

As I See Ranger

By Gene Townsend

The old coffee counter down at King's Cafe was really buzzing Friday morning. Some of the coffee drinkers were really wound up. Of course, I'm not going to mention any names on the grounds that it might incriminate me.

One fellow was telling about Wilson Simpson playing dominoes down at the fire hall several years ago. The other fellows at the fire hall were always kidding Wilson that his wife was going to be mad at him for spending so much time playing dominoes. Well, old "Simp" decided to play a little joke on the boys, so he made it up with Mrs. Simpson to help him pull the gag. He went down to the fire hall one afternoon to have a little game, and after they had played for awhile, here came Mrs. Simpson bursting in with a club (made out of paper) in her hand. She said, "I've told you what would happen if you didn't quit playing dominoes," and proceeded to hit "Simp" over the head with the club. He fell out of the chair as if it had knocked him out. There was a quick clearing-out of domino players about that time. Wilson kind of got the best of the joke, and they quit kidding him about his domino playing.

Wilson is pretty well known as a practical joker, but still he gets the tables turned on him sometimes. He and Raymond Rogers were fishing one time, and Wilson told Raymond that they always threw everything back that weighed less than five pounds. In a little while Raymond hooked a nice fish and landed it. It was a channel cat weighing about four and one-half pounds. After he had it in the boat Raymond busied himself with getting the hook out of its mouth, and then casually tossed the fish back into the lake. Wilson squawked, "what are you doing," and Raymond calmly stated, "it didn't weigh but four and one-half pounds."

Speaking of put-up deals and the recent interest in politics, reminds me of the story they tell about Lloyd Bruce and Jess Meroney. It seems that Jess Meroney was a staunch Republican and, of course, Lloyd is a die-hard Democrat, and they were always carrying on a running oratory on politics. They got together long enough to plan a little fun. One day at the Lions Club luncheon, they got into an argument over some political issue. The longer they argued, the more convinced the rest of the group was that they were really going to have it out. Then to climax the joke, they both went for their guns and came out with their cap pistols, blazing. Brann Garner yelled, "You guys can't do that!" and dove under the table. They put on a convincing act, and had the whole group believing that they were really serious. It really lived up to the meeting.

After 60 days of hard fishing, Morris Campbell finally caught a nice fish. He took one off his line Friday evening that measured about two feet long. Morris was rather puzzled as to what kind of a fish it was for a long time, but finally read the instructions printed on the side and found out that it was a Lake Leon Jinx Cat. I don't know what else the instructions included, but I am sure that if he doesn't want to cook the fish, it will make a good seat cushion. Of course a fish as unique as this one would really make a nice trophy. He may decide to put it on display at his service station. I absolutely refuse to reveal the source of information on this subject.

I hear that a fellow went to see Dr. Watkins recently for an examination. After the examination, Dr. Watkins told the fellow that the best thing for him to do would be to give up smoking, drinking and golf, and to keep very strict hours. "I really don't deserve the best," replied the patient, "What's second best?"

A. O. (Slim) Harris of Pioneer has been scratching his head lately. The reason is that tomatoes are growing on a potato vine. Harris doesn't attempt to explain the oddity, other than to point out that tomato plants are growing some 40 feet away from his potato vine. He says the phenomena may be credited to pollution. His place is three blocks west of the old Union Tabernacle at Pioneer on the north side of the old highway.

Giants Undefeated In First Half Season

The Giants won their eighth straight game Thursday night to complete the first half of the season undefeated. The Giants downed the Dodgers 13 to 2, while the Braves stopped the Indians 14 to 6. The second place Yankees had an open date.

In the first game Johnny McGee pitched his fifth win against no losses, and took the lead in the home-run department by slugging out his second of the season. Larry Blackwell came in to relieve McGee in the fourth inning and protected the lead that McGee left.

The Giants were never pressed by the Dodgers. They scored in every inning. Two runs in the first and capping it off with four runs in the fifth. The Dodgers got into the scoring column in the sixth inning when Jimmy Grier and Gilbert Nail scored on a hit by Joel Jimenez.

McGee's home run was the longest hit of the game, but his team made collected 12 hits in all. Larry Blackwell and Mike Landtroy got three each, Wayne Boone and Kenny Seymour each two, and Darryl Strawberry and McGee one each.

Joel Jimenez got two hits for the Dodgers followed by Grier, and Leroy Pearson with one each. In the second game the Braves hopped on the Indians' starter, David Mahaffey, for three runs in the first inning and had the game under control the rest of the way. The Braves scored 14 runs on 11 big hits while the Indians pushed across 5 runs on 3 hits. Martin Salazar was the winning pitcher, aided by relievers Robert Tally and Don Gibson.

Donny Crawford, Tally and D. Larry Marine each got two hits for the Braves, with Gibson, Salazar, Billy Pelt, Jackie Wilson and Stewart Mills each getting one.

For the Indians Manuel Gama, David Mahaffey and Randall Hale hit safely.

Monday night the Braves will take on the second place Yankees and the Indians and Dodgers will battle in the second game. The League leading Giants will have an open night.

League standing at the half way mark is:

Table with 4 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Giants 8 0 .100, Yankees 4 4 .500, Braves 3 5 .375, Indians 3 5 .375, Dodgers 2 6 .250.

Ranger Teenagers Edged By Eastland

The Ranger teenage team was edged 16 to 15 by the Eastland teenage team in Eastland Thursday night in a high scoring and spirited game.

The Eastland team scored four five and six runs in the first three frames to take a 15 to five lead, then went on to weather the Ranger group and edge them out by one run.

L. H. Pounds started on the mound for Ranger, but couldn't find the range and was relieved in the second inning by Charlie Santos, who was in turn relieved by Ronnie Hinds who came in in the third inning and only allowed one run after the third inning. Judy Cooper went three innings for Eastland and Hayden Wilson came in in the fourth to finish out the game and give Cooper the win.

Ranger went into the last inning trailing 16 to 9 and pulled to within one run of tying up the game by scoring six runs, with Santos driving in three of the runs on a big triple.

In all Ranger collected 14 hits.

SUNDAY DEVOTIONAL Pray As Well As Fish By Richard Russell

The people of Ranger value the neighboring lakes as places of resort and leisure upon which they might withdraw to forget their troubles for a while and relax. In so doing we feel that we are better able to meet the responsibilities and trials of a new day and week. But there is another type of withdrawing that man must also do, a withdrawing for a few moments with God in prayer. Jesus practiced it continually. This is not to escape life—but to find the strength and vision to understand life and to meet our trials and responsibilities as God would will it.

That which we may certainly gain from these moments is that which Peter gained. We may gain a new vision of people. We may see all men as God's children, as men not to be used but to be served. We may see every moment of our living, even seemingly insignificant and common moments in a new perspective as renewed opportunity to serve God in Christ.

The Army wants to add 18 months to the drill requirements of future six-months plan enlistees in the National Guard and Reserve for the 17-18 1/2 age group. It was announced by CWO James Hendrick, administrator for the National Guard in Cisco.

Little Congressional opposition is expected and the change will probably be effective July 1. Those enlisting before that date will not be affected.

At the present time those enlisting between 17-18 1/2 take six months active duty training followed by three years drill service in the local units. The change will make it 4 1/2 years drill service.

No change is expected for individuals enlisting between the ages 18 1/2-25. On enlistment in the National Guard they will continue to take 6 months active duty training followed by 5 1/2 years in the Ready Reserve drilling with local units.

Under the same law those men who are drafted serve two years in the Ready Reserve following their two years active duty. No change will be made.

Generally enlistees may be deferred for four months before entering the six months programs except for high school students who may be deferred one year or until graduation from high school. Individuals considering enlistment in the National Guard as a means to fulfilling their military obligation while remaining at home are urged to see Mr. Hendrick at the National Guard Army in Cisco immediately. He will give full information on the various programs.

It is expected that the contemplated changes will cause a great influx of applicants all over the country. The six months training is very restricted for the year beginning July 1, so those interested should not delay in making their plans.

Salvation Army to Send Two to Camp

From cities, towns and rural communities all over Texas, including the 223 Service Units now in operation, 450 boys will take leave of Mom and Dad and their youthful playmates, some for the first time in their young lives, as they leave home by bus, private car or train at the week-end to spend one full week as a camper at the beautiful Camp Hobbitzelle operated by The Salvation Army near Dallas. During the summer camping season three camp periods of one week each will be conducted for boys in Texas, with accommodations for 150 boys during each camping period.

Ranger will send two boys to the camp. They are being selected this week. The boys will be met at the bus station in Midlothian or Waxahachie, and transported to the camp by representatives of The Salvation Army. At the camp they will be housed in attractive brick and redwood cabins, and will be furnished meals in the large and airy dining room, prepared by expert chefs to meet the physical needs of healthy growing youngsters.

Mrs. F. M. Kaykendall, camp chairman for Ranger, has been busy for several weeks selecting boys, those who otherwise would not have an opportunity to spend a full week in camp where there is fun, recreation, companionship, relaxation, crafts, organized sports.

all under the guiding hands of men whose lives have been dedicated to the task of helping others. Camp Hobbitzelle, located on a beautiful wooded tract of 340 acres, seven miles south of Midlothian and eight miles west of Waxahachie, within less than one hour's automobile ride from Dallas, has well arranged playgrounds for all boys' sports, with modern playground equipment; swimming pool, lake for boating and fishing; organized sports under the direction of experienced coaches—everything that can bring happiness and realization of the dreams and hopes of growing boys. Camp Hobbitzelle has been provided by The Salvation Army for the boys of Texas, through the generous gifts of more than one hundred liberal men and women of the state, who provided money for the purchase of the land and for the buildings and other improvements that have been made there. The camp is operated by The Salvation Army for the benefit of the boys who will find good food, pleasant experiences, and happiness during their camp period there.

Texas Electric Has Prototype of Plant to Purify Brackist Waters

A prototype of the nation's first highway-capacity single unit electrolysis plant for removing salt from inland brackish waters such as are found in West Texas has been built by Texas Electric Service Company in Fort Worth, H. E. Drew, the company's director of research, reported this week at the Summer Annual Meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in Dallas.

Drew reported that the 40-foot long laboratory unit is capable of treating moderately saline water, making it suitable for human, industrial and agricultural use.

The research on desalting brackish water being conducted in a laboratory at Texas Electric Service Company's North Main generating station is part of the company's continuing program for developing the West Texas area it serves, Drew reported.

"We are hopeful" he said, "that we have taken one more step towards helping to assure an adequate, long-range water supply for the great West Texas region served by Texas Electric. We intend to continue working toward that end. Although desalting water is far from being economically practical in most places in West Texas at this time, it is inevitable that many West Texas cities will eventually need to turn to desalting brackish waters as an additional source of water supply."

The research on desalting brackish water being conducted in a laboratory at Texas Electric Service Company's North Main generating station is part of the company's continuing program for developing the West Texas area it serves, Drew reported.

able of producing a total of about 30,000 gallons of potable water per day. It was designed as a model for a plant capable of treating enough water to supply the needs of a city of about 10,000 people. Additional product streams may be added merely by enlarging the original unit.

"We know that our present design is far from the ultimate," Drew declared. "In fact, we have learned enough in building it to warrant starting all over again with an immensely improved version. Nevertheless, it does represent the first attempt in this country to build a prototype for a high-capacity single cell (unit) plant. As such we feel that it is a success."

Senate Passes Bill To Cut Wheat Acreage

The U. S. Senate recently passed and sent to the House a bill designed to cut the nation's huge and costly wheat surplus, in part, by reducing the planted acreage 20 percent.

The bill also included three more years of price supports at the present level plus additional payments on wheat from the nation's towering stockpile, in exchange for the permanent 20 percent cutback in planted acreage, to the growers.

At the present time the slated acreage is 55 million acres. The measure is designed to cut the planted acreage by 11 million acres, leaving 44 million acres in production.

hoped the Senate, by rejecting the original proposal to boost the price support level, had whipped the measure into shape the White House would accept.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), the Senate GOP leader, after talking with President Eisenhower at the White House, was believed that higher price supports would draw down a presidential veto.

The bill is the Senate's answer to Eisenhower's demands that Congress do something about the huge and mounting surplus, now estimated at 1,320,000,000 bushels of wheat. This is more than double a normal year's needs, with the rest of the 1960 bumper crop still to be harvested.

The President said that wheat storage alone costs the taxpayers more than a billion dollars a day.

Game Magazine Prints Poison Snake Article

"Watch Your Step," is the title of a comprehensive article in the June issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine, covering the four poisonous snakes found in Texas. The article deals with the habits and life of the high-sounding rattler; the water moccasin; the coral and the copperhead.

The article concerning the rattlers and moccasins was written by Dr. Clarence W. Gossam, director of the Welder Wildlife Foundation. William K. Davis of the S. W. wrote about the coral and copper Texas State Teachers College. wrote about the coral and copperhead snakes.

Both men have spent a lifetime in the study of snakes and the nature they play in the balance of earth. Each agrees a snake has its place, but each also warns you to "watch your step" when you are in proper habitat for them.

They discuss the habits of each and the potential danger. They tell where the snakes like to live and the things that provoke them to strike.

They describe the characteristics of the snakes, and tell what their poison capacity is. They feel that everyone should know something about snakes so they can (Continued on page 2)

Buddy System Is Again In Use By Local Recruiter

The local Air Force Recruiting representative, Sgt. Tom Mabry, announces that it has been a long time since the Air Force Recruiting Service could recruit for "Buddy" flights or groups. The restoration of the buddy system is mainly due to an accelerated quality recruiting program. The special "Buddy" flight program means that young men from this area can enlist with their friends and join an Air Force "Buddy" flight which assures them of traveling and training together with hometown friends at Lackland Air Force Base. Sgt. Mabry said that it was possible that friends may stay together during other technical training schools if they have the same qualifications, abilities and desires. This special plan will be available for a short time only.

Sgt. Mabry stated that the first phase of basic military training is a course of instruction that provides the fundamental skills of an airman in the United States Air Force in five weeks. The remainder of basic military training is received in conjunction with technical training at one of the following Technical Training Centers, Chanute AFB, Illinois; Keesler AFB, Mississippi; Lowry AFB, Colorado and three bases in Texas—Amarillo, Sheppard and Lackland. The Air Force recruiter stated that those interested in joining a "Buddy" flight should contact the Air Force recruiting office at Room 307, Post Office, Abilene, Texas or call collect Abilene, Orchard 2-8949 for full details. He emphasized that two or more may join the Air Force under the buddy plan.

USDA Revises Standards for Live Sheep and Lambs

Revised standards for grades of live slaughter lambs, yearlings and sheep will become effective June 19, the USDA announces. Changes made in the standards are similar in nature to those adopted for lamb, yearling mutton and mutton carcasses on March 1. USDA market news reports for live lambs and sheep have been on the basis of the revised standards since March 1. Closely related grades for slaughter animals and the resulting carcasses are essential to meaningful market reports. Both conformation and quality requirements for the prime and choice grades are reduced under the new standards. Minimum conformation requirements are lowered by about one-half grade in each of these grades. Quality requirements, as evaluated primarily by considering external fat in relation to the age of the animal, are reduced from about one-half grade to as much as a full grade, depending upon the grade and age of the animal. Copies of the standards may be obtained from the Livestock Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA, Washington 25, D. C.

CONSTIPATED?

Medical reports show how folks over 35 can establish regularity

After 35, irregularity often becomes a problem. What you need is something that aids nature and helps establish regularity. Such an aid to regularity is the daily use of SERUTAN. Here's medical evidence: A group of men and women took SERUTAN daily under medical supervision. In case after case SERUTAN, taken daily, helped establish regularity. So, for real relief from constipation after 35, try SERUTAN, powder or granular.
