension and distribution of weight to prevent side sway and gallop. The new cars are well worthy of your investigation. Both cars are finished in Duco and have Fisher bodies. The Pontiac two-door sedan at $745 and the All-American Oakland Six at $1045 f. o. b., represent the utmost in motor car values of today, and you are referred to the Jones Brothers Motor Company for your motor needs with the assurance that you will be pleased with the service offered by this company.

Street and Street, Insurance

Offering Complete Insurance Service Covering Every Kind of General Insurance, Including Life.

They offer not only strong companies, but a service that is both magnanimous and metropolitan. They have an enviable record of service to the public during which time they have become one of the leading professional firms of this part of the state. Representing as it does some of the largest and strongest and most popular companies in the country, it is not surprising that this office is operated by insurance experts, and enjoys a large patronage in the insurance business of the community. Ever since it began operation it has been at the service of its patrons at all times, and is willing and anxious to give any information desired and assuring all persons that no obligation will be incurred merely by asking questions. There can be no question but that this is the day and age when insurance is one of the essential necessities of every individual. In making this review of Littlefield, we are glad to compliment them upon their standing in the business and professional life of the city, and refer their office to our readers as one worthy of the fullest consideration. The insurance department is very efficient and operated on a basis of complete service. All you have to do is to call the office on the phone and they will insure you in one of the leading companies, renew your policy when up, and if you have any trouble will aid in the adjustment of the loss.

They and their employees have at all times been ready to lend their wisdom and assistance to all propositions that promised the development of this part of the state. They have merited the support of the people which they have enthusiastically received. We take this opportunity to compliment them upon the success of the office and to urge upon the people that their service should be appreciated and placed first in the minds as they are aiding in the development of all the state which is to be the center of the world's most brilliant civilization.

Stokes-Alexander Drug Store

With Phone 14, in Littlefield, Are Offering Pure Drugs, Employ Competent Pharmacists.

This well-known firm is one of the most up-to-date and progressive drug stores in Littlefield, and has obtained a reputation during years of business for honest and courteous treatment of its large and growing list of patrons. For this reason the store is popular and its popularity is increasing. Many lines of goods are handled at this store, all standard, and of time-tried merit, and their store is so advertised that anything carried in a twentieth century drug store can be found here. Included in their list are toilet articles of every description as well as household remedies which have proved their worth in thousands of American homes. It is their policy to give out of town customers the same service they render their city trade. By means of their County Mail Order Department all mail orders are given the same prompt service as though called for in person.

The first requisite of any successful business must be courtesy, then quality at the right price must be offered. This has been the above concern's policy in conducting its business. They have directed their efforts to the end that their store might be headquarters for anything in the apothecary line. In this business review we wish to compliment this well-known and capable drug company for the manner in which it is serving the public.

Simms Oil Company

Distributors of Simms Gasoline, Oils and Greases, featuring Amalie 100% Pure Pennsylvania Motor Oils. With offices and distributing quarters located in Littlefield, are large distributors of Petroleum Products. Under direction of Mr. G. R. Sandidge. These products are available at Service Stations conveniently located throughout Lamb County.

With the rise of the automobile industry to first place among the industries of the nation, and automobiles by far the predominant means of transportation, there has arisen an entirely new business of oil refining and distributing, a business which has made itself an indispensable factor in every community. There are visible evidences of this on every hand. One apostle of the days gone by recently said in a mournful tone: "Wherever there used to be a saloon in the old days there's nothing but an oil station now." But seriously speaking, no business is more essential and valued than gasoline and oil distributing and we know of no better representative of this business than The Simms Company. With its products available at many of the more prominent service stations throughout the district, this company is prepared to serve the motorists in a most capable manner. Their business has grown by strides and carries prestige for no other reason than the high quality of its products and its efficient service to the public. Simms gasoline needs no coaxing to keep the motor running. Its full free vaporization is natural under all conditions, taking the scientifically correct proportion of air that means the clean dry, all burning explosion of true economy. Its ideal starting mixture, ready for the faintest hint of the firing spark or the heaviest pull of traffic emergency.

Burleson and Mason Company, Inc.

Offer Complete Home Furnishing Service, Also Complete Funeral Service. Good Furniture Is a Lasting Tribute to the Home You Love and to Your Appreciation of the Better Things in Life. "Invest in Happiness—Buy Furniture." They Should Reflect Your GoodTaste and Love of Beauty. This Concern is Stocked to Please

Located in Littlefield, with phone 77, the Burleson & Mason Co. establishment is one of the most essential features of this section. This establishment, under the efficient direction of latter-day business people, is replete with furnishings for the home and no matter what may be your needs in this line, they have it at a reasonable price. Standard makes of library tables, davenports, mattresses, beds, rugs and furniture of all kinds for the home. The management has won for itself a reputation throughout the country for many miles around, by treating every customer honorably and alike. Fair and honest business methods have built up for them a large trade and customers will get value received for their money. In a comprehensive business review of this kind, embracing as it does, the most salient features of our commercial progress, we cannot fail to devote time to the professional status of the community and justly so to a profession which is so essential as that of a modern funeral director. This community possesses an efficient representative in this well known firm. Since the foundation of their business, they have always been most careful to give the best service. Not only has this accrued to the benefit of the public, but has built for them a reputation that has spread for miles around. This establishment is complete from a standpoint of stock, and from it they are able to offer service that is unexcelled in any city. In keeping with the progressive yet reliable policies, they have kept in close touch with everything modern in their line of equipment.

Littlefield Trading Company

Successors to J. T. Bellomy Feed and Grain Co.

THIS FIRM FEATURES A MOST COMPLETE STOCK OF FEED, AND STATES THAT THEY WILL TRADE FOR ANYTHING.

Located in Littlefield, with phone 103, the Littlefield Trading Company are extensive dealers in feed and grain, featuring famous brands of poultry, dairy and mill feeds. To successfully conduct a business of this nature requires special study and care in selecting the stock. Farmers are no longer satisfied to feed their stock just any kind of feed, but require a feed that has been tested, and is of proven quality. This firm has given the question careful study, and consequently is aiding in the agricultural development of all the surrounding territory. They handle a full line of feed, both imported and local, and have given special care in selecting it so it will give the best results. Only feeds that are fat and milk-producers will be found in their stock and they are constantly in touch with their customers who have given it a trial. They make a special effort to serve the farmer and are glad to give him any advice or information he desires on any subject pertaining to their line, and as a result their business has grown until they reach out in every direction. Thousands of dollars are brought into this section every year thru the trade channels of this house, and a number of people are also given employment by this concern. The fact that their trade extends over all adjoining counties, their special field, bring new faces to the city in which they are localated. In making this review of the onward progress of this section of the country we wish to compliment the admirable manner in which the business of this valued institution is operated, and their progressiveness and public-spirited policies. We wish to refer this establishment to you as one of the distinctive features of the commercial efficiency of Littlefield.

BURNETT COTTON WELL ADAPTED TO LAMB COUNTY

After trying out several varieties of cotton in Lamb county, it has been found that Burnett cotton will mature in at least ten days less time than any other cotton. The experiment station at Lubbock has kept a record on cotton grown for more than fifteen years and has found that Burnett cotton is better for this country for at least three reasons:

First, it will mature at least ten days earlier than any other cotton known.

Second, it produces a good staple of from 7-8 to 1 inch in length.

Third, it is about the easiest cotton to pick that was ever tried out here, and when snapped, is very easy to gin on account of the extra thin rind burs.

Since there is so much difference in the price paid this year where cotton is shorter than 7-8 in staple, it seems to be time for the cotton growers of the South Plains to plant the kind of cotton that is about the surest to make, and also consider the kind of cotton that is in demand at a profitable price.

India is reported to be producing this season between four and five million bales of "short" cotton and where Texas cotton is grown it is shorter than 7-8 inch it comes in direct competition with the crop grown in foreign countries that is produced with cheap labor.

Of course there have been some years that most any variety of cotton would make some cotton in this country, but can a man growing cotton afford to take a chance on cotton that makes good only about one year out of three? It seems that the three leading varieties of cotton grown at this time here are Half-and-Half, Ocala, and Burnett. There are so many seed salesmen in this country at this time trying to sell their seed here because Lamb county seems to be a good field for most any kind of a "salesman" right now, on account of the country being in a fairly prosperous condition.

The new-comers are the most likely to be caught by men selling cotton seed that will not mature here one year out of three.

The writer tried hard to change the country for two years by trying to grow Mebane cotton, but decided it would be easier to change varieties of cotton.

Here is hoping the cotton growers will plant the kind of cotton that is surest to mature in this climate and make a fair staple.

FARMER NOW HAS LIFE OF OPPORTUNITY OFFERED TO HIM

The golden hour of opportunity has arrived for the cotton farmer. Throughout the year he has been lamenting the fact that in his unorganized condition he has been unable to cope with the highly organized competition he has been forced to meet. When efforts have been made to organize him so that he might meet organization on even terms, he has complained that the obstacles in front of his own organization were too great and the conditions surrounding it too hard. Always he has turned his eyes longingly towards Washington for help.

Although it was little expected by many, Washington has now come across. To be sure the government has not appropriated a great big sum of money to be divided out and mailed to the growers as charity. That was hardly asked or wanted, even by the most radical. The government has, however, offered to give substantial assistance to the growers if they will prove their desire to put their farming on a business basis. This can be done only by organization because the only way in the world to meet organization is by organization. All other forms of business have long ago realized this. The fact that the farmer has been so slow to realize it is responsible for his condition today.

It is now entirely up to the cotton grower himself as to whether he is going to remain in his present condition or place his farming on a basis where he can demand the same profits that the business world demands.

One cannot but recall to mind the old quotation that "the Lord helps those who help themselves."

The government has offered to help the cotton grower now if he will help himself. That is all that self-respecting men can ask. Cooperation.

Another question, the census takers are going to ask you is, "Have you a radio?"

Give the devil his dues and the country its taxes.

ROY GILBERT ANNOUNCES FOR TAX ASSESSOR

In this issue of The News appears the announcement of Roy Gilbert for the office of Tax Assessor of Lamb County. Mr. Gilbert is a native born Texan, now 35 years of age, and has resided in Lamb county for the past 12 years, now living on his own farm about eight miles north-east of Littlefield.

Mr. Gilbert states he has never held public office of any kind, contenting himself to be a worthy, loyal public citizen, and that it is only upon the solicitation of numerous friends that he now consents to come before the voters of this county for this office. However, he states that he has had considerable business experience in various lines; has made a financial success of his own personal business interests and feels well qualified to handle the affairs of this office in a highly efficient and very satisfactory manner.

Mr. Gilbert states it is his intention to personally see and interview every voter throughout the county before the coming Democratic primary, many of whom will remember his calling upon them two years ago during the campaign for this same office, during Roy Gattis' second campaign for the office. He also states that he will appreciate the vote and influence of the voters of this county in behalf of his candidacy.

Today

- Chevrolet announces

THE GREATEST
CHEVROLET
IN CHEVROLET HISTORY

Today, Chevrolet presents the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History—a smoother, faster, better Six—with beautiful new bodies by Fisher.

Basically, it is the same sturdy, substantial Six which won such tremendous popularity in 1927. But it is a greater car in every way—for there are scores of vital improvements which contribute to comfort, performance, endurance and safety!

An improved six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower; four Delco-Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers; fully-enclosed internal-expanding weather-proof brakes; a new dash gasoline gauge; heavier and stronger rear axle; new Fisher non-glare windshield; larger tires—

—these are typical of the many improvements which make this car the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History.

But most impressive of all—this smoother, faster, better Six has been made available—

at Greatly Reduced Prices

During 1929, more than a million three hundred thousand persons bought six-cylinder Chevrolets. This enormous volume has made possible many savings in the Chevrolet factories—and, in keeping with its long-established policy, Chevrolet is sharing these savings with the public. No written description can do justice to the extra value and quality provided in this new car. Visit your Chevrolet dealer—see this car—ride in it—and judge for yourself its sensational value.

"No."

"Well, mine does; she flatters me."

"Often?"

"Oh, yes, frequently—particularly in winter," replied Frederick.

"Whenever the coal fire needs replenishing she points to the fireplace and says, 'Frederick, the grate!'"

WHAT WILL HOLD IT?

A farmer visiting his son at college was especially interested in the experiments of the chemistry class. "We are at present endeavoring to discover or invent a universal solvent," said his son.

"What's that?"

"A liquid that will dissolve anything."

"That's a great idea," returned the farmer; then, scratching his head, he added: "but when you find it, what are you going to keep it in?"—Texas Outlook.

DO YOU KNOW THEM?

With inauguration day now only a few months past, very few of us will recall offhand the members of President Hoover's cabinet. Just paste this in your scrap book leaving room for the changes that usually occur:

- Secretary of State, Henry L. Stimson of New York.
- Secretary of Treasury Andrew W. Mellon of Pittsburgh.
- Secretary of War, Patrick J. Hurley of Oklahoma (appointed to succeed the late Jas. W. Good).
- Attorney - General, Wm. D. Mitchell of St. Paul, Minn.
- Postmaster General, Walter F. Brown, Toledo, Ohio.
- Secretary of Navy, Chas. F. Adams, Boston, Mass.
- Secretary of Interior, Ray Lyman Wilbur, Oakland, California.
- Secretary of Agriculture, Arthur M. Hyde, Trenton, Missouri.
- Secretary of Commerce, Robert P. Lamont, Chicago.

FIND TWELVE BIRDSHOT IN NEGRO'S APPENDIX

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 3.—Physicians operating on Pete Armistead, negro, for removal of his appendix, believed for a time they had discovered a man who had been shot in the appendix and lived to tell the story.

A self-respecting appendix may survive a shot or two, but it seemed improbable to surgeons that one could survive twelve birdshot, which they removed from the offending organ.

Armistead explained later that he had been eating rabbit and maul from which he had neglected to remove birdshot. So instead of being shot in the appendix it proved to be just having shot in the appendix.

FARM NOTES

D. A. ADAM, County Agent

Terracing school was held on the C. D. Nelson farm 2 1-2 miles north of Anton, with an attendance of 16 farmers last Monday. Three men were trained to use the farm level accurately, and are able to run terrace lines for farmers who want it done. These men are C. D. Nelson, W. K. Wright and Mr. Lindsey. County graders and tractors were used to build terraces on these demonstrations.

Poultry demonstration was held by the county agent on the Clyde Robertson farm last Saturday.

Two bull circles are in process of organization in the Anton territory, and most of these bulls that are being placed are coming into Lamb county, states D. A. Adam, county agent, who attended a Commerce Monday night. It is estimated that Lamb county will get in 30 more pure bred bulls during the ensuing year.

M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the Extension Service; "Dad" Short of the Federal Land Bank, and their crews will be in Lamb county on Monday, Jan. 20, for a terracing school in conjunction with the county agent's school on the J. E. Holland farm one mile south of Fieldton. Dinner will be served there, and all this should attend that day. This will be the outstanding terracing school of the entire group.

Following is the terracing school schedule for Lamb county.

Tuesday, Jan. 7.—C. A. Daniel, North Sudan. Changed to Saturday, Jan. 11, due to bad weather.

Thursday, Jan. 9.—J. R. McGavock, 8 miles east of Littlefield.

Friday, Jan. 10.—E. W. Palmer, 6 miles south of Sudan.

Monday, Jan. 13.—J. C. Glover, 3 miles east of Littlefield.

Tuesday, Jan. 14.—C. C. Preston, South Sudan.

Wednesday, Jan. 15.—E. J. McGee, 1 mile south of Amherst.

Thursday, Jan. 16.—Saddler Farm, N. E. Littlefield.

Friday, Jan. 17.—

Monday, Jan. 20.—J. E. Holland, Fieldton.

Wednesday, Jan. 22.—A. E. Boyd, West Fieldton.

Monday, Jan. 27.—Montgomery and Horton farms, South Amherst.

Those of you who are interested in getting a terracing school on your farm after these dates have been filled notify the county agent at once so that you can be put in line. Everyone interested in terracing is urged to attend one or more of these schools.

MISSING SOUTHLAND BANKER IS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF THEFT

LUBBOCK, Jan. 3.—J. M. Pope, missing Southland, Garza county, banker, today surrendered to authorities at Post on charges of theft by bailee which grew out of his disappearance from Southland December 3 and the closing of the Bank of Southland, according to word received from County Attorney Leon O. Moses of Garza county.

The bank, privately owned institution of which Pope was head, had not reopened since Pope's disappearance. With deposits totaling approximately $55,000 little more than $200 was found in the bank's vault after Pope disappeared.

Through his attorney, T. C. Bills of Littlefield, Pope presented $7,500 bond today. The bond was signed by 34 citizens of Lamb county, his home until five months ago.

Pope said he would attempt to repay losses and asserted he had been in Cuba, County Attorney, Moses stated.

LINDBERGH'S SPEND NIGHT IN CLOVIS

CLOVIS, N. M., Jan. 3.—Col. and Mrs. Chas. A. Lindbergh arrived here at 3:21 p. m. today flying west in a Curtiss Falcon biplane and spent the night here. As usual, he arrived unannounced and was greeted by a few I. A. T. officials and workmen who took charge of his plane upon his arrival.

More work and less talk in '30.

KIWANIS NOTES

Well you know I believe this is the first time this year I have had the pleasure of addressing this bunch or rough-necks. So, howdy!

A Happy and Prosperous New Year to All of You!

But we have plenty to do and we can't let up now. Today the new officers will have charge and want to start things off with a bang. Let's ALL be out.

And how about that play we started to give just before Christmas? Surely we have time for it now. Let's talk it up.

And what about an air sign and a temporary landing field for Sudan? It was only the other day a plane came over hunting a place to land and couldn't find it. What if he had been in trouble? Let's all come out Tuesday at 12:15 at the old H-B. Lumber Co. office building and get together for a new start on a new year. Let's make 1930 a prosperous and joyful year. To do so we will all have to BUILD together and we must not let work get the jump on us.

We still have a few trees left to sell. Don't some of you need three or four?

Now don't forget, Tuesday at 12:15 at the H-B. office building. F. E. MILLER, Secretary.

As't Ruling to Make Buyer Guilt With Bootlegger Where Liquor Is Ordered and Transported.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—More stringent prohibition enforcement policies were undertaken today by the justice and treasury departments as the capital's controversy over the liquor situation continued to seethe.

Prohibition Commissioner Doran announced an agreement had been entered into with the industrial alcohol manufacturers to reduce this year's output by 15 per cent. Leaks of industrial alcohol have been pointed to by dry leaders as the main problem of prohibition enforcement.

Secretary Mellon returned to his post and announced he was standing behind the coast guard crew which killed three men on the rum runner Black Duck in a chase off Newport last Sunday. He insisted the guardsmen acted wholly within the law.

Hatching Season Starts January 18

Early chicks are proving more profitable than later hatches. Accordingly, we have decided to start our hatching on January 18, and will receive eggs on that date, and from then we will take eggs for hatching on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

We are now booking orders for Baby Chicks and would like to get all orders booked at least 4 weeks in advance of date wanted.

Custom hatching space should be booked at least one week ahead of setting date.

In early booking of orders we are better able to get your chicks to you on date wanted.

WILL DIRECT PLAY FOR BAPTIST LADIES

Sarah E. Dollins of the Southern Arts Producing Company arrived in town Tuesday to direct the play "Jimmy's Wives," to be given at the high school auditorium on Thursday and Friday evenings, January 16 and 17. The play is sponsored by the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Baptist Church.

The home talent cast has been carefully selected from the best talent of the town. Miss Dollins reports that the play is promising to be the best production that she has ever directed.

HATCHERY FLOCKS TO BE STATE ACCREDITED

Arrangements have been made by Weimhold's Commercial Hatchery for the accrediting of all flocks supplying hatching eggs for the hatchery. Flock owners who are contemplating furnishing setting eggs for the season should see H. H. Weimhold at once and make arrangements to have their flocks accredited before the season starts. The hatchery will not buy eggs that are not state accredited and up to standard. We are fortunate in being able to get this work done this year and it was only through special efforts of the hatchery management that we can have this work done this year.

JIMMY'S WIVES"

Baptist Ladies' Missionary Society Sponsor Play at High School Auditorium Jan. 16 and 17

On Thursday and Friday evenings, Jan. 16 and 17, the Baptist Missionary Society will present the collegiate comedy, "Jimmy's Wives," in the high school auditorium.

"Jimmy's Wives" is one of the peppiest, liveliest college plays ever written and has always been a tremendous success. It's a play both young and old people really enjoy; a healthy, clean comedy; a good evening's entertainment.

Jimmy Jones, the most popular boy in college, is also busy with inventing and patenting a new speed motor for automobiles and with various social and athletic activities he finds it impossible to go to classes. Accordingly he is dropped from the roll and expelled. This news is received at the college boarding house when the lads are in the midst of a rehearsal for the annual college play. Jimmy's father arrives and is furious to think that his son has wasted his opportunities at college. He threatens to disinherit Jimmy but promises to relent if he will marry and settle down.

The coach of the dramatic club is always fixing things for his friends. He, therefore, informs Mr. Jones that Jimmy is already married. He introduces Jimmy's room mate, who is the leading lady of the play, as Jimmy's wife as Jimmy's wife.

The scheme works successfully. Jimmy and his would-be wife remain at the college fraternity house having a big time entertaining the boys every night at Jimmy's father's expense. Jimmy completes his blue print drawing of his speed motor. The supply of money provided by Mr. Jones is running low. A colored wash lady, Mandy Wiggins, calls to collect a bill and discovers that the so-called Mrs. Jones is a man in disguise and informs the police. And immediately the discovery is prevented by the advice of the dramatic teacher: why not introduce another wife? No sooner said than done. Madam Bardeau, a French costumer, is introduced as Jimmy's wife. She is wife number two.

A party is held and Jimmy's father and mother arrive to visit him. Both wives appear on the scene at the same time and Mrs. Jones is informed by the faithful dramatic teacher that Jimmy has joined the Mormons and has two wives.

Jimmy's father is not so easily taken in and employs a detective to search out the truth. At last the truth comes out. Mr. Jones threatens to disinherit his son for deceiving him, but the agent for the motor car company accepts Jimmy's patent and makes him a liberal offer for it. The faculty reconsider Jimmy's expulsion and he is allowed to re-enter college. Under the circumstances his father relents and he wins the hand of Miss Barbara Dean and promises soon to introduce her as his third little wife. You'll laugh till your sides simply ache—how Jimmy manages his host of wives! He gets by all right.

This real, live, healthy comedy is one you can't afford to miss. So buy your ticket at Ramby's rug Store and enjoy one of the best comedies of the season

POULTRY FARMING IS A LIFE Saver

GAINESVILLE. — A poor sandy land farm and failing health drove Luther Hafford to change his method of farming five years ago. Starting with 9 Buff Leghorn hens on his place in the Dye community in Cooke county he now has 900 hens that netted him $1,125 above feed cost and living expenses to the first of October last year.

According to L. L. Johnson, county agent, Mr. Hafford has grown into the business, re-investing his profits in better houses and equipment. He grinds his own feed, builds his own chicken houses and keeps them painted. He markets everything locally except breeding stock and eggs.

The farm value of dairy products in the United States last year amounted to about three billion dollars, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This amount is a little more than a quarter of the total value of all agricultural products.
