

As I See Ranger

By GENE TOWNSEND

Deer hunting is still going on in a big way in the Ranger area. Monday morning after five full days of hunting the Ranger Food Center had issued 175 storage permits.

Terry Huffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Huffman, has put in his bid for the kill with the most points. Terry bagged a 14 pointer Friday afternoon. This is the largest head that we have had reported in this area to date.

Several hunters have filled their limit. James Townsend got his second eight pointer Saturday. Wilson Watson killed his second buck Friday afternoon.

The Willard Seymour family has a house full of deer. They can probably lay claim to the most deer killed by one family. Willard got a four and six pointer, Butch got two, one an eight pointer, and Kenny got a six pointer.

Several of the high school boys have made kills. James Henry and Bob Anderson were in a party that killed an eight point buck. No one would take credit for the kill, evidently they celebrated on the killing. Tommy Robinson got an eight pointer and also Dwight Skiles.

Other Ranger hunters reporting kills were Edwin Lammus, Sammy Elder, Robert Hazard of Breckenridge, Carroll Richardson and Butch Seatt at Ranger College. Jimmy Hagar got a six point buck, Bill Thomas, B. Funderburg, Meredith Sides all reported kills.

I've had several people ask what happened to the College football team in Lawton Saturday night.

If any excuses can be made, there is a long story behind the outcome of the game. Cameron, who was rated the number one team in the north, had their eye on the NJCAA championship game which is the game between the top junior college in the north and the top junior college team in the south (in this case Tyler).

But Tyler had an almost sure bid to the Junior College Rose Bowl game which is played in California. The Rose Bowl contract states that a team that plays in the Rose Bowl can't compete in any other post season game.

(Which would have been the case if they had played Cameron in the NJCAA game). Tyler appealed to the NJCAA to declare them (Tyler) and Cameron Co-Champions of the NJCAA and their appeal was upheld by the NJCAA.

Cameron, which felt that they had a better team than Tyler, was pretty upset that they didn't get a chance to play Tyler and prove that they had the best team, and proceeded to try and show Tyler up by defeating Ranger more than Tyler did. And boy, did they succeed.

In their own mind they were playing Tyler in the game Saturday night, and I doubt that Cameron would have played as hard against Tyler as they did against Ranger.

It's true, Ranger didn't play as good a brand of football as they are capable of playing, but it is demoralizing when you hit a team with your best punch and it doesn't do any damage.

Every Cameron player wanted to know after the game if the Ranger players thought they (Cameron) was better than Tyler.

State Farm Bureau Adopts Policies At Annual Meet

State policies to guide the Texas Farm Bureau's actions in the 57th Legislature next year were adopted by voting delegates to the organization's annual meeting Nov. 2-12 in Dallas.

Among the more important state-level issues on which policies were set by the convention are farm-to-market road construction, sales taxes, education and farm labor. Recommendations to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in December on national matters were also adopted by the 678 voting delegates.

Delegates recommended that no charge be made in the present system of allocating funds for farm-to-market road construction. The further stated that present funds now earmarked to build and maintain roads should not be eliminated or diverted.

In the controversial field of taxation, the delegates defeated a proposal for a state sales tax and favored, instead, more economy in government, plus enforced collection of personal property taxes. The TPB is already on record favoring a tax on natural resources.

As for education, the convention favored local control of public schools, especially regarding financing and curriculum. They urged that the youth be taught more about the "true history of our country, our Constitution, the Bill of Rights, and our free enterprise system."

Another major issue at the convention developed over a proposal for a constitutional amendment to permit a compulsory check-off, by force of government, to finance research and promotion programs or various commodities. The delegates turned it down flatly.

Several important resolutions on labor were approved. One recommends state legislation regulating transportation and housing of migrant agricultural labor. This is intended to pre-empt this field and prevent federal intervention.

Another resolution says that the TPB should begin an immediate investigation to determine farmers' rights and what protective measures can be taken against attempts to "force unionization" on farm workers.

In line with this, the convention went on record opposing licensing of crew leaders. The adopted resolution states: "An obvious aim of those who would license crew leaders is the forced and final unionization" of agricultural workers particularly "stoop labor."

The delegates said that "while we defend the right of farm workers to organize and bargain collectively, it must be recognized that extreme fluctuations in weather and in farm commodity prices make it impractical, if not impossible, to impose industrial standards or industrial union wage scales and working conditions upon agriculture."

In other matters, the delegates also: 1. Recommended that pink bollworm regulations, especially in regard to okra harvest for seed, be tightened.

2. Favored the theory of competitive rating in casualty insurance "because we believe in the free enterprise system."

3. Opposed the present merit rating (point) system for casualty insurance.

4. Favored continuation of research for the control and eradication of anthrax, vesicular exanthema, foot and mouth disease, brucellosis, wheat poisoning, cattle grub, blow fly, sand burr, and also scabies and scarpie in sheep.

5. Recommended that livestock entering state be subjected to strict enforcement of inspection regulations at the state boundary.

6. Recommended that mineral rights separated from the land be registered each year or terminated.

7. Reaffirmed previous policy on dis-annexation of farm land from city limits if utilities have not been provided within a five-year period.

8. Recommended the publishing of attorney-legislators in local newspapers.

Reflective Plates Reduce Rear-end Auto Collisions

Automobile license plates made of reflective material that gives brightly in the headlights of oncoming cars at night can effect significant reductions in rear-end collisions, the number one nighttime driving hazard, according to a report on the first national study of reflective plates conducted by the engineering experiment station of the University of Illinois.

Reflective plates on vehicles parked or stalled adjacent to unlighted highways enable an approaching motorist to detect and steer clear of the stopped vehicle in time to avoid rear-end collisions, the Illinois study indicates.

University engineers analyzed motor vehicle collision statistics compiled from 1955 to the present by the Department of Highways in Minnesota, one of the first states to adopt reflective plates, and concluded that a significant reduction in nighttime rear-end collisions could be attributed solely to the use of reflective materials on state license plates.

Reflective license plates, adopted by ten states, have secondary safety functions on the highway by increasing visibility of vehicles with faulty taillights and enabling motorists to determine the position of cars with only one headlight operating, the study reveals. They are also useful in aiding nighttime depth perception, the engineers say.

The primary value of reflective plates is to increase the visibility of cars left parked or stalled with lights out on unlighted streets or rural highways, areas in which nighttime rear-end collisions are common.

In Region Band Contest

Ranger Twirlers Win Nine Firsts

The Ranger High School marching band and twirlers, under the direction of Bill Auvenshine, was among the 3000 plus band students to compete in the annual Region Two Interscholastic League Marching Contest held in San Angelo Saturday.

The Ranger band received a 1-2 rating in the band performance and Ranger twirlers brought home nine first division medals, nine second place medals and one third place medal.

The event, held at the San Angelo Public School Stadium, featured ratings of bands and twirlers on an individual basis.

Entrants in the band division were judged on an inspection of accuracy of performance and on timing marches. Ratings varied from 1 as the highest to 5 as the lowest.

Twirlers were rated from 1 down to 3. The Ranger band received a first division rating in inspection and a 2 plus rating in marching and playing. Judges said that the Ranger Band was an exceptionally good second division band on marching but lacked just a fraction of a point being first division.

Of the twelve bands in the Class AA division four made 1-1 ratings. These were Hamlin, Winters, Haskell and Ballinger. Getting the same rating as Ranger were Cisco, Brady and Stamford.

In twirling five Ranger girls received top place medals. For first place solo performance Linda Warren, Donna Drennan, Sue Cantwell, Sandy Halbrooks and Sarah Johnson received medals. The four High School majorettes received a first place rating for an ensemble performance. They were: Miss Drennan, Miss Cantwell, Miss Halbrooks and Miss Johnson.

Second place solo medals went to Pat White, Becky Brown, Glenda Wilson, Sissy Halbrooks and Linda Hatton. This group also received a second place ensemble medal. Charlene Blackwell received a third place solo medal and was a member of the second place ensemble group.

Auvenshine announced that this contest ended the marching season, and that the band would now begin practice for the concert and festival season. He also announced that they would work some in preparation for a first division marching rating next season.

Ranger Blasted By High Scoring Cameron Aggies

A fired-up Cameron Aggie Team caught the Rangers at an unguarded hour Saturday night and sixty minutes later the dazed Rangers found themselves the victims of an unbelievable 69 to 0 rout.

The Cameron Aggies led by quarterback Byron Beavers, an Indian as elusive as Crazy Horse, piloted a host of Cameron Aggie backs on a sortie of scoring speed that kept the Rangers baffled throughout the entire game.

The Ranger defense, which played their usual hard hitting brand of ball couldn't keep the Aggie runners and pass receivers from breaking loose on reverses and pass patterns. The Rangers stopped the Aggies on seven drives, forcing them to punt on three occasions, recovering three punts and intercepting one pass.

The Rangers offense was completely chilled by the Aggies. The deepest penetration made by the Rangers was to the Aggie 29 yard line. They crossed the midfield stripe four other times in the game.

The Aggie scoring came on a ten yard run by Beavers, 15 yard run by halfback Terry Does, 49 yard run by fullback Tony Breckitt, seven yard pass from Beavers to end Mark Wallace, a 57 yard punt return by halfback Joe Harris, a 26 yard run by halfback Melvin Scott, a 31 yard run by Beavers, an 11 yard run by halfback Don Vickers, a 19 yard pass from Beavers to Bobby Lewis, and a 67 yard punt return by Harris.

The Ranger College Journalism Class presents as Personality of the Week Sandra Taylor, better known to students and faculty as Sandy.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Taylor of Eastland, Sandy is a 1959 honor graduate of Eastland High School. During her active high school career, she was a majorette, a member of the Maverick Band, the Tri-Hi-Y and P.H.A. and the Eastland High School trio; and she had roles in both her junior and senior class plays.
Sandy is also an outstanding student at Ranger College. A sophomore majoring in journalism, she wants to teach and plans to further her education at East Texas State College in Commerce. A conscientious student with a high scholastic record, she is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, national honorary scholarship society. In Ranger College she has put her high school majorette training to good use in the Rangeanna. Her first year as a Rangeanna she was a lieutenant; this year, in addition to serving as captain, she is choreographer for the group. She was assistant editor of the 1960 RANGER and is one of the co-editors of the 1961 RANGER. She is a cheerleader and a member of the Debs; and this is her second to serve as reporter of her class. Popular with her classmates, she was chosen freshman favorite last year, and she was a nominee for football sweetheart this year. Of medium height and build, this attractive blond, blue-eyed coed has added much spark and life to the Ranger College campus. Watching football games and dancing are two of Sandy's major hobbies. She also enjoys howling, reading, water skiing, listening to popular music, and participating in school activities.

Well liked by all Ranger College students, she is an all-around student both in the classroom and in the type of student that is an asset to the college. She is a well-groomed young lady with a warm, friendly smile, a quiet, courteous manner, and a winning personality. Though she has a very busy schedule, she always has time to make friends. One of outstanding qualities is her willingness to
