Are You Worth It?

In a recent magazine the following anecdote is told of a farmer and his successful son, Steve, who had come home for a visit. One warm midsummer day Steve found himself seated under the old Baldwin apple tree, with the half hull of a red-hearted watermelon in his lap. Old Mr. Bbusy with the other half, paused now and then to ask Steve about his new job. Presently he wanted to know what they called his boy on the roadconductor, brakeman, or what?

"They call me the general freight agent, father," said Steve. "That's a mighty big name Steve."

Yes father: it's rather a big too, for me.''

"But ye don't do it all Steve. Ye must have hands to help ye load and unload?''

'Oh, yes, I have a lot of help.' "And the company pays 'em all?"

"Yes."

'How much do they pay you Steve two dollars a day?' Steve almost strangled on a piece of

"More than that father."

'Ye don't mean to say that they pay re as much as f-v-e?"

PURVEYORS TO ROYALTY.

Their Signs Constitute One of the Sights of London.

The American in London, on his first visit to that marvelous city, is struck by the number of signs over shops with the royal arms painted thereon and announcing that the trudesman is a purveyor to their majesties. Yet, when the matter is sifted, the number is not so large.

Officially, according to the London News, there are about 200 tradesmen in London who hold the royal warrant and are entitled to use the royal arms as a shop sign, with the accompanying words, "By royal appointment." The royal warrant has to be received, signed and sealed in due form; other-wise, if a tradesman styles himself a purveyor to a member of the royal family without this formal permission he is guilty of an offense which is punishable by a fine not exceeding £20. Moreover, he is liable to a similar fine if he uses arms so nearly reembling the royal arms as to lead people to believe that he is carrying on its business under the authority of cyclty. Several instances have occured of the enforcement of these penal-

Why do I ask about the pipe? Well, ot that I have the least interest in their habits or that I have any prejuone way or another in the mat-The reason is that I want to know whether the formation of their lower jaws is natural or acquired.

"A man with a firm lower jaw is al ways a man of parts and of will. 1 say 'always'—anyway, most always. If does not smoke a pipe his square law, back near where it hinges on to the upper one, is natural. If he is s pipe smoker the looks are deceiving, and I have to judge-his caliber some

"Pipe smokers always have strong muscles back on the face about the place a man stops when he makes the first stroke downward in shaving. These are the muscles that hold the aws together. They often give a square jawed effect to a man who hasn't any square jaw characteristics. My men think I ask funny questions, but there's a reason."-New York Times.

British and German Physique. Ten millions of our people inhabit dwellings inferior to the kennels provided for the bounds in a well managed bunt. The results of living in dwellings unfit for human habitation and the prevalence of a dietary scale from which English meat, bread and milk are excluded are fatal to successful rivalry with a virile and healthy race where agriculture is fostered for strategical reasons.

Having spent hours in watching the arrival of the early morning trains in Berlip and Hamburg, I am appalled with the contrast between the vigorous and well set up, broad chested and healthy looking clerks, brawny shopmen and stalwart laborers on the other side of the North sea and the champagne shouldered, cow hocked, pigeon chested, lack luster trainfuls of men of the same classes landed at Liverpool street, Victoria and Charing Cross. -Arnold White in London World.

He Studied It.

H. Rider Haggard in "A Winter Pilgrimage" tells this anecdote:

"When I was a 'soaring human boy' my father took me up the Rhine by boat with the hope and expectation that my mind would be improved by contemplating its lovely and historic banks. Wearying of this feast very soon, I slipped down to the cabin to enjoy one more congenial, that of 'Robinson Crusoe.' But some family traitor betrayed me, and, protesting even with tears that I hated views, I was dragged to the deck again. 'I have paid 6 thalers,' shouted my justly indignant parent as he hauled me up the steamer stairs, for you to study the Rhine scenery, and, whether you like it or not, young man, study it you

THE MILITARY SQUARE

Formation Borrowed by Wallace From the Fleming

The greatest of all Scottish anniversaries is that of Bannockburn, fought in the year 1314. Apart from its bearing on the independence of Scotland, the battle will always have an exceptional interest from the military point of view, as Bannockburn may be said to have been the birthplace of the British square. "Proud Edward's" army mainly consisted of cavalry, while that of the Scots, on the other hand, was almost exclusively composed of foot folk armed with the spear. and these Bruce threw into "schiltroms," or oblong squares, a formation borrowed by Wallace from the Flemings, who had employed it with success at Courtray to resist the charge of the Euglish cavalry.

Hitherto the mounted mail clad knight had carried everything before blm, but Courtray and Bannockburn proved that he was powerless to break resolute spear armed infantry drawn up in "schiltrom." or hedgehog, formstion, and these two battles revolutionized the tactics of the continent and of our own island. Profiting by the lesson which had been taught them at Bannockburn, the English applied the tactics of the Scots with brilliant success at Crecy and still more at Agincourt. As it was the Scots who may be said to have originated the British square at Bannockburn, so it was they again who at Balaklava were the first to discard it with their "thin red line." and now, owing to our changed conditions of warfare, it is discarded altogether.-London Chron-

MOHAMMEDANS OF INDIA.

Superstition Seems to Govern Most of Their Actions.

Mohammedans of India are very superstitious. No Mohammedan will take a bath on Sunday or Tuesday. But if one bathes on Wednesday all misfortunes and misery that are in store for him till the next Wednesday will be averted. As a rule, all Mohammedans bathe on Fridays before going to perform the jumma prayers. For donning new clothes Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday are regarded as bad days. If any one dons a new dress or puts on a new cloth or allows his tallor to cut a piece of cloth on these days, be will live a miserable life till that dress or cloth gets torn or is thrown away. If a shirt is torn and if the wearer wants to stitch it. it must be taken off, for if it is stitched while on the body the person will soon die. A Mohammedan will never allow a barber to come near him on Tuesdays, for Tuesdays and Saturdays and Sundays are bad days for shaving. If absolutely necessary be will get himself shaved on Saturday or Sunday, but never on Tuesday, as his star is supposed to fall in blood if he does so. If one receives money or some valuable thing, it is taken with the right hand, for if it is taken with the left the person recelving it is said to forget all about it very soon or to mislay it. A devout Mohammedan will not start on a journey on Wednesdaay, for it is believed be will never return bome safees so. And it is said that even a snake never ventures out of its hole on this day.

A Snake Story.
The family were at dinner when there came a tap at a door seldom opened. Winning no attention, it was repeated and again a third time. though more softly, and then the door was swung back and, behold, there was a snake, knocking at the portals of hospitality! Down upon its head, in conformity with the decree of tradition and with Ezra's understanding of scriptural direction, crunched a British boot. It was a mother snake, who, having bravely overcome ber fear of man, was seeking sustenance, not for berself perhaps, though she was starving, but more likely for the little ones that were found in the grass by the brook. Thus for once, at any rate, did the craftiness of the devil succumb to the instinct of motherhood.-George B. M. Harvey in North American Re-

The "Macaroni."

The "macaroni" were exquisites or fops who in England and France led the fashions from 1780 to 1785 and were distinguished by an immense knot of artificial bair worn on the top of their heads. A small cocked hat which perched ridiculously on their topknot, satin or brocade coats and small clothes fitting tightly to the body and silk stockings with ribbon garters composed the costume of these fashionable gentlemen, who invariably carried a long walking stick with tassels attached and frequently a bouquet tied to the handle and encouraged a mincing and affected gait and manner. There was during the war for inde-pendence a body of Maryland soldiers who on account of their showy uniforms were called "macaroni."

CONCERNING THE MUCKRAKER

An expose of Denver politics by 'de kids' ' judge, Ben Lindsey, is the latest in what Citizen Roosevelt was unwitty enough to call muck-raking. It is a rather startling and deeply interesting story of the Denver machine. The Denver Post will shortly begin an expose of Lindsey, so that Denver, at least, is somewhat interested.

Since exposures have become fashionable in the magazines, the plan of exposing the exposers has been tried. Before long we may have someone exposing the exposers who expose the exposers. are uncovered and found to be rotten, the plain citizen may become angry enough to say ''dam'' as he reads; the business men complain that it hurts trade; the men who are hit publish denials and counter-charges. And that is all until the next article. Rarely, very rarely, a grafter is sent to jail. He goes, serves his time in luxury, gets out and grafts some more,

The principle of this so-called 'muck-raking' is right. Unquestionably, the people have a right to know what their representatives are doing with their money. The principle is right, but if the application has ever been right, history does not record it. bono-meaning what's the

No Old Maide.

"We'd have no old maids if we took lesson from the ancient Babylonians," a spinster said. "In Babylon unmarried women were graded by the state according to their looks. For a beautiful young wife the state demanded a large number of gold pieces, a less desirable wife cost a smaller number of gold pieces, and this money was all paid out again as rewards to those who married elderly, unattractive girls. Thus it cost a fortune to marry beauty, but if you married ugliness a fortune came to you; hence all was happiness in Babylon, and old maids were unknown.

It was on that fatal day, Sept. 1, 1870, that General de Galillet distinguished bimself by commanding the cavalry charges intended to clear the elevation at Illy, with the view o opening a passage toward l'loing, where it was hoped the army might retreat. The first charge overthrew the Eighty-third regiment of the Prussians and penetrated among the German troops, but the latter formed again rapidly after the retirement of the French cavalry.

General Ducrot then asked if they could renew the charge with what remained of the light cavalry and hussars, and then Gallifet answered in the words that have become historic, "As often as you wish, general, as long as a man remains!" The second charge was not so successful as the first. Only a few men. with their general at their head, succeeded in pene trating the first ranks of the enemy. It is known that the king of Prussis who was watching the battle from the top of the hill of Marfee, exclaimed with admiration, "Oh, les braves gens?"

Just at this moment an astonishing event occurred in the midst of the battle. As Gallifet was returning with a few survivors, their borses for the most part wounded or foundered, he passed before the Nassau regiment.

The Prussian officers ordered their men to cease fire and even struck up some of their guns. The French sa-

SCIENTIFIC FEEDING.

Westminster Gazette.

Health as a Primary Factor in Intelligent Living.

Health and success are so largely dependent upon balance, upon symmetry of development, physical and mental harmony, that we should do everything possible to secure that physical polse which also means men-tal and moral polse. A large part of our ills come from one sided development, caused by overstimulating some tissue cells and starving others-over feeding and underfeeding. Scientific feeding, therefore, is of vast impor-

A "Mite."

The difficulties experienced by our forefathers in trying to reckon money in very small proportions appear in the various values given to a "mite" in the sixteenth and seventeenth cen-Your attention is also invited to the tury books of commercial arithmetic. The original "mite" seems to have been a third of a Flemish penny, but the use of the word for the widow's coin of the New Testament made its regular English meaning half a farthing, and some old people may remember applying the name to the short lived nineteenth century coins of that value. In those old arithmetic books "mite" stands for various values not represented by actual coins, but obviously used in reckoning. A work of 1706 makes it one-twelfth of penny, two sixteenth century books one-sixth of a farthing, and in 1674 Jeake's arithmetic made it as little as one sixty-fourth of a penny.-London Chronicle.

Heroic Treatment.

In Guiana if a child is slow in its movements the parents apply an ant to the child instead of a whip to make it move faster. This little ant bites more cruelly than a mosquito, and its bite is apt to be troublesome afterward. As you can imagine, this treatment does not make the child kind to others, and the children of Guiana are said to be particularly cruel to animals. The little boys in Guiana do not reckon their age by years, but by their ability to endure pain. Until be gets to the point where he can let the Hucu ant bite him without wincing he is sidered merely a baby.

THE COW GIRL.

New Element of Wild West to Visit This City.

Among the horses, steers, broncos, buffalces, cowboys, Indians and other concommitants of the 'wild and wooly' west which the Miller Brothers' famous 101 Ranch is bringing to this city on next Friday, is an element new to this community—the cow girl. The lady bronco buster, the feminine conqueror of beef and horns, the lassoer in lingerie, the Rough Rider in ribbons and ruches.

The cowgirl is a development of the stock-raising west compared with the bachelor girl and the independent woman of the east. She is not of the new woman class-not of teh sort that discards her feminine attributes and tries to ape the man, simply a lively athletic young woman with a superfluity of nerve and animal spirits, with a realization that in affairs where skill is the chief qualification she has an equal chance with her borthers.

Those who expect to see a group of raw-boned, masculine Amazons in these cowgirls will suffer a keen disappointment, for there is not one of them who would not-and does notcut a dainty figure on the floor of a ball room. From Edith Tatlinger, champion all-round cowgirls of the west to Dolly Roberts, noted for her skill on a horse, they are noted for her tion of girls as ever set masculine hearts a-flutter. They are close friends and happy associates, recruited from ranches which adjoin the 101, and all are with the show for a jolly good time

Miss Tantlinger is not unknown here for her fame has preceded her. Her achievements in the saddle have given her a claim to the title of being one of the most fearless and accomplished horsewomen in the world. And she can rope, throw and tie a steer in something less than a minute. From the time she was first able to sit on a horse, she has been intensely fond of Office over E. 5 Morris & Co.'s Drug anything in the way of equestrianism, and no feat performed by the most reckless among cowboys on the renowned 101 ranch has ever baffled her. She learned to throw the lariat with a skill wonderful for a girl; but ed to tell her experience on the oper-and round-up, and finally came the time when the men could learn something by watching Edith.

Edith Tantlinger, however, is not the only wonderful cowgirl of Oklahoma who shows her skill with the 101 Ranch Show. A score of others are close rivals in all the picturesque and spectacular achievements. They ride 'bucking' horses that even the reckless cowboys fear. Their racing contests are so stubbornly fought out that limb and even life are at stake. Their 'trick' riding is the despair

Ther will be wild horse races, buf-Office Hours 9 to 13 a. m. 1:30 to falo hunts, Indian war dances, crack markmanship, steer roping, branding, a Mexican bull-fight, round-ups, cowboy pasttimes, and bucking horses with the 101 Ranch Show. But the feature of efatures in parade and arena will be the cowgirl.

An Organ Recital. A dozen or more women had gathed at a home on Walnut street to attend a business meeting of a society to which they belonged. Before they commenced to talk business one of the romen had to tell everybody about her recovery from a recent operation for appendicitis. The Key of Death. The "key of death" is apparently a large key which is shown among the weapons at the arsenal at Venice. It was invented by Tibaldo, who, disappointed in love, designed this instrument for the destruction of his rival. The key is so constructed that the handle may be turned around, revealing a small spring, which being pressed a very fine needle is driven with considerable force from the other end. This needle is so very fine that the fiesh closes over the wound immediately, leaving no mark, but the death of the victim is almost instantaneous.

We are Going to Give Twenty-six People an Opportunity to Own Their Own Homes by Paying a Small Cash Payment Down and Payments Monthly Without Interest

The Wichita Development Company owns twenty six modern bungalows on Burnett, Bluff and Austin Sts., between Third and Sixth Sts., which we have induced them to allow us to sell on easy terms, Without Interest or Taxes, and on which they will carry the insurance until forty-eight monthly payments have been made.

These houses are well built; have concrete foundations; all chimneys built from the ground, and are all pleasing in appearance. They are close in the property beginning six blocks from the First National Bank. The ground is the highest of any portion of Wichita Falls which lies in the valley, as shown by the statement of City Engineer. Hinckley, which appears in this advertisement. Cement sidewalks are laid over nearly all the property, and every house has a sewer running down alley in rear. The Gas Company has laid its mains down the streets. Each house is connected with city water. Free mail delivery and a school house within two blocks of the farthest house are among the advantages. The soil is deep and fertile and trees and lawns can be grown better than in most parts of the city. When these houses have been sold, as they will be, under these extraordinary terms, and the property is occupied by owners, who will be interested in its development, property values will double.

These houses are practically new, and rent from $15 to $20 per month, and at that, are the cheapest rentals in the city. On a house renting for $15 you double the rent for 48 months and own the house without payment of interest. taxes or insurance, by paying a cash payment down of but $100.00. On a house renting for $20 per month you pay a larger cash payment but add only $10 per month to your rental.

Net cost of house...... $676.00 Total cost......$1,396 00

It is reasonable to suppose that with the growth of Wichita Falls the value of the property will have increased to $2000.00, in which event the purchaser will have made a net profit of $1324.00 on his investment.

Wichita Falls, Texas, Sept. 2, 1909.

The Wichita Development Co., Wichita Falls, Texas.

This is to certify that the property owned by your company, Blocks Numbers 121, 122, 123, 144, 145, 220, and 241 has an altitude of from 958 to 960 feet. The altitude of that portion of the city lying between Seventh St. and the Wichita Valley Ry., from North to South and between Lamar St. and Michigan Ave., from East to West, ranges from 951 to 957 feet; in other words, the property owned by your Company is from one to eight feet higher than any portion of the city, excepting such as is on the hill. Eor example, the altitude of Burnett and Third St. on your property is 960 feet. On the corner of 12th and Scott, which is in a good residence section of town, the altitude is 951 ft; consequently, should the city ever be inundated, the water would be 9 ft. in depth at the corner of Scott and 12th before it would begin to cover your property at Bur-(Signed) L.
