by b. m. n.

This has been a rather hectic summer so far as the Castro County News is concerned. Unlike most summers, when one member of the firm and then another is off for a much needed week's vacation, with a little improvising taking care of the duties of the one that happens to be absent, we have been beset by injuries and illnesses in between vacations. We have been fortunate, however, in each instance of illness, accident or vacation of having someone available to pull us out of whatever predicament we might find ourselves in. The most recent assist came from our son Don, who with his family, namely, Verbie, Connie and David, of Globe, Arizona, were here last week for a vacation visit at the old homestead. When Nelda Thomas, the news reporter for this weekly effort, came down with a severe case of overeating Don was kind enough to pitch in and fill the employee gap. When Nelda is off duty the gap is considerable, she is our good right arm and near panic sets in when she fails to show. Thanks Don, and Nelda please watch your diet.

On other occasions during the summer when we have been short-handed because of illness, accident, or vacation, Joey Cowen, Bill George and Bill Cowan of Tulia have rescued us from certain doom, either in the news department or in the back shop, on several occasions.

Castro County Roundup Week got off to a good start Saturday night when Miss Cheryl Ann Poteet of Olton was chosen as "Miss Grain Sorghum of the Nation" in a beauty pageant at the high school auditorium. A near capacity crowd in the beautiful new high school auditorium saw eighteen beautiful girls vie for the most coveted beauty crown awarded in the promotion of any of the major agricultural commodities.

Large crowds also attended the all-star county American Legion baseball game Tuesday as well as the fireworks display and the street dance Tuesday night. A full week of entertainment will be rounded off with the contest day Wednesday and the Old Settlers Reunion and Parade Thursday and rodeo performances Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Crops at Lovington, New Mexico, look good. There is really more farming in that area than I imagined there would be. I am not sure but the cotton north of Lovington looked like Pima, or the long staple types raised in the valleys of New Mexico and Arizona. There had been good rains almost all the way from the north side of Lamb county through Bailey and Cochran counties and on to Lovington. There was also evidence of good moisture from Lovington to Portales and on through Parmer county. Apparently the central part of Castro county is the driest area in the Western Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico. We will have a good crop this year but it is costing an enormous amount of irrigation water.

I am indebted to a Mrs. Joy M. Bristow of Amarillo, who lists herself as a housewife at 1218 Austin, for a copy of "A Texan Looks at Lyndon" by J. Evetts Haley. Mrs. Bristow writes: "Please accept with my compliments the enclosed copy of "A Texan Looks at Lyndon," by J. Evetts Haley.

"The book deserves close study. It is thoroughly documented—it is not one man's opinion—and surely should be of interest to you, your friends and readers." I am not sure but I gathered that Mrs. Bristow inferred that I should either read the book to all of my friends and readers or that I should publish it in serial form in the Castro County News. In either case, no soap. I have read a few pages of Mr. Haley's book and plan to complete the disagreeable chore, however I disagree with Mrs. Bristow that everyone should read the book which is a guttersnipe attack on the President of the United States. Her statement that all charges in the book are thoroughly documented indicates to what degree she has been misled. If there was any proof of the many accusations made in Haley's book, even the few pages that I have read, Lyndon Johnson would already be in the penitentiary. If you remember Haley is the gubernatorial candidate who a few years ago pledged in his campaign that if any federal law enforcement officials attempted to come to Texas while he was governor he would meet them at the Red River with a force of Texas Rangers. And on another occasion at a John Birch Society meeting when the speaker demanded the impeachment of Chief Justice Earl Warren, Haley inserted a bit of his logic on yelling out "Impeach him, hell, lets hang him." This is a wonderful source of information if all you are interested in is character assassination and the disruption of constitutional government. Haley hollers loud and long about Constitutional government but I defy him to prove that you can hang the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, constitutionally without at least some (continued on Page Eight)

Area contestants have been invited to compete during the three days of top-notch rodeoing.

The cowboy with the best average in the bareback bronc riding and saddle bronc riding events will win a saddle. Go-rounds in calf roping, bull-dogging, team roping and barrel racing will be determined by the number of entries averages being added together to win the event. Mathis have ordered out a full steer, 100 pounds of beans, six sacks of cabbage, a sack of onions, 100 loaves of bread, 2000 individual sugar packets, six pounds of coffee, 25 gallons of lemonade, and "enough tea to make a Texas-size barrel full."

The barbecue will be cooked by V. C. Hopson, and Dimmitt restaurants will cook and prepare all the other food. Most of the food is being donated by local farmers and merchants.

Tickets to barbecue are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children and are available from members of all civic clubs and organizations taking part in Roundup Week.

CONSERVATION CONVERSATION

"We now plow horizontally following the curvature of the hills and hollows on dead level however crooked the lines may be. Every furrow thus acts as a reservoir to receive and retain the waters; scarcely an ounce of soil is now carried away—in point of beauty nothing can exceed that of our waving lines and rows winding along the face of our hills and valley."

Branding Eases Production Testing

A system of identification is a necessity when production testing cattle and may become a real problem in a large herd. Freestone County Ranchman Joe Richards believes his system has merit.

Richards operates a 2,000-acre, 300-cow spread with the help of his sons, Jerry and Burt.

He uses brands rather than tags or neck chains in his identification system. The reason, of course, is because brands will never be pulled off by brush or fences.

On the Richards' ranch, they can mark the owner of the cow (both boys own cows in the herd) and give her age and number with only 11 different branding irons. The system was suggested by Freestone County Agent J. H. Pritchard.

They identify the cow's owner with one brand used three different ways. "It's a diamond with a tail on it," says Richards. "The direction the tail points tells who owns the cow."

To tell age and number of the cow, they use three-number combinations. The first number tells the year the cow was born. The other two numbers set her apart from other cows born the same year. The three number system can be used with up to 99 replacement heifers each year. Every cow has a number like 309 or 471.

"Another advantage is that you can tell the boys to check old 512 and they'll know the cow to find," he said. "It works better than telling them to check the old roan with a white spot on her left hind leg."

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

(This week's newsletter is a transcript of a radio interview between Senator Ralph Yarborough and Senator Thomas Dodd.)
Dear Fellow Texan:
I want to discuss for a few minutes S. 2628. That is the bill called the Psychotic Drug Control Act of 1964—or the Dangerous Drug Control Act. We have completed hearings on this bill by the Public Health Committee. I presided over these hearings as chairman of the committee.
With me in the studio to report on this bill to the people of Texas is the author of this Dangerous Drug Control Act, Senator Thomas Dodd of Connecticut, who has worked on the Judiciary and other committees on control of dangerous drugs. He has worked to help to control crime and juvenile delinquency in many fields.
Senator Dodd, just what is your Dangerous Drug Control Act of 1964?
SENATOR DODD: First of all let me say this. This bill will require the manufacturers and producers and sellers, retail and wholesale, of these dangerous addictive drugs to keep a record of how many they produce, to whom they sell them and where they sell them. Now this may seem strange to you. You say, "I assume this has been going on all the time." Well it hasn't been.
Under this bill Narcotics Bureau inspectors can go in and check the records. This I think will be a salutary thing. Up to now you know, these drugs have not been under this kind of control, and millions of them are sold to young people, to some adults, with the result that they're becoming addicts and on the threshold of addiction —many of them have proceeded from the threshold to real addiction—to heroin, to opium, to cocaine.

SENATOR YARBOROUGH: Does the use of these dangerous drugs—goof balls, pep pills—often lead to the use then of narcotics if they're used for a long time?
SENATOR DODD: Ninety-nine out of 100 times it does.
SENATOR YARBOROUGH: I was astonished to learn that out of the nine billion of these dangerous pills sold in the United States a year, half of them, 4½ billion were sold on the black market. Are there any controls now to stop this black market sale of 4½ billion?
SENATOR DODD: No, and that's why we are so interested in getting legislation of this kind on the statute books. We've got to get it there. Unless we do, it's going to get worse and worse all the time.
SENATOR YARBOROUGH: Some of the other testimony that you brought shows that people use these pep pills while driving when they are fatigued. They think their judgment is good, but it is not and this is causing terrible collisions on the highway.

SENATOR DODD: Of course it is. Use of these drugs is causing not only collisions on the highways—these drugs make ordinarily quiet people aggressive, aggressive people subnormally quiet. The rest is we've got crimes of violence terrible sex crimes, and we get problems that you just can't imagine. And it's growing you know, it's growing at a terrible rate. Illinois people tell us that there's a hundred per cent increase in these dangerous drug cases this year. Chicago says there's a 60 per cent increase this last year, Baltimore 52 per cent increase, and so it goes—New York 33 per cent.
SENATOR YARBOROUGH: Senator Dodd, I congratulate you for authoring this bill, for pushing it hard. I think we ought to pass it this session.

The Best Of Paris Is Free

Experienced travelers to Europe have discovered that the best things in Paris are free, or at most, great bargains. For example, watching the passing parade from a Parisian sidewalk cafe is a favored pastime, according to Air France. The ever-changing spectacle is free, and the reasonable price of refreshment entitles you to unlimited time on the scene.

Other Paris bargains? There is no entry charge to the Louvre Museum on Sundays. Also free and recommended by Air France are visits to the colorful Flower and Bird Markets, and the Flea Market for shopping bargains.

Admission is nominal to museums and historic landmarks. Tickets to the Opera Comique, Comedie Francaise, and Theatre de France are as reasonable as 80 to 60 cents. Opera tickets begin at about $1.00.

Hotels and restaurants are inexpensive, too, reports Air France. A recent survey reveals that more than 1,000 Parisian restaurants, bistros and self-service cafeterias serve meals priced between $1.00 and $1.50. In Paris, there are several hundred hotels which range from $2.00 to $5.00 a day.

All visitors to Paris are invited to use Air France's Welcome Service located at Orly Airport and the airline's four offices in Paris. Multi-lingual personnel have ready answers to inquiries about Paris.

Shriver Tells Progress Peace Corps Saves Money

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver told Congress this week that his agency is a tight little financial island in the vast sea of government spending.

In testimony before the Senate Appropriations Committee, Shriver cited facts and figures to show how the Peace Corps is cutting costs and increasing efficiency in the far-flung Peace Corps operation.

Shriver asked the committee to approve $106.1 million to operate the Peace Corps during the year which began July 1, compared to $104.1 million voted by the House.

To support his request, Shriver told the committee the Peace Corps was saving money in many ways, and that every cent of the appropriation would be spent wisely. When the Peace Corps began, Shriver recalled, the cost of maintaining a Volunteer overseas topped the $9,000 per year mark. This figure has since been cut to $7,825 a saving of 13 per cent.

Although the number of Volunteers overseas has grown, the Washington headquarters staff has been reduced from 533 permanent employees on June 30, 1963, to only 517 on June 30, 1964, he pointed out.

"And this decrease will be maintained 100 per cent," he promised, even though the Peace Corps Volunteer force is expected to reach 14,000 soon.

There are currently about 10,000 Volunteers already serving overseas or in training. Applications for Peace Corps service increased from 17,851 in 1962 to 32,805 in 1963 and 45,770 in fiscal 1964, Shriver said. He estimated they would reach 60,000 in 1965.

In spite of the growing number of Volunteers, Shriver told the committee that the Peace Corps still cannot meet the great demand from abroad, which is growing more rapidly than the supply as developing nations learn about the value of Peace Corps projects.

Health of the Volunteers has been good, the Director reported. Only two persons have died of any illness contracted in the Peace Corps, and only .9 per cent of all Volunteers who have gone abroad have returned to the United States for medical reasons.

Because of the expanding number of Volunteers, however, the more doctors and also more non-medical staff overseas, so the full amount of the requested appropriation is needed, he explained.

Varsity Football Players To Report For Suits

All athletics who plan to play varsity football for the Bobcats are requested to report to the field-house any time this week to be fitted for mouthpieces and suits announces Coach J. D. Covington. Regular workouts will begin Monday morning at 7:30 a.m. and Monday evening at 6 p.m.

A Pushover For Push Buttons

Pictured above is a new use for a familiar household article, the shoe bag. As the pictures show, a shoe bag can be converted into a tote bag for a variety of handy aerosol products. It can even be used as the young housewife is demonstrating in these pictures for last minute touch ups before company comes. Here's how it works: tuck your favorite aerosol cleaning products into the pockets of a shoe bag, preferably one with a hook in the center. Also equip the bag with sponges, dust cloths and a supply of paper towels. With the cleaning kit at the ready it's a simple matter to lift the tote bag from its hook and hook it onto the back of a chair as shown. Then you can do polishing, glass cleaning or whatever needs doing with the cleaning materials right at your elbow. Obviously this is also an efficient container for housekeeping aerosols for more thorough cleaning jobs. Some homemakers even keep two cleaning kits, one upstairs and one downstairs to avoid unnecessary stair climbing when cleaning on different levels.

Registered Skeet Shoot Planned

A registered skeet shoot, with trophies for winners of each class, will be held at the Quail Ridge Winchester Gun Club, Lubbock, Texas, on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 15 and 16. Dates for the registered shoot were announced by Jack G. Fritts, president of the Winchester Gun Club at Lubbock.

Open to all shooters, the competition will consist of a 50-target .410 and a 100-target 20 gauge event on Saturday followed by a 50-target 28 gauge and 100-target 12 gauge event on Sunday. Trophies will be awarded to the winners in each class. There are 19 classes in all—six in 12 gauge, five in 20, and four each in 28 gauge and .410 events.

Exclusive of ammunition, the entry fee for 100 targets is $9.75. Shooters may bring their own ammunition or purchase Winchester shotshells at the club.

The shoot will be run under the official rules of the National Skeet Shooting Association and will begin at 9 a.m. on Saturday and at 8 a.m. on Sunday.

The registered skeet shoot is one of the many types of special shooting activities organized and conducted by the Quail Ridge Winchester Gun Club throughout the year as a service to area shooters. The club, just past the Reese Air Force Base main gate on Leveland Highway Spur 309, is open to the public Monday through Friday (4 p.m. - 10 p.m.), Saturday (10 a.m. - 10 p.m.) and Sunday (1 p.m. - 10 p.m.). Two fields each of trap and skeet, plus a practice field, are fully illuminated for night shooting. New shooters can receive formal instruction on the grounds. For further information, phone Jack Fritts, 806-885-4335 or 806-795-4766.

CLAYTON VISITORS

Shower Given In Honor Of Mrs. Lance Dow

A miscellaneous shower honoring the former Charlotte Hestand, bride of Lance Dow was held recently in the patio at the home of Mrs. Woodrow Killingsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hestand opened the gifts in the absence of Mrs. Dow who is living in Bethesda, Maryland. They were dressed in grandfashion and grandmother styles and seated in rocking chairs at the shower.

Hostesses gift included a phone call to Bethesda, Maryland at which time all the guests said hello to the honoree. The long distance phone call lasted for five minutes. Also the hostesses took 25 feet of movie film of the shower and two rolls of colored slides which will be sent to Mrs. Dow.

The main table was covered with a white linen cutwork cloth laid over blue satin. The centerpiece featured nursery rhyme of the old lady in the shoe who had so many children she didn't know what to do. The unique centerpiece consisted of an old shoe sprayed white nestled in blue net. A miniature elderly lady stood at the toe of the shoe and a white stork was located at the top of the shoe bringing another baby. Little plastic dolls in blue net were scattered over the shoe and the net.

Four small tables sitting around the patio were laden with all types of chips and dips for serving the guests.

Hostess were Mesdames Lloyd Blanton, Woodrow Killingsworth, Carlos Calvert, Claude Millsap, Earl Chaney, Cecil Hutton, Travis Campbell, Ed Brock, Harley Dodd, John Godfrey, Don Mobley, Eldon Minchew, Dan Boothe, Edmund Hunter and Troy Whitworth.

ROSWELL GUESTS
Mr. and Mrs. John Foster and family of Roswell, New Mexico visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Crum over the week end.

415 Castro Countians Receive $22,587 Monthly August 10 Is Anniversary Of Social Security Act

Twenty-five years ago, on August 10, 1939, President Franklin D. Roosevelt took his pen in hand and signed into law a bill passed by the 76th Congress and entitled the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939. There was little fanfare or publicity concerning this event because few people realized that the amendments would ultimately effect the lives of nearly every American family.

On the 25th Anniversary of that legislation, Hal Geldon, Amarillo social security district manager, describes the 1939 amendments as the "most significant social security changes ever enacted." He stated that the amendments laid the groundwork for the present social security law by providing for monthly benefits (beginning January 1940) not only for retired workers, but also for the dependents of retired workers and deceased workers.

"The 1939 amendments," said Geldon, "made social security a family program rather than one for retired workers alone. Since then, the program has come a long way toward realizing the goal set for it in the 1939 and subsequent amendments—that of providing basic protection against loss of earnings when the family breadwinner becomes disabled, dies, or retires in old age. Today, 9 out of 10 working people are building protection for themselves and their families under the social security law."

Proper Management Brings More Milk From Dairy Cattle

The hard working dairy cow is a lady and needs to be protected, says A. M. Meekma, Extension dairy specialist, Texas A & M University. Feeding and breeding are of top importance but other management factors also play a big part in production.

Dairy cows must be protected from exposure to winter cold and summer heat, injury, rough handling, disease, excitement, and slippery walks, says Meekma. They must be given enough time to eat, chew their cuds, and rest, and have plenty of fresh water and high quality feed available.

Geldon noted that more than 100 billion dollars in benefits—about 80 billion to retired workers and their dependents and nearly 25 billion to survivors of deceased workers—have been paid in the period January 1940 through June 1964. The above figures do not include any benefits awarded under the disability provisions of the social security program.

According to Geldon, more than 19 million people now receive monthly social security benefits, and the total will reach 20 million early in 1965. Locally, 415 Castro County residents are receiving social security benefits each month totaling more than $22,587.00.

Plenty of room is important too. Fifty to 60 square feet of shed area per cow is needed just for loafing, says Meekma. Two to two-and-one half lineal feet of manger space per cow is required to assure enough eating room.

Cows will not consume as much feed if eating room is inadequate and if feed is not available at all times. Thus, Meekma says, production is lowered.

Anything disturbing to cows affects their efficiency, the specialist points out. Loud or new noises, dogs barking, children playing, or anything to which the cows are not accustomed can cut production.

Accurate record keeping is also important in the management of dairy animals, says the specialist. Records can and will be a big help in locating "soft spots" in your management practices.

Management can put a lid on production, Meekma points out. A daily system of regular herd care should be established. And a final reminder from Meekma: Treat your dairy cows with kindness and they will respond much more favorably.

SPORTS AFIELD
By Ted Kesting

We should all work toward making our young appreciate the outdoors. If a boy can have the same fun with rod and gun that we've had, he will learn to love the outdoors and will fight, at voting age, for its retention. There is no better way to give kids a taste for the outdoors than camping.

Unfortunately, the possibilities for camping are becoming severely limited as our open land gets closed by bulldozers and buildings. With increasing rapidity, wilderness camping is giving way to organized camping. Often, nowadays, "Camp" can mean tents staked out like subdivision lots; and the closest thing to wildlife a boy sees may be a hungry dog attracted off the highway.

There is today a good way out of this—boat camping. "By water, a boy's wilderness is only a short distance away, even from a city," points out Willard Crandall, Boat's Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. In almost all areas there are uninhabited islands, or mainland shoreland backed by good, unspoiled tent sites a hard hike from any road. Wildlife naturally follows water; these days it is being increasingly driven to water and swamps by civilization. And fishing, now a rarely mentioned sport in organized land camping, is one of the essential pleasures of boat camping.

Manpower is certainly the least of your problems on any camping trip by boat. Boys love this kind of work. The more they do, the better they'll learn, and the more identity they'll feel with our American outdoor heritage. While boat camping, boys at all times take an active and responsible part—there

Litterbugs Are Tax Liability

Litter thrown on streets and highways by pedestrians and motorists is more than paper, trash, cans and bottles. It is taxpayer's money, says Reagan Brown, sociologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Where does the taxpayer come in? He has to foot the bill for the clean up job, explains Brown.

In addition, when trash is allowed to collect along streets and highways, gutters and sewers may be clogged and during heavy rains flooding may occur. The damage resulting from the overflow often means further expense to the city, county and state governments and it can also be expensive to property owners, says Brown.

Texas is being judged every day in competition with other states for industrial location sites and the record can be improved, says the specialist. In some states, the state government is being asked to pass laws to prevent the marketing of any product in disposable containers or cartons and to increase the fines for 'litterbugs.'

Brown believes Texans can correct the situation without legislation. It will take teamwork, he says, and a real desire on the part of the cleanest and most beautiful in the nation.

A litterbug in every car, pickup and truck is suggested as a starting point. And finally, says Brown, it may take some crusading by neighborhood leaders and others to make the public more conscious of the fact that it is their money they are wasting when they scatter litter everywhere they go.

Specialist Cites Causes Fish Die-Off

Fish die-off can be, and often is, a problem encountered by many farm pond owners, says Wallace G. Klusmann, Extension wildlife conservation specialist, Texas A&M University. This condition results primarily from a depleted supply of oxygen and chemical pollution.

Lack of oxygen is caused by large amounts of decaying vegetation during hot, cloudy days when there is little or no wind to create wave action. The decaying material is often excessive algae bloom which may result from over-fertilization. This can be prevented, says Klusmann, by proper fertilization and killing aquatic plants in small areas over a longer period of time or in early spring when temperatures are lower.

Although little can be done once the fish start surfacing, an immediate action would be to bring in a flow of fresh water or to stir the water vigorously. An outboard motor is feasible for this purpose only if the pond is very small.

Fish die-off may also result from pollution by agricultural chemicals, adds the specialist. Crops in the area should be sprayed when there is no possibility of chemical drift by the wind. Also, water run-off from treated areas should be diverted from the pond.

If many fish are killed from either of these causes, the remainder should be removed and the pond restocked after the condition has been cleared.

Chemical pollution also results from cattle wading in the pond after being dipped or sprayed with compounds containing chemicals such as toxaphene, chlordane and rotenone, says Klusmann. Fencing the pond will prevent such a mishap.

Shrimp are caught by use of a Y-shaped net called a trawl, pulled behind power boats.

Anticoagulants Help In Control Of Rats

If rats and mice are a nuisance on your farm and are robbing you of those precious dollars that you have invested in grain and other stored materials, then these pests should be controlled as soon as possible.

Anticoagulants have proved quite effective as a method of control says J. E. Poore, assistant district agent for predator and rodent control, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Anticoagulants prevent blood from clotting and cause death from internal hemorrhages. Poore points out. Rats and mice must eat some of the bait every day for five or six days or every other day for 10 days or more before the hemorrhages are fatal.

Apparently no pain or warning of danger is connected with this action says Poore, and the pests will return again and again to feed if the bait is attractive.

Anticoagulants are available in concentrate or ready-to-use form. The concentrate is usually blended with a dry cereal bait, a common formula being one part concentrate to 19 parts bait. Cornmeal or rolled oats serve well as bait but are often not well accepted by the rodents, says the agent.

To make the formula more attractive, use a cup of salad oil and a cup of sugar along with eight cups of rolled oats and 12 cups of yellow cornmeal. These ingredients should be well mixed along with one cup of anticoagulant, making about six pounds of bait.

Large quantities of ready-mixed bait are quite inexpensive and can be purchased through commercial concerns.

Poore suggests that a half pound of bait be used at each station. Bait should be placed where the rats and mice are known to feed, the entire premises being baited at the same time. Bait may be placed in shallow dishes or in small paper bags slit open at the side. Bags should be fastened to the floor or wall to prevent rats from dragging them away.

When treating for mice, smaller amounts of bait should be used and should be placed at closer intervals. This is because mice live in small areas and travel about very little, explains Poore.

Although it is difficult to determine the amount of bait to put out, about five pounds is average for a Texas farm.

In addition to the dry form, a soluble material is available for use in a water bait, says Poore. One packet is sufficient for one quart of water which may be exposed in baby-chick water fountains or similar containers. In dry surroundings this is particularly effective.

Adding a tablespoon of sugar to each quart of liquid bait makes it much more attractive, provided ants aren't a problem.

Placing the liquid and dry baits together at a station is more effective for controlling rats, Poore points out. They will consume more of the bait and quicker kills will result, especially in the summer.

Poore warns that any animal or human can be harmed by anticoagulant bait if enough is eaten every day or so for several days. An injection of Vitamin K will serve as an effective antidote. Bait should be placed where only rats and mice can feed on them.

"Anticoagulants are not poisons but rather chemicals and are the safest materials for rat and mouse control that have yet been developed," says Poore.

Diseases due to dietary deficiencies are rare in the U. S.

If essential soil elements are lacking, plants won't thrive.

is never a feeling of being herded never a feeling of being herded along, as on a bus trip. Swimming, diving, boating, fishing and most wilderness land-camp pastimes too are wide open to the boy who camps by boat. And a beach is a real place for a roaring wilderness campfire. No other form of camping offers so complete a chance for young boys to participate in, and learn individual, so much true outdoor activity.

Passing laws is important but anyone wanting to do more for boys and for outdoor sports in general should consider boat camping. The best way to make a sportsman is to make a sportsboy first.

James Cowell, former Bobcat, will be wearing No. 10 in the fullback position at West Texas State University this fall.

The 19-year-old sophomore weighs 179 and is 6-0. He was the offensive key to the '63 WT Frosh team. Twice he gained 191 yards in freshman games.

According to report from WTSU football guide, Cowell has excellent balance and surprising power for his size, and keeps constant pressure on the older boys ahead of him.

Cowell made All-State two years while playing for the Bobcats. He is an excellent track man. He has a clocking of 1:56 on the 880.

Cowell lists his main hobby as flying. He is a business major.

The WTSU football guide commented, "Watch for the name Cowell, you will see plenty of him the next three years."

vice Unit in Fort Hood. He then went into Niki Missile Unit at Fort Bliss for the rest of his years in the service of United States.

Jimmie Singer and Betty Brown were united in marriage, October 15, 1950 in the Frio Baptist Church.

The Singers moved to Dimmitt, October of 1959 where he began working at the West Texas Telephone Co. of which he was part owner.

Dimmitt citizens learned to appreciate the fine service and work Jimmie put forth on his job at the telephone company. His ready smile and good nature helped make him many friends here.

He served as Cub Master for two years when the Cub Scout Troop was first organized in Dimmitt. He was a member of Valley View Baptist Church in El Paso.

Among his pastime activities was a lively interest in photography. During the recent months, Jimmie had taken an active interest in car racing.

Survivors include his wife, Betty of the home; two sons, Gary and Noel of the home; two daughters, Nita and Sherry of the home; his mother, Mrs. Annie Singer of Dimmitt; two brothers, Robert and Elton Singer of Dimmitt; and one sister, Juanita Stiff of Roswell, New Mexico.

This 4-H Operator Uses:

- SAFETY RULES
- DRIVING SKILLS
- MECHANICAL KNOW-HOW

The 4-H Tractor program has trained well over a million youths to drive safely, handle the big machines and keep them in working order year around. The project is planned and supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. In this state and five others, educational aids and awards are provided by the Humble Oil & Refining Company.

With today's big investments in farm equipment, it is vital that tractors are adequately maintained and put to maximum use, points out 4-H Club leaders. A breakdown could mean financial loss on crops.

There is always plenty to do in this project, even for the beginner. The program is divided into four sections. The first year participation acquaints the member with the tractor and safe rules for operation.

Second year members learn to operate the tractor and what it takes to keep it going. Care of battery, spark plugs, cooling system and tires is taught. Operating costs, including fuel and lubrication also are studied.

"Improving Your Skills" is the title of the third unit. This emphasizes highway safety, power take-off, brakes, power transmission, winter care and ownership costs.

The fourth year and advanced unit goes into detail on machinery care such as servicing and maintaining tillage tools, planters, harvesters and sprayers. By the time 4-H'ers have completed the fourth year, they usually have assumed responsibility for not only the farm tractors, but other machinery as well.

Over the years thousands of young 4-H farmers have been recognized in various ways for doing a superior job. The program sponsor this year again will provide an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for the state winner. College scholarships worth $500 each will be awarded to the top 12 members across the nation. They will be designated by the Extension Service.

Welcome Rains Soak County

Welcome moisture soaked parts of Castro County during a heavy electrical storm early Wednesday morning. U. S. Weather Bureau representative Howard Cook reported .22 moisture for Dimmitt.

The High Plains area has been suffering under a dry spell during July and first part of August. Irrigation wells have been under a heavy strain due to this lack of moisture.

Many millions of gallons have been pumped into thirsty fields during the growing season. Crops have not been ruined during this dry year due to the use of irrigation water; however, the water level has been lowered considerably.

Many farmers report the failure of irrigation wells due to the lower water level. Several reports of wells having to be lowered in the county.

Average precipitation during the past 40 years in July is 2.40 inches. This year in July, Cook reports only two hundredths of moisture for the entire month.

Average rainfall in June is 2.50 inches. This year in June the county received 2.16 inches of precipitation.

August average for the county is 1.98. So far this month there has been a trace of moisture on the 8th and .22 early Wednesday morning.

AMMO NOTES

by Wm. F. (Bill) Bennett, Agronomist, Western Ammonia Corporation

Experiment stations and research workers provide an excellent service to farmers in this area. Their results have both immediate and long-range benefits.

Experiment stations serving this area are South Plains Research and Extension Center at Lubbock; the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway; and the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station at Bushland.

Some of the tests conducted in this area by the Lubbock station are as follows: A sugar beet test on N, P and K rates is located on the R. Young farm north of Dimmitt.

Two potash rate tests on cotton are located in Lamb County. These are on the Roy Hutson farm and the Fieldton farm.

A multinutrient test including minor elements on cotton is located on the T. R. Johnson farm in Lamb County. These tests are under the supervision of Harvey J. Walker.

The High Plains Research Station has plots in the Hale-Lamb-Bailey County area. These are under the direction of Dr. Arthur Golhke.

The station at Bushland has several field plots in the area. One milo trial is located on the Charles Heck, Jr., farm south of Nazareth in Castro County.

This is a study of nitrogen and phosphorus rates. A similar milo trial is located on the Gerald McCasland farm in Deaf Smith County which is about 2 miles west of Hereford.

A potassium rate study is located on George Sides farm near Dimmitt in Castro County. These tests are being conducted by Wendell Robertson.

Watch these experiments through the season and check the results. After they are harvested and yield results are available I hope to discuss them in future columns.

Castro Lodge AF & AM 879. Regular meeting 1st Monday. Practice every Thursday. Haywood P. Smith, Worshipful Master, Ira E. Brown, Secretary.

Sour Cream Is Versatile

The piquant flavor of sour cream gives a magic lift to a variety of foods, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension Service consumer marketing specialist.

The name sour cream is almost a misnomer, for the commercially prepared sour cream available on today's market is not "soured," but is "cultured." Lactic acid is the magic ingredient for making sour cream. It is added to pasteurized and homogenized light sweet cream, and results in specially controlled, really tasty sour cream.

An excellent way to use sour cream is an accent to new-crop vegetables. Dairy sour cream may be made a bit smoother and stiffer by whipping slightly. Don't overwhip or you may make butter. You may want to stir sour cream into sauces and gravies at the end of cooking, adding only a tablespoon at a time.

Heat sour cream gently, but do not boil, reminds the specialist. Cook sour cream hollandaise-type mixtures over warm, not boiling water, rather than direct heat. These mixtures are good as sauces with cooked vegetables such as broccoli and asparagus, and for garnishing fruit or vegetable salads.

Texas' progress in the field of race relations was commended by visiting federal officials here to discuss aspects of the new Civil Rights Law.

Gov. John Connally met briefly with Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges; former Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins, director of the new Community Relations Service; and former Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee.

Session was one of a series to be conducted with governors in all states at the request of President Johnson to discuss the Community Relations Service operation. Agency will provide conciliation service at the state and local level to resolve discrimination disputes.

Governor Connally predicted Texas will continue to move forward without outside help.

Meanwhile, Texas School Boards Association warned that action on the part of segregated schools between now and Labor Day may determine their continued eligibility for federal funds.

According to Department of Health, Education and Welfare officials on the Civil Rights Law, all the answers won't be known until new regulations are drawn late this month.

But the law has been interpreted as banning federal aid to segregated facilities.

Texas schools now get about $30,000,000 a year in federal money for such programs as the national defense education act, vocational education, school lunch and milk program and aid to districts where federal installations bring in a large number of pupils.

NEW personnel indicate "tentative procedures for enforcement of Title VI (of the Civil Rights Law) will require assurance from local school boards of compliance or intention to comply before federal funds will be awarded."

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED—Governor Connally selected Pat Taggart of Waco, president of New paper, Inc., as a member of Texas State Historical Survey Committee to succeed Sam Privitt of Childress for an unexpired term extending until January 1.

New members of the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners are Miss Hedwig Pustejovsky of Houston, Mrs. Jimmie L. Morrison of Hico and Mrs. Naomi Younger of Levelland. Their terms extend until September 7, 1969.

Dr. J. A. Barrington of Wichita Falls and Dr. Claude Willey of El Paso were named to six-year terms on the State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners. They succeeded Dr. John McCoy of Paris and Dr. Edward Dwellie of Alice.

Kirby Hillin of Dallas and Virgil A. Walston of Houston succeed W. J. Burkhardt of Dallas and Kenneth Nelson of Diboll to six-year terms on the State Board of Registration for Public Surveyors.

Allen Searight, community coordinator for Texas Industrial Commission, has accepted a job as executive director of Texas Historical Foundation. Larry Milner, San Antonio, will take over Searight's duties with the Industrial Commission on August 15.

LOBBYISTS—Texas legislative leaders, who have been the target of many lobbyists, have turned lobbyists themselves.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Speaker Byron Tunnell and Sen George Moffett, chairman of the Legislative Council's redistricting committee, have been lobbying in Washington for passage of federal laws to clarify the congressional and legislative redistricting situation.

Moffett wants Congress to say that a state may have as much as 15 per cent variation from the average population in its Congressional districts. He and Smith also spoke in favor of the proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution which would allow the states to set up one house of their Legislatures on a basis other than population.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINIONS—Atty. Gen Waggoner Carr has ruled that:

A county commissioner's court may decide whether or not it shall appoint county hospital managers with overlapping terms;

A county attorney has the duty of filing suits for foreclosure of the State's lien for delinquent inheritance taxes;

District courts in that county have jurisdiction of these suits even in those instances in which property formerly belonging to a decedent is not within the county, so long as it is within the jurisdiction of this state.

Oil industry representatives urged the Texas Water Pollution Control Board not to outlaw the use of open, unlined earthen pits for the disposal of oil field salt water in Dallam, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Potter and Oldham counties.

Board held the third in a series of hearings to explore the problem in a 48-county area which overlies the Ogallala water formation.

Oil engineers testified disposal of oil field brine into unlined pits in the five Panhandle counties named is "very minor." By January 1, testified one, 87 per cent of the salts will be injected underground, with only 257 barrels a day going into unlined surface pits.

HUNTING FISHING LICENSES GOING OUT

New hunting and fishing licenses are scheduled to be sent to some 2,800 dealers by August 14, State Parks and Wildlife Commission announces.

Old licenses expire on August 31. More than 2,300,000 are expected to be paid during the coming year—at the rate of $2.15 for fishing license and $3.15 for a hunting license.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Highway Commission authorized urban transportation studies to determine future highway needs of Abilene, Midland, Odessa and Texarkana.

Cigarette taxes continue to increase—to $8,400,000 in June, a jump of $317,942 over the previous month—according to State Comptroller's office.

Thirteen citizens' task forces met here to work on various aspects of a Texas plan for community mental health programs.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler refused to consider the sale of 10 tracts of school land in Bandera County, explaining that he thought his own staff had set values too low.

Although there are many mea-

and our freedom are insulted.

At this writing, it is impossible to forecast events in the next few days arising from the crisis in Southeast Asia. But, as our leaders have repeatedly warned the Communists, aggressive challenges have been, will be, and are being met-and met decisively. The actions taken by our President and our armed forces following the Tonkin Gulf torpedo boat attacks should signify clearly to all that the United States means to stand firmly by its commitments.

President Johnson made several statements that should receive careful attention abroad as statements of unified, bipartisan American purpose. These declarations sum up the unified American attitude: "There is no threat to any peaceful power from the United States of America. But there can be no place by aggression and no immunity from reply." And: "Let no friend needlessly fear, and no foe vainly hope, that this is a Nation divided in this election year. Our free elections, our full and free debate, are America's strength, not America's weakness."

The resolution passed overwhelmingly by Congress declared: "The Congress approves and supports the determination of the President, as Commander in Chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression."

Since this is the end of a term of Congress, all bills not favorably acted upon by the Congress end up in the legislative graveyard. This means that such measures must be reintroduced at the next term of Congress and he same long, hard road through committee hearings, the Rules Committee, and debate before the full House and Senate must be again pursued. Hence, every Member of Congress is most anxious to secure passage of all of the legislation he has introduced. This is what makes the closing days of a Congress so hectic and chaotic.

asures that need to be passed affecting the entire country—such as a proper adjustment of the sugar quotas so that the American farmer can produce more of the sugar needed by our country; legislation providing protection for the United States cattle industry against excessive beef and meat imports the final versions of the appropriations bills; and many other measures—there is one action that is of tremendous importance to the whole nation. I refer to the need for approval by the Congress of resolution submitting to the States an amendment to the Constitution permitting the States having bicameral legislatures to apportion one house of such legislature on factors other than population. Unless this is accomplished, the strength of rural districts and sparsely populated areas will be lost, and these people will be at the mercy of big-city machines.

The international situation may require that Congress remain in session into the autumn. In that event, many decisions will be reached on pending measures that otherwise would have to be put over to next year. This 88th Congress has been a constructive, productive one: Up to August 1, the Congress had passed 388 public bills. Senate had been in session 331 days and the House in session on 297 days. House members introduced 15,272 measures of all types; Senators introduced 3,691 measures of all types.

House members introduced 15,272 measures of all types; Senators introduced 3,691 measures of all types.

Although there are many mea-

asures that need to be passed affecting the entire country—such as a proper adjustment of the sugar quotas so that the American farmer can produce more of the sugar needed by our country; legislation providing protection for the United States cattle industry against excessive beef and meat imports the final versions of the appropriations bills; and many other measures—there is one action that is of tremendous importance to the whole nation. I refer to the need for approval by the Congress of resolution submitting to the States an amendment to the Constitution permitting the States having bicameral legislatures to apportion one house of such legislature on factors other than population. Unless this is accomplished, the strength of rural districts and sparsely populated areas will be lost, and these people will be at the mercy of big-city machines.

The international situation may require that Congress remain in session into the autumn. In that event, many decisions will be reached on pending measures that otherwise would have to be put over to next year. This 88th Congress has been a constructive, productive one: Up to August 1, the Congress had passed 388 public bills. Senate had been in session 331 days and the House in session on 297 days. House members introduced 15,272 measures of all types; Senators introduced 3,691 measures of all types.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

AUGUST 19 DATE FOR JOINT CO-OP MEETING

Twelve hundred or more farmers and their families are expected to attend the big August 19 joint annual meeting of the three regional cooperatives with headquarters in Lubbock. Included will be members of Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, Farmers Cooperative Compress and Plains Cotton Cooperative Association.

The meeting will be held in the air conditioned Municipal Auditorium on the Texas Tech campus. It will be called to order at 10:00 A.M. by Howard Alford, prominent Lubbock County farmer and president of the Compress and Marketing Association.

Headlining the fast moving program will be Horace Godfrey, Administrator of all price support and acreage allotment programs of the Department of Agriculture and Executive Vice President of Commodity Credit Corporation.

Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith will welcome the group to Lubbock and Wilmer Smith, president of the Mill, will respond. Ethel Mabry and Larry Karrh, Hale County 4-H Club members, will present their illustrated cooperative demonstration which was judged tops in Texas.

A barbeque lunch will be served at noon for members and guests. In the afternoon, each of the three cooperatives will hold its business session, reviewing financial statements, hearing reports of its officers and electing directors for the new year.

Some 20,000 cotton farmers grouped around more than 100 cooperative gins own and use the Mill, Compress and Marketing Association. Through their chosen directors they control these businesses, each of which has maintained a healthy growth. Plains Cooperative Oil Mill is completing its 28th year. The Farmers Cooperative Compress is 16 years old and Plains Cotton Cooperative Association has operated for 11 years.

The three regional associations are reporting earnings of more than $3,500,000 to their stockholders and patrons as a result of the year's operation. Twenty thousand farm families will share in this increased purchasing power.

Three County High School Students Attend Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar At Huntsville

The Castro County Farm Bureau sent three county high school students to the Citizenship Seminar in progress this week on the campus of Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, according to Luke McGuire, president of the local Farm Bureau. More than 200 students are attending the event which is being sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau, August 11-15.

Attending from this county are: Richard Dobmeier of Nazareth, Charles Harris of Dimmitt and David Smith of Hart.

Harris, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Harris, Dimmitt. He has participated in Interscholastic League and represented this district in the extemporaneous speaking contest. He took part in the American Heritage contest and his essay won third place. He sings in the First Baptist Church choir and is presently serving as counselor for boys age 9-11 in the Royal Ambassador Chapter, and worked with other youth of the church in planning Youth Revival. Richard Dobmeier is the son of

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dobmeier of Nazareth. He is a senior at Nazareth High School. He has played football for three years. Dobmeier attends Holy Family Catholic Church where he belongs to the Children of Mary Sodality.

David Smith, 16, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of Hart. He participates in all sports in Hart High School and is one of the four top students in his class. He was selected to attend the Annual Staff School in Journalism and Photography in Lubbock the same year. He was presented Best Citizenship award by the Hart American Legion at his eighth grade commencement exercises. Smith is active in Hart FFA Chapter, where he has served as president and attended the State Meeting at Texas A & M University with the Dairy Products Judging Team in his freshman year. His Duroc barrow placed Reserve Grand Champion in 1963 and second in 1964. His present FFA project is crops. He farms 160 acres and is raising cotton, milo, catorbeans and Irish potatoes.

He is active in First Baptist Church, Hart where he serves as secretary of the Young Peoples Department, participates in the Youth Choir and is presently helping organize a Training Union in the colored Baptist Church.

The students attending the seminar are selected on basis of scholastic attainment, speaking ability and other outstanding qualifications. Several important educators and lecturers are speaking at the seminar, the second to be held in Texas. Instructions at the Citizenship seminar during the week consist of lectures and films explaining the workings of American competitive enterprise system and contrasting it with Communism.

Speakers include Dr. George S. Benson, president, Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas, who has been the recipient of more Freedom Foundation gold metal awards than any other American educator for his work in citizenship training; Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, vice-president, Harding College, who has traveled extensively in Europe making a study of European life under Socialism; John Noble of Wheaton, Ill who was a prisoner in Russian slave camps for nine and one-half

THIS BROOKLYN COWBOY'S approach to the art of rodeoing brought lots of good-natured kidding from some of the youngsters at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, but on September 6th and 7th, the new boy will be ridin' with the best, and don't be too surprised if he wins a pair of new spurs. The 20th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo is the biggest Labor Day event in the Texas Panhandle, and the high point of the year for the 325 boys now making their home at the Ranch.

Boys Ranch Rodeo Plans Are Announced

The 325 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch began practice this week for the biggest Labor Day event of the Texas Panhandle—the annual Boys Ranch Rodeo that will be held Sunday, September 6th, and Monday, September 7th, at 2:30 in the afternoon.

This will be the 20th year for the famed rodeo that began in 1944 with only 65 boys who were being cared for at that time. More than 7,000 people are expected to be at the Ranch this year to watch a record number of contestants, and if they wish, enjoy a barbecue lunch before the performances.

Indications are the 1964 rodeo will be the most competitive, fastest, and thrilling the boys have ever put on. Almost 100 boys will be riding Brahma bulls, bucking broncos, and other professional rodeo animals under R.C.A. rules. The two performances do not permit all of the boys to ride who would like to, but everyone, including the Ranch's adult staff, will participate.

Boys who do not ride the bucking stock will appear in special feature acts, work the chutes, operate concessions, usher, and work at the many activities necessary for a successful rodeo production.

An added feature of the rodeo will be the sale of king-size barbeque sandwiches with the trimmings that will be sold by the boys. The Ranch picnic area will provide a good lunch site for those wishing to enjoy a picnic near the rodeo arena.

Proceeds from the rodeo will be used for the expansion of the Ranch.

A blister could well be called the modern version of the mythical Achilles heel.

Much as Achilles - the Greek ideal of youth, strength, beauty, and valor, was fatally wounded by an arrow piercing his vulnerable heel, a tiny blister can soil a game of golf or tennis or even a whole vacation.

The blister merits closer attention than we usually grant it. Any admonitions which apply to our athletes also are sound tips for the millions of weekend and vacation athletes.

A blister is caused by pressure and friction on a localized area of the skin. Fluid collects between the inner and outer layers of skin. If pressure is continued, it hurts. Even if no infection follows, the pain can cause a limp that isn't much fun for the golfer or hiker, and it can upset the customary grip on a tennis racket, golf club, oar or canoe paddle.

The best approach to blisters, as to disease, is prevention. Proper fitting shoes are fundamental. There should be room beyond the big toe, room across the top, fitting of the ball of the foot into the widest part of the shoe with no slipping of the heel.

Wearing two pairs of socks, a lightweight pair under sweat socks, is recommended for athletics. Hands can be protected by taping or by special sports gloves.

A decision on whether or not to puncture a blister is based on location, size, and inflammation. If there are signs of inflammation or irritation, medical attention is indicated. Sometimes it is advisable to puncture a blister before it breaks from friction. Wash the area with soap and water and sterilize with alcohol. The puncture is made with a sharp needle held in a forceps (small pliers) and sterilized in a flame. The puncture is made at the side of the blister and the outer skin layer is left in place as a protective cover.

sella and Tommy, Henry, Sharon and Linda Ramaekers of Umbarger stayed to spend a few days visiting with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Florence Albracht.

Nazareth's Big Ball team won a game from Plainview Tuesday nite at Plainview and lost a good game to Hereford here Sunday 4-3.

Will you lose one out of five pounds to midge? Not this year. Not with Diazinon.

Midge damage can cost you 900-1600 pounds per acre in sorghum planted to yield 4500 pounds. That's like losing one pound or more out of every five pounds you counted on at harvest. This year, you don't have to pay that price. This year, you can use Diazinon® insecticide.

Texas college test results:
Two Texas colleges tested Diazinon for midge control in 1963. Results? Effective control. An 80% increase in yield. Now, USDA acceptance of Diazinon for control of sorghum midge means you can expect a similar yield increase.

Spray Diazinon after 90% of the heads have emerged from the boots. Then, four days later, spray again. You'll knock out the second wave of larvae and complete the control job.

Extra advantages of Diazinon
You can harvest or feed your sorghum to livestock 14 days after spraying with Diazinon. Diazinon is easy to work with—you don't need any special clothing or equipment. And, accidental spray drift to nearby forage causes no milk or meat residue problems.

Ask your supplier for Diazinon... the newest and best in midge control. Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Division of Geigy Chemical Corporation, Saw Mill River Road, Ardsley, N. Y.

Canned Vegetable Liquids Contain Minerals - Vitamins

Pouring the liquid off of canned vegetables is somewhat like removing the desirable additives from your automobile's gas tank. For both points out Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, contain elements needed by the human machine and automobile engine for proper functioning.

In the case of the liquids from canned vegetables, about a third of the minerals and vitamins in the can are lost. In order to get the full nutritive and money value from canned products, Mrs. Clyatt emphasizes the importance of using the liquid.

She suggests adding it to gravy, soup or using it in a cream-sauce or stew. Here is why. After vegetables are canned, their water-soluble nutrients distribute themselves evenly throughout the solids and liquids. The drained solids, which usually make up about two-thirds of the can's total contents, contain about two-thirds of the soluble nutrients. The other third is in the liquid.

Keep in mind, she says, that canned vegetables have already been cooked. To serve them with the most flavor and food value, drain off the liquid and boil down to one-third of its original volume, then heat the vegetable in this concentrated liquid. Minerals and vitamins are saved and you get the full benefits expected from your purchase, says Mrs. Clyatt.

For this week's best buys in fresh fruits and vegetables, the specialist suggests lemons, plums, grapes, nectarines, cherries, pineapples, cantaloupes, watermelons, cabbage sweet corn, eggplant, lettuce, celery, tomatoes, squash, cucumbers, green peppers, dry yellow onions and okra.

And don't forget, reminds Mrs. Clyatt, that outdoor cooks can find many meat bargains at the retail meat counters. Give the family a variety of menus by taking advantage of supermarket offerings, she says.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders To Meet Tough Foes

Three bowl participants lead off Texas Tech's home football schedule this fall.

First three foes in Jones Stadium for Coach J. T. King's Red Raiders are Mississippi State, the Liberty Bowl winner; University of Texas, the Cotton Bowl champion; and Southern Methodist, nipped by a touchdown in the Sun Bowl. Completing the six-game home card are West Texas State, Washington State, and University of Arkansas.

Road contests are with Texas Tech's Texas Christian, Baylor, and Rice.

Mississippi State opens the home slate at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 19. Wade Walker, former Texas Tech assistant coach, is MSU athletic director, and Vic Spooner, who played end for Tech, is an assistant coach there.

Texas, gunning for another national championship, will be met in night game a week later, Sept. 26.

Three successive road games are interspersed before Southern Methodist engages the Red Raiders in a contest climaxing Dad's Day the night of Oct. 24.

Following a regionally televised game with Rice, the Red Raiders return for a three-game home stand winning up the season. First comes the Raiders' oldest rival, West Texas State, at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 7. Washington State of the AAWU, whose Cougars first met the Raiders last fall, plays Texas Tech in the initial day game of the home schedule at 2 p.m. Nov. 14. Arkansas will furnish opposition for the homecoming game at 2 p.m. Nov. 21.

Both season ticket and individual game orders are being accepted by the Texas Tech Athletic Department. Season ticket prices (plus a 50-cent mailing fee) are $24, $27, $30, and $36, depending upon the seat location. Game tickets sell for $4, $4.50, $5, and $6.
