WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 26, 1910

NUMBER 11

STATE DEPARTMENT WILL BUY BONDS

CITY'S LAST PAVING ISSUE TO BE PURCHASED FOR SCHOOL- FUND.

FORMER BONDS NOT SOLD

Bond Market Demoralized at Present. Work Will Start Without More Delay.

The State Department of Education will probably purchase the last batch of paving bonds issued by the city and the council has authorized Mayor Noble to dispose of them in that way. They will be sold for par and accrued interest, the state paying no premium. The state has declined to purchase the four and one-half per cent bonds voted over a year ago and these securities will be held by the city until an advantageous offer is submitted. When the additional bonds were voted in March, it was the idea that par value could be obtained for the entire lot of 4 1/2's and 5's.

The bond market at present is considered dull and there is comparatively little demand for municipal securities, so that the question of disposing of the bonds is a puzzling one. The issue of $21,500 paving and city hall bonds will be sold and the proceeds expended at once, so that paying may be started, at least, with no further delay. The sale of the last issue will be consummated within the next few days and the city will then be in a position to decide what material to use. It is possible that by the time the present issue is exhausted, the bond market will be in better condition and the 4 1/2's can be sold.

No definite action has ever been taken by the council as to the material to be used. There is considerable sentiment in favor of the city doing its own paving, instead of having it contracted for and it is not unlikely that this plan will be adopted, although there is some opposition to it.

Washington, May 26.—If the schooner Esferzo, which was searched by the Nicaraguan gunboat Venus, was flying the United States flag at the time she was overhauled, as has been reported, she was carrying the stars and stripes without authority, according to advices received here. SUPERINTENDENT DAY OF ADAMS EXPRESS IS IN WICHITA FALLS TODAY

Southwestern Superintendent Day of the Adams Express Co., with headquarters at Denver, is in Wichita Falls today looking over the local situation and getting in touch with the company's new territory. When seen by a Times man this morning, Mr. Day said:

"Wichita Falls is the best advertised city in Texas. I heard more about it before I came here than I did about any other place and I guess the reason for that was that you've got the sort of people here that do things that keep the town before the public. As soon as you get the union depot built we are going into some location near it and will be ready to give you express service commensurate with the progress of the city. We will have twenty-four hour service to Denver and will also give good local service. I came up through this Ft. Worth and Denver country a good many years ago and didn't like the looks of it much, but since I see how it has filled up, with so many good towns, I'm glad the Adams is in on it." The Denver promises to be one of the greatest transcontinental roads in the country. As a part of the Hill system it can make good time from the Gulf to Seattle and it's going to be a great road. It is doing the best passenger business west of the Mississippi already.

STATEMENT BY ESTRADA; REFUSES TO SUBMIT TO COURT OF ARBITRATION

New Orleans, May 26.—Declaring he has positive proof that members of the Central American Court of Arbitration has indicated their sympathy for Madris, Senor Estrada, head of the insurgent forces, has issued a statement giving his reasons for declining to submit to arbitration from that source, according to a cablegram received here this morning by the Texas News Service Bureau from Bluefields, Nicaragua. The statement discussed the differences of the Latin republics and rebukes Madris for the policies followed in his misrepresentations to foreign powers of the real conditions in Nicaragua. The only hope for the people, says Estrada, lies in the movement he is leading. Estrada says he expects recognition from the United States.

DISTRICT MEETING POORLY ATTENDED

VERY FEW RESPONDED TO CALL AT QUANAH, AND NOTHING IS BEING DONE.

DISBANDING IS PROBABLE

Local Sentiment Favors Wichita Falls Standing Alone in Commercial Fight.

The District Association meeting at Quanah today is a decided "frost," according to telephonic advices received by the Times this afternoon. It is stated that only about a dozen delegates were present this morning and that most of these left on the first train when they saw that the attendance was so poor. Evidently, a large number of the commercial clubs that promised to send delegates to this meeting failed to do so.

It is not thought probable here that any efforts will be made further to reorganize the association, as there is considerable sentiment here in favor of letting the matter drop and combining all local efforts for the good of Wichita Falls, alone. When the delegates met here last month a motion to disband prevailed, but was reconsidered, and it was then decided to make one more determined effort to enlist the aid of the smaller towns. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon this effort had apparently failed and the district association will, in all probability, be permitted to enter a state of innocuous desuetude.

ANOTHER BRIDGE ACROSS WICHITA

ONE WILL PROBABLY BE BUILT ON BURNETT OR LAMAR STREETS.

AN OFFER IS SUBMITTED

C. W. Bean and Associates Offer to Pay Half—Two Other Bridges Ordered.

Two new bridges were provided for and the construction of a third taken up, at yesterday's meeting of the county commissioners. The court awarded the contract for the new bridge across Holliday Creek on the extension of 7th street, also for another bridge across Bear Creek, seven miles north of the city. The El Paso Bridge Company was awarded both contracts for a total of $1890. Work on these new bridges will be started as soon as the material can be landed on the ground.

Plans for another bridge across the Wichita River here, at the foot of either Burnett street or Lamar avenue were considered by the commissioners court at the instigation of C. W. Bean who submitted a proposition to the court for the construction of such a bridge. The proposed bridge will cost $8,000, of which amount Mr. Bean agrees to bear one-half, with his associates, the remainder to be paid by the county.

Inasmuch as the commissioners already had under consideration a proposition for the widening of the present bridge, which would be about half as expensive as a new bridge, the proposition is being seriously considered and the court has already expressed itself as being favorable to its acceptance.

Delaney said he had not given out whether he would take the job or not.

FATHER DOLJE WRITES INTERESTINGLY OF HIS JOURNEY TO NEW YORK

To the Times:

So far my trip has been very pleasant. I have enjoyed the warm-hearted hospitality of New Orleans and traversed the states of Alabama, Georgia, South and North Carolina, Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey to New York. The vastness of the country, the beauty of the ever varying scenery, the freshness of springtime and the young crops of the thrifty farmer impressed me much more than the smoke-bedimmed atmosphere of the great and busy centers of industry, and, what is the honest truth, I have not seen the place or country yet that I would prefer to Wichita Falls in grand old Texas. My companion, Father Engerin of Opelousas, La., and myself have been busy getting ready for our departure tomorrow on the steamship Rotterdam. We have been in the grim little Wall street, jumped across Broadway, hustled through the rushing multitudes on the sidewalks, hung on to the straps of overcrowded street cars, were whirled through the underground tunnels, passed over the majestic bridges and could hardly stop exclaiming "where do all these people come from, and whither do they rush in such feverish haste?" No, country life may have its drawbacks, but a man can enjoy every bit of it. Nobody is going to run over him or push him aside. New York has almost everything on God's earth except a breath of pure health-giving fresh air of Texas.

So long, gentlemen, maybe I will write again.

Yours truly,
REV. J. DOLJE.

BURNING OF HORSES IS BASIS OF SUIT FILED IN THE DISTRICT COURT

G. M. Griffin filed suit in the district court today against The Wichita Falls and Northwestern for ten thousand dollars damages. This suit grows out of the destruction of a carload of race horses near the Northwestern depot, by fire, several weeks ago. Mr. Griffin was part owner of the stock and considers that his share was worth ten thousand dollars. It has never been determined whether the horses were in charge of the Northwestern or the Katy at the time of the burning. A. A. Hughes and T. R. Boone represent the plaintiff.

Carlton, who says he came from Hico, where he is a real estate dealer, stoutly protests his innocence of blame.

EIGHTEEN HUNDRED SCHOOL CHILDREN

THAT MANY WILL BE FOUND IN WICHITA FALLS INDEPENDENT DISTRICT.

VERY SUBSTANTIAL GAIN

Fifteen Hundred Already Found With Much Territory Yet to Be Covered.

A total of fifteen hundred children of scholastic age have been found by the school enumerator in that part of the scholastic district on this side of the river exclusive of the negro section, Floral Heights and the "shoestring." The last three named of the district are yet to be visited and it is believed that when all the children of scholastic age in the entire district have been enumerated the total will either be very close to the eighteen hundred mark, or above it.

The population of the district computed on the established basis of six inhabitants to every child of scholastic age would be nearly eleven thousand on these figures, and allowing for that section of the district that is not in the city limits, the city's population would still be considerably past the ten thousand mark.

The district is allowed six dollars from the state school fund for every child of scholastic age in the district and the Wichita Falls district will thus receive about ten thousand dollars for the support of the local schools.

If there are any in the part of the district on the south side of the river, exclusive of the negro quarter, Floral Heights and the "shoestring" who have not been visited by the school enumerator, V. G. Skeen, it is the wish of the school board that either Mr. Skeen or the Chamber of Commerce be notified at once. It will be remembered that considerable difficulty was experienced last year in obtaining a complete scholastic census and it is hoped to secure all names this year without having to repeat the experience.

When the case was called Fletcher located her in Arizona, and was appointed special deputy to bring her back. He saves fifteen hundred dollars bond money.

Birthday of England's New Queen.
London, May 26.—Queen Mary, who within a few weeks has emerged from comparative obscurity into the fierce white light that beats upon the throne, reached her forty-third birthday anniversary today, having been born May 26, 1867. Owing to the court mourning there was no elaborate celebration of the anniversary. The only official recognition of the day was the firing of a royal salute at noon in St. James Park.

Within the past three weeks the newspapers have printed columns concerning the new Queen, who previously had been very little known even to the British republic. In the mass of matter that has found its way into print many interesting side lights are thrown upon her Majesty's traits of character. Some of her likes and dislikes and other interesting characteristics may be summed up as follows:

Her gowns are always simple and her coiffure severe.
She cares little for beautiful jewels and generally wears none at all, except at state affairs.

She feels very strongly that women in high places should be an example to the rest of womankind and that extravagance in dress is bad taste and a bad precedent to follow.

She is said to take a great interest in the woman suffrage movement and before coming to the throne she was a frequent visitor to the houses of parliament.

She is a great lover of the drama and has a keen knowledge of theatrical affairs. The late King often alluded to her as "our musical and dramatic critic."

She has always held that her first duty was to her husband and children, and to them she has always devoted by far the greater part of her time.

She takes a keen personal interest in the conduct of affairs in her household and always insists upon a prompt settlement of all accounts.

She does not affect any fads whatever, declaring herself too busy to collect fans or little dogs or to study photography.

Unlike most of her family, she is passionately fond of books, and good ones. She has read widely and possesses an active and retentive memory.

She is as great a stickler for the observance of public etiquette as was Queen Victoria, and has determined to hold scandal mongers at arm's length.

She has an intimate knowledge of three languages in addition to her own, plays the piano admirably, sings with taste and dances exceedingly well, although she seldom indulges in the pleasures of the ball room.

She has a strong dislike for card playing among women and has never taken any pains to conceal her abomination for bridge whist.

The Queen is a tremendous believer in outdoor life and with her children has made it a point to spend certain hours each day out of doors, unless the weather was exceptionally bad.

Paris Apache to Die on Guillotine.

Paris, May 26.—A public movement is afoot to save from the guillotine Jean Liabeuf, the "Apache" leader, known as the "human porcupine," now under sentence of death for the murder of a police officer last January. The murder was actuated by revenge. A year or two ago Liabeuf was convicted and sent to prison on a charge of being a "white slave" dealer. He protested his innocence and swore to get revenge. Upon his release he dressed himself in a unique costume studded with sharp nails, which was concealed by his outer garments. Thus accoutred, and armed with a revolver and a knife, he deliberately sought to annihilate the police force of Paris. In the fights in which he engaged with them the police had their hands cruelly lacerated by the sharp nails in his armor. After a fierce and final battle, Liabeuf was captured, though not before he had killed one officer and dangerously wounded six others. Notwithstanding this, considerable public sympathy has been awakened in his behalf by the general belief that he was guiltless of the charge of white slavery and that his first conviction was a miscarriage of justice.

Polite Japanese Police.

The Japanese police, one of whose chiefs has been studying English methods at Scotland Yard with a view to improvements in his own force, was originally the most aristocratic body of the kind in the world.

Its establishment was almost coincident with the emperor's decree forbidding the wearing of swords. By a stroke of the imperial pen the Samurai were deprived of cherished weapons, by which the gentlemen of Japan had been accustomed from immemorial times to advertise their rank. So they went into the police, where it was still possible to carry a sword, and a very formidable weapon it was, being of the two-handed variety.

Perhaps the police twenty years ago were rather too fond of chopping a prisoner in half instead of arresting him, but they were very expert, and there was seldom any evidence to contradict their own version of the incident.

To people of their own rank and to foreigners they are polite in a degree which would have seemed ludicrous anywhere except in the land of honorifics. The writer remembers an incident which illustrates this trait well enough. It was at Osaka during a water festival, and the bridges were kept clear of passengers much in the same way as our own on boat-race day. A rope at either end guarded by a policeman was sufficient for the purpose.

With the contempt for authority which distinguishes the Englishman abroad, two or three tourists stood on the wrong side of the rope out of the crowd, so as to get a better view. But the policeman was equal to the occasion. With apologetic bows he untied it again in front of the foreigners, and they had the good sense to accept the rebuke.—London Chronicle.

Resident of Chicago 75 Years.

Chicago, Ill., May 26.—Fernando Jones, the millionaire who long ago established his reputation as the court of last resort for all disputes concerning the early history of Chicago, kept open house for his friends today in celebration of his ninetieth birthday anniversary. Mr. Jones settled in Chicago in 1835, and one of his earliest memories of the city is that of viewing Halley's comet from the lake front seventy-five years ago. At that time Fort Dearborn still existed for the protection of the citizens against the Potawatomi Indians who lived in the vicinity. While still a young man he went into the abstract business and compiled abstracts of all titles in the country. These titles were the only ones existing after the official records were destroyed in the great Chicago fire and from them Mr. Jones and his associates in business reaped large fortunes.

OPEN LETTER TO ROOSEVELT.

The Humanitarian League Protests Against Killing of Wild Animals.

London, May 24.—A committee of the Humanitarian League has addressed an open letter to Col. Roosevelt in regard to his African hunting expedition, protesting against the slaughter of animals. The league in its letter says it deeply regrets that by his recent expedition "during which large numbers of mammals and birds were destroyed for what were termed purposes of science, but which we must think primarily were purposes of mere amusement, you have given world-wide encouragement to that senseless habit of slaughter which is recognized sport."

DRAMA IS DECADENT.

Authors Adopt Impossible Views to Gain Cheap Notoriety.

Every person who has thought upon the subject is aware that marriages often prove unfortunate and cause unhappiness; that the customs of marriage, which vary in different nations, are nowhere perfect; and that the law affecting parties to the marriage contract are, in various places and in various ways, defective. The institution of marriage, however, as it exists, is the best that, hitherto, has been devised for the conservation of civilized society, and the intelligence of civilized society is not looking to the stage for any improvement of it—which is, indeed, fortunate, for it would look in vain. Such plays as "The Three Daughters of M. Dupont," and indeed all plays that are designed to implicate and disseminate doctrine as to marriage, are snuperfluous, and many such plays are grossly obnoxious, alike to good judgment, good feeling and good taste. The tendency of these theatrical "doctrinaires," invariably, is toward something that they call "naturalism"—their manifest desire being, as Mr. Boyesen declares his adored Ibsen's desire was, "to break down the code of traditional ethics." This poisonous sophistry has conspicuously shown itself, of late years, in poetry, and novels no less than in plays. There are certain authors who, "put themselves into the trick of singularity," assume anomalous mental attitudes, contravene established principles of morality and taste and, with a flamboyant preentiousness of originality, misuse the arts—disseminating bizarre notions, well calculated, if they could prevail, to demoralize the whole social system. It is from authors of that class and from their confederates (some of whom are actors and theatrical managers) and from their befuddled votaries, that the public hears of "Emancipated Literature," "The Independent Theatre" and "The Dramas of Ideas." Those apostles of mental and moral dilaceration obviously desire that society should reorganize itself upon a basis of principles (or no principles) which represent reversion to the primitive state of man. There is no other apparent way of interpreting their mischievous ebullitions—for this is a fair statement of the sum of their doctrine.—William Winter, in Harper's Weekly.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and Vicinity.
Tonight and Friday—Increasing cloudiness; showers tonight and Friday, and cooler Friday.

The Kansas City Star, a paper which stood for everything that Roosevelt and the republican administration advocated during the presidential campaign of 1908, sums up as follows on the attempt of Morgan-Guggenheim interests to steal from the United States $250,000,000 worth of land:

The men who had the courage to stand with the people against the Morgan-Guggenheim interests that are trying to grab the natural resources of Alaska are fast being weeded out of the public service. First, the lobbyists were boasting that they would "get" Secretary Garfield—and they did. Garfield had proved a great obstacle to the spotters. Then Glavis, who saved the nation coal land valued at $250,000,000 was removed from office. The next to be sacrificed was Pinchot, the founder of the conservation movement in the United States. Saturday the president nominated a successor to Mr. H. M. Hoyt, the efficient attorney-general of Porto Rico, whose offense consisted of joining with Glavis in an attempt to foil the looters of the public domain. When Ballinger refused to pass on the Cunningham claims on the ground that he had acted as attorney for the claimants, and turned them over to his subordinates, men with their "ears to the ground"—as was remarked by one of them—Glavis sought to save this valuable property by an appeal to the attorney general of the United States. In taking his rash step of insubordination the young land office agent felt the need of counsel, so he appealed to Hoyt, who had been a great government prosecutor in the northwest under Roosevelt and had been promoted to the attorney generalship of Porto Rico. Hoyt realized so keenly the danger to the country that he went personally to Mr. Wickersham and obtained the ruling that saved the coal lands. But because he refused to join with the administration in the whitewashing of Ballinger before the investigating committee and insisted on telling the truth, he is now out of the government service. Doubtless the director of the reclamation service, Mr. Newell, and its chief engineer, Mr. Davis, will soon follow. In these days of an "easy" president and unscrupulous and aggressive advisers, it takes nerve to stand against special privilege.

Up to the present time the donations of Wichita Falls' printing houses to the $50,000 packery bonus amounts to $340. Outside houses, who do more than half of the work, have donated $0,000.—Wichita Times.

Figures speak eloquently, when ordinary verbosity fails to convince. And no stronger argument in behalf of exclusive home industry patronage could be proffered than the Times has given in two sentences. A dollar spent at home is worth two sent abroad.—Amarillo Panhandle.

The Times object in reproducing the above is to give it a fair chance to "soak in." It can do no harm, and will, perhaps, do some good—if not for the Times, for some other home concern in the same line of business.

The good spirit that prevails in the towns of the Panhandle is very commendable, as is shown by the following from the Amarillo Panhandle, in speaking of the laying of the corner stone of the West Texas Normal at Canyon City, Amarillo having made a strong effort to lead that institution for herself:

"The laying of the corner stone of the West Texas Normal at Canyon City today was the occasion for a notable celebration participated in by citizens from almost every section of the Panhandle. It was a day of not only local but general jubilation.

"And rightly so, for it marks the dawning of a new era for a section of Texas which but a comparatively few years ago was in its civic swaddling clothes. The laying of this corner stone marks a signal victory for the Panhandle of Texas. It means a decided advance in the educational progress of the great plains country and added recognition by the authorities of the state.

"Amarillo is attending this function in common with various other Panhandle cities, making good her assertion that, while she wanted the school for her very own, she was, and is, none the less happy that it is located at Canyon City, almost within the shadow of the 'Queen City of the Plains.' Gladness reigns supreme, and the Panhandle spirit, a spirit of well-based optimism has eradicated sectional and community lines. The event is one for the entire plains country, and not one for any particular city or community.

"When the fight for this great institution was ended, it became a Panhandle pride and distinction, and as such it is esteemed. The Daily Panhandle joins in the rejoicing incident to the launching of this great educational enterprise. Long may it stand to bless and elevate the people of the Panhandle country and the state at large."

Wichita, Kansas, charges that Oklahoma City is padding her census by copying the hotel registers, and, ridiculous as the charge seems, the director of the census has decided to make an investigation into the matter before making his final report. Of course, the Times does not know on what such charges are based, but it does know that it will not do to accept everything as the truth that emanates from a jealous town. For instance, a paper published at a small town near this city was bold enough to make the charge that Wichita Falls was enrolling all the tourists traveling over the Denver to spend the summer in Colorado, in order to make her census show up to the proper figures. The director of the census, however, seems to understand the matter, and has not yet ordered an investigation.

Fort Worth has secured an automobile factory, which will be the first concern of that nature in the state, and now Abilene is going after one with good prospects of securing it. There are more than fifty different makes of auto cars, but nearly all their factories are located in the north and east but when one of them establishes a factory in the south, the others are apt to follow their lead. If Fort Worth and Abilene can secure automobile factories, why cannot Wichita Falls do likewise? She has the railway facilities, cheap gas, fuel oil, coal and water, in fact everything needed by manufacturing concerns that must compete with the world in the cost of operating their plants.

- Blackberry
- and—
- Currant.

The apple not only adds a very pleasing flavor, but reduces the cost, too.

ROOSEVELT TROPHIES.

Seven Tons of Junk From African Wilds Arrive in New York.

Pittsburg, May 25.—Seven tons of African hunting trophies, constituting a collection similar to that which Colonel Roosevelt has sent to the Smithsonian institution at Washington, are on their way to Pittsburg from Nairobi, British East Africa, for the Carnegie museum here.

Childs Frick, son of H. C. Frick of the United States Steel corporation, recently undertook a hunting and exploring expedition into Africa at his own initiative and expense.

His own trophies and several which he bought for the museum fill thirteen barrels and seventeen cases.

Among the specimens are an elephant, hippo, rhino, two giraffes, five zebras, elands, water bucks, wart hogs, rosin antelope, harbebeests, busk bucks, reed bucks, kudus, gnus, orablis, dikdiks, klipperingers, bullfrogs and various other antelopes and gazelles, a leopard, a cheetah, jackals, four hyenas, baboons, numerous monkeys, a fennel, and many smaller animals; a considerable collection of large birds, a very large collection of skulls and skeletons; tanks containing reptiles and snakes in alcohol and several cans of dried lion's meat.

Quaker Breakfast Foods

WHEAT—RICE—OATS

Have you served them on your table lately? They are just what the name, Quaker, suggests—simple and natural, yet substantial. They are so easily digested that a dyspeptic may eat them with a relish; they are so nourishing that a healthy person thrives on them. They are especially good for children.

Quaker Oats come in a sealed can, which protects them from insects, and at the same time preserves the original flavor of the cereal. Quaker Puffed Rice and Puffed Wheat are different from any other breakfast food on the market. That is why everyone enjoys them so much. They are already cooked, too. All you have to do is to set them in the oven and crisp them.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Sir John Hare is again considering plans for an American tour next season.
Frank Daniels intends to continue in "The Belle of Brittany" all next season.

Augusta Thomas' new play, "The Member from Osara," will be produced in Detroit on Monday, Sept. 5.
Adele Ritchie, recently the principal actress in "The Girl in the Taxi," has returned to vaudeville once more.
Lew Fields has announced that the run of "The Jolly Bachelors" at the Broadway Theatre, New York, will close next Saturday.

Of Lewis Waller's revival of "The Rivals," the Pall Mall Gazette says:
"We should have been very happy with more Sheridan and less scenery."
Laurence Irving will act next season in a new comedy by Harrison Rhodes (co-author with Mr. Wise of "A Gentleman From Mississippi") and Howard Herrick.

During the Chicago engagement of the New Theatre company special matinees will be given in Milwaukee, Springfield and at Mandel Hall, the University of Chicago.

Henry Kolker, now with the New Theatre company, has written a play which he calls "The Moral Right." It will be given an experimental production by a stock company soon.
It has been arranged that Miss Marlowe and Mr. Sothorn shall play a month's engagement in Chicago next season. Revivals of "Macbeth" and "Much Ado About Nothing" will be added to their repertory.

The revival of Pinero's "Trelawny of the Wells" is proving so great a financial success at Charles Frohman's Repertory Theatre in London that Mr.
Frohman contemplates reviving the play in this country.

The recently discovered Goethe Manuscript, the draft of "Wilhelm Meister," has been acquired for the Goethe and Schiller archives at Weimar. Various publishers and libraries offered large sums for it, but the owner sold it for a smaller amount, preferring that it should rest with the other Goethe manuscripts.

Miss Clara Lipman will be seen in an adaptation of Alexandre Bisson's play
"Le Marie d'une Etolle," next September in New York City. The play was originally written for Mlle. Jeanne Granier, who appeared in it through a long and successful Paris run. The title of the adaption will be "Marjory's Mother."

Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" will be revived at the Casino, New York, next Monday, with an all-star cast, including Sam Bernard, as Ko-ko; Jefferson de Angellis, as the Mikado;
Charles Ross, as Pooh-Bah; Lulu
Glaser, Louise Gunning and Marguerite Clarke as the three little maids, and Alice Fisher as Katisha.

Joseph Medill Patterson is at work on a four-act play that will, when finished, represent an elaboration of his one-act piece, "Dope," but will be known by another title. His "By-Products," on the contrary, was a condensation in one act of a four-act play called "Mary McLinda." The new play will be produced at the Grand Opera House, Chicago, soon.

Crecent City Wants Show.

Washington, D. C., May 26.—The rival claims of San Francisco and New Orleans to federal recognition in the matter of the Panama Canal exhibition and celebration in 1915 came to the front again today when a large and influential delegation from the Crescent City appeared before congress to argue in support of the advantages offered by New Orleans as the site for the proposed exposition. A week ago congress listened to the claims of San Francisco as presented by an equally distinguished delegation from that city.
Meanwhile the race grows hotter each day. Without waiting for the decision of congress both cities are actively going ahead with their preparations.
San Francisco has raised a subscription fund of $5,000,000 to aid the enterprise and New Orleans is also raising a large working fund.

"ALFALFA BILL" ISSUES DEFI.

Would Engage His Opponents in Joint Debate.
Tishomingo, Okla., May 26.—W. H.
Murray, "Alfalfa Bill," has issued the following open letter to his opponents:

To the Honorable Lee Cruce, J. B.
A. Robertson and L. P. Ross, and any other candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor:

Gentlemen: Each of us is competing for the democratic nomination for governor before the democratic primaries to be held August 2 next, and in order to accommodate the public in the matter of a "match-up" between us I hereby propose to you and each of you that we authorize our campaign directors and managers, to select a given number of places, not less than eight in number, at which we will all appear on the same day and address the public, rotating at each appointment so that no advantage shall be taken of each other in the matter of appearing first or last upon the program; that each be given one hour and thirty minutes in which to present his claims, and in order to prevent personal strife that neither is to refer by name to the other, or otherwise, except as a discussion of the issues before the public, and that each express himself pro or con as his convictions may lead him, upon the platform, principles or policies heretofore submitted in writing by each of us.

This proposition is made with the understanding that all of you gentlemen will agree to the same, and that arrangements be made immediately.
Said dates to be fixed at any time that suits your convenience, or our managers, after the 15th of June, and after fifteen days advertisement.

Awaiting your several replies, I am,
Yours truly and respectfully,
W. H. MURRAY.

Paris to Adopt City Ways.

Paris, May 26.—To persons who have read of the gayeties of the French capital and who have formed an idea that Parisians generally are in the habit of turning night into day it will be somewhat of a revelation to learn that next week there will be inaugurated the first all-night omnibus service ever run in this city. The fact that the people heretofore have never felt the need of such a service would seem to indicate that as a rule they are given to keeping early hours. The all-night buses will be run for a month to determine whether or not the venture will pay.

Rich Heiress Weds a Sculptor.
New York, May 26.—St. John's Episcopal church at Arden was the scene of a notable though quiet wedding today, when Miss Mary Harriman, eldest of the children of the late E. H. Harriman, the millionaire railroad magnate became the bride of Charles Cary Rumsey, son of Laurence D. Rumsey of Buffalo. Only the relatives and intimate friends of the two families were in attendance.

The Rev. J. H. McGuinness, rector of St. John's performed the ceremony, which was followed by a wedding breakfast at Arden House, the Harriman country seat. Miss Carol Harriman was her sister's only attendant. Mr. Rumsey had his brother, Lawrence D. Rumsey, as his best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Rumsey will spend most of the summer at Arden, while Mr. Harriman and her daughter, Miss Carol Harriman, and her sons will go to the Far West and the Harriman Islands.

Today's wedding is the culmination of a pretty little romance. The couple first met four years ago at some races at the Meadow Brook Club. Later Mr. Rumsey, who is a sculptor, undertook some work at Mr. Harriman's new house at Arden. He was up there a good deal and so got on intimate terms with the family.

The bride is the eldest living child of Mr. Harriman. She made her debut about six years ago. There are two other daughters, Cornelia, the wife of Robert Livingston Gerry and Carol, who made her debut last year. Miss Mary Harriman was her father's confidante in many of his business affairs and was trained especially to understand the management of the great estate at Arden. Mr. Harriman's confidence in her judgment was so great that he made her one of the executors of his vast estate. For some years she has been interested in settlement work and also took up a number of studies, her practical knowledge of biology being considerable.

Mr. Rumsey is thirty years old, and was graduated from Harvard in 1902. He spent several years in the study of art in Boston and Paris and afterward settled down in this city. He is well known in art circles, although he has not exhibited very much of his work. He had a bronze statue of an Indian at the Buffalo exposition, and later held an exhibition of his bronze work there.

The bridegroom's father made a fortune in the tanning and railroad business in Buffalo and has a large estate on Delaware avenue in that city. Mr. Rumsey inherits his artistic tastes from his mother's family, one of her brothers, Seward Cary, being a well known sculptor. Another uncle, Dr. Charles Cary is a member of the staff of the University of Buffalo and is one of the leading medical practitioners of that city. A third uncle Thomas Cary owns one of the largest hotels in Buffalo.

It's the Sure Dandruff Cure.
Men, and women, be sensible, what's the use of wasting time and money trying to drive dandruff out with harsh soaps and rubbers? Parisian Sage, the germ killer, completely rid your scalp of dandruff in two weeks or money back.
Mrs. F. J. Moreau, 9 Oak St., Concord, N. H., wrote Nov. 1, 1909, "Parisian Sage has done wonders in my case as a dandruff cure, for my scalp was in a bad condition.
Hair doesn't fall out as bad, the new is making its appearance fast. Am still continuing its use."
In over a thousand towns in America news of the marvelous cures of Parisian Sage are spreading. It is undoubtedly the greatest hair grower in the world.
It will stop itching scalp and falling hair in two weeks or money back.
It refreshes the scalp, gives it a delightful, comforting feeling, and is not sticky or greasy.
It puts the radiance of sunshine into woman's hair, and women who use it regularly are sure to compel admiration. It makes women's hair grow profusely; yet silky and lovely.
