Author of The Ranger Song Well-Known Western Writer

By Lesse R. Mobley
"It pleases me that the Ranger Song seems to have achieved permanent adoption, and that my name in connection with it has not been forgotten," said S. Omar Barker in answer to a query in regard to his more recent writing.

"I was asked to write a Ranger Junior College school song in 1948, felt honored by the request, and compiled to the best of my ability. I am happy to have been of service to such a friendly institution as Ranger College. Please convey my regards to both the faculty and the student body," he continued.

Students, ex-students, and friends of Ranger College who enjoy singing the Ranger Song will be interested in knowing about this talented writer of the Southwest who composed the song especially for them. Drawing on information furnished by a committee from the school in 1947, Mr. Barker, who was then living in Sapello, New Mexico, sent the lyrics, which were accepted by the college as the official school song. The western flavor of the lyrics may now be better understood and appreciated; they fit Ranger College as a cowboy fits his horse. The words are sung to the melody of "I'd Like to Be in Texas for the Round-up in the Spring" by Kenneth S. Clark.

Mr. Barker is widely known as the "Cowboy's Poet," having published the greatest number of poems of the cattle country to date. His early volume, "Buckaroo Ballads," preserves the stories and the psychology of the cowpuncher, pointing up his need for elbow room and his horse, his dislike of cities and cars. Cooper Library has an autographed copy of this book. A more recent book, "Sunlight Through the Trees," contains 149 of his best poems in both serious and humorous vein.

In listing his writing since 1948, Mr. Barker included about five hundred pieces of brief verse, eighty short stories, and seventy factual articles as a part of his literary output. These have appeared in "Country Gentleman," "Saturday Evening Post," "Cosmopolitan," "Redbook," "Reader's Digest," "Progressive Farmer," and other magazines and publications.

Mr. Barker's stories and verses have appeared in anthologies of Western Writers of America, and in 1955 he won the Golden Spur Award for the best western short story publication in the English language that year.

Last year's Ranger featured a beautifully hand-lettered reproduction of the Ranger Song which will also appear in the 1960 annual. In addition, appropriate lines from the song will head various pages in the activity section of the Ranger.

A reprint of The Ranger Song follows:

THE RANGER SONG
Words by S. Omar Barker

In the cedar hills of Texas where the longhorns used to roam,
Stands a western Junior College that we love to call our home.
It's full of Texas spirit and it's rich in cowboy lore—
The happy days we've spent here we'll remember evermore!

REFRAIN:
Raise a cheer for dear old Ranger, in the dear old Lone Star State,
Where there's lots of room for friendship, and no room at all for hate,
When the years have wrought their changes, when our days fade into night,
We will still remember Ranger and the purple and the white!

From the Pecos to the Brazos, from the red down to the cross,
You will find a lot of colleges, but none to match our boast
That we're the worthy namesakes of the Texas Ranger Crew—
Those tall men in the saddle whose faith brought the Lone Star through!

In the pleasant halls of Ranger every boy's a cowboy bold!
All the girls are pretty cowgirls—and they will be till they're old!
There are no mavericks in our herd, we wear the Ranger brand!
We are the sons and daughters of a rawhide Ranger land!

Ranger Police Apprehend Teenage Theft Suspects

Chief Don Butler and Patrolman Bob Patterson of the Ranger Police Department picked up two out-of-town teenage boys Tuesday and booked them for further investigation in connection with passing hot checks.

H. G. Adams at Adams Grocery reported to the police department that the two boys had purchased about $16 worth of groceries and wanted to give an Abilene check for payment. The police checked and found that the boys had already given one check for $19.70 at the Globe Clothing store, and the boys admitted that they had no money in the Abilene bank.

The two boys had rented two rooms at the Paramount Hotel, telling the manager that their father would arrive Tuesday night and take one of the rooms and pay for the bill.

The police department questioned the boys for about two hours Tuesday afternoon and came up with the following story.

The boys, Weldon Eugene Smith Jr., 16, of Route 4, Abilene, and Andrew Jackson Anderson, Jr., 15, of 12th Street, Dallas, had stolen a 1951 Ford car at Johnnie Reynolds Motor Company at 736 Jefferson Street in Dallas Friday, April 1 and had sold it to a junk dealer in Grand Prairie Monday.

Monday night they went back to the same place and stole a 1953 Mercury. They got as far as Ranger when the car broke down.

Police Chief Don Butler said

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson

Bills are pending in both the House of Representatives and the United States Senate to again drastically liberalize our immigration quotas.
The president recently transmitted his message to Congress which proposes to double the annual admission of 154,000 people from foreign countries.
Under the present law, immigration numbers from foreign countries are based on a percentage of people of the same race and ethnic group making up the United States population as of 1920.
The president recommends that the number of foreigners admitted be related to the total number of people the United States as determined by the 1960 Census. If this change is not drastic enough, the President would also extend the eligibility of admission by transferring quotas assigned to Northern and Western Europe to other countries. Heretofore, the greatest number have come from Western and Northern Europe, whose people are more nearly like our own and have some appreciation of the American system and American ideals. Those to whom eligibility would be extended can have little such appreciation, as has been proved.
In addition, the President also proposes to create a permanent refugee program starting with the admission of 10,000 persons per year. However, the President wants a provision added which would permit him by a simple proclamation to increase this number without limit. There is nothing to indicate that so-called refugees might at some future time be admitted by the tens and hundreds of thousands. Besides, who is going to decide who is a refugee? Under special laws now on the books, in addition to our regular immigration quotas, more than two million immigrants have come to this country in the past 10 years.

Should the President's request for doubling the quota be granted, it is entirely possible that we will be faced with an influx of people into this country approaching the half-million mark a year.
There are special laws applying to so-called escapees from Iron Curtain countries, which are distinguished from refugees. The difference between the two is hard to define, but it admits more people.
In the first place we know little about who those people are, why they are out of their native country or what they are going to do after they are here. In the case of many already admitted our authorities still do not know why they are here or what they are doing.
The vast majority have ended up in the city ghettos where their own race and kind are concentrated.
The American taxpayer then seemingly becomes obligated to take care of them through public housing, unemployment compensation, and numerous other welfare benefits.
Even more serious is the fact that many of these people have little concept of our American system. We need only to take a look at the vast foreign minority groups in our great cities to understand one of the principal laproofs of trouble in our nation. But it is something which is taboo to talk about in Washington.
The President will probably get his request, and the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act will be seriously weakened.
The Texas Farm Bureau is opposed to realignment of County Commissioners' precincts on a population basis. Members of the organization believe that this would deprive rural people of their traditional representation in local government.

 The Lord has called me to serve as a Foreign Missionary to Greece. This is not a sudden decision but has been made after much prayer and a definite assurance that the Lord is calling me to the mission field. His public statement was accepted by the church who voted to license him to preach.

AROUND THE CAMPUS

Signs of Spring
There are many reliable signs of spring besides the proverbial robin, the shy crocus, and the return of the swallows to Capistrano. Around the Ranger College campus we know it is spring because... the birds are busily nesting in the south louvers of the Ad building... the whir of lawnmowers disturbs our daydreams... the late sleepers are even later to early classes... there are faraway, vacant stares on all faces... the girls in the dorm have been showing signs of spring fever and are taking it out in spring house cleaning, rearranging rooms, polishing floors... diamond rings are blossoming on ring fingers... the fruit trees back of the science building are in bloom... and so in love... Ah, Spring!

"...the most significant engineering advance of 1960"
 Motor Trend Magazine

Corvair named "CAR OF THE YEAR"
 "Four-wheel independent suspension totally unlike any other U.S.-built car" . . . "air-cooled aluminum engine . . . not dependent on the properties of a liquid coolant" . . . a rear-mounted transaxle "allowing a flatter floor and a lower roofline. . . ." These are some of the praises heaped upon Corvair by the editors of Motor Trend—the world's largest general automotive magazine—in announcing their coveted Car-of-the-Year award. Other cars didn't even come close. The Motor Trend experts, who evaluated every make in the country, were unanimous in their decision, published in the April issue. But, unless you have personally driven a Corvair, you can't appreciate what this engineering achievement really means in combining compact car economy and agility with big car ride, room and sure-footedness. Drop down to your dealer's, take a trial drive and then judge the Car of the Year for yourself!

Circle No. 1 met in the home of Mrs. J. E. Matthews at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. G. O. Strong led the opening prayer. A hymn, "In the Hour of Trial," was sung by the group.

The program theme for the day was a continuation of the study on Luke. Mrs. F. S. Pearsall gave the ninth chapter of Luke, and Mrs. J. L. Turner gave the tenth chapter. The main thought of the chapters was the last days of Jesus and the resurrection.

Mrs. Strong gave the scripture reading, which was taken from I Corinthians 15:3-11. Mrs. Gaston Dixon, circle chairman, presided at the brief business session. Three minutes were read by the secretary, and reports were made on the sick. Cards were mailed to the shut-ins. Forty-two visits were reported.

The following members and one visitor attended: Mmes. Frank Williamson, W. H. Clarke, Bond, Strong, Dixon, Turner, P. M. Kuykendall, A. W. Brazola, J. A. Bates, Jernigan, Pearsall, H. C. Croom, Vernon Deffebach, E. L. McMillen, and the hostess, Mrs. J. E. Matthews. Mrs. Dixon led the closing prayer.

Mrs. C. R. Shawfield presented the devotional and gave the sixth chapter of II Kings as her scripture reference. In the continuation of the study on "Luke's Portrait of Christ," Mrs. Beverly Dudley, Jr. gave "Fool Days—The Cross" and "Whispering Hope." Mrs. R. E. Johnson discussed "The Resurrected Life."

In the business session, three minutes were read and approved. Reports were given by the treasurer and the cheer fund chairman. The announcement was made that the group will meet at the church

Monday, April 11, for a tea. At that time, Mrs. C. E. May will give a book review.

The closing prayer was led by Miss Thelma Hostetter. Refreshments were served to the following: Mmes. R. E. Johnson, J. A. Johnson, W. F. Creager, Guy Brown, O. B. Poyner, Beverly Dudley, Jr., M. P. Williams, C. E. Shawfield, T. C. Wylie, W. J. VanBibber, Earl Brown, two visitors, Mrs. L. R. Pearson, Jr., and Miss Hostetter; and the hostesses, Mrs. L. R. Pearson, Sr. and Miss Pearson.

Circle No. 3
Mrs. Floyd Killingsworth was hostess to Circle No. 3 at 3:30. The group sang two hymns, "He Arose" and "He Lives," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Stanley McAnelly. Mrs. J. D. Drennan gave the devotional, after which the program was presented by Mrs. Arthur Deffebach.

Mrs. T. D. Stewart, circle chairman, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. E. L. Danley gave the cheer fund report and read the minutes of the March meeting. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. C. N. Adams, Mrs. Stewart led the closing prayer.

A highway marker near Brownsville designates Resaca de la Palma, scene of an early battle in the U. S. Mexico war.

Sitting in the El Jardin lobby in Brownsville, TV viewers see and hear a commercial on orange juice—Florida orange juice!

In Harlingen, one of those tiny foreign cars was parked with a sign painted on it, "Go around-not over"; Just out of Harlingen at a roadside stand was this sign, "Strawberries-4 for $1!—Texas really must grow big strawberries! (Someone said it meant four boxes for a dollar.)

Paging Major Hoople! San Benito has an Owls Club.

A Harlingen man in a cafe complained that half the time he bit the filter end of the cigaret. He said, "They ought to put the filter in the middle."

Real bargains in New Braunfels: "Hamburgers, 29 cents; 3 for 99 cents."

In an Austin store window featuring "Luggage for your trip to Europe," one piece of luggage was priced at $251. If I bought that for my trip to Europe, the trip would be off.

When I arrived in Eastland in the summer of 1921 to become editor of the Daily Oil Belt News, the courthouse was a red brick structure, trimmed in stone. The building was three stories high. It is interesting to know that the edifice cost $49,000.

Also as showing how times change, shortly before the discovery of oil (1917) in the county, Eastland's business establishments included blacksmith shops, two livery stables and a wagon yard.

Casey Jones is the most famous of all the thousands of men who have ever worked on railroads. Why? Because somebody wrote a song about him.

Sam Bass is the best known of Texas' outlaws for the same reason.

William F. Cody killed one Indian in combat. (Some historians dispute that he did even this.) He took a contract to kill enough buffaloes to provide the Union Pacific Railroad construction crews with meat. He was also a pony express rider. With these achievements as the foundation, he is regarded under the name of "Buffalo Bill," as the embodiment of the West. Why? He had a fine sense of adventure.

Reading at Restaurant Table

Dear Mrs. Post: I have lunch every day in a small tearoom near my office. It gets very busy at lunch time and quite often the hostess will seat someone at my table. I usually take a book or the newspaper with me and read while I am having lunch. Would I be considered rude if I continue to read in the presence of this other person, or does good manners demand that I put my book, or newspaper, aside?

Answer: If the table is small and your large newspaper may disturb your table companion, you should put it aside. There is, however, no reason for you to stop reading a book.

What To Call Ex-Mother-In-Law

Dear Mrs. Post: I divorced my husband about a year ago but have remained friendly with his mother through my children and see her occasionally. My problem is what to call her. Before my divorce I called her "Mother," but it does not seem right to address her as such any longer. To call her by first name would seem strange and Mrs. Jones sounds very cold. I would very much appreciate your telling me what would be proper in this situation.

Answer: I think the best choice would be to call her whatever your children do because that is the real connection between you.

Asking Friend For Favor

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is going on a trip shortly to a country that is noted for its fine woollens and they are far less expensive than they are here. Would it be an imposition to ask her to bring back a cashmere sweater? I have always wanted one but held back from buying one because of the price. I intend, of course, to pay for it.

Answer: If she is not flying with a limited baggage allowance, you might ask her to do this, paying her not only for the sweater but also any customs duty she has to pay.

Waiting Dinner For Tardy Guest

Dear Mrs. Post: Not long ago you said in answer to someone who had asked how long it was necessary was the requirement, and then not to wait any longer. I was very much surprised by this answer and think it would be a very rude thing to do to a guest.

Answer: A guest who is habitually late deserves no special consideration; one who has been unavoidably detained would be much more comfortable if she feels she has not annoyed everyone else by having to wait for her. The allowance of "fifteen minutes grace" is one of the oldest and most accepted rules of etiquette. It is not considered half as rude to fail to wait for the one guest who is late as to expect the many who were on time to wait for one delinquent.

Calling Someone By Last Name Only

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to have your opinion on the practice of calling a man (or even a boy) by his last name only. For example, "Jones," "Smith," "Robinson," etc. This seems very rude to me and I think that he would either be addressed as Mr. Jones, or if he is very young, as John.

Answer: Calling someone by a last name is really halfway between the intimacy of a first name and the formality of Mr. It is decidedly European but is also used here in America in boys' prep schools and in business and in the armed forces.

An Unacceptable Present

Dear Mrs. Post: When a nice young man unfortunately chooses a piece of lingerie as a gift for a young woman, wouldn't it be needlessly hurting his feeling for her to refuse it? If refused she must, how does she go about it? Answer: She simply says, "This is a lovely gift and thank you so much, but my mother would never in the world let me accept it."

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-16, entitled "Table Rules of Importance," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of (this newspaper), P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate)

Born After His Daddy Died—

... did little Tommy elude the title to his mother's home? Or suppose little Tommy was born out of wedlock would this affect the titles to the properties owned, if any, by his father, or mother, or both? These and many other heirship problems may arise in any title which the lawyers or the courts must finally decide. The abstract, which presents the facts and conditions surrounding such circumstances, is and always has been, the most important part of any real estate transaction.

In this country the constitution gives you your day in court and the right to counsel. For your lawyer to speak up well for you in court, he must know all about your case. So under the law, no court can harm you by making him talk about what you told him. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

ADVOCACY
In old Greece each accused person such as Socrates had to come before the jury himself to plead his case. This was tough if he didn't know the art of advocacy. He was assumed to be guilty.

Had Socrates taken independent advice would he have offended the hostesses and biased Athenian jury, which sentenced him to the hemlock there on the hillside in 399 B.C.?

Many think not: Less outspoken defendants in those days got under the counter legal advice and coaching in the ways of swaying the jury.

Antiphon (415 B.C.) ghostwrote and sold briefs to clients who faced that jury. He set out four steps of an Athenian trial: (1) the accuser's charge, (2) the accused's reply, (3) the accuser's reply, and (4) the accused's response.

After these steps the jury either let the accused off or found him guilty. The jury sentenced the guilty on the spot allowing some—Socrates, for one—to propose their own penalties, and even to bid the punishment upward if the jury was not pleased.

After the trial, the speakers (or in Socrates' case, his friend Plato) often worked their talks over, and sent them out for friends to admire or criticize.

What appeals did the rhetoricians find that would win the jury over? The same ones we hear today.

Aristotle listed a few: The values the jurors shared with the speaker—reverence for justice, the law, and the city's founding fathers; the sanctity of the jurymen's oath, the verdict's effect upon public and foreign opinion and sometimes upon women and youth.

The later Romans realized that an accused person might be unjustly found guilty simply because he did not know how to speak in public. So they encouraged litigants and accused persons to have well qualified advocates represent them.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

A highway marker near Brownsville designates Resaca de la Palma, scene of an early battle in the U. S. Mexico war.

Sitting in the El Jardin lobby in Brownsville, TV viewers see and hear a commercial on orange juice—Florida orange juice!

over";

Just out of Harlingen at a roadside stand was this sign, "Strawberries—4 for $1". Texas really must grow big strawberries! (Someone said it meant four boxes for a dollar.)

Paging Major Hoople! San Benito has an Owls Club.

A Harlingen man in a cafe complained that half the time he bit the filter end of the cigaret. He said, "They ought to put the filter in the middle."

Real bargains in New Braunfels, "Hamburgers, 20 cents; 5 for 99 cents."

In an Austin store window featuring "Luggage for your trip to Europe," one piece of luggage was priced at $231. If I bought that for my trip to Europe, the trip would be off.

When I arrived in Eastland in the summer of 1921 to become editor of the Daily Oil Belt News, the courthouse was a red brick structure, trimmed in stone. The building was three stories high. It is interesting to know that the office cost $49,000.

Also as showing how times change, shortly before the discovery of oil (1917) in the county, Eastland's business establishment included blacksmith shops, two livery stables and a wagon yard.

Casey Jones is the most famous of all the thousands of men who have ever worked on railroads. Why? Because somebody wrote a song about him.

Sam Bass is the best known of Texas' outlaws for the same reason.

William F. Cody killed one Indian in combat. (Some historians dispute that he did even this.) He took a contract to kill enough buffaloes to provide the Union Pacific Railroad construction crews with meat. He was also a pony express rider. With these achievements as the foundation, he is regarded under the name of "Buffalo Bill", as the embodiment of the West. Why? He had a fine press agent.

Good Taste

By Emily Post

Reading at Restaurant Table
Dear Mrs. Post: I have lunch every day in a small tearoom near my office. It gets very busy at lunch time and quite often the hostess will seat someone at my table. I usually take a book or the newspaper with me and read while I am having lunch. Would I be considered rude if I continue to read in the presence of this other person, or does good manners demand that I put my book, or newspaper, aside?

Answer: If the table is small and your large newspaper may disturb your table companion, you should put it aside. There is, however, no reason for you to stop reading a book.

What To Call Ex-Mother-In-Law
Dear Mrs. Post: I divorced my husband about a year ago but have remained friendly with his mother through my children and see her occasionally. My problem is what to call her. Before my divorce I called her "Mother," but it does not seem right to address her as such any longer. To call her by first name would seem strange and Mrs. Jones sounds very cold. I would very much appreciate your telling me what would be proper in this situation.

Answer: I think the best choice would be to call her whatever your children do because that is the real connection between you.

Asking Friend For Favor
Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is going on a trip shortly to a country that is noted for its fine woolens and they are far less expensive than they are here. Would it be an imposition to ask her to bring back a cashmere sweater? I have always wanted one but held back from buying one because of the price. I intend, of course, to pay for it.

Answer: If she is not flying with a limited baggage allowance, you might ask her to do this, paying her not only for the sweater but also any customs duty she has to pay.

Waiting Dinner For Tardy Guest
Dear Mrs. Post: Not long ago you said in answer to someone who had asked how long it was necessary was the requirement, and then not to wait any longer. I was very much surprised by this answer and think it would be a very rude thing to do to a guest.

Answer: A guest who is habitually late deserves no special consideration; one who has been unavoidably detained would be much more comfortable if she feels she has not annoyed everyone else by having to wait for her. The allowance of "fifteen minutes grace" is one of the oldest and most accepted rules of etiquette. It is not considered half as rude to fail to wait for the one guest who is late as to expect the many who were on time to wait for one delinquent.

Calling Someone By Last Name Only
Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to have your opinion on the practice of calling a man (or even a boy) by his last name only. For example, "Jones," "Smith," "Robinson," etc. This seems very rude to me and I think that he would either be addressed as Mr. Jones, or if he is very young, as John.

Answer: Calling someone by a last name is really halfway between the intimacy of a first name and the formality of Mr. It is decidedly European but is also used here in America in boys' prep schools and in business and in the armed forces.

An Unacceptable Present
Dear Mrs. Post: When a nice young man unfortunately chooses a piece of lingerie as a gift for a young woman, wouldn't it be needlessly hurting his feeling for her to refuse it? If refused she must, how does she go about it?

Answer: She simply says, "This is a lovely gift and thank you so much, but my mother would never in the world let me accept it."

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-16, entitled "Table Rules of Importance," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of (this newspaper), P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate)
