SPORTS CORNER

By Drayton Headen

After a month's lapse to catch up on my studies, here I am back again with the Sports Corner. As trainer at Ranger College, I'd like to give each and everyone of you a personal invitation to attend the game next Friday between the Rangers and Cardinals of Henderson County, the first conference game.

Support of both the college and high school teams has been the poorest I have ever seen. No town can be proud of a losing ball club, yet no team can win without support. Everyone reading this column should attend every home ball game this season.

It has been brought to my attention that a benefit basketball game for the March of Dimes, between the Ranger Independents and the Ranger Volunteer Fire Dept., is to be held tonight in the Recreation Building.

Enjoy seeing your friends and neighbors compete against each other and contribute to a very worthy cause at the same time by making a special effort to attend tonight's game.

Due to the fact that finals are next week, there has been little activity around Ranger College.

We're optimistic about spring sports and football next year. At mid-term, we're expecting several good football players to transfer in from other colleges. Spring sports, as presently set up in the athletic office, include track and baseball. The track team will concentrate mainly on sprint and mile relays.

Coach Jim Puryear will coach the field events and James Knickbocker will act as student coach (Continued on Page Four)

Ballinger Pushes Ranger Down Cellar

Ballinger's Bearcats pushed Ranger's Bulldogs farther down the cellar in District 7-AA Friday night, by posting a 54-36 win.

The loss gave Ranger a 0-4 district record. At the same time, Coleman upset Cisco to take a tie for the district lead and Eastland slipped by Winters, going into a four-way tie for second place.

Next week the Bulldogs will angle with Coleman, Tuesday, and Winters, Friday. Both games are out of town.

"A" Game
Ballinger took a 12-7 lead at the end of the first period and led the rest of the game. At the half, it was 23-15, and at the end of the third it was 38-24.

Don Dankworth was high-point man for the Bearcats, gaining 20 points on 10 field goals. Second was Kenneth Wiginton, with 14.

Earnest Stephen was outstanding player for the Bulldogs, gaining seven field goals for 14 points. Jerry Beard was second with seven points, and Tommy Warford was third with six. Lee Kincy earned five points, and Dean Kering earned four.

"B" Game
Ballinger's "B" squad posted a 46-29 win in the first game. They led 12-6 in the first period; 24-13 at the half; and 37-20 at the end of the third.

Vance Carter led the Bearcats' pack, with nine goals and two free throws for 20 points. Other players scored nine, eight and seven points.

James Henry was high-point man for the Bulldogs, gaining five goals for 10 points. Second was Charles White, with nine points. Walter Hutchins earned seven points; Maurice "Butch" Owen gained two points, and Jerry Wil-

Pups Post 36-0 Win In Tourney

In the first tournament play of the season, the Ranger Junior High School Pups blanked the Palo Pinto quintet, taking a 36-0 victory, in Santo Friday afternoon.

It was the first time this season and probably one of the few times on record that the Pups refused to let their opponent score.

Continuing into tournament play, the Ranger bunch will take on Brock today (Saturday) at noon. If they win, they'll be paired with the winner of the Weatherford-Perrin match later today. If they lose, they will be out of the tournament.

Last tournament game is slated this evening in the Santo gym. Gene White paced the Pups with (Continued on Page Four)

Pups Take Cisco In Two Games

In the third game of the season, Ranger Junior High School Pups humiliated the Cisco Midgets in two games, here, Thursday night.

In the "A" team battle, Ranger slipped by the Cisco team 29-26, taking the game in the final minutes of the last period. The "B" squad took an easy 20-7 victory in the first game.

Members of the Pups team pulled out of Ranger Friday afternoon, to participate in the Santo Tournament. They are competing with area teams, in the tourney, today (Saturday).

Cisco "A" Game
Cisco took an early 14-7 lead and retained a 19-13 margin at the half. At the end of the third, the score was tied at 21-all. High point man for the Pups was Guard Jimmy Hogan, with four field goals for eight points. Charlie De los Santos was close behind with seven points. J. B. O'Shields and Johnny Wells got five points each.

Playing Palo Pinto in the first game of the tourney, the Pups didn't allow the opposing team to score a single point—taking a 36-0 victory. (See story in today's Times).

Cisco's star player was David Callarman, who earned 13 points. Gary Nettik earned seven points.

Cisco "B" Game
Completely dominating the low-scoring game the Ranger "B" team took an early 10-1 lead and maintained a 10-3 lead at the half. At the end of the third the Pups were in front, 18-5.

High pointer was Johnny Comacho, with eight points. Scoring four-points each were Windell Ingram and Bobby Galloway, in their first game. Gaining two points each were Arthur Mendoza and W. Reed.

Bids Invited For Telephone Building Here

Ranger's new dial telephone system moved a step closer to reality this week when Southwestern Bell Telephone Company invited bids for construction of the new telephone building to be erected here.

The new building will be at the corner of Pine and Austin Streets, W. H. McAnally, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here, said.

Bids are due to be returned by Feb. 10.

"A contract for construction of the new building will be awarded shortly after that and ground will be broken for the new structure in the near future," the manager added.

The building, which will front on Pine Street, will be of solid masonry construction with a face brick exterior. It will have a marble stone trim.

The building will be 75 feet wide and 34 feet deep.

It will include space for the new dial switching equipment to be installed here and a business office.

Plans also call for a paved parking area measuring 50 by 60 feet.

Plans for the new building have been prepared and sent out for bidders inspection.

Freeburg briefly explained the lie-detector, saying that it was actually an emotional detector...

Control questions are designed to produce emotions in the subject, Freeburg said, and then non-emotional questions are used to determine the norm. Later questions relating to the crime, or area of investigation, are asked.

The machine records heart beats, blood pressure, and perspiration or tensions.

No one can be forced to take the lie detection test, Freeburg indicated, and the result can not be used in a court of law.

David Allsup will be in charge of the next program.

Registration, Exams Are Set

Pre-registration, which got underway this week at Ranger College will continue through next week for students on the Ranger campus.

Final exams will also face the college students, beginning next Monday and continuing through Thursday. The college office will remain open next Friday, although most of the local students will take a holiday until classes begin again, Wednesday, Feb. 4.

Registration at the Albany and Breckenridge branches is set Feb. 2-3 from 6:30 until 10 p.m.

A schedule of night classes to be offered during the Spring Semester is presented below:

Outlook for 1959 Is Reported Favorable

Supervisors of the Upper Leon and Palo Pinto soil conservation districts record the application practices in the Eastland Work Unit area as "satisfactory for 1958," the annual SCUS report issued Saturday reveals.

The local work unit area includes approximately two thirds of Eastland County with the King Star Work Unit serving the southwest portion of the county.

"Generally speaking the application of conservation practices such as cover cropping, rotation hay and pasture, strip cropping, crop residue utilization, referred grazing and proper use, show a favorable increase over prior years, while permanent type practices such as field terraces, diversion terraces, waterways and farm ponds show about normal or less than normal rates of application," the report stated.

It is felt that this condition is the result of the extended drought which greatly lowered the farm and ranch incomes of land owners for the past several years," E. E. McAlister, local unit leader, said. "Permanent type practices require a cash expenditure, such as contractor services, whereby many of the vegetative and management practices can be applied by the land owner with his facilities involving limited or no cash expenditures," he added.

The report further stated: "Interest in conservation by the land owners of this area is very good and with a favorable farm income last year, the new year, 1959 promises to be one of maximum application. For example, since Jan. 1, 1959, nine land owners are in process of constructing farm ponds, five more are now having over 10 miles of terraces constructed and one man has recently established a farm waterway.

"Soil conservation practice applied in 1958 on the land in Eastland Work Unit area of the Upper Leon and Palo Pinto Soil Conservation Districts showed a substantial increase in vegetative conservation work over 1957. During this period 6283 acres of rangeland were deferred from grazing during the growing period of better grasses, another 18,372 acres of rangeland was properly grazed. There is approximately 375,000 acres of rangeland in the work unit area, all of which needs a range management program in order to maintain a cover of better grasses to insure soil, water and plant conservation and maximum safe returns. Sixty-two land owners constructed farm ponds for livestock water and better distribution of grazing.

"Crop residue were left on or near the top soil on an estimated 6356 acres of cropland for soil protection and improvement.

"District cooperators planted 2524 acres of strip crops to protect their peanut fields from wind erosion. Cover crops were planted on 3308 acres of cropland on district cooperators farms. Cover crops help hold soil and water in place and serve as an excellent soil improvement crop. These acreage do not include land on which practices were applied in prior years.

Lie-Detector Is Explained Before Lions

A lie-detector demonstration was presented before members of the Lions Club Thursday noon by Robert P. Freeburg, Military Police Criminal Investigator, Thursday noon.

Freeburg explained and demonstrated the apparatus, after a short talk by Lt. Col. Gerald A. Bergin, Provost Marshal at Camp Wolters Air Force Base near Mineral Wells. Charles Milliken, Lions Club president, volunteered for the test.

J. A. Bates presented the program. Earlier, Freeburg had told Milliken to answer "No" to all questions, and by so doing the investigator was able to determine a number chosen by the Lion.

Lt. Col. Bergin began the program by outlining the history and purpose of the Military Police Corps. He said that men in the corps are now well trained for the work they do.

Freeburg briefly explained the lie-detector, saying that it was actually an emotional detector...

who are listed in the Reference Book to request their balance sheets. Hemphill says that this letter speeds up the flow and processing of some of the facts on which credit ratings are based. "More than 95 percent of all commercial transactions in the U. S. are made on credit terms," he added. "The purpose of the Reference Book is to help businessmen in any part of the country make prompt and accurate credit decisions to ship or sell to businessmen in any other part of the country."

The credit rating is one of the key factors in approving orders to ship or sell. The rating consists of two symbols. The first, a letter of the alphabet, indicates financial strength or tangible net worth of the business. The second symbol is a number. It reflects a composite appraisal of the background, operations, financial stability, and payment record.

Each Reference Book listing, which includes the rating, is a condensed summary of the information contained in the Dun and Bradstreet credit report. The report includes a history of the business (who owns it, who runs it, and how long it has been operating); a description of what the business does and how it does it; a financial section which usually includes the latest financial statement; and a record of how the concern pays its bills.

While credit reports are primarily used by businessmen who want to evaluate the credit risk before shipping or selling, insurance underwriters also use credit reports to review risks, rates, and coverage for first and other types of insurance.

Two Activities Today For March of Dimes

Two March of Dimes activities, underway today, are expected to bring in good returns for the current drive. J. W. Dushkevich, Jr., city chairman, reports.

At the same time, Dushkevich urged local people to support the drive by buying peanuts being sold today (Saturday) by members of the Sub-Debs on the streets of Ranger, and to give support to the March of Dimes Benefit game being staged tonight (Saturday) at 7, in the Recreation Building.

Two other events are planned next week: the Mother's March to begin at 6:30 p.m. Thursday and the Lions' Panake Supper to be held in the Ranger College Cafeteria Saturday, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Tonight's basketball game will see action between the flashy Ranger Independents managed by Ronald Carroll, and the recently organized Ranger Volunteer Firemen's team.

Volunteer donations will be taken, at the game, for the March of Dimes.

Starting for the Independents are Rayburn Hogan and Steve Lee, at forward; Dale Conant at center; B. H. King and Jerry Wharton at guard.

Also expected to play are Carroll, Rod Carter, Randall Hoover, Charles "Toad" Tibbels and Benny Gailey.

Firemen will possibly schedule other games with area teams.

Ranger's Independent Basketball team has twice defeated the Olden Independents. They fell victims to the Ranger College Intramural Team and to the Ranger College Rangers, in other scrimmages.

Captains of the Mother's March were named earlier this week, and Members of the 1947 Club are set to launch the annual Mother's (Continued on Page Four)

A host of firemen will see action in the game, as Reid said he would play all team members. On the firemen's team are: Reid, Lem Rushing, Max Ohr, Bill Ewing, Ben Carr, Fred Wiesen, Walter Henry, Joe and Arthur Comacho, Louis Comp, Jack Gibson, Aaron Howton, W. P. Hatfield, Ed Willingham, Alonzo Stevens, Gerald "Shorty" Varner, George Beighley, J. D. Barker, Paul Fonville and Clayton Kuhlman.

Rev. and Mrs. Tom Small, East and Tommy of southern Rhodesia, Africa, visited with old friends Saturday and Sunday. They were honored with a reception Saturday in the educational building in the First Baptist Church.

Dinner was served to about 100 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kirk, Larry and Anny were special guests at the dinner. The menu consisted of fried chicken, chicken an dressing, fried ham, steak, green beans, black-eyed peas, vegetables and fruit salads, cake, pie and coffee.

Rev. Small spoke at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning and gave a film showing of their work Sunday night.

At the morning service he stressed the need for more workers in the foreign fields. He said the doors of north Rhodesia were open but there were not workers to send.

Rev. and Mrs. Small will be in the States until September and will be busy making talks in many places before their return to their work in Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Boucher went to Post, Slaton and Lubbock last week. They carried Miss Mattie Vaughn and Mrs. J. A. Fritchard to Post. Miss Vaughn and Mrs. Fritchard are sisters of Mrs. Boucher. Mrs. Fritchard is spending January and February with relatives in Tucson, Ariz. Her home is in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Boucher and her sister visited with Mrs. Nora Baught in Eastland Sunday.

The Young People's Training Union class of New Hope Baptist Church enjoyed a waffle supper at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Cordia Lambert, Friday night, January 16. This was the result of a contest between the two groups, the losing serving the other side. The winning group especially reported a pleasant event.

Mrs. Frank Brooks is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Carr at New London, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Pittman of Archer City visited her father, M. I. Laster, this week.

Mrs. John Gray visited her brother, Allen Ledbetter, who is seriously ill in a hospital in West Texas, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gil Leonard and children, David and Judy, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barsley. They have been living in Massachusetts; are moving to Porto Rico.

Mrs. Ida Raney came home Sunday after visiting her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Bradford, at Weatherford the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Bradford visited Roy Bradford, who is still seriously ill.

Other visitors to Roy Bradford were Henry Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Harmon, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Bradford all of Stephenville.

Jimmy Caraway and wife of Longview visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Caraway over the weekend.

A. O. Templeton and wife visited their son, Carlton and family Sunday.

Mrs. Vinton Jones entertained a Ladies' Sewing Club from Breckenridge with a covered dish luncheon last week. They made two quilts. Attending were Meses. Charles Taylor, Ben Truesdale, J. D. Latham, Cecil Logan, A. G. Ketcherid, L. F. Blackerby, Ross Belle Beauchamp, Wayne Blackerby, Vallie Jones, and the hostess, Mrs. Vinton Jones. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Ditto.

Ann Raney entertained the GAs with a Tell party at her home Saturday afternoon. Since the party was in recognition of the GA magazine, games were patterned to fit the occasion and the dining table was decorated with magazine covers. Refreshments consisted of open-faced sandwiches, cookies, and punch.

Reports come of the illness of Granny Hancock, who formerly lived here and is the grandmother of Clark Bradford. She was taken ill at her home in Ranger, but has been taken to the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Thorbin Bass at Fort Worth.

Attending the Baptist Workers Conference at the First Baptist Church of Breckenridge were Rev. Frank Brooks, G. V. McGowen, and Meses. G. V. McGowen, C. C. Veale, Cordia Lambert, and D. B. Raney, also Ann Raney, Tuesday evening. New Hope Baptist Church was one of the churches of the Cico Association receiving a Five Star Award.

First Christian Church

Jack Barker, Pastor

The public is cordially invited to attend all services of the First

Second Baptist Church

Ed L. Scarbrough, Pastor

The Second Baptist Church will meet for Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. Sunday. There is a class for every age, and a nursery is provided for all services.

Following the Sunday School, pastor, Rev. Ed Scarbrough, will bring the morning message at 11:00 on the theme, "Christ In A World of Pain." He said, "Pain has been treated in almost every way from denying God to fatalism. This is one of the most perplexing problems we face. There is a solution, however, and it is at found in Christian teachings."

Following the Training Union at 6:15 p. m., the evening worship service will begin at 7:30. Each one is invited to attend and enjoy the fellowship and spirit of Christ. The pastor will bring the message entitled "Think of Yourself."

Second Baptist Church Receives Five Star Award

A Five Star Award was presented to the Second Baptist Church at the workers' conference Tuesday night in Breckenridge. This is the fourth consecutive year that the Second Baptist Church has received the award, which is given for having the four basic organizations of the Southern Baptist Convention and for contributing systematically to the work through the Cooperative Program.

The basic church organizations are: Sunday School, Carl White, superintendent; Training Union, J. D. Nichols, director; the Women's Missionary Union, Mrs. J. D. Nichols, president; and the Brotherhood, David Weems, president. J. D. Nichols is treasurer.

According to the pastor, Rev. Ed L. Scarbrough, the church contributed over $1600.00 to the Cooperative Program last year and has already approved a 2 1/2 percent increase for 1959.

The pastor said, "These organizations are for the primary purpose of serving the people of this city. It is our desire that we be able to teach others about Christ. You have an invitation to attend our church and participate in this work. Also you are invited to come by the church and view the new foyer that has been built in the church. This aids greatly in the quietness of the service and in keeping the building warm."

THE ABTRACTOR AND THE LANDOWNER

... are inseparable friends and naturally for we have so many interests in common. The abstractor would not exist if there were no landowners and the reverse is also true. When business is brisk we both share in the prosperity; when it is bad we suffer together. So we are yoked together for better or for worse journeying toward an unknown future, and as we trudge merrily along let us wish for ourselves and the rest of you a prosperous New Year.

MISS SANDRA SUE STOKER

Sandra Sue Stoker to Become Bride of Thomas Gray Coats

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Stoker of 707 South Baird Street in Midland have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra Sue, to Thomas Gray Coats, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Coats of Abilene. The wedding will take place January 29 in the home of the bride-elect's parents with Rev. Travis LaDuke of Midland officiating.

Miss Stoker and Mr. Coats both are graduates of Midland High School. The bride-elect is employed with The Western Company and her fiancé is employed with the Wm. Cameron Wholesale Company of Abilene.

Miss Stoker resided in Eastland with her family until three years ago when they moved to Midland.

Christian Science

The vital importance of having a strong spiritual foundation will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Truth" is the Golden Text from Deuteronomy (32:3,4): "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (48:18-9): "Through spiritual sense only, man comprehends and loves Deity."

Scriptural selections to the read include the following (Psalms 18: 30, 31): "As for God, his way is perfect: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him. For who is God save the Lord? or who is a rock save our God?"

Youth Banquet Is Planned for Second Baptist

A youth banquet is being planned for February 14 at the Second Baptist Church. "Outer Space" will be the theme of the banquet; the destination is known only to the leaders.

Those attending will launch from the church at 7:45 p. m. for Destination Unknown. All the young people of Ranger are invited. Reservations must be made.

CARD OF THANKS

To everyone who wish to express our thanks for every kind deed and expression of love during the illness and death of our loved one. Also for the beautiful floral offerings.

There is no specific cure for arthritis. This is true both for osteoarthritis, a localized "wear and tear" disease, and for rheumatoid arthritis, which is accompanied by fever, weakness and inflammation of the joints.

Having said this, I must add at once that arthritis patients can be helped by a judicious combination of medical treatment and physical therapy. Even the severely disabled can be salvaged in hundreds of cases they have been made self-sufficient in daily life, often returned to their jobs.

In the first article of this series I explained what arthritis is and described its symptoms. In this second article I will tell what can and cannot be done about it. In my third column I will discuss hopes and prospects for the future.

The first thing to remember is that disability and crippling can be prevented by prompt rehabilitative treatment. Pending discovery of a cure, it is important to encourage arthritis patients to pursue, as much as possible, the normal routine of their lives. Beyond that, pain and discomfort can be relieved, and the patient can be maintained in a physical condition favorable to the natural abeyance of his symptoms.

Though rheumatoid arthritis may last a lifetime, there are, in most cases, periods of "remission" when acute symptoms subside. In fact, one of the characteristics of this disease is that it comes and goes, gets better and worse, and nobody can predict its course. About 15 per cent of its sufferers get well after one or more initial attacks. Another 20 per cent get worse and become disabled. The rest suffer varying degrees of discomfort, with periodic attacks followed by quiet intervals (called "remissions"). Children under five with juvenile arthritis may be very sick indeed. Even their internal organs may be affected. Some severe cases are fatal. But at puberty, for reasons unknown, many arthritis children get well again.

The basic treatment preferred by modern physicians is a sustained one consisting of rest, exercise and medication. All three are equally important.

Rest is particularly necessary for patients with active rheumatoid arthritis. Since the whole body is ill, the whole body needs to be rested. Absolute bed rest, however, is rarely necessary; when used, precautions should be taken for correct posture in bed. Temporary splints may be used to rest the affected joint itself, sparing it pain from the pull of movement.

When Patient Improves

Once the acute stage of the disease has passed, rest ceases to be urgent. As soon as the patient shows improvement—when fever and inflammation subside and appetite returns—he may be encouraged to go back to school or to full or part-time work.

Physical therapy and exercise are to the arthritis patient what insulin is to the diabetic. Exercises are not a cure, but they assure normal function of the affected parts. Even in the severest cases mild "muscle-setting" exercises are prescribed while the patient is still in bed. In general, the object of daily exercise is to maintain or increase the strength of the muscles, to keep the affected joints as flexible as possible for the widest range of motion and to prevent deformity.

Simple Exercises

Exercises should be taught and supervised by a doctor or a physical therapist. The best exercises are simple ones that the patient can do himself. As in polo, exercises and rehabilitation methods must be worked out individually to suit the particular needs of each patient. The mental attitude of both the patient and his family are key factors in recovery at this stage. Particularly important for the patient is a strong motive to make himself active and useful again.

such as terraces, diversion terraces, form ponds, waterways, range seeding, cover cropping, brush cropping, brush control, and deferred grazing are County Agricultural Program Practices as selected by the County ASC committee, Soil Conservation District, County agricultural agencies and others. Necessary site selection, layout, supervision of construction and final checks and certification of practices are made by Soil Conservation Service technicians. These practices are certified to the County ASC Committee for cost share payments as set forth in the Eastland County A.C.P. handbook for 1959.

"Dirt moving contractors have constructed a high percent of all mechanical practices for land owners. These men have made a fine contribution and in a true sense of the word are conservationist, anxious to help apply conservation practices in keeping with the needs of the land.

"The county has a good ACP program for 1959, such practices as deferred grazing, terrace and diversion terrace construction and waterway developments are timely practices. Local Landowners are encouraged to apply needed conservation practices and receive the benefits and satisfaction of doing an important job. Productive soil cannot exist for long without conservation protection".
