

Awaiting FERC certificate

Goodpasture shuts down

A well-intentioned rule by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission and a mandate from Cabot Corp. will shut down the Goodpasture fertilizer plant in Dimmitt for the next ten days or more.

No workers are expected to be laid off, and Goodpasture is hoping to get the plant restarted by Nov. 25, according to general manager P. A. Coleman of Brownfield, after Cabot shut off the gas supply

Wednesday. "We'll make work for everyone," Coleman said Tuesday. "It's unfortunate that we just completed our 'turn-around,' doing all of our maintenance, repairs, and other work that was needed. But we'll keep everyone on, we'll maintain our people."

Goodpasture had been in negotiations with Cabot on a new gas contract for the plant, but Coleman said he couldn't accept what Cabot had to offer. "FERC passed a ruling Oct. 9 that was intended to do the pipelines a favor, but Cabot got the only grandfather clause on this pipeline and knew there couldn't be any other third-party transporters because of the FERC ruling, and they got heavyhanded with us.

"(Wednesday) we filed for an emergency certificate from FERC that would allow other third-party suppliers to transport gas through our line

(which is owned by El Paso Natural Gas). If we get the emergency certificate, which our people say should take about 10 days, then we'll be able to get gas through the line and be back in full operation.

"We have people who are lined up and waiting for us to get the certificate and get going — they're ready to send us gas."

Coleman said Cabot was offering a five-year contract that is unacceptable to Goodpasture.

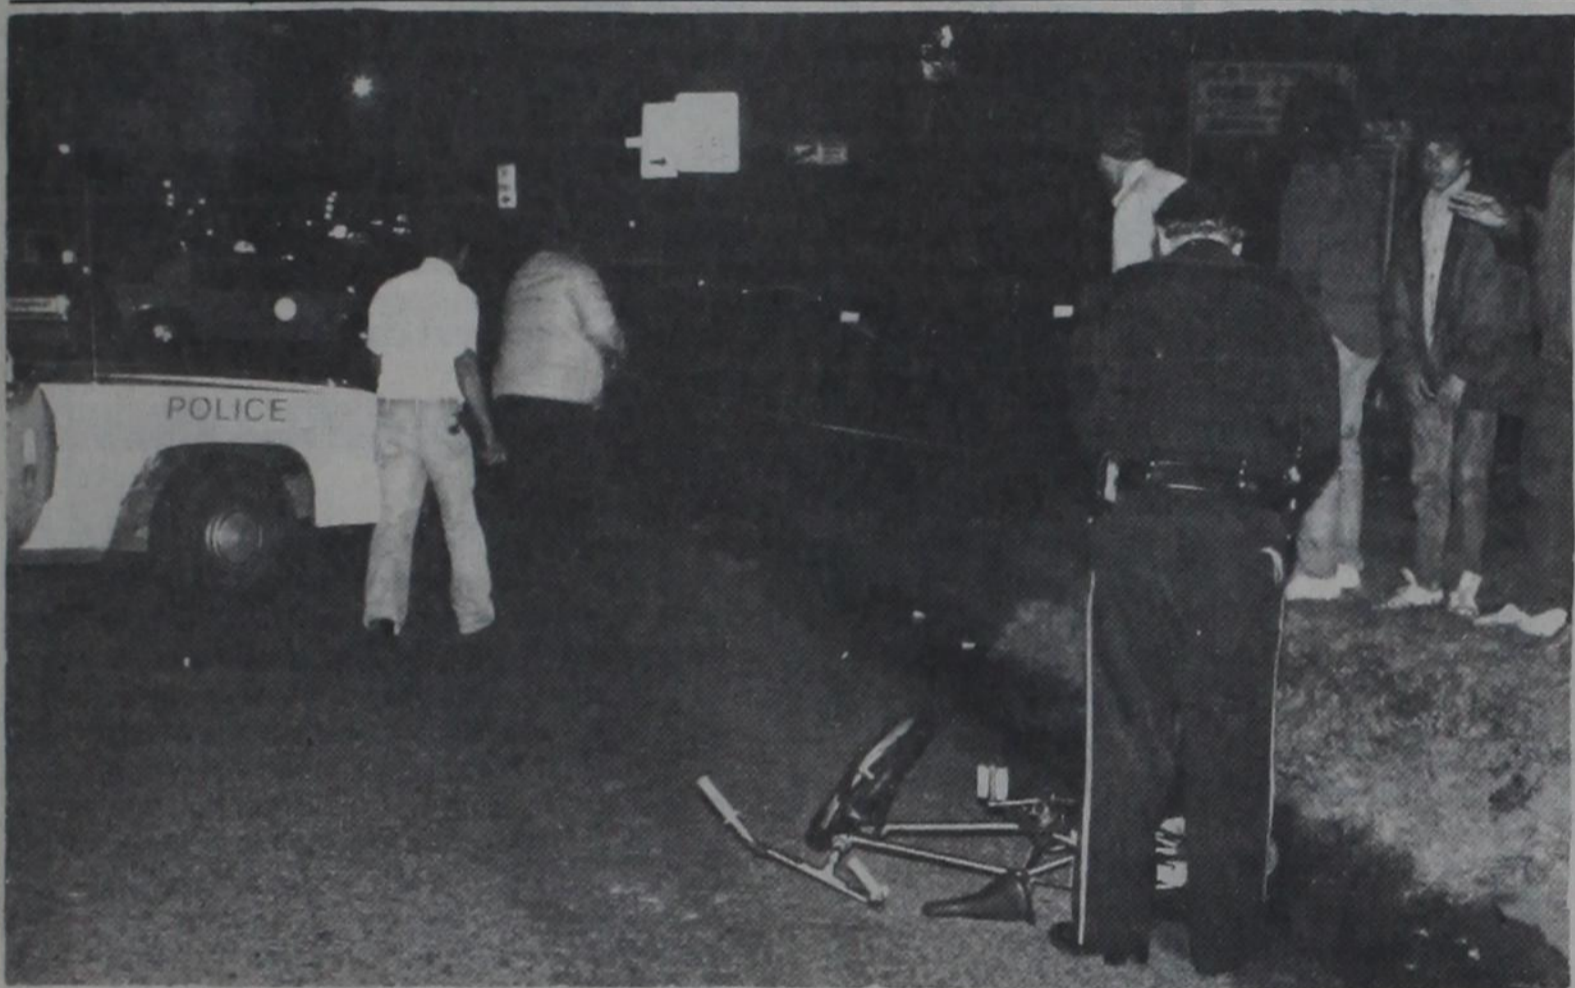

"Both industries — natural gas and agriculture — are in a great state of flux right now, and the market is oversupplied in both fertilizer and natural gas. The other suppliers we are trying to deal with are not asking for more than one year on their contract offers."

Coleman said Cabot gave the plant one week to come to terms last Wednesday, but refused to agree to any further extensions.

"We couldn't live with a five-year agreement over our head, and we won't sign a contract like that.

"We also filed for a permanent certificate from FERC that would allow us to be our own transporter. In the past, we have asked the gas companies for a quoted delivery price, but we need to be our own transporter and pay the transportation to Dimmitt ourselves."

TUESDAY NIGHT'S ACCIDENT SCENE
... Alex Perez' bicycle is in right foreground.

Boy critical after Tuesday accident

A 7-year-old Dimmitt boy remains in critical condition at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, suffering from injuries sustained in a bicycle-pickup accident in the 400 block of North Broadway Tuesday night.

Alex "Joey" Perez, 7, of 410 NW Fourth, is being treated for head injuries in the Pediatric intensive care unit at NWTN.

Perez was attempting to cross US 385 in the 400 block of North Broadway at 6:40 p.m. Tuesday when his 20-inch black bicycle was struck by a southbound 1981 Chevrolet pickup driven by Donald Wade Davenport, 19, of Friona.

Davenport was not cited in the accident, which is still under investigation by the Dimmitt Police Dept.

Police reports indicate Perez was wearing dark clothing, and the bicycle had no lights or reflectors, which led to decreased visibility of the bicycle.

The youth was treated at Plains Memorial Hospital before being transferred to NWTN Tuesday night.

Downtown luminaries to glow for shoppers

Dimmitt stores will decorate their sidewalks with luminaries and hold an "After Hours Open House" next Thursday from 7 to 8 p.m.

At least 19 retail and service businesses will stay open late for the event, according to Retail Trade Committee Chairman Leroy Maxwell.

They are Kim's Interiors, Tots and Teens, the Flower Patch, Sheffy's Western & Casual Wear, TG&Y, C. R. Anthony Co., Killingsworth True Value Hardware, Harman's, the Village Shop, Merle Norman/Diet Center, K-Bob's Steak House, Al's Colonial Restaurant, Seale Florist, Cobb's, Henderson TV & Appliance, Coleman Health Mart Pharmacy, the Pizza Hut, Dimmitt Printing & Office Supply, Kittrell Electronics and Parsons Rexall Drug.

For businesses needing kraft sacks to make their luminaries, Killingsworth's has ordered 1,000 for the event, Chamber of Commerce Manager Dolores Heller said. Small votive candles for the luminaries are available at many stores, she added.

The Dimmitt Volunteer Fire Dept. will sound the siren between 6:45 and 7 as a signal for businesses to light their luminaries, Maxwell said.

City approves new development area

The Dimmitt City Board of Aldermen gave its okay Monday to a new Industrial Development Area on the southern edge of the city.

The aldermen met in a special meeting Monday to hear the petition presented by the Dimmitt, Texas Economic Development Commission to designate 33 acres of land recently annexed into the city as a development area.

The action would allow prospective builders to apply for low interest money through industrial development bonds to build in the area.

DTEDC attorney Jimmy Ross presented a resolution to the Aldermen for the designation. The petition, which has also been presented to the Texas EDC, said the designated area would help to "increase employment opportunities, increase or stabilize the tax base, and promote commerce . . ."

Ross pointed out there would be no adverse effect on ad valorem taxes. There had been some question by at least one of the aldermen that designation of the area would mean no ad valorem taxes would be paid by bond applicants, but Ross said the taxes would be paid.

Ross also said the aldermen and TEDC would approve all projects in the designated area.

"In the best interests of the city, we should pass this resolution," said Mayor Wayne Collins.

The aldermen also accepted the low bid of $3,332.73 of Ingram's Carpet of Amarillo for new carpeting for the City Hall Meeting Room, and decided to begin requiring a $100 deposit for all users of the meeting room.

"This is designed to protect the use of the facility, to recover losses or damages, and will be in effect after the new carpeting and tile are installed."

The aldermen also agreed to hold off on submitting a new application for the city landfill, because city officials believe fees, which could range over $30,000, may be "reduced somewhat," according to Catoe, and agreed to press criminal charges against anyone who turns their water meter back on after the meter has been turned off for non-payment.

NAZARETH'S 1985 STATE CROSS COUNTRY CHAMPIONS

Swiftettes take A-AA cross country crown

The Nazareth Swiftettes captured their third consecutive state cross country crown in near-record fashion, while Hart's Tammy Menchaca took third place in the 1A-2A individual race at the state cross country meet at Georgetown.

The Swiftettes started out the day by winning their first state crown under Sandy Oliver (Oliver has guided the Swiftettes to state tennis titles during the past three years), and won handily, 38-110 over runnerup Sudan. Celina and Abernathy were third and fourth, with 117 and 127 points each.

The 38 points was the second-lowest winning score at the meet, eclipsed only by North Lamar's 32 points in 3A girls. It was nine points better than last year's 41 points.

"Last week our freshmen came through for us, and this week it was our seniors who came through," Oliver said. "They all did well."

Three of the Swiftettes finished in the top 10 in team scoring. Linda Birkenfeld finished fifth, Debbie Schmucker sixth and Rachel Huseman 10th, while Kelly Schilling and Gail Birkenfeld finished 11th and 12th.

Menchaca was supposed to be joined by schoolmate Risha Ammons at the state meet, but Ammons was suffering from shin splints and could not compete Saturday. Menchaca, who finished third in the last spring's two-mile run at the State Meet at Austin, finished third behind two regional foes at the cross-country meet, Cindy Harper of Woodson and Shanna Hale of Grady.

The holiday season is great everywhere, but I think it's especially meaningful in a small town, where people are closer to each other and work together to share the season.

Usually, small-town people can't just be "takers" during the holiday season—that is, they don't simply take advantage of the work of others. Quite often, they're called upon to be givers in one or more holiday projects. And as you give, you receive.

That's happening right now in Dimmitt. Different organizations are holding their bazaars and art-craft shows, civic clubs are planing their holiday service projects, church choirs are rehearsing their cantatas, the retail stores are coordinating their plans—and any given person might be working on two, three or four of these holiday activities.

The downtown areas should be a pretty sight next Thursday evening when businesses line the sidewalks with luminaries and hold an "After Hours Open House" from 7 to 8. Nineteen retail stores plan to mother-in-law, Mrs. Hazel Sparks, from Hereford came to the museum last week. Hazel attended school in Dimmitt and was interested in several of the Pioneer names. Her brother, Bill Hacker, drew all the illustrations for the book about Castro County, "The Moving Finger," by Lillie Mae Hunter. Mrs. Sparks has all the original pictures that her brother drew for this book and she plans to donate one for the Castro County Museum. Georgia Sparks is a good friend of my daughter, Mary Lynn Lanford.

Weldon Bradley and Bill Hendricks came to the museum also and took a quick tour on Monday morning before Bill left town.

Elizabeth Worthington and her son-in-law Bill Hendricks from Fort Worth and Peggy Bailey from Seminole spent the weekend with Weldon and Irene Bradley. Elizabeth, Peggy and Irene are the Dixon sisters.

Morgan and Geneva Dennis entertained the Dimmitt Dinner Club Thursday night with a delicious meal of ham and pineapple slices, potato salad, congealed salad, vegetable salad, hot rolls, and cherry cobbler and ice cream. Members enjoying the evening were Gene and Connie Ivey, N. A. and Thelma Bryson, Guy and Oleta Walser, Billye Wesson, Irene Carpenter, and Mary Edna Hendrix.

The United Methodist Church held their annual Thanksgiving dinner and Bazaar on Tuesday. We always enjoy the food and fellowship with the Methodist members.

Mary Edna Hendrix honored Ruth Hays on her birthday Friday by having a luncheon for her at K-Bob's. Others helping Ruth celebrate were Geneva Dennis, Connie Ivey, Billye Wesson, Oleta Walser, and Irene Carpenter. After lunch they all went to the Castro County Museum for birthday cake and coffee.

Mrs. Clark from Oklahoma City, Okla. spent a few days with Gladys Leeth and Kathleen Foster.

The Southwestern Public Service Company sponsored a "Food Show" with a representative from Amarillo and Teresa Criswell conducting the show on "Festive Foods 1985." Many delicious and attractive foods were prepared and served to about 50 women who attended the show.

The First Baptist Church in Dimmitt was host to the Llanos Altos Association Annual WMU meeting on Nov. 4, 1985, and World Day of Prayer. Richard Young led the congregational singing and sang a special number. Edna Evans of Kress is the WMU

Director and she presided over the meeting. Walter Maynard is the secretary-treasurer and other officers are from Plainview, Lubbock, Morton, Amarillo, Bovina, Farwell, Friona, Enochs, Fieldton, and Littlefield. Ysleta Ball is the president of the WMU in Dimmitt. A salad luncheon was served at noon and mini conferences were held in the afternoon session.

Bro. Ken Cole and Roberta attended the 100th annual Baptist General Convention of Texas.

During each session, a skit along with a slide presentation was given telling about the beginning of their convention. Also present-day pictures of many of their institutions were presented.

One of the highlights was the reports on Wednesday evening from WMU & Brotherhood regarding mission work in Texas.

They enjoyed wonderful weather, walking along the river, eating Mexican food, and enjoyed lunch one day in the Tower of the Americas.

Ruby Ramsey and daughter, Nancy Crawford, recently went to Bonham for the funeral of Bert Webster. Bert was the brother-in-law of Leada Hance, Phoebe Claborn and Ruby. On Sunday, they went on to Dallas to see Brenda Andrews and Lloyd Pitts and family. Ruby got to see her newest great-grandson, Britt Pitts. They drove from Dallas to El Paso. That was the first time Nancy had been on that stretch of road.

They saw John B. and Yvonne Pitts. While in El Paso, Yvonne took them sightseeing in the valley. They saw some beautiful fields of Egyptian Long Staple Cotton. They also saw one of the first missions in the US and the Tegua Indian reservation.

On the way back to Dimmitt, they stopped in Ruidoso to see Mary Booker. Mary said to tell her friends hello. The foothills of Ruidoso were golden with color.

Nancy and Ruby were going to Amarillo to Christmas shop and have dinner with Charles and Mary. Nancy went to Chillicothe Tuesday to visit John's mother and will be in Virginia Beach by the end of the week. John is teaching for H&R Block and was unable to come to Texas at this time.

Ed and Betty Freeman flew from Amarillo to San Diego, Calif. on Nov. 4 on the

Prairie dog control meeting set today

Zinc phosphide oats, used as an effective and economical control method in reducing prairie dog numbers, will be the major topic at an informational meeting today at 1:30 in the courthouse assembly room in Dimmitt.

A poisoning program to reduce prairie dog numbers, is most effective if done soon after frost when grasses have gone dormant and the animals are "feeding up" for winter fat storage.

James Winnate, district director of the Fish and Wildlife Service in Lubbock will discuss use of the poisoned oats and take orders for the poison to be delivered this fall.

Zinc phosphide is a restricted use pesticide and a private applicator's certificate is required for its purchase and use.

Southwest Airlines senior citizens special of $25 one way. They were met at San Diego airport by thier son, Peter, and his wife, Joe Ellen, and 4-year-old granddaughter, Rebecca Sue. They were taken to Murrieta Hot Springs for a three-day visit. They flew home last Thursday. California was beautiful and the weather was very pleasant.

GOD'S WILL

The greatest commandment is that we should love our God.

This is a free choice that man has, but it is God's desire that all would seek Him. He is our heavenly Father, and desires only the best for us.

ATTEND CHURCH

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The Lion's club hosted a benefit chili supper for the Lewis Jurado family at the community building Saturday night. Lewis was unable to come. He is still bedfast and not making any progress. He is very weak and weighs less than 100 pounds. If you didn't get to attend the chili supper and would like to help, make your check to the Lion's Club and mark it donation. He has no insurance and Nancy cannot get a job because she can't let him go into a deep sleep, day or night.

Joni and Paul Edward Stewart were dismissed from Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt Monday.

Bess Bills had her stitches out Monday and has been making steady progress this week. She and R. V. came by and visited Noah and Ruth Spencer in Lubbock on their way home Monday. She was able to attend the worship services Sunday.

Verba Sadler visited with Beck and Howard Bridges in Dimmitt Friday. John and Evelyn Bridges of Earth had taken Beck to Lubbock Tuesday for an eye implant. She came home after the procedure Tuesday.

Dr. Bill and Lou Fleming of Abilene arrived Saturday afternoon to visit with Terri and Lance Louder, Lacy, Jake, and Katy through Tuesday. He held a revival at the First United Methodist Church in Dimmitt Sunday through Tuesday and will baptize Katy in the Sunday morning services.

Anne Guy moved into Dimmitt last weekend to be closer to her work at the hospital and avoid the muddy and icy roads this winter.

Zachary Bell was on the honor roll of the third grade class of Evelyn Verden and was also on the list of best spellers in the class for the first six weeks. He was the only one in his class with a grade of 90 or above.

Terry Guy has been counseling with patients and their families at the Hospice Center at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo on Thursday and Friday nights since April's death. He was asked to do so when those in charge noticed that the patient and the family talked with him better than they did with a professional counselor.

Larry Sadler went with David Sadler and two friends from Hobbs to Pagosa Springs, Colo., last weekend for some deer hunting.

Noah and Ruth Spencer of Lubbock visited with L. B. and Teeny Bowden Tuesday morning. They joined the Broadview

Baptist Church of Lubbock last Sunday morning, and after the service learned that the music director was Cliff Rogers—Butch to most of us. Noah had not recognized him during the song service. He was a small boy when his father, Murle Rogers, pastored the church here from 1954 through 1960.

Dr. Strauss Atkinson visited with Verna Sadler Tuesday. He is still interim pastor at Oklahoma Lane.

Larry Sadler helped Stacy and her husband Jim Norman pack for their move to Farmington, N.M. from Muleshoe Tuesday night. They brought the trailer back Saturday night and visited awhile. He will manage the K-Bobs at Farmington.

Sharon and Laura Sadler visited last weekend and some this week with Tex and Norma Conard and their guests, Wanda and Warren Gerlich of Minneapolis, Minn. Ezell and Verba Sadler visited with them Wednesday.

Tammy and Luke Louder went home with her grandmother, who has been visiting in Muleshoe last weekend, to spend the week. Lyle went to Oklahoma Saturday to bring them home.

Rev. Bentley and Kathy Gwyn, Verna Sadler and Gerald Elkins went to Springlake after church Wednesday night to help their choir practice for a Christmas cantata. Harold Dean Carson of Olton is directing the choir. Other area churches are also participating.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Pierce of Littlefield were visitors in the Sunday morning service and were dinner guests of Gerald and Pat Elkins.

The Focus on the Family film Part 6 entitled "What Every Wife Wishes Her Husband Knew About Women" was shown Sunday night during the Church Training hour. Next Sunday night the worship services will start at 6 p.m. instead of 7 p.m.

Ezell and Verba Sadler and Larry Sadler went to Stinnett Sunday afternoon to get a trailer house ready to move to Albany Monday for Randy Powell, who will start working at Albany Monday. He will drive a truck hauling water to oil rigs.

Ezell and Verba Sadler visited with Howard and Monarae Cummings in Earth Monday night on their way to Clovis for the fiddle music. Mary Shultz had already gone to sleep so they didn't get to visit with her. They also attended the Bluegrass music in Hereford Thursday night.

Gale and Verna Sadler, Rev. Bentley Gwyn and Gerald Elkins brought the special music in the Sunday morning worship service.

Jessica and Adam Johnson of Union City, Oklahoma and Heather and LaShawn Lewis of Earth spent Saturday night with their aunt, Petra and Randy Waldrup and Chance. They took them to church at Earth Sunday with her parents and their parents.

EDC $ SIGNS

The Kiplinger Newsletter recently published a report projecting population growth by county in Texas. The report was developed by combining the latest county-by-county estimates of the US Bureau of the Census with the population projections of the Texas Department of Water Resources.

The Kiplinger report projects Castro County's growth at 9.85% between now and the year 2000. Our county is projected to have a population of 11,534 residents by 2000.

Projections for other area counties include:

Deaf Smith	+34.38% increase
Hale	+30.91% increase
Bailey	.19% decrease
Lamb	+15.72% increase
Parmer	+11.05% increase
Swisher	+ .33% increase

Texas' population in 1970 was 11,200,000 and in 1980 it had grown to 14,230,000, a jump of 27%, more than twice the national increase of 11%. The latest population trends from the Bureau of the Census show that the state is continuing this better-than-average growth. From 1980, the date of the last census count, to mid-1984, Texas grew by 12.4% while the US increased its population by 4.2%. At the midpoint of 1985, the population was over 16 million.

Forecasts are for Texas to keep on outpacing the total US. New arrivals from other states, increase in immigration and natural growth will continue to put Texas ahead of the US totals. By the year 2000, forecasters predict that Texas will have at least 20 million residents, and perhaps as high as 22 million. It will become the number two state in population behind California, passing New York well before the turn of the century.

WATCH out, artificial sweeteners! Nature may provide us with some of the best sugar substitute yet. International Wildlife magazine reports that a plant whose leaves and flowers are 1,000 times sweeter than sucrose has been discovered in tropical America. Early tests show that Lippis dulcis, once used by the Aztecs, is non-toxic, has no adverse effects and few calories. Two companies have begun investigating its possible use in toothpaste and mouthwash.

Check your electric bill carefully this month.

Your share of our fuel-cost savings.

You will find a credit on your electric bill this month. It's your share of savings resulting from our management's decision to use coal fuel instead of gas for generating electricity. We also saved by working out cheaper fuel and fuel transportation contracts.

At SPS, we work to keep the cost of electricity as low as possible.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

*SPS customers in New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas have already been enjoying reduced fuel costs through their automatic fuel-cost adjustments. This is a one-time credit. It reconciles an over-recovery of fuel revenue resulting in Texas from a fixed fuel factor set in October 1983. The credit you find on this month's bill was figured exactly on your actual electricity usage, on a per kilowatt-hour basis. We're returning this savings to you with interest at 11.56%.

Comet Tales

Halley's Comet:
What Price Beauty?

Deep in space, a comet is a cold, frozen chunk of gases and solid particles.

- It's only when it passes close to the sun that it becomes beautiful to human eyes—the sun's radiation heats up and vaporizes the gases, which then begin to glow in the comet head's nucleus and coma halo.
- What price beauty, however: the sun's light exerts a force on the glowing gas particles, and some are blown away from the head to create a tail. A comet burns out a bit more each time it offers us its celestial display.
- Many youngsters these days pretend that the next time Halley's Comet comes by the earth—1986—it will bring with it some malevolent cosmic creatures that can decrease and enlarge their size instantly.
- Called the Parasites, from Matchbox Miniatures, these mini menaces hide in the tail of the comet. Ready for action, they bend, twist and fold, then nestle inside a vehicle to plan the Earth's invasion. You can choose from six Parasite vehicles: Corvette, Dodge Caravan, Chevy Van, Firebird, Ford Pick-Up Truck and Blazer.

Board sees report, hears teachers

Dimmitt school board members approved a "stockholder's report," heard an update on computer usage in the DISD and tabled action on a new policy for schedule changes at their meeting Monday night. The board okayed the annual performance report for the 1984-85 school year, which is another new requirement by the Texas Education Agency. It's really just like a stockholder's report," explained Supt. Robert Ryan. "This is something we can show to anyone who asks questions about our schools, and will be brought by monitors from the TEA when they come to visit our school for accreditation and other business." The 54-page report gives a capsule look at the district, including a look at the impact of recent reform legislation, curriculum requirements and other significant changes. J'Lyn Ryan, Les Miller and Ruth Cochran gave an update on the Apple computers that were purchased by the board last November and have been in use since the end of last year. All classrooms in grades 3 through 12 have a computer, while grades K through 2 have one computer for every two classrooms.

"These computers are a great asset to us," Miller, a Richardson elementary teacher, said. "Some of the teachers have mixed feelings about them, and some are a little insecure when they use them... with more use, they should feel more secure. They are great for tutorials, and for a reteaching tool." "Some of our newer teachers are not quite confident, but the kids aren't scared by the computers at all," Cochran, Dimmitt Middle School librarian, said. "All of the teachers use them for various things, including tutorials, rewards, and for grade storage. Verbie Nelson, in her sixth grade reading, and Jaquetta Glass, in her eighth grade reading, have computer usage as part of their contracts. They also use them for puzzles, worksheets and tests."

Mrs. Ryan went over computer usage at Dimmitt High School, and echoed the other two instructors when she told the board that one of the big problems is the need for more training for teachers.

"We could use some training during in-service," Mrs. Ryan said. The teachers said they need more instruction on programming, for building programs for classroom use. Board members considered a new policy for changing schedules and dropping classes, but board members balked at some of the wording in the proposed policy and asked that the proposal be presented at the next meeting,

Dec. 9. Most of the opposition concerned the rule that states:

"Except for extreme circumstances, so determined by the building principal, schedule changes will not be approved after the fifth class day of a semester."

Some board members felt that did not give enough leeway for students who had a "personality conflict with teachers" and for cases where a principal might not look objectively at a student's situation.

UNSUNG HEROES OF AMERICA
Oldest Service Club in America Works Hard to Promote Understanding of American Ideals, Institutions and Traditions

More than two million volunteer hours were donated to public service programs in 1984 by 43,000 "unsung heroes" who are members of local chapters of the Exchange Club of America.

"We can't begin to place a dollar value on the amount of work our members have accomplished through our public service projects, on both local and national levels," says Exchange Club Vice President James A. Schnoering.

Exchange Club members are especially dedicated to upholding the American democratic tradition and to foster a strong sense of patriotism, but they don't seek public notice for their efforts, explains Schnoering. "The Exchange Club maintains three principal areas of involvement—Americanism, youth programs and community service. In fact, preserving the integrity of the family unit, setting strong role models for our youth and the desire to give something back to America is what motivated us to set up the Exchange Club Foundation for the Prevention of Child Abuse."

SAVING CHILDREN
A separate national project, the Exchange Club Foundation for the Prevention of Child Abuse offers help and treatment to families trapped in the ever-escalating tragedy of child abuse. The Foundation currently operates 21 counseling centers throughout the United States, and by 1990, hopes to realize the goal of operating a center in every state.

PRESERVING HISTORY
Another Exchange Club program is its Freedom Shrine project, part of the Americanism program. Each Freedom Shrine is a handsome, wall-mounted display of 28 exact reproductions of precious documents in American history, from the Declaration of Independence and The Gettysburg Address, to The Emancipation Proclamation and the Bill of Rights.

Other programs and services sponsored by The National Exchange Club include a nationwide Crime Prevention program, and a Youth Program which selects a high school student who has achieved high levels of scholastic excellence and leadership skills to be the recipient of a generous scholarship.

Police Calls

Martha Jo Hyman of Tots and Teens told police she had observed a person leaving her store with the belt from one of the items sold by the store hanging from beneath her coat.

According to police reports, the woman and a man accompanying her left the store and drove off in the direction of Hereford. The value of the item was estimated at $50.

A girls bicycle, valued at $125 was taken from the front of a residence Friday between 5 and 7:30 p.m.

The bicycle is purple with silver handlebars and white handles. The words "Sweet Thunder" were written on the chain cover.

Police responded to a call of an automobile accident at 3:30 a.m. Sunday. According to reports, a 1977 Ford LTD was travelling in the alley behind Town and Country Food Store with the lights off, when it struck a gas meter. The meter exploded, causing a fire to ignite.

Assault charges were filed against a Dimmitt man in connection with an incident that occurred on Nov. 5.

Gobblers no giveaway this year

You may have to spend a few cents more to put a Thanksgiving turkey on the table this year, but it shouldn't break your budget or your diet.

"Producers are raising more turkeys in 1985 than 1984," says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service poultry specialist Dr. David Mellor, "although increased supplies won't necessarily result in lower retail prices."

Last year's price for larger, unbasted store brand turkeys was about 60¢ per pound, while basted, national brand turkeys sold for 90¢ to a dollar a pound.

Mellor says that prices could be as much as 10¢ per pound higher than last year.

But the specialist concedes that prices are hard to predict because many retailers offer specials on holiday birds to attract shoppers to their stores.

"To keep your costs down, select a plain turkey rather than a pre-basted bird," suggests Mellor. National brand turkeys will also be more expensive than store brands, he says.

Extension nutritionist

Marilyn Haggard also reminds consumers that turkey is a highly nutritious food and can be eaten on a low-calorie diet.

A three-ounce serving of turkey breast meat, without the skin contains 157 calories, while a similar serving of dark meat has 187 calories.

"For the dieter, it's most important to watch the dressing, gravy and trimmings that go along with the turkey, since they add the greatest share of the calories in a Thanksgiving meal," she says.

Reduce gaps in Medicare coverage

People age 65 and over who qualify for Medicare do not always get the greatest benefits from their coverage, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service consumer economics specialist.

"There are steps that consumers can take to help reduce the gaps in their Medicare coverage," says Bonnie L. Piernot.

Start by choosing doctors and medical suppliers who accept assignment, she says. Assignment is the specified charge Medicare allows for a procedure.

When a doctor does not accept assignment, the consumer or supplemental insurance must pay the difference, reminds the specialist.

Those with serious illnesses requiring extended care can ask their doctor to consider moving them to a skilled nursing home when Medicare coverage for hospital costs expires, Piernot points out.

"Patients can also ask the doctor to consider home health service visits when the hospital and skilled care coverage are used up, or if hospitalization is unnecessary," she says.

"It's especially important for patients to prepare their Medicare claims carefully," the specialist advises. "Keeping accurate records and filling in the claim forms completely will help you get the benefits you're entitled to receive."

If you think your claim has been underpaid, you can appeal to the Medicare office, says Piernot. About half of those who appeal get at least a partial adjustment, so it is probably worth the time and effort, she adds.

Medicare does not cover all medical expenses, reminds the specialist.

She explains there are three different kinds of gaps in Medicare which must be paid by consumers or their insurance coverage.

They are the deductibles and coinsurance payments; the difference between Medicare's approved amount and the actual amount charged; and items not covered at all by Medicare such as prescription drugs, private duty nurses and care in a custodial-care nursing home.

stay open late, and some non-retail businesses are helping with the luminaries.

Soon, city employees will begin putting up the Christmas decorations downtown, and volunteers from the American Fructose Corp. will decorate the courthouse for the holidays.

On Sunday night, Nov. 24, the churches will hold their joint Community Thanksgiving Service at the First Baptist Church, with singers and speakers from all denominations taking part. The Ministerial Alliance is organizing the service.

On Saturday evening, Dec. 14, a community Christmas play and program will be presented in the Dimmitt High School auditorium, complete with carol-singing and a visit from Santa. Postmaster Bill Sava is coordinating this event for the Chamber of Commerce.

Ask your spouse or kids what THEY'RE involved in, and you'll see that the busy season is upon us. Let's all work when asked, and help each other make it a great holiday season.

Does it seem to you that the Christmas merchandising blitz is starting earlier than ever this year?

The traditional "Christmas shopping season"—from the day after Thanksgiving until the day before Christmas—is shorter than ever this year, because Thanksgiving falls on the latest possible date for a fourth Thursday, the 28th.

Because of that short Thanksgiving-to-Christmas span, many businesses may seem to be cranking up early. But, of course, so are many shoppers.

I can handle the early Christmas advertising push in all the media because I understand that most retail businesses depend on Christmas sales for a large percentage of their annual volume, and that the public's buying habits are becoming less and less predictable.

But there's one thing I just heard about that I can't handle. I understand some of the stores in larger cities are planning "Thanksgiving Day Sales" this year.

To me, that's despicable.

Police Officer Phil Provence, after pulling me over for doing 31 mph in the 25-mph zone on West Bedford Monday morning:

"I wish you'd put something in the paper asking people to slow down in these school zones. We're getting tired of stopping people and giving them tickets. It's really bad here and over at Richardson Elementary, too."

Sometimes we get too preoccupied with our own thoughts and disregard the flashing lights in the school zones. Maybe we'd all better get our heads in gear.

Economist gives 'survival tips'

What must a farmer do to survive financially into the 1990s?

Dr. Bill Black, an economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Services outlines a few key points for economic survival in farming as he views changes in the coming years.

"First, become part of an integrated system—the most common way to forward contract," Black advises farmers. "Find a home for what you pro-

PUC offers help for home-builders

Texans wanting to build energy-smart homes can get help from the Energy Efficiency Division of the Public Utility Commission of Texas.

Available to the public are energy facts, brochures, and books on building energy-efficient homes. They can be obtained by calling the Commission's toll-free energy hotline: 1-800-643-SAVE.

Variables affecting the potential energy savings of a home are orientation, design, thermal efficiency, infiltration controls and equipment. Proper use of two key factors — orientation and design — can reduce home energy bills by half or more.

Orientation of a structure on the lot and energy-efficient design are not new concepts. In fact, the first Texas homes were planned and built for the climate. They circulated summer breezes, shaded the sun, and blocked winter winds. Because there was no air conditioning, people had to make the most of breezes that came their way.

With the introduction of cheap energy to heat and cool homes, houses were no longer built with the environment in mind. Texans got away from sound, natural planning. But today, rising energy prices have recreated the need for built-in energy efficiency in homes. Operating cost in a home is just as important as the move-in cost. In fact, some mortgage lenders consider the monthly utility costs of a home in qualifying potential buyers; lower operating costs can permit some prospective buyers to qualify that otherwise might not.

Knowing what to look for and ask for in a new home can save money every month in lower energy bills. The Energy Efficiency Division of the Public Utility Commission of Texas has the information you need to build smart. Call 1-800-643-SAVE.

Hypoglycemia often misunderstood

Hypoglycemia, or low blood sugar, is a physical disorder that's often mistakenly self-diagnosed as an easy explanation for anxiety, nervousness or lack of energy.

Hypoglycemia is somewhat rare and should be diagnosed by a physician after appropriate blood testing, advises Mary K. Sweeten, a nutritionist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. For those with a diagnosed condition, the doctor will prescribe treatment based on the patient's individual needs.

People who are not hypoglycemic, but complain of the symptoms, may be helped by following a more healthful lifestyle, suggests Sweeten. Skipping meals, not eating a variety of nutritious foods, poor sleep habits, lack of exercise or personal problems and stress may contribute to the problem.

The nutritionist recommends the following to alleviate nutrition-related symptoms:

- Eat nutritious meals and snacks.
- Eat more complex carbohydrate foods, such as whole grain breads and cereals, with fruits and vegetables replacing candy and other sweets.
- Eat several small meals a day.
- Eat more fiber-rich foods.
- Eat slowly.
- Carry a nutritious snack, such as a can of orange juice or crackers and cheese, to eat if symptoms arise when away from home.

Eating habits

Kids upset parents more than stomachs

A child's eating habits can be a source of constant worry for parents.

If you think your child overeats, undereats, is overweight or too thin, it's a good idea to check with your family doctor. A physician can use growth charts and medical tests to determine your child's growth rate. If the child is found to be growing well with no weight problems, you can stop worrying.

Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutrition specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, says children often go on eating jags, eating mostly one or a few foods for several days.

"Eating jags are usually temporary," Cooksey says, "so continue offering good nutritious food in a pleasing way."

When a child doesn't eat much, this may be a normal "slowdown" stage of growth. Eating will increase as nutrient needs increase, she explains.

If obesity is a problem, check to see whether your child is eating too many high fat or sweet foods, or just too much food. Are snacks nutritious or do they contribute excess calories? Does your child get enough exercise? Is too much time spent at quiet activities that use few calories?

The nutritionist points out that many overweight children have one or more overweight parents, and children often follow their parents' eating habits. If this is the case in your family, she advises including more fruit, vegetables and low-fat foods such as skim milk, lean meats and broiled or baked foods in the family meal instead of sweets and other high-fat, high-calorie foods.

Some parents think all children need extra nutrients from vitamin pills or drops. But most children who eat a varied diet of meat, poultry and fish; breads and cereals; fruits and vegetables; and dairy products; get enough nutrients, Cooksey says.

Children who have eaten poorly balanced diets for a long time may require supplements, but let your doctor decide whether vitamins or mineral supplements are needed, advises the specialist.

Jones runs over Bobcats

About 1,000 witnesses saw a hit-and-run accident in Idalou Friday night.

Eyewitnesses indicate the vehicle was a 37-model Mack truck that ran over, through, around and any other way it wanted through the Dimmitt defense. A check with the program indicates the vehicle was registered to Paul Wayne Jones, a junior at Idalou.

The 6-1, 190 lb. tailback is being sought by authorities from major colleges, even though he's just a junior.

He carried the ball 15 times last Friday, scoring touchdowns on a third of those runs. He ran for 198 yards in just three quarters as the Wildcats rang up a 40-0 win over the Bobcats in the last game of the season for Dimmitt.

Idalou, who was already assured of the district championship, will play River Road Friday night in Plainview at 7:30.

The final could have been worse. Warren McDonald "makes three super defensive plays or they score three touchdowns passes — he played the best defensive game he's played this year," according to DHS defensive coordinator Roy Dudgeon.

A holding call wiped out a 30-yard TD run by Jones in the first quarter, but Jones scored from seven yards out two plays later at 6:47 of the first quarter. Frankie Rodriguez hit the first of four PAT attempt to put Idalou on top, 7-0.

The Bobcats moved the ball against a frisky Idalou defense on their first possession, picking up a first down before stalling at the Wildcat 46. But when fullback-linebacker Mark Smothermon went down with a knee injury just four minutes into the contest, it took the soul out of the Bobcats. Dimmitt had the ball just twice more inside Idalou territory—later in the third quarter and midway through the fourth quarter, when the Bobcats were trying to avert the shutout.

Idalou got some breaks from the Bobcats kicking game, with two punts that went less than 10 yards set up two touchdowns.

A seven-yard punt that carried to the Bobcat 35 set up a seven-play drive for Idalou's second touchdown (a one-yard plunge by Jones), while a nine-yard kick to the Dimmitt 19 helped stake the Wildcats to a 27-0 halftime lead after another seven-play drive.

The only lost fumble of the night — after Ben Benton caught a 13-yard pass from Woody Glass then was hammered at the Dimmitt 40 — accounted for another score, as Jones bolted 40 yards on the next play.

AERIAL BATTLE—Bobcats Ben Benton (foreground) and Warren McDonald battle Idalou receiver Bucky Hernandez for a pass at the goal line in the second quarter of Friday night's final District 2-AAA game at Idalou. The pass fell incomplete. Idalou won the game, 40-0, to finish undefeated in district play.

Early in the second half, the Wildcats proved they didn't need any help, as they started the second half at their own 5 and drove 95 yards in 3:31, taking just eight plays.

Jones picked up 76 of the yards, making up for losing two yards on the first play of the drive by dashing 40 yards from the 29 to the Dimmitt 31, then scoring from 28 yards out two plays later.

Dimmitt responded with its best drive of the night, moving from its own 28 to the Idalou 32. The drive was keyed by a 14-yard pass reception by Todd Durham, but stalled at the 34, where the Wildcats took over on downs.

Early in the fourth quarter, second-team quarterback Trent Allison led the Wildcats on a 65-yard drive culminated by a 14-yard pass to wingback Johnny Costilla.

Dimmitt tried to avert the shutout again with a quick drive from its own 20. Glass hit wingback Jerry Gonzales with a 42-yard pass, but was picked off three plays later by Raymond Pacheco.

We Salute

The Birds of Autumn

Did you know winter is still more than five weeks away? Winter officially begins Dec. 21. Meanwhile, we can enjoy the Texas Panhandle Autumn.

If the Panhandle weather follows its usual pattern (and so far this year, it hasn't), we'll have one or two good Autumn snowfalls; we won't have a white Christmas; then we'll have an icy January and February.

Autumn is just now coming into its full glory here. While a few of our domestic hardwood trees have already shed their leaves, others are just now reaching their full Autumn colors of rich reds and yellows.

No matter what the calendar says, the official harbingers of Autumn in the Texas Panhandle are the migratory birds. They're just now coming into full flight.

First came the early flights of teal and pintail ducks, then the wafting, cloo-loo-ing lines of sandhill cranes, then the darting flocks of curlew and plover. Now we're seeing the later flights of ducks—the mallards, baldpates, Mexican blacks—and finally, the dipping strings of geese (mostly the Lesser Canada, with a few snow geese intermingled, and an occasional small flock of snows).

If you haven't seen all these fascinating birds that have followed their primordial instincts in their migration from the far north to our area (some, indeed, to the same lake or shoreline where they wintered last year), then go out where it's quiet, and look and listen.

The best time of day to spot the birds of Autumn depends on the species.

Geese spend the night on the lake, and go out to feed at mid-morning, returning to the lake at midday. They'll go out again at mid-afternoon, then return to the lake just before dusk.

Ducks do just the opposite—they usually spend the day on the lake and go to the fields at dusk to feed all night, returning to the lake at daybreak.

You're liable to spot curlews, plovers and other shore birds anytime, although they usually fly from field to field to feed during the day.

Spotting and observing the magnificent birds of Autumn is fascinating. For a peaceful break, try it.

Swifts stampede Steers for zone title

Nazareth sewed up a zone playoff berth Friday with a 20-0 drubbing of the Steers at Farwell.

The win gave the Swifts a 9-1 season record and a 5-0 slate in District 2-A North. Nazareth will face south zone runnerup Amherst Friday at 7:30 in Olton, with the zone playoff winner to meet one of four District 1-A teams — Wheeler, Phillips, Groom or Gruver — in bi-district action next week.

Kevin Hoelting kicked two first half field goals late in the second quarter, while fullback Frankie Huseman scored on two short second-half touchdown runs to give the Swifts the zone championship.

The Swifts held Farwell in check, giving the Steers but one scoring opportunity, midway through the second quarter.

Nazareth threatened first, after Benny Schacher recovered a Steer fumble at the Farwell 19. A halfback pass from Billy Steffens to quarterback Todd Hill moved the ball to the 15, but Hoelting missed on a 42-yard field goal.

The Swifts were driving late in the period after Chris Schmucker picked off a Farwell pass at the Swifts 47 and returned it to the Farwell 36, but, two plays later, a Schmucker pass was tipped and intercepted by the Steers.

Farwell drove the ball to the Nazareth 10, then missed a 27-yard field goal try. It was the last opportunity for the Steers to score against the stifling Swift defense.

Nazareth punted back to the Steers on the next possession, then Craig Huseman picked off a Steer pass at the 27 and returned it to the Farwell 16. Four plays later, Hoelting nailed a 37-yard field goal with 1:12 left in the half for a 3-0 Swift lead.

Billy Steffens recovered a fumble on the first Farwell play after the kickoff at the Steer 26 with 36 seconds left in the first half. Hill threw two incomplete passes and ran for seven yards to move the ball to the 19 with 13 seconds left. On fourth down, Hoelting kicked a 37-yard field goal to give the Swifts a 6-0 halftime lead.

"We felt like we needed to put some points on the board, and that's why we went for the field goals," said NHS coach Rex Minshew. "Earlier in the year, or against someone else, we might have tried for a first down, especially on the two earlier tries, but we needed to put some points on the board, because this was for all of the marbles."

The Swifts scored an insurance touchdown midway through the third quarter, driving 63 yards on just six plays. Hill picked up 25 yards on the first play, then tailback Mike Huseman, who had 96 yards on 20 carries, picked up 21 of the remaining yards before fullback Frankie Huseman scored from six yards out. Hoelting's PAT put the Swifts ahead 13-0 with 6:18 to go in the third quarter.

With 9:15 to play in the game, the Swifts started their final touchdown drive of the night, with Hill connecting with Hoelting on a 33-yard pass to the Farwell 17 keying the drive. Three plays later, Frankie Huseman dove in from the one, and Hoelting added the PAT for a 20-0 lead.

NAZARETH TAILBACK Mike Huseman (33) breaks around right end gaining 7 yards Friday night in Farwell. Huseman rushed for 96 yards to lead the Swifts ground attack in the 20-0 victory over the Farwell Steers. Escorting Huseman are Billy Steffens (44) and Randy Leavitt (76). The Swifts captured first place in district and earned the right to advance to the playoffs with the win.

Swifts tackle Bulldogs Friday

Nazareth will be vying for a spot in the state playoffs tomorrow night when they tangle with the Amherst Bulldogs at 7:30 at Olton.

The Swifts, 9-1, wrapped up the District 2-A North zone title with a 20-0 win over Farwell Friday, while the Bulldogs captured second place in the conference's south zone. Amherst is 6-2-1 on the year. One of the losses came against South Zone winner Sudan, the other in the Bulldogs second game of the season against Plains.

"They're not real big, but they have a whole lot of speed," said NHS coach Rex Minshew. "They'll try to hurt us by getting outside, because I don't think they can run up the middle on us. They'll just try to use their quickness to get by us."

"They use their quickness and aggressiveness on defense. They play a 'split-six' and a 6-1, but I don't think they'll be able to stop us — they shouldn't be able to stop us, if we play up to our potential. But they're no slouches, and if we don't play hard, football season might be over for us."

Amherst missed the playoffs by just two points last year and finished 7-3, behind Sunday and Whiteface. It's been a long time since Amherst has been in the playoffs, while the Swifts are making an annual affair of it.

"It's going to be an advantage to us, having been there before," Minshew said. "They haven't been there, and I'm sure they'll be playing with a lot of emotion and pull out all of the stops on us."

Minshew said the Swifts will be looking for a few tricks from the sleeve of coach James Goodwin.

"They won't mind doing some things like flea-flickers and the Statue of Liberty play. They'll put a lot of pressure on our defense. We'll need an especially good game from our defensive ends — Kevin Hoelting, Mike Huseman and Kenny Kern — and the same, solid play from our offense."

Bobbies have new coach, new outlook

Just because the Bobbies have only one fulltime starter back doesn't mean new Dimmitt coach Richard Wood isn't bubbling with optimism over his old alma mater's chances in 1985-86.

"These girls work hard," Wood said. "A lot of them, when we started basketball workouts, would work out until 5:30 or 6 every afternoon then to their cross country work. We could tell in our scrimmage last week against Nazareth and Levelland who had run cross country and who hadn't — we'd run the press, and the ones who had been working out with cross country were still getting after it, while the others were a little tired."

Speaking of scrimmages, and optimism, Wood was understating how well he was pleased with the Bobbies' performance against the two perennial state powers.

"Nazareth beat us by 2, 4 and 6 points, and we beat Levelland in one quarter, and if you can stay on the floor with those folks, especially with all of the work we have to do, well, all I know is we're going to be tough by the time district gets here."

While Lisa Nelson, an all-district pick last year, is the only fulltime starter returning, the Bobbies will have seven strong seniors on the club.

"We have a good bunch of seniors — Lisa, Jill Smith, Sonccia Tischler, Becky Schroeder, Stephanie Ryan, Stephanie Killingsworth and Camille Summers. Becky started through the first half of district, then hurt her knee. She's still not back to where she was, physically or mentally, but I think she can come back and help us this year.

"Some of the others started some, and got quite a bit of playing time, while some of the others were a little disenchanted because they didn't get much playing time. Some of them told me they weren't going to play this year after their experience last year, but they have come out and worked hard this year."

Joining those seven on the varsity this year will be Nadine Gauna and Molly Waggoner, while five other players — Cara Odom, Charlynn Hunter, Karen Clayton, Kristi Petty and Linda Saenz — will split time between the varsity and the JV.

"If we don't have a JV girls game, or for tournaments, or if we need them to help us, we'll have them on the varsity. We want to play them on the JV to start with because I want them to get plenty of playing time."

"That means we'll have nine fulltime varsity players, and there's not a lot of difference between those nine. They're all pretty even, and they'll all get plenty of playing time."

A new coach means some adjustment for the girls, and Wood says the Bobbies have picked up "pretty well on the system. We're stressing team play — there are no individuals. If they have a shot, then they need to take it, but if there's someone closer to the basket who has a better chance to score, I sure want them to pass the ball.

"We run some pretty basic offenses, and we'll run the same presses and defenses as the boys, and what we've run here before. We'll do some man-to-man on both offense and defense."

Like the boys, the girls schedule is a killer, with Morton, Hereford, Levelland, Canyon and two tough tournaments on the horizon.

"The pre-district may kill us," Wood said. "We play Canyon here, then catch them in the first game of the Canyon Classic, then open with Lubbock Monterey at the Caprock Tournament."

"District is going to be tough — Friona and Tulia will be the teams to beat, and we catch them here in the first round, which is a break for us, and we need to beat them here."

"I really think we'll be ready to go by the time district gets here. We had a tough scrimmage last week, and I guarantee you there are no teams anywhere around who will put as much man-to-man pressure on you as Nazareth and Levelland. We'll scrimmage Bovina Friday, and they'll be tough."

"We still have a ways to go — we're still making some silly turnovers that killed us in the first scrimmage, and we still need to work on our presses and our timing. But we'll be tough, and I really think we'll be in the playoff hunt in February."

HOW DID YOU SPEND YOUR SATURDAY?—If you're a Dimmitt Bobcat, you spent last Saturday at the Middle School gym, playing in a four-way scrimmage with Amarillo High, Amarillo Tascosa and Sanford-Fritch. Survivors of the afternoon include, from left, Warren McDonald, John Wait, James Alexander, Marc Bennett, Blake Brown, Scott Hill, Todd Braafladt, Danny Martinez and Pat McDonald. Still able to stand were Jeremy Warren and Joe Porter.

Bobcats look for an old friend — Austin

"I'm excited — maybe a little more than usual. What we do and accomplish remains to be seen, but I'm anxious to see what we can do."

No, that's not some booster club president, team captain or cheerleader talking. That's one of those people that's supposed to always be pessimistic — a coach talking about his team's chances for the coming year.

But Dimmitt coach Ken Cleveland doesn't want to sound like a pessimist — he's really optimistic about his Bobcats' chances in 1985-86.

"I don't want a bunch of people to start making reservations in Austin, and there's already been some of that talk going around, and I don't want to sound like a pessimist when I say that, but I really am optimistic about our chances this year."

"I may sound like a pessimist when I say this, but really we are a young team. We'll probably end up starting three sophomores quite a bit, but we'll have two good seniors out there too."

The two seniors are all-state 6-3 post Pat McDonald and all-district guard Danny Martinez, who was thought to be too old this year, but will be eligible to play during his true senior season.

"We didn't think Danny would be eligible, but we're glad to have him back, because he makes things happen. Of course, we know what Pat can do — just about anything. And we have a good nucleus of people coming back from last year's squad — James Alexander, Jeremy Warren, Todd Braafladt, Blake Brown, Mark Smothermon and Woody Glass — to join Pat and Danny. Most of those folks got a lot of playing time. That should help, because we lost some good seniors, especially at guard, and we need to fill those two places.

"We always lose some good seniors every year, and the bunch we lost from last year is no different, but we have a real good group of people coming back."

There's a good group of newcomers coming in, too, that has Cleveland's excitement level up.

"Marc Bennett and Warren McDonald could get a lot of time, and one or both could end up starting, depending on how things go during the season," Cleveland said. "Marc needs to be a little more consistent, and we've only had Warren in the gym since Saturday, but they could help us a lot this year — in fact, we need them to help us a lot."

"We are counting on a lot of people, because I'll be carrying someone between 11 and 14 players on the varsity and after the top two or three, they're all about even, and I'll be moving them around quite a bit. I always say we're going to play a lot of people, especially at the first of the year, but I'm going to make myself play a lot of people at the start of the season. It may boil down to just seven or eight people getting a lot of playing time by the end of the season, but I really think we could have a bunch of folks that are going to get a lot of playing time."

"We want to keep some people on the JV that are juniors this year, because I think they can help us more by getting lots of playing time on the JV instead of rusting on the varsity bench, but it depends on how much work they do between now and the start of the season.

"Something else that will help us is that we'll have over 20 real good sophomore kids. That gives us not only a stong bunch to work with in the future, but they'll be helping the varsity out this year, too. They'll be going to some good tournaments, and we've gotten them all of the games we can."

The schedule is tough as always, Cleveland said, with a couple of not-so-easy breathers thrown in along the way.

"People say 'Why are we playing Amherst and Hartley?' Well, I'd rather play them than have an open date, so we'll be playing those people. And, we play the big schools — Hereford, Levelland, Canyon, and you might as well count Morton as a big school. The Plainview and Caprock tournaments will be tough as usual, and we'll be going into new territory at the Denver City Tournament."

"We can't go back to the Reese Tournament because of the district schedule and the Christmas holidays, so we're going to Denver City. I know that's a long way away, but it was the only tournament around, plus we'll see some people down there we hope to see later on in the playoffs."

While everyone will be gunning for his Bobcats anyway, there could be some tough sledding in District 2-3A.

"Right now, I think it will probably finish Dimmitt, Idalou, Littlefield and

OLD HAND—Richard Wood is no newcomer to Dimmitt—he grew up here, graduated from DHS—but he's new as the coach of the Dimmitt Bobbies. Seven lettermen greeted Wood in his new role. His 1985-86 varsity squad will

Nine would be fine for Swiftettes

THE LUCKY NUMBER for the 1985-86 Nazareth Swiftettes is nine—as in nine state championships in 10 years. Hoping to find their way back to Austin are (back, from left) Shana Birkenfeld, Traci Hill, Missy Brockman, Rachel Huseman, Barbie Steffens; (middle)

CeCe Kern, Kelly Schilling, Annette Schmucker, Ramona Heiman, Tracy Birkenfeld; (front) Stephanie Brockman, Gail Drerup, Jennifer Brockman, Bobbi Hochstein and Sheila Acker.

There's a tough hole to fill for the Nazareth Swiftettes as they put their perennial state championship and 68-game winning streak on the line beginning next Tuesday against Olton.

Nah, the hole's not the head coach's position—Sandy Oliver is confident she can handle that without much of a problem. The hole to fill is in the Swiftette's outside game.

Leona Gerber and LaDawn Schmucker won't be wearing an NHS uniform this year for the first time in what must seem eons to other Class A teams. They take with them three basketball state crowns and a big part of the Swiftette attack.

"We'll have to develop some on the outside," Oliver, in her fourth year at Nazareth but in her first year as head coach, said. "We have three people we're looking at real hard, and we should have answers after our scrimmages with Dimmitt, Levelland and Hereford. "Mostly, it's going to be a matter of maturity and experience. But we're looking for some good things from the people we'll have out there."

CeCe Kern, a 5-5 senior, is back from a starting role at guard last year, and is being joined by Sheila Acker for the present at the outside post for the Swiftettes.

Inside, the Swiftettes are in the more-than-capable all-state hands of Ramona Heiman and Kelly Schilling.

Heiman, a 5-10 senior, joined with Gerber to lead the Nazareth scoring attack while leading the team in rebounds.

Schilling, a 5-9 senior, was the team's fourth leading scorer—but when Gerber, Schmucker and Heiman are up around 15 points a game, well, Schilling's put her share of points in the bucket.

"We're very confident about our inside people," Oliver said. "I think we're going to be very strong inside. And we have a lot of people who are going to be strong for us—people we had on the varsity last year that will get a lot of playing time but may not start, plus we have some younger kids that could help us a lot.

"The scrimmages helped us, because we needed to play against someone else—we were tired of just practicing against each other. We were ready to go against some other people. When you scrimmage against someone as strong as Dimmitt, Levelland and Hereford, that helps get you ready for a tough schedule like ours."

That tough schedule begins with 2A power Olton, with Abernathy and Bovina, two more 2A toughies, just ahead.

"The Queens Classic is always tough, and it will be this year, too. There's good combination of people. Plus we have Slaton, the Canyon and Abernathy tournaments—we'll play some really tough people."

And what about District 5A, which the Swiftettes have ruled for 14 years?

"I think it's going to be a lot more competitive this year," Oliver said. "Happy should be a lot more competitive, they have some really good folks, and Lazbuddie is probably the

Swifts looking for return trip to finals

He's been to the top, as a player and an assistant coach.

Now, Johnny Hampton gets to show what he's learned at the knees of Kenneth Cleveland and Joe Lombard as he takes over the head coach's reigns of the Nazareth Swifts.

It's not entirely new, Hampton being a head coach—for the last two years, he's had to guide the Swifts through the regional semifinals at Levelland while Lombard was jetting to Austin for the girls state finals. This year, Hampton's on his own, taking over a team that went to the state finals last year.

"We're of unknown quantity of quality," Hampton said of the Swifts, who are still playing football and have yet to hold their first basketball practice. "We have a lot of kids back from last year, but not a lot of them have a lot of playing experience. Plus we lost three all-state starters—Ricky Backus, Chris Gerber and Russell Hoelting. You don't bring up three all-state starters off the JV to replace those people, you just have to find someone to take their place."

Gerber, Backus and Hoelting spent most of their time on the outside, and Hampton is looking at four players to replace at least the two guards, Gerber

GIVE ME AN 'N'—for the Nazareth boys, who are searching for more than a silver medal in the 1985-86 basketball season. Most of the Swifts are still in football, but tried on their basketball togs to make sure they'll be ready when the season starts (most of the Swifts don't mind if basketball doesn't start until late and Backus. "Three of the people we'll be looking at are underclassmen.

They're not big, all under 6-0, but they can play—at least I hope so. I really think they can.

"Chris Schmucker, Darrell Hoelting, Todd Hill and Craig Huseman are the four we'll be looking at out there. They all shoot well, but we just don't know how well they'll play and exactly where they will fit in. Right now, I'd have to say Chris and Darrell will alternate on the point and Todd and Craig will be at the off guard, because they're better shooters than they are ball handlers."

Hampton thinks that just some of the potential has been tapped as he looks at his experienced inside players.

"There's still a lot of potential and promise from our post players. Some of it has come out, because Joe had them well-taught over the last two years.

"Randy Leavitt ended up being our sixth man last year because he had a tendency to get in some foul trouble, but he did a good job all year. Billy Steffens did a super job in the state finals last year, and Kevin Hoelting did a good, tough job all year, and he'll start. Kenny Kern is up off the JV, and he should help us a lot."

All of that help is something Hampton can look forward—and up—to. Leavitt checks in at 6-6, the other three at 6-2. It adds up to a good amount of height and heft underneath, since all are 190 and over.

It's going to be a tough schedule for the Swifts, too, with three tough tournaments looming just ahead, and Happy waiting in the district wings.

"The Plainview tournament will give us some good competition, and Reese should still be a tough tourney, and we know it is very hard for us to win at Abernathy.

Happy will be the toughest opponent we'll have in district. They have a post player named Weaver who is 6-6 and gave us problems last year."

Once you've been to state, everyone expects you to be able to go right back, but Hampton says there's a lot of work to be done.

"For starters, we haven't worked out yet, and, two, there are a lot of holes we'll have to fill. There's a lot of work to be done between now and March."

And, there's some pressure already on the almost-rookie head coach.

"Yes, there's some pressure on me, but it's mostly what I have put on myself, plus my wife, but she's helping. Everyone expects us to go to state, but we're a different team than we were last year. Expecting and doing are two different things, but I think if the kids work, and we can fill those big holes, we'll be in good shape."

Hart girls eye big district race ahead

Ask Hart Lady Longhorn followers, and they'll tell you that just having a good team isn't enough in District 3-2A — one of the state's toughest leagues.

Hart went 14-13 overall, but just 2-8 in loop play. Olton, with a 16-12 squad, finished in fourth place. Bovina went 23-4 and went home, having to settle for third. Hale Center went 25-7 and reached the regional semifinals, while Abernathy finished as state runner-up with a 27-8 mark.

"There's no doubt this is a tough, tough district, and it will be just as tough this year as it was a year ago," said new coach Mark Albin, who brings an 85-40 career record with him. Last year, the Kansas native coached the Lazbuddie girls to their first winning season in 10 years, and will try to rub some of that magic off on the Hart girls.

"Abernathy, Hale Center and Bovina are three class teams, but I really think we'll be playing with them by the end of the year. We only have two starters back (6-0 junior post Gwen Wilson and 5-7 junior wing Risha Ammons), but if these other girls make a good adjustment from JV ball to varsity action, we'll be okay.

"We'll rely a lot on Gwen. Our offense is geared around her, but she's a team player, and a tremendous player. She's a strong leader, and she's done a terrific job for us.

"Risha is a pure shooter, and she's done a good job so far. Those two are going to be our leaders, but we have six other people who are going to contribute a lot.

"If I had to go with a starting lineup right now, it would probably be Stephanie Lee (senior guard), Kathleen McLain (sophomore wing) and Robbie Sarabia (junior wing). But Cindy Knox (sophomore post), Traci Jeffcoat (senior wing) and Cynthia George (sophomore post-wing) are going to help us quite a bit.

"We're terribly young, but we want to win this year, set the foundations for what could be a super year next year. That's our goal, really to build for next year this year, but I really think we'll be a strong team by the time district gets here.

"I feel our tough non-district schedule, which we've toughened up a little with people like Nazareth and Sudan, will help us get ready for district. We're going to surprise some people, because we've been picked next to last, but if we can find a playmaker, someone to take charge out front, our offense is going to be more effective, and we'll be able to play with everybody.

"We really have some tremendous talent — that's one of the reasons why I came over here. These girls work hard, and I'm excited about what I think they can do this year."

WALK TALL—AND CARRY A HUGE STICK—That could be some of the advice new Hart Lady Longhorns coach Mark Albin (right) will give his squad before they enter an extremely tough District 3-2A race. Leading

Floydada, and those next three all have a lot of people back. I don't think it's going to be a waltz for us or anyone — I think this could be one of the toughest districts around."

And what about after district?

"Well, I think everyone knows what our goal is every year — to make it at least to Austin. That's why we put that state map on the wall every year in our dressing room (at the high school).

"Don't make any reservations yet, but we're going to try everything we can, we're going to work hard, to get down there (Austin)."

Swiftettes . . .

next best team. They have a couple of real good junior kids, and a real good freshman class. They will be super tough next year.

And what about the pressures of taking over where Joe Lombard left off? Are there any jitters?

"Well, first, I'm blessed with some really good kids, especially our seniors. We have five, and a couple of them might not have quite as much ability, but they put out 100% effort all of the time. That's the kind of leadership we're looking for. It's going to be tough—we know we can't just go on tradition, but we have to work and work . . ."

"I've done some things a little differently, and the kids have to adjust to that, but they're winners—they know how to win. I don't have to teach them that, and that will help.

"Most of the pressure that's on me is what I've applied on myself. It's not that I'm walking into something new—I have been a head coach before, and I have been here four years. I don't think I have the jitters I might have if I were walking into a new program. I'm confident in my ability, and I have a good assistant (Lisa Anglin).

"Most of all, though, I'm confident in these kids."

Longhorns ready for tough season

"We have some folks with skills and ability we can develop to their optimum. I think if we do that, we'll be in good shape. We don't have anyone really magnificent, but with some luck, we'll be able to contend.

"We just have three seniors, and two of those will be two of the people we'll depend on a lot, Ronnie Rodriguez (6-2) and Manuel Rodriguez (5-11). Paul Ramirez (6-2) averaged 16 points and 18 rebounds a game last year, and he was the Sophomore of the Year pick by the Amarillo Globe-News.

"We have a good nucleus to start with — the nucleus of what could be a real good ball club."

That's how Hart boys coach Gerald Nail assesses his Longhorns' chances in 1985-86.

"Mark Castillo was all-tourney at a couple of places last year, and he could help us . . . we have a problem, though, with all of these people. They can all play well on the inside, but we have to have some folks come along, work, and help us on the outside.

"We have eight JV kids who are back this year, and hopefully we can find someone to run the offense. We'll try to just freelance when we can — and I think we have the personnel that will let us do that. I'm for just putting the ball in the hole," said the new HHS coach, who brings a 130-57 career record with him.

"We'll play a zone defense, and I'm not going to be much for technique offensively. We'll concentrate on our defense, but offensively we'll just do whatever it takes to score points."

Nail doesn't put much stock in the pre-season polls which have Hart picked as low as fifth.

"Abernathy and Hale Center will probably be the top two teams, but I think we have a chance to finish at least in third. Our schedule should help us get in gear for district."
