Civil Service Commission Announces Examination For Postmaster In Sudan

To fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster in Sudan, the United States Civil Service Commission has announced, at the request of the Postmaster General and in accordance with an order of the President, an open competitive examination.

To be eligible for the examination, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must reside within the delivery of the post office for which the examination is held, must have resided for at least one year next preceding the date set for close of receipt of applications, must be in good physical condition, and within the prescribed age limits. The competition is open to both men and women.

Under the terms of the Executive order, the Civil Service Commission will certify to the Postmaster General the names of the highest three qualified eligibles, if as many as three are qualified, from which the Postmaster General may select one for nomination by the President. Confirmation by the Senate is the final action.

Applicants will be required to assemble in an examination room for scholastic tests, and will also be rated on their education and business experience and fitness. The Civil Service Commission will make inquiry among representative business and professional men and women of the community concerning the experience, ability, and character of each applicant, and the evidence thus secured will be considered in determining the ratings to be assigned to the applicants.

The Commission states that presidential postmasters are not in the classified civil service and that its duties in connection with appointments to such positions are to hold examinations and to certify the results to the Postmaster General. The Commission is not interested in the political, religious, or fraternal affiliations of any applicant.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained at the post office for which the examination is held, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

People of the Fairview community are assured of plenty of entertainment. Miss Denny, local teacher; Mr. Jackson, principal of high school; the Nelson brothers; along with the Sudan orchestra and other local talent will furnish the entertainment. Probably two talks on topics of interest, will be made by local business men. Ice cream cones will be served to those attending the program. These trips are held for the entertainment of the people of the different trade tributaries, and also, to acquaint them with the advantages of trading in Sudan.

He stated that with the help of school truck drivers who have been instructed to take license numbers of cars driven by persons who violate this law, he will make arrests of all violators.

The enforcement of this law is an absolute necessity to the welfare of the children who ride the school trucks.

Highway Project Bids Are Taken

Low bidders for road construction authorized under the federal emergency relief program have been tabulated for projects to cost $1,305,653. Contracts will be let in the near future.

Included in these projects is the grading and draining contract of highway No. 7 from Amherst to three miles north of Sudan. Work on this project will begin in the near future.

Practically all of the men used on this project will be local Lamb county men who must sign at some RFC office in the county. Men are signing up in Sudan at the V. C. Nelson land office.

Several hundred men will be needed on this project; therefore Lamb county's unemployment list will probably decrease with the beginning of this project.

Men either interested in working on the road or on other RFC projects during the winter months should register at some RFC office in Lamb county in the near future.

Curtis Harkey, who travels out of Dallas for Fox-Coffey-Edge company, visited his sister, Mrs. Joe T. Sajem and family Wednesday.

The bureau has printed bulletins telling the people about Texas and urging them to come to the largest state in the union and fish and hunt, marvel at the skyscrapers, newly-built where Indians so recently roamed. This bulletin also contains many beautiful pictures and can be had by writing the Conco Travel Bureau at Denver, Colorado.

"Of major scenic importance, the Palo Duro Canyon is slashed south of Amarillo in the Llano Estacado" (staked Plains)—that great expanse, so level that early explorers had to drive stakes at trail crossings to mark their return route," is the description of this country and the canyon just north of Canyon by the bulletin.

Many interesting details are contained in this bulletin which will aid travelers in finding the most interesting features of Texas, as will all other literature furnished by the travel bureau.

The Conco Travel Bureau is operated by the Continental Oil Company as a free service for motorists. This travel bureau has a large number of employees who strive to give efficient and complete travel information.

If you are planning to make a trip write them for information.

Beer Goes On Sale Friday In Sudan

Legalized 3.2 per cent beer will go on sale in Sudan at the White Rose Cafe Friday morning, according to Choc Blanchard proprietor of the local restaurant.

The people of Sudan voted beer in a city election last Wednesday, September 13, after Lamb county had voted to remain dry in the August special state election.

Beer could have been sold in Sudan legally Tuesday of this week if applications had been made in time, but due to delay in the local business firms making applications, sale could not begin until Friday—five days after application had been made.

The White Rose will handle several brands of 3.2 per cent beer.

Other Sudan business will probably start handling beer in the near future.

Business is on a boom in Littlefield, as a result of the legalization of beer in that town, according to reports.

TAXES NEEDED

RFC relief funds will cease to come to Sudan, unless the City has projects planned and can buy sufficient material to utilize the work of the RFC laborers, according to authorities.

We can all see the necessity of keeping this relief fund available to create employment for the unemployed; we all know the necessity of paving more of our streets; and we all know the saving to the City by getting this work done under the RFC relief measure.

But are we doing our part to help promote this work.

It is essential that the City have enough money to pay for the necessary materials, equipment, and highly skilled labor on these projects. The RFC money can only be used for unskilled labor which is by far the larger cost of the street work.

The City does not have this money now, but if the people of Sudan who owe delinquent taxes will pay them within the next few weeks, it will have.

If these delinquent taxes were paid the City would have sufficient money to take care of all due obligations, as well as enough money to furnish the material for the needed projects.

If these projects materialize, the merchants and people of Sudan generally will benefit from it.

Make arrangements to pay your city taxes within the near future, and help build a bigger and better Sudan.

APPRECIATION

People of Sudan and surrounding country should appreciate the efforts of the Sudan Business men in building a better town and school.

These men have spent much time and money in helping employ the unemployed, and making it possible for them to live through the summer months when work is so scarce.

These men have really worked to keep Sudan what it is and help its citizens, while mail order houses have done nothing to benefit Sudan or its citizens.

When you have employment, receive cotton money, harvest a crop, or make money in any way and are ready to spend it, you should think of your local merchants who have stayed here during dull times to accommodate you. They stayed on the job so that they might give you good service, and have made sacrifices; so that they might accommodate you.

You should appreciate these merchants enough to do your trading with them when you have money and can buy in large quantities.

The local merchants are always willing to help you and do appreciate your business therefore you should appreciate them enough and buy from them and help build a bigger and better Sudan.

GRAFTERS

Along with the bumper crop and the $1,500,000 cotton money for Lamb county will come grafters, schemers, and tricky salesmen, who will use every means possible to high power people in to buying something they don't want.

Beware of these salesmen who have a long tale to tell you about their wares, or a new kind of advertising which will increase your business ten fold. They are drifters who follow good times and are not interested in building Sudan or any other town.

This is a profession with these people and they have it down so pat, that they can sell you something you don't want, unless you are on your guard.

Every form of advertising imaginable is included in these schemes which are absolutely worthless to merchants, and if they were any good, are too expensive.

You have a local job printing plant which pays taxes to help maintain City, school, county, state and national governments. It helps build the town and furnish job for you, whether it is a small nishes employment for local people. This firm can print any individual job or a large co-operative job for the entire town. The cost of the advertising will usually be about half of what the high-powered salesman wants.

Local business houses pay taxes here and are helping to build a better Sudan. Any kind of merchandise can be bought in Sudan from these stores and Sudan firm's stand back of their sales.

IS THIS THE DAWN

One of the brightest signs of the times is the compilation of figures by the National Industrial Conference showing that employment in the United States increased by better than 10 per cent in July over June, and that this was the largest monthly percentage gain recorded in 14 years.

Furthermore, July was the fourth successive month in which an employment gain had been recorded; and on top of that it was shown that the people who had jobs were, on the average, working longer hours in July than had been the case in June.

The tide is rising—not as rapidly as we might like, perhaps, but very steadily. Whatever it may be the cause, and whoever may deserve the credit, we seem at last to be emerging from the depression. Could we possibly get better news than this?

THINK ON THESE THINGS

(By the Parson)

The surest way to lose the fight is to quit. Because of apparent prospects for a good run this fall; it is evident that some of the merchants have decided that it isn't necessary to keep "pushing." (Advertising.) If you had a house as large as a city block and it was filled to the top with merchandise you wouldn't realize any profit on goods sold if the people did not know you had that stock. Two things are essential to good merchandising if your business is to be a success. First keep a fresh clean stock; second, advertise your prices. A good stock with good prices, and well advertised, will get results.

Be a booster for every business man in town including your competitor. "For with what measure you mete, it shall be measured to you again."

The "parson" after one month's absence is back on the job again. It has been my observation in my "rounds" to note this fact: Sudan is widely advertised because of her "Live" group of business men. Other towns near Sudan are complaining about losing trade on First Monday's. There's a reason. Sudan merchants are working at the job. If any merchant in town hasn't been assisting in this great work they ought to be what the Irishman said he would be if he wasn't an Irish man. "Be ashamed of himself."

More building and improving is going on in Sudan and surrounding trade territory than any other community on the South Plains. Investigate for yourself.

The Sudan News is keeping pace with every other progressive business concern in the town. It has been increased in size and volume.

A subscription price to the Sudan News, pays more than one hundred per cent on the investment. It may save you hundreds of dollars during the year by bringing to your notice "Reduced Prices" on many articles you need.

As the Web worms seem to be making a profitable living off the cotton crops it might be worth our time to tell you about the remedy we heard about while at Floydada. A certain party told me the best way to get rid of the worms was to feed them a little Red Cross flour. When asked the secret of this method he replied, "They will sit down and starve to death waiting for you to bring them more."

The town people who do not have gardens ought to avail themselves of the opportunity to gather peas (green and dried) for a little food this winter. The country is filled with peas and beans and many of the farmers are anxious to get them picked. A few peas cooked with a slab of fat bacon will inject enough "spitzer-inktom" into the system to keep warm in the face of a cold blizzard. I have tried it, I know.

A "certain fellow" returned from Littlefield the other day with the following sign on his car "We have been to Littlefield." He didn't need to advertise that fact, his eyes looked like two fried eggs. "Happy Days Are Here Again."

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Martin returned home Saturday from a extended visit with relatives in Arkansas.

Let's Do Our Part

We are not thinking of Uncle Sam's code just now, but of one of our very own for dear 'ole Sudan High. Did you know that unless each student makes a special effort to do his part that Sudan is in great danger of losing her affiliation of high school credits?

Some morning when you arise and say, "I don't think I'll go to school this morning," just remember that some day you may wish to go to college. Students, let's don't forget to do our part in making the average attendance requirement so that when the time comes for us to enter college we will not be required to take an entrance examination because of unaffiliated high school credits.

In order to receive state aid for teachers and students who come in on the buses, we must have an average attendance of seventy per cent and a nine month school.

We do not want to lose our affiliation so let's work hard. We have our parents and teachers backing us so let's show them what we can do.

From the Superintendent's Office

School work is progressing satisfactorily now. Both teachers and pupils are interested and working. We now have 329 pupils enrolled in Sudan schools. We expect to enroll more than 900 during the year if everyone in the community will cooperate in getting others enrolled who live in the district and have not come to school this year.

Mr. Logan, manager of Santa Fe railroad company at Amarillo, and his daughter, who is a senior this year in the Amarillo High School, visited our school last week. We took them through our entire school system and they were well pleased with the Sudan schools. Mr. Logan stated, before leaving that he knew the school money is being spent profitably in educating our young Americans; and that the Santa Fe Railroad, of which he is an employee, was glad to pay their taxes amounting to more than $1600 and help the school in this way.

The Deputy State Superintendent, Mr. Holbrook, who is located at Lubbock for the year, will pay an official visit soon to our schools. He will make a report to the State Department relative to the quality of school work we are doing. His report is determined by the efficiency, interest, results, and the school spirit in general of the whole school district. Good order, good manners and being courteous in school is quite noticeable by one who observes school work. Let's impress the supervisor and make his visit here a pleasure and one that he will remember.

Come On, Seniors!

The Seniors met last week for the purpose of organizing and electing officers. We elected the following officers:

For the benefit of those living in and around Sudan I am giving part time to Sudan, having regular office hours in Sudan in Wood Building from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. daily.

The rest of my time will be in Muleshoe where I have lived and practiced Chiropractic for the past three years.

Your patronage will be greatly appreciated.

Scout News

The Scouts have a very active organization in Sudan with Mr. Harold Clements as Scoutmaster. Our troop which is number 39, is divided into four patrols with Jim Shuttlesworth, Bill Whitwell, Toky Doty, and Clyde Robertson as patrol leaders. Our membership is about 28. We meet Thursday night at 7:15 in our room in the High School building. The first Thursday night in every month we have a social for all our parents, friends and prospective scouts are cordially invited.

Juniors Meet

The entire high school met last Wednesday at the beginning of the second period in order to elect class officers and sponsors for the school year.

The Junior class was very satisfied with the sponsors and class officials. We elected the following:

Sponsors: Miss Reeves and Mr. Whittle.
 President: Marvin May.
 Vice-President: Nin Cocco-nougher.
 Secretary-Treasurer: Lena Ruth Harris.

The Junior class is planning for a very successful school term. We are going in for sports of different kinds and intend to make S. H. S. proud of us. Sudan High needs school spirit and we as a class joined NRA and are doing our part. Watch the smoke of the Juniors! We are going to make the other classes very glad that the Juniors exist! We are going to show the Seniors a grand school year. No one will be able to say that we aren't good sports. We want the cooperation of the entire school.

Sports

Things look bright for a winning basketball team this year. According to Coach Whittle there are about thirty-five boys coming out. We still have Woodrow and Dorrell Malone and Radney Nichols with us this year. They made a good showing last year. The five boys from Circleback add strength to the local team.

Mr. Whittle says there probably will be a game in two or three weeks. He urges all the boys to pass their work so they can play.

We wish the cooperation of all fans to help make this year's team stand out in the history of Sudan schools.

Senior Rings

The great event which happens once in a life time to all high school students has happened to the Senior of '34—We have ordered our Senior Rings.

On Tuesday, September 19th the Senior class met the sixth period to select their "brand" which will mark them dignified

Thousands have Ended their Bowel Worries by taking this advice!

Can constipation actually be overcome? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say the many thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not likely to cure your constipation with salts, pills, tablets, or any of the habit-forming cathartics. But you can correct this condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

THE LIQUID TEST:

This is the way many men and women have made their bowels as regular as clockwork in a very short time.

First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord.

Simple, isn't it? And it works! The right liquid laxative brings thorough bowel action without using force. An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is syrup pepsin. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help, as in the case of mineral drugs.

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. The dose can be measured, and the action controlled. Pills and tablets containing drugs of violent action are hard on the bowels.

If there are children in your household, don't give them any form of laxative, but use a healthful, helpful preparation like syrup pepsin. Its very taste will tell you it is wholesome, and agreeable to the stomach. Delightful taste, and delightful action; there is no discomfort at the time, or after. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all ready to take.

Checks vs Cash

If a check is lost, mislaid or stolen, its payment can be promptly stopped at the bank on which it has been drawn. Whereas, if currency goes astray, or falls into improper hands, there is no such method in this country of "stopping payment."

THIS is one of the most patent arguments in favor of a checking account and is so obvious we should hesitate to mention it were it not for the fact that the obvious is frequently lost sight of.

ON TEXAS FARMS

What to do with retired cotton acres has not stumped Texas farmers. From every part of Texas reports from county agents come pouring into Extension Service headquarters describing good uses to which extra acres have been put or are about to be put. Not all of them deal with actual retired cotton acres but are ideas that may be practiced on ex-cotton acres.

There is Garrett Moulton in Franklin county who planted corn in the cotton middles before plowing up the contracted crop. With the help of a few showers he has the prospect of a better corn crop than on his regular corn land.

In Tyler county 90 per cent of the farmers have planted fall gardens and half of them are sowing oats, rye, rye grass and hairy vetch for winter grazing and later plowing under to enrich the soil.

A permanent use for old cotton acres may be the growing of sorghum for syrup. In Bastrop county syrup mills have increased four-fold in three years as a result of demonstrations in growing better sorghum cane. In the sandy land parts of the county the growing of one-half acres of good syrup cane is a part of the regular farm program.

Board county ought to have a good supply of alfalfa hay in the years to come for many farmers are preparing to put idle cotton acres into this crop this fall. Some plan to follow the Spur Experiment Sub-Station method of terracing and contouring alfalfa land to hold run-off water from adjacent fields.

Gonzales county farmers are said to be looking forward to the new cotton contracts with the idea of grooming the retired land up a few years by terracing and planting soil building legumes. In the recent campaign committees reported from 50 to 75 pounds more seed cotton per acre on terraced land than on un-terraced in every part of the county.

WINTER PASTURES

Quick pastures that may be sown this fall in Texas for winter livestock grazing are suggested by R. H. Bush, special agent in the Texas A and M College Extension Service. These pastures may be sown on retired cotton or wheat acres only to the extent that the grazing is to be devoted to livestock or livestock products to be consumed on the farm, he explains.

On any land in Texas with enough moisture to germinate seed he recommends the immediate sowing of small grain at the usual rate for grazing according to territory, or 20 pounds of Italian rye grass sown broadcast per acre.

On the Blacklands of Central Texas he suggests the same seeding except that 10 pounds per acre of biennial white sweet clover may be mixed profitably with the 20 pounds of Italian rye grass. Another plan for this section is to sow 4 pounds per acre of biennial white sweet clover in 72 inch rows and cultivate. In May 10 pounds of sudan grass per acre may be sown between the rows.

For the moist sandy soils of East Texas Mr. Bush suggests the sowing of small grains at the usual rate for pasturage or 20 pounds of Italian rye grass per acre between February 15th and April 1st on the small grain or rye grass pasture will give extended spring and summer grazing. The lespedeza seed may be covered by dragging with section harrow without injury to the small grain or rye grass already growing there.

GARDEN PAYS

By trading green beans from her garden to local merchants Mrs. Ollie Duniven, pantry demonstrator for the Red Deer Home Demonstration Club in Roberts county, has received nine dollars worth of food for her family budget. Mrs. Duniven planted 150 feet of beans and irrigated them. When the price was highest she sold green beans, but when the price dropped too low to justify selling she canned the crop for winter use. According to the report of Miss Bessie Sikes, home demonstration agent, irrigation and good care were the main factors in securing this splendid yield when other gardens were suffering from the continued dry weather.

Druggists In Contest Teach America Value Of First Aid

Four American druggists whose merchandising originality won them trips to Europe. Top, Mrs. Bess G. Brewer; left, William J. Witte; right, Charles J. Neun; bottom, Herbert R. Woods.

With insurance and other vital statistics recording a considerable increase in minor injuries, the Red Cross Products Division of Johnson and Johnson, New Brunswick, N. J., recently undertook to educate the public to the value of first aid and the necessity of promptly taking care of little hurts—cuts, burns, abrasions and bruises which, when neglected often lead to complications.

Making America first aid conscious—a titanic task was accomplished in three months through the logical medium of the public-spirited group which is always ready to serve—the corner druggist, who sells band-aids and Red Cross gauze, cotton and bandages and many other products which are mighty important in the family medicine chest.

Staging an essay contest for druggists, assistants and drug clerks, the Red Cross Division of Johnson and Johnson offered four trips to Europe as major prizes to druggists in the various sections of the country who could most effectively stimulate the public's interest in first aid.

Of the thousands who entered the contest, Mrs. Bess G. Brewer, Brewer Drug Co., Oklahoma City, Okla., Mr. M. J. Witte, of England and McCaffrey, Inc.,

Utica, N. Y., Mr. H. R. Woods, Woods Drug Corp., Evansville, Ind., and Mr. C. J. Neun, Morgan and Millard, Inc., Baltimore, Md., were selected as first prize winners in the four divisions, while twenty-seven lesser prizes in each division were awarded.

The contest winners showed a great deal of ingenuity and keenness in educating the public to the value of first aid. Window displays and radio talks, announcements from the stage of local theatres and essay contests by school children, demonstrations on life and on wax models were some of the methods used to focus attention on the increasing necessity for paying attention to little hurts.

So effectively did this education progress and so widespread were the results that Mr. Ellsworth Gale, director of the Red Cross Division of Johnson and Johnson announced that a somewhat similar contest would be held annually, in order that the thought of taking care of itself would not be forgotten by the public.

The four first prize winners are sailing on the S. S. Scythia from New York late in July for a tour of Europe in which they will meet the leading pharmacists of Paris, London, Brussels, Heidelberg and many other cities.
