

BOATING THRU RANGER WITH LEON... By Ronald Waters

NO NEWS is "good" news. Well absolutely nothing happened in Ranger Tuesday or Wednesday. No one was planning anything to happen (except the joint committees of the chambers), no one was doing anything much, and nothing was happening.

Ranger's TEEN-AGE LEAGUE (I'm glad we finally got that straight) plays two games out of town this week and two make-up games in town (to be announced later).

Here I'd like to say that I'm sure the Little League greatly appreciates the efforts of MRS. DREWY COX, official score keeper, the league, almost as much as I do. She's a great help in writing Little League stories.

ARAMCO (Arabian American Oil Co.) mailed us a "1957 report of operations to the Saudi Arab Government by the Arabian American Oil Co."

What's unusual about this is that half of the book is in English and an identical half in Arabic. It's marked "For Release Wednesday, June 25." And I'm going to send the Arabian half to the type-setter (who is Dwayne Dennis, by the way) on that day.

THE RANGER CHIEF was the first newspaper published in Ranger, according to our special edition of the 20th anniversary of the Times. THE RANGER ATLAS came in the latter part of 1891.

Others came later including the RANGER RECORD. First representative of this congressional district was Roger Q. Miles.

EASTLAND COUNTY was created on Feb. 1, 1858, and formally organized Dec. 2, 1873. In 1860, the population of the county stood at 99. In 1870, this number had decreased to 88. Finally, in 1930, population figures were 33,981 in the county.

Earliest County Agent, mentioned in the special edition, is A. J. Sanderford of Ranger.

P. D. HICKS, the only man to work on the TIMES from the first issue to the special edition, helped to put out the first edition on June 4, 1919—two weeks late, due to installing the press.

LION CLUB MEMBERS in 1939 included: T. J. Anderson, Calvin Brown, Lloyd Bruce (president), Nick Crawford, W. H. Clarke, Les Crossley, Joe Dennis, L. E. Gray, Floyd Killingsworth, A. N. Larson, A. J. Ratliff, and Hall Walker. Several of these men are still members.

R. E. Harrell was owner of the G & H Dairy, in Ranger since 1939. DELBERT CAPPS was here, then, running the Moderne Studio. More will come later on this edition.

Registration Starts Monday For Skiers

Registration for area participants entering July 4th ski contests at Lake Leon will start Monday at Eastland and Ranger Chamber of Commerce. Each registrant will be given a number painted on sign cloth. These numbers will be called over the public address system on the Fourth, and the participant is expected to be ready.

Skiers may register for any or all events, including one and two-ski performances. Prizes will be awarded to the best trick skier, the best all-around skier, and to the best men and women skiers performing on single and double skis.

Numbers, on the sign cloth, were prepared by Bill Stevenson, of Ranger, manager of Montgomery Ward's store. Cloth was furnished by Jimmy Smith, of L & J Supply Co. of Ranger.

A ski course was marked out on the lake Friday night with anchored yellow inner tubes. A mimeographed sheet will be furnished for participants, showing the ski course.

Joe Collins, James Cockle, Stevenson, Smith, and James Tompkins—all of Ranger, anchored the tubes.

Eastland skiers will receive odd numbers and Ranger registrants even numbers.

Registration will continue through 2 p.m. on July the Fourth.

Make-Up Games Set Tonight

Two make-up games with Eastland are set tonight (Saturday) in the Teen-Age League. The senior leaguers play here at 8 p.m. in Pony League Park, and the junior leaguers play there at 8 p.m.

One or two other make-up games will be played in the Teen-Age League this week, whether permitting.

James Germany, manager of the senior leaguers, with "Red" Cantrell, announced that more boys are needed for Teen-Age play. The team consists of 11 boys, including one substitute, at present. It's still not too late to play ball in the 15-16 year old division, he said.

Mrs. Ann Harper Attends Baptist Meet In Canada

DALLAS — Mrs. Annie Harper of Ranger is one of more than 400 Texas Baptist students and counselors who left Dallas Saturday to attend the fifth Baptist Youth World Conference in Toronto, Canada, June 27-July 2.

The meeting is expected to attract nearly 7,000 Baptist youth from 68 countries around the world, including the Soviet Union.

Ten chartered buses, sponsored by the student department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas and Texas Baptist churches, are taking the youngsters and their chaperons to the huge conference.

Two tours for the Texas youth attending the meeting will include visits to Little Rock, St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Niagara Falls, New York City, Washington, D. C., Richmond, Atlanta, Birmingham and Nashville.

The meeting is the first youth world conference to be held in North America. Previous meetings were held in Prague, Zurich, Stockholm and Rio de Janeiro.

Jimmy Arrendale Is Improving

Jimmy Arrendale, who was injured in Ranger last week, is reported in better condition. His attending physicians said the operation Wednesday was a success. He will be transferred to Ranger from Herdicks Memorial Hospital in Abilene later.

Plans for a fund drive to help defray hospital expenses are underway.

HERE FROM SALT LAKE CITY

Mrs. C. J. May and John of Salt Lake City, Utah, are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ervin.

Mrs. May will return home Sunday, but John will spend the summer with his grandparents.

Albany "Thrashes" Ranger 21-4 Friday

Albany junior leaguers gave Ranger Teen-Age players a good "country thrashing" Friday night in Pony League Park.

Final score was 21-4 in favor of Albany.

At the end of the top half of the first inning, Albany led 8-0. When Ranger came up to bat, they made four runs in the bottom of the first, to make the score 8-4.

Albany scored two more points in the top of the second, while Ranger made three straight outs in the bottom half. In the top of the third, Albany gained five more points while Ranger again made three outs. Albany boys gained six more points in the fourth inning, and the game was called at this point—due to a lead of over 10 points.

Score-keeper was Bobby Fron. Charlie De Los Santos, a n d David Lockwood pitched for Ranger and Roy Hogan pitched for Albany.

Scoring for Ranger were Pete Huerta, Joe Barker, Tiny Goodwin, and De Los Santos.

Junior leaguers will travel to Cisco to play the Indians Tuesday night.

Boyce House Recalls Past Experiences in the County

By Ronald Waters Boyce House, Fort Worth writer and former editor of the Ranger Times, who was in Ranger Friday, believes that the Ranger boom was the most spectacular of all booms. It came at the right time, he said, during World War I, and right after the war when all the service men poured into town. "Ranger was a boom of such dimensions that even veteran oil men had no yardsticks to measure it with," House said. They paid unbelievable prices for oil leases, but learned from their experience here, to be more conservative later, he added.

House has always had sentimental interest in Eastland County because of the things that happened here while he was writing material for the book.

Since then, House has written a good number of books—all except one concerned with Texas and most of them with Eastland County. His second book, "Texas Rhythm" was published in 1936. Then came "Oil Boom" in 1940, with one chapter on the Ranger boom and another on the boom in Deadmons.

"I Give You Texas" was published in 1945, with about 130,000 copies sold, to become one of the best-read books on the subject. "Tall Talks From Texas" followed in 1944, containing humorous stories, many of them gained from Eastland County. In 1946, "Texas Proud and Loud" was published. The only book House wrote not concerned with Texas was "Cub Reporter", published in 1947. The next year came "City of Flaming Adventure", the history of San Antonio.

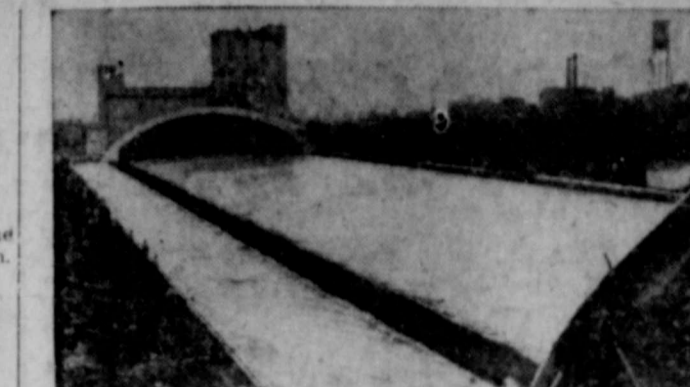

Later, such well-read books as "Texas Laughs" and "Oil Field Fury" were published. In 1955, "You Can Always Tell a Texan", hit the market, followed by "Texas Treasure Chest" in 1956. His latest book is "As I Was Saving", printed in 1957.

"You Can Always Tell a Texan" was the subject of an Associated Press Story, circulated all over the world.

Of course—there was "Roaring Ranger" published in 1956. When House returned to Ranger, after the publication, he was given a hand welcome at the train, and crowds poured into the theatre for his appearance.

Also, he has sold two articles to (Continued On Page Four)

Stubblefield Name Well Known In Area

Since 1900 the Stubblefield name has been well known in Eastland County. It was that year that the late W. T. Stubblefield first purchased 80 acres two miles east of Carbon. That's why this week's Mystery Farm wasn't much of a mystery to readers of this newspaper.

Today the home place is farmed by C. G. Stubblefield. There are just 30 acres left today, C. G., having sold much of the acreage. He recalls, however, that his father, in past years, purchased four plots, two 80 acre pieces of land and two 160 acre plots.

Since 1900 there have been three houses on the farm. The present house was built by C. G. Stubblefield.

Stubblefield has been a member of the Eastland County Farm Bureau for the past eight years. He now has a few cows and hogs on the home place. His favorite hobby is fishing.

The Carbon farmer, a native of the county, attended Carbon schools. He married the former Maude Hutchins of Gorman, and the couple has one daughter, Mrs. Bea June Shriner, now of Houston.

Stubblefield recalls that he missed the oil boom. "As Fibber Magpie would say, I was in the big war," he said with a smile.

Bringing up the old radio character made the conversation get around to radio and TV. Stubblefield believes TV has a long way to go to reach the peak that radio once had. "TV programs are boring," he declared.

Water Sports Make Safety Big Problem

The main summer pastime in Eastland County undoubtedly are water sports. Swimming, boating, skiing, and fishing are the things in this county, which has numerous lakes, ponds and swimming pools.

With the emphasis on water sports, there also needs to be more emphasis on water safety, the Red Cross believes.

The Red Cross, hoping to make this a safer summer, as well as a pleasant one, have put out a list of safety precautions.

The following 10 safety precautions will prevent most drownings:

- 1. Learn to swim. To save your life, you can't think of a better sport.
2. Always swim with another person. Make sure someone is nearby to help if you get into trouble.
3. Swim in a safe place. The presence of lifeguards usually indicates the area is safe for swimming.
4. Know the area. Before diving, make sure the water is deep enough and that there are no hidden objects such as submerged rocks.

5. Respect the water and know your limitations. Water can be a good friend or a deadly enemy. Don't go beyond safe limits or your ability.
6. Use discretion. Don't swim right after eating or when overheated or overtired.
7. Try to remain calm in case of trouble. Assume a face up floating position, keep your hands under water and slowly move your hands and feet.
8. Keep safety equipment in your boat or canoe. Unless you're really an expert swimmer, it is wise, when riding in a small craft, to wear a life vest.
9. Stay with your boat or canoe. Most small craft will float, even when filled with water or overturned.
10. Don't overpower your boat. A motor too powerful for your boat makes it difficult to control and may cause upsets or other accidents.

County Delegates To Attend State Pecan Convention

Lions Hear Lewis Conn

Lewis Conn, of Lone Star Gas Co., talked on the "Use of Natural Gas" at the Thursday noon meeting of the Ranger Lions Club.

Conn stated that gas plays an important part in "everything we do and have." Three-fourths of America depends upon gas for heating, cooling, or other uses, Conn said.

Featherite industry, in Ranger, uses more than one million cubic feet of gas every two or three days, Conn said.

He continued by giving statistics related to the gas industry.

Gas service in Ranger is "as good and as quick as possible," said Conn. A telephone call will bring someone to test or service appliances in the home, he added.

About 12 million, 500 thousand cubic feet of gas were used in Ranger last month, Conn said.

Lions will install new officers next Thursday, June 26.

HE'S LONG GONE, THANK GOODNESS—Miss Neida Wright of the Harvard Museum of Comparative Zoology is a small figure indeed posed by the fossil skeleton of the Kronosaurus, once the largest flesh-eating reptile in the seas. About 100 million years ago, the reptile, which is 20 feet long with a nine-foot head, sank to the bottom of a sea which once covered part of Queensland, Australia. Twenty-seven years ago the remains were found and the soft but resilient bones were freed from the rock with hammer and chisel. The skull contains 80 spike teeth up to eight inches long. It has taken till now to complete the reconstruction. It is the only complete skeleton of a Kronosaurus in existence.

Water Sports Make Safety Big Problem

The main summer pastime in Eastland County undoubtedly are water sports.

Swimming, boating, skiing, and fishing are the things in this county, which has numerous lakes, ponds and swimming pools.

With the emphasis on water sports, there also needs to be more emphasis on water safety, the Red Cross believes.

The Red Cross, hoping to make this a safer summer, as well as a pleasant one, have put out a list of safety precautions.

With two drownings already on the county death list this year, the following 10 rules should attract extra attention:

1. Learn to swim. To save your life, you can't think of a better sport.

2. Always swim with another person. Make sure someone is nearby to help if you get into trouble.

3. Swim in a safe place. The presence of lifeguards usually indicates the area is safe for swimming.

4. Know the area. Before diving, make sure the water is deep enough and that there are no hidden objects such as submerged rocks.

5. Respect the water and know your limitations. Water can be a good friend or a deadly enemy. Don't go beyond safe limits of your ability.

6. Use discretion. Don't swim right after eating or when overheated or overtired.

7. Try to remain calm in case of trouble. Assume a face up floating position, keep your hands under water and slowly move your hands and feet.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By OMAR BURLESON
 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — There is yet to be appropriated approximately $10 billion to complete the budget for the fiscal year 1959. This time last year, when economy was popular, the Congress had cut approximately $4 1/2 billion from the President's request. Thus far this year, the Congress has even upped the President's request, and very likely there will be other increases before the session ends.

These increases are made in the face of declining income, and even if no tax reductions are made, there is good prospect of ending up with a deficit of $5 to $10 billion. Any deficit, of course, contributes to more inflation. Even when the congress cuts appropriations to the various departments, bureaus, and commissions of the Government, it usually ends up by making "supplemental" appropriations in the year following the reductions. A Government department simple tells the Congress that it does not have money enough to operate to June 30, the end of the fiscal year. The Congress then grants the supplemental appropriation, which more often than not wipes out the saving made the previous year. These "supplemental" appropriations are usually made when the people back home are not looking, but to make a big-to-do about these savings at the time the cuts are made.

Legislation is often brought before the Congress which includes "something for everybody." For instance, the so-called "Community Facilities Act of 1958," now current and already passed by the Senate, provides that communities may borrow money from the Federal Government for a term of 50 years at the going interest rate. The sum of $2 billion is provided for these loans.

Money may be borrowed by political subdivisions for the construction, repair and improvement of public streets, sidewalks, highways, parkways, bridges, parking lots, airports, and other public transportation facilities; public parks and other public recreational facilities, public hospitals,

AT RANGER DRIVE IN

A jealous Elizabeth Taylor interrupts a dance between Montgomery Clift and Janna Lewis in this scene from "Raintree County," M-G-M's spectacular picture, which introduces the revolutionary new MGM Camera 65. Eva Marie Saint also stars in a cast of 119 speaking roles.

rehabilitation and health centers and public nursing homes and public convalescent homes; public refuse and garbage disposal facilities, water, sewage and sanitary facilities; and other public utility facilities; civil-defense facilities; public police and fire protection facilities; public wholesale farm produce markets; public libraries and offices and other public buildings (other than schools); and public land, water and timber conservation facilities.

Maybe while we're at it, we should triple this $2 billion and add post office buildings. There is a need for $4 to $6 billion worth of post office buildings in the United States at this time. Bear in mind, the $2 billion to be loaned to cities, towns and communities are "loans." This is supposed to make it different from V.P.A. and P.W.A., but the legislation says nothing about what would happen to all of these things should the borrowers default. It could be assumed that the Federal Government would then own a lot of "community facilities" like sewer systems, public parks, sidewalks, etc.

If this help to communities was an outright grant it would follow the practice of Washington collecting taxes from people and doing money back to local governments. As it is, the Federal Government borrows the money on the faith and credit of the communities which they cannot have in the first place to qualify for the loan, and lends it back to them with interest charges.

The measure as passed by the Senate did not include "rehabilitation and health centers and public nursing homes and public convalescent homes." This has been added by the House Committee.

The Average Individual—

... gives little thought to the question of values when he should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without an abstract disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which loss could be saved and the savings wisely spent for abstracts of title.

Fashions in Franks

Easy-to-fix foods make the best choice for picnic menus. For your next picnic or beach party, have stuffed frankfurters, baked beans, relishes, fruit and cookies . . . they're easy to pack and easy to serve.

Frankfurters have been said to have originated in Germany but in there anything quite so American as a bun wrapped around a juicy, sizzling hot dog which has been generously covered with relishes?

Each year, picnickers still seem to rate frankfurters first or second on their list of favorite picnic foods. Why? Probably because in addition to tasting good they're easy to pack and easy to cook and serve. Since frankfurters are completely cooked, ready to eat, they need only to be heated through if you like to roast them for eating hot, comments Reba Stagg, meat expert.

Picnic time is right now so perhaps you'd like a few frankfurter-how-to suggestions. In this special picnic menu, frankfurters are featured by splitting them down the center, inserting a strip of cheese and wrapping the frankfurter in a slice of bacon. Depending on the tastes of the family or group, use either sharp or mild cheese. Grill the frankfurters over glowing coals.

Franks may also be cut in 1-inch pieces and alternated on a metal skewer with olives, onions, fruits, mushrooms, etc. This is called a kabob. Kabobs are popular picnic suggestions.

If you're planning a breakfast picnic, tiny slices of frankfurters cooked with scrambled eggs make a delightful flavor combination.

TALES OF LOST TREASURES

By Atlas Wilson

Bigfoot Wallace was an adventurous soul. His exploits in the early days of Texas have been told by many. The most widely known account of these exploits is the book by John Duval entitled "Bigfoot Wallace."

Probably not to be found in this book is an adventure of Bigfoot's that occurred in this area of Texas back in 1837. It points the way to a fabulous treasure!

It all began when Wallace and a surveying party were encamped on the north branch of Palo Pinto Creek in the county of that name.

Wallace, being an expert rifle man, was sent in quest for game. It was early morning and after tramping some 3 or 4 miles southward from the camp he encountered a band of Comanches.

ATHLETE'S FOOT GERM HOW TO KILL IT.

IN ONE HOUR. If not pleased with STRONG Instant - drying T-4-L liquid, your 48c back at any drug store. It sloughs off infected skin. Exposes more germs to its killing action. USE T-4-L FOOT POWDER too - gives a film of antiseptic protection. NOW at SWANEY'S PHARMACY.

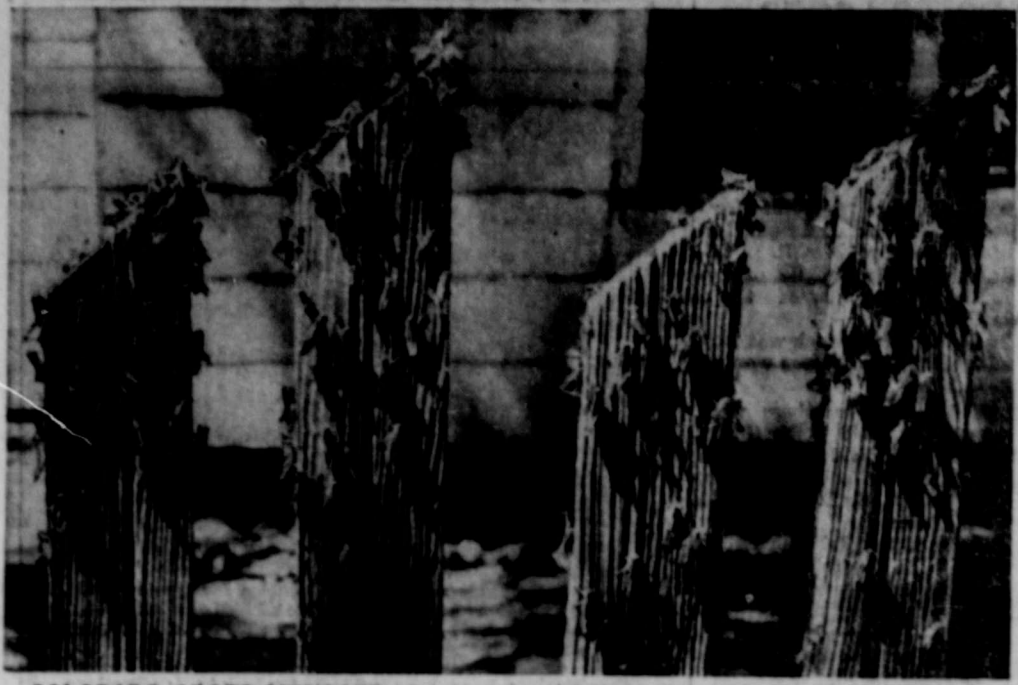

ered with chunks of tiny rock fragments. In checking his firearm, his eye fell upon a tiny nugget that immediately aroused his curiosity. Bigfoot, being no mineralogist could only conjecture as to the nugget's identity. It looked like galena lead! Pocketing the rock, he examined the outcrop and found it to be shot thru and thru with the same substance!

Not in position to tarry, he left the cave and canyon somewhat reluctantly. He found the Indians nowhere in sight and so returned to camp.

At camp he displayed the nugget to a friend who was well versed in minerals and the identification of them. True to Bigfoot's belief, it was pronounced very rich lead.

Sadly though, records do not tell to my knowledge what Wallace ever done regarding the lead croppings. Could it be that he never found sufficient time to get back and mine the rich bonanza? Back in those days Texas was no place to stay alone in the Wilderness! Perhaps Wallace never returned to the cave. If not then it is surely still where he found it.

Now—as to where he found it. Northeast of Ranger, some 5 miles into the country, is very rough and cut with gaping canyons. Among these is Wilds' Canyon. This particular canyon is as mysterious and wild as any you can find. Beware of what it may hold. Do not camp in this place over night for many strange stories are told in earnest about this canyon and these tales will scare the horns off a Billy Goat. Search by day and who knows? The Lost Bigfoot Wallace Lead Mine may be found again!—Atlas Wilson.

Boyce House—

His next book is to be "The Santa Claus Bank Robbery," an account of a famous robbery in Cicero, House was in on the story, actually participated in the pursuit of the bandits, almost getting killed himself, and covering the court trial and the lynching that followed.

House was editor of the Eastland paper when "Old Rip" was removed from the corner stone. Like a lot of other people, he was skeptical of finding a horned frog there and had wandered back to his office before it was discovered.

When "Old Rip" emerged alive, people were so excited that a highway patrolman grabbed the frog out of the hands of the county judge and took him out to one edge of town—just to save the animal from being smothered or stepped on.

House has many clear and vivid memories of his interesting experiences in the county.

He has served as technical advisor for "Boom Town," a Hollywood movie made some years back. He has a sense for drama and news (and drama in the news), with an avid interest in oil and its development. He discovered the man who predicted oil would be found at Spindle Top, which House calls an event "interesting in its effects."

All in all—he's having an interesting life. At the present time, House is executive vice-president of the Texas Consumer Finance Association in Dallas, a state agency. He calls this a public relations job—work that he is well suited for doing.

Virgil Seaberry Will Head Group For Delegation

SAN ANTONIO — President Virgil T. Seaberry of the State Bar, of Eastland, and Attorneys Joseph A. Chandler, Stephenville and George W. Leonard Jr., Sweetwater, will head a delegation of 17th Congressional District lawyers to attend the Texas Bar's 76th annual meeting here, July 2-5.

Leonard is the newly-elected successor to Chandler as a member of the State Bar board of directors for the 17th District.

Seaberry predicts an attendance of some 2,500 lawyers and their wives during the convention, to be held at the Gunter Hotel. The three Bar officials will also attend quarterly sessions of the board of directors. Leonard will be installed at the conclusion of the four-day meeting.

Some 50 speakers of state and national prominence will be featured at various general convention assemblies, luncheons, dinners and section meetings. These will include Charles S. Rhyne of Washington; D. C., president of the American Bar Association; General Carlos P. Romulo of Manila, Philippine Ambassador to the United States; Associate Justice James G. Stewart, Supreme Court of Ohio, Columbus; and Jerry Giesler of Beverly Hills, well-known West Coast defense counsel.

As part of the continuing legal education program for lawyers, the State Bar will conduct two one-day legal institutes, July 2. Topics to be under study will include "Economic Factors in a Successful Law Practice" and "The Trial of a Criminal Case in Texas Courts." Lawyers are invited to attend either institute.

The final assembly Saturday, July 5, will feature an address by W. St. John Garwood, retiring Associate Justice of the Texas Supreme Court; and presentation of the 1958-59 State Bar officers: President Leo Brewster, Fort Worth; President-Elect A. J. Foley, Amarillo; and Vice-President Paul Carrington of Dallas.

Kokomo—

The road over the dam would not help the farmers of Kokomo Community. It would help us more by spending money on our present roads as they are almost impassable in rainy weather.

When we get our F. M. 2214 we can go to Eastland and Ranger on pavement. Now it seems that this project over the dam is for sportsmen and sightseers mostly and could be built after other experiences in the county.

We need a road to F. M. 2214 by Kokomo and on to Gorman. Then we could carry our produce to market and could get to hospitals and doctors when necessary.

"We appreciate the fine road program that the Highway Department, Commissioners Court and our county commissioner has promoted in Eastland County. However, we do feel that the above road is an unnecessary expense of money when other roads are so badly needed."

DON'T DO IT YOURSELF

There's a saying among lawyers that the man who serves as his own lawyer has a fool for a client.

Likewise, the man who serves as his own insurance counselor may end up with a confused mind and a haphazard program which is far short of meeting his needs.

The only basis on which to build a sound program is by taking advantage of years of study, constant evaluation of new policies, personal experience, and the ability to meet all needs.

Take your problems to your local Capital Stock agent. He knows his job and he represents only SOUND, RELIABLE Capital Stock insurance companies.
