Sewage and Water Problem In Our American Cities

Los Angeles, June 28.—Comparatively few of the larger cities in this country have completed their sewage disposal and water problems according to Dr. Arthur Lederer, chemist and bacteriologist of the Sewage Testing Station, of the Sanitary District of Chicago, who spoke before the Section on Preventive Medicine of the American Medical Association today.

Dr. Lederer said it is probably true that very few rivers in the United States are safe for drinking purposes; that small communities as a rule pay attention to their sewage problem only when they begin to smell it. "The odor of fresh sewage is repugnant, as is commonly supposed," the speaker said.

In small bulk it appears a slight yellowish, fairly turbid liquid, containing suspended matter, as well as coarses. The laymen invariably picture sewage as the dark putrid liquid found in stagnant sewers or septic tanks.

"As a rule, the sewage problem can not be spoken of without touching upon the water problem. The sewage problem of today may become the water problem of another tomorrow. Pollution of surface waters is in many cases, an interstate affair, and usually to prevent or eliminate such pollution the good grace and will of many small communities have to be depended upon. Concerted action to keep the water supply clean is hard to obtain, and in some cases, almost a hopeless task. There are several reasons for this: Various communities seldom agree as to the amount of pollution they are responsible for.

Some communities depend upon the water supply they are polluting, others do not. Naturally, the ones which do not, are in no hurry to remedy the condition. Lack of funds: Lack of appreciation of the common good.

"It is true that the temptation to discharge raw sewage into the large watercourses is great. We can only remedy this evil with difficulty. A reasonable line must be drawn somewhere. The trade wastes of our large industries have to be discharged. Many of the trade wastes can be purified but partially. We have therefore to confine ourselves to trying to keep the large common drinking reservoirs such as are represented by the Great Lakes in a good, wholesome condition. The introduction of the purification of sewage is an educational task, much more so than the purification of a water supply. You can demonstrate to the people in a community that the death rate from intestinal disease is rising and that the water supply is responsible for it. The people will fight for it.

HABEAS CORPUS DENIED TO MORSE

HIS ATTORNEYS FILE NOTICE OF AN APPEAL TO CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS.

LENGTH OF THE SENTENCE

His Counsel Argue That Banker Could Only Be Sentenced for 10 Years and His Right to Know Exact Term.

By Associated Press.
Atlanta, June 28.—Federal Judge Newman denied Charles W. Morse application for release from prison on habeas corpus.

Morse's counsel contended that his client was illegally sentenced to 15 years on one count when ten years was the maximum on one count. He said there was no doubt Morse could secure his release on habeas corpus after he had served ten years but argued that Morse is entitled to know now exactly the length of his legal term, because if it was only ten years he was privileged to apply for a parole much sooner than if fifteen years.

Judge Newman did not pass on the validity of the length of the sentence but declared that the ten years sentence was undoubtedly good and that as Morse had not served out that time yet the court had no right to enter further into the matter. Notice of appeal to the circuit court of appeals was served.

WOMEN FRIGHTENED BY DRUNKEN MAN

A young man whose home, according to papers in his possession, is in Butte, Mont., was arrested here just before noon for creating a disturbance the nature of which was such as to frighten a number of ladies on the streets and in the stores. It seems that the man had become crazed from drink and was going from one store to another cursing with an ever increasing volume and intensity and acting in such a way as to cause quite a commotion at all the places visited. From reports he filed at the store of the North Texas Notion Co., and grabbing Mr. Summers from over the counter, declared that he was in search of a man to whom he wanted to "pay the sum of $410. From that place he went on down Indiana avenue entering the store of Pennington Company where his conduct was so repulsive that Mr. Kennedy ejected him from the building. In the meantime the officers had been notified and the man was placed under arrest and locked up in the county jail.

It seems that the man had become so crazed that the sight of a lady provoked his wrath to such an extent that he at once began cursing in the most violent manner and so pronounced was his crazed condition that several ladies were badly frightened as a result of his conduct.

When searched at the jail he had in his possession something over $14 in money a ticket from Sixlons on the Wichita Valley to Denver, purchased the 27th, and a memorandum book containing a name and address the name being the same he gave to the officers.

Mrs. Oscar Williams left this afternoon for Quannay at which place she will visit relatives.

LITTLE GIRL DEAD FROM A BEATING

Stepmother and Step Brother Hurried to Jail To Escape Any Violence

By Associated Press.
Chicago, June 28.—Helen Rumbel, aged fourteen, beaten for neglecting a task, is dead at her home near Gridley. Mrs. Emma Rumbel, her step mother and Arthur Lewis, her step brother were held yesterday by the coroner's jury to answer to a charge of murder and have been rushed to the Orville county jail for safe keeping. The country side is half crazed with rage. Lewis and Mrs. Rumbel reported that the girl had committed suicide. At the inquest it developed that the girl's body was a mass of bruises and that her face in death remained black from the choking she received. Her father died two months ago. Mrs. Rumbel said the girl broke her own neck in her frantic struggles to free herself from a scolding to which she had been bound in punishment for stubbornness. She said she underestimated the child's endurance.

SLEEPING GIRL HAS STRENGTH OF GIANT

Strange Case in Illinois Develops Physical Complications.

Vandalla, Ill., June 27.—A sudden change for the worse has come over Miss Hazel Schmidt, who has slept almost continually for the last twenty-four days. Shortly after midnight this morning she lapsed into unconsciousness and has not awakened since then. Her body writhes, her jaws are set, the muscles twitch and her head is thrown back, indicating spinal trouble. Strange hallucinations possess her mind and at times she develops strength of a giant. In her hallucinations she fancies she has some duty to perform and two attendants are required to hold her in bed.

BROWNING'S FATE RESTS WITH JURY

CASE WENT TO JURY THIS MORNING—NO VERDICT REACHED AT LATE HOUR.

THOMPSON NOW ON TRIAL

Defendant is Charged With Robbery. Remberts Trial Begins Tomorrow.

In the district court this afternoon the case of the State vs. R. H. Thompson was called for trial, the jury being completed at 2:30 when the taking of testimony was begun. Thompson is charged with robbery the particulars of which are set forth in the indictment being the accusation that Thompson did on or about the latter part of last December rob a man by the name of McNally in this city of the sum of six dollars. McNally, it seems, came to the city from his home in the country and while here the money was taken from him, following which complaint was made against Thompson and he was placed under arrest.

There are several witnesses to be examined and the testimony may not be concluded this afternoon. District Attorney Foster is representing the state and the defendant is represented by Weeks and Bonner.

The jury in the Clint Browning case is still deliberating on a verdict no report of any nature having been made to the court at the hour of going to press.

The trial of the Remberts charged with the killing of Ed Hardwick is set for Thursday when a special venire has been summoned. Attorney Alvin Oustey of Denton is here to assist in the prosecution.

GOOD RAINS AGAIN IN THE PANHANDLE

Dalhart, June 28.—Panhandle crops which seemed in danger of destruction from the hot winds of the past several days, were saved last night by a substantial rain, which according to reports have covered a large area. The indications are for continued rain.

CLEBURNE TO PLAY DOUBLE-HEADER SUNDAY

Secretary Morse of the Texas-Oklahoma baseball league announced this afternoon that there would be a double-header at the Lakeside Park Sunday afternoon with the Cleburne team, the first game to be called at 2:30 o'clock. The Cleburne series at this place included a game on Monday but at the request of the Cleburne management, who desired to get back home for a game at that place on Tuesday, the 4th, an agreement was made for the double-header on Sunday. The team could not have possibly reached home in time to play Tuesday after playing a game here Monday afternoon. The Cleburne series is scheduled to open here on Friday for four games.

The Irish Lads will complete their series of four games with Durant on Thursday following which they will return home to remain until the present schedule is completed on July 6th.

HINES BARRED FROM COMMITTEE ROOM AT THE LORIMER HEARING

Investigating Committee Deemed it Inadvisable that He Be Allowed to Hear the Testimony Further

Special to The Times.
Washington, D. C., June 28.—Rush Culver, a lumberman of Lansing, Michigan, on the stand in the Lorimer investigation today was expected to testify about the alleged remark of Edward Hines in 1907 that Hines had just "succeeded in making a senator and cost a hundred thousand dollars."

Hines was excluded from further permission to listen to the testimony the committee deeming his listening inadvisable.

Culver said "It seems to me that Hines said to me he had been in the habit of helping out Lorimer. He certainly referred to the congressional elections. He said he would donate certain wagons for Lorimer."

W. H. Cook of Duluth, Minn., a lumberman followed Mr. Punk on the witness stand yesterday.

He related an alleged conversation with Mr. Hines at the Grand Pacific hotel in Chicago, in May, 1909. It was at that time, Mr. Cook declared, Mr. Hines said he was "having a bit of a time" at Washington.

"Now, for instance," Mr. Cook testified, "Mr. Hines said there is old Stephenson. After I got him elected he has gone down there and started working for free lumber. The southern Democratic are the worst of the whole lot." He (Hines) would have them all lined up one day and the next day they would flop."

The crowd in the committee room including Mr. Hines, laughed over this testimony, but not so Senator Johnston of Alabama, a southern Democrat. Finally, Senator Fletcher of Florida nudged Mr. Johnston and the Alabama senator joined in. Mr. Cook related his Springfield testimony regarding an alleged conversation

Hines had from Cook's hotel room to Springfield the day Senator Lorimer was elected. The day before Mr. Cook testified without reservation that he answered the long-distance call from Springfield for Mr. Hines and that the telephone girl said: "Here is Governor Deneen."

Cook testified that he did not mention in his Springfield statement that Governor Deneen was the one whom the operator said was on the telephone at Springfield. He refrained from doing so because "I did not think it necessary; Deneen was governor."

The line of the Lorimer-Hines defense against Cook's statements which are circumstantial and detailed was indicated yesterday. Cook will be attacked on the ground that he had long been an enemy of Hines; that they had business troubles; that they were both stockholders in a lumber company, the Virginia and Rainy Lake and that Cook tried to force Hines to buy Cook's stock at excessive prices; that, falling in this, he made threats against Hines, and in short, it will be attempted to develop that Cook invented a means either to revenge or to compel Hines to buy the stock.

It was a dramatic session, in which Cook denounced Hines.

"He has ways in business that I don't consider honorable," said Cook who admitted that he had long been hostile to Hines on this account.

The defense laid foundation for impeachment of the testimony by a long cross-examination designed to present Cook as a man trying to force Hines' hand. Cook made a bad impression as a witness in the beginning, but later, improved very much, and before he had gone far seemed to be frank and willing to tell everything that was wanted.

AIMED AT BILLY SUNDAY

By Associated Press.
Wheeling, W. Va., June 28.—The city council last night passed an ordinance imposing a fine on any person using vile or vulgar language in a public address. Councilman P. F. Harbrick who offered the ordinance said it was with intention of curbing the vocabulary of "Billy Sunday" the evangelist who has been engaged by Wheeling churches to open a religious campaign in this city early next year.

TITANIC STRUGGLE FOR SUGAR MONOPOLY

Arbuckle's Manager Tells of Destructive Methods in Fight Between His Company and American Company.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., June 28.—William Gilmore, manager for Arbuckle Bros., of Brooklyn, was the first witness today in the sugar trust probe. He said his company in 1898 cut prices under the sugar trust, twenty-five per cent in West Virginia and Ohio because the trust sought to induce the wholesale grocers of these states to buy sugar exclusively from it. The Arbuckles got the business in those states and the American never received all its lost trade there he said.

The American Company cut the price under the Arbuckles, the witness said from ten to fifteen points and when this was met the trust began a campaign to secure exclusive contracts. The drastic price cutting ceased about the close of 1899. During that period Gilmer said his firm

There have been no further developments in the baseball situation with reference to the Texas-Oklahoma League further than the announcement made this morning that the meeting to be held on Saturday would be at Fort Worth instead of Galveston as heretofore announced. It is not likely that action will be taken prior to that time, when it is expected that matters will be adjusted to the satisfaction of all the teams in the league or the organization will disband.

The proposition as it now stands seems to be more in the air and it would be hard to predict just what the outcome of the conference of Saturday will be. That Wichita Falls will do its part in maintaining the organization seems certain but it is not known what course will be pursued by the remaining teams as no recent expression has been obtainable along this line.

J., June 28.—Many of the leading cities of the United States and Canada are represented by delegates at the sixth annual convention of the International Association for the Prevention of Smoke which met in this city today for a three days session. The convention opened this morning at the Astor Hotel and was welcomed by Mayor Haupp. This afternoon Prof. R. H. Ferrel, chief engineer of the United States Geological Survey, delivered an illustration lecture on "Gas Producers, the Burning of Fuels Smokelessly and the Value of Brick-making."

WED, LAUGH AND BE ALWAYS HAPPY

MARRIAGE, A GERMAN AUTORESS WRITES, IS WRECKED BY NAGGING

SOME OTHER SUGGESTIONS

If Husbands and Wives, She Says, Cultivate a Sense of Humor, Love Will Reign Forever.

Berlin, June 28.—"Modern Marriage and How to Bear It," is the suggestive title of a new book by Madame Bradow, which has just been published in Berlin. It is one more contribution to the great problem which is now giving rise to so much discussion in Germany and has been the subject of several notable books recently published.

The authoress recalls the fact that matrimony is and has been the most difficult problem of life at all times. Efforts to solve this problem have been made for many centuries, always without success.

Whoever marries does well, whoever remains single does still better, is her conclusion. Those who are unmarried want to be married and those who are married want to be unmarried, again. All men fear marriage and yet most of them marry sooner or later; all women long to be married and when they are wives they are discontented and unhappy. The man who teaches humanity how to bear matrimony would be the world's greatest benefactor.

Mme. Bradow's forthcoming book is rather intended to suggest alliances than a radical settlement of the whole problem. Why, she says, are most marriages failures in spite of the illusions with which loving husbands and wives enter into the united state, and her reply is that the petty troubles of everyday life are chiefly responsible for the destruction of love; the trifling annoyances, the slight jars and collisions, little irritating habits that cause mutual annoyance, perpetually nagging talk and small mannerisms from which no individual is free. From these rears arise and they eat into marriage as rust eats and destroys metal.

The writer contends that perpetual nagging is the worst evil in matrimony. It becomes chronic before husband and wife realize it and then it is an endless source of fresh dissensions. Abolish nagging and the most effective reform of married life has been carried out. To destroy nagging there is only one method and that is the application of the divine gift of humor to the trials and troubles of everyday life. If a sense of humor reigns supreme in a house and if both husband and wife possess it then every dispute must inevitably end in laughter.

The introduction of a sense of humor into the complications of matrimonial life is, the authoress thinks a more effective improvement than any kind of external reform. Nevertheless she investigates and discusses various suggestions that have been put forward to alter the external conditions of marriage in such a way as to promote its success. Free love she dismisses as impossible, impracticable, and undesirable. Further, she rejects the proposal advanced by the English author, Somerset Maugham that inasmuch as a woman can never be happy with one man alone, polyandry or plurality of husbands for each wife is the best solution of the matrimonial problem.

But tentatively, Mme. Bradow suggests another strange arrangement with the same end in view and her idea is, that there should be double marriages between two husbands on the one side and two wives on the other.

Mme. Bradow goes into the proposal formulated by another English author, Meredith, that temporary marriages should be concluded for periods of three or more years up to a decade, after which husband and wife might separate without any stain or their characters or make the bond permanent, and rejects it as offering no satisfactory way out of current difficulties and dangers. Rather than temporary marriages she would have divorce made easy.

Summing up, the authoress rejects all the remedies in favor of the one unfailing cure for unhappy marriages—the application of a sense of humor to all matrimonial dissensions. That she thinks, is the one and only way "how to be happy though married."

LANE IS ANGERED BY EGG THROWER

Irresponsible Person at San Antonio Throws Two Eggs at State Comptroller.

San Antonio, Texas, June 28.—At the conclusion of his speech last night while Comptroller Lane was in the front row of the audience at the prohibition rally two eggs were thrown at him with such accuracy they broke at his feet. Quickly mounting the platform Lane interrupted the speaker and said: "Two eggs have just been thrown at me, my fellow men. Pointing an amusing-outstretched arm in the direction from which the missiles had come he cried in a voice harsh with emotion: "I can tell you who is guilty. He is a dirty coward and pusillanimous scoundrel who was inspired to the act by the base liquor interests he represents."

MANAGERS' SPECIAL AT ALTUS FRIDAY

The general manager's special, due to arrive over the Northwestern Wednesday on a tour of inspection, will not reach here until Thursday, and will have on board besides the Northwestern officials, several officers of the Katy system, which road is assisting in financing the extension of the Northwestern which are now under way. The party will remain over night in Altus, leaving Friday morning for points north, including the scene of activities north of Hammon, where the extension is being built.

Superintendent Sullivan, who was in the city this morning, strongly denied the report that the Northwestern had been sold, although he admitted that the Katy interests had been instrumental in securing the necessary money to make the improvements now under way. Incidentally, Mr. Sullivan says that Altus is the best station on the W. F. & N. W. line this side of Wichita Falls, barring none.—Altus Times.

PRESIDENTIAL CHOICE IN POTTSVILLE, PA

Washington, June 28.—All the news out of Washington is not all tariff and all the gossip is not about coronation and departmental shortcomings. A little dash of politics was added to the menu today by circulation about the Capital of a poll on the presidency taken by the state of mind of the democratic and republican voters of that community. In this poll 2,605 democrats and 2,118 republicans recorded their choice for the presidency. The democratic vote was: Wilson 1,556 Clark 384, Roosevelt 182, La Follette 165, Harmon 182. The republican vote was: Roosevelt 1,510, Taft 308, Woodrow Wilson 204, LaFollette 184, Knox 12.

The combined vote showed 2,069 for Wilson, 1,692 for Roosevelt, 484 for Clark, 349 for La Follette and but 208 for Taft. There was no Bryan and but little Harmon sentiment. The La Follette vote was about equally divided between the democrats and republicans.

Pottsville in the county seat of Schuylkill county, which last election cast 18,754 votes for Taft and 15,481 for Bryan.

NEPHEW OF T. A. AND R. E. HUFF DROWNED

Paper Received Here Giving Account of Death of William Skelton at Scottsboro, Ala.

The Times is in receipt of a Scottsboro, Ala., paper giving an account of the drowning of William Skelton, a grandson of Mrs. W. E. and a nephew of Tom and R. E. Huff of this city.

The victim visited in this city when a child and his mother is well known here. Mrs. M. E. Huff left for Alabama upon receipt of the news of his death.

The account follows:
Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock the whole of Scottsboro was thrown into a furor of excitement when news reached the streets that William, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Skelton had drowned in the Tennessee river.

In a few minutes the road between town and Garland's ferry was lined with people who rushed to the river to aid in a search for the body, which was found by Mr. Dave Skelton, an uncle of William's, about seven o'clock—four hours after the accident.

Never, perhaps in the history of Scottsboro, has a death shocked the people as that of this estimable young gentleman.

Early in the afternoon of last Thursday, William Skelton, accompanied by his friend Houston Maples, went to the Tennessee river at Garland's ferry and went in swimming, after spending some time in the water William suggested to Houston that they come out as he was getting cold. Houston swam to the shore and was donning his clothes when he looked back and saw William sinking about fifty yards from the river bank. He rushed to the point where he went down thinking to rescue him, but was unable to locate the body. He called Jack Nash the ferryman who continued the search, while Houston brought the sad news to Scottsboro.

It is supposed that he was seized with cramps, as the water where he drowned was not over his head.

The funeral was held at the family residence Friday afternoon, the Rev. Briscoe officiating.

The pall bearers were selected from young male friends near his own age and several of his former female companions preceded the funeral bear with beautiful floral designs.

Interment was made in the Cedar Hill cemetery.

William Skelton was an exemplary young man about seventeen years old always gentlemanly and courteous and the tenderest sympathies of the community go out to the heart-broken mother, father and sister in their bereavement.

TESTED AND PROVEN.

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Wichita Falls readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

W. Nolen, 508 Eighth street, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills certainly live up to the claims made for them and I think they are the best kidney medicine in existence. I had heard several people speak highly of this remedy and when I saw it advertised, I got a supply from the Wichita Drug House. My kidneys were weak and I was obliged to get up often at night to pass the kidney secretion. In the morning I felt stiff and lame across my back and was hardly able to straighten. Whenever I stooped, a sharp twinge darted through me. I used in all three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they entirely cured me."

A Second Endorsement.
Mr. Nolen was interviewed on Dec. 8, 1910 and he added to the above: "I willingly re-endorse Doan's Kidney Pills and confirm every word of the statement I gave in their favor two and a half years ago. I have recommended this remedy to many people and have always taken pleasure in doing so."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

PREDICTS SPUDS AT SO MUCH PER "EYE"

Kansas City, June 25.—Potatoes will be 5 cents an eye, with 2 cents off on the gross for sprouts and other blemishes if the "spud" is thus made inflexible, said a grocer man yesterday. "This is not a prophecy or a forecast, but a logical deduction from well established facts."

To state the facts briefly, there is not now a single hope for the potato crops in the localities that have suffered as heretofore. Meanwhile, people get right on eating them. Ordinary spring potatoes are 70 cents a peck or $2.75 a bushel, and after that the price will begin to rise.

"Do you think," humbly inquired a customer, "that conditions here will surpass those in Paris at the time of the 'Oh, no! They will not," interrupted the market man optimistically. "A state of blockade or siege is even worse than a drought—this drought anyway. The things you want will be on the market, you know. The difference lies in the reason for doing without them. The good people of Paris were deprived because there were none to be had. We will have the vegetables all right, but you can't afford them unless you are a millionaire."

Advice to the Young Man

By "Old Timer"

Don't be funny, my son, the world is full of snags and rough places; and while I would not have you take too serious a view of life, (always met sanctimonious face and bowed head) it is well to call a halt, long enough to take in your surroundings, check up your personal conduct and gather intelligent information of the road ahead.

Every day that you live will be necessary to make the journey from the cradle to the grave. You will travel over the road only one way, there will be no return ticket; be careful what you do and what you say.

The Recording angel will keep in close touch with you by merciless telegraphy, and it will depend altogether on your own acts, whether you find the "golden gate afar," or are switched off to perdition.

Always try to enjoy the innocent amusements; only drawing the lips where harm begins. It is indulging in its excess that brings headaches, pains and remorse.

The forbidden fruit grows on dangerous ground full of hidden pits falls; beware lest you be enticed to wander among the briars and brambles that grow beneath the beautiful foliage and become entangled for life.

As a matter of economy that may prove very profitable from experience test everything by good or bad results. If there is no benefit secured, there is almost sure to be physical and moral injury. And if you heed not the warning of experience you must abide the direful consequences.

Above: every other consideration, remember your own individual responsibility, for however, much parents or friends may be concerned in your welfare and success, what you are and what you may be in the future depend entirely upon yourself.

The logic of a precept is the heading thereof and the lesson of an example is the truth it conveys.

The restraining hand of the law appears harsh, only to the man who obeys its mandates.

Selfishness destroys friendship and drives a hard bargain with love; therefore, remember others while you fight the battles of life.

Honesty pays more as an investment, than money in stocks and bonds, for the returns are always secure against a fluctuating market.

Be mindful of the civilities and amenities that good breeding demands. If you would enjoy the confidence of your fellowman.

STATE SUPREME COURT
12 MONTHS BEHIND

Nearly a Hundred Applications for Writs of Error Will Probably Be Filed During the Summer

One hundred and eleven unsubmitted cases are pending with the State Supreme Court, according to figures gleaned from the regular docket, which has just been closed for the summer. In addition eighteen applications for writs of error have been carried over to the next term. The records show that an average of between 75 and 100 applications are received during the summer term, which is taken by those in authority to mean that the highest tribunal of the State of Texas is nearly a year behind in its work.

The court docket shows that there were on file Oct. 1, 1910—the beginning of the last term—a total of 100 applications for writs of error. A total of 368 were received during the term, making 468 in all. Of that number the court refused 301, granted 103, dismissed 44 for want of jurisdiction, refused in part and dismissed in part 2, and carried 18 over. Of the decisions rendered, 104 were written, exclusive of the written opinions on overruling motions for rehearing. Other statistics for the term show: Certified questions answered, 19; mandamus awarded 8; mandamus refused, 7; judgments affirmed, 15; judgments

Courts of Civil Appeals reversed and that of district courts affirmed, 12; judgments of Court of Civil Appeals affirmed, 7; reversed and remanded, 14; reversed and rendered, 14; reversed and remanded in part and affirmed in part, 1; reformed and rendered, 2; Civil Appeals, 1; affirmed in part and reversed and rendered, in part, 3; judgments Appellate Court affirmed and cause reversed and rendered in part, 3.

Governor Colquitt said awhile back that some legislation must be enacted for the relief of the Supreme Court. The proposed reform will probably engage the attention of the Legislature early in its next regular session if not during the forthcoming special session.

An item was printed in yesterday's Times to the effect that the gutting at Indiana avenue and Seventh street has proven unsatisfactory notwithstanding its acceptance by the city. As a matter of fact this or any other part of the paving work has not yet been accepted by the city and furthermore Engineer Hineckley says that the attention of the paving company was called to the work in question at the time it was laid as being unsatisfactory. Although the matter is of little consequence the Times wishes to keep the record straight in this and all other things.

WICHITA OIL AND GAS COMPANY PROPERTY MAY BE INCLUDED Negotiations Will Be Opened With New Gas Company to Take Over Their Property in Connection With the Bean & Markowitz Proposition for Industrial Addition

The submission of the proposition on the part of C. W. Bean for himself and Julius Markowitz to turn over a stock company for a consideration of $150,000 a tract of land at Petrolia, containing 179 acres and the tract across the river from the city containing 220 acres for the purpose as explained in the offer of promoting an industrial movement, was considered at a meeting of the committee on manufacturing, held yesterday afternoon. The committee, it is understood, will recommend in the nature of a counter proposition, that some arrangements be made to include the wells and pipe lines of the Wichita Oil and Gas Company already completed or practically so, it being considered advisable to perfect such arrangements rather than undertake additional wells and the construction of a third pipe line. It is not known whether this company will be agreeable to such an arrangement and the committee will have to take the matter up with them before a definite report can be made to the directors. There are other matters to be considered by this committee in connection with the proposal before anything definite can be given out as to their recommendation. As explained in the report contained in the Times yesterday afternoon, it is planned to organize a stock company with a capital stock of $150,000 to take over the land of Mr. Bean and his associates as indicated above with the addition of two producing wells in the Petrolia tract and a four-inch pipe line between the two properties, with a view of developing a two cent gas rate and free factory site as an inducement to institutions to locate at this place. In this connection it will be recalled that Secretary Day of the Chamber of Commerce recommended to that organization several weeks ago a proposition similar in its nature, but involving the organization of a company with only $50,000 capital stock. The plan as outlined by Mr. Day provided for the purchase of 500 acres of land adjacent to one of the railroads at a cost of $50,000 this land to be disposed of as follows: Fifty acres to be set aside for free factory sites and four hundred and fifty acres to be cut up into 1800 lots to be sold at $200 each. This would realize for the industrial company a total of $360,000 and as planned by Mr. Day this amount was to be used, first to reimbursing the stockholders for the $50,000 invested in the land which would leave $310,000 to be expended in the following manner: $100,000 to be expended for trackage, streets, alleys and the grading of same and for public improvements on the addition such as water supply, electric lights sewerage, etc. This would still leave $210,000 and it was planned to set aside of this amount another $100,000 for the purpose of procuring three cent gas for manufacturing purposes. There would still remain of the proceeds of the sale of the property $110,000, and of this it was estimated that $15,000 would be required for incidental expenses in promoting the addition and providing for the expense of advertising, etc. This would still leave $95,000 and it was proposed to place this amount in trust as a surplus for the purpose of promoting civic improvements. The different plans as presented are outlined by the Times in view of the importance attached to the matter and the consideration being given the proposition to devote the industrial conditions of the city in order that the public may be advised of the movement and the interest taken therein in behalf of Wichita Falls. It is likely that the committee on factories will make a report to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce within the next few days and it is possible that a special meeting will be called for that purpose.

The Cause of Old Age

"Do you want to stay young?" is the title of an article in the July Hampton's written by Dr. Woods Hutchinson, in which that noted medical authority declares that the only pains and penalties of old age that are to be dreaded are those brought upon us by our individual misfortunes or our follies. Then he declares: "There is no way of preventing old age itself, save by the rather heroic remedy of dying early—which is scarcely worth while for this purpose alone. It is perfectly possible, however, to prevent most of the limitations and crippling, which alone make old age to be dreaded by the exercise of our intelligence and our determination. Many, if not most, of the changes we associate with age, which we have in mind when we think of the growing old, lie in our pomons, technical terminology, we allude to as 'senile degenerations,' are the result of infectious diseases and bad hygienic habits. "For instance, remote at first sight as the connection may seem, binding together with one link our first and our second childhood, many of the disabilities of old age are the results of those highly regarded and almost despised infections called 'children's diseases' and 'common colds.' "It seems ludicrous to think of a grand father who has not fully recovered from the measles or of a grandmother who is still suffering from the effects of whooping cough, but such long delayed Nemesis as there are of painfully frequent occurrence. "A healthy first childhood is the best assurance of a happy second one. If you are only superficially interested in your environment in early childhood and youth, you may have a full group of senile symptoms and die of old age at forty-five. A large percentage of the mass of humanity, both men and women, do so die, old before their time. If you want your child to reach a healthy, happy, uncrippled old age, guard his cradle and his nursery with jealous care against the dangers of the little fevers of infancy and childhood. "Even the so-called dulling of the old man's senses—the failure of his hearing, the dimming of his eyesight—is due nine times out of ten, to ailments of childhood. The failure of his hearing is due to successive attacks of uncurred or untreated colds which spread from his throat up to his sustentaculum labium in the drum, and the bones of his middle ear; the dimming of his eyesight is due to that decay of the vitality of the center of the crystalline lens which we call cataract, a decay caused by the infection-shocks and overwork and underfeeding strains of life. "Three-quarters of the crippling of the old man or woman, which chafes them to their chairs or make their old bones a torture to them, half the right legs, are not due to any normal or necessary process connected with advancing years, but to some form of rheumatism which is almost invariably an infection or the result of some form of infectious disease. If you have the good fortune or the good management to avoid tonsillitis, influenza, pneumonia, typhoid fever, put infections and venereal diseases, you will have avoided three-quarters of your risks of stiffened limbs and swollen joints in your declining years. To say nothing of paralysis, heart dis-

"Of course, as yet it is not within human power to avoid all or even a majority of these maladies and misfortunes, but it is becoming more and more nearly so every day. The fewer you have of them the better your chances for escaping these later crippling and degenerative. Every infectious disease that you can cross off your vital slate means five more chances on the scale of one hundred for a happy and comfortable old age. This is especially true of those calamities whose avoidance is within the power of every one—the so-called general diseases. An old man's conscience may not worry him much, but nature has other methods of evening up that score."

The Storm at Chattanooga.
The Chattanooga (Okla.) News issued an extra Monday telling of the damage done in Saturday's storm. It contains the following:
At 5 o'clock, Saturday afternoon the severest hail storm and tornado that ever visited this part of Oklahoma passed from the northwest to the southeast. Chattanooga was just in the edge of it. That no lives were lost is miraculous.
The storm cloud formed some twenty or thirty miles to the northwest and hung for a while apparently not moving. A little later ball-shaped water spouts were seen to descend to the earth with great rapidity and the people were warned of the approaching danger. When the cloud started to move off to the southeast it came fast and became more dense, although at no time did the width exceed nine miles. The main hail belt was about five miles wide and all vegetation in its path except in spots, was wiped from the face of the earth. The hail simply swept the cotton fields clean—and the only crop we had left.
With reasonable crop conditions the hail sufferers can raise a crop of cotton yet if they will go at it at once. Good cotton plants as late as July 15 in the past has been raised here.
One peculiar thing occurred when one of our citizens got busy on phone trying to find cotton seed for planting even before the reports of the destruction came in. He is an old-timer in Oklahoma and told the people on the streets before the storm came what would happen and within an hour after the storm had ceased he had located and had the promise of over 1,000 bushels of cotton seed.
Some of the several losers by wind are the homes of Sam Watson, Paul Brown, J. W. Spiegel, Ed Guth.
