Odd Fellows Meet In Slaton Past Week

A. M. Holt, of Sudan, Elected President of Convention. Sudan to Be Next Meeting Place, in September.

SLATON, Texas, April 25.—The semi-annual session of the South Plains Odd Fellows association was held in Slaton Tuesday. Between 200 and 300 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs were in attendance. Besides the local people attending, delegates were here from Lubbock, Crosbyton, Abernathy, Brownfield and Sudan.

The day's program opened at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the First Baptist church auditorium. J. W. Hood of this city presiding. L. A. Wilson welcomed the visitors in behalf of the city. The invocation was said by Rev. W. F. Ferguson, pastor of the First Baptist church here. At noon at the Slaton club house, local Odd Fellows and Rebekahs served luncheon to all those attending the convention.

In the afternoon, a business session was held at the Odd Fellows hall. Sudan was selected as the next meeting place, date for the meeting to be some time in September.

Officers were elected as follows: A. M. Holt of Sudan, president; E. M. Worthy, Lubbock, first vice president; Mrs. E. A. Hanna, Slaton, second vice president; and L. Alexander, Slaton, secretary.

The new president has been first vice president for the past six months. Mrs. Hanna succeeds Mrs. C. A. Baird of Littlefield as second vice president, and Mr. Alexander was re-elected as secretary, he having been named for that place last September.

Deport work for Odd Fellows and Rebekahs was conferred at the night programs held Tuesday night, these features ending the convention.

Machine-Guns Bristle In Ohio Penitentiary

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 23.—A determined effort to bring unruly Ohio penitentiary convicts under discipline was made today by Warden Preston E. Thomas, who called in Columbus police reserves and Ohio national guardsmen to aid in overcoming the prisoners.

While "hard haled" convicts, leaders of the revolt, were removed from the idleness house to solitary confinement, police and prison guards, machine guns bristled in the prison yard, as well as outside the walls, where the national guards were prepared to prevent any attempt to escape.

The action was taken after a night of disorder in the idleness house, during which prisoners ripped down cell doors because they feared to be locked in, as were the 320 men who met death a week ago by fire and smoke. The convicts had been waging a campaign of "passive resistance" against the wardenship of Preston E. Thomas.

A NEW RENTAL CONTRACT NEEDED

As time goes on it becomes evident that the present-day rental contract between landlord and renter in Texas, the general tenor of which is that the landlord shall have "a third and fourth" of the produce of the farm, with certain restrictions, additions and limitations, is becoming evident that we are outliving this kind of a rental contract and that some of these days, not far distant, we shall have a new kind, one that will more nearly fit in with the balanced farming program which we, as a people, are beginning to see as the salvation of the country.

Already you begin to see this farmer and that farmer suggesting this or that kind of change to bring about greater equity and better understanding between landlord and renter. Bankers are beginning to reflect this new attitude toward the rental contract. They are studying their customers and their problems, of course, and this matter of the rental contract is one of the things that is coming to the fore.

FRIENDSHIP HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Friendship Home Demonstration Club met on Friday, April 25th, at the church, with 11 members, five new members and our county home demonstration agent present. We had a wonderful meeting. Gardening was discussed from every angle. Our next meeting will be held Friday, May 9th, at the church. The lesson will be dress forms. Wake up, club members, put a little pep into yourself. We have slept long enough. If you will only put forth an effort to learn something, I know you will reap wonderful reward. Every member try to be present, and on time, and I know you will learn many new things to your good.

Fair Directors Meet at Amherst Mon., April 28

The Lamb County Fair Association has purchased forty acres of land, in the southeast part of Amherst, for fair grounds.

Plans for an agricultural building, a poultry building, a cattle building, and a sheep and swine building have been adopted, and cost estimates on them are being figured.

We urge everybody in the county to cooperate in putting the fair over. Let us all work and plan for a great agricultural and livestock exposition for our fair next fall.

The primary purpose of a fair is educational, and there is no better method of advertising our resources, and nothing that inspires greater effort on the part of producers. Let us make our fair a great county institution, with none of the commercialized mess, the hullabaloo, that has ruined so many county fairs. All together for Lamb county.

R. L. MAY,
Publicity Director.

SAVS OHIO CONVICTS' LIVES WOULD HAVE BEEN SAVED IF RELEASED AT ONCE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 23.—Sensational charges that prison officials could have saved all of the 318 prisoners who died in the Ohio penitentiary fire Monday night and an admission from Warden Preston E. Thomas that no general fire precautions are taken at the institution were read into the record of the board of inquiry today.

Charges that prison officials were lax in consideration of the value of human life were made by A. E. Nice, Columbus fire chief.

The warden blamed the state for overcrowding the prison to almost twice its capacity.

Chief Nice declared all the victims could have been saved if they had been released from their cells as soon as the fire was discovered. He told the board that there must have been undue delay because the first alarm came from a box outside the prison walls.

Warden Thomas, recalled to the witness stand after Nice testified, was questioned in detail as to what precautions were taken against fire and why he went outside the prison walls to prevent any escape, when a serious situation prevailed inside.

He said he did not provide general fire protection because Columbus fire companies could reach it in two minutes and that he did not go to the scene of the fire because he had given orders and expected them to be carried out.

ROAD HOGS TO BE DRIVEN OFF HIGHWAYS

AUSTIN, April 23.—Hogging the middle of the road, reckless driving and speeding and operating motor cars with imperfect brakes and lights must stop on Texas highways, L. G. Phares, chief of the highway patrol, announced.

An intensive campaign against violators of state highway laws has been ordered. Phares said special attention will be given persons driving at reckless and dangerous speed, driving with inadequate lights and brakes, and buses and motor trucks occupying the middle of the road and refusing to permit other cars to pass. Phares also placed a ban on speed tests of automobiles on state highways. One arrest and conviction on this charge has been reported from San Antonio.

The patrol chief said many flagrant law violations had been called to his attention. Numerous accidents, some involving fatalities, have been reported, he declared.

Plans are under way for a campaign against drivers of cotton trucks who "ride the crowns," Phares added. This is made necessary because of overloading trucks. Fear of the load slipping if the truck is kept to the side of the road with a high crown has caused serious inconvenience to motorists, according to the patrol chief.

SUNDAY'S LIST OF AIRPLANE TRAGEDIES

Merely the headings are given, for the convenience of the busy reader:

"Jim Kelley and Herbert Arq Air Victims."—Alvord, Texas.

"Seven Are Killed and Twenty Hurt in Mishap."—Fayetteville, Tenn.

"Pilot and Friend Die in Crash."—Milwaukee, Wis.

"Boy and Girl Burn to Death in Flames."—Portsmouth, N. H.

BAILEY COUNTY SCHOOL-HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

FARWELL, April 24.—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the West Camp school house, located in Bailey county, 11 miles southeast of this city, at 2:00 o'clock this morning.

The fire originated in the southwest corner of the building and the entire structure was aflame before being discovered.

All of the furniture in the school rooms is said to have been destroyed, but most of the fixtures, including a piano, were saved from the auditorium.

The building was a brick and tile structure and cost in the neighborhood of $15,000.

Plains Receive Good Rainfall

Long Dry Spell Broken, Greatly Benefiting Wheat and Furnishing Fine Season For Spring Planting of Row Crops. Ranges Greatly Benefited.

Thursday night and Friday of last week saw general precipitation over practically the entire Panhandle and South Plains section of Texas. The fall ranged from one-half inch to one and one-half inches. Ending a dry spell of several months' duration, this fall has put new life and pep into the people, and farm operations are being pushed rapidly.

The moisture was especially welcome to wheat farmers, as that crop was said to have been in its most critical stage, and the season received will put wheat well on the way to maturity.

Spring planting of row crops also will be greatly facilitated, and the farmers are most hopeful of good stands of all plantings.

Ranges are fast getting into fine shape and ranchers and cattlemen generally are optimistic.

Work is being rushed in the home gardens, and in the cool of the mornings and evenings pater familias and the boys may be seen wielding the hoe and the rake.

With prospects brightening for the coming crops, business should take an upward trend over all the Plains section.

Sudan Ball Team to Play Clovis at Sudan Sunday

Sunday will be a big day in Sudan, as on that day our local boys will meet the Clovis team in what is figured by baseball fans will prove to be one of the fastest semi-pro games of the season.

The local boys are out to put Sudan on the map this season. This team has won many victories in the past, some over crack teams from other cities. This season the team has had strenuous training and expect to go into this game to win. The team is known throughout the Plains as a hard one to handle, and each member is on tiptoe awaiting the mix-up Sunday.

Let's hope a big crowd out at the game Sunday at 3:00 p. m. and give the boys all the encouragement possible.

Frauds in Alleged Poultry Medicines

Ten diseases of poultry exist, which, so far as is known, do not yield to treatment with drugs or mixtures of drugs. Consequently, the Food, Drug and Insecticide Administration of the Department of Agriculture is taking every precaution to keep off the market medicines claimed to effect cures of these diseases, says Dr. H. E. Moskey, veterinarian of the administration.

The administration seizes such nostrums whenever they are discovered in interstate or import commerce.

Dr. Moskey explained this policy as the reason for his recommendation for the seizure at Oakland, Calif., of drug preparations labeled for chicken cholera and roup. This one shipment intended for wagon distribution would have robbed the western poultry raisers of $1,174 directly and might have been indirectly responsible for considerable loss resulting from improper care of sick birds.

The 10 diseases of poultry for which there are no adequate drug treatments are: Typhoid, cholera, coccidiosis, fowl pest, roup, diphtheria, chicken pox, diarrhea and gapes, and blackhead of turkeys. Some of these can be prevented by proper precautionary methods, but once contracted, do not respond to drug treatment. The false sense of security these drug preparations create, says Dr. Moskey, is likely to result in the spread of disease through an entire flock and to delay or prevent the application of suitable scientific methods of control used.

The Food, Drug and Insecticide Administration has removed from the market hundreds of preparations of this nature and has forced the revision of labels on many others so that the purchaser will not be deceived. New preparations making extravagant claims are constantly appearing. Many are sold locally and never come under the jurisdiction of the federal food and drug act, because they do not enter into interstate commerce. Doctor Moskey warns poultry raisers to beware of such preparations, claimed to be a treatment of the diseases mentioned.

Poultry raisers should not place any confidence in claims made for any drug products in circulars or advertisements, advises the veterinarian, when such claims do not appear on the label. In many cases the removal from the label of all objectionable claims, only to have similar unwarranted statements appear in advertising over which it has no control.—The Southwest Plainsman.

Among other things, the census man might find out who it was that bribed Secretary Fall.—Detroit Free Press.

ECHOES FROM SCHOOL PLATEAU

School is moving along into the second week of the ninth month, but in this month to make up time lost from school it will be necessary to run five weeks. Hence the school will close on May 23. Seniors will give the last week of school to make arrangements for their graduation. Many schools today grant two weeks, but one will cover needs of classes of this year.

Senior class ranking of pupils has been announced by the high school faculty. Neal Wilkins was adjudged class winner with an average of slightly more than 94% on her year's work. Winner of second place was Irene Cooke with an average for the year of slightly less than 94%. The difference between the two was less than 1/4 of 1%. The race between the boys was even closer. Doyle Terrell won first place among the boys with an average of a little over 84%. Calvin Harvey also made a little more than 84%, but his average fell below that of Doyle Terrell 3-10 of 1%. These two contests were two as closely fought out as seems possible between high school students. The final results make Neal Wilkins Valedictorian of the class and Irene Cooke, Salutatorian. To Neal Wilkins and Doyle Terrell go scholarships for winning boy and girl in their respective groups. Other pupils made strong bids for class honors, many of them doing an excellent grade of work, but the above four were the winners in their respective divisions.

The junior class is considering putting on its class play at some early date and in some other community, the date and place to be determined yet.

The sophomore class has received the pin ordered for Mrs. Wilkins who coached their class play. This trinket was presented to her in a class meeting one day this week. Leonard Payne made the presentation. Mildred Fowler was permitted the privilege of fastening the pin on. This was extended to her because she has been compelled by illness to miss so many recent meetings of the class.

One of the features of play time recently has been a series of baseball games between the grammar school and the smaller high school boys, those trained by Mr. Jensen. Mildred Fowler was permitted the privilege of fastening the pin on. This was extended to her because she has been compelled by illness to miss so many recent meetings of the class.

Most interest is now centering, however, about what will be done in play next year, when the gymnasium will be available.

Spring is bringing with it its usual dropping off in attendance. Among those who are now absent is Otto Workman, who for two years has distinguished himself for Sudan High School in athletics. To those who leave school this early in the season or fail to make their grades this semester, there will be no opportunity to take part in football next fall. They would be eligible for basketball because that sport is not so closely tied up in rules as is football. No other sport played in high school is so closely bound up in interscholastic rules.

FRIENDSHIP NEWS

Lawrence Hicks of Texas Tech spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hicks.

Miss Ida Rene Crain and Miss Lurline Harvey spent Sunday with Miss Allene Scogin.

Nolan Parrish of Hereford was a visitor at Friendship Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lem Huffpower entertained the young folks of Friendship Saturday night with a party. Several from Sudan were present. All reported an enjoyable time.

Artie Lee Hicks has been on the sick list for several days but is able to be out again.

Sunday, Mr. W. H. Horn carried Mr. William Boyd to the Lubbock sanitarium where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. His many friends of this community hope for him a speedy recovery.

Miss Hazel Capps, who has been sick for the last week, was able to be out Sunday.

Miss Mona Baker spent Saturday night with Neoma Webb.

Mr. and Mrs. George Crain and daughter are visiting at Malone this week.

STOCK FEEDS SEIZED FOR LAW VIOLATIONS

Twenty-six seizures of stock feeds were made under the federal Food and Drugs Act in the eastern inspection district of the Food, Drug and Insecticide Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture during the year ending December 31, 1929 according to W. R. M. Wharton, district chief. The eastern district includes all the Atlantic Coast states and Vermont, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia.

The seizures covered 10 consignments of cottonseed meal, 2,145 sacks in all, 14 consignments of mixed feeds and miscellaneous feed products totaling 2,833 sacks, and two shipments or 35 sacks of beef scrap. In addition to these seizures 27 citations to hearings were issued to manufacturers and shippers on charges of violating the act, two cases have been referred to the solicitor of the Department of Agriculture for prosecution, and others may follow.

The principal violations encountered, according to Mr. Wharton, were deficiencies in protein and fat, excessive crude fiber, and labels and tags bearing improper declarations of ingredients of the feeds.

The soda fountain business is picking up.

Sudan Band Renders Interesting Program

The Sudan Band rendered an interesting program at the local theatre Tuesday night to a very small audience. Now this isn't as it should be. The boys of the band are trying to build an organization that will be a credit to any town and are succeeding, and they need your presence as well as your financial help at their public performances.

"The Pals" polka, composed by George D. Barnard and edited by Edwin Franko Goldman, was creditably rendered by Forrest Weimold and T. J. Findley. Weldon Findley played "My Tuba Solo," composed by George Southwell, surprisingly well.

Now in the future let's give the home boys a larger audience to play to, so they can get a genuine case of stage fright.

Ora. L. Whitford Killed When Car Overturns

Ora L. Whitford, 24, son of Mrs. E. B. Whitford, residing three miles east of Earth, this county, was killed Wednesday of last week when a car in which he was riding turned over on the Olton-Earth highway.

It appears young Whitford was walking along the highway when he was picked up by a man who, later, gave his name as J. M. Winston. They had proceeded only a short distance when the car turned over and Whitford was killed, apparently almost instantly.

Winston, after righting his car, left the young man unaided and fled back in the direction of Muleshoe. Why he fled back in the direction whence he had come, he could not explain. At Muleshoe he was arrested by Sheriff Douglas, on complaint of parties who had reached the scene of the accident, and was turned over to Deputy Sheriff Walraven of Amherst. Winston is now in jail at Olton, under two charges, homicide through negligence, and failure to render aid. Sheriff Len Irvin informed The News yesterday that Winston will be tried today or tomorrow on a complaint of insanity. The sheriff stated he was of the opinion, from the man's actions, Winston was insane.

Ora Whitford lived with his widowed mother, and was on his way to Lubbock when he was picked up by Winston.

W. M. Jackson Opens Grocery Store at Anton

Mr. W. M. Jackson, for some time manager of the "M" System Store at this place, has opened a grocery store at Anton.

Mr. Jackson and his family were residents of Sudan for some time, and made many friends, both business and social, who have really missed them since their departure. The News takes pleasure in commending them to the citizens of Anton and community, and is confident they will prove a real acquisition to the town.

Their many friends in Sudan wish for them the best of fortune in their new location.

Raid Nets 362 1/2 Gallons of Liquor

Officers From Hale and Lubbock Counties, Headed by State Ranger, Raid in Lamb County.

Last Friday morning about 8:00 o'clock, a raiding party of officers headed by Sam C. Mays, State Ranger, raided the farm home of E. W. (Bill) Herman, 4 miles west and one mile south of Fieldton, this county. This party was armed with search warrants issued by County Judge Simon D. Hay of Lamb county.

The party consisted of Ranger Mays; J. K. Hooper, deputy sheriff, Hale county; O. B. Conley, deputy sheriff, Lubbock county; Lubbock county; H. S. Bolin, assistant chief of police, Plainview; Geo. B. Eubanks, police officer, Lubbock; C. C. Luby, constable, Hale county; and Wayne Bridges, assistant county attorney, Hale county.

The party made the following arrests:

Vernon G., 20 year old son of Bill Herman.

R. B. (Blackie) Lester, Lubbock; Sam Bruton, Littlefield.

E. W. and Vernon G. Herman were charged with violations of the federal liquor laws in the federal court at Lubbock.

Sam Bruton was charged in Hale county with sale of liquor at Plainview.

R. B. Lester was released. He is under bond on a charge at Lubbock.

There was seized in this raid 605 half-gallon jars of whiskey and six 10-gallon kegs of whiskey, making a total of 322 1/2 gallons.

This is one of the largest seizures of illicit liquor in this part of the state in many years.

COURT DECISIONS PLACE MORE RESPONSIBILITY ON AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Recent decisions of the courts tend to place more responsibility on the automobile driver in case of accidents with railroads, according to a report of the legal department of the American Motorists' Association.

A case cited was the suit in Illinois which arose as the result of a motorist driving his truck on to the tracks of a railroad causing the derailment of an engine and five freight cars. The railroad sued the motorist for $30,000. A verdict of $10,000 was returned on an appeal to the district court for the Southern district of Illinois.

The decision is of great importance to motorists for two reasons, it is pointed out by J. Borton Weeks, president of the A. M. A. "The first reason is that it indicates the trend of judicial thought where a motorist and a railroad are involved, and the second is that where a motorist causes the wreck of a train usually a large amount of damage results.

"Until comparatively recently it was the railroad which almost invariably shouldered the financial responsibility for all automobile-railroad accidents. President Weeks declared, 'Courts, however, more and more are requiring motorists to assume full responsibility where their negligence results in damage to life and property.'

A recent decision by the supreme court of Pennsylvania held that where a motorist was killed by a train and it was shown that the accident was caused by the failure of the auto driver to "Stop, Look and Listen," the railroad was absolved of guilt because of the contributory negligence of the motorist.

ALLEGED JAKE PEDDLERS AT LAMESA GET PRISON TERMS

LAMESA, April 23.—Two owners of alleged jake joints in Lamesa were this week sentenced to the state penitentiary after trials culminating from grand jury investigations.

S. Alexander, owner of a local sandwich shop was sentenced to one year on one indictment. He has five more indictments against him. One indictment is for gambling.

J. H. Lee, also owner of a sandwich shop, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary after pleading guilty to the first indictment. He had seven others brought against him. Lamesa's fight against alleged jake peddlers continued today as other investigations were to be held.

Census enumerator W. E. Talbott of Dallas reports one woman in that city whose age is 116 years.

Woman and Babe Victims of Storm

DIMITT, April 28.—Crushed beneath the falling walls of their home, about 14 miles northeast of this city, when it was blown down during a heavy storm yesterday, Mrs. J. H. Lundegreen, 17, and her 7-months-old baby were killed. Mr. Lundegreen was unhurt.

The family had just fled from the house and were seeking safety from the storm. As they ran around the side of the house, heavy wind struck the building and wrecked it. Mrs. Lundegreen and the baby were caught by the falling walls and were dead when rescuers reached them.

The bodies of mother and babe were taken to Amarillo, their former home, for burial.

Child Thought Kidnaped By Woman In Amarillo

AMARILLO, April 29.—Apparently kidnaped by a young woman who professed to be representing the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church, the 7-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Darnell, 411 Northwest Twelfth avenue, has been missing from the home since 5 p. m. yesterday.

The parents let the woman have their baby when she told them the child had been selected as the winner of a contest sponsored by different Sunday school organizations in the city. She wanted to take the baby, she said, to have it photographed.

When the woman failed to return with the child, the anxious parents sought help from the authorities at about 6:30 o'clock. At midnight last night, no trace of either the baby or the woman had been discovered by city or county officers.

The woman, who appeared to be about 25 years of age and was pretty, first came to the Darnell home at noon yesterday, the parents said, and told them various Sunday school organizations had sponsored a contest for babies born within the past two weeks. The Darnell baby, she said, had been selected as the winner. Each Sunday school was to make the baby a gift, she said. She returned then at 5 o'clock and requested permission to take the child to a photographer.

The woman said her name was Mrs. Jenkins and told the Darnells that she taught a Sunday school class in the First Christian church.

One of the teachers in the Christian church Sunday school said last night there was no teacher by the name of Mrs. Jenkins in that church.

BLUE BONNET CLUB

The Blue Bonnet Club had their regular meeting on the eve of the 23rd, with about 20 members present and some visitors. Our demonstration agent, Miss Mashburn, was with us. After the house being called to order, she gave us garden instructions and what importance the garden vegetables had to do with our health. Three ladies were appointed to take gardening for their club project, these being Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Logan and Mrs. Crawford, our hostess. The evening was enjoyed as well as a lot learned to tell the class on our meeting day.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Chas. Crawford and the lesson will be on home-made dress forms. All come.

County council meets first Saturday in May.

Remember we have one member sick and let's all visit our sick members.

$2,000,000 OF COTTON FUNDS GONE, IS CHARGE

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 25.—Suit charging misappropriation of more than $2,000,000 by officers of the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' Association and asking appointment of a receiver to handle affairs of the association, which was alleged to be insolvent, was filed Friday in district court here.

District Judge Tom G. Chambers immediately appointed R. H. Wilson temporary receiver and ordered business of the association to proceed as usual in compliance with a request of the petitioners.

The action was brought by W. H. Whilener, of Patillo, and 28 other members of the association for themselves and purportedly in behalf of 30,000 other members in Oklahoma.

Speculation on the stock market with assets of the association was the principal allegation in the suit.

SPADE HOME DEM. CLUB

Our last meeting was with Mrs. W. C. Lackey. Had three visitors. Meddames S. E. Darby, J. W. Duke and F. H. Bostie. One new member, Miss Ruth Pollard.

Next meeting will be May 13 with Mrs. H. A. Sheffield. The topic will be insects.

We invite everyone to come and be with us.

"BOOST OR MOVE"

SENATOR CLINT SMALL FOR GOVERNOR.

Senator Clint Small of Wellington has formally entered the race for governor of Texas.

The Sudan News has always been slow to declare for any certain individual in a race of the dimensions of the present race for governor. At present there are quite a number of estimable gentlemen seeking this honor. But The News is free to state that in its estimation, Mr. Small stands very near, if not at the head of the list. Maybe a better man has announced, or will announce later, but we have our doubts. But while reserving our right to support, later on, any candidate who appeals to us as the best man for the present emergency, The News takes pleasure in recognizing in Mr. Small all the qualities of greatness so urgently demanded in the incumbent of the office.

Mr. Small has the courage of his convictions, and these convictions are settled and pronounced on many questions that vitally concern Texans today. His sympathies are with the masses of the citizenship. When many of these were threatened with the loss of their all—through the infamous river-bed land-grab—Clint Small rolled up his sleeves and like the loyal Texan he is, fought the fight of the people. The Small river-bed bill is the child of Clint Small, and in the deep gratitude of his people he can, and should, take much satisfaction.

Nor is this all. Clint Small has left his impress upon legislation at Austin, and in every instance that impress has been toward the best interest of Texans in the mass. Small must endorse the sentiments of the immortal Lincoln when he declared that "the Lord must love the common people as He made so many of them."

Mr. Small is of opinion that Texas' governmental affairs can be efficiently conducted without pauperizing her citizens through taxation, and with this sentiment The News is in full accord. He outlines a policy that looks good to this newspaper. For some time now this paper has been wondering "whether are we drifting" and where will taxation end? If Mr. Small as governor could be instrumental in checking the growing tax mania of the age, so far as Texas is concerned, Texas might well give him a shot at the mark.

AN UNFAIR ATTITUDE.

Perhaps the most unfair attitude any person can assume in an argument, is to attribute sinister motives to all who may differ from them. Yet this attitude is taken constantly by many otherwise fair-minded people.

Nowhere in present-day world affairs is this peculiarity more noticeable than on the disturbing question of national prohibition. In every part of this distracted land are men and women of national prominence, leaders in every department of national life, who are conscientiously opposed to our present laws on the subject. Many of these are of character above reproach; are known for their patriotism, their love of country, and their broad humanitarianism. Yet these men and women are frequently branded as enemies to their country and dangerous to the rising generation because, forsooth, they can and do see with a clear vision the evils in the present situation.

Enthusiasm in any cause is commendable. Coupled with intolerance, it is damnable. The most dangerous advocate of any cause is the man or woman who can see in his or her opponent only a sinister motive. But, at that, we must conclude that such person is more dangerous to his or her own cause than to the opposition.

Will the day come when the American people can and will settle down to a calm and sane discussion of this question which is now creating so much dissension, even to the suggestion of "rebellion" and "revolution"? For our future good can we not lay aside bigotry, intolerance, fanaticism, radicalism, and all their kindred isms, and solve our problem in the light of reason?

EGGS-ACTLY WHAT YOU NEED.

The week of May 1 to 7 will be observed as "National Egg Week" throughout the country. This is the fifth consecutive year that the United States has paid homage to the American hen and her wonderful food product—eggs. The American hen is a universal favorite and the producer of one of our greatest food products. The hen is one of our most universal sources of farm income. The poultry industry is worthy of our help, and The News is happy to boost such a good cause.

PRISON CAPACITY AS A LIMIT FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT.

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram.)

Attorney General Mitchell, appearing before the Senate Judiciary Committee which is considering the proposal for a congressional investigation of prohibition enforcement, presented a unique two-way argument against any such action. The head of the federal government's law enforcement division said, first, that an investigation would paralyze enforcement during the time it was in progress, and, second, that any stimulation of enforcement of any laws would get the government into difficulties because the federal prisons already are filled to overflowing.

The two arguments hardly jibe, since the enforcement holiday which the Attorney General seems to fear while an investigation was going on would inevitably relieve the jail-crowding situation. But as a statement of one feature of the federal government's law enforcement problem, which is identical with that in each of the states, Mr. Mitchell's presentation is informative.

It used to be that when "reform" candidates were seeking office that their platforms were summed up in the pledge to "fill the jails" with law violators. That condition now seems to have arrived. The jails are filled and overflowing, and even that apparently has not sufficed. If there is not now more need for law enforcement than ever before, there is certainly more demand for it.

Mr. Mitchell pointed to enforcement of the prohibition laws as the chief contributor to prison crowding. Of the 1,999 increase in federal prison population during the last nine months, he said 1,811 were sentenced on liquor charges. The Dyer Act, directed against interstate transportation of stolen automobiles, and the Mann Act, directed against the interstate transportation of women for immoral purposes were listed by the Attorney general in order as a source of recruits for the federal penitentiaries.

From this statement it is easy to realize that the federal prison situation is altogether the making of the present generation. These three laws have been placed on the statute books within the past 2 years, and they are responsible for nine out of ten convicts now entering federal prisons, who are going there for crimes which did not exist up to a few years ago.

The point naturally must arise as to what shall be allowed to set limits on the enforcement of these laws. Mr. Mitchell interposes the practical suggestion that prison space needs to be considered. The answer to that of those who demand more assiduous enforcement is obviously that if more prisons are needed they should be built. In other words, having filled the jails and this not sufficing, more jails should be provided for filling.

The Federal Congress, however, has more than once looked askance at the prospect of larger development of the federal government's capacity as goal keeper. That perhaps was the reason why Congress included in the prohibition amendment the provision for concurrent jurisdiction by states, in the hope that the states would take off the federal government's shoulders much of the burden of apprehending, convicting and jailing violators of the prohibition laws. But the states themselves soon found themselves in the same predicament in which the federal government rests. Their own prisons quickly filled to overflowing, and so much so that the problem is an acute one in Texas, for instance, that the state's jails are being closed to further accessions of convicts, constituting a notification to county courts that when they convict a defendant they must maintain him in their own jails.

The result has hardly been what the Congress expected. Instead of stepping in to take the burden of prohibition enforcement off the shoulders of the federal authorities, the peace officers and courts of the states have shown a tendency to confine their assistance to making arrests and obtaining evidence, leaving the rest to the federal officers and the federal courts. Some states have even repealed their own prohibition laws, leaving the job entirely up to the government, and in others which still retain their own enforcement machinery there is a disposition to do the same which likely will grow stronger as the causes for the startling increases in prison populations are digested by the public.

KEEPING THE WOLF AWAY.

(The Slaton Slatonite.)

Much is said by hopeful people about the possibility of abolishing poverty from this land of plenty. It ought to be done. But to accomplish that, a lot of folks will have to begin early on their policy of thrift. If they act like spendthrifts all through their early youth, poverty will probably follow them like the traditional wolf at the door.

Every winter there are many people who are close to the wall and who can hear the wolf scratching quite fiercely at their door. Many of them never begin to wrestle with that old wolf, until a too late date.

To abolish poverty, people need to begin as boys and girls. Many schools start them in a course of saving money at an early age, and they form such a habit of economy and prudence that the old wolf will never get them. But there are others, probably more of them, who as young people spend more extravagantly, at least until they are married. The boys blow in all they can earn. They like to show off before their girl friends, to take them around to expensive amusements and do everything in the most costly way. Many of the girls also blow in considerable sums of money that they might save. They constantly fritter away sums for things they do not need, and that could be deposited in a good bank.

It is not suggested in the above that either young men or young women should economize stringently on clothing. It pays them to dress nicely, but many of them go in for dressing far beyond their means, which accomplishes nothing worth while.

When young people get ready to marry, both of them should have sums of money saved up for the expenses of family life. Once they have that reserve against emergencies, and have formed the habit of economy and thrift, the chances that the wolf will ever get them are very much less.

WHERE TAXES ARE TAXES.

(Amarillo Daily News.)

If you think your American income tax is a burden, consider the plight of the British taxpayer.

Under the new rates recently proposed by England's chancellor of the exchequer, a married Englishman who earns $5,000 a year will pay an income of approximately $527. In America, a man of the same earning capacity pays $5.62—just 1 per cent of the Englishman's tax.

In other words, we don't know what high taxes are, over here. With a tax load like that to carry, it is small wonder that England is feeling an industrial depression. Indeed, the wonder is that the nation is not having more trouble than it is. A tax of that size is a thing to lie awake nights about.

"Konjola's Work Miraculous," Says This Lady

Waco Lady, Lifetime Resident, Enthusiastic About New Medicine That Relieved Stomach Ailment.

"Konjola made a new person of me," said Mrs. Lillie Collins, 3617 Homan avenue, Waco. "For the past few years I have had a severe case of stomach trouble. The food I ate failed to digest, gas formed and I was subject to chest pains and heart palpitations. I was always tired in the morning. Pains in the small of my back from affected kidneys often kept me from doing my housework. I often suffered with numbness in my hands and feet and was extremely nervous."

"I began to get relief immediately after I began the Konjola treatment. The gas on my stomach after meals has now been eliminated and I no longer find night risings necessary. I sleep well and I am no longer nervous. I am free from back pains and my kidneys have been regulated until they function perfectly. I have not an ache or a pain in my body. The results I got from

Wichita Woman Has Suffered Many Years

"Since Taking Orgatone I Feel Like a New Woman," Says Mrs. Clack.

"I've looked a long time for a medicine that would do for me what Orgatone did," said Mrs. Lizzie Clack, residing at 212 Scott street, Wichita Falls, while talking with the Orgatone representative.

"For several years I have been in a terrible condition, and I suffered from stomach and digestive troubles. I had a very severe chronic case of stomach trouble. Everything I ate soured on my stomach, which caused gas to form, and I wouldn't eat because it hurt me so. I lost strength and energy all the time and gradually grew worse. I was operated upon several years ago and had a severe pain in my back. I heard so much about Orgatone and read about it in the local papers. I decided to try it.

"I feel like a new woman now, and will be able to go back to work within a week. I continue taking Orgatone, which I will. My stomach trouble doesn't bother me as it did, the pain in my back has disappeared and I eat anything I want now. I was sort of skeptical about Orgatone, for I had taken so many different medicines and treatments, but it was a lucky day for me that I bought it. I am certainly pleased with the results I have derived. Before taking Orgatone I had just given up doing work of any kind, for I wasn't able, but Orgatone has helped me so much I am going back to work within a few days, and yes, I am glad to recommend it, after what it has done for me."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Sudan at the H. G. Ramby Drug Store.

THESE PARTIES SAY THAT ADVERTISING SURE PAYS

The News caused quite a little amusement in town last week when it was discovered that the printer had mixed up the "fill-ins" of the advertisements of two prominent business houses of the town, making them to read that the First National Bank sold hair tonic and soap, while H. G. Ramby Drug Co. kindly offered to care for your money.

Still and all, it wasn't so bad as it might have been. We have no doubt that the boys in the bank use plenty of the articles mentioned, though whether or not they could be persuaded to part with any, is something else again. Probably not, as they look like they use all they can get in the effort to preserve their natural head covering.

And as to Ramby taking care of your money, if you don't believe he can and will, just go in and call for some of the articles NOT sold by the bank, and see how safely your money is kept—in the bank. But we'll say for Ramby, the articles are well worth the prices asked.

The publisher hasn't yet determined whether the printer just "pulled a boner" or wanted an answer to the question, "Does advertising pay?" At any rate, these were two ads that were well read—and from the laughs, we'll say they were "favorably" read.

All merchandise of the Stuart Grocery, together with the good will of the business, has been purchased by and removed to the "M" System Store. Mr. Stuart expects to eliminate all lines except the undertaking and furniture business, while the "M" System will enlarge their stock of staple and fancy groceries to take care of their ever growing business.

Mr. McLarty reports that he now has one of the most modern "M" System Stores in the world right here in Sudan since the installation of the large mechanically cooled refrigerator which is used for fresh vegetables. The "M" System receives regular shipments of fresh vegetables each week direct from the valley. Upon arrival they are immediately placed on refrigeration where they are kept fresh and crisp for their customers.

A visit to the "M" System Store will assure you of a great variety of quality merchandise at low prices.

MAN IN COMA 70 DAYS AVOID FOR NEWS

Out of touch with events of the world during the 70 days he lay unconscious at Cook's Memorial Hospital, Hugh Calhoun Jr., now is showing considerable curiosity as to the things that have transpired about him.

Dr. Hodges McKnight, attendant since the patient showed signs of returning consciousness a few days ago, his mental condition has cleared up rapidly. His voice was weakened to a whisper by more than two months of illness. But his whippers are now becoming understandable. As yet, however, his efforts at conversation are discouraged.

He is gradually regaining use of his muscles, also, and is able to lift his arms to his head. At brief intervals he is allowed to indulge in the reading of newspapers.

His questions to those about his bedside indicate, Dr. McKnight said, that he has had several periods of consciousness since he was brought to the hospital on Jan. 24. Unlike amnesia victims, whose loss of memory is caused by conditions not affecting the remainder of the body, he also realizes that considerable time has elapsed since he became ill. This is taken by Dr. McKnight to be another indication that he has had intervals of consciousness. Calhoun has inquired repeatedly during the last few days when he is to be taken home.

Dr. McKnight describes the case as one of the most unusual on record. Similar cases have been brought to the attention of medical science only at rare instances. Calhoun's condition is attributed to carbon monoxide poisoning.

The physician predicted that Calhoun will recover full command of his mental faculties within a short time, but a longer period will be required to regain complete muscular control.

SWISHER CLUB BOYS WINS AT FT. WORTH

Tulia.—The Swisher County 4H Club boys' carlot of beef won second place in the open class of the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show last month, winning over Dan Caseman of Manhattan, Kansas. This is proof enough that beef cattle fed in this section can complete successfully with those fed in the north.

SUDAN GRASS SEED MUST BE PURE

LUBOCK, Texas, April.—Texas farmers should be extremely careful in allowing Johnson grass and other noxious weeds to be mixed with their crops that will be sold for seed. J. G. Blotz, of Rocky Ford Colorado, head of the Blotz Hennemann Seed and Grain Company declared while here on Business.

Blotz has had years and years of experience in the seed and grain business and at the present time supplies growers with practically 27 per cent of the cantaloupe seed that are planted each year all over the nation.

Blotz discussed with local seed and grain dealers while here the practice of some farmers in this section planting sudan seed and cane seed in land infested with Johnson grass. This practice is going to be extremely detrimental to the farmers of this section if it is continued, Blotz declared, due to the fact that Johnson grass cannot be controlled in other sections of the nation, after it has secured a foothold.

Blotz called attention to the fact that such a condition existed a number of years ago in California, which resulted in the passing of a law there requiring inspection of fields of grain and seed. This law provides for the destroying by the inspector of all fields in California where the puncture vine, a weed similar to the Johnson grass, is found growing along with various seeds for grains. When the puncture vine is found mixed with the crops the inspector destroys the entire field and the farmer is not refunded in any manner for his expenses in producing the crop to that point.

Blotz pointed out the fact that Texas farmers continue planting sudan grass on land infested with Johnson grass that eventually a law similar to the California law may be passed here to protect farmers and others who purchase seed from this section.

SAFFORD SEES BIG COTTON CROP AS A CALAMITY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 23.—H. G. Safford, Houston, president of the American Cotton Shippers' Association, said here Wednesday that "if there's a big crop next fall, nothing can prevent the biggest collapse in cotton prices the Southern farmer has seen in the last two decades."

"A big crop would mean calamity for the South," he said. Mr. Safford is here for the association's convention, beginning Friday. He would not discuss the request of the Memphis Cotton Exchange and the Southern Cotton Shippers' Association that the national body ask a congressional investigation of the Farm Board.

UNWISE EXTENSION OF BUREAUCRACY

Senate Bill 1443 by Senator Smoot proposes to place tobacco and tobacco products under the control of the national food and drug act on the plea that the health of the people is endangered.

It also places the control and censoring of advertising of these products within the power of this bureau.

Passage of this act will mean a very broad extension of bureaucratic power in this department.

Interpreted in the light of the growth of bureaucracy in government and its assumption of power this will undoubtedly mean that there will follow direct supervision of and interference with the advertising policies and departments of some of the nation's great business organization. It may also be interpreted to extend into advertising agencies and even into newspapers and magazines.

It would be hard to imagine a more dangerous and provocative extension of power in the national government. This bill confines this extension of power to food, drugs and tobacco. Who will predict that it will not ultimately be extended to all business activities?

The preamble of the bill states that its purpose is to "protect the public health and welfare of millions of our population."

This presumes, of course, that the health and welfare of millions of our people are endangered.

That is a ridiculous assumption and cannot be established by facts. There is now a national food and drug bureau, there are in probably all the states, similar bureaus with broad powers, there are laws against false advertising, fraud and deception fully adequate to protect the public.

Is it true that the public health is in any danger under the laws and conditions as they exist today?

It is apparently an inexcusable and unnecessary attempt to greatly extend the powers of government over great business and industrial organizations and should be scotched in its inception.

It is another development of the paternalistic theory of government that assumes that the people are not capable of self-protection and must be coddled, shielded and defended by an all benign government represented by a lot of all wise bureaucrats.

It is also presaged upon the theory that modern business is unscrupulous and that fraud and deception are a part of its practices.

It is a fact, that Senator Smoot ought to know, that the ideals and ethics of modern business are probably as high and clean as those of the United States Senate.

There is no doubt a small minority in the organization of business that stoops to questionable methods in their dealings, but there are adequate laws, if enforced, now on the statute books to control them.

It cannot be justified, because of these few to place a great body of business organizations under the thumb of a bureaucratic department at Washington.

The entire business organization of the nation ought to be solidly arrayed against this proposed law and prevent its passage.—W. S. Joodland, in Racine (Wis.) Times-Call.

More than 1,000 handmen will be at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Abilene, May 29, 30 and 31. Fort Worth is sending five bands while Fortales, V. M., to date holds the record for the most distant entry.

The Good Old Days

HOW OFTEN DO YOU HEAR SOME ONE PINING FOR THE GOOD OLD DAYS?

But, do you really think you would like to return to the kerosene lamp, the coal stove, the old back-breaking ways of doing your house work, and the many scores of other old-time methods that modern electrical equipment has made so easy?

Household worries fade away when electricity is put to work. Sweeping, cleaning, laundering, cooking, and scores of other tasks are done easier with electric equipment.

The modern home is finding new uses for electricity each day. The modern home manager has proven to her entire satisfaction that electricity is the most effective service in her employ—and the cheapest.
