GENERAL HUERTA SENT INTO PUEBLA

FORCE DISPATCHED FROM MORELOS TO RELIEVE CUERNAVACA AND SALAS.

FIGHTING IS DESPERATE

Oaxaca, Diaz's Native City, is Menaced. Parras, Coahuila, Madero's Home Scene of Constant Struggle.

City of Mexico, May 12.—Proof of the part of the government through the situation in Puebla is given by an order for General Huerta and his men, now in Morelos, to go to the aid of the hard-pressed Federals in that State. The force was dispatched to the relief of Cuernavaca and Salas when representations were made to the Foreign Office by the diplomats here that something should be done to save the large foreign colony trapped by the sudden advance of General Figueroa's rebels from Guerrero. General Huerta has been unable to accomplish his task at hand and his recall will take away a strong force that was looked to oppose the advances of Figueroa.

The Puebla rebels are fighting desperately to capture Atlitico, a Federal stronghold. If it should fall, the way would be open to the capital of the State. In this city there are about 1,500 Federals behind armored parapets. In a fight near the city, which involved the looting of a cotton mill, a German named Muller was killed. He was the foreman of the factory.

Oaxaca City, the birthplace of General Diaz, heretofore considered secure, is now menaced by the insurgents. The news is brought by passengers on a train on the Mexican Southern Railway which came through from Oaxaca, after long interruption of the line. They say that rebels from Puebla have invaded the State, determined on spreading the insurrection there. They have had an easy time of it, for Oaxaca in its loyalty has furnished more soldiers to the Government in this crisis than any other of the States, and many of its best fighters are at other places. There are tales of many horrors perpetrated by the loyal inhabitants.

The National Railway between Aguas-Calientes and San Luis Potosi was put out of commission by the rebels yesterday. The railroad strike in Yucatan continues, adding to the general demoralization on account of the revolt in that State. Morena Canton, who is apparently the people's candidate for the governorship of Yucatan, has arrived at Merida, and has been received with a great demonstration by hundreds carrying banners inscribed "Put Down the Bad Government." There were torchlight processions at night in his honor and addresses to a great concourse of people from the balcony of the principal hotel. General Luis Merza, the rebel commander in Durango, has appeared before Sombretes, an important town in Northwest Zaca Teas, which is defended by the Eleventh Cavalry. He sent a messenger under a flag of truce to demand the surrender of the place. The Federal commander before the eyes of the messenger, grabbed a rifle from a soldier, rammed Merza's letter in the barrel and fired in the direction of the rebel outpost. He then sent the messenger back, saying: Tell Merza there is no answer.

The siege began immediately. There is little hope for the town, despite the bravery of the defenders. Valparaiso, Zacatecas, was the scene of a heroic act by a 15-year-old girl, Amalia Sifuentes, the daughter of the Mayor of the town. The rebels took the place and the Mayor hid himself with the Government funds. His daughter was captured and tortured to bring from her the location of the hiding place of the Mayor. She

Waco Chosen As Place of Meeting by State Medical Association In 1912.

The State Medical Association, which held its annual meeting at Amarillo, completed its labors yesterday after selecting Waco as the meeting place for 1913.

The invitation extended by this city through Secretary Day of the Chamber of Commerce was well received and when read to the association created a great deal of mirth and laughter. The delegates expressed themselves as favoring Wichita Falls as the 1913 meeting place.

Drs. E. Puckett, Everett Jones, M. W. Walker and W. H. Walker, were the physicians who attended the meeting from this city, and all have returned home. They say Amarillo treated them handsomely by giving entertainments and automobile rides for the third district.

Dr. D. R. Fly, of Amarillo, was elected president of the association, and Dr. H. J. Bonds of Colorado City, one of the vice-presidents, and Dr. H. J. Bonds, of Tulsa, councillor for the third district.

These officers of the State Association have been invited to meet with the Wichita County Medical Association in this city on the first Tuesday in June, and have accepted the invitations.

refused to tell and was so injured that she afterward died. A Federal force came up and drove away the rebels. The girl was buried with all possible honors.

Details of horrors that are extreme come from Parras, Coahuila, the ancestral home of the Maderos and the center of their vast Coahuila estate. This has been a point of great activity almost since the opening of the revolt. Around no other place in this fratricidal war have passions raged more freely.

It was in the hands of the rebels until recent weeks, when a Federal detachment, which marched through jungles in order to escape the mines the rebels had planted in the highways, surprised the sleeping town. When morning broke they held the church and the municipal palace and other points of vantage, while the blood of rebels spilled in the streets and doorways is evidence of the desperation with which they fought before retiring.

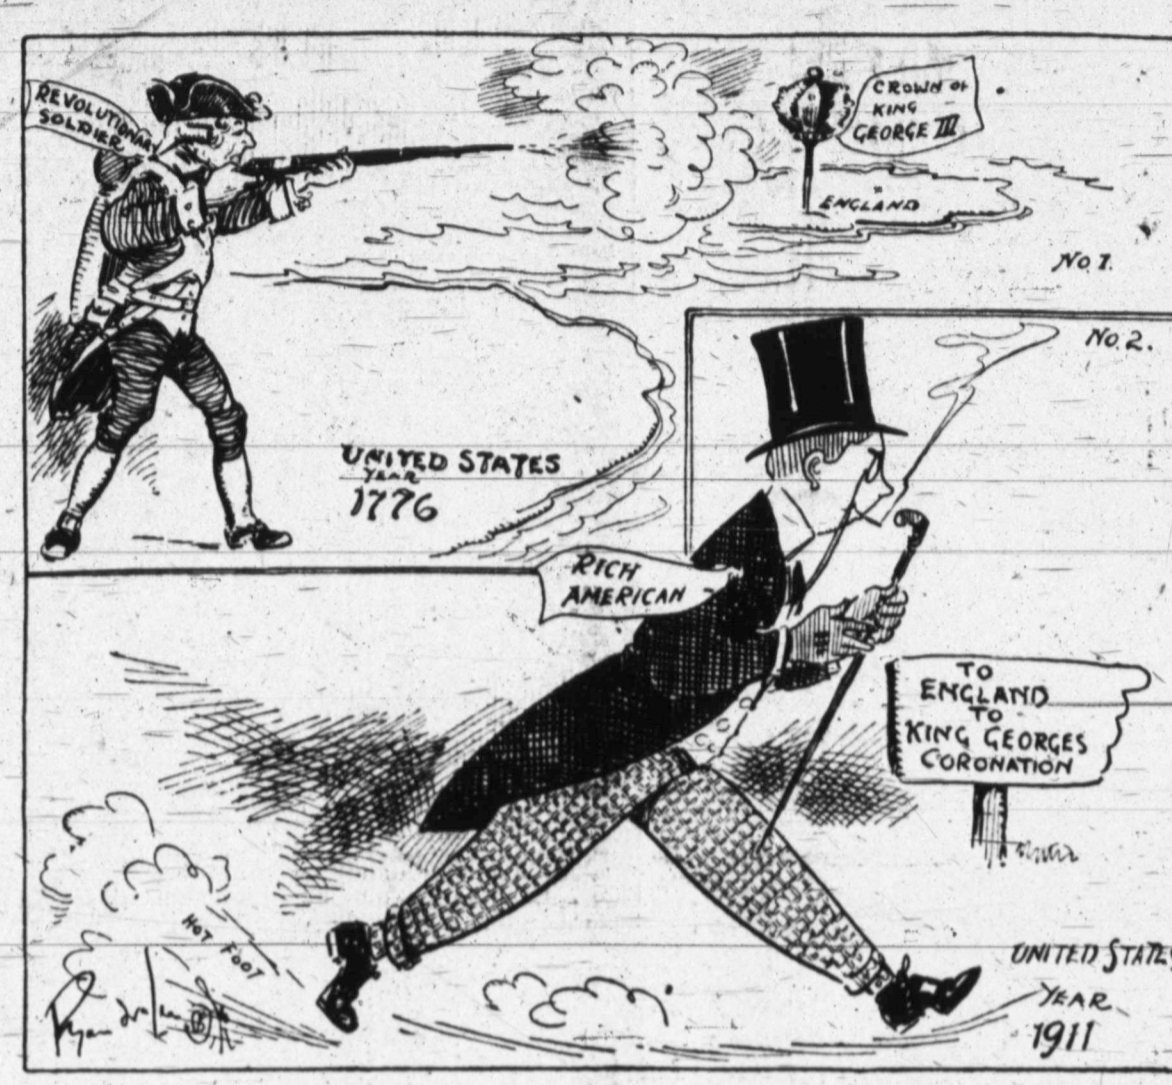

That night the ranks of the rebels were swelled by the loyal Maderosists from the surrounding country side, and they again forced their way to the heart of the city. Ten Federals who were captured were hanged on the trees in the plaza, and the bodies were there at last accounts. Rebels and Federals then had separate parts of the town. An armistice was arranged but lack of confidence on both sides caused it soon to be broken.

Since then anarchy has ruled, and the fighting has been continuous. Dynamite is playing an important part in the work of destruction that is going on. Not a wall of the Jesuit Church has been left standing. Buildings that will lend themselves to fortification have been blown up for fear that the enemy might use them. Rapine and destruction are rampant. Even pianos and other furniture are forced up with axes. Children, chopped by hunger into the streets, are killed or wounded by stray bullets, or caught in debris flying from discharges of dynamite. The dead in many instances have been left lying in the streets, into which no one dares to venture.

Mail advices tell of imminent danger to Torreon, Coahuila and Tuxpan, Vera Cruz. The Federal forces are bottled up in both places. The Torreon people are not sure of conditions at Durango. For several days they thought the place was in the hands of rebels, but the latest reports are that the Federals and rebels are locked in a desperate struggle for the city. Joutla, Morelos, is in desperate straits.

The commissioners court this morning took up the work of going over the tax rolls as a basis of equalization and will be occupied for several days performing this duty.

The sheriff's office this afternoon made a raid on one of the houses in the flat and three of the occupants were marched to the court house to settle for their offense. Another was arrested and will have to answer to the court later.

TWO THOUSAND REBELS ARE REPORTED ADVANCING ON CITY OF CHIHUAHUA

NORTH CENTRAL MEXICO IS A REVOLUTIONARY HOTBED—DURANGO AND TORREON ARE SURROUNDED BY REBELS LERDO AND PALACIO-GOMEZ ALREADY IN POSSESSION OF THE REBELS—OTHER NEWS FROM MEXICO

Special to The Times
Washington, D. C., May 12.—The shipment of arms from El Paso into Jauréz will be permitted by the U. S. authorities. This is taken as a practical recognition by the United States of the Madero provisional government.

By Associated Press
Chihuahua City, May 10—Via El Paso, May 12—Two thousand Insurrectos are reported marching on Chihuahua from the South. The city has been isolated for a week. The advance guard of the Insurrectos is already encamped around this city. Eulalia, an important mining station twelve miles East of here has been abandoned by the municipal officers leaving the Americans at the mines in sole charge of the place. The situation South of here is reported thus: Torreon, having a population of 26000 is surrounded by the rebels. Lerdo and Palacio Gomez near Torreon, are in the hands of Insurrectos. Durango, with 32,000 population is surrounded. Aguas Calientes, with 56,000 population is a hotbed of revolutionists. Parral is surrounded by fifteen hundred Rebels. An armored train started from here to the relief of Parral but sighted so many rebels ahead the relief party returned here. In the territory adjacent to the South of Torreon, towns have been invaded, stores looted, railways and telegraph destroyed and jefes politicos killed. The entire section south of here is fast becoming more of a menace to the Federal government than Madero's forces.

COLLISION AT SEA THE MERIDA SINKS

Passengers Transferred to the Admiral Farragut and Are Again Transferred to Another Steamer.

By Associated Press.
New York, May 12.—The steamer Merida of the Ward line with 207 passengers from Havana, to New York, was rammed by steamer Admiral Farragut, off Cape Charles shortly after midnight and sank in five hours. The passengers were all safely transferred to the Admiral Farragut.

The wireless is flashing but meager details of the disaster so far. The Admiral Farragut floated, thanks to her forward collision but her bulkheads are in bad shape. An Old Dominion Line steamship is reported to have come alongside the Farragut and taken off the passengers and will land them at Norfolk late today. Meanwhile the Farragut is returning slowly toward Philadelphia. The United States battleship Iowa is rushing full speed toward the scene.

By Associated Press.

Officials Refuse to Discuss Rumored Court Martial.

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, May 12.—The war department officials decline to talk about Navarro's probable court martial, but it is said his behavior is not approved by his superiors. It is reported that Navarro surrendered only when he could no longer endure the sight of his men, without food and drink for two days suffering as they fought an almost hopeless battle in the barracks. The court martial will be based on the report that Navarro was still in a fighting condition when he displayed the white flag.

200 Insurrectos March South From Jauréz.

By Associated Press.
Juarez, May 12.—Last night two hundred and fifty Insurrectos marched out of Juarez their destination being unknown. It may be their purpose to intercept Rabago, Obregon and Braniff will meet Madero today to try and arrange new peace negotiations.

Six cases of typhus were found today in the hospital hitherto used by the federals. One man died of the disease and five others today were quarantined. Americans returning from Chihuahua by automobile report that Rabago with about three hundred federals is still at Terrasas about two hundred miles south of here awaiting orders.

GEN. NAVARRO TO BE COURT-MARTIALED

Demonstration Against Diaz As Result Declared Planned for Today.

City of Mexico, May 12.—Gen. Navarro is to be court-martialed for the surrender of Juarez. The military court will sit at Chihuahua within a few days.

Gen. Navarro has been very popular here and the order is the cause of much agitation. They would not allow it in any event, but trouble is feared.

Church Federation Hits Snag. Chattanooga, Tenn., May 12.—After three days of arduous labor, with three sessions daily, the commissioners on Methodist federation had not reached a final agreement upon adjournment at 11 o'clock last night, and another session will be necessary commencing at 10 o'clock today. It had been thought certain that commissioners would formulate a unanimous recommendation to their respective general conferences yesterday, but several articles in the plan as presented by the subcommittee caused a hitch in the proceedings and it is not at all certain when the end will be. At the night session it was practically agreed that a recommendation will be made by the commissions which makes it certain that the general subject of federation will reach the general conferences as they convene, and will be referred back to the members of the churches for action by annual conferences. Should this plan be decided upon, federation would not be possible, at the earliest, before the year 1917.

Fire at Greenville. By Associated Press. Greenville, May 12.—From fifteen to twenty thousand dollars damage resulted this morning from a fire in the Morris lumber yard.

MARICLE'S WAREHOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Sparks From Passing Locomotive Believed to Have Set Fire to the Building.

Fire this afternoon about 1 o'clock destroyed the frame building owned by Maricle Bros., and located just below the factory of the People's Ice Company, together with quite a quantity of feed stuff contained therein, the loss on the building and contents approximating $800. The delivery wagon of the firm was considerably damaged by the fire, but the team of mules were gotten out of the building and saved. Considerable coal in a long shed off to one side of the building, was supposed to have been started by sparks from a switch engine that was used in that vicinity about the time the blaze started. The building was insured for $300 while there was insurance on the contents to the amount of $500.

The fire department responded very promptly to the alarm and rendered efficient service in preventing a spread of the flames.

Sin Killer Will Preach Special Sermon for White Folks Tonight

Preachers and Christians who want to learn how to conduct a successful revival were directed to the preaching John the Baptist by Rev. J. L. Griffin, (Sin Killer), at the negro revival-meeting Thursday night.

"Good News" was the theme of Rev. Griffin's sermon. He took for his text the scripture from Luke "The Son of Man has come to seek and save that which was lost."

Among other things the negro evangelist said, the white folks need more liberty, liberty to say amen, to help their preacher.

"Some folks criticize the evangelist," he said "they want more theory in the sermons, pet ideas and fine language, but if they want to learn how to draw people they must find out what John the Baptist preached and what the Apostles preached on the "Day of Pentecost."

"We must preach Christ, that is the only way to wake up young men on the road to ruin."

Fifty went forward for prayer at the

AMERICAN ARMY READY TO ADLANCE

WAR COLLEGE AT WASHINGTON HAS EVERY DETAIL FIGURED OUT AND WORD ONLY AWAITED.

TAFT IS WORRYING

Action by U. S. May Be Necessary to Prevent Other Governments Violating Monroe Doctrine.

Special to The Times. Washington, D. C., May 12.—The United States army is ready for the invasion of Mexico.

It is learned that the Army War College has mapped out a complete strategic campaign for invasion, not only for the regular troops, but for the state militia, the latter numbering 119,000.

The plans have been so laid that regular troops and state militia may move speedily from every section of the United States, until there is assembled at the Mexican border the full complement of 200,000 soldiers.

The Army War College has on file time tables and maps of all railroads over which the troops may move.

The house military affairs committee, "informally" consisting of the possibility of invasion, gleaned these facts from Brigadier General Wotherpoon, president of the Army War College, whose duties are to prepare for war in time of peace. The chief strategist predicted a guerilla warfare of several months if the American troops are sent into Mexico.

Preparing for intervention, while hoping that it may not come, the Army War College has in its possession maps and time tables of American and Mexican railroads over which the state militias and regular troops must move, and its most expert strategists have been put to work on a plan of invasion, in event such a course should suddenly become necessary.

The house military affairs committee has been "informally" told of the activities of the army strategists stationed at Washington. It is learned from unquestoned authority that Brigadier General William W. Wotherpoon, in a rather pessimistic frame of mind, has confidentially told the members of the house committee that Mexican invasion means a long guerilla warfare, and that for this reason every phase of invasion has been the constant study of the Army War College since the troops were first sent to the border.

The war college first obtained the time tables and railroad maps of such American railroads as touched points from which the state militias may have to be summoned. It is realized that the regular standing army of the United States, can not cope unaided with the situation in Mexico if the American soldiers are sent across the border.

The experts of the war college next obtained maps and time tables of Mexican railroads. The line of march, as it were, was carefully planned.

But what if the Mexicans burn the bridges of the land of Diaz.

The cost of bridge construction, the length of marches, foot overland and useless railroad tracks, the problem of obtaining cattle to feed an army of 200,000 soldiers, regulars and militiamen, the danger of ambush and the peculiar style of "independent warfare," to which American soldiers would be subjected, have each been considered right here in Washington.

Democrats Seek to Side Track $40,000.00 Service Pension Bills

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 12.—The House in session today, but the Senate is not. The report of the committee recommending statehood for Arizona and New Mexico is promised in the House for today. The House won't be in session Monday because the order of business then would be the discharge of committees, and one of these discharge motions would result in the calling up for action for million dollars' service pension bill. The passage of this bill is not on the Democratic program for the extra session. The Senate will meet Monday when a hot parliamentary skirmish is predicted over the election of speaker pro tempore. Then some will try to postpone this election.

LITTLE ROCK IS READY FOR CONFEDS

ARRANGEMENTS FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF VETERANS AND VISITORS NEXT WEEK ALMOST COMPLETE.

AT CAMP KAVANAUGH

Five Thousand Veterans Are Provided For—Tented City in City Park, Hotels and Boarding Houses Prepared.

Little Rock, Ark., May 12.—During the coming week the eyes of all Confederate veterans, their families and their friends will be turned toward this city, where the annual reunion of the Confederate Veterans will hold forth with an attendance that promises to be the largest recent years. The United Sons of Confederate Veterans and other affiliated organizations will hold their annual meetings in Little Rock during the week. For several months the local committees have been busy preparing for the welcome and entertainment of the thousands of visitors. The arrangements are now complete and are declared to be of the most perfect character. Throughout the period of the reunion the city will be decorated and illuminated as never before in her history. Five thousand of the veterans will be accommodated in camp Kavanaugh, the tented city that will be erected in the city park. Probably twice that number will be cared for in the hotels and boarding-houses of the city. Many private homes will also be thrown open to the visitors.

Texas Opportunities in Hog Raising
The Commercial Secretaries Association has been collecting data on our trade relations with Latin America and finds that South America and our neighboring islands spend in the United States approximately $100,000 per week for pork alone and this trade properly belongs to Texas, but we haven't the hogs. We are not able to supply our home demands for pork.

Our meat market is the biggest thing in Texas and the possibilities of our live stock industry are as large as two hemispheres. Good roads ameliorate the condition of the farmer, promote social intercourse, encourage school attendance and relieve farm life from monopoly.

TAILORS MAY SECEDE FROM GARMENT WORKERS

Philadelphia, Pa., May 12.—Results of an important and far-reaching character in the world of organized labor may follow the conference begun in this city today by representatives of the tailor's unions throughout the country. Upon the decisions of the conference depends the question as to whether the tailors shall secede from the United Garment Workers of America, with which organization they are now affiliated, and form a national union of their own which shall be independent of the other garment-working crafts. Incidentally, according to gossip that has gained wide circulation the conference may lead to a general strike of the tailors before the close of the coming summer.

The differences between the tailors and the United Garment Workers are of long standing. These differences were accentuated by the strike of the garment workers in Chicago last winter. It is said that the tailors of the country were almost unanimously in favor of calling a general strike, but the national council of the United Garment Workers would not countenance such a move. The dissatisfied tailors thereupon proposed to withdraw from the parent organization and form what, it is said, will be known as the United Tailors' Association. Whether or not the proposed organization is to become an accomplished fact depends upon the results of the present conference.

Little is actually known as to the strength of the secession movement among the tailors of the country. While many of the local organizations undoubtedly favor the idea of a separate organization the unions in other cities are said to be disinclined to leave the United Garment Workers. According to one report, the declaration of independence of the tailors will be preceded by a demand upon the United Garment Workers that the tailors be allowed to have an organization of their own, and that this organization be given a representation of six members on the general executive board of the United Garment Workers. The constitution of the United Garment Workers provides that each affiliated organization shall have a pro rata representation, based upon the number of organized members. The tailors probably will demand that the representation of six members, be granted, whether or not they have the requisite number of organized members.

Never strike a man when he is down, especially if you are going to strike him for a loan.

THREE I LEAGUE IN COURT AGAIN

Disposal of Injunction in Quincy, Waterloo Fight Before Court Today.

Springfield, Ill., May 12.—Whether the tangle in the affairs of the Three-I League will be unraveled in time for the organization to play ball this season depends in a great measure upon the decision of Judge Singleton, of the circuit court, who today listened to arguments on the motion of the league to dissolve temporarily the injunction previously issued by the court on application of the Quincy baseball club after the Waterloo had won a victory in its fight to restrain the league from ousting Waterloo from its circuit. For Waterloo to be in means for Quincy to be out, as Quincy was to take Waterloo's place in the circuit. As Quincy had put up several thousand dollars for release from the Central circuit in order that it might enter the Three-I League it did not relish being left out in the cold. The club thereupon went into court and obtained an injunction restraining the league from adopting a schedule leaving Quincy out of the circuit. The court is now called upon to decide a motion made by the league to have this injunction dissolved.

Yale-Penn Boat Race.
Springfield, Mass., May 12.—With the expectation of witnessing one of the greatest aquatic events of the year, hundreds of enthusiasts of the sport came pouring into Springfield today to attend the boat race between the varsity crews of Yale and the University of Pennsylvania, which is to be rowed on the Connecticut river tomorrow. It will be the first time in years that the two varsity crews have met and the first time that the Yale crew has appeared on the Connecticut river since 1877.

The race will be rowed at 4:30 p. m. and will be two miles straightaway. The start will be at the Country Club in West Springfield and the finish at the North End bridge. Robert Her- rick, an old Crimson oarsman and chairman of the Harvard rowing committee, will referee the contest. The final practice spins of the two crews were taken today and were witnessed by hundreds of spectators who lined the river banks.

Wilson Reaches the Coast.
Los Angeles, Cal., May 12.—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, arrived in Los Angeles today to begin the first tour of the Pacific coast, in the course of which he is to make a number of public speeches that will attract much attention in view of the Governor's generally accepted candidacy for the Democratic nomination. He will remain in this city three days and will then leave for San Francisco. Later he will visit Portland, Seattle and other large cities in the north.

30,000 EXPECTED AT KENTUCKY DERBY

Only Five or Six Horses Will Start "Round the World" a Favorite in the Betting.

Special to The Times.
Louisville, Ky., May 12.—The great racing event on the Western turf will be decided tomorrow afternoon at Churchill Downs, when the thirty Kentucky Derby will be decided. The event will mark the opening of the spring meeting of the New Louisville Jockey Club. In view of the discouraging conditions surrounded the sport of kings in most parts of the country the keen interest that is manifested in the Louisville meeting this year and particularly in the Derby is regarded as somewhat remarkable. It is estimated that more than 30,000 people will be on hand to witness the great event tomorrow.

From present indications it is not likely that more than five or six horses will start in the Derby. What the field lacks in quantity, however, will be made up in quality. Round the World, the sensational filly from the South, Governor Gray and Meridan are regarded as sure starters. Round the World continues a favorite in the betting. The Derby has never been won by a filly, though many have contended for it, and some turfmen are of the opinion that Round the World will weaken under the strain of the mile and a quarter route.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR
Sensible shoes are almost as obnoxious to a girl as sensible talk.

There's always something to waste money on, if it's only a private garden.

The reason a woman can deprive herself of so much for the family is a man won't.

A man can be lucky in love with out knowing it by not getting the girl he is trying to.

The more a man thinks he knows about household affairs the better for him if he leaves them all to his wife.

You can't forget a man for most anything but being popular.

There's a heap of good bread and butter business wasted trying to do something in fine arts.

When sentiment is so cheap it's queer how starchy men can be in giving it to their wives.

It takes a man about the rest of his life to recover from an attack of hold-lag public office.

You Can Get Meats That Will Please You Here

There are very few people outside of meat experts who can tell a good piece of meat from a poor piece—tender piece from a tough piece.

Every meat dealer is expected to know and probably does know—we do any way—exactly what all the qualities of his meats are.

And just because you may not know by the look of meat what it is in quality we won't take advantage of you.

If you ask for a tender boiling piece in beef you will get it. If you want a tender, juicy steak or a few short ribs you will not be disappointed in the quality when you get them home.

What will you have in meats this week?

Let us serve you this week and we are sure you will come again.

Some courtships end in marriage, some in the courts.
It is no easy job to dock a ship, even when the ship's doctor is aboard.
Many a fellow who claims he never does things by halves will borrow a quarter.

Yes, dear reader, catarrh can be cured; but not by pouring vile, nauseating drugs into the stomach.
And catarrh germs thrive, flourish and multiply in the nose and in the throat.
Can you kill these tough and persistent little health destroyers by swallowing pills or nostrum? Any physician will tell you it cannot be done.

HYOMEI (pronounced High-oh-mey) is a germ killing vaporized air, which when breathed either through the mouth or nose, will kill catarrh germs and soothe and heal the inflamed and mutilated membrane promptly. It gives relief in two minutes.

HYOMEI is such a powerful germ-fold and cervix of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

Road to the Top of Royal Gorge.

Canon City, Colo., May 12.—The new roadway to the top of the Royal Gorge of the Arkansas River, representing three years of arduous labor by an army of workers under the direction of skilled engineers, was formally opened today. The roadway is to form a link in the famous Santa Fe trail speedway, which is being completed over the line of the early day freighters from Kansas City to Canon City.

The Royal Gorge driveway is eight miles long, extending from Canon City to a point at the top of the Royal Gorge, just above the famous Hanging Bridge, from which a magnificent view is to be had of Pike's Peak, Mount Pisgah and the Arkansas River. The road was hewn from the solid rock of the mountains and was constructed entirely by convict labor from the state penitentiary in this city.

They have a limited supply of samples. One of which will be given free to any skin sufferer who wishes to test the merit of the medicine. A booklet "How to Preserve the Skin," will also be given to those interested.

MULTIPLIED PHROSE REQUIRED TO MAKE LEGAL ARRAIGNMENT

If John Doe breaks into your house while you sleep and takes away the silver shaving mug that was given you last Christmas, you will find a half dozen words sufficient to describe his offense, or if you cash a check for a stranger and find later that he has no money in the bank, your expression will be equally terse and to the point.
But the state of Texas will exhort a closely typewritten page to indict Doe for burglary or swindling, and if forgery is charged three pages may be used.

For while simplified forms of spelling are gaining headway, and time and labor saving devices have been adopted in all lines of manufacturing, legal forms retain their old-time complexity and the machinery of the law takes no knowledge of the world's hurry.
The great number of words prescribed by the traditional forms of the law are often of vast benefit to criminals as the slightest deviation means that the indictment will be quashed and the offender released.

A favorite phrase in indictments is "then and there." For example, it must be alleged in a burglary indictment that John Doe "did then and there" enter the house "then and there" owned by Richard Roe, with the purpose "then and there" to take away property "then and there" in the house, and with the intent "then and there" to deprive Richard Roe of the property, and "then and there" to appropriate the said property of his own use.
To sustain a charge of burglary, it is necessary for the state also to allege that Doe used "force, threats and fraud" in unlawfully "breaking and entering" the house. Defendant is also given an opportunity to frame his alibi by a rule which makes it necessary to say whether the burglary was committed in daytime or night time.

The iconoclast may find humor in the legal rules which call on the state to allege that the burglar had then and there the intent to steal, take and carry away from and out of the said house "the corporal personal property described."
Equal accuracy must be observed if the state desires to punish another John Doe for presenting a worthless check to his landlady. Suppose John gives Mrs. Roe a check for $15 bearing his own signature when he has no money in the bank.
The first apparently unnecessary allegation comes at the outset, when the property as "fifteen dollars in money of the value of fifteen dollars."
It must be alleged that Doe "presented the check" "devising and intending" to defraud her, and with the purpose of appropriating the $15 to his own use. It must be alleged, too, that "he accepted the check believing the false and deceitful pretenses and devices and the fraudulent representations of John Doe."
Doe must also "falsely pretend and fraudulently represent" before he is answerable to the law, that the writ ten "that the obligation in writing is a valid, legal and valuable obligation," knowing at the time that the said writing was not valid, and that it was fraudulent.

Obviously for the purpose of giving the defendant an opportunity of knowing exactly with what crime he is charged, the tendency of indictments, it appears, would be to confute the criminal since he never comes in contact with such language in these modern days, except when he is charged with crime.
Murderers are not so verbosely dealt with, although the law doctors cannot forego their love of reputation altogether and force the state to allege that "John Doe did kill and murder Richard Roe."
The complexity of legal forms forces the state's agents to be constantly on their guard, for the mistake of a single word in an indictment covering three pages has been known time and again to cause the higher courts to reverse criminal cases, and indictments are quashed for similar technicalities without number.

Sunday is "Mother's Day," and the event will be appropriately observed in this city by a union service to be held at the opera house at 11 a. m. It has been suggested by some one that red and white carnations be worn on that occasion—the red by those whose mothers are living, and the white by those whose mothers are dead.

San Antonio still has Bryan Callaghan as her mayor, and there is not much doubt but that the best man won, though his majority, out of a total of 12,000 votes, was only 185. He has served that city for years as its mayor, and while San Antonio is by no means an ideal morally governed city, there is but little graft, or if there is, it is plainly evident that the man who has had the best chance to do grafting has not taken advantage of the opportunities offered.

It is the duty of a newspaper to boost for the country and the city in which it is published, but a majority of its readers do not want facts distorted, therefore the Times will say that the continued dry weather has had a very bad effect upon growing fields of wheat and oats in this immediate section, and some few farmers have despaired of making any thing like a fair crop, and in order to utilize their land have begun to plow it under and prepare for cotton, corn and feed crops. There is ample time yet for it to rain a sufficient amount to raise these crops, and there is not much doubt but that the rains will come. The rainfall for the year 1910 was the lightest for ten years in this country, and yet Wichita county under such an unfavorable season produced 11,000 bales of cotton, the largest cotton crop ever produced in one year in the county. With the increased acreage together with even as favorable a cotton raising season as that of last year, she can easily produce from 15,000 to 20,000 bales. If this is done, the loss, or the partial loss of the wheat and oat crop will in a great measure be made up. In some portions of the county an average good wheat and oat crop will be made, notwithstanding the dry weather.

Speaking before the Knife and Fork Club at Kansas City, Governor Woodrow Wilson approved the initiative and referendum and the recall "when properly regulated," but objected to applying the recall to judges. He said: "Among the remedies proposed in recent years have been the initiative and referendum in the field of legislation and the recall in the field of administration. These measures are supposed to be characteristic of the most radical programs, and the very character of our government. They have no such purpose. Their intention is to restore not to destroy, representative government. If we felt that we had genuine representative government in our state legislatures, no one would propose the initiative and referendum in America. They are being proposed now as a means of bringing our representatives back to the consciousness that what they are bound in duty and in mere policy to do is to represent the sovereign people whom they profess to serve and not the private interests which creep into their councils by way of machine orders and committee conferences. The recall is a means of administrative control. If properly regulated and devised it is a means of restoring to administrative officials what the initiative and referendum restore to legislators—namely a sense of direct responsibility to the people who choose them. The recall of judges is another matter. Judges are not lawmakers. They are not administrators. Their duty is not to determine what the law shall be but to determine what the law is. Their independence, their sense of dignity and freedom is of the first consequence to the stability of the state. To apply to them the principle of the recall is to set up the idea that determinations of what the law is must respond to popular impulse and to popular judgment. It is sufficient that the people should have the power to change the law when they will. It is not necessary that they should directly influence by threat of recall those who merely interpret the law already established. The importance and desirability of the recall as a means of administrative control ought not to be obscured by drawing it into this other and very different field."

NEARING THE LAST ROLL CALL

Soon a portion of the last remnant of Lee's and Jackson's armies will meet in Little Rock in their annual reunion, but many will fail to answer roll call who were at the last gathering a year ago. One by one, the old heroes are going, and it's a pity more of them cannot attend these annual meetings.—Ablene News.

ELKS MINSTRELS BETTER ON SECOND NIGHT THAN THE FIRST

M. A. Brin in Black Face and Hebrew Monologue Was the Big Hit of the Show—Other Members Were Excellent.

Another packed house greeted the Elks Minstrels last night at the Wichita Theatre, and another audience laughter themselves into spasms over the antics of the local fun makers and joke-smiths. Particularly bright features of the program was the work of M. A. Brin and Claude Woods, and the song "Mississippi Bill," by Mr. Bert Nobilette of Fort Worth. All of the end men and soloists were splendid, even better than on the first night, and the chorus was excellent. The jokes were all new, too, and original, and "pat" and sprang with the stagey effect of old Billy Rice and Al Fields. Brin was particularly good in black-face and doubled in a Yiddish monologue that brought down the house. Friends of M. A.'s knowing him only in a business way, would hardly have suspected him of concealing under his every-day exterior the wealth of humor and ability for character acting which he displayed last night. His singing, too, was good, and he has the stage presence of a veteran actor. Mr. Brin came on after the first opening chorus with "Everything is Rag Time." He was followed by Orville Bullington, who sang "You are the Ideal of My Dreams." F. A. Gaston then sang "I Love You," and Mr. Marin gave "Good-Bye Betsy Brown." Mr. Draper sang again "Listen to that Jungle Band," and Wendell Johnson sang the beautiful ballad "All that I Ask is Love." Claude Woods closed the first part with "I've Got the Time and the Place, But Where is the Girl?" Mr. Bert Nobilette opened the olio with the "Mississippi Bill," in which he was joined in the chorus by all of the visiting Elks from Fort Worth. The Fort Worth boys were seated together in the front rows and Mr. Nobilette stepped from one of the boxes. Mr. Nobilette is a real comedy singer and his song and acting was one of the best features of the entire program and one of the decided hits of the evening. Paul Wellbaum and Charles Adams were excellent—again and again they were brought by encores from the audience. "The Country School," and Hilda Hawkins' Ball were also entertaining features of the program, the previous night before the footlights having given the actors self-confidence that made vast improvement on their acts.

SENATOR BAILEY AND THE TARIFF

There is no longer any reason to doubt that Mr. Bailey is going to step into the shoes of former Senator Aldrich and command the forces in the Senate that serve the buccaneers of privilege. But whatever may be said in condemnation of Aldrich's methods of serving the grasping protected interests, it is to his credit that he always stood boldly on the firing line, and, under the banner of loot, fought his political opponents in the open. The indications are that his successor in the Senate will not serve the beneficiaries of protection in such a fearless fashion. On the contrary we venture to say, the tariff debate in the upper branch of Congress will not have been under way many days before the country sees Joe Bailey of Texas skulking behind the Democratic label and shooting his party in the back.—New Orleans States.

This is My 55th Birthday. Sir William G. Falconbridge, Chief Justice of the Court of King's Bench for Ontario, was born in Drummondville, Ont., May 12, 1846. His education was received principally at the University of Toronto, where his course was one of unusual distinction, inasmuch as he received high honors in nearly every department of the curriculum. After his graduation in 1866 he filled for a year the chair of modern languages in Yarmouth College, Nova Scotia. He returned to Toronto on being appointed lecturer on Italian and Spanish at University College. He studied law and was called to the bar in 1871. In 1887 he was appointed a judge of the Queen's Bench division of the Supreme Court of Judicature of Ontario, and later Chief Justice of the King's Bench division of the High Court of Justice of Ontario, which position he now fills.

A Knitted Rag for Baby. Swaddling clothes have been out of fashion many years, but there is a suggestion of this garb in a new coat-bag, or bag-coat—one really does not know which to call it—which is intended to keep baby snug and air-tight when motoring in cold weather. This new garment is practically a big, oblong bag, knitted like an Afghan and as light and soft as it is warm and cozy. At the top of the bag is a cunning little hood, which ties with ribbons and the bag closes with buttons and buttonholes, like a sweater, all the way down the front. In this delightful wrapping baby can be handled very easily, yet not so much as a nip from Jack Frost's fingers can get at him.

ALL SORTS

On one of the Southern railroads a negro found employment as a fireman. On his first trip he noticed that the steam gauge showed two hundred pounds, the hand pointing in the direction of the engineer. "See the way that hand is pointing?" said the engineer. "Yes sah." "Well," continued the man at the throttle, "you want to keep that hand pointing at me all the time." They ran along for about fifteen miles and the steam went down. The hand began to point toward the fireman's seat. The negro watched it intently. Finally he stepped over to the engineer and tapped him on the shoulder, saying: "Cap, Ah spect you'd better get over on the other side awhile."—Atlanta Georgian.

To illustrate the fact that some persons are devoid of a sense of humor, this story, according to the New York Tribune, was told at a downtown luncheon club: "I forgot to pay my newboy last night when I saw him this morning gave him the five cents due him and said: 'I thought every minute last night you'd send a collector for this.' 'Now—not on your life; not if you owed me twice as much.' An hour later the boy came to my office, where he had never been before, waited for me, and when I came said: 'Say, I'm awfully sorry you thought I was some about de nickel. Ye needn't pay me never till ye want to, and about sendin' for it—nix.' 'I thanked him, an now, for trying to crack a joke. I have secured a long line of credit.'"

The little daughter of an eminent clergyman, who sang very sweetly, had been taught many beautiful hymns and Sabbath school songs. She had always manifested an anxiety to learn until one day her mother attempted to teach her the little child's hymn, "I am Jesus, Little Lamb," which she stoutly refused to learn. The mother was surprised and grieved and finally appealed to the child. "Why, Mary, are you not one of Jesus' little lambs?" "No, ma'am, I'm not," she indignantly exclaimed, "I don't wear that kind of clothes."—Woman's Home Companion.

Keeping the Hair Fluffy Between Shampoos.

The woman who has thick, long hair dislikes to shower it with the corn-meal or orris powder, which lends a temporary fluffiness to thinner locks; for powder of any sort has a way of setting at the roots of heavy hair and making it heavier and more clinging. Midway between the shampoos that should be given regularly every four weeks the hair may be treated to a gasoline shampoo, if one is very careful, giving the treatment in the daytime when no gas is lighted nearby. About a tablespoonful of gasoline is required and this is dropped into the hair a drop at a time, here and there until the hair is quite damp. Then the hair should be shaken and tossed—but not rubbed—until quite dry and free from all odor of the gasoline. Every individual hair will stand out and the tresses will have a beautiful sheen and liveness.

Holding Veil in Place.

Now that veils are worn by almost all women the old problem again arises as to how to hold the thin material under the chin. A number of clever expedients have been devised to hold the veil without giving an ugly line. Probably the best method saves the veil and involves only the slightest trouble. Get the narrowest kind of round elastic, the same color as the veil (paint the white elastic with water color for a colored veil) and whip it over the extreme edge of the veil, taking up on a single thread all the way around.

Include any cut edges, but afterward take them off neatly with a small pair of scissors. Fasten at the back with a tight knot. The veil is slightly gathered at the elastic. It is slightly gathered at the chin and over the hat, and stretched when it is raised. This seems a simple solution to one of the vexing problems of dressing.

YOU will be amazed at the seemingly impossible things it does. It bakes and roasts food in its raw state without first partially cooking it on an ordinary stove or re-heating it before serving, as well as steam, stews and boils.

The "CALORIC" saves fully seventy-five per cent in fuel alone—and nearly all the time, and work, and all the bother. It requires no attention after the food is placed into it, there is no danger of burning or of food being overdone. The "Caloric" will pay for itself many times over. After using it you would not part with it for many times its cost.

Green Yielded Eight Hits But Kept Them So Well Scattered That No Runs Resulted.

ERRORS BY DURANT SHORT STOP RESPONSIBLE FOR LADS' TWO SCORES.

GREEN YIELDED EIGHT HITS BUT KEPT THEM SO WELL SCATTERED THAT NO RUNS RESULTED.

ONE OF THE CLASSIC BALL GAMES EVER PLAYED ON A WICHITA FALLS DIAMOND WAS THAT OF YESTERDAY BETWEEN THE DURANT TEAM AND THE IRISH LADS. IT WAS IN STRIKING CONTRAST WITH THE FORCE OF THE DAY BEFORE, A PLEASING RELIEF FROM THE MEMORY OF FORMER GAMES AND AN INSPIRING EXHIBITION OF THE NATIONAL GAME.

CONSIDERED FROM THE STANDPOINT OF earned runs the game should have been 0-0 for the innings played. The two scores made by the local team in the sixth were secured on errors of the Durant short stop.

THE GAME BY INNINGS.
Bryant, the first man up for the visitors was out short to first, while Bouldin was retired at first on throw from third in which direction he had tapped the ball. Conner knocked a long fly to deep center which looked good for two bases but was robbed of a hit by the sensational catch of Morris and the side retired. Witherpoon failed to connect with the pellet and retired the Lads after Clark had gone out on a fly to left field and Taylor had retired, second to first.

without avail. Henson tapped one out near the pitcher and was tagged by Henson before reaching first, while Holdstrom and Bryant both struck out. Witherpoon went out on a high fly to the catcher while Guthrie's line drive to the right was successfully handled by the man on first. Naylor secured two bases on the short stop's error, but Brown was caught on a high fly to left field and the visitors walked in.

In the fifth the first three men up for the visitors went down in short order. Brooks lost on a fly to second, Epling failed to connect with the sphere and Ebner was retired on a fly to left field, in which play Guthrie pulled off a beautiful catch. For the Lads Morris made an encouraging start by securing his second hit and was sacrificed to second by Cooper who went out pitcher to first. Green was retired, second to first, in which Morris was advancing to third, but the opportunity to score was gone when Clark's long fly to center was successfully fielded.

Berg, the first man up in the sixth, tapped the ball to the pitcher and was thrown out at first, while Bouldin secured a hit but to no avail, as he went out at second in an effort to steal. Conner secured first and was advanced to second on a hit by Henson, while Holdstrom came up for the third hit of the inning and the bases were full. To the faithful local fans the condition was anything but encouraging, but Conner was retired in an effort to reach home and the agony was over. In the last half Taylor was very promptly retired, third to first, while Witherpoon made it to first on the short stop's error. Guthrie secured a second, and Witherpoon annexed a second, and it was here that another error by the short-stop cost Durant the game. Dick Naylor tapped the ball out and in fielding it to first Berg threw wild and both Witherpoon and Guthrie scored. Brown, the next man up, was out, pitcher to first, while Morris retired the Lads on a play from short to first.

In the seventh only three of the Durant men were permitted to face the pitcher, Bryant, the first victim going via the strike-out route, as did also Epling, the third batter. Brooks secured a hit in a long drive to right field but was retired in an effort to stretch a single to a two-bagger. For the Lads Cooper knocked a long fly to right and was out, while Green went out, right to first. Clark made first on error of third, but Taylor retired the side, going out short to first.

Ebner faced the pitcher in the eighth and was retired short to first. Berg landed for his second two-base hit and was advanced to third when Bouldin batted the ball to third and was thrown out at first. Conner was out pitcher to first. In the last half Witherpoon sent a line drive to first and lay down the timber, while Guthrie was out on a high fly to left field. Dick Naylor knocked one to short which was fielded to first and the inning was over.

Henson the first man up lay down the timber before Green's puzzling curves and Durant became busy with the team's pinch hitters. Grady was substituted for Holdstrom and was out on a line drive to first. McKee batted for Bryant and was given a pass to first, the only one issued during the game. Washington came up for Bryant and secured a hit, but without avail for the game was over on Epling's tap to the pitcher. Green touching the runner before he could reach the coveted base. The score:

Fads and Fashions

New York May 12.—Recent importations from Paris contain many striking and attractive novelties and are the least interesting among them are the short coats and the taffeta frocks contributed by some of the most noted fashion dictators of the French capital. Many of these little coats are quaintly picturesque to the point of being fantastic, but others are elegant without being bizarre. Many of the coats are of the shirred and corded type and fringed at the lower edge. It is expected that these little coats will be worn a great deal this summer, both in black and in color, and they are charming even when not made on a suite with one particular frock. The fringed edges make a good finish and taffeta ruffles trimming frocks of voile, etamine or other sheer stuff are usually finished with this same fringing. The effect is especially good where the taffeta is in the changeable colorings now popular. Then the fringed part is in one solid color and contrasts attractively with the shimmering, shifting coloring of the ruche.

Frequently this solid tone in the ruche edges echoes other one-tone trimming. For example, a changeable etamine in, say, mauve and soft blue, has the bottom of the skirt in plain mauve and blue taffeta so fringed that the edges are plain mauve. There are touches of plain mauve taffeta on the bodice, and a little coat of changeable taffeta has its fringed edges showing a little line of plain mauve, or perhaps the coat may be of plain mauve taffeta.

Hitches, little plain plaited frills, shirtings, cordings and puffings are the accepted trimmings for the changeable taffetas made on early Victorian lines. Many of the taffeta models are simplicity itself, and a preference may well be given to those in which the skirts are not complicated by rows of puffing and cording and by shirring. An attractive model in changeable taffeta, sent over by a noted designer, dispenses with this puffing, cording, etc., and allows the skirt unbroken lines and soft fullness, held down closely by weights. The bodice is the simplest of surface affairs, with the ubiquitous kimono sleeve, and the only trimming on the frock, aside from the lace of the moderate and undersewers, is a plaited frill of the taffeta bordering the surplus folds, running down the front of the skirt and around the top of a hem and bordering the upper edges of the cuffs.

Another changeable taffeta model showed the shirring and puffed skirt trimming, but with an almost plain upper section to the skirt. The noticeable thing about this model, aside from the material itself, was the beautiful fichu of finely embroidered muslin, yellowed in tone and exquisite in needlework, which almost entirely covered the short-waisted bodice, being crossed in front and carried around to the back.

The fichu is another early Victorian note so entirely in keeping with taffeta and ruchings and bonnets that it is not strange one should find it upon many of the taffeta models. For that matter, one finds it upon models of all kinds, and the shops are full of dainty fichus of one kind or another. The most beautiful and the most expensive are those which are embroidered by hand after the fashion of the fine needlework of long ago. Some times, but there are attractive fichu arrangements less finely embroidered and a host without embroidery of any kind—soft folds of point d'esprit bordered by plaited frills of the same, finest gairin trimmed in lace or lace-edged drills, plain net with plaited frills, plain or lace-edged.

Color and embroidery are the strong features of the new gowns. Either the backgrounds or the embroidery is colored, and a noticeable increase in the size of the flowers is evident in the handsome patterns. Hugh flowers are not now confined to a straight border at the lower edge of the skirt. They trail up almost to the waist in charming irregular lines, making an all-over embroidered robe of the pattern.

The fichu line so much in vogue gives a very easy disposition of the straight bands that accompany these robe patterns. The kimono sleeves also can be cut in extension from the crossed folds or the bodice. Bands to edge the sleeves can be attached under tucks or by means of lace and insertion. These embroidered robes are made still handsomer by inset bands of Venice lace. The batiste or hand-embroidered robes have real flit or Venice, and Irish lace medallions are scattered with a lavish hand on the expensive white robes of linen. Many lingerie robes are of the open-meshed voiles and marquisettes. On these there are used beads in white generally, but there is no ban on delicate colors of the porcelain beads. Of course, the question of cleaning arises when you purchase these beaded robes, but the quality of the fabric is such that a season's wear can be enjoyed without the visit to the cleaners.

Embroidered robes, whether in handwork, beads or French knots that simulate beads, are features of this spring.

The use of silk galon, and braid is again very much in the front. It is especially in demand on plain dark blue and black costumes, which are often lavishly trimmed with soutache. Narrow soutache and embroidery en mousseline tunics is also an effective trimming.

The use of black velvet as a band or border round the hem of a lingerie or mousseline skirt is a striking and pretty mode for summer dresses. Among the broderie Anglaise or embroidered linen gowns this border effect is most becoming and pretty.

Among new small head coverings "bonnets" are fast taking the place of

New York, May 10.—"I killed my husband to save his soul. It was either his murder or self-murder and the murder of the innocent babe that was to come."—Mrs. Frances McDonald O'Shaughnessy.

"Flirting is the cancerous growth that kills true love. I do not feel that I am to blame for the taking of this human life, but the awful affair has so shocked me that I should like to spend the rest of my life warning men of the terrible danger of apparently harmless flirtation."—Miss Tessie Hayes.

"In the eyes of God and man, the man must be adjudged guilty of the major crime."—Father Leon of St. Lucy's Catholic Church.

Over the dead body of George O'Shaughnessy, 27 years of age, these epithets were spoken.

Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, held in the Tombs without bail on a charge of murdering her husband, said she killed him only when she knew that the flirtation between her young husband and 18-year-old Tessie Hayes had grown serious enough to menace the happiness of herself and the budding life for which she was responsible.

"I shot to save George's soul from eternal perdition," said the frail, blue-eyed little bride of a year. "Am I sorry I did it? God help me, I can't say that I am."

"Gradually my husband was drawn further and further away from me. His kisses became colder. I taxed him with it. He denied, then confessed. The other woman, he finally told me frankly, was first in his affections. It was yesterday that I found her letters. I prayed for two hours over them. I thought of suicide. Then I thought of the other life that I had no right to sacrifice, and all my religious training turned me from suicide. So to keep myself from becoming a double murderer I shot him. The night I kissed his lips and went out to give myself up. Now I pray God that they punish me before my—our—baby is born."

"In the hands of Tessie Hayes, the 'other woman,' the key to the mystery seemed to rest. This 18-year-old girl does not resemble a picture of the apex of the eternal triangle. Small, petite, expressive in countenance, she looks through large, innocent eyes that have been a light shade of brown before drenching deluges of tears turned them black.

"If she had only killed me," the little girl moaned, "I would have been happier. Everyone blames me, my family, my employers, my priest will tell you I am a good girl. God knows that I have not sinned except that I engaged in an innocent flirtation with a man whom I believed to be unfettered.

"You do not believe that I sinned, do you?" and the girl, with lips apart and eager eyes, gazed upon the interviewer as though upon his answer depended her whole future.

"They say I wrote George letters in which I begged him to seek a divorce or to leave his wife. That is a lie."

"I remember the very words I wrote him after I learned that he was married. It was only last Monday night, 'Dear George,' I wrote, 'for I loved him dearly and I love him yet, every one insists on me giving you up. I love you, but I must do it. I could never be happy to think that I was the cause of your leaving your wife. It is not my first flirtation, but as God is my witness, it will be my last. I would like to gather all the married men in this city together in one body and say, 'Never look twice at a girl that is not your wife. Don't even say good morning to a person of the other sex when you enter your place of business.'"

"The two sexes should not be allowed even work in proximity to each other. Just the very nearness of a man to a girl provokes sentiments that are best forgotten."

Father Leon, calm, peaceful and thoughtful, was found in the parish house next to St. Lucy's church. "I can not believe any blame attaches itself to the young wife or the other girl," said the priest after a moment of thought. "I know Miss Hayes. I know she is a good girl. There is nothing else for me to say but that the man was the guilty party."

The county commissioners have designated May 22 as the day when they will open new bids for the steel work for the new county jail.

Newspaper Notes From Mabledean. Mabledean, Texas, May 11.—Miss Bessie Gullahorn from Wichita, was the guest of her friend, Kathryn Clark last week.

Mrs. W. H. Dixon who has been visiting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Reesor returned to her home last Friday at Fort Worth, her youngest brother accompanied her.

Mrs. Randall and Fleming, from Wichita were visiting Mrs. R. H. Clark Wednesday.

There was not standing room for the large crowd that attended the play, "The Deestrick Skiple" at Kemp last Friday night, the play was a great success, and every one acted their part perfectly. Miss Katy Clark as "Salvation Experience" with her little Buddie, was very laughable, and she acted it as tho it were true to life, which made it much more interesting. "Peter Skunk" the water-pail boy, made a good hit.

On account of the large crowd that was expected at the school show at Mabledean, Dr. Reesor had the crowd seated on the outside. It was the finest school program that has ever been at Dean, and every one appreciated Dr. Reesor's careful training of his pupils. Mrs. W. H. Dixon and Miss Rogie Wylie gave some beautiful readings and Mr. Hughes as a negro could not be beat.

Miss Maud Price was visiting friends at Wichita last week. Every one is invited to the Jolly school entertainment next Saturday night.

TO THE HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI

On Thursday a committee composed of members of the High School Alumni met and discussed plans for receiving the present graduating class as they come forth from their Alma Mater. The movement was gotten well under way, and the affair now bids fair to be a complete success.

The exercises will take place at the High School building, and the committee announces that an interesting program has been outlined. Nothing pertaining to the care-free, happy-go-lucky side of life has been overlooked. There will be music, talks, refreshments in plenty.

At the beginning of the exercises the High School Alumni Association will go into a brief business meeting and elect officers for the coming year. The constitution and by-laws will probably be amended.

The movement on foot is not at all a new one. Several years ago a few loyal alumni conceived the plan of perfecting an organization. They met and elected officers. This organization was short lived. Last year the work was again started. It is now up to the alumni who are in town to make the matter a success.

That the organization is worth while goes without saying. The advantages which accrue from the separate receptions are too numerous to estimate. The graduates of twenty years' standing are made to feel the existence of a corporate unity between themselves and the graduates of one year's standing. All are brought together in a relationship far different from that of the class rooms or playgrounds. A better acquaintance is effected, and each individual is impressed with the prevalence of a close fraternal spirit.

These, however, are only a few of the most important benefits to be derived, and the alumni are failing to do what loyal alumni should do when they let slip the opportunity to take advantage of all that is offered in any way whatever that will tend to the upbuilding of their institution from which they graduated. There is something like seventy-five alumni in town, and it will ill become any of this number who shall sit idly by and watch the present movement go down. Let them attain their efforts with the "Wichita Way," and make the matter a success.

AN ALUMNUS.
