LOOKING AT WASHINGTON

FURTHER TARIFF DELAY. BILL FACES OPPOSITION. TRANSFERS ENFORCEMENT. BUYER NOT GUILTY. SPECIAL SESSION FOR TREATY RATIFICATION SEEMS CERTAIN

Just about the time that most of us had the idea that the tariff bill was well on its way to the President a point of order, sustained in the senate, sent back the supplemental conference report dealing with flexible provisions.

To understand the ruling of Vice President Curtis you should recall that the Senate took from the President his power to raise or lower rates and that the House insisted strongly upon the present provision of the law. The conferees of both houses reported back a provision authorizing the Tariff Commission to promulgate a new rate if the President failed to act upon its recommendations within sixty days.

This "new matter" was against a rule of the Senate and when the objection was made Vice President Curtis promptly sustained the protest, with the result that the measure went back into conference. A similar objection can be made against other features of the conference report so further delay will be possible.

Senator Smoot, in a 6,500 word statement declares that the pending tariff measure benefits the farmer by "protecting agriculture in its own home market." However, widespread opposition continues to be expressed throughout the country, with agricultural states leading the denunciation. In the meantime considerable speculation is being indulged in as to the action of President Hoover when the bill reaches him. The public opinion at this time is that the chief executive will sign the act, issuing at the time a formal statement declaring his intention to use his authority to raise or lower rates necessary to adjust some of the inequalities in the new law.

President Hoover has signed the bill transferring prohibition enforcement to the Department of Justice and something like 25,000 employees will be shifted to the jurisdiction of Assistant Attorney General Youngquist. Meanwhile considerable discussion of the prohibition question continues. Senator Jones, of Washington, following the action of the Republican convention at Bellingham, recommending modification, stated that he would vote to submit the question to the people if his state requests it. Following him Senator Walsh, of Montana, stated that if the people of Montana voted for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment he would also vote to submit the question to the states.

The Supreme Court unanimously decides that purchasers of intoxicating liquor do not violate the prohibition law, taking the position that Congress deliberately and designedly omitted to impose any criminal liability upon the purchaser. It is to be noted that during the ten years of national prohibition no effort has heretofore been made to punish the buyer until recently. While the decision clarifies the law and makes certain the immunity of the buyer, few leaders of the dry side have ever seriously contended for such a stringent enforcement.

It has been decided to put off consideration of the naval treaty until after the adjournment of Congress, which will be followed by the convening of the Senate in a special session, to be called by President Hoover for the purpose of disposing of the treaty. It is generally admitted that present opposition does not muster more than twenty senators. As it requires thirty-three senators to defeat the treaty the outlook for confirmation is good.

The opposition will probably be led by Johnson of California, Robinson of Indiana and Hale of Maine, possibly aided by McKellar of Tennessee. The fight for ratification will be in the hands of Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, both of whom were members of the American delegation to London. Differences of opinion as to the relative value of six inch and eight inch cruisers will figure largely in the discussion. The nub of the controversy arises in the conflicting testimony of Admiral Pratt, retiring chief of operations, and that of Admiral Chase, soon to be fleet commander, supported by Admirals Jones and Bristol. The last named trio believe that the treaty reaches the "last ditch" in agreeing to only eighteen big cruisers.

Other points that will be argued are the replacement provisions, party and the "escalator" clause which gives either of the three powers the right to build any size fleet it desires upon notifying the other two, which shall have the right, in such a contingency to make a proportionate increase in their fleets.

The streets should have been widened before the motor-car arrived. And we should have built bigger and better jails before we passed the dry law.—Milwaukee Journal.

LET US HAVE HARMONY

An Editorial.

The following letter was doubtless intended to be self-explanatory, yet leaves the reader all "up in the air" as to causes and motives:

(Copy of Letter received through mail.)
"June 3rd, 1930.
"Mr. W. I. Wilkins,
"Dear Mr. Wilkins,
"Sudan, Texas.
"At a called meeting last Monday night week the following business was transacted.
"Motion by J. E. Harvey seconded by J. D. West, that it be the belief of the majority of the Sudan School Board that to create a more united School District, and that we, the School Board, believing that the majority of the patrons of this School District desire the resignation of Supt. W. I. Wilkins; also that the board believes it would be impossible to work in harmony with said W. I. Wilkins during the school year of 1930-31, we the majority of the Sudan School Board do hereby request and demand your resignation effective July 1st, 1930. This motion carried.
"Very truly,
"J. O. COVINGTON,
"President Sudan Independent School District.
"Signed—Doyle Morrow, Secretary"

Now the one short, terse question that hundreds of patrons of Sudan schools are asking, is: WHY? This question has been propounded to The News, and The News confesses itself unable to answer.

Notice, please, that the authors of the letter make not the slightest charge against the superintendent. He is not accused of any improper conduct, or neglect of any duty; neither is he charged with inefficiency. He is not even charged with failure to work in harmony with the board, or certain members thereof.

But, on the other hand (and note this carefully) the authors of this letter frankly admit that THEY find it impossible to work in harmony with the superintendent—NOT that the superintendent finds it impossible to work in harmony with them. They allege that "the board" finds it impossible so to work. Do these consider themselves the whole board? The public may think otherwise. There are others on the board who certainly do not find it impossible to work in harmony with the superintendent.

Now The News is speaking for the citizens of Sudan School District—at the request of many of them—when it asks the simple question: WHY? In plain words, what has Wilkins done or not done? Come out in the open. Sudan district is about fed up on "whispering campaigns."

If this "board," which is only a piece of a board, has charges to prefer, backed up by proven facts and by citizens of good repute in the community, and these facts would warrant the removal of the superintendent, then let the "board" bring these facts to The News and they will be given as prominent publicity as has this article.

Replying to the demand of the "board," Superintendent Wilkins returned the following firm but courteous letter:

Sudan, Texas, June 9, 1930.
Gentlemen of the School Board,
Sudan, Texas.
Dear Sirs: In re. your letter of June 3, 1930, signed by president and secretary of your body, asking that I resign my place in the schools of this town, permit me the following:
Unless there can be proven something derogatory to my character or I can be impeached for inefficiency of administration, I can not even consider such a proposition. You are doubtless aware that it is UNCONSTITUTIONAL in this state to try to abrogate the terms of a contract except by mutual consent.
Your minutes of Monday night, February 11, 1929, determine that I was elected in fact, and I have served almost a full year under the terms of that contract.
Let me make this addition: What I have said in this reply is without anger or recrimination, and is with the best of wishes to all men. The matter is simply a business one that I can not accept at all.
Yours very truly,
W. I. WILKINS.

The letter is the reply of a gentleman and a scholar to a wanton and uncalled-for insult—to a demand that was backed by no charges, no reasons—merely an arrogant demand for his resignation.

The News has made careful inquiry throughout the district, and can find not the slightest cause for the insulting demand of the "board." Everywhere we are met by evidences of the perfect efficiency and competency of the superintendent. But on the other hand, evidences multiply as to the woeful incompetence of the "board." In the judgment of many of the leading citizens of the district, this "board" has proven itself utterly incompetent to handle the affairs of Sudan school district and has given ample cause for ouster proceedings. And The News is in possession of cold facts that will fully back up the charge of incompetence.

Now as requests for resignation are in order, beginning with the demand of the "board," The Sudan News, representing hundreds of loyal friends and supporters of Sudan schools, and in the name of these friends, suggests the resignation of every member of the "board" who is unable or unwilling to work in harmony with any man or woman connected with Sudan schools.

This suggestion is based on good and sufficient grounds. The News is satisfied to point out three reasons why these resignations should be tendered:

1. The "board" has admitted ITS inability to work in harmony with the superintendent.
2. The Superintendent has evidenced perfect willingness to work in harmony with the "board."
3. The "board" has proven itself utterly incompetent to handle the affairs of the school district. (And remember, The News is prepared to prove this fact if it is required.)

Home Demonstration Notes

By Ruby Mashburn

Saturday was a record-breaking day in attendance as far as County Council is concerned. One hundred and fifty-two women were present for the dress form and cheese demonstration. The women purchased dairy thermometers and rennet tablets sufficient to make 480 gallons of milk into cheese, which will be 384 pounds.

The home demonstration agent wishes to thank each of the women who furnished milk, utensils, or material for either of the demonstrations.

Milk is assigned its highest place among foods because of the value of its protein, its mineral content, especially lime and phosphorus, the value, abundance and variety of its vitamins content, the energy which its fat and sugar yield, and its mild flavor. The food substance called protein is used in building new muscle and other tissue, also repairing old ones. Of all protein foods, whole milk is most highly recommended for boys and girls. Here in America we have this slogan: "A quart of milk a day for every boy and girl." For the sake of variety, try these recipes.

Egg-nog made by beating together a glass of milk, one egg, one teaspoon of sugar and a drop or two of vanilla, is a very nutritious drink. It combines two foods high in energy, rich in minerals and muscle and bone building material, and essential in building up resistance to disease.

Milk Shake. Mix one glass of milk with grape, raspberry or strawberry sirup. Use not less than four tablespoonsful of one of the juices from canned fruit, adding more sugar and flavoring to taste. For a chocolate milk shake, use chocolate sirup.

Philadelphia Ice Cream (vanilla). One quart of thin cream, 3/4 cup sugar, 1 1/2 tablespoons vanilla. Mix ingredients and freeze. A few grains of salt is an improvement to any ice cream mixture. For the best texture use 1 part salt to 8 parts ice in freezing the mixture. The mixture increases in bulk during freezing, so the can should never be more than three-fourths filled.

Cotton Branch Office For Lamb County

Since Lamb county men have been working in the interest of securing a branch office and federally licensed cotton classifier to be located in this territory, for the past three weeks, considerable progress has been made.
On Friday of last week six men representing different interests made a trip to Plainview to meet Mr. C. O. Moser, vice president of A. C. C. A., who has charge of the locations of branch offices in this part of Texas at this time.
Mr. Moser has agreed to be in Littlefield Friday, June 20th, for two meetings. One meeting is to be held at 2 o'clock, with all people who will come to hear what it is all about. This branch office, when located, will mean a new day for every cotton grower in this section of the country, for it will take the "guess" out of the trade as far as the farmer is concerned, as to the grade and the world price. Cotton will be classified for all the people, whether they are members of any organization or not, and the world price quotations on all kinds of cotton will be quoted each day.
On Thursday, June 5, the people of Snyder, Texas, held a mass meeting with Mr. Moser and reported about two thousand people present, and cars so thick in that little town that travelers could hardly get through.
The people of Lamb and adjoining counties can do anything that any other part of the state can do, if they only know the importance of the movement in time to be there.
So remember Mr. C. O. Moser, vice president of the A. C. C. A., is to be in Littlefield on Friday, June 20th, and is expecting two thousand people or more.

"BOOST OR MOVE"

A 17-PAGE CASUALTY LIST EACH WEEK.

"The great loss of human life in street and highway accidents and the toll of suffering among surviving victims is a national concern of grave importance."

These are the words of President Hoover, addressing a conference interested in cutting down the death toll, which last year reached 31,000 with more than 1,000,000 others injured. Certainly, among the people of Lamb county there are many vitally interested in any undertaking that will insure reasonable safety on the highways.

To illustrate the extent of the national loss in a concrete way, let us suppose The News gave four lines to each fatal accident on the highways of the United States. To do this would require two pages each week. If only one line was similarly given to each person injured on our highways, the mere listing of the names would require fifteen additional pages each week. Our readers, seeing the seventeen-page casualty list every week, would probably be inclined to "do something" about the matter. Why not?

POWER OF THE PRESS.

Stick your finger in the maw of a job press while in motion and you will have a concrete example of the power of the press.

The man who thinks up the names for new Pullman cars hasn't got anything on the man who thinks up new adjectives for the movie blubs.

What a man says in an interview is not as important as what he really thinks—if you can find out what that is.

FOOLING THE PUBLIC.

The average person is too eager to believe what he wishes to believe. He fairly invites people to fool him. He will buy fake oil stock in the hope of becoming rich and he will patronize quack doctors who promise impossible cures. Rejuvenation remedies, anti-fat medicines, cancer cures and mind cures have many advocates. History tells us that quacks existed as far back as 2500 B. C. A lot of quacks ply their trade and grow rich at the expense of the public.

The average person knows very little about the field of medicine and is unable to distinguish the possible from the impossible. The greatest safeguard is knowledge that can be gained by anyone through reading works of authorities on fads, crazes and gullibility.

SCRAMBLED CHORDS.

(Amarillo Daily News.)
That noises and music are the same things only different is not a very illuminating, even though a true, statement.

Recent campaigns for the elimination of noise has brought forth some interesting results of the research in the laboratories of the American Steel and Wire Company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation showing that noise is scrambled chords but occurring with such rapidity that it is impossible for the human ear to distinguish their tonal qualities. The rumbling of an elevated or subway train, the snorting of the steam shovel or the grating of the concrete mixer all contain the same sweet tones as come from a violin, harp or piano; only they're scrambled.

William Braid White, Director of Acoustic Research of the above mentioned company, recently gave a visual demonstration of this by throwing on a screen the picture, as it were, of noises and musical sounds and explains that there are certain easily heard frequencies which appeal to the ear but that in noise, the frequencies are either below 30 or above 4500 vibrations per second and these cause a strain on the ear mechanism. So it is proven that noise and music are the same, only different.

MIAMI VAGRANCY.

(The Dallas Morning News.)
Miami, Florida, has just passed an ordinance defining a vagrant as "any person having visible means of support acquired by unlawful or illegal methods, or any person who is dangerous to the peace or safety of the city of Miami, or any person or persons known or reputed to be crooks, gangsters or blacklegs to come within the limits of said city of Miami, Fla., or to travel upon the streets, highways or sidewalks of said city."

Miami is quite honest about it. Its definition was drawn to include the specifications of one particular person whichever way he might squirm, and there might well have been written as a caption, "Chicago Papers Please Copy."

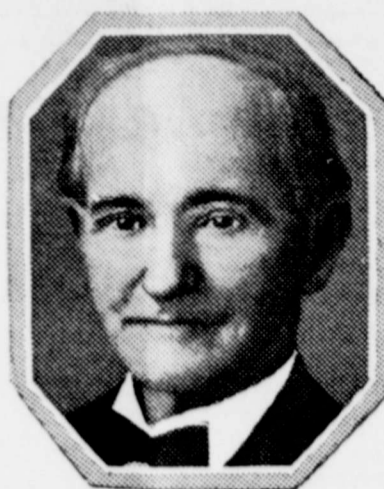

As to efficiency, there may be some question. Police power is a fairly wide term as applied to cities. Courts sensibly recognize the right of the majority of people to a guarantee of peaceful existence. But no stretch of imagination is needed to see that, if Miami vagrancy becomes a universal definition, American residence is denied to a number of persons who have never been convicted of crime.

As to that, Miami is not anxious to have any one test the locality of its ordinance. She merely wants the persons whose characteristics might require invoking it to stay away. Especially one person.

"Too Bad I Did Not Hear of Konjola Long Ago," Says This Happy Man.

R. J. A. KIN

"Too bad I did not hear of Konjola long ago; it could have saved me much suffering. My stomach was the cause of my trouble," said Mr. A. J. Kin, 122 Oriental Road, Waco. "Everything I ate caused pain, gas and bloating. My whole system has run down, my vitality was low and I was gradually losing my strength. I had no ambition and was worn out all the time."

"So many medicines had failed me that I had about lost hope. Then came Konjola. After taking four bottles my appetite increased. I found I could eat anything without a trace of indigestion in any form, and my whole system has taken on new life. I have plenty of ambition to do my work, and I will always recommend Konjola as a real medicine."

Konjola is not a "cure-all"—there is no such thing, but when taken for from six to eight weeks will produce amazing results. The countless thousands of endorsements of Konjola have proven that it makes good in even the most stubborn cases.

Konjola is sold in Sudan, Texas, at the H. G. Ramby Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Rapid Gain Shown In Public Schools

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Enormous increase in public school enrollment in the United States compared with the small increase in that of private schools indicates the confidence of the people in the facilities and opportunities afforded by the tax-supported institutions, stated David T. Blöse, of the statistical division, United States Office of Education, recently.

The publicly supported institutions, he said, have more funds with which to introduce a variety of courses and to offer greater educational facilities attractive to the student.

The American states expended $62,396,656 on secondary education in 1870, and steadily increased the amount to $2,184,336,638 in 1928. In 1928 there were 25,179,696 students enrolled in the public schools compared with 2,669,661 students enrolled in similar private schools, Mr. Blöse pointed out.

Statistics on the growth of students enrolled in private schools and academies between 1890 and 1928 were presented as follows: In 1890 there were 94,931 students enrolled; in 1910 there were 117,460; and in 1928 there were 269,249. In public high schools the growth is recorded as follows: In 1870 there were 80,227 students; in 1890 there were 202,963; in 1910 there were 984,677; and in 1928 there were 3,911,279 students enrolled in the public high schools.

Total enrollment in denominational secondary schools in the United States in 1926 was 185,641, and in 1928 arose to 204,787. Enrollment in nonsectarian schools of this character stood at 65,906 in 1895 and had arisen to only 75,662 in 1928. During that same period the number of nonsectarian schools decreased from 1,270 to 659.

There were 21,268,417 students enrolled in the public elementary schools of the country in 1928, and 3,911,279 students in the high schools.

Sunday School Lesson

JESUS CRUCIFIED.

International Sunday School Lesson for June 15, 1930.

Golden Text: "Looking unto Jesus the author and perfection of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising shame, and hath sat down at the right hand of the throne of God." Heb. 12: 2.

(Lesson Text: Matt. 27: 33-50)

Last week we saw how Jesus was arrested in the Garden of Gethsemane and carried before the two high priests, Annas and Calaphas, and a hastily summoned gathering of the Sanhedrin. Although the law required that the Sanhedrin meet in the daytime, this midnight gathering was held in order to give Jesus a form of trial so that his condemnation could be delivered the following morning, as the law prohibited the trial and sentence of a person on the same day.

To carry out this requirement, another meeting of the Sanhedrin was called immediately after sunrise. At this gathering Jesus again repeated his answer to the question as to his personality and the council condemned him to death for presuming to claim kin with God. No reference is made to either Nicodemus or Joseph of Arimathea, both members of the council, who are not believed to have joined in the condemnation, in view of their earlier contact with Jesus and their subsequent care of his body in burial.

Judas, the Apostle, who betrayed Jesus, either overwhelmed with the sense of guilt or suffering remorse, threw away the price of his treachery and committed suicide. The traditional view of Judas is that he succumbed to condemnation and betrayed his master with a kiss, thus attaining first rank in all history as the traitor preeminent. There are some who think Judas' suicide justifies a definite viewpoint: that Judas was endeavoring to force the hand of Jesus by having him arrested, believing that such an event would compel Jesus to exercise his miraculous power and establish himself as King of the Jews.

The Jewish Sanhedrin had no power to condemn anyone to death without the approval of the Roman authorities. So, Jesus was carried to Pontius Pilot, governor of Judaea, a man of ability but a politician without decided principles. Pilot would not believe Jesus deserved death. He had a superstitious dread of the role he was called upon to play and, besides, had been alarmed by a dream which his wife had related to him about this man Jesus. In an effort to sidestep the responsibility and in view of the fact that Jesus was from Gallilee, Pilot sent him to be judged by Herod Antipas, the ruler of Gallilee, who happened to be in Jerusalem at that time. Herod declined and sent Jesus back to Pilot who had to face the issue.

Pilot's conduct in this crisis stands as warning to all those who exercise authority. In the interest of expediency and rather than brook the anger of the Jews, Pilot acquiesced in sending an innocent man to death. Several times this governor declared there was no evidence of guilt worthy of death and exercised his talents in seeking to persuade the Jews to abandon their insistence that Jesus should die. Pilot even scourged Jesus in the hope that this terrible punishment would awaken some pity, but in vain. Finally the Jews threatened to denounce Pilot to the Emperor, and as this was undesired, he abandoned his convictions in order to preserve his official station.

With Jesus delivered into their hands the soldiers mocked him. They arrayed him in a cloak, pressed a crown of thorns upon his brow and, handing him a reed, mocked him as king, soon changing it to insult and abuse. Then, Jesus was compelled to carry his cross to the scene of the crucifixion, which he was unable to do because of physical weakness, and Simon of Cyrene was impressed by the soldiers to perform this service. Having reached the place he was impaled upon the cross, along with two robbers and his enemies lingered around watching him in the agony of death.

Seven times Jesus spoke from the cross, which sentences can be taken from the acts of various gospels. The first was a prayer for forgiveness for his enemies. The second was spoken to the repentant robber. The third was addressed to his mother Mary and John. The fourth was an expression of abandonment by God. The fifth was an expression of suffering from thirst. The sixth was triumphant that his work was completed. The seventh was a commitment of his spirit into the hands of his father.

A violent earthquake marked the passing of Jesus. The soldiers who had witnessed his death were convinced he was a righteous man. Joseph and Nicodemus applied to Pilot and secured permission to give the body proper burial.

To The Voters of Lamb Co

In last week's issue of The Sudan News appeared a political advertisement endorsing Mr. G. R. (Bob) Crim for Sheriff of Lamb county. To this advertisement was appended a list of names of citizens alleged to live within a radius of two miles of Mr. Crim. A number of supporters of other candidates for this office have taken the trouble to map the district in question, by labores, giving the names of the occupants of each labore. A study of this map will reveal that many of the names in the published list do not appear on the map, reducing the total of the list (37) very materially. The parties making the survey consider the map approximately correct. Following is the list as given in the advertisement endorsing Mr. Crim:

Supporters of other candidates for this office do not feel that the statement in last week's News should go unchallenged. On its face, the casual reader would conclude that the neighborhood was unanimous for Mr. Crim as opposed to the other candidates. A study of the map will at once prove the contrary. And a significant fact which the map discloses is that not a single citizen whose land adjoins or corners on Mr. Crim's home place signed the endorsement.

U. S. To Enlarge Penitentiary System

Under date of May 31, Mark L. Goodwin, staff correspondent of the Dallas Morning News, writes his paper in part as follows:

President Hoover's prison expansion program has received the approval of congress and legislation was recently approved for expenditure of about $1,000,000 in enlarging federal prisons and establishment of new institutions.

The new legislation paves the way for handling the large number of federal prisoners, numbering in excess of 25,000 and growing greater each year. Some estimates show that the federal government prisoners are growing at the rate of nearly 50 per cent annually. The question has been under study by the federal government for a number of years but became acute with the prison outbreaks last year. In the main, these were due to overcrowding and, for the first time, the general public view was focused upon the fact that convictions for the breaking of United States laws are increasing at an alarming rate. At the same time it became apparent the government did not have sufficient penitentiaries to hold conveniently the great army of violators.

At the time Mr. Hoover took up the problem, the federal penitentiary at Atlanta was 120 per cent overcrowded and Leavenworth had nearly double the population of its prison space. It has come to be the habit of blaming many things on prohibition, but violators of that law were responsible for only about 20 per cent of the increase. Of course, the great wave of crime increase has been responsible for the federal plight, with violators of the narcotic laws furnishing about one-third of the increase.

Then, too, the situation has been aggravated by imposition of penitentiary sentences for law violations that formerly did not exist. One of the contributing factors has been the Dyer Act, imposing penitentiary sentences for interstate transportation of stolen automobiles. This caught many persons who took such a machine across a state line, not a difficult accomplishment under high speed and narrow state territory. The federal bankruptcy act also has helped to swell the total.

Consideration has been given by Representative Dyer of Missouri for modification of the automobile law because it was sending to the penitentiary boys who had taken automobiles for joy-riding purposes and with no intent to steal. Such boys would collect their girl friends and go a-riding. Once across a state line they found themselves with a felony to face. Nothing has been done about changing the law, although its author says the matter will be given attention at the next session of congress.

The $7,000,000 authorization voted by congress will cover a six-year period for two penitentiaries, two reformatories and a number of federal jails for the accommodation of short-term prisoners. One of the penitentiaries is to be near Erie, Pa., work to begin next year and costing $1,700,000. President Hoover has asked congress for $1,000,000 for acquiring sites and construction of two federal jails. One of these is to be on the Canadian border and the other at El Paso.

The wasted 600,000 horse-power of Muscle Shoals isn't a drop in the bucket compared to all the energy that has been expended by orators explaining just what to do with it—Judge.

Probably the people who think the country will be made wet by the Literary Digest poll are the same who thought it would be made dry by the Eighteenth Amendment.—Detroit News.

Hail a Foot Deep Holds Up Traffic

AMARILLO, June 7.—Amarillo experienced the most unusual weather phenomena in its history late yesterday when small hailstones fell across Highway 66 both east and west of the city to a depth of eight inches blocking traffic on the pavement for more than half an hour.

The wheat fields in the two areas were left bare and even signs were blown down and stripped. The storms came almost simultaneously in strips about three miles wide across the highway between San Jacinto and the Helium plant on the west and between the east boundary of English Field and St. Francis in the opposite direction.

Motorists came suddenly to vast white fields, cold and identical in appearance to vast snow wastes. Ruts were formed on the paving and the hale packed into the furrows a foot high which hung up the machines on high centers or skidded them sideways holding up those behind.

Immediately after the hailstorm in mid-afternoon a sudden deluge of rain amounting to sixty-seven hundredths in Amarillo changed the highways into icy torrents. No damage was done in Amarillo although there was some lightning with the storm.

Routing a drouth of nearly a month, the rains yesterday afternoon fell erratically over a wide area in the Panhandle, most of it to the east, but some to the south and southeast.

FAMOUS VIOLINIST WITH $40,000 "STRIAD" COLLECTS $5.74 FOR STREET RECITAL

CHICAGO.—A prince of violinists hid behind the tatters and smoked glasses of a blind pauper on a Chicago street corner.

From his $40,000 Stradivarius flowed the same golden notes with which he had cast a spell over rapt audiences in many a crowded concert house. Little clusters gathered about. A few, unhurried by some more important errand, lingered long enough to hear Schubert's "Ave Marie" to its end, or Drdla's "Souvenir," or "Kiss Me Again."

A few dimes and pennies jingled in the beggar's cup, and the listeners struggled on.

Jacques Gordon, for nine years concert master of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, whose cultured bow draws $1,000 in the concert hall, wheedled $5.74 from a casual street corner audience Monday.

The famous violinist undertook his beggar's role to decide a dispute concerning whether the public appreciated music for itself or was attracted by the magnetism of society audiences and the fame of the artists. With a group of friends he conspired to play the beggar on a corner of Michigan Boulevard.

Through the hours Chicago passed in review, slowing its pace and stopping, differently perhaps to hear a pauper's art. Thirty-six passersby dropped their pittance for the fiddler in 30 minutes. And only twice in the long day was the concert master recognized, once by some casual listener who approached as the violinist stepped toward a cab and said: "You can't fool me, Mr. Gordon. What fraternity is initiating you?"

And Jacques Gordon gave away to charity the $5.74 "box office" receipts of a street corner recital by a concert master on a $40,000 Stradivarius.

GRASSHOPPERS MENACE FARM CROPS

There is some indication that grasshoppers may become a serious pest in 1930, according to R. R. Reppert, entomologist of the Extension Service of A. & M. College. Reports have been received that they are present in alarming numbers in the counties of Bexar, Kendall, Payette, Navarro and McCulloch. Following the recent rains over the state, it is possible that heavy damage to cultivated crops may develop, especially in the north, central and west parts of the state.

It is not known how extensively eggs were deposited last fall, Mr. Reppert says. Conditions in the parts of the state mentioned, however, have been very favorable for the successful over-wintering of such eggs as were laid, and for the hatching of the young during the present month. Should a season of dry weather be experienced from now on through June, the insects may be forced to leave the pastures and fence rows to attack cotton and corn. The situation is one that should be carefully watched.

Tate Not Guilty in Killing at Clovis

CLOVIS, N. M., June 7.—Vernon Tate, farmer and auctioneer, living seven miles northwest of Clovis, today was found not guilty of the murder of Geo. C. Bohannon. The jury reported the verdict to District Judge Patton at 10 a. m. today, 11 hours after they had retired for the night. Three ballots were taken.

Although freed from the killing of the elder Bohannon in front of the "Clovis Citizens' Bank" last January 18, Tate faces two other court charges. One is first degree murder in the death of Carl Bohannon, 19, who was fatally shot when he and a brother attempted to enter the bank vault in which Tate took refuge after the first tragedy.

Another count on the district docket charges Tate with assault with a deadly weapon on Louis Bohannon at a little store in Grier two days before the double killing. Grier is a small community seven miles west of here. In an altercation with Bee, John Carsey, and Louis Bohannon, Tate is alleged to have shot two fingers from Louis' hand. The incident was the immediate factor which two days later in Clovis resulted in the double deaths.

SATURDAY AND SANDSTORMS CO-PARTNERS OF LATE

For the past several weeks as sure as Saturday arrives there also comes a good healthy sandy along with it to mar the pleasure of the shoppers as well as the shop keepers. The rest of the week for the most part will be almost ideal, at least decent, and many days will be absolutely lovely, but with the arrival of Saturday, we are greeted with one of those howling, tearing, smothering, disagreeable sandstorms, which is the coon that we have never got up the tree in this country. It is and ever has been the bane to this country and is the only one of all the coons, we lack of having up one tree. But they say they are not all up one tree in any country, so we are still satisfied with old Terry.

None of our prognosticators seem to be able to explain the phenomenon of just why Saturday is the chosen day upon which the rippling waves of the west wind are to play hide and seek with our sandy hoax. They are willing to hazard a guess, but are particular to explain that it is a mere guess and no part of their scientific knowledge, but are willing to make a guess for the fun of it. But when we get our Sunday morning dailies, we have the most plausible explanation that one can imagine. It leaves no room for doubt, it is as clear as mud. For right there before your eyes in inch high letters is the explanation in few words: "A Cyclone Rips Its Way Through," "Hail and Floods Play Havoc in Several Texas Counties." This is then set off and proof of destruction verified with a group of pictures of wrecked homes, denuded trees and crops; unroofed homes, schools, churches and business houses.

Once again we shrug our shoulders, take a hitch in our pants and tell the world we are still for Terry. —Terry County Herald.

According to the government nose-count, babies born after April 1 will remain entirely non-existent for ten years, but the parents who support 'em will think differently.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mexico is hanging kidnapers to trees as a warning. That will improve everything for American tourists except the scenery.—Wichita Eagle.

A business statistician says that wives purchase 64 per cent of all men's ties, so that, we suppose, the men just have to get along with wearing the other 36 per cent.—Boston Herald.

Poison bran mash is thoroughly effective in the control of grasshoppers, and is made according to the following formula: Course wheat bran, 25 lbs.; Paris green or white arsenic, 1 lb.; high grade amy acetate (avoid cheap grades of banana oil or bronzing liquids), 1 oz.; cane or sorghum molasses (avoid corn syrup), 2 quarts; and water sufficient to make thoroughly moist but not sloppy. This quantity should be broadcast and will cover five acres.

Where the insects are migrating from pastures or fence rows to attack cultivated crops, broadcast over the margin of the field being infested, and also back a considerable distance into the pasture.

TO THE VOTERS OF LAMB COUNTY

The many friends of Sheriff J. L. (Len) Irvin in Littlefield feel that an expression of their attitude in the approaching primary election will be most appropriate.

Len Irvin has been a citizen of Littlefield during his entire tenure of office in Lamb county, not only as sheriff, but previous to that as marshal of our town. We believe we are qualified to speak with authority when we say we know both the man and his peculiar fitness for the office he holds and to which he seeks re-election.

When Mr. Irvin took over the affairs of the sheriff's office, he shouldered EVERY duty of the office, and he has always keenly realized that he was the servant of ALL the people of Lamb county. He has always realized that the full responsibility for the enforcement of EVERY Texas law or statute in Lamb county rests upon his shoulders. And from long observation of the man we can truthfully assert that we have never seen in him the least inclination to shirk any duty devolving upon him. Many of us remember the deplorable conditions prevalent in the county as respected law enforcement when Len Irvin took charge, and we have seen the gradual and steady improvement from that day to this, until Lamb county now ranks as one of the most orderly in the state.

Bear in mind that the duties of the office are many and varied. Today the sheriff may be called upon to go to the farthest confines of the county to arrest a petty offender; tomorrow he may be on his way to a distant state to take charge of a criminal being held for his arrival. Processes of every description come to his hands to be served, and his field of service is practically boundless.

Through it all, Len Irvin has "carried on," never tiring, never slackening in his devotion to duty, but tenacious to carry out every trust reposed in him. No, he isn't perfect; no man is. But he has made as few mistakes as any officer we know, and any mistake that may be laid at his door has been a mistake of the head and not of the heart.

"A Square Deal to All"

Subject to the action of the Democratic party in the primary election to be held July 26, 1930.

Perhaps you will say he has been fortunate in his choice of assistants. Yes, but much of that good fortune was good judgment in picking just the right kind of men. This he has done with a view to efficient discharge of the duties of the department, and neither he nor the people have been disappointed.

Do you say he has some enemies? Well, doesn't every conscientious officer make some enemies? What would be your opinion of an officer so spineless as to incur no enmity? A very poor opinion, we'd say. Mr. Irvin has known that a conscientious discharge of all his duties would inevitably arouse some enmity, but he has sensibly ignored this, has made no reprisals, and will not make any, but has continued quietly on his way, confident that a sense of fairness in his fellow citizens would assure him justice.

Another point we would call to your attention: Experience goes a long way toward developing efficiency in any calling. Inexperienced officers make more errors than experienced ones. This is peculiarly true in this office where experience breeds coolness of brain and steadiness of nerve. Len Irvin has had the experience, and is what you might term a graduate in the duties of a peace officer.

Remember, fellow voters, you are to elect a man who will discharge ALL the duties of the office—not a chosen few duties and "let the others slide." Len Irvin has been devoted to the discharge of every duty in the past, and will be in the future.

We, his fellow townsmen and neighbors, ask that you ignore any baseless campaign rumors, but closely examine Mr. Irvin's record, and when the time comes to cast your ballot, give his claims the fair consideration you would ask were you in his place.

Mrs. Mayo and Miss Billie Walker of Wichita Falls spent several days in Lubbock with their sister Mrs. D. R. Tucker who underwent an operation the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Tucker and the late mother, Mrs. J. Y. Walker of Archer City, Mrs. E. E. Ivey and Mrs. Ella McCracken spent Monday and Tuesday of last week in Littlefield, where Mrs. Tucker underwent a operation at the West Texas Hospital on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dean and two daughters, Margaret and Katherine spent several days at Ruidoso this week.

Dr. Foote reports the following births: To Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Jones, a boy; to Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Lee, a girl; to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Plinn, a boy; to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McWilliams, a boy; to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Neons, a girl.

In a match game of ball between Olton and Littlefield, at Littlefield recently, the score was 8 to 7 in favor of Littlefield. This was close, and shows well for Olton, as Littlefield is considered one of the hardest teams to beat on the Plains. Olton will play Sudan at Sudan Sunday, June 15, at 3:00 p. m.

Mr. A. A. Whyte, candidate for Tax Assessor of Lamb county, paid the News office a pleasant call Saturday.

The Midget Golf course recently installed in Sudan now has its full complement of 18 holes and is open to the public for complete games. This sport is becoming very popular and numerous devotees have taken to it with the purpose of either "reducing" or "building up." Anyway, it's a real sport.

Sudan and vicinity has had three good rains the past week which has put the soil in excellent condition for crop planting, and should induce a spirit of optimism in all.

Herbert Blair, living 4 miles southeast of Littlefield, was arrested Tuesday by Sheriff Irvin and Deputy Walraven, charged with violation of the prohibition laws. The officers reported the capture of 20 gallons of home brew together with about 200 bottles, copper, etc. Blair was placed under $1,000 bond for appearance at court.

The Saylor Produce has moved to the Weimhold building, in rear of Sudan, News, and F. H. Weimhold has charge of the business. See his ad in another column.

ALLEN STEPHENSON ARRESTED AT ESTANCIA; BROUGHT BACK

Sheriff Len Irvin went to Estancia, N. M., last week after Allen Stephenson, who was arrested at that place on a charge of jumping bond. Stephenson was under indictment for violation of the prohibition laws, and had been placed under bond. Failing to appear for trial, his bond was declared forfeited. Sheriff Irvin returned Stephenson to Olton, where a new bond was made.

Wichita Man Talks About Trouble

Lost Steadily and Could Not Find Relief; Every Sign of Indigestion Is Gone After Taking Orgatone.

The remarkable experience of G. N. Ritter, residing at 2102 Kemp Blvd., is another striking evidence of the extraordinary merits of Orgatone. In speaking of his long time suffering from indigestion and headaches and subsequent relief, Mr. Ritter said:

"I am telling all my friends about Orgatone and all of my family are taking it after seeing what it has done for me."

"My trouble had been growing worse instead of better, all the time," he continued. "It was almost impossible for me to eat a meal without suffering from gas and sour stomach afterwards. I began losing weight and had fallen off until I only weighed one hundred pounds, away below my weight, and could not find anything to relieve my pain or build me up."

"After I had suffered month after month without getting any better, some one gave me a statement on Orgatone that convinced me and I started taking it. As I have said before, I have gained in health and strength and I haven't felt a sign of the old indigestion trouble since. I have taken Orgatone only a few weeks so far, but from the way I jumped already I am glad to recommend it to everybody."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Sudan at the H. G. Ramby Drug Store.

Amarillo Physicians Diagnose "Jake Foot"

(Amarillo Daily News.) Local physicians, chemists, and health officers agree that "Jake paralysis" is caused from lead, or synthetic isopropyl alcohol with a high lead content.

County health officer, Dr. E. A. Johnston, and city health officer, Dr. H. H. Latson, who have dealt with several cases of "Jake foot" through city and county charity, and city chemist, Jack Wyatt, together with Dr. C. G. Bruce and Dr. Claude Wolcott, who have carried on experiments in connection with the disease, all agree that the isopropyl content of the beverage has caused the affliction.

Seven out of ten other doctors said they had treated Jake patients, and Dr. Bruce has had approximately 30 of the sufferers within the last two months. None of these doctors has seen any "beer head," and "limber neck" they believe to be the same disease as Jake foot, only affecting the neck.

The belief that lead is causing the trouble was founded on experiments conducted by Dr. Wolcott, a chemist of years experience as well as a doctor in actual practice at this time.

Dr. Wolcott had conducted many experiments with isopropyl alcohol, and had often observed the effects of lead on factory workers and painters.

He suspected lead at first, he said, when the victims showed symptoms similar to the factory workers of his experience. Dr. Latson and Dr. Johnson, who have seen the economical side of the problem, say that this is the outstanding social problem of the day. Tremendous economical waste has resulted, and unless these tragedies are prevented, most of the victims will become objects of charity. Unlike other types of paralysis, the Jake victim does not lose the power to feel. The power to move is destroyed, and the limbs waste away as in infantile paralysis.

Jack Wyatt, city chemist, says that almost all alcohol sold through the government is poisoned to prevent its use for drinking purposes. Much of this government alcohol, of course, finds its way into commercial channels, and is sold by bootleggers. Any intoxicating beverage may be poisoned in this way.

Dr. Wolcott believes the lead-contaminated alcohol may be the result of defective distilling, either the liquid is taken off prematurely, or the temperature is not accurate during the distilling.

These physicians all agree that it is impossible to check the menace at its source, and the only sure cure for Jake foot is not to get it.

SORE GUMS—PYORRHEA. Poul breath, loose teeth or sore gums are disgusting to behold, all will agree. Leto's Pyorrhea Remedy is highly recommended by leading dentists and never disappoints. Druggists return money if it fails.—H. G. Ramby, Druggist.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Saur of the Lamb County Store spent Sunday in Amherst.

Chicago is planning to spend $300,000 on a big paving contract. Lots of people thought they used good intentions for paying material out there.—Judge.
