Clothing

A clothing contest was held in Lamb county in May 1931 in which 86 women entered as many sheer and wash dresses. Thirty-seven of the garments were made by foundation patterns.

The cost of the contest garments was $172.00. The value of the finished garments was $258, which represented a saving of $86.00.

Interior Home Improvement for Women

The County Living room contest which closed in June 1931 was participated in by 34 women.

These women scraped, stained, and varnished floors, canvassed, papered and sheet-rocked and painted walls. They refinished furniture and arranged it in groups, or centers. Many of the women made hook-ed or braided rugs for their rooms.

Several of the women made tables and book shelves for their rooms.

In the County there was a total of 85 pieces of furniture refinished by stain, wax, varnish and paint. The women made 35 braided rugs, 30 hook-ed rugs and 6 crocheted. These rugs were made usually from discarded clothing such as cotton overalls, blankets, silk or rayon hose and underwear, and woolen clothing and blankets.

Many of the women made hook-ed and braided rugs from hemp of burlap. These finished rugs had a cash value of $304.50.

So fascinating was the rug work that the following five women decided to standardize rugs.

Mrs. Sarah Gregon, Amherst. Mrs. Joe Gregon, Amherst. Miss Willie White, Amherst. Miss V. O. White, Amherst. Miss Essie Cooper, Amherst. Each of these women made lovely woolen hooked rugs in bright colors for the Titcher-Goettinger Christmas sale.

The 4-H Pantry work materially assisted more people in Lamb county than any other extension work done by the county home demonstration agent. There will be very few if any people who have lived in Lamb county who do not have enough canned food to last them until next gardening time.

The above demonstrators canned a total of $113,768 quarts of food with a cash value of $34,558.00.

The cooperators canned 151,750 quarts valued at $48,737.00. Others have canned 254,800 quarts valued at $74,486.00. The 4-H club girls canned 16,288 quarts, valued at $3,411.97. Total value of canned, preserved, and cured foods for the county is: $161,192.97.

The value of having your food supply at home is being realized more by the people every day. Mr. A. P. Duggan of Littlefield, in talking to the agent remarked: "I am insisting that all the families, to whom I rent land, learn what food they will need for a year and how to prepare it. If they do not know how to can and preserve foods I tell them of the extension work and urge the women to get in a club."

Year Round Garden Demonstration

In 1931 Lamb county had 40 demonstrators and 165 cooperators. This was a total increase of over 1930. Each one of the

The influence of the garden and hot beds is spreading 30 women who have not made hot beds before have started them for 1932.

Walker Barton Announces For County Attorney

PLATFORM BASED ON EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY

In making the announcement Mr. Barton says:

"I believe in an efficient and economical handling of the affairs of the county and in giving the state efficient representation in the prosecution of criminal cases and at the same time be fair and honest with the party accused of a criminal offense.

"If elected I will keep an office at the county seat which is a requirement under the laws of this state.

"I will favor a reduction in salaries as is now set for county officials, in accordance with the conditions, with the times and financial conditions of the county."

By way of introduction and as to qualifications his qualifications, Mr. Barton submits the following for the consideration of Lamb county voters:

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that Mr. Walker Barton formerly served as County Attorney for Burnet county, Texas, for four years and made a splendid record.

I have always found Mr. Barton strictly honest, conscientious in the discharge of his official duties, plenty of energy and not afraid of work.

O. B. Zimmerman
County Judge of Burnet county, Texas

I am gratified to know you are contemplating running for County Attorney of Lamb Co. Texas.

Your record as County Attorney of Burnet county, an office I filled many years ago, was commendable, and if the people of Lamb county knew you as I know you, you would find no difficulty in being elected to this position.

Dayton Moses,
Attorney West Texas Cattle Raisers Assn

I am informed that Hon Walker Barton of Littlefield is contemplating making the race in Lamb county for the office of County Attorney.

Mr. Barton formerly held the corresponding office in Burnet county prior to his removal to Lamb county, and every one found him to be a hard-working, conscientious officer, and one who gave thought to the people of his county rather than to his own personal gain. I am acquainted with the fact he often refused to draw fees from the county to which he was entitled under the law, because he felt that as the Attorney for the county he should perform his duty with as little expense to the taxpayers as possible.

It is a pleasure for me to recommend Mr. Barton to the voters of Lamb county, and I can give them assurance that if they elect him their County Attorney, they will find his work fully satisfactory to those who believe that a public office is a public trust.

Thos. C. Ferguson,
Representative 84th District of Texas.

HOMESPUN SENSE

Filthy Quotations from Public Addresses of MELVIN A. TRAYLOR

"It is time some leadership and some early called our attention to the fact here is no magic cure for the ills and the evils of human folly. We tread the stony path of extravagance, of thoughtless and of almost criminal neglect of every sound principle of human conduct, from the individual to the government, and the individual was aided, encouraged, and abetted on that path by the government and those responsible for its administration."

"One of the biggest things was a watered state of mind in which we all thought we were richer than we were, and were living beyond our means."

"In my opinion, no great division of human society has ever been led to, and led about, as much in the same period of time as has the American farmer."

"This then is my hope for our future—that we may be rich without forgetting to be righteous; that we may be powerful without being oppressively proud; that we may be affectionately minded without being narrow-minded; and, finally, that we may live in a world of fact without suppressing our faith."

"I would urge consideration of the complete abandonment of so-called four trading, which, as I am informed, has about it most of the characteristics of plain crop, and, few, if any, more redeeming features than that of lighted Ethiopian postures."

"It is bad enough when the intelligent and wealthy speculate and lose, but when serfdom, day laborers, small home owners, wives and youths speculate and lose, simply because they can go to a broker's office and get credit for small sums, the practice ceases to be respectable on any ground."

"Out of the stress and difficulty of the situation I believe gradually we shall return to simpler thinking and simpler living. For it seems to me that we want above everything to abandon the struggle to live up with the Joneses, and to rediscover the true purpose of life, which is the joy to be found in the simple virtues of industry, thrift and sane living. I believe in our people, in our country, and in the God who directs our destinies; and I welcome the future with confidence and unshaken faith."

"We have not failed because of ignorance of economic theories, but because of our utter disregard and defiance of all economic laws. Ambition, stupidity, and greed have dictated policies, and trouble has been the result."

"All through history... the nations that have been agriculturists and have included in their agricultural and domestic pursuits the breeding and raising of livestock have been the nations that have endured the longest and performed the greatest work for mankind."

"Open the door of an agricultural school and you close the door of a poorhouse."

"Relief from owing too much money does not lie in borrowing more."

"Human welfare, I believe, means more than the mere assurance to the individual of political rights—life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—as enunciated in the Declaration of Independence; it means also the opportunity to exercise these inalienable rights."

"Knowledge is one thing, but courage of leadership is another."

"Falsehood and error make the headlines, while truth and fact are lost in the maze of half-point type."

"What does freckle-faced Johnny, snub-nosed Bill or red-headed Jim care about composition, translation or conjugation? The only cube root life will ever give them a chance to extract will probably be that of a hickory or sassafras sprout; the only unknown quantity they will ever seek to find will be the measure of the nubbins they can produce on the worn-out fields their fathers have robbed before them; the only conjugation they will ever undertake will sound something like 'We Work,' 'You Work,' 'They Work.'"

"We cannot trade the hungry, the unfed, the feeble voice of the sick, the empty basket of the unemployed, against the maintenance of party preference or individual advantage or personal achievement."

"I believe I am a better farmer by a long shot than I am a banker."

"We must either all thrive together or all suffer disaster."

Two Chicago Bankers Prominent In Drive Against Depression

Charles G. Dawes (left), Chairman of the New Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and Melvin A. Traylor, Chicago Banker.

CHICAGO and the Middle West have a double interest in the success of the gigantic Reconstruction Finance Corporation which is now being organized in Washington following speedy action by Congress.

Charles G. Dawes, whose name is almost synonymous for the business community of Chicago will sit in the driver's seat as the active head of the great $2,000,000,000 Federal corporation just authorized by Congress.

Another Chicago banker, a Democrat who is being repeatedly mentioned as a man of Presidential timber, has the distinction of making a vital contribution to the initial strength and success of the Reconstruction Corporation. That man is Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, who was the first to visualize and propose that the Reconstruction Corporation render some service to thousands of depositors of small banks which had failed during the past two years. The gist of Mr. Traylor's proposal before a Senate Sub-Committee was that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation be authorized to make loans to closed banks as well as to financial institutions and others needing its aid. Such a step would release substantial amounts of money to depositors whose funds had been "frozen" by the failure of such banks.

Mr. Traylor's suggestion made such an impression that it was embodied in the Bill as finally passed by Congress. He, more than any other man, is responsible for the timely assistance that will now be possible for many depositors of small banks throughout the country.

WAFFLE MOST VERSATILE OF FOOD DELICACIES

When in doubt, have waffles. The ingredients are staples on hand in every household. The uses of the waffle run the course of breakfast, lunch, the impromptu tea party, dinner or supper. There is no food more adaptable, none more variable in its uses, some quicker and easier of production, than the waffle.

The breakfast waffle is never wasted. Capacity reached, the batter that is left can be put away in the refrigerator, and used again at lunch or at the light supper in the evening, and, still better, at the impromptu afternoon tea.

Breakfast waffles are served with butter and sugar, or butter and syrup, with bacon or with sausage, depending on the likes and dislikes of the waffle-fed family. There are varieties in even the breakfast use of the useful waffle.

For lunch or the impromptu afternoon collation, jam or jelly or marmalade can be used instead of butter, and for creamed chicken or sea food, the waffle makes an ideal base at supper time. The useful waffle is adaptable to any circumstance or to any taste.

With self-rising flour the success of the waffle batter is never left to chance. There is no waste. Self-rising flour is economical of both time and expense, as can readily be seen by the following recipe:

Waffles.
2 cups self-rising flour 2 tbsp. melted fat
1 1/4 cups milk 2 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk 2 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk 2 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk 2 eggs

Directions: Sift and measure flour. Beat yolks with sugar and fat. Add milk. Then add liquid to flour and fold in egg white, beaten stiff but not dry. Let bake in hot waffle iron, from one-half to one minute, and turn.

Industry Must Go On

The wheels of industry must continue to turn—the World must be fed and clothed, and it must have some of those things to which we have become accustomed in modern life.

Conditions are not always the same, and at times it is difficult and discouraging, as it has been during the past several months. It is a period of adjustment to conditions that obtain now and will likely influence the future.

"Safety First," should be the keynote, and there is no better assurance of safety than in making our living at home and economizing where economy is possible.

We are assured of but one thing—that business conditions will be on a firmer foundation than ever before when at last this adjustment is complete.

Keep the wheels turning, but let your operations be safe and self supporting.

OIL Gone.

He Drove from Banner to Sheridan

on the GERM PROCESSED "Hidden Quart"

The driver for the Sheridan Motor Bus Company was ready to leave Banner, Wyoming, for Sheridan with his big Red bus loaded with passengers.

Then he made a discovery. The oil line had been accidentally broken, allowing the Conoco Germ Processed Oil to drain out; and the crankcase was empty. With all Banner closed for Thanksgiving, he could not get oil and had to drive the 16 miles to Sheridan without oil. At Sheridan, inspection showed that the "Hidden Quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Oil had saved the motor from damage!

If Conoco Germ Processed Oil can protect a heavy bus with the crankcase empty, it will certainly give you sure, safe lubrication in everyday driving. It is the only oil that actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces. That's why a "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and never drains away. It cuts down wear in the starting period, when other oils drain away and leave parts unprotected. It gives your motor longer life, with fewer repair bills.

Have this extra protection. Change to Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle.

We neither encourage "dry crankcase" experiments nor guarantee success under all conditions. But uncounted times, in all motors, now in our files, all of them, hundreds of other runs with empty crankcases but without damage.
