Tax and Social Security School Slated Friday

Friday is the date for the farm and ranch income tax and social security school to be held in Eastland. The school will be held on the third floor of the courthouse.

The income tax meeting will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through noon. It will be devoted to farm and ranch income tax problems and situations. Sidney Jenkins, farm management specialist of the Agricultural Extension Service will conduct this part of the program.

Social security as it applies to farmers and ranchers will be the subject of the afternoon session in the same room beginning at 2 p.m. A representative of the Social Security Administration office in Abilene will be present.

The school was arranged by J. M. Cooper, county agent.

Eastland Co. Third Place In State Pecan Show

Bishop and Ziock of Brownwood, exhibiting the famed Mahan pecan, entered in the grand champion named variety of the annual Texas State Pecan Show held Jan. 8-9 at Texas A & M College.

Their entry contained 34.5 nuts per pound, 61.5 percent of which was actual kernel.

Reserve grand champion in the named variety division went to Eastern Schleys shown by Lloyd Byrd of Bend in San Saba County. His entry had 49.9 nuts to the pound and was 61.7 per cent kernel.

In the seedling division, the grand champion was produced by the Rainey Nursery of Richland Springs. There were 46.5 nuts to the pound and 62.2 per cent were kernel.

The show was sponsored by the Texas Pecan Growers Association in cooperation with the junior branch of the American Society of Horticultural Science.

Dr. Benton Storey, assistant professor in the A&M Horticulture Department and secretary of the pecan association, said the show featured 226 entries, a new high.

San Saba accumulated the most points—211—in overall entries and earned the privilege of naming its local pecan queen as Texas Pecan Queen. She is Miss Kay Sullivan, who will be crowned July 12-13 when the TPGA holds its annual meeting at Brownwood. She will replace Rebecca Graham of Eastland who was the reigning pecan queen.

Brown County was in second place with 114 points, and Eastland County, third with 73 points.

Eastland County Exhibitors who won first place with their exhibits were: B. B. Freeman, Ranger; Lee Liska of Cisco and Doss Alexander of Rising Star.

letterman and the outstanding non-letterman of the 1959 squad. James Townzen will present the trophies for the Lions Club.

Coach Jim Puryear has announced that the 1959 lettermen will be revealed at the banquet.

R. E. "Prof" Jackson will be the guest speaker.

He is one of the best-known humorists in the Southwest. Robert E. Jackson was born on a farm in Hood County and received his early education in Texas. He took his B. S. degree at George Peabody College for Teachers and his advanced degree at the University of Chicago. He also attended Columbia and New York Universities.

"Prof" is professor emeritus of government at Texas Woman's University where he taught for 35 years. He retired in 1953 to devote full time to public speaking. Before coming to TWU he was principal of Denton High School where he taught history.

A frequent lecturer throughout Texas and neighboring states, Jackson's success as a toastmaster, main speaker and commentator began early in his teaching career. "He doesn't talk on education, but his talk is an education in itself," is typical of the comments made by those who have heard him speak.

Del Sharbutt, N.R.C. and Columbia announcer who once introduced Jackson, liked him so much when he spoke in Fort Worth, that he invited "Prof" to California to make a series of speeches.

At one time "Prof" had a 13-week contract with radio station WFAA. He has spoken in 42 of the 50 states of the USA.

His keen sense of wit and jovial disposition make him a much sought after after-dinner speaker. His subjects cover a wide range including affairs of home, state, nation and the world.

Ranger College feels that they are fortunate in obtaining such a distinguished speaker for the banquet.

New Officers to Be Elected by Pecan Growers

Oscar Schaefer of Cook, President of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association, has announced that Jan. 18 is the date for the annual meeting of that organization which will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Building in Cisco at 7:30 p.m.

One of the most important items on the agenda of business at the meeting will be the election of officers and the naming of two new directors. Directors serve for a two year term.

Dosa Alexander of Pioneer, Charles Underwood of Gorman and Ellis Cooper of Ranger, were recently named by the president as a nominating committee to work out and present to the group a proposed slate of officers and directors for the consideration of the membership.

Several committees to work out detailed plans for the annual field day this spring will be named at the meeting. Present indications are that at least a portion of the field day will be held at the first huddled Burkett pecan tree in the state just east of the viaduct near Putnam in Callahan County.

The growers association and the Cisco Chamber of Commerce cooperated in putting a steel fence around the trees with appropriate markers on the nearby highway last summer.

Poll Tax Sales Show Increase

Poll tax sales in Eastland County, after lagging behind for several weeks, have begun to pick up, a spokesman for the tax assessor-collector's office said today.

Deadline for paying the tax and getting on the official voting list is Jan. 31.

Payment made at the tax office in the courthouse or at sub-stations in Ranger, Cisco, Gorman and Rising Star. Price of the tax is still $1.75.

With more and more contested races cropping up in the county interest has been increasing daily.

Winters Drops Bulldogs In District Play

A torrid second quarter in which Winters scored 21 points gave the Blizzards a 53-36 victory over the Bulldogs in District 7-AA play in Winters Tuesday night.

The Bulldogs led 9-7 after the first quarter of play, but the 21 point performance gave the Blizzards a 28-16 lead at the half and they led 39-22 after three periods.

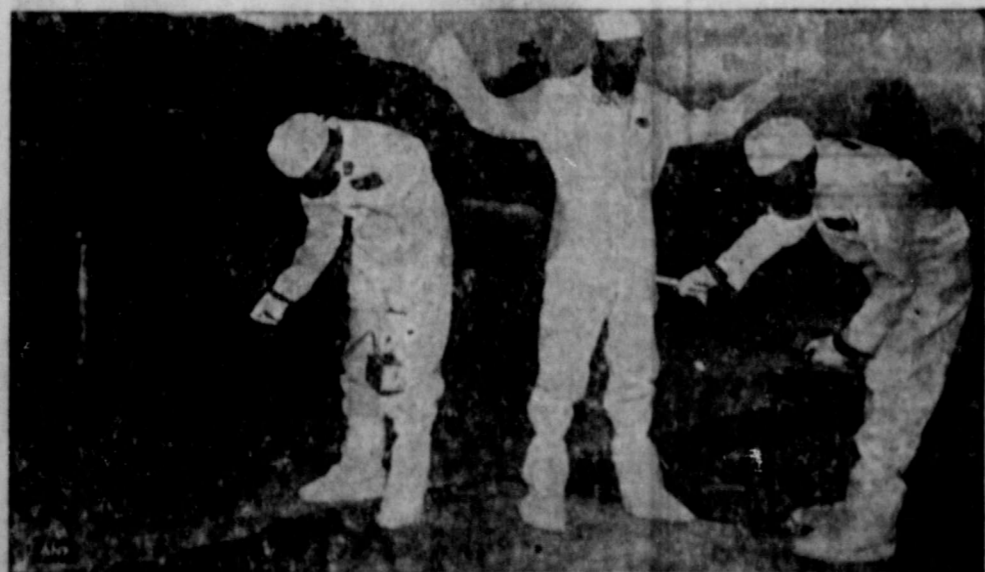

James Henry led the Bulldogs in scoring with 19 points. Dean Kichley scored 11. Jerry Wilson and Charles White, each had three. Jimmy Smith led the Blizzards with 14 points.

Winters also won the "B" team game by a 38 to 30 count. Gene White scored 18 points for the Bulldogs with Jimmy Johnson hitting nine to lead for Winters.

Other action in District 7-AA saw Cisco down Eastland 44-39. Coleman edged Ballinger 54-53.

Cisco leads the district with two wins and no losses.

Guatemalan Resident Now College Student

By Jackie Waggoner

Bill Tallon is another Ranger College student who resides in a foreign country. He is an American citizen of American heritage, but his parents have lived in Guatemala for the last thirty-five years. Bill's father, William Tallon, is a chief executive with the United Fruit Company in Guatemala City.

When Bill was eleven years old, his parents sent him to the United States to go to school. He went through high school at Gould Academy in Bethel, Maine. Here he was very active in athletics, gaining all-state recognition in football. After graduation from the academy he accepted a football scholarship at the University of Arizona, where he attended school last year before coming to Ranger College last fall. Bill also attended the University of Guatemala during the past two summers.

Billy speaks Spanish both expertly and fluently and is a good student in English as well. The things he likes most about Central America are the wonderful and friendly people and the variety of recreation available.

He has many hobbies. His favorites are skin diving and playing bougo drums. He also loves Latin music and the various Latin dances.

The most exciting thing that has ever happened to Bill occurred while he was watching a parade one day in Guatemala City. One of the many Guatemalan revolutions broke out, and machine guns were blazing away all around him before he knew what was happening. When he realized what was occurring, he ran to his father's office for protection. Quite an exciting life for a boy who is only twenty years old.

He said that he would make his formal announcement at a later date.

Tax Facts for Homeowners About Theft and Damage

(Editor's Note: This is one in a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the (C) Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

You can get some relief from casualty and theft losses by taking advantage of the legitimate tax deductions you are allowed.

To help you prepare a correct return and take advantage of legitimate tax savings, this newspaper is printing a series of four articles prepared with the help of the state and national organizations of certified public accountants.

Today's article considers the problems you may have in claiming deductions for theft or casualty losses. Later articles will offer advice on other tax problems of particular interest to homeowners.

Time and Destruction

There are a great many ways in which your property can be damaged or destroyed, as for example, by fire, storm, flood, or explosion. Generally, a casualty which will give rise to a deductible loss must occur with some suddenness. However, there are situations where the casualty occurs over a period of time and still results in a deductible casualty loss. For example, consider the damage caused by termites.

Say that you purchased your house in June 1957 and at that time a check by experts showed that there were no termites present. Then, in February 1958, you discover that termites have been eating your house from under you. Can you claim a casualty loss deduction for the termite damage? Yes, you can, even though the damage took place over a nine month period.

The casualty here, is the invasion of your house by the termites. However, it is probable that a casualty deduction will not be allowed where the termite damage did not occur over a relatively short period of time.

The Property Must Be Yours

You must have ownership of the damaged property to claim a loss deduction. It is quite conceivable that severe damage to the property around your house may cause the value of your property to decline. Although the damage occurred suddenly, you cannot claim a deduction for the loss in value unless your own property was actually damaged.

You can claim a deduction for a drop in the value of your car due to an accident. This is true regardless of whether you or another driver is to blame, unless the accident is a result of your willful negligence. However, if you are responsible for a car accident and have to pay for damage inflicted on someone else's car, you cannot deduct the payment as a casualty loss.

Proving a Casualty Loss

Determining the amount you can claim as a casualty loss may be very difficult. Generally, you are allowed to claim the amount by which your property decreased in value. In some cases, a repair the national political conventions, or the monthly meeting of your neighborhood P.T.A. a set of procedural rules compiled 80 years ago by an almost-forgotten Army General usually has much to do with the way the business is conducted.

You have probably heard of "Robert's Rules of Order" which was published in 1876. General Henry M. Robert ordered only 4,000 of his original edition, but since that time almost 1,500,000 copies have been printed. The rules have been modernized from time to time, but the revisions have been slight.

Actually the rules for conducting a meeting go back to the early days of the English Parliament, although General Robert based his upon the rules and practice of the U. S. Congress.

Robert's Rules come close to being "law of the land." They are given added legal status by the fact that the charter, constitution, or by-laws of almost every organization you can name—your wife's literary society, your labor union, or the corporation you work for (large or small)—ordinarily state somewhere that all meetings will be "conducted in accordance with Robert's Rules of Order." Special rules may be made by any organization contrary to Robert, but if some provisions are not in the by-laws his little book—where incorporated in such by-laws—remains the "bible" to be followed strictly.

All this means, in effect, that if a serious question arises over the legality of action taken by an organization, a court might have to consider General Robert's rules with the same care as it does the law to determine whether the action in question was proper.

If you take an active part in church, school, civic or fraternal organizations, some knowledge of Robert's Rules is important. At your lodge meeting, for example, things go much smoother if both the chairman and the members on the floor follow Robert and stick to the business at hand. That way you'll get home before the wee, small hours, and still have time for some relaxation after the business session.

There are many simple guides to Robert that will help, and unless you are chairman of a large or important meeting it probably isn't necessary to know all the details in the whole book.

Now we move to adjourn until next week—a motion which General Robert says take precedence over everything else.

Try This "Calorie-Light" Cold Drink

If you're a weight-watcher, don't forget to count calories in beverages as well as in foods. Happily, there are things you can do with summer drinks to make them fit in with just about any kind of weight-control program.

An example is this delightful "Cruisair Cooler," a popular thirst-aid served at St. Croix in the Virgin Islands. Normally it would contribute 126 calories per glass. But simply by using the non-calorie sweetener, Sucaryl, in the recipe, rather than sugar, calories have been slashed to fewer than half that number. Note that this recipe also makes use of one of the calorie-free gingerales, now available in markets everywhere.

Enjoy this calorie-light fruit drink often during these warm-weather days. It's delicious!

Cruisair Cooler
(Low-Calorie Beverage)
2 1/2 cups unsweetened pineapple juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup lime juice
1 tablespoon Sucaryl solution
1 pint dietetic gingerale
Combine fruit juices and Sucaryl; chill well. Just before serving, pour over cracked ice in 6 tall glasses; fill to top with gingerale. Garnish with mint.
Makes 6 servings. Each serving contains 62 calories; 0.5 gram protein; trace of fat; 17.5 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 126 calories.

Mental Health Theme of Medical Association Meet

"The Emotional Growth of the Child" has been selected as the topic for the Third Conference on Physicians and Schools to take place in Dallas, April 4, 1960. The conference will be sponsored by the Texas Medical Association's Committee on School Health in cooperation with the Dallas Independent School District.

Authorities on the mental health, emotional problems, and adjustment of the growing child will discuss the factors contributing to delinquency, poor scholarship, and teenage marriage. Conference Chairman is Dr. Edwin L. Rippy, Dallas, member of the Committee on School Health of the Texas Medical Association, and President of the Board of Education, Dallas Independent School District.

Invitations to attend the conference, all sessions of which will be held in the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel, are being extended openly to school superintendents, principals, physicians, law enforcement authorities in the field of juvenile care, and officers of all interested state and local organizations. More than 400 are expected to attend the clinic this year.

Featured speakers of the program, which will include general assemblies, luncheon, dinner and group seminars, will be Paul V.

Lemkau, M. D., Delamar School of Public Health, Baltimore, Md.; Carson McGuire, Ph.D., University of Texas, Austin; and Robert L. Stublefield, M.D., Professor of Psychiatry, Southwestern Medical School, Dallas.

Fanning the horse with a hat used to be considered spectacular at rodeos, but modern rodeos forbid quaring, fanning or even touching the animal with the hand.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

Omar Barlow, M. C., 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Each week hereafter during the new session of the Congress just starting, this column will be sent to all newspapers in the Seventeenth Congressional District.

Every effort will be made to discuss issues of national importance, in the hope that all of us may have a better understanding of what the issues are and their effects.

In resolving any issue and in solving any problem, the problem itself must be recognized. On the other hand, it is one thing to recognize a problem, but another to solve it should be met.

These times actions of the Congress so often vitally affect every man, woman and child of the United States. Therefore, it is highly important that every citizen take an intense interest in the actions in Washington.

National Defense is, without doubt, the most important of all legislation. Unless the safety of our Country is assured to the fullest degree, then all other matters fade into insignificance. The defense needs of the Country make up in excess of two-thirds of the entire expenditures of the Federal Government.

It naturally follows that the issue of peace or war will dominate in the Congress and, incidentally, will be a principal issue in the coming Presidential campaign.

On the domestic side many of the issues in this Second Session of the 86th Congress will be related to politics. In many instances it is unfortunate, but on the other hand, it is our system. This has been the case since the beginning of our Government.

The Domestic issues include the ideal management of our Government and, in fact, most all other issues will revolve around the matter of Federal spending and high taxes.

Included in legislation on which tough fights will be waged are Federal aid to education, changes in Social Security, health and welfare benefits, public housing, aid to depressed areas, veterans' benefits, so-called civil rights, and minimum wage increase.

In addition, there will be action to find an answer to the dilemma in our Highway Program. Early in the Session the Congress will deal with the President's request to raise interest rates on Government bonds issued for longer than a five-year period.

All these and many other matters too numerous to mention will be before the Congress just as soon as the various Committees are able to hold hearings and draft bills. As these questions develop, your views on any of them will be appreciated and respected. It is not only your right and privilege, but actually your duty to express yourself. You can make Washington and your Congressman as near to you as a four-cent stamp and the Post Office.

Tax-

It will be considered sufficient to support your deduction.

The best thing you can do is gather together any information that may help support the amount you claim as a deduction. For example, if your house is badly damaged, a qualified architect can often give a reasonable estimate of the before and after value. The appraisal fee, by the way, is a deductible expense.

Theft Losses

You can claim a deduction for the value of property that is stolen. The problem in claiming losses from theft is that you will probably have to show some evidence that the theft took place. Be sure that there is at least a police record of the theft and a report of any findings the police may have come up with. Also, you might keep track of newspaper accounts, insurance reports, and so on. Theft losses are deductible in the year you discover that your property is missing.

You can get additional information on an casualty and theft deductions from the instruction booklet issued by the Internal Revenue Service each year.
