ATTORNEY GENERAL'S REPORT FORESHADOWS FURTHER ANTI-TRUST LEGISLATION.

REPORT TO GOVERNOR

Recent Controversy With Governor—Elect Colquitt is Not Directly Mentioned.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 10.—Attorney General Jewel P. Lightfoot has prepared and transmitted to Governor Campbell his biennial report, and in it gives more than 100 anti-trust suits may be forthcoming in the immediate future. He says that data has been collected upon which to file these suits.

The recent controversy with Governor-elect, Colquitt is not referred to openly in the report, but Mr. Lightfoot at length deals with the question of the land suits, and the expenditure of the special appropriation of $25,000 and attempts to show that the results obtained in the land suits justify the expenditures that the state has made. He also tells of increased labors that have come upon his department from other sources.

The report covers part of the administration of former Attorney General R. V. Davidson, and consequently the amount of money collected and show in the report is very large, a large part of it being the Waters Pierce fine.

The social clubs of this state are dealt with and recommendations for certain regulations and restrictions upon them by the legislature in the sale of intoxicating liquor are made.

The report in part follows:

"During the biennial term ending August 31, 1910, this department recovered in judgments, costs and other claims the sum of $1,977,672.29, all of which has been deposited in the state treasury or disbursed as provided by law.

"We have examined and approved original charters for forty-one railroads and have examined and approved amendments to twenty-one railroad charters.

"We have examined and approved original charters for twenty-seven life and fire insurance companies, and have examined and approved amendments to the charters of sixteen companies already in existence.

"We have examined and approved the records for 898 series of bonds issued, totaling the amount of $21,139,128.28.

"As an illustration of the immense increase in this division of this department, the following comparison will be found interesting:

"The total amount of bonds approved by the department for the biennial term ending August 31, 1906, amounted to 232 series, aggregating $6,728,838.99, as against 898 series in 1910, aggregating $21,139,128.28.

"During the two years covered by this report there have been 11,642 indictments for felonies returned by the grand juries throughout the state, with 4405 trials, 2931 convictions, 1434 acquittals, 236 quibets and 4188 nolle proes.

"There have been returned 11,377 indictments for misdemeanors and 35,380 informations filed, out of which number 17,396 were convicted, 3763 acquitted, 456 quibets and 14,031 nolle proes.

"There have been 1409,581.46 imposed in fines, of which amount $586,523.67 has been collected, 107 of which have been won and twenty-six lost by the state. We have now pending ninety-seven suits, with others in course of preparation for filing.

"Aside from the land litigation, under the special appropriation, the department has collected much evidence and has filed suits against many corporations organized ostensibly for charitable, educational and benevolent purposes, and after the charters are obtained, the corporation is used as a means to open up and operate dram shops and gambling dens in many instances of the lowest type, resorts which have been the scene and center of debauchery and crime. Hundreds of such clubs have been organized and sell liquor on Sundays, election days and other times, forbidden by law to regular licensed saloons. They sell without state license, or restriction.

"Never in the history of Texas have corporate franchises intended for laudable purposes been so flagrantly abused. The secretary of state is practically powerless to prevent such abuses.

"When the articles of incorporation, organized under the provisions of law are properly executed and presented to the secretary of state accompanied

ALTHOUGH VOTE WILL BE LIGHT BOND ISSUE WILL BE ADOPTED

That the paving bond issue will carry by a practically unanimous vote is indicated in the balloting on the question of the issuance of street paving bonds in the sum of $25,000.

Although there was rapid voting early in the day, the voting became lighter as the day advanced, and at 1 o'clock this afternoon only 133 votes had been polled.

The election is being held at the City Hall.

DAVILLA OFFICIALS JOIN REVOLUTION

New Orleans, La., Jan. 10.—Cable advices received here today from Port Barrios, Guatemala, say that the revolutionary forces have captured many towns on the mainland after taking all the islands in the bay. Cape Triunfo, Bishop's Point, Tola and Micas have been seized and the rebels are advancing on to Cobuz. General Bonilla has established a base of operation on the mainland. CATTLEMEN HAVING THEIR ANNUAL MEET

Port Worth, Texas, Jan. 10.—The American National Live Stock Association began its fourteenth annual convention here today with a thousand members in attendance. The meeting will last three days.

Callan Speaks.

Port Worth, Texas, Jan. 10.—In welcoming the delegates to the Fourteenth Convention of the American Live Stock Association at the Myers Opera House today, President James Callan, of the Texas Cattle Raisers said: "The business is now circling about the dome of the National Capitol, and changes are about to come in National Legislation."

Mr. Callan said that the Live Stock Association was the most powerful organization in the country to protect the people from unfair tariffs and rates. He also complimented Governor-elect Colquitt, who is attending. This is the first time a Texas Governor has ever attended a Live Stock convention. Colquitt in a speech said he wanted the co-operation of the association to drive the "political asses" from Texas and bring about political rest.

President Jastro is presiding over the convention. The executive committee will this afternoon formulate resolutions for adoption.

Program For the Occasion Will Be Substantially as is Given Below.

If the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to be held at the opera house tonight beginning at 8 o'clock is not largely attended it will not be the fault of a number of our progressive business men who have worked faithfully today to arouse an enthusiasm in the work. General Discussion.

THE NORTHWESTERN REACHES HAMMON

MAIN LINE WAS COMPLETED INTO THAT TOWN ABOUT 9:00 O'CLOCK TODAY.

SYSTEM 286 MILES LONG

Schedule Will Be Extension of the Early Morning and Late Night Trains.

The Wichita Falls and Northwestern extension from Hammon, eighteen miles north of Elk City, was completed this morning about 9 o'clock, when the track laying crew reached the town with the main line of that road. It was quite an important event for Hammon and the people welcomed the new acquisition in a very enthusiastic and appropriate manner.

With the completion of this extension the Wichita Falls Route has a total mileage of 286, of which, with the exception of the line of the Southern to Newcastle and that to Henrietta, is a part of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern. The Wichita Falls Route is perhaps one of the best railroad propositions of its size in the entire country, considering the age of the line and has not only had a remarkable growth, but is enjoying a large business as well. Only within the past few months the line has been completed to Elk City, Orlan, Wellington, Texas, and now to Hammon, Okla., and it is the intention of the owners to continue building operations from time to time. The present line through Elk City to Hammon will be extended to a point further north in connection with the main line of the Santa Fe, and it is possible that the Wellington branch will also be extended further west, while there is a possibility of extending the Southern into Fort Worth at some future date.

The schedule for the new extension to Hammon, as anticipated now, will be as far as it effects Wichita Falls, the same as that to Wellington. The trains will leave here at 2:30 a. m., and will return at 11:55 p. m. Arriving at Albus the main section of the train will go to Wellington, while another will go to Elk City and Hammon, which arrangement will give Elk City two daily trains each way. The new schedule to Hammon, however, as explained by Mr. Kell this afternoon, will not go into effect until the first of the month.

AT THE RUBY.

The Ruby is showing an excellent program. It's headlines are Dowd and O'Dowd in singing and dancing and Bailey, the slack wire artist.

Dowd and O'Dowd's dancing last night is pronounced the finest work of the kind ever seen in the city and the large house that saw the performance was more than pleased.

Bailey, the slack wire artist divided honors with the Dowd and O'Dowd team. One of his acts was to walk on a slack barbed wire in his stocking feet.

NATIONAL TEACHERS PLANNING FOR 1912

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 10.—Morton MacCormac of Chicago, president-elect of the National Commercial Teachers' Federation, representing 30,000 instructors in the United States and Canada, which will have its next convention in Spokane in July 1912, has sent the following telegram to the Spokane Chamber of Commerce.

"The fathers of business education builded better than they knew. They sowed the seed which is today ripening into the flowers of the most practical sort known in the history of educational world. The business college has widened its influence until today we are a co-operative body of business schools, high schools, colleges and universities, organized for the sole purpose of strengthening courses of study along the lines of commerce.

"We are not only interesting the high school and college graduates, but also those who have been lax or uninterested in regular public school work. In addition, provide them with a salable education which is a passport for the best commercial enterprises and positive insurance against disaster.

"We stand for continued uplift, for progressiveness and for thorough co-operation among all forces of education, whose aim and desire it is to make practical and valuable our educational system.

"Originally the universities were the fathers and high officers of the college and the high school. Today we find the influence emanating from the business training school, dominating the future policies of our universities. The age is one of common sense practicality in education.

"The united efforts of our committee will be exerted along the line of making the forthcoming Spokane convention an epoch in the American school."

PROHIBITION IN NO HURRY FOR ELECTION

Will Not Ask For Vote on Constitutional Amendment Earlier Than Primary Day in July.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 9.—Tom H. Ball, chairman of the Statewide Prohibition Amendment Association, was in the city today and was asked his mission and what connection, if any, it had with prohibition, or the state of J. P. Wolters, letting him read it, although I understand it has been published.

"As chairman of the prohibition executive committee, I am not authorized to confer with Mr. Wolters or his committee, as to the date of the constitutional amendment, primary, in fact, I have not seen an announcement in the papers of the selection of Mr. Wolters or his committee to lead the anti-prohibitionists. I presume, therefore, his organization is holding over under the election which eliminated in the defeat of submission two years ago.

"I hardly think that the anti-prohibitionists should now insist upon holding the prohibition election as early a date for the reasons urged, as they had opportunity to settle the matter two years ago.

"The prohibition convention in its platform requested the legislature to submit an amendment on the regular primary day of 1911.

"In fixing upon this date, although many leading prohibitionists urged a later one, we simply adopted the date which the democratic convention first fixed in passing upon that question as the most convenient day to all voters to go to the polls.

"By that date the grain crops will have been harvested and the cotton crops laid by and the legislatures holding their convocations or primary elections to boost fortunes of candidates of their choice and to meet this abuse a uniform primary day was agreed upon and the date fixed. The prohibitionists only desire that full opportunity be given to both sides to organize, by such convocations or primary elections, and a settlement of the issue had at a convenient date when there are no party candidates in the field and the full, fair and free expression of all the voters had, without regard to personal or political ambition.

"The prohibitionists seek no advantage

GIN COMPANY IS SUED FOR DAMAGES

FARMERS' UNION GIN CO. IS THE PLAINTIFF AND J. D. EDGIN IS DEFENDANT.

HURT IN GIN ACCIDENT

Accident Occurred Last August—Case Was Called in District Court Today.

Damages in the sum of $1275.00 for personal injuries resulting from an alleged defective set screw are asked from the Farmers Union Gin Company by J. I. Edgin in a suit now in trial before a jury in the district court.

Edgin was injured at the Farmers Union Gin last August. He was caught and whirled around a shaft and his leg was broken in two places, four ribs broken, his shoulder dislocated and other injuries sustained.

The jury was selected and the examination of witnesses and the defendants will offer their evidence in rebuttal this afternoon. It is likely that the entire afternoon will be consumed in the taking of testimony for the defendant. The case involves some nice question of law.

The plaintiff is represented by Boone and Cobb and the defendant by Montgomery and Brittan and L. H. Mathis.

PROMINENT PLANTER Killed. Special to the Times.

Shreveport, La., Jan. 10.—F. O. Thopp, a prominent planter, died here this morning from the effects of a wound received during an altercation at Vivian, La., when he was stabbed by Daniel Hunt, his brother-in-law, whom he had horsewhipped. Thopp's father was also stabbed to death a few years ago in a difficulty at this place.

NEWCASTLE MINES INCREASE CAPACITY

Reports from the mines of the Belknap Coal Company, at Newcastle, indicate a very active condition in connection with the properties there, and future developments of an extensive nature are proposed.

Coal is now being taken out of Shaft No. 3, the digging of which was done in an incredibly short time, and with such progress that Supt. Sam Hardy, in charge of the work, states that he has no knowledge of another shaft anywhere that has been dug so quickly.

Those in touch with conditions at Newcastle say they look for things to move more lively than ever before and that a much larger force of men will be employed from now on. It is even estimated that the payroll will soon reach $1,000 or $1,500 per day.

Governor Campbell did not finish his message in time for presentation today and it will probably be read tomorrow.

Recent Freeze Did Not Kill Wheat.

The recent freeze caused no injury to the wheat and the growing crop is very promising in the report of J. F. Gullett, a progressive farmer living near Burk Burnett, who is in the city today.

Mr. Gullett says that a rain would be welcomed and would be of benefit but that the plants are not suffering for lack of moisture.

COMMISSIONERS COURT IN SESSION

CONSIDER LOCATION RIVER BRIDGE

The location of the proposed new bridge across the Big Wichita is being discussed uniformly at a special meeting of the county commissioners this afternoon.

It developed in the discussion this afternoon that there is a strong feeling that the commissioners will decide to locate the new bridge at the site of the present wagon bridge across the river. One of the agreements advanced in favor of locating the bridge at the site of the present structure is that it will be protected there from erosion by flood water by the railroad bridges. Another argument advanced is that whereas it is estimated that more than 400 feet of span must be constructed if a bridge is built at Scott, Lamar or

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—President Taft today decided that Commander Sims, the naval officer who at a recent dinner given in London by the mayor of that city, declared if Great Britain was even seriously threatened, she could depend upon "every man, every dollar and every drop of blood" in this country, should she be publicly reprimanded.

BAILEY JURY SECURED

Special to the Times.

Stephenville, Texas, Jan. 10.—The jury was completed this morning in District Judge Oxford's court for the trial of Jesse Bailey, charged with killing J. A. DUMAS WHEAT, FORMERLY TICKET CLERK FOR THE FORT WORTH AND DENVER RAIL, NOW TICKET AGENT FOR THE PRISCO AT BROWNWOOD, IS IN THE CITY THE GUEST OF HIS SISTER, MRS. CLARK FOWLER.

Travis streets, where as less than half the amount will be necessary if the bridge is located at the side of the present bridge. An argument used in favor of locating the bridge at Scott or Lamar avenues, is that an approach could be built which would always be above high water, whereas this would be almost impossible at the present bridge.

Questions that are being considered in reference to the location of the bridge are its accessibility to the most travel, proximity to the railroad yards, cost, danger of erosion, etc. It is not likely that a definite decision will be reached at this session of the court. At the regular session in February, however, a decision will be reached and a call issued for a bond election.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE EXPECTED THIS WEEK

Will Likely Be a Noticeable Drop in the Temperature Within a Few Days.

Washington, Jan. 10.—A cold wave of marked severity that now prevails over Alaska will overpass the northwestern states Monday and Tuesday, from which region it will advance eastward and southward over the middle west during the middle of the week and to the Atlantic and Gulf states during the latter part of the week, according to the weather bureau predictions. Abnormally low temperatures will attend this cold wave in the North Pacific states, the northern plains and Rocky Mountain regions and practically all districts east thereof. The principal disturbance of the week will prevail during the next three days west of the Rocky Mountains across the middle west by Wednesday or Thursday and reach the Atlantic states Thursday or Friday. This disturbance will in all probability be attended by widespread precipitation, especially in the southern states and the region west of the Rocky Mountains, including California, where the seasonable rainfall has been greatly deficient. A disturbance over Lake Michigan today will reach the Atlantic states Monday, attended by unsettled weather and local snows.

Storm in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—One man was killed, another fatally hurt and much damage was done to electric signs and windows here by a wind storm which struck the city soon after noon. The wind, which came from the west, attained in velocity until at 3 o'clock a six-knot gale was blowing. The wind kept at its high point for some time, dropping at 6 o'clock to a velocity of forty miles an hour, which weather bureau officials said would be maintained until morning. The wind was accompanied by a drop in temperature, the mercury falling from 40 degrees above at 2 o'clock to 16 degrees at nightfall. A further drop to 10 degrees was predicted.

A large iron sign protruding from the third floor of a building on Highland street was caught by the gale and torn from its fastenings. On its drop to the street the sign caught a smaller sign and both fell to the ground. An unidentified man was caught under the larger sign and instantly killed.

Michael Moriarty was struck by the smaller sign. His skull was fractured and he received other injuries, which it is believed will be fatal. Several others had narrow escapes.

An electric sign at the Blackstone Theatre was torn loose and it dropped to the ground, breaking a number of windows and slightly injuring several by flying glass. Plate glass windows were broken in many of the big stores. The wind caused such a storm on the lake that no boat ventured out of the port. Government life savers kept extra watch throughout the day, but reported no boats in need of help.

Decline to Consider Protest.

Paris, Jan. 10.—The International Aeronautic Federation decided today that it had no authority to consider a protest against and award of the International Balloon Trophy to the Americans, Hawley and Post, on the ground that the protest was made irregular. The federation declared that the protest should be lodged first with the sporting commission of the American Aero Club.

Vessels in Gale. Highland Light, Mass., Jan. 10.—Caught in a fifty mile gale off the Horn today, two barges and the tug Lyons are ashore at Peaked Hill Bar, and a third barge, the same tug, are missing and are believed to have been sunk. The number of men on the barges is not known.

NEW CONGRESSMEN HAVE EXPERIENCE

New Recruits Have to Take Course Before They Feel at Home at the Capitol.

Not so many years ago a cartoonist depicted four long graduated lines of Congressmen wending their way from as many points of the compass toward the Capitol at Washington. And ever as they wended they decreased in size, until those entering the majestic portals were as mere black specks of humanity compared with the ones just leaving home.

Of course, it was very funny and added much to said cartoonist's reputation for humor. And taken in a social sense it was merely an exaggeration of the truth, for Washington has a most extraordinary way of swallowing alike the petty legislator and eminent statesman, and making them feel lonely and new and uncomfortable.

But the Representative in Congress assembled is a most important factor in the industrial life of the capital city—a godsend to the boarding house keeper and a veritable boon to the agent for furnished houses by the season.

What renters of rooms in houses near the Capitol would do without him is a mystery and very many of the numerous recently constructed apartments which rear their flat top heads all over town would be sadly in need of profitable tenants were the Congressmen to remain away. Not that the local populace engaged in housing "Uncle Sam's" honorables make it a practice to fleece them, but the memory of days when their salaries were munificent compared to economic conditions dies hard and besides, a Congressman is here for so brief a space as to come under the heading of transient and be charged as such.

Going to Congress sounds awfully big in the provinces and the salary is still called princely there without any rising inflection of mirth. Country politicians, who have lived with ease on less than half the amount given them by a foreign Government to sign M. C. after their names and attend to a whole lot of other important legislative matters, think they can "put up at least at the best hotels and take life easy," when they get to Washington. But this same town with its open-faced avenues and splendid public buildings, come to the man who has won its popularity admitted to be the most expensive for its size within these United States. Unless the raw recruit, who will next month in larger numbers than for many sessions, usurp the desks and committees of experienced veterans in the art of running the Nation, are provided with surplus funds they will discover that they can get whatever they desire—if they pay for it.

Tolerantly Amusing.

He has ways all his own, this new member, very tolerantly amusing to the old inhabitant who has stayed right here and seen so many "take the course," as witty Senator Bryan once described it, impressed by the magnificent distances of Washington, the new member invariably seeks quarters as near the Capitol as possible. He wants to be on the job early and late. After breakfast the new member, for which week determine for the close observer how long the partaker had been in Congress—he often strolls over the House for a look around.

There is a certain pompous strut and proprietary air that none but men who have served in earlier congressional public positions previously ever assume to dodge. He has won and he is glad, and he feels that everybody here is his friend. In his native town he goes with everybody worth while, who may be here in Washington. This for the country member, no matter from which point he started.

That anybody should look down on an occupant of a seat in the House of Representatives is beyond comprehension. Gradually he begins to learn of "days at home" for the wives of members. He thinks it might be improper for him to go when his wife is not here, but loneliness overcomes opposition and he goes. His first enjoyable afternoon, goes again and gets into the habit.

His clothes are not just what the other men seem to be wearing. A frock coat and a silk hat appear indispensable. He writes to mother that he had thought his wardrobe complete, but these accessories are a necessary part of his congressional dignity. Somehow the money does not save itself here as it does on the farm. He almost wishes his wife had come along. Very many of them go home for Christmas return with the family. They do not like the cramped rooms he has been occupying. Maybe there is a young daughter and she has higher ideas. Everything desirable is taken by this time, and the only expedient is to rent a furnished flat or house at whatever the agent thinks he can get. Then the "season" is off with a bang.

On the day of the first public reception at the White House he and his ilk are early in line. To see the President is an honor. But it is doubtful if anybody can afford a second term Representative among this motley array. The recently elected think it is a religious duty to come out every time a card is brought to him by a port-faced page. And many grainers and would-be lobbyists don't know this!

The next Congress, which uproots traditions and puts in a Democratic majority, is going to bring these "topping" and the new members will "be them all until his head buzzes and his desk looks like a snowstorm with reminders and requests and promises. WEST VIRGINIA HAS A POLITICAL SITUATION

Present Legislature Must Elect Two United States Senators From That State.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 10.—Facing a political situation which no other state in the union faced this winter, the state legislature of West Virginia convened at Charleston Wednesday. The solution of the political complication which by the death of a United States Senator S. B. Elkins now involves the selection of two senators falls wholly to the democratic party.

Five candidates, including the active and receptive were in line to succeed Senator Nathan I. Scott (Republican), and since Mr. Elkins' death two others have been put forward for one or the other of the vacancies. One of the candidates is John H. Holt, of Huntington, democratic nominee for governor in 1900, and the other is Dr. A. S. Grafton of Mary's.

Other possibilities are expected to develop before the senatorial caucus. It is known that none of the seven men mentioned have received the pledges of thirty-nine legislators, the number required to nominate in the democratic caucus.

There is a disposition to hold the caucus as early as possible, for a prolonged series of ballots is deemed inevitable, and the legislature has allocated but forty-seven days to its session, which will include a number of important legislative measures in addition to the senatorial elections.

Rumors, which are the only indications of developments are that John F. McCraw and William E. Chilton, who for a long time have been rivals for the state leadership of the party, may join forces, that is, McCraw seeking the long term as successor to Scott and Chilton the short term caused by the death of Mr. Elkins.

State Senator R. H. Kidd, who as the senator of longest service will become the presiding officer of the state senate, has addressed an open letter to Colonel McCraw, declaring in favor of McCraw and Chilton as the senatorial combination.

The following are candidates for one or the other senatorships: John T. McCraw, of Grafton, for many years the national committeeman; Clarence M. Grafton, of Fairmont, Lawrence Tierney, of Bluefield, Andrew Edmondson of Weirton, John T. Cornwall of Romney, nominee for governor in 1904; John H. Holt of Huntington, nominee for governor in 1900; and Dr. A. S. Grafton of St. Mary's.

on his time. Besides there is a certain pride in realizing that even men way up public affairs of his State have to wait humbly until he elects to come to them, card in hand.

It is a boyish sort of pride and amuses everybody, but is sneered at by nobody, for the member is blantly unconscious of his reversion.

He likes to take friends to dine in the Senate restaurant and to frank letters at the postoffice while people look on, and to be allowed to in tones audible all over the chamber and galleries as "the gentleman from So and So." He has maybe had a hard fight and he has won and he is glad. And some of the foundations for the best and wisest measures emanate from his sort. It is only that he acts so differently later on.

Take a Representative to whom the winter in Washington has become a professional habit, and the only inducement that would make him try a tour on the monster automobiles would be a delegation from home. His wife has secured by select a day that does not conflict with the judiciary or the Cabinet and he can say "here's the great What-Do-You-Call-Him" without letting a trace of earlier awe creep into his voice. And, in passing, the senator who stays in office the farther he lives from the Capitol. Without exception the newcomers who have not been of the old regime at home start on Capitol Hill and end at Chevy Chase. Nor does this apply merely to plebeian sons of the soil in Washington Star.

Some Suspicious Persons

Enquired if we were "hiring" a certain "weekly" paper to abuse us.

Of course every time a spot light is turned on from any source it offers a splendid chance to talk about the merits of the products, but 'pon honor now, we are not hiring that "Weekly."

The general reader seldom cares much for the details of "scraps."

A few may have read lately some articles attacking us and may be interested in the following:

Some time ago a disagreement arose with a "Weekly." They endorsed our foods by letter, but wanted to change the form of advertising, to which we objected.

The "Weekly" discontinued inserting our advertisements while they were negotiating for some changes they wanted in the wording and shape of the advertisements, and during this correspondence our manager gave instructions to our Advertising Department to quit advertising altogether in that "Weekly."

Quite a time after the advertising had been left out, an editorial attack came. We replied in newspapers and the scrap was on.

Then came libel suits from both sides, and some harsh words.

Generally tiresome to the public.

That "Weekly" has attacked many prominent men and reputable manufacturers.

Our Company seems prominent enough for a sensational writer to go after, hunt for some little spot to criticize, then distort, twist and present it to the public under scare heads.

DISTORTION NO. 1 stated that we have been accustomed to advertise Grape-Nuts and Postum as "cure-alls for everything."

It has never been the policy of the Company to advertise Grape-Nuts or Postum to cure anything.

We say that in cases where coffee disagrees and is causing sickness its dismissal will remove the cause of the trouble, and we suggest the use of Postum for the reason that it furnishes a hot palatable morning beverage, and contains natural elements from the grain which can be used by nature to assist in rebuilding nerve centers that coffee may have broken down.

Likewise Grape-Nuts food does not cure anything, but it does assist nature tremendously in rebuilding, provided the indigestible food that has been used is discontinued and Grape-Nuts taken in its place.

CHARGE NO. 2 states that the passage of the National Food & Drugs Act compelled us to drop from our packages some assertions regarding the nutritive value of Grape-Nuts.

We have never been "compelled" to make any change.

Since the beginning it has been a universal rule to print clearly on every package exactly what the contents are made of.

Before the passage of the Pure Food Law the packages stated that Grape-Nuts food was made of wheat and barley.

We did not esteem the small amount of salt and yeast as of value enough to speak of, but after the new law came in we became as technical as the officials at Washington and added the words "yeast" and "salt," although we have no recollection of being asked to.

We believe that our statement that Grape-Nuts will supply elements to nourish the brain and nerve centers is true and bring authorities to support the fact.

Some state chemists believed this a gross exaggeration and inasmuch as the Food Dept. at Washington could easily harass grocers, pending a trial on the disputed question, we concluded that much the better way would be to eliminate from our packages such claims, however certain we may be that the claims are true.

Another statement objected to read as follows:

The system will absorb a greater amount of nourishment from one pound of Grape-Nuts than from ten pounds of meat, wheat, oats, or bread.

Some Department chemists deceive themselves as well as the public.

"Calorie" is the word which defines a unit of heat determined by the amount necessary to raise one kilogram of water one degree centigrade. On this basis a table of calories is prepared showing the percentage of different kinds of food. Butter shows 8.60; Grape-Nuts 3.96; milk 0.70. Remember the statement on the package spoke of nourishment: the system would absorb, but did not speak of the calories or heat contained in it, for the heat is not nourishment, and the nourishment cannot be judged by the number of heat units notwithstanding the fact that certain chemists would have the public believe so.

It may be remembered that we were first attacked and have since defended ourselves by placing facts before that great jury—The Public.

A good "scrap" is more or less comforting now and then, if you know you are right.

In the case lately tried, an appeal has been taken to the higher courts. We have unbounded faith in the ultimate decision of our American Tribunals.

Our suits against the "weekly" have not yet been tried. They are for libel and $500,000.00

So an attorney from New York spent more or less time for months in Battle Creek helping to find impurities in our foods, or dirt in the factories. After tireless spying about he summoned twenty-five of our workmen and took their testimony. Every single one testified that the foods are made of exactly the grain and ingredients printed on the packages; the wheat, barley and corn being the choicest obtainable—all thoroughly cleaned—the water of the purest and every part of the factories and machinery kept scrupulously clean.

That all proved disappointing to the "Weekly." There are very few factories, hospitals, private or hotel and restaurant kitchens that could stand the close spying at unexpected times and by an enemy paid to find dirt or impurities of some kind.

In ordinary kitchen or factory he would find something to magnify and make a noise about.

But he failed utterly with the Postum Works and products. Twenty to thirty thousand people go through the factories annually and we never enquire whether they are there to spy or not. It makes no difference to us.

He next turned to discover something about our advertising that could be criticized.

An analysis of the methods and distorted statements of the "Weekly" may interest some readers, so we take up the items one by one and open them out for inspection. We will "chain up" the harsh words and make no reference in this article to the birth, growth and methods of the "Weekly" but try to confine the discussion to the questions now at issue.

The "Weekly" hunted up this physician, and because he seemed to be poor, and as it says, "broken down," had him brought to Court to be exposed before a jury as the "only physician that had ever endorsed Grape-Nuts," but which the chairman of the "Weekly" when our attorneys asked him if the article he wrote about coffee was true, he replied, "yes."

STATEMENT NO. 5 reads: "The health officers of Mich., Maine, Penn., New Hamp., and other states in their official bulletins have for years been denouncing as preposterous and fraudulent the claims made by the Postum Cereal Company." We do not recall any criticism except from Mich., Penn., Maine and S. Dakota.

The average reader might think that the opinions expressed by the State Officials are always correct, but that conclusion is not borne out by facts.

As an illustration: About thirteen years ago the Dairy and Food Commission of Michigan for some personal reason printed a severe criticism on us for making Postum of Barley (according to his official chemist) at market price and selling too high. He was shown there was never a grain of barley used in Postum. His report was false and misleading. The governor dismissed him.

We believe that most of the state officials are honest, and on the other hand we are firmly convinced that some of their conclusions cannot be sustained by facts in scientific research.

They never criticize the purity of our foods, for so much we are thankful.

If our conclusions in regard to its being a brain food differ from their's and we are both honest and objective rather the advantage because under the law they can order us to eliminate from the package any statement if it disagrees with their opinion. Otherwise they would harass grocers.

SPASM NO. 3 SAYS: "The most dangerous thing in the world for one threatened with appendicitis is to eat any food whatever." Notwithstanding he knew that Sanger, C. W. Post advertised Grape-Nuts at fifteen cents a package for those so threatened.

This is intended to nuddle the reader into believing that we put out Grape-Nuts as a cure for appendicitis.

Mr. Post himself, has had probably as wide experience as any other man in America in this matter and observation of food as related to the digestive organs, and we proved in Court by the physicians and surgeons on the witness stand that the predominant cause of appendicitis is undigested food, and that it is necessary to quit eating food, and when the body requires food again, use a pre-digested food, or at least one easy to digest.

Dr. Ochsner in his work on appendicitis refers directly to the use of the well-known pre-digested foods that can be obtained on the market. He also brought out the interesting fact that in "after treatment" it is advantageous to take on a pre-digested food.

The price of the package (referred to by the weekly) is not known by us to have any relation to this question.

Our advice to stop using indigestible food in bowel troubles and to use Grape-Nuts food has been a great blessing to tens of thousands of people, and we hope will continue to bless a good many more in the succeeding years.

NO. 7 is a lire wire. It refers to C. W. Post and his studies and experiences in "Suggestive Therapeutics," or "Mental Healing" which further lead to a most careful and systematic study of the effect of the mind on the digestive and other organs of the body.

He attempted clinics in Europe and fitted himself for a future career in which he has become known as one of the food experts of the world, fitted to judge both from the material as well as the mental side of the question.

For about eight years previous to 1891 he was an invalid. In that year after being under the care of several well-known physicians he was quickly healed, by what to him was a curious and not well-understood method. Sufficient to say he became a well man, weighing about 185 pounds.

This experience challenged his investigation into causes of disease and their amelioration. Those studies and experiences developed a very profound reverence for a Supreme Power which directly operates upon the human being and this reverence for the Infinite became to him a form of religion which included honesty of purpose towards his fellow-man. A statement which will be endorsed by everyone who knows him closely.

He will make a public announcement in detail of these facts, and the Postum Company will cause that statement to be published in newspapers and magazines in due time. We suggest the reader look for it.

PREVARICATION NO. 8: "Post spends nearly a million a year in advertising and relies on that to keep out of the newspapers the dangerous nature of the fraud he is perpetrating on the public."

The Postum Company does pay out upwards of a million a year for trade announcements. Newspaper men believe our statements truthful or they would not print them. Large numbers of newspaper men use our products.

They are capable of telling the public whether or not we "bribe" them.

It may have escaped notice that we did not "bribe" that particular weekly.

NO. 9 states that the amount of the verdict will "be devoted by the weekly" to exposing frauds.

This is almost real humor.

We have two suits pending against the "weekly," total $500,000.00.

We haven't "devoted" the sum to any particular purpose yet.

ITEM 10 is a "discovery" that wheat bran is a part of Postum.

But the criticism neglected to men-

C. W. POST, Chairman. (With Company 16 years, from the beginning.)

DISTORTION NO. 12 reports Mr. Post as a "dodging witness." His eye is not of the shifty kind observed in the head of one of his chief critics. On the witness stand Mr. Post looks quietly but very steadily straight into the eyes of the hargling, twisting lawyer, trying by all his art to ask double-barreled questions and bulldoze and confuse a witness.

The "dodging" it seems consisted of replying, "I don't know."

Opposing counsel holds a book in his hand while he queries,—"I want to know if there is a single thing in your whole book here that suggests any particular kind food." Then followed some discussion between attorneys.

When Mr. Post was allowed to reply, he said, "I don't know until I read the book over to see."

This book it turns out, was written by Mr. Post seventeen years ago and probably has not been read carefully by him in the last fifteen years. It would require a remarkable memory to instantly say "yes" or "no" as to what a book of 147 pages did or did not contain, without reading it over—but such conservative and well balanced answers are construed by sensation seekers to be "dodging."

The attorney sought by every art to impress the jury with the fact that Mr. Post's belief in the power of Mind in relation to the body branded him as unreliable and worse.

The following is quoted from one of the questions:—"The lawyer reading from the book.)

"The writer of these pages desires to say nothing of himself other than as a simple instrument through which the Divine Principle chooses to manifest itself by precept and example.

"Skill in mental practice is gained in the same way as skill in any department of science—by observation, study, experience and the ability to evolve correct conclusions.

"Read carefully, thoughtfully no more than twenty pages daily. Afterward seek an easy position where you will not be disturbed. Relax every muscle. Close your eyes, and go into the silence where mind is plastic to the breathings of spirit and where God speaks to the soul. The thoughts from Divine Universal Mind comes as winged angels and endow you with a healing power. If you go into the silence humble and trusting, you will come out enriched and greatly strengthened in body by contact even for a short time with the Father of all life and all power. You will feel refreshed in every way and food taken will digest readily as the stomach works smoothly when under the influence of a Higher Power."

"I ask you if you did not write that, and if you did not believe it when you wrote it."

For a moment the Court room was in absolute silence.

Mr. Post slowly leaned forward over the rail, pointed his finger at the Atty's face to emphasize his reply and with eyes that caused those of the Attorney to drop he said, "Yes, I am proud to say I did."

To the frozen regions of the North where the soil lies dormant half the year and the merciless winds drive the stock to shelter and the farmer to the freeze, Texas offers a perpetual harvest and a land of sunshine and flowers.

Some people are born wealthy, some acquire it and others have it thrust upon them. The Texas property owners are now having wealth thrust upon them, as real estate values are increasing at the rate of a million dollars per day.

The good roads movement continues with unabated force in Texas and gathers momentum as it rolls along. Farmers, merchants and railroad men are all joining hands in the common cause and the result is bound to be good roads for all Texas.

Mereman has been relegated to his proper station and his position taken by enlightened womanhood in one township in West Union county, Ohio. In that township every male voter has been disfranchised for a period of five years for giving or accepting money for their votes and the only qualified voters are women, who are qualified to vote in the school elections. Men are also disqualified for holding office in the township and a number of women candidates have already announced their candidacy for the office of trustee and as members of the advisory board.

Galveston, though under a commission form of government, will apply for a new charter at the coming session of the legislature, and among other things that will be asked for in this new charter is a clause providing that all ordinances, before adoption, shall be submitted to a vote of the people. Such action, however, is only to be restored to after the commission government has failed or refused to adopt such ordinances for the government of the city. This proposed new charter also provides that any ordinance, accompanied by a petition of 15 per cent of the voters, shall be enacted by the commission within 20 days, or submitted to a vote of the people. Any number of ordinances may be submitted at any one time, but no more than one special election for such purposes can be held in a period of six months. To recall elective officials, a petition of 25 per cent of the voters cast by any year in the preceding election must be presented before the commissioners are authorized to order such an election.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

It is a good thing that the forces that inspire and guide the growth and commercial development should meet annually to review the achievements of preceding twelve months and look ahead and lay plans for activities during the year to come.

The annual meetings and banquets of the Chamber of Commerce have always furnished an exemplification of that pull together spirit which has made Wichita Falls famous throughout the country, and have marked gigantic strides in the growth of the city.

The reports of the growth and progress during the past year that will be read by officers of the Chamber of Commerce tonight will furnish a pleasurable surprise to those who have not kept a close account of the developments during the year.

The look ahead will show a future more promising than any ever faced at the opening of New Year's activities. The Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce today is one of the most virile organizations in the Southwest and The Times joins with every other citizen in wishing it more life and continued usefulness.

The speakership contest is just now claiming first place in matters political down at Austin. For more than a week now three of the prominent candidates—Gilmore of Van Zant, Rayburn of Fanning and Cox of Kaufman, have been maintaining headquarters and waging an active campaign. The two first named, Gilmore and Rayburn, are both prohibitionists, but the former is an anti-Bailey and the latter a strong Bailey supporter. Mr. Cox is an anti prohibitionist and the choice of the incoming governor. From a distance it looks as if it were Gilmore against the field. The Bailey men and the anti are likely to unite their forces on either Rayburn or Cox, and in that event Gilmore's defeat is almost certain. Rayburn, while a pro, is thought to be acceptable to the anti from the fact that he is not as pronounced in his views on that particular matter as is Gilmore. And another thing in his favor which will bring in his support many votes is the fact that he is a dyed-in-the-wool Bailey man. Gilmore has had little to say on the Bailey matter, except when it was necessary for him to express his views as a representative of his people, but he has never at any time manifested the least fear of expressing them in a bold, fearless and upright manner. It is this fact more than any other that will cost him the speakership. The pro representatives, or a number of them, at least, who are admirers and defenders of Senator Bailey, would rather support Rayburn in preference to Gilmore in the event they see that they cannot elect Rayburn will throw their support to Cox, the anti, and the favorite of Governor-elect Colquitt.

Speaker Joseph G. Cannon of the National House of Representatives, won another victory yesterday, when he forced the Democrats who voted to oust him from the speakership on March 17th of last year to revise their judgment. On that occasion the insurgent Republicans, assisted by Democrats, overruled the speaker on a motion to change the rules so as to take from him much of his authority. Now the Democrats are soon to rule the House, the same question was brought up and passed on yesterday and all of them, including Champ Clark, voted to sustain the speaker. In explanation of their sudden change of front, the Democrats admit their action of last March was merely revolutionary and resorted to simply from the fact that it was the only way they had of breaking the power of the speaker.

If the Senate fails to approve the whitewashing of Senator Lorimer of Illinois, the credit for the righteous act must go largely to Senator Beveridge, Republican Senator from Indiana, who is to be succeeded by a Democrat, Hon. John W. Kern. There is unquestionable evidence that bribery was restored to in the election of Lorimer, and Beveridge does not seem to be one of that kind of statesmen who believe that it is just the right thing for a man to buy his seat in the United States Senate. It is a great pity that Beveridge is to be retired, and that there are not more statesmen of his way of looking at things which smack loudly of corruption.

ago and will not be satisfied with a date earlier than primary day in July next.

"I have called the statewide prohibition executive committee to meet at Austin Thursday, Jan. 12. By that time both the senate and house will be organized and we hope to present to the legislature our request for the submission of the amendment upon that date with reasons therefor, and I have been in conference with friends in the legislature during the day for that purpose, as well as in consultation with them as to the form of the proposed amendment and at the same time have been arranging for the meeting of our executive committee.

"No, I am not taking any stock in the organization of either the senate or the house," replied Mr. Ball, when asked the question. "I am not a member of the legislature and do not feel that I should involve the prohibition organization or the committee in any matter concerning which I have received neither direction nor advice by the organization."

Mr. Ball left at 3 o'clock for his home in Houston and is expected to return Thursday.

AFTER DAD LANDED
The lady—What are you crying about?
The boy—Boo hoo! My dad fell on the ice.
The lady—Well, did he hurt himself?
The boy—No!
The lady—Then that's nothing to cry about. You ought to laugh at that.
The boy—I did and that's why I'm crying now.

A LITTLE TOO MUCH
De Plate—Good morning, Janitor. It's cold this morning.
De Janitor—Yes, sir, but I hope you don't blame me for that.

ALL POLITICAL EYES ARE ON NEW JERSEY
Legislature Will Be Called Upon to Elect a Democrat to Succeed Senator Keen.
Trenton, N. J., Jan. 10.—The legislature that is called upon to select a Democrat to succeed John Keen, Republican, in the United States senate convened at noon today. By common consent the senatorial contest is to be given the right of way and the indications are that all legislative business will be shelved until after the senatorship is decided. It is expected the balloting will begin two weeks from today. But it may be many weeks before the outcome of the fight is decided, for rarely has there been such a bitter struggle for a seat in the upper branch of Congress.
There are but two active candidates for the top, former United States senator James Smith, Jr., Democratic boss of Essex, one of the largest counties of the State, and James E. Martine of Plainfield, known throughout New Jersey as the "farmer orator."
Behind Smith is the Democratic machine; behind Martine, Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson, the first Democratic governor in New Jersey for sixteen years, and whose strenuous opposition to the election of Smith has formed one of the remarkable features of the contest. Martine was endorsed for the senatorship at the primaries last September and Dr. Wilson declares that the legislature should follow the endorsement.
So bitterly has the war between Smith and Martine been waged that the prediction is now heard on all sides that neither will be elected to the senatorship, but that a compromise candidate will be chosen. Senator Smith's friends do not say they can elect him over Mr. Martine, but they declare they can substitute a stronger and more capable man than Martine.
James E. Martine is a quiet and picturesque character. He is forceful, eloquent and convincing in his speeches, and as a spellbinder has few equals in the State. He desires to be known as a progressive. He probably has been a candidate for more offices and with less success than any other man in New Jersey. He has run for the assembly four times, for the State senate four times, for Congress twice, for governor twice and for the United States senate once before the present occasion.
Senator Smith, Mr. Martine's opponent has been considered the real leader of the Democratic party in New Jersey for many years. He is a business man and a multi-millionaire. His first political office was that of congressman in Newark in 1853. He held other local offices until, in 1895, he was elected United States senator. His term expired in 1905.

Among the Democrats who are mentioned as possible "dark horse" candidates in the event that neither Smith nor Martine can be elected are Judge Howard Carrow of Camden county, Clarence Cole of Atlantic county, Congressman Hughes and Kinkead, Judge Mark A. Sullivan, Frank Katzembach, Jr., and William B. Gourley.

(The biggest order ever placed by any firm or corporation for typewriters for their own use) because their own mechanical experts, sitting as a jury, said it was unquestionably the best.
They examined all competing makes, tested them under every condition of stress and strain, and voted unanimously in favor of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriters. This rendered you an invaluable service. Lacking mechanical experts of your own you can safely rely upon the decision of these five engineers, at the height of their calling, who were willing to stake their professional reputation on the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter.
Many large concerns have already been guided by this expert opinion and have standardized on the Duponts did, with the typewriter that stood the test. There could be no test more thorough, or more unbiased decision.

CITY BEGINS WORK ON SEWER DITCH

Overseer George Dobson set a force of men at work this morning excavating an outlet for the storm sewer into Holiday Creek. From the vicinity of the Farmers Union Club the storm waters will be conveyed in an open ditch to the creek; and old ditch is already in existence and this will be straightened and dug deeper. The main line of the storm sewer will run on Indiana avenue to Thirteenth street, whence it will turn diagonally toward the southeast until it strikes the ditch. At some points it will be necessary to excavate as deep as thirteen feet. J. H. Roberts who has the contract for laying the sewers has ordered a machine which will lay the cement for conduits of any size and is preparing to begin work on the contract as soon as the city excavates a sufficient amount to get a start ahead of him.

WORK PROGRESSING ON PROPOSED VIADUCT

Work is progressing on the improvements being made by the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad in the vicinity of Fourth street preparatory to providing the viaduct as per agreement with the city council some time ago.
Files are now being driven and other work executed with this idea in view and it is hoped to have the work completed to such an extent as will justify a change in the manner of crossing, within a short time.
In connection with this work the Denver is also making other improvements along their right of way and in the yards as a feature of the great amount planned for the present year.

OLD COMMON SENSE

Change Food When You Feel Out of Sorts.
"A great deal depends upon yourself and the kind of food you eat," the wise old doctor said to a man who came to him sick with stomach trouble and sick headache once or twice a week, and who had been taking pills and different medicines for three or four years.
He was induced to stop eating any sort of fried food or meat for breakfast, and was put on Grape-Nuts and cream, leaving off all medicines.
In a few days he began to get better, and now he has entirely recovered and writes that he is in better health than he has been before in twenty years. This man is 55 years old and says he feels "like a new man all the time."

OKLAHOMA CITY MAN LIKES WICHITA FALLS
W. C. McAdoo of Oklahoma City, has been spending a few days here and will leave tonight for a trip over Southwest Texas.
Mr. McAdoo has large real estate holdings in Oklahoma City and elsewhere in the new state, and is recognized as one of the successful town-builders of that commonwealth. While coming here only with the purpose of enjoying a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Dr. Robinson, as is his habit, Mr. McAdoo caught the spirit of progress that prevails here and as he expressed it, "before I hardly knew it I took an option on a $25,000 piece of property and I'll be disappointed if the deal don't go through."

Mr. McAdoo fully realizes the many advantages of cheap fuel, an abundance of water, healthful surroundings, etc., and the splendid working Chamber of Commerce membership, under which conditions he said the city's population and wealth should double in ten years.
The big new electric sign of the Westland Hotel has been installed on top of the building, but will not be illuminated until the building is completed and open to the public.

AMUSEMENTS.

Clyde Fitch's Comedy, "Girls." "Girls," written by Clyde Fitch and described by conservative dramatic reviewers as the best comedy of his career will be presented in this city Friday, January 13. This comedy prior to its production in America was played in Berlin where it ran for two years. On its production at Daly's Theatre, New York it was so well received that it stayed at the famous playhouse all through the summer months, making a run of 225 consecutive nights. "Girls" has been most generally described as a delightful comedy. Certainly its clever author could not have selected a more fortunate or inspiring title for his play. The word is no sooner mentioned than a mental picture filled with youth, beauty, vivacity and cleverness stirs the imagination—just simple, natural, unassuming girl-ness that sparkles with the radiance of its own glow of freshness and charms, is what is said to be found in Mr. Fitch's work. "Girls" tells the story of three young women who go to New York to earn their living and with the avowed intention to have nothing to do with the opposite sex. The trio live in a little studio where they set up their Lays and Penates, over the threshold of which they have never permitted a man to set foot. One of the most amusing scenes is the preparation the three make to retire for the night in sleeping accommodations consisting of a folding bed, a sofa couch and Morris chair. Just as they are about to turn out the light, in rushes a man—not a burglar, however, but a good-looking, good-natured young gentleman in evening clothes. He quiets the screams of the girls and assures them he was compelled to flee to their apartment for protection and that in order to be on the safe side he intends to remain all night. As he refuses to get out by the door, the girls compel him to cross the air-shaft to the next building by means of a thin wooden shelf. This is but one of the many humorous incidents the clever playwright has introduced into the three acts of the comedy. For characters there are three main players, only one of whom, however, is sincere in her intention: the girl elocutionist across the hall; the drunken janitor; the bachelor office clerk and others. That the three girls finally succumb to the charms of the sterner sex, goes without saying, but their efforts to resist and the gradual desertion of the man-hating standards form a quick succession of amusing comedy scenes and clever dialogue. Included in the company playing "Girls" are Mabel Mortimer, Lorraine Marshall, Kate Givont, Ralph J. Herbert, Adele Olcott, Chas. Dungan, Frank Raymond, E. A. Locke, John Dudley.

May Stewart.
After a long sojourn of musical and farce comedies, melodramas problem plays, the theatre going public seems to invite a return of the never dying legitimate drama in a more welcoming manner than has been demonstrated for several years.

Last season for the first time in more than a decade Paris arranged a series of Shakespearean performances, that proved profitable Vienna, the home of the legitimate drama, has announced a number of very elaborate productions of Shakespearean plays, while New York for the past season has supported one of the greatest revivals of Shakespeare it has had for many years. The most successful attractions on tour this year have been the legitimate. While Wichita Falls has had only one or two blank verse attractions this season they have drawn a good business and the same may be expected of Miss Stewart who is to appear here Wednesday night, January 11th in "Ingomar, the Barbarian."

KANSAS LEGISLATURE

AN IMPORTANT ONE

There Will Be Much Preliminary Skirmishing of an Interest.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 10.—The session of the Kansas legislature which has now convened promises to be one of more than usual importance. Though a United States senator is not to be elected until 1912 the issues of the coming contest are defined pretty clearly already and it is expected the present session of the legislature will witness preliminary skirmishing of an important character.

Senator Curtis, who will ask reelection two years hence, will be opposed by Governor Stubbs. Curtis is a standpatter and Stubbs a radical insurgent. To make his position more secure with the progressive element, which is slightly in control of the legislature, Governor Stubbs will champion several radical utilities law which will provide for a commission to have full control over all utilities to operate in more than one county. This would include railroads, express, telegraph, telephone and interurban lines. The governor will also fight for the initiative and referendum, the recall, and for a change in the constitution so that State officers may be elected for four-year terms and be ineligible for reelection.

This is My 82nd Birthday.
Daniel Boyle, one of the Irish members of parliament who recently toured America soliciting aid for the Home Rule cause was born at Killoco, county Kerry, Ireland, Jan. 10, 1829. He received a good classical education, being trained as a teacher. Instead, however, he graduated into journalism. He went to live in England and in early life began his public career in Manchester. He is now a magistrate of the city of Manchester, has been a member of the city council since 1884, was alderman in 1906 and chairman of the crossway committee of Manchester from 1904 to 1906. He was John Edmond's personal selection as a candidate for North Mayo at the general election last February and was elected by a good majority.

Senatorial Primary in Florida.
Tallahassee, Fla., Jan. 10.—For the fifth time within two years a State-wide primary was held in Florida today for the selection of a United States senator. The winner in the primary will be elected to succeed Senator Tallferro, whose term will expire next March and who is not a candidate for reelection. There are three candidates for the senatorship, William A. Blythe, a lawyer of Pensacola; John N. Stockton, a real estate dealer of Jacksonville, and W. P. Bryan, a Jacksonville lawyer. In the event that no candidate in today's primary receives a majority of the votes a second primary will be held January 31.

Making Up the Grand Circuit.
Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 10.—The stewards of the Grand Circuit assembled for their annual session here today. It is expected that when the meeting adjourns the route of campaign for the big line trotters and pacers for next summer will have been determined definitely. For the first time in several years the stewards have more applications than there are berths to fill. Indianapolis, Grand Rapids, Detroit and Dover, N. H. have applied for admission to the circuit, and it is probable that one or two of the applicants will be taken in.

Rescue of "Forestry."
Boston, Mass., Jan. 10.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt came to Boston today in acceptance of an invitation to speak before the Exchange Club on the subject of "Forestry." The affair was arranged under the joint auspices of the Harvard Forestry School, the Massachusetts Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association and the Lumber Trade Club.

Mugh Jennings Taken a Bride.
Scranton, Pa., Jan. 10.—Mugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit American League team, was married here today to Miss Nora O'Day of this city. The ceremony was performed in St. Patrick's Cathedral in the presence of many friends of the bride and the bridegroom.

Politics and Politicians

A meeting of the National League of College Democrats is to be held in Washington next week.

Representative William A. Jones of the First Virginia district is expected to become a candidate for the United States senate.

John M. C. Marsh, assessor of Westfield, N. J., and a life-long Democrat, has just entered upon his fifty-seventh year as a public office-holder.

What is said to be the first Harmon-for-President club in the country has been organized in Cleveland by 500 anti Tom Johnson Democrats.

Gubernatorial messages to the legislature have been abolished by Gov. Hadley of Missouri, who deems them ineffective. Instead he announces that men in charge of various State institutions will address the legislature on the needs of their respective institutions.

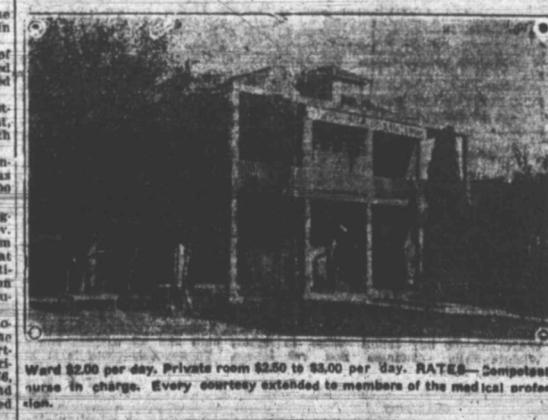

It was left to two bachelor Democratic governors of New York to be the first to appoint women to the important work of the State Board of Charities. Gov. Tilden, on April 23, 1878, appointed Josephine Shaw Lowell, and Gov. Hill, on Oct. 4, 1890, appointed Mrs. Bookman de Peyster.

For the first time since the Republican party was born, the State of Maine is about to send a Democrat to the United States senate. The man chosen for the place also will have the distinction of being the first Democrat to go to the upper branch of Congress from any New England State in almost a third of a century.

Trust Companies to Merge.

The merger is planned to go into effect about the end of this month. The new concern will be known as the Merchants Union Trust Company and its president will be John S. Brown, at present a director of the Merchants' Trust Company.

LORIMER'S SEAT NOW IN BALANCE

Senators Near From Capitulants and Come Out in Opposition to Adopting Whitewash Brush.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Whatever the outcome of the contest over the right of William Lorimer to a seat in the Senate as a Senator from Illinois, which is scheduled to begin in open Senate tomorrow, it is now here that the preliminaries have demonstrated in a striking manner the value of the Senatorial primary now in vogue in so many States as a means of keeping members of the upper chamber of Congress responsible to public sentiment.

At the outset of the Lorimer affair up to the hour when the whitewashing report was turned in from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, it was not the feeling of the public that a verdict coming from one of the big committees of the Senate would be sufficient to carry it to adoption with hardly a corporal's guard hanging up in opposition. No one seemed to imagine a chance existed of heading off from adoption the whitewashing program.

The powers that he had seemingly decided Lorimer was to be saved not only from expulsion but from discreditation. But the small, though aggressive element in the Senate that refused to overlook or condone the admitted corruption which attended Lorimer's election, backed up by many newspapers scattered all over the country, went to work so effectively that public sentiment was quickly aroused to the magnitude of the scandal and Senators began to speedily bear from their constituents in a way that warped back there was danger ahead if they acquiesced in the sending of the majority of the Elections Committee.

The result was the remarkable spectacle that has been witnessed in the last ten days. Senator after Senator, Democratic as well as Republican, who at first seemed disposed to go along with the majority of the Elections Committee and aid in the whitewash of Lorimer, has come out in opposition, until it now appears probable that if a vote can be forced this week a resolution to censure Lorimer on the very evidence on which the committee based its whitewash, the resolution will carry. It is the general feeling that incidents of this kind in the Senate have been the most potent factors in bringing about the Senatorial primary system.

Then he wants a larger appropriation for the maintenance of the state penitentiary and for carrying out the work of the sanitary commission. He would like to see this appropriation given in the appropriation bill, but if he can not get it there he will introduce a bill calling for a special appropriation.

Never a Cup of "Revere" Coffee is Thrown Away
Can you save the same for other coffees you have used or may be using now? If, when you make say 6 or 8 cups of coffee for a certain meal, it does not seem to taste good to the family they don't call for the second cup and you have a cup or two more left, what do you do with it? Throw it away most likely. You wouldn't do that with Revere. In the first place you are not likely to have any left it will probably be all used, it tastes so good. But if you do happen to have a cup or two left you would save it and put it in with the next brew. A pound of it will explain all about the why of it. Will you let us send you a pound? 40c per pound. Death of Little Hallie Trueblood. Oh, we miss thee, Hallie Darling, Miss thy merry laugh so sweet, When our hearts are filled with sadness When we see thy empty seat.

Empty now, that thou art dying, In the cold grave, silent breast Where the early flowers of spring-time Grow above thy place of rest.

We are sad without you, Hallie, And our hearts with grief are filled, For we know thy voice so merry Now forevermore is stilled.

We miss thee every morning, Hallie, And miss thee in the noonday bright, Miss thee in the gathering darkness Of the calm and peaceful night.

But we know that thou art happy, On the Savior's loving breast, And we'll try to be submissive, Since we know that thou are blest. (Your Sister in Christ.) Annie Courney.

MORE SUITS WILL SOON BE FILED

by the fees provided by law, he has no discretion to refuse to file same and grant the charter. He can not tell in advance that a corporation organized for charitable, scientific or benevolent purposes is to be used to open up a liquor dive or gambling den or both, and though the secretary of state has frequently required the parties to make affidavits that they do not intend to use the assets of the corporation for these purposes or to take out a United States internal revenue license, the parties have proceeded to open up bars and gambling dens.

The secretary of state can not investigate in advance because there is nothing to investigate, the corporation is not in existence and has no place of business until after the charter is granted. We have forfeited the charters of more than thirty of these corporations in various cities of the state, including Austin, Dallas, San Antonio, Waco, Sherman and El Paso. In the trial of one of these cases the district judge of Travis county found that such clubs were violating four separate statutes of this state.

"I am advised that there are probably several hundred of such clubs engaged in violating the liquor, gaming, Sunday and other laws of this state and provisions should be made by the legislature to enable this department to continue investigations of them and injunctions restraining their illegal acts.

"In this connection I would further recommend that the laws be so amended as to prevent any such corporation selling intoxicating liquors under any circumstances by making it a penal offense, punishable by fine, and imprisonment for any officer, agent or employe of any such corporation to engage in the sale of such intoxicating liquor.

"The act of the Thirty-first legislature known as the Robertson-Pitzhugh law, makes it a misdemeanor for any person to sell directly or indirectly intoxicating liquors without taking out license as a retail liquor dealer, and no corporation can become a retail liquor or malt dealer under the laws of this state. But, notwithstanding, I think it important that appropriate legislation should be passed dealing specifically with the conditions above set forth in order to put an immediate stop to all such abuses of corporate franchises granted by this state.

"The department has successfully defended the intangible assets tax statute passed by the Thirtieth legislature, which has added millions of dollars of corporate value to the tax rolls of the state. We have successfully defended the gross receipts tax act, also enacted by the Thirtieth legislature, through all the courts to the supreme court of the United States.

"The department has, upon request of the railroad commission, filed suits against railroad companies for penalties for violations of its orders. "It has also defended the suits against the commission, notably the case of Galveston chamber of commerce vs. commission. The case resulted in favor of the commission in the district court and was recently submitted to the court of civil appeals, where it is now pending. "Another case of far-reaching importance is the one filed in behalf of the railroad commission before the interstate commerce commission against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway and fourteen other strong lines to set aside a general advance in freight rates on practically all interstate shipments of freight to Texas. The department submitted this case before the interstate commerce commission in March of last year. If successful, this suit will result in saving hundreds of thousands of dollars to the people of Texas in freight charges. The department represented the commission in taking the testimony in this case, which was very voluminous, amounting to about 1000 pages requiring a month to finish the work.

"The close of the first half of the biennial term covered by this report found the department winding up and finishing the litigation under this law which it had spent more than four years fighting. "The last of these cases were finally disposed of just before I succeeded General Davidson to the head of the department. The brief time of the tenure has been largely spent in com-

The action of the Western intercollegiate conference in barring any games with outside teams has had an effect on the schedule of football games to be adopted by the University of Michigan, which must now look to the East for all its big games. When the board in control of athletics meets it will be asked to approve a tentative schedule for next fall that will give Michigan games with Princeton, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Syracuse, Nebraska, Michigan, A. and O. S. U.

The news that Hugh McIntosh has matched Sam Langford and Bill Long to fight at the Olympia, London, on February 16, caused much talk in pugilistic circles. It will be interesting to find out how Al Kaufman and Jack Johnson, reborn, this announcement. If Langford happens to whip Lang, it is believed that there will be another shuffling of the cards, with the Boston tar baby again making it unpleasant for Delany's California pugilist and the big negro champion.

It looks very much as if Langford's manager, Joe Woodman, has stolen a march on Kaufman in getting a match with Lang. A Langford-Lang fight could never be anything but a great could-never-be anything but a great drawing card, and Woodman figures all the time that by stopping Lang, the Boston fighter will then be in a position to force Kaufman into a fight on the other side. Woodman believes Kaufman will prove as easy as Lang, and that Johnson will then be compelled to recognize Langford.

Just now the golf world is embroiled in a war over what is known as the Schenectady putter. This is the club with which Walter J. Travis won the British amateur championship in 1904. It seems that Travis, who was then at the top from his marvelous game reached Sandwich, only to find that his putter, his most marvelous possession, had been deserted him. A fellow American offered him the use of his Schenectady and the rest is history. The curious feature of that championship is that Travis admitted afterward that he had done much better work on the green and added: "The singular thing about that Schenectady, which I used throughout the championship, is that I have never been able to do anything with it since. I have tried it repeatedly, but it seems to have lost its virtue."

Seven years later, just as an Englishman catches the point of a joke hours after everyone else, St. Andrew's decides that this putter, which so few Americans now use, is a bad thing. Hence all this litigation. The British are, and always have been, hard-keepers and are so fearful that Chick Evans or some other wonder from the West will wrest another championship that the movement for the standardization of golf clubs has been launched. But whether the United States Golf Association this month will bow to the St. Andrew's detactors is a moot question. Whether it will be war to the knife or a tempest in a teapot remains to be seen.

It Is An Old Question:

Which came into this world first, the hen or the egg?

Are what we lecture on this evening. It is time to discard that old diary of dead-beats and open a new ledger. There are some people in the world who are so fond of red that they carry their balances in that color, and a yearling ledger gets to look like a lithograph of two colors delineating the wonderful accomplishments of Opie Dill-dock. Get a new set of books today and separate the red from the black and charge the cardinal colored up to experience.
