

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Estes Recall The Big Square Houses of Big Square

Community Named For Big Square Houses

Quite a few people have wondered why the Big Square Community was named as it is. Upon asking Mr. and Mrs. Percy Estes, of Dimmitt, the story of the Big Square Community and why it was named Big Square, Mr. Estes related the facts as he remembered them in the story below.

"We were living in Bethel at the time M. L. Stiles came from Davenport, Iowa looking for a place to live and to raise his family and as best as I can remember," it was in 1906 or possibly in 1907.

When Mr. Stiles arrived at the site of what is now the Big Square Community he decided that this is where he wanted to spend the rest of his years. Stiles agreed to buy some land there if he could get all of it in a big square plot. Sometime after the land deal was settled Mr. Stiles moved his family from Davenport and started building houses for all of his children and their families. Each house that was built by Stiles and his children was in the shape of a big square.

"Andy and Will Weyer each married one of the Stiles' daughters and they each moved into one of the big square homes. Bill Mick married one of the Stiles' girls and settled in another of the big houses. Glen Stiles, one of M. L. Stiles' boys, married Leona Lust and moved into another of the unique homes. Burl Stiles, another of the Stiles' children, moved into one of the large homes as a bachelor. Alfred Scott married the youngest Stiles girl and joined the rest of the family in the tradition of living in one of the big square houses on the big square plot of land in what is now known as the Big Square Community," added Mr. Estes.

In addition to the story of Big Square there are many interesting stories concerning the growth of Dimmitt.

"As near as I can remember, continued Mr. Estes, the population of Dimmitt during the time Big Square was being settled by Mr. Stiles was about 125 people and we did not even have a permanent preacher here. I remember back one of the Weyer children died of typhoid fever and my wife, Lenna and I went to Big Square to see if we could help and they asked us to go to Dimmitt and try to locate a preacher to conduct the funeral service, and since Dimmitt did not have a preacher in town at the time, I went to the County Judge who was then C. F. Kerr and told him what I was up against and that I wanted him to conduct the service, and he did."

"Even though Dimmitt was named after W. C. Dimmitt, Christian Church preacher, the town did not have an established minister living here at the time we were in Bethel. There was a church building in town where the Methodist church stands now, and it was used by all the different denominations when a preacher came to town."

"The city of Dimmitt was founded by a townsite company, the Bedford Land and Cattle Company, and the Bedford Street in town is named after the man, Bedford who was part owner of the company. Jones Street was probably named after an early merchant here, Thorton Jones, and Belcher was named after an early physician in the county. Etter Street was named after G. M. Etter who owned quite a lot of land in town. As I understand it the Bedford Land and Cattle Company probably had a lot to do with setting up other towns in our area beside Dimmitt, in fact I think their business included the job of starting towns."

Public Notices

All high school boys who have been taking F. F. A. or who plan to take it this year are asked to attend an F. F. A. meeting in the agriculture room at Dimmitt High School on Monday, August 14. The primary purpose of the meeting is to schedule and plan a pre-school F. F. A. trip.

All Dimmitt residents are advised by Chief of Police W. W. Jones to ask any door-to-door salesman that calls to show his city permit. All legal salesmen must have a permit from the city office authorizing them to sell goods in the town. If such salesman does not possess one of these city permits, which is signed by the city marshal, the city manager or any other city official he should be turned in immediately to the authorities.

Although few serious problems have developed, Charles Hottell, County Agricultural Agent, suggests that damaging infestations of bollworms, lygus bugs and cabbage loopers have often appeared at this season. A careful and frequent check of all cotton should be made. A few fleahoppers have been reported in cotton in the county. However, as a rule fleahoppers cause little damage at this date.

Parade Set for 3 p.m. Saturday

A highlight of the afternoon Saturday will be the parade which begins forming at 2 o'clock at the southeast corner of the square and which will get underway promptly at 3 o'clock.

Ewing Mathis of Plainview Production Credit Association and Eddie Coltharp, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, are in charge of making arrangements for the parade and they have been working for several weeks getting things in shape.

Three prizes will be awarded in five major events. These include entries in the riding club division, civic club or organization, commercial, band and antique or old car divisions.

Individual entries will receive a prize of an engraved trophy. These awards will be made for youngest cowboy, oldest cowboy, best dressed cowboy, best dressed cowgirl, and best individual entry not covered by any other classification. Individual members of riding clubs participating in a riding club or other listed categories will not be eligible for an individual prize.

Trophies will be awarded at the rodeo performance Saturday evening.

DiCuffa New Legion Chief

In an American Legion meeting on July 14 new officers were elected for the oncoming year. Salvatore Di Cuffa was elected Post 445 Commander to replace past commander Carl F. Page. Lawrence Green was elected Vice Commander. Jack Flynt was re-elected as Past Adjutant, and Salvatore Di Cuffa was re-elected Finance Officer. Bedford Smith was re-elected as Chaplain and Cecil Hutton was elected Sgt. of Arms.

It was decided that the Greer H. Estes Post 445 would resume selling United States Flag sets for the residential yards. Anyone wishing a new flag set should contact Salvatore DiCuffa at the bank. The flag sets are priced at $7.50.

This is a local Legion project to promote Americanism and to raise funds to carry out the American Legion community projects. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flynt and Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore DiCuffa returned last week from an American Legion State Convention at Houston. They attended meetings dealing with the promotion of Americanism helping disabled children and veterans, and promoting national security. Their wives attended the American Legion Auxiliary meetings held there. Both the Legion Post and the Auxiliary received plaques from the state commander for being one of the few posts in the state that have exceeded their membership quota for 1961.

Cotton Making Good Growth

Continued favorable weather conditions and a lack of serious insect problems in most localities allowed cotton to make excellent progress during the past week. Although damaging infestations of late season insects are normally expected at this date, county agents and others reporting on conditions of insect infestations indicate only occasional damaging infestations in most areas.

Although few serious problems have developed, Charles Hottell, County Agricultural Agent, suggests that damaging infestations of bollworms, lygus bugs and cabbage loopers have often appeared at this season. A careful and frequent check of all cotton should be made. A few fleahoppers have been reported in cotton in the county. However, as a rule fleahoppers cause little damage at this date.

Early Mail Carried by Motorcycle

"I've carried mail out of Dimmitt on every line from here but Springlake," said Mr. Tom Tate of 410 Andrews in Dimmitt this week when asked about some of the interesting events that happened to him during his seventy years of life in Dimmitt.

"My father helped organize Castro County in 1890 and he moved the family here in about 1891, when I was eight years old. We settled east of town about six miles and we lived in a dugout, as nearly every other family did then. When Dad started driving a freight wagon from Springlake to Amarillo he moved us to Dimmitt. Amarillo was then not quite as large as Hart is now and it was our nearest supply station. It took five days to go from Dimmitt to Amarillo and back and no telling how much longer if the weather was bad."

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tate About The Time He Was Carrying The Mail

"I started carrying mail in 1898 it would take me about two hours and thirty minutes to go to Big Square or Hart, and then I would take the mail about half way to Canyon City and would meet another mail carrier and he would take it on to Canyon, then another mail carrier would take it on half way to Amarillo and another would take it on to Amarillo. I've carried mail many a day in 10 and 12 below zero weather and sometimes after I arrived at the meeting place I would have to wait an hour or two in that kind of weather waiting for the other dispatcher. When I was carrying mail half way to Canyon City a fellow from Castro County ordered a hatchet out of Amarillo, the cost of the hatchet was 50 cents and by the time each mail dispatcher charged him 2 cents a piece for carrying it, the hatchet cost the Castro County man $1.25."

In 1912 I got a motorcycle to carry the mail because it was much faster. Sometimes the mail was stacked up as high as my head on the back of the motorcycle. Lots of times I would get out on those old trails and accidentally run over a coyote and I would scare us both half to death. I got amused at myself once when I first got my motorcycle. I had one gate to open on the mail route and on one of the first trips the brakes did not hold properly and when I came up to the gate started yelling "Whoa", and of course that did not help stop the machine. "It took 2 1/2 hours to go from Dimmitt to Hart or Big Square on a horse and buggy and with the motorcycle it shortened the trip to thirty minutes."

Mr. Tate concluded, "I've seen folks leave Dimmitt and Castro County in a string of covered wagons a quarter of a mile long, they just couldn't make a living and had to give up and I've watched Dimmitt grow from two, two room hotels, a little frame court house, a store and post office combined and a little hotel to what it is now. And you know it gives you a wonderful feeling to have seen all this take place."

Walter Rogers' WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER
LOYALTY OATH
The head-on collision of two Democracy versus Communism has brought into focus on the democratic side of this contest the question of loyalty. The primary reason for this is the fact that Communism operates on devious, sinister, hidden and false approaches. One of its most effective weapons is infiltration, effective because of the freedoms guaranteed the individual under the democratic system. In short, it is relatively simple to install a Communist in almost any category of any segment of the economy in a democratic form of government, because of the freedoms guaranteed the individual. On the other hand because of the lack of freedoms enjoyed by the individual under the Communist system, it is practically impossible to install a loyal American in any phase of that system. Since it is essential to our own welfare that we have faith and confidence in each other, I have concluded that the loyalty oath might be used as a very effective weapon against Communism. At the present time only limited groups in limited phases of the economy are required to declare their loyalty under oath. For instance, the employees of the Civil Defense Administration are required to subscribe to the following oath: (or affirm), that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic, that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties upon which I am about to enter. "And I do further swear (or affirm), that I do not advocate, nor am I a member or an affiliate of any organization, group or combination of persons that advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence; and that during such time as I am a member of the (name of civil defense organization), I will not advocate nor become a member of an affiliate of any organization, group, or combination of persons that advocates the overthrow of the United States by force or violence."

This is required under Section 235 of Title 50 of the United States Code. It is further provided that "Any person who shall be found guilty of having falsely taken such oath shall be punished as provided in section 1621 of Title 18." This means that such person would be tried under the perjury statute and be subject to a fine of not more than $2,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both. This is required as a security regulation, as are oaths in other departments of the government. It occurs to me that under our free enterprise system, security should not be confined to government departments alone. Much of our economy base rests upon contracts between the Federal government and free enterprise activities. In fact, the defense establishment alone, before the addition of the recent requests by President Kennedy, totaled more than $43 billion of taxpayers' money. These expenditures are justified as being for the preservation of our nation and our way of life. Now it seems rather odd to me that only the persons working for the Federal government as officers or employees are required to be bound by a loyalty oath. The officers and employees of private corporations contracting with the Federal government

GROUPING FEEDER CATTLE SALES MAY MEAN MORE PROFIT
Organized, graded sales of feeder calves are offering a profitable outlet for their quality calves and yearlings. Buyers like the system, too. Feeder cattle from any number of consignors are put together in the sale ring with every lot being uniform in breed, color, weight, grade and sex. This way sizeable lots can be offered to attract the larger buyers and speed up sales. Cattle are identified by ear or hip tags and each owner is reimbursed for his consignment on the basis of weight and price—the result of careful work by the sales committees and state graders.

About Your HEALTH

Various educated guesses as to the number of undiagnosed diabetics in the United States place the figure somewhere between one and two million. Undoubtedly a fair proportion of them are Texans.

Diabetes is a systemic metabolic disease in which the body loses its ability to use sugar normally. It can develop at any age, but most victims are 50 or older.

Normally, the gland called the pancreas produces a secretion called insulin which is released into the blood. In the presence of insulin, sugar in the blood is burned. Any excess of sugar in the presence of a normal amount of insulin is stored temporarily in the liver, and released into the blood stream as needed.

This is the normal pattern. But in a person suffering with diabetes the pancreas fails to produce sufficient insulin. And when starches are eaten and absorbed, the body is unable to control the sugar normally by storing it in the liver or to burn it efficiently in the muscular exercises. Result: the sugar content of blood increases abnormally.

Diabetes is a disease that is unable to burn sugar efficiently for energy. He becomes weak and tired, hungry and underweight.

When blood sugar gets too high, the kidneys—in an effort to lower it—removes some of the sugar by excreting it in urine. This makes the body dry and creates thirst.

Proof of the hereditary nature of diabetes is the fact that surveys of diabetic children show 80 percent are from families with a history of diabetes. Recent studies have shown that both mothers and babies weighing 10-12 pounds at birth have a pronounced tendency to develop diabetes in later life.

Overeating and lack of muscular exercise tend to promote obesity which in turn create a tendency toward diabetes. It has been shown that 20 fat persons develop the disease for every thin one who does not.

You can judge your own disposition toward diabetes. Are you overweight? Do you overeat? Is there diabetes in your family? Were you a "heavy" baby at birth? Do you have any of these symptoms: persistent hunger or thirst, loss of weight or strength, excessive urination? If so, you're a fair candidate for diabetes and ought to promptly consult your family physician.

If you have ever been leery about drinking water on interstate trains, planes, buses, or ships—forget it. The State Department of Health advises:

Using men who ride rails and highways, air and sea lanes, and yet other men who stay in their home communities, make it possible for the traveling public physician.

Watering-point inspectors are a curious lot. They insist on knowing the type of hydrants and buckets are used to fill water storage tanks of public conveyances. What protective devices are used? How are they handled during loading operations? How are they stored when not in use?

They ask questions about and look into facilities of handling ice used to cool drinking water during long trips aboard carriers. What sort of treatment does the water get and where does it come from?

Cross connections with other systems could mean contamination and a load of sick passengers. The inspectors even get curious about conditions on service platforms, the methods by which conveyances dispose of wastes, and presence or absence of employee sanitary facilities.

Inspectors recommend "favorable," "provisional" or "prohibitive" certification, depending on whether the system is up to par or erring at the time of inspection. Prohibitive or provisional certificates are issued only after correcting defects to the satisfaction of inspectors.

All this effort is spent toward one objective: To get travelers to their destinations in the distant states without getting sick on the water they drink enroute.

Area Boys Receive F. F. A. Award... Jimmy Campbell, 1961 graduate of Dimmitt High School, and Donald Smithson, Dimmitt High School Senior were recognized as Lone Star Farmers, an award of outstanding work in high school F. F. A. work, in Dallas at the State F. F. A. Convention on July 24-25.

Congress Passes Legislation Calling For Grain, Wheat Acreage Cuts in '62

Below is a resume of the 1962 wheat and grain acreage legislation passed in Congress last week.

The article was written by Rep. Walter Rogers at the request of the Hereford Brand. The News reprints it here for the benefit of those who have not seen a clear outline of the program. By Walter Rogers, Member of Congress 1962 Wheat Program Provides:

(1) A mandatory reduction of ten percent in wheat acreage and incentives for producers to reduce acreage voluntarily another thirty percent to maximum forty percent acreage curtailment on individual farms.

(2) An exemption from marketing quotas is limited to 13.5 acres per farm or the harvest acreage planted for harvest in 1959, 1960 and 1961. The present exemption is 15 acres.

(3) Price support is limited to producers who do not exceed their reduced 1962 acreage allotment and get and where does it come from? Cross connections with other systems could mean contamination and a load of sick passengers.

(4) Payments in cash or in kind up to sixty percent on normal production on wheat acres voluntarily removed from production above the mandatory ten percent diversion.

(5) Authority for producers to plant castor, sunflower, safflower, or sesame, if designated by the secretary, subject to the conditions that no payments shall be made with respect to diverted acreage devoted to any such commodity.

(6) Increases the marketing penalty from 45 to 65 percent of parity price and establishes stricter computation of amount subject to penalty in cases of noncompliance with allotments.

(7) Provides that where producers can prove their 1959 and 1960 acreages and yields, these figures shall be accepted.

(8) Authority for three years, beginning with 1962, for the secretary to increase acreage allotments if the supply was used allotments if the supply was used allotments if the supply was used.

with the program, a producer of this acreage of grain... corn or grain must not increase... this acreage of barley and a pro... flour of barley must not increase...

Top Speakers Chosen for '61 PCG Meeting

Two nationally prominent speakers representing the American Cotton Textile Industry and the U. S. Department of Agriculture have accepted invitations to address the joint annual meeting of the Plains Ginners' Association and the Plains Cotton Growers at the Plains Ginners' Association.

The two big cotton organizations this year will hold a combined meeting which has been held in the past. The joint meeting will begin at 9:30 A. M., August 26 in Fair Park Coliseum, Lubbock. Prior to the meeting, at 8:00 A. M. PCG county directors will meet to elect officers for the 1961-62 year. Plains Ginners' directors will meet to elect officers for the 1961-62 year.

Main speakers for this year's program will be S. R. Field, Vice President, Purchasing, Fieldcrest Mills, Inc., Spry, North Carolina and Richard C. Sherman, Director, Cotton Division, Foreign Agricultural Service, USDA, Washington, D. C. Mr. Field will discuss the subjects which are of vital interest to our area, said Mr. W. O. Fortenberry, President of the Plains Cotton Growers.

As in past meetings, free door prizes will be awarded throughout the day and a free barbecue will be held at noon. Orville "Sleepy" Bailey, President of the Plains Ginners' Association, announced that they will again offer as a special attraction prizes of several Texas Tech season football and basketball tickets. Only cooperating ginners who are present at the meeting will be eligible, he announced.

As a special feature again this year, the PCG in thanks for the cooperation and help of south plains ginners, are awarding a grand prize to some lucky ginner and wife of a free trip to the Texas State Fair on an eight day trip to Colorado and parts of New Mexico.

In Colorado Springs they saw the Seven Falls, Garden of the Gods, Cave of the Winds and Ghost Town. They were at the foot of Pikes Peak and they came back across the Royal Gorge.

From the presidents of both organizations, reports from Ed Bush Executive President, Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, and George W. Pfeifferberger, Executive Vice President, Plains Cotton Growers, and a talk from Troy Price, Manager, Texas Employers Casualty Company, on gin safety.

Epoxies Find Use On Farm Jobs

Epoxies are fairly new group of plastics with a wide range of farm uses. A report from the Fall Farm Quarterly magazine sums them up as excellent but expensive.

A pure epoxy resin is very brittle and for normal use compounds are added to make it more pliable. Sometimes a substance like limestone or mica may also be added as a cheap filler, so an epoxy should be bought from a reputable dealer and for a specific purpose in order to insure desired results.

As adhesives they are unexcelled. They will bond metals, wood, Masonite, stone, ceramics, or any combination of these. The only things they won't cement are some plastics. Often the repaired crack or a new joint is stronger than the original material.

A word of warning—be aware of epoxies sold under labels which claim they will glue anything to anything. They may do a good job; on the other hand, they may be weaker than an epoxy designed especially for the material being glued.

Protective coats, epoxies make durable coatings or paints for roofs, floors, walls and liners for containers—metal, concrete or wood. They have a high resistance to chemical attack.

Epoxies can be used on dairy walls, or perhaps farrowing pens, and other places where sanitation is important. Though there is considerable controversy as to the economy and practicality of their use in silos, it is being done. Epoxy lining makes the walls of a silo practically gas-tight.

Epoxies have been used to repair cracks in trees. One farmer lined corroded metal chicken drinkers with epoxy paint. A veterinarian used epoxy to mend quarter cracks in horses' hooves.

It is a taskmaster when competition defeats, when it sets the rut that engulfs the businessman. Competition is rewarding when the merchant forces it to become his tool, when he knows he has a thriving, growing business that will never want for customers. Business goes where it is invited—and competitive prices, outstanding courteous service with a good selection, and promotional advertising will do the most inviting.

Do yourself, your customer, and your community a favor by using the pages of the Castro County News to sell your goods and services. It is not only good business but it will help you gear your operation to today's quickly changing trends and increasing competition.

Success stories of large businesses almost always hinge around concentrated advertising and other sound business practices. Start a campaign now—you'll be amazed at how quickly you will feel the difference. Just telephone 88 and a salesman will call on you at your convenience.
