NORMAL LOCATERS ANNOUNCE PLANS

COMMITTEE OUTLINES COURSE IT WILL PURSUE IN SELECTING SCHOOL'S SITE.

MEET ON AUGUST NINTH

Some Contestants Will Learn Their Fates at Session to Be Held at Fort Worth.

The committee to locate the West Texas Normal has made the following statement of its plans:

To the Local Committees in Charge:—The committee to locate the West Texas Normal College will meet in Fort Worth on August 9, in the Worth hotel, at 10 a. m. At that time and place the committee will receive sealed bids, and briefs setting forth the claims of each town desiring the location of the college. Oral arguments will be heard in supplementation of the briefs and bids under some limitation as to time, which will be announced at the meeting. After hearing what the representatives of the towns wish to say the committee may proceed to eliminate such places as do not appear to be most desirable and thus reduce the number of applicants. From Fort Worth the committee will proceed to visit the few places that seem most desirable as locations and will complete its labors and make its report. The following paragraph from the law establishing the school will indicate the points that the committee will notice in considering the claims of competing places:

"In considering the claims of each place that may ask for said school, the committee shall consider the healthfulness, accessibility and the general intelligence and social conditions of its people. The committee shall also consider the bonus or donations offered, whether in houses, money, land or other valuable considerations, which the respective places bidding for the location of said normal college may offer, and shall take into account all facts and circumstances of each place that may bid, and shall locate said normal college where it will most efficiently serve the State; provided, that the committee shall not sacrifice the permanent advantage of any location to the donations offered by any other place."

The Governor will not serve on the committee in person, but will appoint some one in his place, as the law provides. He will be represented at the Fort Worth meeting by his appointee.

The committee from each place desiring the location of the normal should reduce its claims and propositions to concise terms, avoiding long and tedious presentations and imaginary advantages claimed for the respective towns. The committee to locate the Normal College will grant each applicant a reasonable amount of time in which to present the real advantages.

North Dakota State Fair.
Grand Forks, N. D., July 20.—What promises to be the most successful exhibition ever held under the auspices of the North Dakota State Fair association, was opened here today, to continue through the remainder of the week. Elaborate exhibits illustrating the resources and industries of the State fill every department of the big fair. Especially notable are the displays of farm products, live stock, machinery and dairy products. Many horses from the Dakotas, Minnesota and Canada are here to take part in the trotting and pacing meeting, which is to be one of the most notable features of the fair this year. Visitors are already pouring into the city from all directions and the fair management predicts a record-breaking attendance for the week.

STREET CAR SURVEYORS AT WORK DOWNTOWN

A force was at work on Indiana and Ohio avenues this morning measuring the street and sidewalks preparatory to the erection of the street car poles, which are to be installed on the entire route of the car line within a few more days. The poles have already been erected as far as Broad street and will be going up down town within a few more days.

TO ATTEND FARMERS' MEETING.

Wichita County Represented at the College Station Congress.
Messrs. McConkey, Downing and probably a number of others from Wichita county are planning to be present at the Farmers' Congress at College Station, July 27 to 30. It is hoped to send a substantial delegation from this part of the State and a rate of $7.40 has been made from here by the railroads.

NEW STORE BUILDING.

One-Story Structure to Be Built on Indiana Avenue.

Work is to be started shortly by R. M. Moore and Trevathan & Bland on a one-story building on Indiana avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets near the North Texas Furniture Company's building. The building will have a very ornamental front and will improve appearance in that part of the business section.

Central Illinois Golfers.

Decatur, Ill., July 20.—The annual tournament of the Central Illinois Golf Association began here today with players representing eight cities of this section of the State taking part. The tournament will last through the remainder of the week.

On Trial in the District Court.

The case of J. E. Walton, upon charges made by his stepdaughter, is on trial in the district court today and will probably go to the jury this afternoon.

THOUGHT ANT POISON LEMONADE—WILL LIVE

Howard, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Heath of 1306 Burnett avenue, is today recovering from an experience that came near ending his life. Mrs. Heath yesterday prepared a mixture to rid the premises of ants, the solution having the color and appearance of lemonade. Howard mistook it for lemonade and had swallowed quite a quantity of it before the mistake was discovered.

Medical attention was at once summoned and Dr. Duane Meredith removed the poison from the boy's stomach with a stomach pump before it had time to be absorbed by his system and get in its deadly effects. This prompt action probably saved the lad's life, as there is little doubt but that the poison would have proved fatal. He is resting easy today.

Horse Hurt on Court House Lawn.

The horse used for pulling the lawn mower in the court house yard backed into the machine this morning and was severely cut about the legs.

MEXICAN SITUATION ASSUMES UGLY ASPECT

El Paso, Tex., July 20.—The report has reached here of the arrival at Fuerta, Sinaloa, Mexico, of a large body of Mexican rurales to prevent any further revolutionary demonstration, following the arrest of some revolutionists there Friday. Many revolutionists have gathered in the mountains in that vicinity, dynamite has been stolen at a number of mines and the men are well armed. Arrests of the supporters of General Reyes for the vice presidency continue throughout Mexico, causing extreme discontent and Americans interested in Mexico are becoming uneasy.

NEW TEXAS POSTMASTERS.

CONVICTS ABUSED HODGES TESTIFIES

FORMER PENITENTIARY CHAPLAIN TALKS PLAINLY ABOUT PENAL CONDITIONS.

PUNISHMENT IS CRUEL

Committee Concludes Its Austin Sessions and Begins Probing at Huntsville.

Austin, Tex., July 20.—Conditions almost rivaling those found in Georgia penitentiaries are believed to exist in the penitentiaries of this State and the special committee has left for Huntsville after completing its labors here. Jake Hodge of Houston, former chaplain of the penitentiary, was on the stand and his testimony was of a rather startling nature. Among some of the incidents he recited, were the following:

Convict's back rubbed with wet sand and then whipped.

Convict forced to climb ant-infested tree, being severely stung.

Death of convict from consumption through maltreatment and neglect.

Col. Hodges also recited some incidents that tend to show petty grafting at the penitentiary, though he would not make any such charges. He testified that the convicts were well clothed and fed.

The result of the probing now being carried on at Huntsville is awaited with more than passing interest, as it is believed that some discoveries will be made.

Mayors of Texas Confer.

San Angelo, Tex., July 20.—Mayors and other officials of the leading cities of the State gathered here today for the ninth annual meeting of the Mayors' Association of Texas. Municipal problems of great variety will be wrestled with at the meeting, which will be in session three days. Water supply, the care of paupers, sewerage and garbage disposal, and the commission form of government for cities under 10,000 population are some of the questions that will be exhaustively discussed.

The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock this morning by Mayor F. C. Highsmith of Mineral Wells, president of the association. Mayor C. T. Paul of San Angelo delivered an address of welcome and Mayor W. D. Davis of Fort Worth responded for the visitors. The annual address of the president and the reports of the other officers occupied the remainder of the opening session.

Appeal in Murder Case Heard.

Salem, Ore., July 20.—The State supreme court met today to hear the appeal in the case of James Finch, who was convicted of murder in Portland. Finch, who was once a prominent lawyer of Portland, shot and killed another lawyer of that city because the latter had prosecuted disbarment proceedings against him. The victim was one of the most promising young lawyers of Portland and the crime aroused great popular indignation in that city.

Railroads Fight Taxation.

Guthrie, Ok., July 20.—In the federal district court here today, before Judges Campbell and Cotterill, sitting jointly, the hearing of arguments was begun on the application made by railroad companies doing business in Oklahoma for an injunction to prevent the collection of taxes for the last half of 1908. This action is against the officials of every county through which the roads operate and involves between $700,000 and $900,000 in State taxes.

Mothers Organize State Branch.

Crystal Springs, Miss., July 20.—A meeting held today at the Mississippi Chautauqua took the initial steps for the organization of a State branch of the National Congress of Mothers.

Mrs. Beesie L. Stapleton, State organizer, presided and several prominent women addressed the meeting.

Meet to Discuss School Problems.

Athens, Ga., July 20.—Superintendents, teachers and trustees of the district agricultural schools of Georgia met at the State College of Agriculture today and began a three days conference for the discussion of district school problems.

INTIMATIONS OF ANARCHY FOUND

BAKER LEAVES CHILDRESS FOR FORT WORTH 'TO ATTEND ANARCHIST MEETING.'

SOME ANXIETY CAUSED

Fact That He Didn't Wait for His Pay Casts Shadow of Truth on His Statement.

Texas News Service Special.
Childress, Tex., July 20.—What is practically the first intimation that there is any organized anarchy in this State came to light this morning when it was learned that Ernest Banholdz, a baker, had left for Fort Worth to attend, as he said, an anarchists' meeting there.

Banholdz is employed as a baker at the Hutt hotel here and left here hurriedly, saying he had seen writing commanding him to attend the meeting. When he left there was nineteen days' pay due him which he failed to collect. Another employe left Sunday, also without his pay.

Authorities here are puzzled as to what significance to attach to Banholdz's actions. While some are inclined to dark imaginings as a result of the incident, the majority do not think that a real anarchist would have taken such pains to disclose where he was going. Fort Worth authorities have been notified, however, so as to be on the safe side.

Scotland and Windthorst Picnic.

On July 21st and 22nd the new town of Scotland, the present terminus of the Henrietta and Southwestern railroad, will celebrate its first anniversary by giving a big picnic and preparation have been made to entertain the large crowd of visitors expected to attend. The people of Windthorst have joined in with the Scotland people to make this affair a most notable and enjoyable one.

Among the amusements to be on the ground will be the big Wyoming show; five baseball teams, rough riding and roping contests.

For this occasion the Fort Worth and Denver will sell round trip tickets to Henrietta and return for one and one-third fares. From Henrietta to Scotland the fare for the round trip will be only 60 cents.

GEN. CABELL ACTS.

Calls on Veterans to Honor Memory of Mrs. Hayes.

Dallas, Tex., July 20.—General W. L. Cabell, commanding the Trans-Mississippi department of the United Confederate Veterans, today issued an order calling on all divisions, brigades and camps in his department to take the necessary steps to honor the memory of Mrs. Margaret Howell Davis Hayes, who died at Colorado Springs on July 18th.

OFF TO PENITENTIARY.

Four Convicts Taken to Serve Terms at Rusk.

The State penitentiary agent left this afternoon for Rusk, where he will place four convicts in the penitentiary, two whites and two negroes, who have been sentenced to short terms since the district court has been in session. Dave Coffey was not of the number, he being in jail here pending the action on his motion for a new trial.

TO REMOVE RESTRICTIONS.

State Health Officer Favors Quarantine Abolition.

Texas News Service Special.
Austin, Tex., July 20.—According to State Health Officer Brumby, who returned today from Cuba, it is the intention of Texas at an early date to practically remove all quarantine restrictions against Cuba, Mexico and Central American ports.

Prominent Veteran Dead.

By Associated Press.
Memphis, Tenn., July 20.—Andrew G. Wynne, 70 years of age, a pioneer citizen of Memphis, died at Fort Meyer, Florida, today. He was a colonel in the Confederate army and was reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in this section. His estate is valued at a million and a half.

William Haywood, socialist lecturer and former labor leader, has been condemned by the Socialist party of Wallace, Idaho, for drunkenness, and will have to defend himself before the national heads of the socialist party.

ENTER PLEAS OF GUILTY.

Two Cases in District Court Quickly Settled.

In the district court yesterday afternoon Paul Bogan entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault to murder and his punishment was assessed at two years in the penitentiary. He was convicted and given five years a few weeks ago on the same charge, but the verdict was thought excessive and set aside. His offense was for shooting Joe Brannon.

Joe Brannon plead guilty to an assault to murder charge and was fined twenty-five dollars.

The court is nearing the end of the criminal assignment.

RYAN TEAM HERE TOMORROW.

Crack Oklahoma Team Plays Four Games With Locals.

The baseball team from Ryan, Oklahoma, is here tomorrow for a series of four games with Wichita Falls. These teams have met seven times this season, the visitors winning four out of the seven. The locals hope to have a majority by the time the coming series is ended.

ROACH DIES.

Man Shot By Dallas Policeman Has Succumbed.

Texas News Service Special.
Dallas, Tex., July 20.—E. G. Roach, who was shot yesterday in a fight with Patrolman Spencer, died this morning. Spencer has been removed to his home and is resting easily from his injuries.

POOR FIELDING GIVES VISITORS SECOND GAME

Armour; 6; Wichita Falls, 5.

Weird fielding gave the second game of the series to Fort Worth yesterday afternoon, nine errors by the home team contributing to the defeat. The game was in sharp contrast to Sunday's brilliant exhibition.

Schanafelt's pitching was up to the usual standard, he fanning eleven of his opponents and yielding but six hits. Two balks by him in the third inning caused two runs, but one of these was excusable and Wichita's defeat can hardly be charged to him. Numerous and costly errors by Smith and Webber contributed two bobbles to the total. One of the features of the game was the playing of Armour's deaf and dumb shortstop. He yielded six hits and fanned three.

Stegall umpired and in his anxiety not to favor his own team he proceeded to give Fort Worth the benefit of the doubt wherever possible. His only very bad decision, however, was at the home plate in the ninth, when he called Guthrie out and prevented Wichita's tying the score. The same teams play again today and Yates and Hamm will be the opposing pitchers. The score:

Armour's 012 000 111—6 6 4
Wichita Falls .. 041 000 000—5 6 9
Helt and Rogers; Schanafelt and Law.

COMPLETE TIE-UP IS THREATENED ON LINE

Texas News Service Special.
Laredo, Tex., July 20.—Decisive action relative to the sympathetic strike with the train dispatchers is expected on the part of the engineers on the National Lines of Mexico tonight. It is impossible to forecast their action, as they refuse to talk, but it is acknowledged that the solution of the strike depends upon them. If they go out the conductors will follow and the tie-up will be complete.

Colombian Congress Meets.

Bogota, July 20.—The Colombian congress assembled for its regular session today on the anniversary of the country's independence. The condition of political affairs throughout the republic is still regarded as critical, though the temporary truce agreed upon by the rival aspirants for the presidency is likely to prevent the threatened revolution for a time at least. Owing to the existing conditions the proceedings of congress naturally will be followed with the keenest attention.

May Buy Paving Bonds.

R. G. Sidel of Denver, representing the banking house of J. H. Causey & Company of Denver, is in the city today looking into the purchase of the city's street paving bonds.

NEW STRUCTURE SEEMS CERTAIN

EIGHTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS OF AMOUNT NECESSARY IS NOW IN SIGHT.

TO BE THING OF BEAUTY

Will Be Finest Office Building West of Fort Worth—Plans are Now Well Under Way.

With eighty-five thousand dollars of the amount needed already in sight, there is little doubt that the six-story office building now proposed will be erected as originally planned. For the present, no further action will be taken until Mr. Kemp returns from Wisconsin.

The total cost of the building is to be about one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars and of this amount about eighty-five thousand is already in sight and it is believed that the rest will be forthcoming locally without going outside of the city for subscribers. Work on the building cannot be started until the present occupant's lease expires, which will not be for several months.

When this building is completed, visitors to the city will be greeted by skyscrapers whichever way they come. Those coming in by the Fort Worth and Denver or the Valley route will find the new Wyatt hotel staring them in the face and those coming in by the Northwestern, Southern or Katy will find the new proposed building. Thus these two modern structures will serve the additional purpose of giving the city a progressive air that will be invaluable as an advertisement.

The present plans for the office building are for a six-story steel structure, seventy-five by one hundred feet in dimensions, the ground floor to fitted up for a store, the upper five stories for offices of various kinds.

THIS CITY ADVERTISED.

New York Commercial Edition Gives Wichita Falls Space.

The Times is in receipt of the Texas edition of the New York Commercial, which gives a great deal of space toward setting forth the beauties of this State. The Chamber of Commerce took a half-page advertisement for this city, illustrating it with a bird's eye view of the city and a picture of Lake Wichita. In addition there is a two-column article about Wichita Falls and the Wichita country. With the exception of Houston, this city is the best advertised of all the Texas cities taking space in the edition.

The edition is an excellently designed one and will do much to bring people to this State. Every part of the State is discussed in well written articles and many of the commercial clubs bought space so as to set forth their advantages more graphically. Several pages are devoted to a general write-up of the State at large and the history of this section is elaborated upon.

MINSTREL SHOW HERE.

Allen's Troupe Furnishes Amusement For a Large Crowd.

The tent of the Allen minstrel troupe was well filled for last night's performance and the show proved a very fair attraction for the large crowd. All the members are negroes and their work was fully up to the usual standards. The songs and jokes were mostly new ones and were usually given a local application that won applause. Practically the entire negro population was in attendance, in addition to several hundred whites.

LYNCHING OF NEGRO NARROWLY AVERTED

By Associated Press.
Paris, Tenn., July 20.—Albert Lawson, the negro who recently shot Sheriff Compton of Henry county, was captured today and lodged in the jail here. An angry mob gathered around the jail and later took Lawson out and placed a rope around his neck. At this point citizens succeeded in getting the mob to return the negro to jail. The mob is still in an ugly mood and the negro may yet be lynched.

MISPLACED CONFIDENCE.

The Victim Said Nothing, but Did a Heap of Thinking.

At a railway station the other day "a gentleman from the country" yielded to the pressing solicitation of a persistent newsboy and bought a penny weekly paper.

But here was a difficulty—a shilling, no change and the engine of the train giving unmistakable evidence of a speedy departure.

The bargain was about to be canceled when the boy volunteered to get the shilling changed into pence.

"But," said the gent, "perhaps you will not return with the 11 pence."

The boy's face wore an injured look.

"If you are afraid to trust me, sir," said he, and there was the least trace of emotion in his voice, "you can have the other eleven copies as security."

Something suspiciously like moisture came into the old man's eyes as he glanced into the bright, open countenance of the boy, and he felt heartily ashamed of himself as he mechanically held out his hand for the remaining eleven copies.

He watched the little fellow as he trotted down the platform till he sailed round a corner and was lost to sight.

Fifteen seconds later the engine gave a final shriek, and the train slowly glided out of the station.

The man glanced round at his fellow passengers and handed a copy of the paper to each one from his pile.

He said nothing, but he seemed to be thinking.—London Tit-Bits.

NATURE AS A CHEMIST.

Feats Which the Highest Exactitude of Science Cannot Rival.

The bursting leaves of springtime illustrate nature as a chemist who performs feats which the highest exactitude of science cannot hope to rival. In a leaf the living matter is his chemist, and the cell is his laboratory. By daylight the leaf chemist is absorbing the carbonic acid gas and is decomposing this gas into its component elements—carbon and oxygen. The carbon it is retaining as part of the plant's food to enter into combination with water, and the oxygen it sets free into the atmosphere. By night this process ceases, for light is an essential feature in the operation.

Out of the carbon and the water the leaf chemist will elaborate the sugars and starches which the plant world affords. As sugar the products will pass from the leaf to be stored up, as in the case of the potato, for example, so as to afford a storehouse of food whereon the plant may draw for its sustenance and for the development of its leaves and flowers when occasion comes. All the vegetable essences and acids, the scents and gums, the juices which yield india rubber, the flavoring of fruits and even the color of the flowers are similarly the products of a constructive chemistry which beats man's best efforts to imitate. Man follows nature, but at a distance.—Chicago Tribune.

Baked Tamals.

Boil until tender one small chicken or that amount of any tender meat. The meat from soup bones is fine used this way, and veal is as good as chicken. In fact, you can use to advantage any tender leftover meat. Strain off the broth, remove the bones and break into small pieces. Put into a frying pan two tablespoonfuls of lard or drippings and when hot add two tablespoonfuls of flour and let brown a little. Then add the meat, salted to taste, with one cupful of broth and two tablespoonfuls of chili powder. Stir and cook ten minutes. Set off to cool and add a small cupful of raisins (whole) and about the same of olives. Now make a stiff batter of three cupfuls of cornmeal and one of flour, salted, into which is rubbed three-quarters of a cupful of lard or drippings, moistened with one beaten egg and one cupful of broth. Line a deep pan with the butter and bake one hour.—Delinicator.

Calling Names.

The late Peieg W. Chandler, who was hard of hearing, was one of the most effective of war time speakers. Every occasion illustrated his eloquence and demonstrated the quickness of his repartee. At one meeting he was frequently interrupted by a blackguard at the rear of the hall, who kept shouting, "Why don't you go yourself?" For a time Mr. Chandler's deafness prevented him from catching the exact nature of the interruption, of which he had been for some time conscious. At last Mr. Chandler caught the words of the disturber. Then, in the mildest accents, which emphasized the force of the words, he said, "Young man, if my ears were as good as yours and as long as yours I shouldn't be here tonight!"—Argonaut.

MOUNTAIN OF BORAX.

A Deposit of Great Value in Heart of Death Valley.

With the exception of the Grand canyon there is probably no more famous locality in the West than Death valley, known as the "vale below the sea," and, although there are a number of Mount Blancos in the Great American desert, the Mount Blanco of Death valley is the greatest of its name.

It rises like an enormous white breast against the terra cotta ridges of Funeral range, close to Furnace Creek canyon, a great rent that cleaves the east rampart of Death valley. Around it is rolling waste of bald yellow hills, none of which is a mere knoll, and it towers a good 1,000 feet above them. The lowland of Death valley, sinking for several miles westward, is probably 2,500 feet lower.

No one ledge or series of ledges anywhere in the world contains the immense amount of borate quartz shown in the surface of this mountain of colemanite. It is a body of ore measuring 1,000 feet in width and 5,000 feet in length, pitching into the mountain range at a thirty-three degree angle. It is a borax quarry whose limitations cannot be even roughly conjectured, but it must exceed by thousands of tons any known borate deposit.—Detroit News.

VERSAILLES.

The Old Royal Palace is Now an Art Gallery and Museum.

Versailles is about twelve miles from Paris, but all the intervening country is built up, and it seems almost as if a distant part of the city.

Here was one of the great royal palaces much frequented by the kings and especially by Louis XIV. and all those who came after him. Its gardens and forests are beautiful, and the old palace is now kept as an art gallery and museum and filled with pictures and statues, much of the old furniture formerly used by the royal occupants remaining as when they used it. Some of the most dramatic events of the revolution occurred here. The entire property belongs to and is cared for by the government of France and is open to the public without fees.

Twenty-five miles north of Paris is Chantilly, the ancestral home of the Prince de Conde, the great Conde, which in olden times vied with the royal palaces in the grandeur of its entertainments and the distinguished character of its guests.

The last owner of the property, the Duc d'Aumale, willed this fine estate to France, so that its palace, with its magnificent art treasures, and the great forest are now for the enjoyment of all.—Paris Letter to Denver Post.

How the Burmese Made Fire.

One day a Burmese messenger brought me a note. While he was waiting for the reply I observed an object something like a boy's popgun suspended around his waist. On asking what it was he showed me that it was an implement for producing fire. It was a rude example of a scientific instrument employed by lecturers at home to illustrate the production of heat by suddenly compressed air. A piston fitted into the tube. The former was hollowed at the lower end and smeared with wax to receive a piece of cotton or tinder, which when pressed into it adhered. The tube was closed at one end. Placing the piston at the top of the tube, with a smart blow he struck it down and immediately withdrew it with the tinder on fire, the sudden compression of the air having ignited it. I was so much struck with the scientific ingenuity of this rude implement that I procured it from the Burman and sent it to the Asiatic society of Bengal, with a short description of its uses.—"Recollections of My Life," by Surgeon General Sir John Fayer.

Troubles Due to Legacy.

We have never known any good to come of a legacy. Henry got $500 in the mail one day, and his troubles began on the spot. He bought a horse. The horse kicked one of the children and ran away, breaking up an eighty dollar buggy. Henry sold the animal for half what he had paid for it and bought him an amber stemmed pipe and a gasoline route with the remains of his fortune. The first day out he bit the stem of his pipe in two, the falling sparks set the gasoline afire, and the wagon was entirely consumed. To comfort himself Henry got drunk, and that night he fell off the bridge into the creek, ruining his best suit of clothes. When the legacy got through with him he was $33 in the hole.—Newark News.

Evolution of the Modern Play.

With the decay of dialogue in importance less attention has been paid to delivering it so exquisitely as to give value to it for its own sake. And so by degrees we came to the modern play, in which everything is sacrificed to vraisemblance, soliloquies are tabooed, and people talk as they do in real life—naturally and entirely to the point.—Era.

Temperate.

Grimsby—So you want to marry my daughter, sir! What are your principles? Are you temperate? Fledgely—Temperate! Why, I am so strict that it gives me pain even to find my boots tight.—London Pick-Me-Up.

Chicken Momletic.
A country minister in the course of his dining out on the circuit came to a house where a roast chicken was served for dinner. He had previously encountered a series of rib corned beef dinners, and the chicken looked good to him.
"Well," he facetiously remarked, "here's where that chicken enters the ministry."
"Hope it does better there than in lay work," rejoined the small boy of the family.—Boston Record.

Domestic Scheme.
Mrs. H.—Why are you so very fond of oriental rugs?
Mrs. R.—I'll tell you a secret. The dirtier they get the more genuine they look. You've no idea how much sweeping that saves.—Cleveland Leader.

Don't waste any time looking back at your mistakes. There is more fun in looking up the mistakes of other people.—Chicago News.

It Depends.
Wigwag (trying to think of insomnia)—When you haven't been able to sleep for about a week what do you call it?
Youngpop—What is it, a boy or girl?—Philadelphia Record.

A Possible Reason.
"I can't understand why Brown should have failed."
"Nor can I. I always thought he was doing finely. He often came to me for advice."—Detroit Free Press.

What the eye sees not the heart runs not.—Hugo.

Logical Result.
On the notice board of a church near Manchester the other day the following announcements appeared together: A potato pie supper will be held on Saturday evening. Subject for Sunday evening, "A Night of Agony."—Manchester Guardian.

In Later Years.
"We" remarked the young married woman, "try to see how few quarrels we can have in a year."
"We," said the old married woman, "try to see how few cooks."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

She Does.
Suffragette—We believe that a woman should get a man's wages. Married Man—Well, judging from my own experience, she does.—Boston Transcript.

Reward of Industry.
Faithful Housewife—Mrs. Oandow, is it? I can't stop my sewing now. Tell her I'm not at home.
Ann—Please, mum, I've been telling so many you're not at home I wish you'd see some uv 'em.
"Why, Ann?"
"I don't like the way they act. They look at each other and snicker so."
"Mercy! Do they suspect I am at home?"
"No, mum; I wish they did. I heard one uv 'em say they wouldn't like your husband to know uv your goin's on."
"Goings on! What do they mean?"
"They think, mum, you're the worst gadabout in town!"—Exchange.

Sporting Editor.—Just what do you understand by the term "poetic license?"
Literary Editor.—Broadly speaking, it is that singular provision in the constitution of the universe under which poets are permitted to exist.—Chicago Tribune.

Proposals.
"Has he proposed yet?"
"Not in so many words."
"Think so serious. Proposals never go down in words. They consist of sighs, hums, heaves and gurgles."—Cleveland Leader.

The Poor Man's Gym.
"Would you mind telling me," asked Mrs. Bourdaiot, glancing admiringly at the athletic shoulders of the prospective boarder, "how do you keep in such splendid physical condition?"
"I go through a few gymnastic exercises every morning," confessed the young man, flushing.
"Well, I'm sorry, but we can't board you. I've had the bathroom monopolized that way before."—Kansas City Times.

His Criticism.
Mrs. Gollightly (to eminent musical critic)—What do you think of the new opera, Mr. Crochet? Eminent Musical Critic—Well, it wouldn't be bad if somebody would set it to music.—London Pick-Me-Up.

His Definition.
Teacher—Wilfred, a bee is something we get wax from. Now, tell me, what is a bee?
Wilfred—Our teacher is a bee because he's something we get whacks from.—London Telegraph.

One "Take this" is better than ten "God bless you's."—German Proverb.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity: Tonight and Wednesday, generally fair.

Baltimore is sending men through the south to extend her commerce. If they come to Wichita we will not only let them stop, but if they are real good may even allow them to take a ride on our car line.

Every week witnesses the starting of a new newspaper somewhere in Texas and most of them are making good from the start.

Wichita Falls doesn't crave the society of such folk as Cashier Ingram of New Orleans, who defanked with a hundred thousand, but it can show him the finest little city in the world to invest that money in.

Gastro is now outcastro, Abdul Hamid has gotten his along with President Reyes, and the Shah of Persia is next, but the worst autocrats of all, Joke Cannon and Boss Aldrich, are still on the job.

It rained last week, cheaper gas is in sight, a six-story office building is next and the car line is coming our way.

An automobile fire engine is all right but here's hoping it will never have to make a run over those paved streets to put out a fire in that six-story office building.

No, Clarice, that man with the long face and downtrodden look is not suffering from the hot weather. He is one of those fans who bet against the home team.

Tarrant county defeated the bond issue for good roads by an overwhelming majority last Saturday, but in Wichita the fight is just beginning.

The thought that the heat is killing the boll weevils goes a long way towards making it more tolerable.

Shades of Jefferson! The Bailey brand of democracy has now been named the 'old-fashioned kind.'

Four marriages here in one day and on a Sunday at that. Come to Wichita.

If Taft gets on the El Paso bridge the bridge will show it all right.

Patronize Pogue's Dry-Clean Laundry. It saves your buttons.

'Spend Wichita Falls money in Wichita Falls.' 'Money spent away from home helps to build another city instead of your own.' 'Why not help build your home city with home money?'

VIRGINIA AND D. C.

Republicans Expect to Carry Old Dominion Next.

Washington, D. C., July 20.—On the eve of the assembling of the Virginia Republican convention at Newport News there is manifested among the politicians here a lively interest in the situation in the Old Dominion.

Although Virginia has heretofore been a strong democratic state, republican leaders express confidence that conditions are decidedly in their favor, owing to dissensions in the democratic party.

State expenditures during Governor Swanson's administration have largely increased without any appreciable betterment of conditions. The republican party, therefore, pledges itself to insert a clause in its platform providing for a decrease in State expenditures.

Other planks the republicans will incorporate in their platform are abolition of poll taxes, local option and reform in the tax law.

A. P. Gillespie of Tazewell can have the gubernatorial nomination if he will accept it. Mr. Gillespie's strength lies in the fact that he is an able business man, who has eschewed partisan politics, and is therefore strong with the independent voters of the State.

It is understood that President Taft has personally urged Mr. Gillespie to become the republican standard-bearer in the approaching campaign, and on all sides it is admitted that he would be able to give the democratic candidate, whether the latter is St. George Tucker or Judge Mann, a hard fight for election.

Don't have your house burn from defective wiring. Ask anyone who is supposed to know about electrical work. We guarantee our fans, irons and anything electrical that comes from our complete stock is absolutely guaranteed.

In Memory of Leo XIII. Rome, July 20.—Many American tourists were among those who attended the solemn memorial mass in St. Peter's today on the sixth anniversary of the death of Pope Leo XIII.

Why throw away that good umbrella handle, when we can put a new top on it for you, making it just like new? B. T. Burgess, jeweler. 58-5tc

Georgia will probably be the first State to pass upon the resolution to amend the Constitution so as to provide for an income tax law.

Don't lose sight of the fact that the Wichita Hardware Co. carry the largest stock of electrical supplies and have the best electricians that can be employed. 58-1t

There is an impression in New York that Governor Hughes will be offered the first vacancy that occurs in the Supreme Court of the United States.

Tipton, a new town on the Wichita Falls and Northwestern, will be opened August 2nd, 3rd and 4th. 58-1tc

Measures to strengthen the existing prohibition laws will be passed by the extra session of the Alabama legislature, which is to meet July 27th.

For grape juice, canned meats, salmon, sardines, soups, chilli, baked beans and cereals, phone 261. 37-tf D. B. KING.

Encouraged by the present outlook, the prohibition party in Michigan is preparing for a whirlwind campaign in that State before the next election.

Not Stage Not Even

The following bit of humor is taken from "The Farringtons," an English romance. The speakers are Mrs. Bateson and Mrs. Hankey, worthy wives, but not altogether above feeling a certain pleasure in showing up the ways of husbands:

"They've no sense, men haven't," said Mrs. Hankey; "that's what's the matter with them."

"You never spoke a truer word, Mrs. Hankey," replied Mrs. Bateson. "The very best of them don't properly know the difference between their souls and their stomachs, and they fancy they are a-wrestling with their doubts when really it is their dinners that are wrestling with them."

"Now, take Bateson himself," continued Mrs. Bateson. "A kinder husband or better Christian never drew breath, yet so sure as he touches a bit of pork he begins to worry himself about the salvation of his soul till there's no living with him. And then he'll sit in the front-parlor and engage in prayer for hours at a time till I say to him:

"Bateson," says I, "I'd be ashamed to go troubling the Lord with a prayer when a pinch of carbonate of soda would set things straight again!"

Dyeing Real Flowers.

"Every once in a while some sort gets busy and puts some odd colored blossoms in his window as an extra attraction to the display," said a clubman. "I just noticed one down the street. It consisted of a bunch of impossibly green carnations. At first glance a good many people thought they were made of paper, but they got interested when they found out that they were 'natural.' Now, anybody who wants to have any of these freak flowers can get them by buying some kind of aniline ink, any color desired. Carnations are the easiest to color—white ones, of course. Put their stems in a glass filled with ink. Their stems are soft, and in a short while the larger veins in their petals are filled with the ink. Don't let them absorb too much color. They are prettier with just so much. Then remove them and put them in a vase of salt water. Little of the valley land themselves to this scheme also. In fact, any white, soft stemmed flower may be used."—Philadelphia Record.

Famous Golf Match.

A projected golf match between two well known amateurs and a leading member of the London stock exchange for a stake of £500 recalls the famous foursome in which the Duke of York, afterward James II, took a prominent part on the Leith links in the year 1652. It was really an international contest, in which the duke, with John Paterson, a golfing shoemaker of great repute, championed Scotland against two noblemen of England, a heavy wager depending on the issue. The duke and the cobbler had an easy victory, thanks largely to the man of the last, and John Paterson's share of the stakes was so substantial that he was able to build a goodly house in the Canongate, in a wall of which the duke caused a stone to be placed bearing the Patersons arms with the motto "Far and sure," a tribute to the cobbler's driving powers. Paterson's house, we understand, survives today. —Westminster Gazette.

Foiled.

Noislessly, but with all his might, the burglar tugged at the dressing table drawer. In vain. It refused to open. He tugged again.

"Give it another jerk," said a voice behind him. The burglar turned.

The owner of the house was sitting up in bed and looking at him with an expression of the deepest interest on his face.

"Jerk it again. There's a lot of valuable property in that drawer, but we haven't been able to open it since the damp weather began. If you can pull it out I'll give you a handsome royalty on everything that's—"

But the burglar had jumped out through the window, taking a part of the sash with him.—Exchange.

Tot For Tit.

They were sitting out in the conservatory. Sam sat on the sofa, and Sally sat on Sam, but it was all right, for he had just asked her to marry him. She had said, "I don't care if I do," and thus they were engaged.

"Sam, dear," she began, "am I the only girl?"

"Now, look here, Sally," he interrupted, "don't ask me if you're the only girl I ever loved. You know as well as I do—"

"Oh, that wasn't the question at all, Sam," she answered. "I was going to ask if I was the only girl who would have you."—London Answers.

Difficult Advice.

Mrs. Rayce was talking to another young woman at a tea.

"How decidedly better off a man would be," said the other young woman, "if he would only take his wife's advice!"

"Quite true, my dear," said Mrs. Rayce. "I've advised my George time and time again not to bet on horses that don't win, but he will do it."

Why He Quit.

"So you abandoned the simple style of spelling?"

"Yes," responded the former advocate of the fad. "I found it so difficult to make people understand that I knew better."—Philadelphia Ledger.

As Good as He Gave.

"Here is my seat, madam, but candor compels me to say that I think you are as well able to stand as I am."

"Politeness compels me to say 'Thank you, sir.'"—New York Journal.

An Olive Complexion

You have seen women whose complexions you envied, because it was so clear and clean.

Perhaps it was easy for those women to keep their complexion in perfect condition, but the chances are that they had to be very careful of it or lose it.

As a matter of fact, your complexion depends a great deal on what you eat and is one of the best complexion foods you can use.

Take it clear in teaspoonful doses twice or three times a day and use it liberally in salads and in frying your meats and other foods.

You can't use too much of it for your health's sake and if you get a dozen bottles at a time the cost will be greatly reduced.

Our Monarch Olive Oil is the purest Oil produced and is only 40c per 1/2-pint. Ask us for a quantity price.

NO VOTE, NO HUSBAND.

Spokane Girls Line Up With Suffragette Scheme.

Spokane, Wash., July 29.—'No vote, no husband' is the slogan of 250 girls of marriageable age who have just organized the College Equal Suffrage Club of Spokane, under the presidency of Mrs. Z. W. Comerford. Each has taken a solemn vow to convert her suitor to woman's rights before entering upon an engagement.

The plan to enlist Cupid into the ranks as an ally was originated by a half dozen timid members, who, after several conferences, persuaded Mrs. Comerford to launch the movement and recruit the membership to 500 before the beginning of September.

This does not mean that the methods introduced by Mr. Adam when he first met Miss Eve are to be barred here, but the valiant knight must break customs instead of lances and gain for his lady love the privilege to cast her ballot if he is to have the wealth of satisfaction in his game of wooing.

'While our members are not going to be quite as radical as the Chicago girls,' said Mrs. Comerford, 'there will be absolutely no encouragement to those who do not believe in the suffragists' cause. We expect to start a school of conversion. The girls will not be pledged to reject a suitor who is not a suffragist, but it is expected that every member will promise to use her best endeavors to win the man for us.'

It is pretty well understood among those who are in earnest in this campaign that the man who is open to conviction on the matter of equal suffrage will be the one who is to encounter the least difficulty in winning his suit. That, we believe, is one of the strong points in our campaign.

Political economy will be another feature. We intend to take up all the problems just as men do, and there will be debates and discussions at our regular meetings. It may be that these will eventually work themselves into public meetings and will be one of the factors in suffragists' work in Spokane and throughout the State of Washington.

'We have practically all the suffragists in Spokane lined up in the work, and it may be we shall extend the campaign throughout other parts of the country, and in this we believe we have the best plan of conversion that has yet been devised.'

'In this connection we shall make an attempt to enlist every unmarried girl in Spokane, believing that as Rev. Anna Shaw says, "in the young blood there is strength."

'If the young women get into this work, as we believe they will, they will be able to convert many more young men than would otherwise come to the support of the equal suffrage movement. They are willing to risk a few of their chances on the issues, and I know of many who are so sincere they will do so without hesitation.'

Miss Alice Brownell, a charter member of the club, said in the course of an interview:

'We believe that if the young men are ready to swear everything, even to their lives for us, there is no reason why they should hesitate to come out in the fight under our banner.'

'We have all heard of the lure of love and we are going to put it to a test—into practical use, if you please, and see how well it works.'

Miss Mary Jamieson declared that members of the club are 'just concealed enough to believe they can exert more influence over the men than their married sisters do.'

'If the men really think anything of us—that is, enough to make it interesting,' she added, 'why, they will grant our request without much argument.'

It is announced that the club will begin its campaign in a short time, and it is expected to have not less than 500 members before the close of the summer.

Rev. Dr. William J. Hindley, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational church and chaplain to the Spokane chamber of commerce, said he believes the time is near at hand when a man will be compelled to give the woman he marries not only equal rights, but also an assurance of future protection and care in the form of life insurance.

'If the girl suffragists stand pat on their declaration,' said William B. Malloy, 'they will be playing a winning game, but I do not believe all will see it in that light.'

Lewis R. Horton, one of the resigned bachelors, said he was under the impression that most of the men would take a change of venue and try another court of appeal, while his stenographer, Miss Mildred Vordell, gave out this statement:

'If they keep up that game there'll be a lonesome bunch of girls in a short time. I don't believe that marriage has degenerated into a political bargain yet. I'll bet there sn't one girl in the club that would cast a real lover aside even if he doesn't subscribe to the suffragists' cause.'

H. H. Moore, boys' secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Spokane, gave out a typewritten statement, as follows:

'I do not believe that a girl who will reject a man for a suffrage promise like the one exacted by the college club would make a very good wife for any man. I am not afraid of equal suffrage and have little or no sympathy for the cause. I do not believe I could be won on even a trick like that. Another thing is that I do not believe a promise of that kind would hold good after marriage, anyway. It would be easily broken.'

Charles H. Nuehlman, manager of an amusement enterprise, said he hopes that girls will not decide to form a union and declare a strike, adding that if the average girl is anything like he believes her to be she will not long hold to the conversion idea. It might be the men will do the converting.

Red Men Meet at Tacoma.

Tacoma, Wash., July 29.—The great council of the Improved Order of Red Men of the State of Washington met for its annual session in this city today with a good attendance of delegates and visitors from all over the State. After concluding the great council session here, the officers and many of the delegates will go to Seattle to take part in the Red Men's Day celebration, which is on the calendar of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition for Thursday of this week. It is expected that several thousand members of the order will attend the celebration.

'This is My 61st Birthday.'

Randolph Guggenheimer, one of the foremost corporation lawyers of America, was born in Lynchburg, Virginia, July 29, 1848, and received his education in the schools there and in the law school of the New York University. He located in New York in 1865 and four years later was admitted to the bar. From the first, he made a specialty of corporation practice and real estate law. In 1862 he entered into a law partnership with Isaac and Samuel Untermeyer. In 1893 the firm came into wide prominence by negotiating for the English syndicate that consolidated many of the largest breweries of the United States and brought over $100,000,000 foreign capital to the United States. In addition to his law practice Mr. Guggenheimer engaged actively in the real estate business and was the pioneer in the erection of large office buildings in New York. He served four years as president of the municipal council and ten years as a school commissioner of New York. As a school commissioner he was a leader in originating the evening high school system and the free lectures for working people.

Wisconsin Jewelers in Session.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 29.—Between 200 and 300 of the leading retail jewelers of the State gathered in this city today for the annual meeting of their State organization. The meeting will remain in session until Thursday and will be devoted to the discussion of numerous matters of interest and importance to the retail jewelry trade. The Milwaukee Jewelers' Club is entertaining the visitors.

A DEBT OF HONOR.

The Debtor, the Creditor and the Promissory Note.

The inconsiderate creditor pressed for immediate payment of his promissory note.

"But I have no money," said the debtor wearily.

"I saw you pay that man who just went out," retorted the creditor indignantly.

"That was a debt of honor," replied the other, with hauteur.

The creditor immediately tore up the promissory note which he held in his hand and threw it in the fire.

"So is mine a debt of honor," he remarked simply.

So far so good, and the matter is proceeding along the proper lines for such cases made and provided.

The debtor assured himself that the promise to pay had been really consumed.

"Pardon me," he then politely said, "but you tore up that note voluntarily and from mercenary motives. I cannot therefore recognize it as a debt of honor."

Which proves that a nice sense of honor is a good thing to have lying about handy.

The creditor smiled indulgently. "Oh, that was only a copy I tore up," he replied. He took another note from his pocket. "This is the original, you see," he remarked, with pardonable pride.

Which proves again that a careful man before burning his bridges assures himself that the ferry is still doing business at the same old stand.—Exchange.

A MEERSCHAUM PIPE.

It Requires Careful Smoking to Color It Properly.

Ordinarily a meerschaum pipe is boiled for coloring in a preparation of wax, which is absorbed and a thin coating of wax is held on the surface of the pipe and made to take a high polish. Under the wax is retained the oil of tobacco, which is absorbed by the pipe, and its hue grows darker in proportion to the tobacco used. A meerschaum pipe at first should be smoked very slowly, and before a second bowlful is lighted the pipe should cool off. This is to keep the wax as far up the bowl as possible, and rapid smoking will overheat, driving the wax off and leaving the pipe dry and raw.

A new pipe should never be smoked outdoors in extremely cold weather. Fill the pipe and smoke down about one-third, or to the height to which you wish color. Leave the remainder of the tobacco in the pipe and do not empty or disturb it for several weeks, or until the desired color is obtained. When smoking put fresh tobacco on the top and smoke to the same level. When once burned the pipe cannot be satisfactorily colored unless the burned portion is removed and the surface again treated by the process by which meerschaum is prepared. The coloring is produced by the action of the smoke upon the oils and wax which are superficially on the exterior of the pipe and are applied in the same process of manufacture.—London Answers.

One Use For Matches.

A clerk in the black goods department of a Broadway store put a box of safety matches in his pocket before leaving home.

"They'll come in handy for my customers," he said, "not to light cigars or cigarettes—my customers don't smoke in the store—but to test the goods they buy. No doubt their trick is antediluvian. Eve may have tested fig leaves just that way in the garden of Eden for all I know; but, no matter how old fashioned it makes a person seem, there are plenty of women who will not buy a piece of cloth without setting a lighted match to one of the threads to see whether it burns or not. If the thread burns, the cloth is part cotton, and the shopper won't have it. If it doesn't burn, it's all wool, and she buys."—New York Globe.

An Elephant Experience.

A friend of mine told me of a curious experience. He was carefully stalking a big bull elephant in a large herd, when they got his wind, and a big cow elephant charged him. He jumped behind a large tree as the elephant reached him, and, being unable to stop herself in time, the elephant drove her tusks with such force into the trunk of the tree that they snapped off close to her head. The elephant was stunned for a moment, but luckily turned and galloped after the fast retreating herd, leaving him the possessor of some eighty pounds of ivory valued at about $250.—Circle Magazine.

Taking It Too Literally.

"What do you mean, sir," roared an irate father to a rejected suitor for the hand of his daughter, "by bringing your portmanteau to my house and ordering a room?"

"I'm adopted as one of the family," answered the young man coolly. "Your daughter said she would be a sister to me."

SHOCKED THE HOSTESS.

A Practical Joke That Was Perpetrated by Eugene Field.

There are many stories incident to the career of the late Eugene Field, who not only wrote songs for the children, but who was at times fond of practical jokes, which illustrate his inimitable humor.

On one occasion he played an unexpected part at a dinner given in honor of himself and his wife which, while it had its serious side, was made all the more enjoyable by the grave deportment of Mr. Field.

The dinner was given by a leading Chicago family. When all were seated Mr. Field repaired to the pantry, only to return in a few moments with a dozen or more costly gold embroidered wineglasses, the property of the hostess, which, to her silent astonishment, he proceeded to hand over to each guest one by one, a souvenir of the occasion.

Great was the merriment when it was realized that the hostess had not contemplated parting with her cherished glasses. But Mr. Field was not yet content. Returning them to the pantry by previous arrangement with the butler, he took up a tray of old bottles and other broken glassware and, pretending to stumble, dropped it on the floor, apparently shattering the valuable wineglasses.

The feelings of the hostess may be imagined, for it was some time before the real situation was understood.

PONT DU GARD.

An Ancient Concrete Bridge in the South of France.

In the south of France is a concrete arch bridge known as the Pont du Gard, which was erected in the year 56 B. C. The concrete in this was not composed of crushed stone or other small aggregate of the variety now employed in concrete bridge work, but was of the old style, consisting of alternate layers of large and small stones, gravel, etc., and of cementitious materials. Vitruvius describes the materials and methods in use before the Christian era, and other writers like Alberti in 1845 and Polidoro in 1570 accurately describe the method which "the ancients" (as they call them) employed "of using boards laid on edge and filling the space between with cement and all sorts of small and large stones mingled together."

It is very improbable that the Pont du Gard would have withstood the rigors of climate of the northern United States, but its actual state of preservation, as well as that of many other specimens of ancient concrete work, proves that if modern work is honestly executed it will many times outlast any reasonable bond period, so that a very small yearly sinking fund per cent is all that is required for properly designed and erected concrete work.—Cement Age.

Concerning Two Sounds.

When Joseph Henry Lumpkin was chief justice of Georgia a case was brought up from Columbus in which a wealthy citizen asked for an injunction to prevent the construction of a planing mill across the street very near his palatial residence. His grounds for complaint consisted chiefly in the proposition that the noise of the mill would wake him too early in the morning.

"Let the mill be built," said the chief justice in rendering his decision. "Let its wheels be put in motion. The progress of machinery must not be stopped to suit the whims or the fears of any man. Complainant's fears are imaginary. The sound of the machinery will not be a nuisance. On the contrary, it will prove a lullaby. Indeed, I know of but two sounds in all nature that a man cannot become reconciled to, and they are the braying of an ass and the tongue of a scolding woman."—Atlanta Constitution.

Poiltlood With Mud.

A noted explorer recently returned from central Africa tells of a unique method employed by his companions and himself to alleviate the dreadful agony of prolonged thirst. In parts of the dark continent there are great stretches of country where no water fit to drink is to be found, although there are here and there pools of thick, stagnant mud. In such country the party wandered for five days without water and might have perished but for an idea that occurred to their leader. Following his advice and example, they collected the stagnant mud wherever it was to be found and made it into long poiltloods, which they fastened round their bodies next the skin. This simple process they found to give great relief.—London Answers.

Insurance From Italy.

Insurance came from medieval Italy. It is believed to date from the sixteenth century, and at that time it was known in Florence. The Romans did not know insurance. The nearest they came to it was the practice of a company supplying the army to require a guarantee from the state against the loss of ships. But this was soon abandoned, because damages had been collected for sunken ships too worthless to float.

BIG BENEFIT

For Engineers' Auxiliary LADIES of B. of L. E.

Tuesday, Wednesday & Thursday

July 20, 21 THE MAJESTIC

and 22 at...

There has been a special program arranged for these three days, in life motion pictures; also our vaudeville will be the best and most refined on the great Swor & Frankel Circuit.

We wish to call especial attention of our patrons that we have arranged for these evenings a series of views from the ruins of the dreadful Zephyr cyclone. These are not drawn from imagination, but are actual photographs. These pictures are being shown throughout the large cities and are creating a great deal of favorable comment. Come one, come all, and assist in this cause. Don't say "No" to the young ladies when they come to sell you tickets, for they are working for a prize which will be given to the one selling the most tickets.

Every effort will be made to keep our patrons cool and comfortable. The Majestic is practically an air dome, and with a number of electric fans we assure you comfort. As many shows will be run as needed to accommodate the crowds.

Each show will consist of 2000 feet of the best pictures, two beautiful illustrated songs by Mr. Moore of Fort Worth, and thirty minutes of refined vaudeville. Get the habit and go with the crowd. Admission—Adults, 15c; children, 10c.

Yours to Please
The Majestic.

Wake Up! You're Losing Money

Every day that you put off building sheds for that idle machinery and leave it standing around in the field to rust and rot in the rain and sun, you're losing money. Good, hard plunks, that's what you're losing. And when it costs so little for lumber to build good sheds, and when you can build them yourself, you simply can't afford to leave a single machine or tool unprotected from the elements. What's the use of putting it off? You know you've got to have 'em. So make up your mind and come in and see us about it the next time you're in town. After the job is done you'll be glad you did it. You'll save something by getting busy right quick.

A MERCHANT THAT INTERESTS A BUYER BUT

What It Costs You

Some goods would be high at any cost, others at one half the cost and then there are some goods which have no value at all. When we clip off 25 per cent from our price it means a greater reduction than 50 or 75 per cent of some dealers' prices.

All of our goods are new and up-to-date, which we bought at lowest possible price. Remember, during this sale, we are selling Clothing, Hats, Underwear & Shirts (except Manhattans) at 25 per cent discount which means Better Goods For Less

HE BROKE A SPRING.

And the Owner of the Wagon Was Grateful For the Truth.

In a small southern Indiana town is a liveryman who has ideas of his own about conducting his business.

Not long ago an Indianapolis drummer, known for his ability to get over ground in a hurry, had one of old Henry's rigs with which he drove to a neighboring town. Part of the way was over a corduroy road. The drummer's business detained him longer than he expected, and when he finally got back in the buggy for the return trip he found that he would have to drive some to catch a train.

He made the livery outfit scamper along the road at a lively pace. Finally, when he struck the corduroy road, he felt something snap and knew that he had broken a spring on the buggy. He saw visions of having to make the damage good to old Henry. When he reached the barn he jumped out and said:

"Henry, I broke a spring. How much do I owe you?"

"How did you break it, Gus?" asked the liveryman.

"Driving like the dickens over a rough road," the drummer answered frankly.

"Then you don't owe me anything."

"Why, how's that?"

"Well, that's the first time I ever had a spring broke that way. It's a new way o' breakin' them. All I ever had broke before was broke drivin' easy over a smooth road."—Indianapolis News.

A STOP WATCH.

Lots of Ways in Which It Can Be Made to Amuse Its Owner.

"Having a stop watch," says the man who has just bought one, "reveals a whole lot of ways of amusing yourself that you'd hardly think of before."

"Since I've had a watch I've been able to while away a lot of time—not a pun, either. For instance, walking in the park where the numbered blocks make calculating easy, I am continually holding the watch on my pedestrian efforts.

"I figure first how long it takes me to walk a block. Going at top speed so that some folks think I'm mad, I have been able to do eighty-eight yards in twenty-nine and two-fifth seconds, or about seven miles an hour.

"Then, of course, I time all intermediate distances up to a mile. I've learned pretty well just what four miles an hour means, and I want to tell you that folks who speak so glibly about doing that ought to hold a watch on their performances to see what it means.

"The other day I got up a few sprint races between some boys just so I could time their running. I find there's a lot of fun, too, in making imaginary bets with myself how long it will take me to catch up with some one else walking in the same direction or how long it will be before a car gets to a certain crossing.

"Also a stop watch is a great thing for timing how long you can hold your breath."—New York Sun.

The Game of Cricket.

Cricket dates from the reign of Queen Elizabeth and had its origin in rounders and stool ball. Lord Chesterfield was the first man of weight to take it up seriously and Eton the first public school. In those days scores were notched upon tally sticks, the ball had heavy cross seams, the bats were curved, and the fielders stood almost in Indian file. The early laws of the game had their inception at the Star and Garter Inn, Pall Mall, and one of the few of these original laws which obtain today is that of the tossup. The wickets were twenty-two inches high and the ball six inches in length. The first county match was when Kent played England in 1711, and on this occasion vast sums of money changed hands.

Wide Doorways.

In the making over of an old house, as also in building a new one, it is always a good plan to have the doorways in the rooms on the first floor made unusually wide, almost as large as the rooms themselves, for in this way a greater sense of space and airiness is given even when the house is not large. Portieres may be hung in these roomy doorways to keep away drafts and to give a certain privacy, but in warm summer days and also when entertaining a large number of persons the portieres may be drawn back and almost the entire ground floor thus transformed into one large room.—Baltimore American.

Jealousy.

"My dear," said the wife of the eminent professor, "the hens have scratched up all that eggplant seed you sowed."

"Ah, jealousy!" mused the professor. And he sat down and wrote a twenty page article on the "Development of Envy in the Minds of the Lower Grade of Bipedes."

That Treating Habit.

"What's the matter? Did the barber try to scalp you?"

"It wasn't the barber's fault. I treated a friend to a hair cut, and he insisted that I have another with him. I couldn't refuse."—Kansas City Journal.

So He Keeps His Seat.

"Would you give up your seat to an elderly woman?"

"And have her know that I regarded her as elderly? Not much! I like to be gallant, but caution is my strong point."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Wisdom is neither gold, nor silver, nor fame, nor wealth, nor health, nor strength, nor beauty.—Plutarch.

A QUEER PARROT.

The Old Lady Had Reason For Surprise When the Bird Spoke.

A young ventriloquist, being out of an engagement, decided to pay his widowed mother a visit for a few weeks. On arriving he found she was not at home. A few days after his arrival she appeared, bringing with her a parrot and cage which had been given her by a relative. The bird not being able to talk, mother and son spent many tedious hours trying to instruct the parrot. After several futile efforts they gave the job up in despair.

Then a happy idea occurred to the son. Bringing his ventriloquial powers into requisition, gently at first, he made it appear to his mother that the bird had really begun to talk. The mother not knowing the nature of his avocation, he was successful in deceiving her. He had an engagement to fulfill which necessitated his departure.

Coming back after the termination of his contract, he was heartily received by his mother and made very welcome. Soon after his arrival home he commenced and carried on a conversation, as before, with the parrot. Noticing the look of consternation on the countenance of his mother, he inquired what was the matter. Imagine his surprise when she replied:

"Why, the parrot died while you were away, and I had it stuffed and put back in the cage."—Pearson's Weekly.

FLY FISHING FOR TROUT.

Why an Angler Considers It the "Best of All Sports."

I am inclined to believe that fly fishing has its chief and most easily defined excuse in the existence of a certain fish—Salvelinus fontinalis, the speckled trout. Here, indeed, is something tangible, a thing which may be taken in the hand—first catch your fish—and looked upon. No one seeing a freshly caught brook trout would say that it was other than a thing of beauty. Its delicate, varicolored resplendency is not equaled by any living thing.

The tarpon, the "silver king" of southern waters; the Atlantic and Pacific salmon, the ouananiche, or land-locked salmon, and the grayling comprise practically all the other fishes, excepting the various forms of brook trout, which may be said to possess both beauty of form and coloration. It cannot be denied that these fish are justifiably praised, but it is generally conceded that the red spotted brook trout has nothing to fear from their competition. Of the western rainbows, cutthroats and steel heads the rainbow is the eastern brook trout's nearest competitor, and that is praise enough for the rainbow.

So here is one good reason at least why fly fishing for trout is considered by many the best of all sports.—Samuel G. Camp in Recreation.

Pathos and Humor.

The study of the art of putting things in to be recommended to every one who meditates a plunge into print. Even the writing of a death notice involves a certain amount of genius if the author wishes to keep clear and well defined the fragile line which lies between the serious and the funny.

That this is true is shown by certain quotations from a Leipzig paper given in Bishop John F. Hurst's "Life and Literature in the Fatherland." Here are a few sentences extracted from these obituary notices:

"Today death tore away from us for the third time our only child."

"Last night at 5:30 the Lord took to himself during a visit to the grandparents our little daughter Antoine of teething."

The last speaks better than it knew. "Here died Marie Wiegand, who was mother and seamstress of children two."

It Told the Truth.

A countryman on a visit to Glasgow while walking along Argyle street reading the signboards and the tickets in the shop windows said to his companion: "Hoo can a' these han shops be the best and cheapest? Every yin o' them says that, and the same wi' the clothes shops tae. They are jist a lot o' learsers."

They continued along the street until, coming opposite a plumber's shop with a big bill in the window with the words "Cast Iron Sinks" printed in large letters on it, he exclaimed: "Well, Jock, here's yin that tells the truth at ony rate. But a'ny dang'd fool kens that cast iron wad sink."

Lightning Change.

The three-year-old boy on the side seat in the street car turned suddenly to look out of the window, thereby wiping his muddy shoes on the light colored trousers of the middle aged man sitting next to him.

"Madam," exploded the man, "is this your nasty little?"

Here the boy's pretty mother turned her head and looked at him.

"angel boy?" he finished with a gasp.—Chicago Tribune.

Where the Shoe Pinched.

Young Girl (glancing at her pedicled extremities)—Oh, dear! My feet are so awfully big! Practical Auntie—But you stand on them all right, don't you? Young Girl—Oh, yes, but so do other folks too.—New York Tribune.

Needless Trouble.

"Did you wash the fish?" a Springfield woman asked her new servant. "Shure, an' 'twas th' use of washin' anything that's always lived in th' water?" asked the girl.—Kansas City Star.

The more talents the more they will be developed.—Chinese Proverb.

Destroyer Launched at Bath. Bath, Me., July 20.—The torpedo boat destroyer Flusser, the first of a fleet of five destroyers being built here, was launched this afternoon in the presence of a large crowd of spectators. The christening ceremony was performed by Miss Genevieve S. Verden of Louisville, Ky., grand niece of the late Lieutenant Commander C. W. Flusser, U. S. N., for whom the boat was named.

One of the latest political rumors in New York City is to the effect that the leaders of the republican organization and the Committee of One Hundred have practically decided to ask Otto T. Bannard to run for mayor. Mr. Bannard is president of the New York Trust Company, and has been treasurer of the republican county committee and a leader in organization affairs for many years. His name has been mentioned frequently in the last few weeks as a possibility for the mayoralty, but there has been some doubt that he could be persuaded to accept the nomination.

Quick, Cheap and Easy Gas Cooking You can't appreciate the saving in time, temper, and money effected by a FAVORITE GAS STOVE until you have used one. It is as great an improvement on a coal stove as the latter is on the old fashioned fire place. At the touch of a match it gives an intense heat just when you want it. Instantly controllable. No smoke, no smell, no coal to bring up, no ashes to carry out, no uneven temperature, no fallen cakes or pies, no delayed meal. Not necessary to change your nice dress; everything clean and tidy. We sometimes take in your old stove as part payment. CALL AND SEE US Wilson Hardware Company Cor. 8th St. and Ohio Ave. "HARDWARE OF QUALITY" Wichita Falls, Texas
