

Area Farmers Hear of Sugar Beet Potentials Tuesday Night

Some 150 farmers from Castro, Swisher, Lamb, Parmer and Deaf Smith Counties met Tuesday evening at the Dimmitt High School Auditorium to hear talks on the sugar beet potential in this country.

There were several speakers for the evening, and all had one theme—"This area is good sugar beet country and we are going to grow sugar beets and we will have a sugar beet processing plant."

Sugar beets have a good chance of becoming a regular crop in this area due to the United States shutting off its buying of cane sugar from Cuba. This throws Cuba's yearly allotment into a position of being divided among sugar beet farmers of the United States and other sugar cane producers in the Caribbean, Central America and Hawaii.

Getting as much of this market as possible for the United States was the purpose of the meeting Tuesday night. $410.00 was collected on the spot to help pay for a representative in Washington to try to get this sugar when Congress acts on the apportionment.

Emceed by Edd C. McLeroy, the program started off with a brief statement by Bob McLean, president of the First State Bank, who told briefly of his trip to Washington on behalf of the sugar beet program and he wound up by saying "I believe we will get this program started. We are a natural area for sugar beet production and Washington seems agreeable."

Mr. D.J. Larson, a farmer in the Easter community who has an allotment of 50 acres of sugar beets, gave the facts and figures of production. "This country has a tremendous potentiality," he said. "I have been here for ten years and I've never ceased to be amazed at what you can do with this soil using irrigation water and a little fertilizer." About sugar beets, he said "It costs me about $125 to bring in a sugar beet crop averaging 20 tons per acre which measure out 15 per cent sugar. I get $13.80 per ton and have to pay $1.80 per ton freight to the processor in Rocky Ford. This leaves me a net price of $12.00 per ton or $240.00 per acre. By feeding cattle on the beets I make another $260 bringing the total income to $500 per acre. Subtracting expenses of $125 from this gives me a net profit of $375 per acre."

Mr. Larson also said that a farmer would not want to plant beets on the same acreage year after year. "Fifty acres is all I want," he said, "because with this acreage I can go five or six years before replanting on each plot of ground."

He also said he could save $1,800 per year on freight alone if there were a sugar beet processing plant in this area.

Palmer Martin of Hereford, Chamber of Commerce president there, elaborated some more on the legislative aspect of procuring sugar beets. "I'll guarantee you we will have sugar beets in this area," he said, "and we'll have a processing plant. It may be in Hereford, or Dumas, or Dimmitt, or Plainview, or in any of a dozen towns in this area, but we will have one, and later on others will surely follow."

Mr. Hank Williams, a sugar beet farmer in Deaf Smith county, wound up the speech making with a general talk on the sugar beet industry. "Let's hope Castro keeps on the way he is going... at least until March 31st," he said, "because he's causing the sugar beet industry to come to the Panhandle of Texas. It will take 2,000,000 acres of sugar beets to replace Cuba's sugar and most of it will come from this area. But we need your financial help. This will be a tremendous boon to farmers and will give them a good marketable crop, but it will cost something."

He went on to talk also about the plants. "One plant covers over 400 acres and costs $15 million to build," he said. "A plant can take care of about 20,000 acres per year. At first, we'll have to ship out most of our sugar beets because it takes three years to build one of these processing plants. A plant requires the equivalent of two eight inch wells to supply its water, so that is no particular problem, especially since they run only about five and a half months out of the year. But it's really big business and sugar beets hold the key to the future for this country."

Demo's Cast Caustic Comments at GOP

A large crowd of Democrats turned out at Hubert Stadium Thursday night to hear Senator Ralph Yarborough and Congressman Walter Rogers and to work up some enthusiasm for the Democratic ticket.

The affair began with a Walter Eaton barbecue at 5:30 with Democrats from Lamb, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Bailey, and Castro attending.

The breezy night was just about right for kindling up a good mood at the Republicans as Yarborough, Rogers and other speakers lauded the Democratic candidates and lambasted the Republican hopefuls.

Speakers held forth from the bed truck drawn up before the west stands, which were filled to near capacity by Democrats.

Representative Rogers, introduced by Clarence Hamilton of Earth, spoke of the Democratic Party as "the party of the people, one that is stronger today than ever before."

"I understand our opponents in this campaign have formed a truth squad," he said, "and I must say that I never saw a crowd that needed one more. They may be like the boys we're going to send into outer space. They had to call for volunteers because they're going to be traveling uncharted routes."

Taking a cue from the current agricultural problems, Rogers went on to say "Never in the history of our country has there been a man in the top office of this country who knew as little about agriculture as our present President—with the exception of Ezra Taft Benson."

"We cannot underestimate the importance of agriculture to the economy of our country," he continued, "... there is no reason for the farmer to be low man on the economic totem pole... He's entitled to rights, and under a Democratic administration he's going to get them."

In reference to the nation's foreign policy, Rogers charged that "it is standing motionless before a revolving world. The world is looking for leadership and they're expecting the United States of America to produce it. If the American people wake up and show the world that we've given up Herter, Haggerty and hindsight, we'll produce that leadership."

Senator Yarborough was introduced by Norman Cleavinger, owner of C & S Equipment Company in Dimmitt. The Junior Senator from Texas also chose the agriculture department as a target and charged Secretary of Agriculture Benson with running the department for the good of the national food chain stores at the expense of farmers and housewives.

"Under the Benson brand agricultural administration from 1952 to 1959, profits of one major food chain increased 367 percent, and others have climbed almost as much," he said. "During those same years, the income of American farmers who raise our food has dropped 24 percent—a loss of $3.5 billion in farm income last year."

"Right here in Texas, the value of our principal farm crops declined $56 million in 1959."

"A system of price supports at full parity and strict production controls intelligently tailored to meet the needs of America and the free world will work. In fact, it's the only logical answer to supplying our food and fiber needs and assuring American farmers an income in line with pay and profits in other jobs and businesses."

"This goal of reasonable, higher income for farmers is not just a matter of concern to the farmer," he said, "it is a matter of deep concern to every American. For the continued sharp decline in farm income, while other income is rising, forewarns of serious business recession—possibly a depression."

The senator said the record of the past seven years proves the necessity of a Democratic Administration "because Benson and his student, Nixon, cannot or will not do the job."

Master of ceremonies was Joe Cowen, former county Democratic chairman.

Many Democratic party leaders of the area were here including Charlie Gibson of Amarillo, district chairman of the Kennedy-Johnson campaign and Mrs. Betty Musick of Amarillo, chairman of the Women's campaign in this district.

County chairmen attending included Louis Woodford of Deaf Smith county; Gabe Anderson of Parmer; Pat Boone of Lamb; Paul Miller of Swisher; and B. M. Nelson of Castro.

Most local Democrats considered the rally highly successful.

The Church has extended to the general public a welcome to come and hear Rev. Guest at any worship service.

Grain Sorghum Producers Step Up Promotion Efforts

The Castro County Grain Sorghum Producers Association is meeting this year's harvest season with one of its hardest promotional efforts in its five-year history.

Members of the board of directors are button-holing farmers, elevator men and anyone else interested in grain sorghum for financial aid in carrying out the export program it has in operation now.

Besides the extensive export program, the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association, with headquarters in Amarillo, is setting up programs of research to find new uses for grain sorghums and domestic marketing plans designed to use more of this area's basic crop.

This national program is financed and governed by county sorghum producers associations.

Local farmers contribute to the plan mostly by donating two pounds per thousand at the elevator to be contributed to the association.

Elevator operators also aid in producing the dollars necessary for foreign representatives, research, education and general expenses.

The Castro County Grain Sorghum Producers Association is governed by a nine-man board of directors, with Mr. Wes Anthony of Big Square serving as chairman. They are Leo Witkowski, Arney; Charles Martin, and Otto Dinwiddie of Hart; Ed Jones, Flag; Ray Joe Riley, Sumyside; Bill Waldrup, Easter; and Aaron Isaacs and Edd C. McLeroy of Dimmitt.

Sam Gilbreath of Dimmitt, is vice-president of the national association.

All of these men are active grain sorghum producers or handlers and have taken a part in the association to help promote the sale of this commodity as a livestock feed and as a base material for other industries.

"Grain sorghum is natural for this country," director Edd McLeroy said this week. "We have a long planting season, a perfect growing season and we know how to harvest it effectively. Of all crops available to this area, grain sorghums are the best suited. We've got to find a new way of keeping the price up and the best method to do this is to find more and new markets as our production increases. We have already done a lot of good and a more concentrated effort right now could result in an eventual high-level price for all we can produce."

"Most of the elevators in the county have agreed to handle the two pounds per thousand donation any grain sorghum farmer might want to make."

"Despite the recent hail losses, the county should still make $10,000,000 grain sorghum crop," McLeroy said, "and this donation we are asking for will be just a tiny portion of that total—but it could make a tremendous difference in our ability to help market the crop we are producing and future crops."

Bobcats Lose To Denver City; Open Date Friday

The Dimmitt Bobcats have an open date this week-end before moving into the regular conference season.

The Bobcats took about the hardest drumming of the season Friday night, losing to a steamrolling Denver City team, 31-12.

Denver City clicked right off the bat and capped a 54 yard drive with a touchdown by halfback Johnny Fullbright in the first two and a half minutes. The conversion was successful.

Dimmitt looked as though they would make a game of it when fullback Junior Coffey led the Bobcats through 59 yards in seven plays for the first Dimmitt tally. But the conversion failed and Denver City started grinding out touchdowns.

The half ended 16-6 after Denver City mounted a 59-yard drive that carried them across the goal line and a successful conversion.

Denver City scored again in the third and fourth quarters, and Dimmitt's final tally came in the fourth with Coffey again totting the ball across.

This defeat brought the Bobcats to a 500 record for the pre-conference season. The lead total opposition scoring for the season, 96-77.

Importance of Loan Shark Control Amendment Stressed by Attorney

The Dimmitt Junior Chamber of Commerce heard Mr. R.L. Templeton as its speaker at its regular meeting Thursday, Mr. Templeton discussed the four Constitutional Amendments coming up for the voters' decision in the general election on November 8th.

Mr. Templeton is an Amarillo attorney and his talk was based on the fact that in a national election year all voters are concerned with and well appraised of the national issues while issues that matter to state and local interests tend to be ignored. Since it is natural for voters to say "No" to issues they do not fully understand, these talks are being given to community and civic clubs throughout the state to insure that the public will be informed on election day.

Amendments 1 and 2 are of a non-controversial nature. Amendment 1 pertains to the establishment of a hospital district for Tarrant County and Amendment 2 has to do with the payment of interest on bonds issued for the purchase of lands by war veterans.

Amendment 3 will be of more interest to voters all over the state since it involves the readjustment of salaries for our State Legislators.

Amendment 4 has attracted considerable interest throughout the state since it pertains to a law to curb the loan shark evil in Texas. This Amendment is intended to give the Texas State Legislature the power to regulate the interest rate on loans.

King-Seely Furniture & Appliances Dissolves Five-Year Partnership

William (Bill) King and Gene Seely have dissolved partnerships and are no longer operating the furniture and appliance sales firm of King-Seely Furniture and Appliances.

King purchased Seely's part in the firm Monday and will operate the store as sole owner. It will be known as King Furniture and Appliances.

Mr. Seely will operate a similar store in the building on West Bedford owned by Judge Raymond Wilson which once housed Wilson's Grocery. The two stores will be in no way connected.

Both men purchased Dimmitt's only furniture store in October 1955 from Mrs. Jess Wright and operated it in the location on West Bedford until several years ago when they moved into a new brick building on North Broadway. The firm grew to be the largest furniture and appliance store in Dimmitt, and for several years was

Rain and Hail Strike County

Castro County received a deluge of unseasonable rain and hail the first part of this week, with just about every degree of intensity represented.

Depending on the section of the county, there were measurements made of up to six inches of rain and hail the size of golf balls. Ordinarily this type of weather—coming up from the Southwest—is limited to late spring.

Residents of Flag reported a short, intensive hail Tuesday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock but damage was not considered heavy.

Most hail losses in the county were 25 percent or less and these ranged from strips and spots of heavy hail to general areas of light, non-damaging hail.

How the crop will eventually be affected will not be known until harvest time. The fact that there was little wind during the storm helped some because the hail came straight down and did not blow at an angle.

A strip north and a strip south of Dimmitt seemed to be hardest hit. Rainfall over most of the county ranged from two to six inches.

Two small tornadoes were seen northwest of Nazareth but no damage was reported.

WALTER ROGERS SPEAKS—Representative Walter Rogers gave a rough and tumble democratic party speech before a large crowd at the five-county rally Thursday.

Small Birth Defect Victim A 'Prop' As Mother Lectures

Mrs. Houle and daughter Kathy lecture to children and adults.

Kathy Houle, of Mil Clements, Mich., a pretty blue-eyed brunette "riding an eye," posed with perfect self-confidence as her mother lectured on the heart-breaking topic of birth defects. Kathy doesn't mind being one of her mother's lecture "props." Mother and daughter are dedicated to the proposition that some 250,000 infants are born defective and 24,000 babies annually are stillborn or die within the first month because of birth defects—the more widely the subject is discussed, the healthier for the nation. The National Foundation, which financed the development of both the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines, is now supporting research on the causes of birth defects and their effects on the child through the New March of Dimes. Kathy has ample reason for devotion to the cause embraced by her mother and herself. The child was born with the forbidding birth defect of an open spine and excess fluid on the brain. When only weeks old, Kathy underwent major surgery three times. Doctors told the parents—enjoy the baby while you can. She may not be with you for long. It was a miracle that Kathy survived. But since she did, both the child and her grateful mother, Mrs. William W. Houle, a Michigan grade school teacher, want to shed light on this often "taboo" subject. "Tens of thousands of mothers are mistaken about birth defects. They think they are small fry, we concentrate on persuading the youngsters not to shun handicapped children which with thoughtless cruelty they often do. And not to be afraid of them."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

There is no substitute for experience. It is true that someone can tell you something or we can read it, but that's not the same as actually experiencing the thing ourselves. Before a man can be a speaker really worth listening to or before he can actually have something to express as a writer, he must have lived.

There are great pipelines that run from the oil fields of Texas to the great seaports of the East, hundreds of miles away; and one of those lines has to be completely full with oil. I don't know how many thousands of barrels of barrels worth millions of dollars—before just one single barrel can be delivered at the other end. And so our local manager, Edwing Mathis gave the welcome.

The Fourth Branch of Government... Virtually all Americans are familiar with the triangular structure of their Federal government...

This force has gathered together the combined authority of legislation, administration, and adjustment. It lives, for the most part, outside the three old branches...

The profound Constitutional questions which these agencies have raised are with us ever today. I have no desire to deal with them in detail at this time...

First of all, it must be said that apparently no one has been able to devise a precise definition of the independent agency...

The Walrus and the Carpenter... They were walking close at hand. They went like anything to see such quantities of snail...

Despite this certain amount of confusion, the independent agencies are almost always intended to provide order in a phase of American life which had previously baffled attention by each branch...

For our purposes it is possible to distinguish between the agencies which regulate in major fields, such as the FCC, and the agencies which administer certain activities in the public interest...

'Payment-in-Kind' No Cure-All For Farm Surplus Problem

In the course of a heated national campaign political catch phrases bounce hither and yon through the Autumn air, and your favorite target is the vast and complex problem of American agriculture...

Payment in kind has been pointed out by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White as one of these catch phrases...

But, amplying this payment-in-kind from a Texas and a Southwestern viewpoint, as the commissioner has done, seems a sound idea...

dependent offices this year total nearly 105 billion dollars, and a recent count shows that they employ almost 300,000 people...

By WILLY & RALPH

Early one summer morning a year or so ago, I saw in a city—a chunk of ice on the sidewalk in front of an office door which was locked. There was a time, before electric refrigeration, when that was a common sight.

By WILLY & RALPH

Powell is only a village. You'd never dream it was the scene of a big oil rush. It was in January, 1923, that deep production was struck and, in May of that year, from pages of the nation's press, word of the 2 1/2 million No. 1 wells, which blew in for 8,000 barrels a day, caught fire and burned for 11 days. Hundreds of wells were drilled in rapid succession. The peak year saw over 33,000,000 barrels produced. Then the field declined rapidly.

Springer suffered a broken arm. The other vehicle in the collision was a pickup driven by Dennis Dale Salisbury. He and his passenger, Ted Cox, were both from Viet, Oklahoma. Mr. Cox was thrown from the pickup and suffered possible internal injuries. Other passengers in the pickup who were uninjured, were Mansell Jones and Fred Carlisle.

Through a hard-hitting, conscientious ADVERTISING PROGRAM

Competition is a demanding taskmaster—but it can also be the greatest rewarding factor in merchandising or servicing. It is a taskmaster when competition defeats, when it sets the rut that engulfs the businessman. Competition is rewarding when the merchant forces it to become his tool, when he knows he has a thriving, growing business that will never want for customers. Business goes where it is invited—and competitive prices, outstanding courteous service with a good selection, and promotional advertising will do the most inviting.

What WE can do to preserve the American System!

We can exercise our right as an American citizen by voting in all electoral, state and national. We can earnestly strive to pick candidates to the preservation of our American way of life, and to the establishment of a balanced federal budget.

We can approve national defense but disapprove all federal spending programs that which we should do for ourselves.

We can write our Congressmen at least four times a year, seeking reform and a balanced budget.

Dangerous trends of weakness in Washington!

Increasing violation of power by the Supreme Court. Increasing arrogance of labor leaders and their influence over federal government.

Oriental Flower Design Topic at Garden Club

"Love of life is the motivating force behind all styles of oriental flower arranging," Mrs. Goodwin Miller told the Garden Club Tuesday afternoon in their regular meeting in the Community Room of the First State Bank.

"Most all oriental arrangements are suggestive of things in nature," Mrs. Miller added, "mostly with a religious meaning. The classical style, once informal, was a form in the Buddhist worship."

Flower and line arrangements were made by Mrs. Joe Benson and Mrs. Sid Sheffy. They were used by Mrs. Miller in her discussion and demonstration.

Mrs. Joe Benson discussed methods of keeping cut flowers for longer durations of time. Flowers should be cut early in the morning and late in the evening, and put into water immediately. Woody stems should be crushed and open stems such as dahlias should have an inch of their stems burned. Flowers should be kept in cool places out of drafts.

Mrs. Buster Cooper presided at the meeting and plans were made to attend the zone meeting October 18 in Pampa. All club members are urged to attend. The club also agreed to work with the American Legion to help plan and plant the grounds around their new building.
