Pauline was in a room to herself when her clothes caught fire. She jumped into a nearby bed trying to extinguish the flames but did not succeed until her mother was attracted from a nearby room by her screams and jerked the remaining burning clothes from the child's body.

She was severely burned over the entire body and is given little hope for complete recovery.

Fire Destroys Home

The home of E. F. Nutall who resides a few miles north of Amherst was completely destroyed along with all of its furnishing and the clothing of the family who had gone to Millsap, Texas, to spend Christmas.

The Nutall family left about four o'clock last Wednesday morning and the house was in full flame within an hour after their departure according to neighbors who witnessed the fire.

Neighbors did not notify Mr. Nutall as there was nothing that could be done and it would interfere with a Merry Christmas for them.

The family returned Monday to find their house and furnishings completely destroyed. Citizens and churches of Amherst and Sudan are helping the family to get started housekeeping again.

Truck Wrecked By Evening Passenger

W. J. Shirley was slightly injured when his truck was completely demolished in a railroad crossing accident one and one-half miles east of Amherst Tuesday about 4:30 when the passenger train No. 92 ran into his stalled truck which was loaded with potatoes.

According to Shirley he heard the train whistle as he started across the grade crossing and gave the truck the "gun", but it stalled and before he could get out of the truck the train hit the truck. The truck was completely demolished and Shirley received a few injuries about the head. How he missed death in the accident can not be understood by witnesses.

The pilot was driven beneath the engine and as the train approached the Amherst depot the pilot caught in a switch derailing the front wheels of the engine. A section crew was called to replace the wheels and the train left Amherst at 7:20 nearly three hours late, after an Amherst welder had removed the pilot.

Engineer H. A. Finister of Clovis, Fireman R. E. Lowery of Slaton, and J. A. Vernon, who lives about 150 yards from the crossing and who was an eye witness stated the train whistled four times.

J. A. Vernon and John Moody took Shirley, who is 23 years old and unmarried, to Littlefield where he was given medical treatment.

Sullivan's Case Was Transferred To Hale

The trial of Jack Sullivan was transferred from Lamb county to the district court in Hale county by Judge Charles Clements on a motion by Meade F. Griffin, district attorney.

Sullivan, who is charged in connection with the robbery of the Olton bank, was captured at Mountainair, N. M. in September by Sheriff Crim and was placed in the Lubbock hospital ward of the jail to receive attention for his wounds received in the gun battle with officers. He escaped from that jail on November 17 and was captured again last week at Vernon.

Sullivan is being held in the Plainview jail awaiting trial. He entered a plea of not guilty. He is suffering from his right arm which he told officers was rebroken in a car accident at Farwell two weeks ago.

The red Dodge sedan in which he made his get-a-way from Lubbock was left in Fort Worth but had not been recovered as yet by Lubbock officials.

GOOD MEDICINE

Mayor-elect Carson of Portland, Oregon, has prescribed some good medicine for public consumption. He said: "We must quit asking the government to be a wet nurse to everything.

"We must realize that the people support the government, not that the government supports the people.

"We cannot get out of debt by going farther into debt.

"We must cut the cost of government, for in that way lies the only avenue of relief at present.

"I am not an alarmist, but we must admit that none of us knows whether or not we have hit the bottom in this deflation of credits that is now going on.

"We must maintain the stability of the economic order, must preserve our institutions; if we do not, it will mean that we are breaking the last timber that holds the roof of protection over our heads.

The protection of life, property and health are the fundamental duties of our government. All else is superfluous. We must hold to these fundamentals and turn our back upon these other intriguing things if we are to hold what we have and build solidly for the future."

Portland is fortunate to have elected a mayor who has the courage to advocate such practical and fundamental American ideas.

WHO WILL PAY?

Who will pay the taxes after all property has been confiscated and all capital has at last found its way into the coffers of the government?

The optimistic answer is that that will never happen. Probably it won't. But we are coming closer to it than we realize. In some middle western states more than 50 per cent of the farms have been foreclosed and are being worked by lessees, not owners. In some cities it is cheaper to tear a good building down than to allow it to stand—because taxes on the structure are greater than the income it produces. In other cases it is cheaper to close a factory—because, under present conditions, returns are not great enough to meet the tax bill and the other running expenses.

It is very easy to advocate soaking the rich to help the poor. But over-taxation of capital is the surest way to produce distress, unemployment depression. When people are afraid to invest their money in producing enterprises, because of fear of increasing taxation, the country faces a crisis from unemployment and actual confiscation of capital and jobs by taxation.

The Congress now in session must deal with an unbalanced budget. The next Congress will have the same identical problem. Unless expenditures are reduced, there will come a time when there will not be enough taxpayers to meet government's high cost.

Scouters To Meet

If you attended the Annual meeting of the South Plains Area Council last January, you remember what an enjoyable and inspirational occasion it was.

The next Annual meeting will be held on January 24, 1933, and plans are under way to make it a bigger and better occasion than the last one. Dean J. M. Gordon has again been appointed chairman of the program committee and will be assisted by T. E. Buckner and F. A. White. It is planned to have a banquet and Dr. Bradford Knapp, President of Texas Tech, will deliver the address. Those who have had the pleasure of listening to Dr. Knapp know that this same part of the program alone will more than repair them for the effort required to attend.

Fantastic as characters from the Arabian Nights—Aladdins—Ali Babas—Sinbads—were the Bullion Barons of the Rockies! Romantic! Swaggering! Sinister! Often unschooled and childlike—

There was Jack Morrissey, for instance, who made millions before he could tell the time of day. A diamond-studded watch was his first investment, after he struck pay dirt. When asked the time he would whip it out and flash it before the inquirer's face with the remark, "See for yourself, then ye'll know I'm not lyin' to yez!"

Jack later toured the world in regal style, squandered thousands on the Rue de la Paix and in the Palais Royale, and returned to the United States to die a pauper in the Denver poorhouse.

And Sam Newhouse, saved from bankruptcy by a lucky Leadville strike! He enrolled in the Prince of Wales' set in London, became one of the largest copper operators in the world, bought a mile frontage in Salt Lake City, on which he built a theatre hotel and several office buildings. Incidentally he erected New York's first 'skycraper'—the Flatiron Building.

Nat Crede—for whom the Colorado boom town was named, after years of luckless scratching about Leadville, went over the mountain and struck it rich, built himself a castle in Crede, tired of it, willed his vast holdings to a Los Angeles waif —and blew out his brains.

Countless picturesque characters rose to the heights and fell. Astounding men of action—unique in the history of the country—but they were small of stature compared to the greatest spendthrift of them all, Haw Tabor—the Silver Dollar King. "Silver Dollar"—that's what the Silver King dubbed his first daughter. Not the offspring of his deserted schoolmarm wife, Augusta—but of that dazzling divorcee of the mining camps, Baby Doe, who dethroned her.

Tiny "Silver Dollar" who, long after was to meet a violent death in Chicago's Tenderloin, emerged from the baptismal ordeal in Jewels and laces, bearing the amazing title of 'Rosemary Silver Dollar Echo Honorary Tabor.'

"Kansas or Bust"

Thirty-five years before the arrival of the ill-fated Rosemary in this naughty world a swaggering young New England stone-cutter, H. A. W. Tabor—left Maine with his prim bride, Augusta. The newly-weds were bound for the farmlands of Kansas, wither thousands were emigrating, spurred on by Horace Greeley's "Go West, young man, and grow up with thecounthy!"

The Tabor traveled by train to St. Louis and by boat to Kansas City where they bought oxen and a covered wagon.

loading the primitive conveyance with farm implements, provisions and seed, they rumbled on toward the snake-ridden wilderness which was to prove the gateway to Tabor's Napoleonic conquests, and, in the fullness of time to his Waterloo.

AFRICAN PYGMIES ARE GREAT ELEPHANT HUNTERS

Strange tales about the most unusual tribe of savages in Africa, the Pygmies, are to be related by Carveth Wells, Fellow of the Royal Geographic Society and Continental Oil Company radio entertainer in his regular broadcast Wednesday night, January 4, over N. B. C.

According to Wells, the hunters of this diminutive but very old race, which lives in the great Ituri forest of the Belgian Congo, are as agile as monkeys and can kill an elephant in short order by shooting him full of poisoned arrows. They handle a bow so well that they can have three arrows in the air at the same time and hit a target with each of them. Wells also tells about the little known Semang pygmies who inhabit the Malay peninsula.

The Conoco program may be heard by local listeners who tune in on stations WFAA, KTHS WKY, Wednesday night at 9:30 o'clock.
