MADERO ACCEPTS DIAZ ANNOUNCEMENT

ANOTHER ARMISTICE COVERING WHOLE OF MEXICO AGREED UPON TODAY.

PRES. DIAZ WILL RESIGN

Official Confirmation of Earlier Reports Received at Mexican Embassy Today.

El Paso, May 8.—Madero agreed to an armistice this afternoon. Before this was done some bullets had already fallen on American soil here.

Official Confirmation Received at Washington.

Washington, May 8.—Official confirmation of the intention of Diaz to resign when peace is resorted was received at the Mexican embassy from Minister de LaBarra today. Mexican official circles today were pervaded with great optimism as to the Mexican situation. They do not believe that the fact that Diaz himself is to be the judge of the time when peace has been reestablished and anarchy impossible will offer any stumbling block. The particular date of retirement is hereto considered of little importance.

Quiet in Mexico City.

Special to the Times.—The announcement of Diaz' intention to resign was received here today with mixed feelings of joy and regret. The revolutionists and their sympathizers believe the announcement heralds new political and social era in the republic in which the people will be given an actual vote in the government both civil and military. On the other hand there are those that fear that once the iron grip of Diaz is loosened that a reign of lawlessness will result. No additional announcements were made by Diaz today. In his manifesto last night Diaz declared his intention to resign as soon as peace is restored. As to when peace is actually restored Gen. Diaz reserves the right to be the judge. In the words of the manifesto, it will be given an actual vote in the government both civil and military. The President declared that his determination not to relinquish the Presidency at this time was not due to vanity or love of power, because, as he pointed out, power at this time had no attraction, accompanied as it is by tremendous responsibility and worries. He said he was prompted solely by a desire to conserve the best interests of his country.

Rebels Were Preparing to Attack Juarez.

El Paso, May 8.—It became known today that almost the entire central army of Madero was marching on Juarez, without their leaders' knowledge or consent last night when the arrival of the Diaz announcement that he would resign when his country is again on a peaceful basis ended the movement. General Madero had ordered his men to march on Juarez in good faith. They were obeying but his lesser chief already had Juarez in a dangerous net when the opportune news from Mexico City came. The clouds and rain made the insurgents' strategem noiseless and undetected, even by the federal arrangements for a new armistice to cover the entire country is expected to be made today. It is expected that Judge Carbajal and the insurrecto peace commissioners will meet this afternoon although no official word has yet been received.

WOMEN EMPLOYED AT HOUSE PAINTING

SAY THAT WAGES PAID IN THE STORES IS TOO SMALL AND COSTS TOO MUCH FOR DRESS.

CLAD IN MALE ATTIRE

They Take Places of Striking Painters in Fort Worth—Armed With Hat Pins.

Fort Worth, Texas, May 8.—Clad in male attire with spotlessly white overalls, Mrs. Minnie Taylor and Miss L. Johnson, this morning went to work at house-painting, being employed by Vance Baldwin, who hopes thereby to break the painter's strike. Both women wore hat pins in their caps. One had suede slippers with French heels. A large crowd of union painters went to the scene and had themselves photographed just to dispute the contractors claim that he could not find men for the job. Women say they accepted painter's jobs because the wages paid in the stores was too small and that they were forced to wear too high priced clothing while working. As painters, they say they can wear whatever they please.

Preparations for the Elks' Minstrel on Wednesday and Thursday nights continue and it is expected that there will be a large crowd at both performances. In fact the local membership will be disappointed if the S. R. O. sign is not out each evening before the curtain goes up.

The Saratoga restaurant installed an electric piano with which to provide a musical program for the patrons of that place.

MUSIC CONSERVATORY FOR WICHITA FALLS

Dr. B. Dunaeraki, a graduate of the Imperial Conservatory of St. Petersburg, Russia, and recently director of the conservatory of the Lowery & Phillips school at Amarillo, is in the city considering the proposition of establishing a conservatory at this place and has today been looking over the field with Secretary Day of the Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Dunaeraki expressed himself to a Times reporter as being very much pleased with Wichita Falls and stated that he had concluded to locate here if he was assured the moral support and patronage of the public. In this connection he stated that he would ask no bonus or require a financial consideration for the location of a conservatory at this place, incidentally mentioning that he considered the future prospects a sufficient inducement provided that he was given the assurance of a reasonable number of pupils as a means of assisting to defray the expense until the people became acquainted with the merits of the institution.

In discussing his plans Dr. Dunaeraki stated in the event he should locate a conservatory at Wichita Falls that it would cater to an extensive territory and would attempt to draw largely from without as well as from within the city. Piano, voice and the violin will be taught principally in

The Dream of the Mexican Revolutionist is at last to come true

VETERAN DIAZ'S PICTURESQUE CAREER

Thirty-Two of the Eighty Years of His Life Devoted to His Country.

Porfirio Diaz, president of the Mexican Republic, the man whose life threads are closely interwoven with the history of the southern Republic, has announced that he intends giving over the reins of Government. Thirty-two of the eighty years of Diaz' life have been devoted to his country, and it was under his guiding hand that the Mexican Republic has attained a place among the nations. Porfirio Diaz was born at Oaxaca and is of Indian descent on his mother's side. He was intended for the church, but in 1847, during the war with the United States, he enlisted in the army, though he saw no active service.

He studied law in the Institute of Arts and Sciences at Oaxaca, was associated in practice with Juarez, and became professor of Roman law in the Institute. In 1854 he served under Herrera in the successful revolt against Santa Anna and in 1859 supported Juarez, becoming chief of a brigade in the War of the Reform in 1859.

He later distinguished himself in the war of intervention, ably opposing the French. For his services in defense of Puebla (May 5, 1862), he was made a general. In May, 1863, when Puebla was captured he was taken prisoner. He soon escaped from prison and was made command-in-chief of the Republican Army in the South, this portion of the republic including the States of Oaxaca, Chiapas, Campeche, Tabasco, part of Puebla and Yucatan.

His defeat of Marquez and the surrender of the City of Mexico, June 21, 1867, marked the end of the Empire of Maximilian. In 1877 he was a candidate of the Progressistas for the Presidency against Juarez, but was defeated. He first supported and afterwards opposed the President,

BELOVED BISHOP HERE YESTERDAY

Make Annual Visit at Church of the Good Shepherd.

Yesterday Bishop Garrett, of Dallas, made his annual visit to the Church of the Good Shepherd, conducting the service in the morning, administering confirmation, and preaching to a congregation that filled the church. The Bishop took for his text that part of St. Matthew's Gospel which describes the healing of the paralytic let down through the roof. After recalling the scene, he said: "It is very un fashionable nowadays to speak of such a thing as sin and its forgiveness. Certain men, speaking in the name of science and philosophy, treat moral evil as non-existent, or in a natural process of elimination. The reputation of such statements is found in the unmistakable evils which come under our own observation, where men are to be seen addicted to dishonesty, wickedness, drunkenness, and lust. The cure for these evils lies not in ignoring them, and disbanding our police forces, and other forces of the law and order, but in bringing the sick ones to the healing power of the great Redeemer of mankind. The paralytic was healed, not because of his own faith, but the faith of the four men who brought him. And if you men should divide yourselves off on four, and find and bring the spiritually paralytic—the drunkard, the thief, the gambler, the sinner—to the healing influence of the Redeemer, you would revolutionize your town."

Then, adverting to the healing of the lunatic in the tombs he described the villagers as learning two facts, the healing of their neighbor and the loss of their swine. And ceasing up the merits of these facts, they asked the Christ to depart from their country.

The Wichita Falls Gun Club have moved their traps, etc., from the grounds at Lake Wichita to the old baseball park in the Eastern limits of the city, and will hold the opening shoot at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and all shooters whether members or not are invited. The charges will be one cent per bird as released from the trap.

Present Innumerable Amendments, None of Which Can Be Carried.

Washington, May 8.—The consideration of Canadian reciprocity was begun today in earnest by the Senate committee on finance. The Bailey resolution convening the Senate at 2 p. m. went into effect for the first time today. The farmers free list bill is up in the House, and the Republicans although having no hope that their numerous amendments would be adopted insisted upon having each amendment repudiated by the Democrats in regular order. Not a vote on the free list will come late today is the prospect this afternoon. The House today recommended an investigation of the American Sugar Refining Company and all other sugar manufacturing concerns, to ascertain whether there had been any violation of the anti-trust laws. It is declared practically certain that the Ways and Means committee will put raw wool on the free list in revising schedule K. The Cunningham coal land claims which brought about the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy were argued today before Secretary of Interior Fisher. Today's hearing is to decide whether Cunningham claims shall be granted patents to their coal lands or whether these lands shall revert to public domain.

Work on the jail has been suspended temporarily pending an adjustment of a controversy with the steel contractor which seems to be unable to furnish certain patented locks for which the contractor, Fritz Ernst, has refused to guarantee against delay in the work, after which to them the contract was given. As the matter stands, unless an adjustment is made, it is understood the county will claim the forfeit as per agreement made, and it is possible that another contract will be entered into, with which event work may be resumed on the building for several weeks. The commissioners court which met in regular session this afternoon will dispose of this matter during the term, and it is understood that it is possible that both the companies involved are in the city to look after the interests of their firms.

JEALOUSIES AMONG ELK'S MINSTREL STARS IS PACIFICALLY ADJUSTED

The sale of reserved seats for the Elks Minstrel which is to be given at the Wichita Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday nights, opened with a rush this morning at Marchman's Drug Store. There was a continual string of people all day exchanging their tickets for the reserved seats, and the Elks are guaranteed two packed houses for their show. However, there are still some very choice seats left. The boys held a most interesting rehearsal yesterday afternoon. Everyone taking part was there, and knew his part, so the practice looked almost like a professional performance. Some trouble came up, but was settled after a lot of factful work on the part of the directors. It seems that the star's dressing room at the theatre had been assigned to Dr. Amazon and that the directors had promised P. P. Langford that he should have a valet to assist him. W. M. McGregor at once protested, demanding star privileges saying that he was as good, if not a better actor than either Dr. Amazon or Mr. Langford, so the directors asked Mr.

FOUR INJURED IN OKLAHOMA CITY RIOT

CHIEF OF POLICE HUBATKA IS STRUCK IN ENDEAVORING TO DISPERSE CROWDS AND N4 NABADLY BRUISED.

BLOCK THE CAR TRACKS

Motormon Runs Car Into Crowd—Conductor Martin Arrested After Being Roughly Handled.

Oklahoma City, May 8.—Following a mass meeting of organized labor at the Auditorium Sunday morning a crew of over one thousand men blocked the street cars at Grand avenue and Broadway, and four men were injured among them John Hubatka, chief of police. One shot was fired in the crowd. George Martin, conductor, was arrested and lodged in the county jail on a charge of criminal carelessness. Labor leaders declare that automobiles will be put in operation Monday morning, some lines parallel to those of the Oklahoma Railway Company. Street car service was given all of Sunday. The trouble occurred soon after adjournment of a mass meeting called by representatives of organized labor in Oklahoma City. The police chief and William Egbert, a union painter, who resides at 800 West Washington, were struck by Culbertson street car No. 37. The injuries sustained by Egbert and Hubatka are said to be of a very serious nature. George Martin, conductor on the Culbertson car, was attacked by men of the crowd and bruised about the head. Martin was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Fred Hagler at 611 North Olive street, and was lodged in the county jail. He was charged with criminal carelessness. Tom Davis, an electrician, who gave his address at 1114 West California, was shot in one of his fingers soon after the two men were struck by the Culbertson car. He said someone drew a gun in the crowd and exclaimed: "I will kill you," and that he grabbed the gun just as it was discharged. Chief Hubatka was bruised about the head and shoulders. An adjustment of the matter pending the crowd formed a parade to the Auditorium. Four street cars were blocked to the east in the center of Grand avenue. At Robinson avenue, an East Fourth street car was forced to stop on account of the crowd which blocked the tracks. A small demonstration was made by the crowd, but upon the arrival of Sheriff Spain and deputies in an automobile, the tracks were cleared and the car permitted to move on. Several cars came and with little delay moved on. The crowd jeered the motormen and conductors, but no attempts were made to interfere with the service until Culbertson's car came. This car came to a rapid speed. The motormen jumped at the wire when it turned the corner. The crowd scrambled to get out of its way and in an effort to clear the tracks Chief Hubatka was struck as was Egbert. This infuriated the crowd several members of which made a rush for the operator of the car. Martin was badly beaten, but officers dispersed the crowd and took Martin to the police station. Martin was released by the police officers. Egbert was taken to the city dispensary, and Chief Hubatka to the office of Dr. J. F. Senhaub.

According to City Physician J. W. Riley, who attended Egbert, the latter

Building Testing Park Around Factory Site

Work on the automobile factory is now well under way and contractor McAbee has a large force of men laying brick on the walls of the main building. The walls have been completed to a height of something like two feet and the structure will soon acquire the appearance of an extensive building.

In addition to the progress being made on the brick work, considerable work of the machinery in the way of structural steel is enroute and it is expected that the work can be pushed forward without delay and that the factory will be ready for operation within the next few months. In addition to the construction of the buildings there is considerable other work to be done in the way of building tenant houses for those who will be employed in the factory; as well as constructing an automobile driveway and testing track around the entire fifty acres of ground.

Wayne, Ind., and Schenck, W. Y., on business for the company. W. L. Kemper, who is superintending the construction of the plant and who will manage the business when completed, will leave for Fort Worth tonight to join Mr. Hobson on his visit to points mentioned above.

It is the purpose of these gentlemen to make purchases on the trip for the plant now under course of construction, the engines to be secured from Joplin, while the dynamos and other electrical equipment will be bought from Fort Wayne and Schenck.

In connection with the construction of the plant the work of laying the conduit in the paving district has been completed and the construction of the power house has progressed as far as the workmen can go until the walls of the Bennett & Hardy building are completed. It has been announced that matters will be rushed as rapidly as conditions will admit and that the plant will be in operation within the time indicated in the franchise and heretofore announced in The Times.

Gainesville Will Send Big Delegation to Convention

At a meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association last evening a movement was launched for the purpose of organizing a large delegation to attend the State Convention at Wichita Falls, May 23-25, when a strenuous effort will be made to obtain the 1912 State Convention for Gainesville.

It is proposed that at least one hundred representatives of the business interest of Gainesville go to Wichita Falls in a body, wearing badges and some unique dress, accompanied by a band, and make the effort of their lives to land this convention.

A resolution was passed to the effect that inasmuch as practically every member of the Retail Merchants' Association is a member and supporter of the Commercial Club, and that inasmuch as this proposed movement will be somewhat expensive, but a splendid advertisement for Gainesville, the Commercial Club should be asked to cooperate with the Retail Merchants' Association by lending financial and other assistance. A committee was appointed to call upon Judge Potter with reference to the matter.

The convention will bring several hundred business men from all over the state into town for three days where their convention is held. Let's land it!

TWO ARE BURNED TO DEATH AT BOBSTOWN

Two Others Probably Fatally Burned in Fire That Destroyed the City Hotel.

Robstown, Texas, May 8.—The bodies of two men were found in the ruins of the City Hotel which burned at four o'clock this morning here. Two buildings were destroyed. Four persons who narrowly escaped were so badly burned they were hurried to a Corpus Christi hospital.

The dead are A. W. Harwood, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Clarence S. Peue of San Antonio who lost his life after saving several guests. Robert Lee of Beeville and Dr. Denman of Goliad were perhaps fatally burned. The other dead and injured were all members of the Southwestern Telephone Co. Late today it was believed a lamp in a bathroom started the blaze which spread so quickly that it had ready cut off the stairway before the alarm was given. The loss is about twenty thousand dollars, partly covered by insurance.

SPECIALIZATION

When we started business at Dallas we carried a general line, eventually we found it necessary to SPECIALIZE, we discontinued one line, then another, till we sold nothing but Men's and Boy's Wearables. This was many years ago, this many years proved our judgment good, for we had continual success, making new customers daily, and better customers of the old, because we specialized on Men's and Boy's Wearables, giving that line our best and undivided attention, with a view of how to serve our trade best.

Commercial Secretaries to Hold District Meeting.
A meeting of the Commercial Secretaries of the Brownwood section was held at Brownwood Thursday May 4th for the purpose of organizing a district association of Commercial Secretaries. D. F. Johnson, Secretary of the Brownwood Commercial Club invited the call for the meeting, and the counties of Brown, Comanche, Edwards, McLoughlin, Erath and Hamilton were represented at the convention. Mr. C. V. Strain of the Frisco addressed the meeting on the subject of immigration. The primary purpose of the organization is to encourage immigration of new settlers from other states to that section of Texas.

Good Roads Meeting.
Mr. V. T. Loderer, president of the Farmers' Union of Texas, addressed a good roads meeting at Comanche Saturday in the interest of the $100,000 road bond issue which is on foot in that county. The bond issue was recently defeated but another election has been called and it is believed will carry by a large majority.

New Park at San Antonio.
A tract of land one mile long and two hundred feet wide will be deeded to the city of San Antonio by Mr. F. E. Collins of that city for a public park and play ground. This park is being improved by Mr. Collins at an expense of $50,000. Miniature lakes, swimming pools, etc., are being constructed and the place will be one of the most beautiful scenic parks in the southwest.

McKinney Cotton Mill.
A stock company at McKinney, composed entirely of local business men, has erected a $200,000 cotton mill which is now in operation, and which is the only mill west of the Mississippi River manufacturing colored cotton cloth in any weight.

Galveston Industrial Notes.
An election was held at Paris last week voting bonds to the amount of $100,000 for the improvement of public highways in Lamar county, which carried by an overwhelming majority. Grapeland will vote on a bond issue of $10,000, for erecting a school building.

Wharton Potatoes.
The different railroad running into the Wharton country have been gathering statistics showing that 950 cars of potatoes will be shipped from this famous potato section this season and it is believed that the potato crop this year will be fully two weeks in advance of the usual season.

Louisiana Farmers Come to Texas.
A number of sugar cane farmers of Louisiana have recently made heavy investments in the Harlingen Valley in Southwest Texas, the famous sugar cane district of the state, and will engage in the sugar cane industry. The Bureau of Census in their 1909 reports showed that Texas had $700,000 invested in the manufacture of sugar from cane and it is estimated by those in close touch with the situation that the sugar cane products 1911 will be fully three times as great as those reported by the Bureau in 1909.

Brewster County Apples.
The planting of apples in Texas is becoming more widespread every year and the Texas apple is gaining in popularity in all markets of the country. Brewster county farmers are planting a large acreage of apples this year and believe that apple raising in that section has a bright future.

Through Cent Rate in Florida.

The agreement is the result of several years' litigation.

our factories using 5,147,000 pounds of cotton and 25,711,000 pounds of wool during 1910. The report shows that 91,829,000 square yards of carpets and rugs were manufactured in the United States last year; we import 670,958 square yards and export 67,088 square yards.

Automobile Factory.
The good roads campaigns which have been carried on with such vigor in Texas during the past year have created an unusual demand for automobiles in Texas, and large automobile firms in the north are establishing plants in the state.

Ground was broken for the foundation of an auto factory at Wichita Falls last week and construction on this important enterprise began. Machinery for the building will be in readiness by the time the building is completed.

Every factory added to Texas' list of enterprises is another furrow turned in the industrial field of the state and marks another page in the record of progress for the coming year.

Texas Feeding Ground for the Nation.
Uncle Sam has decided to locate his feeding pens for live stock in Texas and he has driven a large portion of his herd from Kansas, Iowa, Oklahoma and other states into Texas to winter. Heretofore we have been shipping our cattle to other states to fatten and prepare for the market, but conditions have been reversed this winter and Texas is getting the business. Uncle Sam likes Texas better every day and the mild climate and winter grass makes our ranges the best feeding grounds for the nation. Texas is fast coming into her own.

Outside Stock Pasturing in Texas.
There were several car loads of cattle shipped to Texas recently from neighboring states to be fattened on the Texas range for northern markets. This is the first time in many years that cattle from other states have had to seek the Texas pastures and is evidence of the prosperous condition of this state and our ability to take care of the stock of all other states.

The recent rains over the state have put the Texas range in good condition, and stock raisers and the cattle raising districts are optimistic over the outlook.

In the expenditure of $6,000,000 Galveston has been made safe against possible storm danger by building the sea wall and raising the grade in portions of the city. A total of 16,421,400 cubic yards of sand has been pumped out of the ocean and used in raising the grade in portions of the city as high as 21 feet. It is one of the greatest engineering feats of the age.

The flag of twenty-eight nations floated from a vessel sailing cargo from Galveston last year, carrying $173,132,105 worth of merchandise to foreign countries. The United Kingdom took the largest supply, Germany second and France third.

In assuming the advantages of a community, the most important things are a good telephone line and an improved system of public highways.

The Best Preserves Olives and Sweet Relish in Town

Yes, we are absolutely safe in saying that in each case, for we have these three items packed under the Bismark Brand, which guarantees the quality positively.

The olives are the Big Queen variety, beauties to look at and delicious to eat and only 50c per quart jar.

The preserves are pure fruits and granulated sugar put up in the most approved manner. Your choice of Peach, Strawberry or Blackberry at 40c per quart jar.

The Sweet Relish is something a little out of the ordinary. Most relishes are sharp and peppery; this one has a very piquant taste, but borders on the sweet—not too sweet, though. A quart jar is 35c.

Let us send you a jar of each of these

Nicknames of Famous Men

By Major Ben C. Thurman in Houston Post

The use of origin of nicknames for many of our presidents and generals, and other public characters, and very many of our cities and States, has for half a century given me a good deal of interest and innumerable hours of research; although of course, it would be impossible for anyone to present an article on such a complex subject with completeness, writes Major Ben C. Thurman in the Los Angeles Times.

We are all aware that Washington became known early after the revolutionary war as the "Father of His Country," but few of us are aware of the fact that Aaron Burr, the man who killed Alexander Hamilton in a duel at Weehawken, N. J., about 100 years ago, was the author of the appellation? We all know that Andrew Jackson received the nickname of "Old Hickory" early in the 20s, but how many people have traced the bestowal of the nickname to an old New Hampshire democrat named Isaac Hill? Or that Jackson bestowed the nickname of "Martie" on Martin Van Buren? We are all an affectionate terms with "Old Abe," but not many are aware of the fact that it was Stephen A. Douglas who referred first to Abraham Lincoln in that way, and that it was George Alfred Townsend who accompanied Mr. Lincoln from Springfield to Washington in February, 1861, as correspondent of the Philadelphia press, who first applied the term of "Father Abraham" in a newspaper. And it was President Lincoln, after Andrew Johnson had made one of his last Union-speeches in the United States senate, in February-1862, who called the great Tennesseean who was afterward generally known as "Old Andy," or just plain "Andy Johnson."

Many of our presidents were given nicknames. John Quincy Adams was known as the "Great Commoner." Monroe will always be remembered by the "Doctrine" that is connected with his name. William Henry Harrison was "Tippecanoe," on account of his splendid Indian victories in Indiana in the late 30s. And Benjamin Harrison was widely cartooned and referred to by democrats as "My Grandfather's Hat." President Zachariah Taylor earned the sobriquet of "Rough and Ready" during the Mexican war. Buchanan was known as "Old Buck" and as "Jimmy Buchanan."

Andrew Johnson was often referred to by his enemies as "His AGENCY," Grant earned his nickname during the war, the best of them being "Unconditional Surrender Grant." Dana of the Sun called Hayes "S. to T. Hayes," and still meaner names, none of which followed the president to his grave. Another was often "Prince Arthur." McKinley was either "Major" or "Bill McKinley." Cleveland was just "Grover," Roosevelt, "Teddy," and Taft "Bill."

Away back many years ago S. D. Ga while leading a brigade mounted and with his hat in his hand, leading his troops; General Jim Steadman was Sure and Steady; Gordon Granger was Fighting Granger; Sweeney was One-Armed Sweeney; Rousseau was Hand-some Rousseau; Crittenden was Love-ly Tom Crittenden; Hancock was the Superb; McClellan was Little Mac; Sprague was the Fighting Governor, and had two horses killed under him at the first battle of Manassas (Bull Run); Heintzleman was Old Heintz, called so first by President Lincoln; Logan was Black Jack, and the McCooks were the McCooks always; General Thomas Jefferson Woods was familiarly spoken of as Tom Wood—he had been in the Mexican war and was looked upon by Thomas as one of the safest division commanders; Still was the Dashing General and was killed in the battle of Stone river on the first day of the fight, Wednesday, December 31, 1862; Turchia was the Little Russian General, and could out-swear any officer in the army of the Confederacy; Ogilvie was Safe and Steady and always had a "chip on his shoulder"; Don Carlos Buell was for at least a year known as the Traitor Buell, all though he saved Grant at Shiloh, crossing the Tennessee river with two divisions at midnight on Sunday, April 6, 1862, when Grant's army had been beaten by Albert Sidney Johnston, and Beauregard had lay on the banks of the river at Pittsburg Landing; the greatest of the Smiths was Baldy Smith, and Jeff C. Davis was the Born Fighter; Mitchell, who died at Huntsville in 1862, was Geography Mitchell; Custer, who graduated after the civil war had commenced, was a dashing cavalry officer and was called Hard, some Custer; the same may be said of Merritt, and as everybody knows, Colonel W. G. Cody is Buffalo Bill. There were a few obnoxious nicknames, but I can not offend by presenting them.

Of Confederate commanders, Stonewall Jackson was the best and most affectionately known. I once made three in Egypt, Morocco and the Holy Land, and saw dozens of donkeys named Stonewall Jackson and Mark Twain, but I never rode on a donkey named Washington, Lincoln, Grant or Lee; a good many were called Mahomet, Ramesses III and once in a while one was named Gladstone. General Joseph E. Johnston was the Game Cock of the Confederate army, McCullough, who was killed at Pea Ridge, was always Ben McCullough; Wheeler was Fighting Ben Wheeler; Cleburne, who was killed at Franklin, on the last day of November, 1864, was Fighting Pat Cleburne, and there was Timmerous of others undoubtedly. I do not know many great American editors, who were given nicknames, that lasted, or became well known. But Horace Greeley received the nickname of the White-Coated Philosopher and it remained with him from the forties until he died. James Gordon Bennett, Sr., was nicknamed by Greeley, His Santanic Majesty in the forties and he carried the appellation with him to the grave. Henry J. Raymond, because he left the Tribune in 1857 to become editor-in-chief

Election in Oakland. Oakland, Cal., May 8.—Much interest centers in tomorrow's municipal election in Oakland, the first to be held under the new charter providing for a modified form of government by commission. A mayor-auditor and four commissioners are to be elected. The nominations were made at a primary conducted on nonpartisan lines and by the elimination system. Mayor Frank K. Mott is a candidate for reelection. His opponent on the ticket is Thomas Booth, who is affiliated with the Socialists party.

Sixteen hundred carloads of turkeys were shipped out of Texas last year, and brought all the way from $1.50 to $2.50 per head.

Every bale of cotton produced in Texas should be made into cotton goods before being shipped out.

The Times will stop just long enough to say that the successful conduct of a newspaper depends as much upon that which is left out of its columns as it does on that which is permitted to go in.

If there were more men like Sheb Williams the Confederate Reunion, to convene at Little Rock on May 17th, 18th and 19th, would be well attended.

Investigation of Who's Who and What Reveals Unique and Picturesque Types of Men

WHO'S WHAT IN THE HOUSE

The balddest man: Nicholas Longworth of Ohio. The man with the most hair: Edmund T. Stack of Illinois.

Washington, May 6.—There are 391 entirely separate and distinct types of the genus homo in the house of representatives.

Leaving out the uncomplimentary classifications, the above table is a fairly accurate guide to the national legislature.

"Nick" Longworth is not only the balddest man in the house, but he has the most hair.

Representative Stack of Chicago, with the most hair, looks like a poet.

"Ollie" James dresses the part of the biggest member.

William F. Murray of Massachusetts is popularly said to be twenty-six years of age.

Theron F. Alken is an "Independent Democrat."

Dr. Young Believes a Mighty Racial Struggle is Impending

Whether the federal government or the rebels under the leadership of the Madero's win in Mexico, Uncle Sam will do well to deal in a firm manner with Mexico and should be prepared for the worst.

Dr. Young believes that Uncle Sam cannot afford to pass over insults to the American flag and insults to Americans in Mexico.

Dry Farming Methods Explained.

Answering the question "What is meant by dry farming methods," C. M. Evans, Superintendent of the College Extension Department of the A. and M. College of Texas, College Station says: Dry farming is nothing more than good farming and usually succeeds best in regions where there is plenty of rainfall.

It has been found that especially in sandy soils the dust mulch process caused the land to blow too readily, so that it is necessary to use a sub surface packer or some similar implement that will leave the soil in a corrugated or ridged condition.

One of the features of the meeting was the singing of Blind Butler, the jubilee singer.

That a good crop of barley can be produced with a little over 23 inches of rainfall and a good crop of oats with 19.6 inches of rainfall, corn 26.23 inches of rainfall; peas 17 inches, while the ordinary crops grow in dry farming regions can be grown on less moisture than this.

THE HESSIANS.

They Were Good Soldiers, and Some Became Good Americans.

There is a popular belief among some people that the Hessian mercenaries brought here by the British government to fight the Americans remained here after the war was over and that their descendants constitute a considerable element of the Pennsylvania Germans of today.

The intense hatred at one time against the so-called Hessian soldiers, some of which still lingers with the present generation, is very unjust, because they did not volunteer to fight against the Americans, but they were forced into the British service by the impetuous German princes who sold them to the British like so many slaves.

LIBERTY BELL

Its Connection With the Declaration of Independence.

The famous Liberty bell was cast in London in 1752, brought to America and subsequently recast in Philadelphia. It bears the inscription, "Proclaim Liberty Throughout the World and to All the Inhabitants Thereof."

There is no shadow of authority even for asserting the ringing of the bell with the announcement of the agreement upon independence. The mythical legend of the blue-eyed boy waiting outside the door to give the signal to the man in the bell tower is the product of the fertile imagination of one of Philadelphia's early romancers, George Lippard, who first gave currency to it in his appropriately called "Legends of the Revolution."

MARCHED AND MUNCHEDED.

The Soldiers Who Didn't Steal the Apples Ate Them.

A reprint which takes the form of a joke is sometimes more effective than a burst of anger. Such an example was furnished by a Confederate officer and described by T. O. Moore in his "Anecdotes of General Cleburne."

The southern army, marching across the mountains of Virginia, had its supply trains cut off and was obliged to live upon the country.

Apples, chestnuts and persimmons were plenty, but the army had strict orders not to deplete upon private property. One day I was trudging along in the rear of General Granbury's brigade when I saw down the road General Cleburne sitting on the top rail of a fence, while below him lay five or six bushels of fine red apples. Near by stood a number of soldiers, who looked as mean as men could look.

General Granbury saluted General Cleburne, who remarked:
"I'm peddling apples today."
"How's that?"
"These gentlemen," pointing to the soldiers who had stolen the apples, "have been very kind. They have gathered apples for me and charged nothing. I'll give them to you and your men. Now get down and take one, and each of your men take one—only one—mind you—until all are gone."

The invitation was accepted, the men cheering for "Old Pat." When the apples were gone the general made each man who had stolen the apples carry a rail for a mile or two.

BATTLE WITH A BOG.

Redmiro's Suction Tore the Leather Gaiters Off a Man's Legs.

Readers of "Lorna Doone" can never forget the terrible drowning of Carver in the bog. That flesh trap is still to be seen in the Exmoor country. And not long ago a valuable hunting horse was engulfed in the mire, and his rider barely escaped with his life. S. Baring-Gould, who had a narrow escape from a similar bog, tells of it in his "Book of the West." The author was with an official from the Ordnance Survey, who was correcting the map of the country:

"In the dusk we lost our way and got into Redmiro. It was winter, the bog was unusually wet, and we could scarcely trip from one stone to another. Six bullocks had been lost in that very spot during the year.

"All at once I sank above my waist and was rapidly being sucked in farther. I called to my companion, but in the dark he could not see me. The water reached to my armpits. Happily I had with me a stout bamboo six feet long. I placed it athwart the surface and held my arms as far extended as possible. By quickly jerking my body I gradually lifted it, and then I threw myself forward, as far as I could. Finally I managed to cast myself full length on the surface. The suction was so great that it tore the leather gaiters off my legs.

"For a quarter of an hour I lay stretched out, gasping, before I got breath enough to worm myself along to dry soil."

Old Postal Rates.

The high postal rates that prevailed in the earlier years of the last century made the transmission of a letter of parcel a matter of serious moment.

"A packet weighing thirty-two ounces was once sent from Delhi to London," writes Mrs. Eleanor Smyth in her life of Sir Rowland Hill. "The postage was over 60, being four times as much as the charge for an inside place by the coach. Again, a parcel of official papers small enough to slip inside an ordinary pocket was sent from Dublin to another Irish town addressed to Sir John Burgoyne. By mistake it was charged as a letter instead of as a parcel and cost £11. For that amount the whole mail coach plying between the two towns with places for seven passengers and their luggage might have been hired."—London Chronicle.

To Identify a Child.

My small son did not return at the regular time one day while out with a maid. The thought terrified me that in case of an accident there would be no way of identifying him should he be lost. The next morning I cut pieces of wide tape, on which I wrote very clearly his name, address and our telephone number in indelible ink. I sewed one of these pieces to each of his undergarments in front where it could be plainly seen.—K. E. A. in Harper's Bazar.

Taking No Chances.

The big steamer had left the pier. The young man on the far barrel still waved his handkerchief desperately.

"Oh, what're you waiting for? Come on," said his companions disgustedly.

"I haven't," with one fearful glance backward.

"What's the matter?"

"She has a fieldglass," said the young man.—Everybody's.

BURNT CORK.

The Paste Used by Minstrel Performers When "Blacking Up."

The popular impression as to the application of burnt cork by minstrel performers and actors in general is that it is rubbed on the face and hands of the player from a cork whose end is charred in a convenient gas jet. This impression is, however, incorrect. The burnt cork used by minstrels and others is the product of the theatrical "paint factories," just as is any other cosmetic or pigment employed by the profession.

One house makes it in the following manner: The corks are placed in three tin vessels, resembling wash boilers, with holes punched in their sides and bottom. Alcohol is sprinkled over the corks, and they are "dred." When the corks have been properly charred they are placed in muslin sacks, which are kneaded in barrels of water. This operation forces the powdered charcoal through the sacks into the water.

When all the charred corks have been worked through the sacks into the water in this way the water is drained through a close canvas sack, and what remains in that sack is ready for the performers. The stuff is put up in cans, from which, when the minstrel is ready to "black up," he takes a little of the black paste in his hands and applies it to his face, neck and sometimes his hands.—New York Herald.

A CURIOUS BIRD.

The Crested Hoatzin, When Hatched Has Four Legs.

The crested hoatzin of British Guiana is the only survivor of a certain race of birds most of which are now known only as fossils. The hoatzin inhabits the most secluded forests of South America, and its survival befriends its congeners is doubtless owing to its retiring habits and to the fact that it feeds on wild arum leaves, which give its flesh a most offensive flavor, rendering it unfit for food.

The chief peculiarity of the hoatzin consists in the fact that when it is hatched it possesses four well developed legs. The young birds leave the nest and climb about like monkeys over the adjoining limbs and look more like tree-toads than birds.

The modification of the fore limbs begins at once after hatching, when the claws of the digits fall off and the whole clawlike hand begins to flatten and become wing-shaped. Feathered scapulars appear and before full growth is reached not a vestige remains of the original character.

The adult birds not only have no claws upon their wings, but their thumbs even are so poorly developed that one would hardly suspect that in the nestlings we have the nearest approach to a quadruped found among existing birds.—London Tit-Bits.

Tung Po and Teamaking.

There is but one way of making tea for—

Unless the water boiling be
To pour on water spoils the tea.

The teapot itself should be heated very hot before the tea is placed in it and the boiling water poured on. It should be sealing hot water or the leaves will not steep to the top.

No less authority than Tung Po, the Chinese poet, is quoted for a recipe for teamaking. He says: "Whenever tea is to be infused take water from a running stream and boil it over a lively fire. It is an old custom to use running water, boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is said to be best and river water the next while well water is the worst. A lively fire is a clear, bright charcoal fire. When making an infusion do not boil the water too hastily. At first it begins to sparkle like crabs' eyes, then somewhat like fish's eyes, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil water."

Tough Not the Queen.

Under this title a Paris journal professes to give an account of the tragic death of the queen of Siam, who was as greatly loved as her consort. Some years ago her majesty was dining with ladies of the court in a lake in the gardens of the palace at Bangkok. The boat overturned, and the queen could not swim. She was surrounded by numerous personages who could have saved her life, but no one has the right to extend the hand upon the queen. The king alone could have held her up and prevented her from sinking, and he was nowhere at hand. Respectfully the court allowed the queen to drown.

Chippendale's Own.

"Is it genuine Chippendale?"
"Absolutely, sir."
"But this looks like a crack right across!"
"Done by Chippendale himself, sir, in a fit of rage when he heard the union had called the men out."—London Punch.

The Other Was Important.

"Two great desires of my life have been gratified. One was to go up in an airship."
"And the other?"
"To get safely back to earth."—Essex change.

LOCAL FIRM WILL CONTINUE VALUABLE AGENCY

Miller Drug Co. of this city has just closed a deal whereby they will continue to be agents for ZEMO—the well known remedy for eczema, dandruff, and all diseases of the skin and scalp.

The extraordinary leap that this clean liquid external treatment for skin affections has made into public favor in the last few years proves its wonderful curative properties and makes it indeed a valuable addition to the fine stock of remedial agents carried by Miller Drug store.

They have a limited supply of samples. One of which will be given free to any skin sufferer who wishes to test the merit of the medicine. A booklet "How to Preserve the Skin," will also be given to those interested.

THE ELECTROSCOPE

Instrument by Which the Presence of Electricity is Detected.

The electroscopie is an instrument for the detection of electricity. It depends for its action on the principle that bodies charged with like electricity repel, while those charged with unlike electricity attract each other. The ordinary pig's tail suspended on a silk thread is the simplest form of the instrument.

The most common type of electroscopie is that devised by Bennett in 1787 and known as the gold leaf electroscopie. It consists of two strips of gold leaf or thin aluminum foil suspended from the lower extremity of a conductor within a glass bottle or jar. The upper end of the conductor terminates in a ball or a plate in case the instrument is to be used as a condensing electroscopie. If a body charged with positive electricity is brought near the knob of the electroscopie the negative electricity will be attracted to the knob and the positive repelled to the leaves, which diverge. If now the finger is touched to the knob the positive electricity is drawn off and the leaves collapse, while the negative electricity is held bound. Removing the charged body, the leaves will diverge again, charged with negative electricity. In this case the instrument can be used to determine the nature of a charge of a body brought near it, as with a positive charge the leaves will collapse and with a negative charge spread further apart.—Exchange.

IN CASE OF A SPRAIN.
the circulation must be stimulated not only to prevent congestion but to furnish material for repairing the injury. It is impossible to treat such injuries from the outside, but our liniment are the ideal external applications for all such troubles and the rubbing necessary in applying them helps stimulate the circulation. You should never be without a good liniment, for the sooner they are applied after an injury the easier it is for them to do their work.

Who is the highest living authority on coffee says: "Coffee to be satisfactory should be fresh roasted—fresh ground—fresh made—with fresh water—fresh boiled and fresh served." Some freshness to that. The point we want to make is—that to make coffee right you MUST buy of the roaster—that's us. We are roasting only the very best blends of carefully selected aged coffee in the most approved machinery it is possible to procure—besides that it's home industry.
