AN ANNIVERSARY SERVICE TONIGHT

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE WILL CELEBRATE ITS 25TH ANNIVERSARY.

PROF. CARRE'S SERMON

Declares Gospel That is To Be Preached Should Touch Humanity at Every Point.

Missions was the general theme in the services at the First M. E. Church, South yesterday and inspired by the presence of 150 delegates to the Missionary Conference and leaders in that department of the church work the cause of missions was given an impetus that will place the Wichita Falls church in the foremost rank in that work in the North Texas Conference.

Mrs. J. H. Elliott of Van Alstyne addressed the Sunday school telling of the part that children could have in the spread of the gospel.

At the morning service the Venerable and Learned Bishop Joseph S. Key, of Sherman, spoke on the "Relation of the Church to the Jew," showing the position of the Jew in the educational and financial world and the importance of bringing them in to the Christian belief.

The Epworth League service was led by Mrs. J. H. Mathis of Bowie. At this service talks were made by Mrs. L. P. Smith of Henrietta, Miss Wilson and Mrs. Henry Dorsey, of Dallas. Miss Helen Cason added in spration to the meeting with a beautiful solo.

At the evening hour Prof. H. B. Carre, of Vanderbilt University delivered a thoughtful sermon and administered the Lord's Supper. In his sermon he sought to answer the question "What kind of a Gospel ought we to preach if we are to carry it to the ends of the earth?"

He said that the gospel that should be preached was non-social and should appeal to the intellectual, social, physical parts of man's nature. He declared that the gospel that would do away with the conditions that let white slavery exist and that would permit a mother's son to be come a drunkard.

The gospel that should be preached should appeal to the business, man and the investigator; to the Japanese the Hindus and others who followed great ethnic faiths some of them thousands of years older than Christianity. It should be a social gospel.

"A great scholar has said that the program in science in the Nineteenth century made the world a neighborhood; the Twentieth century must make it a brotherhood."

"Some things indicate that we are moving away from a universal brotherhood. One of these is the space between men who are so much dependent upon one another."

As an example of this he pictured the English stockowner of a cotton mill in North Carolina, and contrasted his surroundings with the young girls who worked in his mill.

He said that the gospel that should be preached was one that should fit into humanity at every point.

This afternoon at two o'clock Prof. Carre will address the women of the city on "Woman's Place in Civic Improvement."

Tonight the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Missionary Conference will be observed with an appropriate program.

Saturday afternoon the needs of the Virginia K. Johnson Home were presented and money subscribed to furnish a room. Out of compliment to the hostesses of the conference this room will be called the Wichita Falls room.

A memorial service was also held Saturday afternoon.

The report of the memorial committee follows:

Sorrowfully, yet thankfully, we record the names, and to pay tribute to the memory of these dear loved ones who, during the past year, have been called to their reward. Sorrowfully because we miss them as colobores and because of the vacancy in their homes which can never be filled

BESTOWS PRAISE AND JAIL SENTENCE

ABILENE JUDGE FINDS WICHITA FALLS EDITOR GUILTY OF CONTEMPT OF COURT.

GASTON WILL APPEAL

Lawyers and Newspaper Men Offer to Go to Jail With Independent and Fearless Editor.

Special to The Times. Abilene, Texas, Oct. 9.—In the district court this morning Judge Blanton found H. W. Gaston, editor of the Wichita Daily News, guilty of contempt of court and assessed his punishment at thirty minutes confinement in jail. He was granted time to appeal to the higher courts, which appeal will be taken. Bond having been promptly made at $300.

In rendering his decision Judge Blanton applauded defendant for his independence and fearlessness in writing the editorial and expressed the wish that there were more such editors, but said that the dignity of the court demanded that some penalty be assessed.

A party of lawyers and newspaper men waited on Mr. Gaston in a body and assured him that in the event the higher court should uphold the sentence they would go with him to jail and join him in serving the thirty minutes. Two local newspaper men offered to serve the sentence in defendant's stead.

Thankfully, because of their lives and the assurance we have that it will not be long until "The coming of that morn when those angel faces smile, which we have loved long since and lost awhile."

Let us give to their bereaved ones the same prayerful interest and tender, loving sympathy we would have given to ours when we are gone.

The following are the names of the departed ones:

Mrs. S. B. Longino, Sulphur Springs; Mrs. L. S. Slover, Bridgeport; Mrs. J. R. Bilsap, Centenary Church, Paris; Mrs. H. E. Jones Celeste; Mrs. Dr. J. Knight, McKinney; Mrs. Ida R. Carlton, Oak Cliff; Mrs. E. R. Bumpass, Terrell; Mrs. H. C. McGaughey, Greenville; Mrs. T. J. Milner, Greenville; Mrs. H. H. Gramgo, Wynnaboro; Mrs. T. G. Carlock, Wynnaboro; Mrs. I. M. Fletcher, Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Henrietta; Mrs. W. F. Norman, Wesley, Greenville; Mrs. Creath Neal, Wesley, Greenville; Dr. F. B. Carroll, M. E. Dormitory, Denton.

PRIESTS AND NUNS SAVE GIRLS FROM FIRE

HOME OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD AT EDGINGTON LAKE, WEST VIRGINIA, BURNS.

THEY JUMP INTO BLANKETS

Blaze Believed to Have Been Caused By a Spark of Incense Used in Chapel.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 9.—Five yesterday completely destroyed the Home of the Good Shepherd at Edgington Lake, two miles east of this city, and drove 250 scantily clad girls and nuns into the streets.

The blaze is supposed to have been caused by a spark of incense used in benediction in the chapel last evening. The loss will exceed $50,000, which is covered by insurance.

The home is a haven for girls ranging in age from 5 years upward. The structure was of wood and the flame spread with almost incredible rapidity, so that the children, when aroused from their sleep, had barely time to escape.

The girls performed many feats of heroism and daring in rushing through the dormitories arousing the girls and in many instances carrying and dragging the younger ones to safety. Two of the nuns are seriously ill today from the nervous excitement of their work in rescuing their charges.

The fire was discovered at 2 o'clock high on the hill, the building was swept by a strong wind from the west and it was seen in a few minutes that the structure was doomed. Its position, so far above the rest of the city made it impossible to get anywhere near an adequate supply of water.

So swift was the spread of the flames fanned by the wind, that the girls had only time to snatch up a blanket from their bed in which to wrap themselves as the nuns ordered them to file out.

The priests attached to the institution aided in marshaling the girls. Nearly all of them were safely out of the building and standing in line on the lawn when it was found that several of the girls of the upper dormitories had been cut off by the flames.

They reached the windows on the second floor in safety. They were told not to jump until the priests and nuns got some blankets, which they held for the girls to jump into.

All were given food and clothing and shelter in homes in the vicinity of the fire.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM GETTING INTO SHAPE

The football team of the Wichita Falls High School is rapidly getting into shape to accept challenges from other teams, and some hard practice has already been held by them.

This team, while rather light, is expected to put up some good games soon, and there is some rivalry between it and the Y. M. C. A. team to which will make the best record this season. The Y team has already accepted a challenge from Henrietta for next Friday, but the High School has not as yet accepted any challenges. Their captain Karl Hammond, stated today that just as soon as the team reached the proper stage of perfection, challenges would be accepted from any nearby town, or any team in this city, and that it is desired by the members of his team to put up the best possible class of football here this fall.

DEAN JERNIGAN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Load of Shot Fired by Companion Lodged in Right Knee—Amputation is Necessary.

A serious accident occurred yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock just across Holiday Creek, south of town, when Claud Ruby, aged 14, accidentally shot Dean Jernigan, aged 18, with a double barreled shotgun, a charge of number 2 shot taking effect in the right knee and so seriously maiming that member that amputation was found to be necessary.

The boys had been hunting on that part of Holiday Creek just back of the city reservoir, and had located a rabbit in a nearby thicket just before the accident happened. The rabbit ran out and each boy shot at it once. The shots startled a hawk. It seems that Ruby, upon preparing to shoot at the rabbit, had cocked both barrels of his shotgun and in attempting to fire at the hawk, he whirled around suddenly and in some manner the unexploded shell remaining in the gun went off, the charge striking Jernigan in the right knee, ranking upwards.

Ruby immediately ran for assistance and a passing automobile responded and the occupants of which assisted in removing the injured boy to his home in the south side acre addition. He was later removed to the Wichita Sanitarium, and after an examination, it was decided to amputate the injured member just below the hip, which operation was completed last night shortly before 11 o'clock by Drs. Burnside and Walker, assisted by other physicians of the city.

Jernigan, when seen this morning at the Wichita Sanitarium, was resting as easy as could be expected, and stated that no blame whatsoever was to be placed upon Ruby and that the affair was entirely accidental.

DEFINITE PEACE STEP BY TURKEY

Berlin, Oct. 9.—A definite step toward peace in Italy and Turkey appeared today in a circular note from Turkey to the powers contemplating the cessation of Tripoli to Italy under certain conditions not yet made public. The note asks the powers whether they think the time has arrived to negotiate for peace.

NO STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK AT HOUSTON

Associated Press. Houston, Texas, Oct. 9.—There were no disorders here today in the Harriman strike. Today at noon was the time limit for the return of strikers but none had returned late this forenoon and it was announced that the strikers are securing other positions.

PRACTICE HOUR HAS BEEN CHANGED

An unusual amount of interest is now being manifested in the Y. M. C. A. football team, not only by the candidates themselves, but also by others on account of the near approach of the first game of the season, which will be played at Henrietta next Friday, October 13th. The Y boys are not now as well prepared as they want to be and for that reason, and in order that as many as possible may be able to turn out for practice, it has been decided to change the hour of daily practice from six in the evening on the old High School grounds, to eight o'clock at night under the arch on the Y. M. C. A. corner, Seventh and Lamar streets. It is therefore urged that everyone who has any desire or chance to make the Y team be present at this nightly practice, which will continue every night until after the Henrietta game. As this game will be played on Friday 13th, one or other of the teams will probably encounter bad luck and it is the intention of the Y boys to leave nothing undone which would prevent them from showing up at their best.

It has not been decided yet just who will be selected to make the Henrietta trip and there is still a chance for almost any good man to make the team and therefore any one who has football aspirations, is invited to be present at the practice hour.

Paris, and the University of Berlin. He is now quite proficient in the modern languages, French and German, both of which he speaks and writes fluently.

The addition of Prof. Combs to the faculty renders the High School especially well equipped to teach the modern language inasmuch as Delmar Owen, who was recently secured to take the place of William Craig, who resigned from the audience department, is also exceptionally well versed in the languages of French and German, which gives the High School two teachers who should be well able to handle the language department.

To Resume Lorimer Quiz. Chicago, Ill., Oct. 9.—The members of the Senate committee appointed to inquire into the election of Senator Lorimer of Illinois have rounded up here preparatory to resuming their investigation which was broken off at the adjournment of Congress this summer. The committee expects to get down to work tomorrow morning. The courtroom of Judge Grosscup in the Federal building will be used as the place of hearing. The number of witnesses to be heard here is much larger than during the original session in Washington. Investigators have scoured Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan and have summoned scores of persons who are supposed to have more or less personal knowledge of some of the circumstances attending the election of the Illinois senator.

ASKS CONFERENCE ON COTTON PRICES

GOVERNOR COLQUITT SENDS A TELEGRAM TO GOVERNORS OF SOUTHERN STATES.

DECLINE IS UNWARRANTED

Suggests Conference of Governors and Commissioners of Agriculture.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Oct. 9.—Governor Colquitt today telegraphed all the governors of the Southern States suggesting that the depreciation in cotton prices were not justified by the supply and suggesting a conference of the Governors and Commissioners of Agriculture of Southern States to discuss the prevention of price depreciation. He suggests that Texas take the lead.

WAVED FAREWELL TO WICHITA OFFICERS

Meeting Officers in Search for Them on Rosedale Huddlestons Direct Them to Their Home.

Special to The Times. Decatur, Texas, Oct. 9.—Roy and Am Huddleston, charged with the murder of Ben Motley, of the Park Springs community, this county, were arrested at their home near Park Springs yesterday afternoon, by Sheriff Faith, of Wise county. They were brought to Decatur late yesterday afternoon and allowed bail in the sum of $4,000 each for their appearance before the grand jury here.

The killing of Motley occurred on the night of September 24th. He died of knife wounds received during a dance at his own home. Since that time the officers have been unable to locate the two Huddlestons, who were charged with the crime and the governor offered a reward of $200 for their apprehension and conviction. After staying in hiding near their home for nearly three weeks, the Huddlestons yesterday decided to give up, and phoned Sheriff Faith to come and get them. In talking to a Times correspondent, the Huddlestons stated they have never seen over ten miles from their home since the killing occurred, and that they have been picking cotton steadily in Wise and Montague counties. They said that during the past week, they were both sitting on the side of the road near their home, when several Wichita Falls officers came along and inquired where old man Huddleston lived. The fugitives gave the officers the desired information, and the detectives rode on up to the house, but failing to find Roy and Am Huddleston there, came back, again passing by the men wanted, who waved farewell to the officers. The Huddlestons say they have had several close calls like the above, as on several occasions officers have searched houses where they were hiding.

The men seemed to have enjoyed their little "outing" and say they could have eluded capture indefinitely in this and Montague counties.

COUNTY MEETING HERE

To discuss plans for helping farmers secure a higher price for their cotton, the business men of this county will meet at the county meeting of the Farmers Union of this county, which will be held at the county seat of this county, Friday, October 13th, at 10 o'clock a. m.

The public, visiting Masons, and everybody are cordially invited to attend this ceremony.

BETTER CULTURAL METHODS INDICATED

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 9.—Reports received by the Texas Industrial Congress from eighty-nine counties in the State amply justify its work during the present year in advocating the adoption of better cultural methods. Notwithstanding an unfavorable season and the prolonged drought the combined average yield, estimated of corn per acre, raised by contestants for the prizes offered by the Congress, is 31 bushels, and an estimated average yield of 25,000 bales of cotton per acre. It is of course impossible for us even to approximate the average yield of the State but it is not probable that the corn crop will average over 15 bushels and cotton over 13 bales per acre. The Congress will hold its third annual convention in Dallas within the next 90 days, as soon as the winners of the $10,000 in prizes can be ascertained.

THE YOUNG GROOM KILLED HIMSELF

He had been despondent, telling friends: "I am up against it."

SUPREME COURT FACES BUSY TERM

NUMBER OF IMPORTANT AND INTERESTING MATTERS WILL COME BEFORE COURT.

OREGON PRIMARY LAW

And Initiative and Referendum Will Be Attacked Before The High Tribunal.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—After a four months' vacation the Supreme Court of the United States will convene today for the term of 1911-12. The docket is crowded with 781 cases, as compared with 696 cases a year ago at this time. No case of anything like equal importance with the Standard Oil and Tobacco dissolution suits is on the docket, but there are a number of important and interesting matters that will come before the court for adjudication.

The court is expected to take up first of all the numerous cases involving the activity of State railroad commissions. There are more than fifty cases of this kind to be decided. As all of them are correlated, it is probable the court will hear them as nearly together as possible. There are thirty-six rate cases from Missouri alone, three from Minnesota, including that decided by Judge Sanborn, which agitated the governor's conference at Spring Lake recently, and several from Oklahoma and Kentucky. The opinions of the supreme tribunal in these cases probably will fix definitely the constitutional limits of State and railroad commissions dictment of James A. Patten and others on charges of violating the Sherman anti-trust law in "cornering" the cotton market. The review of the trial of Frederick A. Hyde and others on charges of land frauds on the Pacific coast will constitute still another important case.

The court also will hear arguments in the Oklahoma land fraud cases which are four in number and are typical of 301 suits brought by the Government to invalidate 39,000 or more conveyances by Indians. Of titles to real estate, which the Government claims were fraudulent conveyances.

Labor has one important case from Louisiana in which an employer is being prosecuted for permitting a laborer to work more than eight hours in one day. Also of importance to the labor world is the case brought to test the constitutionality of the federal employers' liability act of 1908.

The court has been asked to interpret a treaty between the United States and Italy. The case in question involves the right of an Italian consul to take charge of the estate of an Italian subject dying in this county—California—contrary to local laws.

Not the least of the problems before the supreme court is the necessity of relieving the congestion which threatens to clog the administration of justice if measures are not taken by Congress for its relief. As before stated, there are now more than 700 cases on the docket, with the probability that fully 300 additional cases will be filed before the end of the term. The average number of cases that can be decided by the court in a year is about 400, and this is somewhat high. It is apparent, therefore, that the court is two years behind in its work, and will inevitably fall back still further if its labors are not lightened.

TYPHOID FATAL FOR J. W. ROLING

James William Roling, a prominent citizen of Wichita Falls, died at his home 308 Lamar avenue at 9:50 o'clock Sunday morning following an illness with typhoid fever.

Had Mr. Roling lived until next December he would have celebrated his fifty-third birthday. He was a native of Texas, having been born in Grayson county. He came to Wichita Falls seven years ago from Bowie, Texas, and during his residence here won the confidence of many friends who have learned of his death with deep regret.

Three children, James and J. Oliver, and a daughter, Miss Ruth, children of his first wife, and a widow survive.

Funeral services were conducted at the family residence at 11 o'clock this morning, following which the body was shipped to Alford for burial.

Another Texas Frontiersman Gone

At 9:30 a. m., Sunday, October 8, 1911, the death angel called hence to the great unknown, one of West Texas pioneer settlers, J. W. Roling.

Mr. Roling has made Wichita Falls his home for a number of years. On the 24th day of February, 1891, he was married to Miss Georgia A. Mode who bore him five children, three of which survive him. On May 8, 1909 his wife, Georgia, died, leaving him to care for the three children, James, Ruth and J. O. On the 28th day of June, 1910, he was united in marriage with Mrs. R. L. Tinsley of Fort Worth, Texas, who since that date has been a loving wife to Mr. Roling, and a devoted mother to his children. She being a mother, knew best how to care for Mr. Roling's children that were left in her charge. To say that Mr. Roling was a loving father and a faithful husband, is saying very little. His every thought was of his home and family.

A host of friends and relatives throw out their sympathy for Mrs. Roling and the children in this, their darkest hour.

Death is a debt which we must all pay, and it is only a matter of a few years, until we will all be called before the Mighty Father above, where all is peace and love, there to meet the loving ones gone before.

Mr. Roling will be buried today at Alford, in Wise County, Texas.

and circumscribe the powers they may exercise in the way of fixing the rates of common carriers in interstate traffic.

Several important cases have come over from the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Government questions the right of railroads to make concessions to elevators holding that it is rebating. The St. Louis Terminal Company, owning two bridges over the Mississippi River, is being brought to the bar on the question of its being a monopoly in restraint of trade. Another issue that will be fought out early in the term is whether the stockyard in the large cities are common carriers within the meaning of the interstate commerce laws. A case against the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern road is expected to lead to a decision as to whether a railroad may transport sheep through a State into another State when the State through which the sheep pass is under quarantine.

The battle for the initiative and referendum, the foundation stone of the Oregon primary system, will be fought before the court early in November. In view of the fact that numerous States already have followed the example of Oregon in adopting the initiative and referendum and others are preparing to do so, the decision in this case will have far-reaching consequences. The matter comes to the supreme court as an appeal in a suit brought by the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company against the State of Oregon to test the constitutionality of the initiative and referendum law.

Among the most important cases on the docket are several that were held over from last term. Included in the list are the cases involving the validity of the indictment of Charles E. Munday and others, growing out of the so-called Stracey coal-land claims in Alaska, and of the in-

Chronology of McNamara Case

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 9.—The chronology of the Los Angeles dynamiting case, which is set for trial next Wednesday, October 11, is as follows:

October 1—Times newspaper plant destroyed by explosion and fire. Twenty men killed. Bombs found at home of General Harrison Gray Otis, proprietor of the Times, and Felix Zeehandelaar, Secretary Merchants & Manufacturers Association.

October 9—Experts, appointed by Mayor Alexander to investigate cause of disaster reported that high explosive, such as nitro-glycerin, had been used.

October 13—Job Harriman, attorney representing labor union interests, questioned witnesses before coroner's jury, eliciting statement that in their opinion explosion was caused by gas.

October 25—Special grand jury impaneled by Judge Bordwell, began sifting alleged evidence that three men known as J. B. Brice, Milton A. Schmidt and David Caplan, had blown up the Times with "Eighty per cent Gelatin," purchased September 26 from Giant Powder Works at San Francisco. Five hundred pounds of dynamite, later identified as part of that purchased by trio, was found cached in house at South San Francisco, October 16.

December 25—Llewellyn Iron Works partially wrecked by explosion.

January 8—Grand jury returned secret indictments against Brice, Schmidt and Caplan.

March 14—Coroner's jury filed verdict declaring victims met death in wreck and fire caused by dynamite explosion.

April 12—James B. McNamara and Orrie E. McManigal arrested in Detroit and taken to place of hiding in Chicago.

April 15—Secret indictments filed by grand jury against James B. McNamara, Orrie E. McManigal and John J. McNamara, charging them with destruction of the Times.

April 22—John J. McNamara arrested in offices of International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers in Indianapolis. Extradited immediately, and rushed across the continent to Los Angeles, being joined on the way by James McNamara and McManigal. Joseph Ford, Assistant District Attorney of Los Angeles, who obtained extradition, arrested later on charge of kidnaping Detective William J. Burns and Detective James Hiseck, of Los Angeles, subsequently indicted on same charge.

April 26—Prisoners arrived in Los Angeles.

May 4—McManigal taken before grand jury, where he made sworn statement accusing James B. McNamara of having blown up the Times and declaring himself responsible for Llewellyn Iron Works explosion.

May 5—Grand jury returned indictments accusing McNamaras, Schmidt, Caplan, John Doe and Richard Roe of nineteen murders in connection with Times explosion, and holding McNamara responsible jointly with John J. McNamara, for attempt to wreck Llewellyn Iron Works. McNamaras arraigned. Bail asked. This denied May 9.

May 23—Clarence S. Darrow arrived from Chicago to become chief counsel for McNamaras. Time for entering pleas deferred to July 6.

July 6—Instead of entering pleas defense assailed jurisdiction of Judge Bordwell denying his right to try case and moved to quash indictments.

July 12—Bordwell overruled both motions. Defense filed exceptions. McNamaras pleaded not guilty. Trial set for October 11, 1911.

Biographical Sketches of the McNamara Brothers

By Associated Press.
Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 9.—Sitting in a corridor just outside his cell in the county jail, John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, briefly sketched what he termed the uneventful lives of himself and his brother, James B. McNamara.

"I was born in Cincinnati December 23, 1876," he said, "and I am the oldest of six children living, although there were ten children originally. I attended the common schools in Cincinnati until I was twelve years old and then took a three-year course in a business college.

"Nothing of any importance happened to me until the panic began in 1892, when I turned my hand to anything and everything to keep the pot boiling, as they say.

"I did my first bridgework at Cincinnati in 1898, joining the union the next year. Between 1898 and 1904, I visited various sections of the Middle West, following my trade and working

Can Be Easily Secured.

"Up to 2 years ago," a woman writes, "I was in the habit of using both tea and coffee regularly.

"I found that my health was beginning to fail, suddenly nervous, attacks would come suddenly upon me making me tremble so excessively that I could not do my work while they lasted; my sleep left me and I passed long nights in restless discomfort. I was filled with a nervous dread as to the future.

"A friend suggested that possibly tea and coffee were to blame, and I decided to give them up, and in casting about for a 'hot table beverage' which I felt was an absolute necessity, I was led by good fortune to try Postum.

"For more than a year I have used it three times a day and expect, so much good has it done me, to continue its use during the rest of my life.

"Soon after beginning the use of Postum, I found, to my surprise, that instead of tossing on a sleepless bed through the long, dreary night, dropped into a sound, dreamless sleep the moment my head touched the pillow.

"Then, I suddenly realized that all my nervousness had left me, and my appetite, which had fallen off before, had all at once been restored so that I ate my food with a keen relish.

"All the nervous dread has gone. I walk a mile and a half each way to my work every day and enjoy it. I find an interest in everything that goes on about me that makes life a pleasure. All this I owe to leaving off tea and coffee and the use of Postum, for I have taken no medicine. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

on steel bridges, viaducts and similar structures.

"I have held all of the offices in local unions, particularly in those of Cleveland, and have attended all the conventions of the International association since 1902. I was elected second vice-president at the convention at Kansas City in 1903 and was chosen secretary-treasurer at Toronto in 1904. I have held that office ever since.

"The last building I worked on was the Rockefeller structure in Cleveland. I left that job to go to Toronto, and it was held open for me. If I wanted to go back, but I didn't, as I had been made secretary-treasurer and had my time fully taken up with the duties of that office.

"The offices of the international association were in New York when I was first elected. Later, for sentimental reasons, I was instrumental in having them moved to Cleveland. Two years after the offices were removed there, another change was made to Indianapolis, for the reason that so many labor organizations had their international headquarters there.

"I never planned my life far ahead. The work of an ironworker probably precludes such planning, for such a man does not know when he leaves home in the morning that he will return at night. It probably tends towards fatalism.

"I wanted to learn of the organization in which I held office, particularly the legal end of it, and so I attended the Indianapolis College of Law and was admitted to practice in 1909.

"There is little else about my life except my arrest. I am an inveterate reader, and always have been, of books treating with economics and industrial matters.

James B. McNamara, who sat quietly by while his brother talked, also was born in Cincinnati. His birthday was June 2, 1882. He attended the common schools and then learned the printer's trade, which he has followed almost continuously ever since, working in job-offices in Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati and other cities.

"Unlike me," said John J. McNamara, "my brother has never been especially active in trades-union affairs."

Marfa, Texas, in Brewster county is one of the best lighted small towns in the United States. Every street is illuminated, while merchants' display signs are on nearly every corner, giving the city a metropolitan appearance.

The beginning of October shows $687,584.81 of street-paving now under construction in Dallas. This represents 68,204 lineal feet and does not include storm and sanitary sewers, bridges, etc., being constructed in and near the city.

A conference was held last week at Honey Grove, relative to the proposed interurban from Sherman to Paris and possibly to Clarksville. Secretary Ragland of the Paris Board of Trade and J. F. McReynolds of Paris attended. A decision was reached whereby the necessary money will be raised to secure the commercial survey and the matter will then be referred to the railroad builders for action.

system is one of the many changes that has been inaugurated in the post-office department this year.

Gov. Harmon, of Ohio, while not the choice of the Times as the nominee of the Democratic party for president, is the favorite of quite a number of Texas Democrats, but the strange thing about it is this: These Harmon men condemn Gov. Wilson strongly for advocating that which Gov. Harmon has on one occasion at least, put into force—that of centralized government. When the local officers of a certain Ohio town failed and refused to enforce a certain State law, giving as their reason that public sentiment was against the enforcement of such a law in that town and county, Gov. Harmon lost no time whatever in demanding their commissions and placed men in charge of the offices who would enforce the State laws regardless of public sentiment, and the people of Ohio, instead of condemning Gov. Harmon for his action, applauded him, and when he again offered for office he was re-elected over his Republican opponent by something like 50,000 majority. If Gov. Wilson can do as well as that in the State of New Jersey, of which he is now the governor, he will appeal to us all the more strongly as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. However, it is stretching the truth pretty far to charge that Gov. Wilson favors the proposition to abolish the county as a unit of State government and place all police administration in the hands of a State constabulary.

Don't fail to talk for the good roads bond issue, and on the 13th, next Friday, be a patriot and march to the polls and cast a ballot that will be a step in favor of progress. It's the "Wichita Way" of doing things and this is no time to take a step backwards.

FOUR KILLED IN AN EXPLOSION

Austin, Texas, Oct. 9.—There will probably be no decision in the Welton and Gray contempt case soon as the State did not file its brief until today.

Grain Dealers in Session.
Omaha, Neb., Oct. 9.—How the grain production of the United States can be made to meet the requirements is one of the big questions to be discussed by the members of the Grain Dealers' National Association who assembled in Omaha today for their fifteenth annual convention. The attendance includes nearly 1,000 elevator owners, grain brokers, commission men and receivers of grain in nearly every part of the country.

THE BIG BUSY STORE

SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS COMES TOMORROW

Not happy every day, but at all times because tomorrow, brothers and sisters, the great Sells-Floto circus is due to arrive in our city and for the first time this season we will be permitted to gaze upon the glories of Oriental magnificence, as truthfully described by the press agent, and view all the novel wonders of the tented world.
The time honored street parade, without which even a circus of this magnitude would not be complete, has been announced to commence at 10:30 tomorrow morning, and it is natural to add that this will give prospective patrons an opportunity of judging just how much the Sells-Floto people have enlarged upon the entertainment which they gave last year.
The circus will arrive here on three special trains and will probably commence to unload about daylight and long before most of the little folks are out of bed. The coming of the big tents to any city, even from a newspaper standpoint, partakes of something out of the ordinary. It is seldom that anyone who has ever tasted of the delights of the sawdust ring and its accompanying wonders ever forgets the sensations which accompany their first visit, or for that matter, fail to visit this ancient and honorable attraction whenever it comes within reaching distance.
This year we are creditably advised that the Sells-Floto circus comes to us offering more varied numbers on their program than ever before in their history. Several of the features are especially novel and include Peo- flo Carbo, who slides head downward on a wire from the dome of the big tent. This is a dare-devil feat never before attempted in the world of amusements. The marvelous Omar, the balloon horse; the Sells-Floto army of clowns in a novel and side-splitting act entitled "Fighting the Flames," high school and menage horses; the celebrated Troupe de Louvre in poses fit for marble; the Garvinnetts; the Melonito family; Rhoda Royal's troupe of educated horses; the Hobsons; the Bodinis; the Lowandes; the Martell family; the burlesque air ships; the famous Quice Troupe; the Roy Smith Troupe in a novel revolving trapeze act; the magnificent school of Sells-Floto trained elephants, and in this is included Happy and Lucky, the twin baby elephants, who will perform acts which you have never seen before.

Of course, all the above is in addition to the usual circus features without which the world of the big tents could not exist.
It will be remembered that the Sells-Floto people still maintain their wonderful price of policy. 25 cents pays for admission to the big show in its entirety. Ticket offices will be open on the grounds as early as 9 o'clock on the morning of each performance.
Careless About Appendicitis in Wichita Falls.
Many Wichita Falls people have stomach or bowel trouble which is likely to turn into appendicitis. If you have constipation, sour stomach, or gas on the stomach, try simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler's-ka, the new German appendicitis remedy. O. F. Marchman states that A SINGLE DOSE of this simple remedy relieves bowel or stomach trouble almost INSTANTLY.
Morse Resumes Fight for Freedom.
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 9.—The case of Charles W. Morse, the New York financier, serving a 15 year sentence in the Federal penitentiary here, came up again today before the United States circuit court of appeals in this city. In the present proceeding it is contended that Morse should have been sentenced on but one count of his indictment and that he should have been sent to a New York jail instead of to the penitentiary, where hard work is required. Federal Judge Newman ruled adversely on this contention some time ago, but an appeal was taken.

Hingham, Mass., Oct. 9.—Ambassador Bryce today made the presentation of the old "Mounting Stone" which Old Hingham, in England, has sent as a gift to this town. The mounting stone, of horse block, stood in the village square of Old Hingham for at least 700 years. Today it was laid as the cornerstone of the bell tower which is to be built here as a memorial to the first settlers of Hingham.

A RESPONSE TO AN ADDRESS OF WELCOME

The response to the address of welcome to the delegates of the Missionary meeting delivered by Miss Flora Thomas, of Dallas, Thursday night was inspiring in its sentiment that The Times has been asked by a number of Wichita Falls women to publish it in full. It follows herewith:

"Sisters of the Mission Societies of Wichita Falls:

"Our hearts are made glad tonight by these words of warm welcome and kindly greeting. For a year we have been looking forward to this occasion when at our last meeting at Commerce we received your urgent invitation to receive it but suitable and right that as our sisters year after year for many years had journeyed eastward to be with us we should for this our 25th and possibly our last meeting and we sincerely trust our best journey westward to be with them.

"Moreover there is a charm in the very name of the west. Who has not heard of the Golden West, the land of romantic and daring deeds, the land of open-hearted hospitality and brotherly helpfulness, the land of enterprise and of opportunity, the land of high altitude and of pure bracing air, the land of cloudless skies, where varying tints and glowing colors make the artists delight, the land of boundless areas of fertile plains, boundless as the sea, a land with a future as marvelously boundless?

"We had knowledge of all this and desired to come. But there was something of higher thought and purpose that brought us hither. When on the conference floor last year, Mrs. Hatfield held up the telegrams of cordial invitations, she urged its acceptance with this plea, 'Sisters we need you.' She recognized the fact that in this land of splendid promise in its formative moulding period, all influences for good, count much. So it is in our hearts that the giving shall not all be on one side. For your gracious ministry in material things, for your courtesy and kindness and welcome it is our wish to bring to you a spiritual insight, to open to you a vision as high as your altitude, as inspiring as your life-giving atmosphere as glorious as your generous sunsets as boundless as your plains, and as full of wondrous promise as your future. Sisters and brothers, we have such a vision. Someone has said, 'We are standing now on the watershed of modern history.' Can you not read the signs of the times? Long ago in a synagogue in the village of Nazareth one word and gave to the world these working orders: 'To preach the gospel to the poor, to heal the broken hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those that are buried, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord.' The words were not received and for all these centuries the world has been slowly and gradually learning their meaning till in the beginning of the 20th century we discover the dawning of a better understanding. Christian men and women are saying, 'Nothing but concerns human life is foreign to the Church of Christ.' The women of our Mission Societies had said that long ago 'Nothing that concerns human life is foreign to us,' and we founded Scanlon for the training of our workers, we built schools for the Cubans in Florida, for the Chinese, Japanese and Koreans in California, and for the mountain people in Kentucky. We cared for the miners, the negroes and the immigrants. We established Wesley Homes in some thirty-five cities. We consecrated deaconesses to minister there to the poorest and neediest. We started industrial, schools and training schools and extended a helping hand and words of hope to the most bruised and helpless. We saw the field white unto the harvest and we had a vision of the world's need. We took a step forward this present year and are uniting our forces. Help has come from an unexpected quarter. The men and religion forward movement has been launched. The work is the same as ours. Bible study evangelization work for boys, mission and social service. We read of it in the press, we hear it in the pulpit. Christian men assemble by the thousands to be told that 'nothing that concerns human life is foreign to the Church of Christ.' They are pouring out their silver and their gold that experts may come and find out the causes and get at the foundation of things. This is our vision; to see the beginning of the day when poverty and vice and crime shall disappear and the four corners of the earth shall be swept clean and made habitual and pure and holy. We join with the psalmist in singing 'Lift up Your Heads, O Ye Gates and be Ye Lifted up Ye Everlasting doors, that the King of Glory May Come in.'

SHERIFF'S SALE

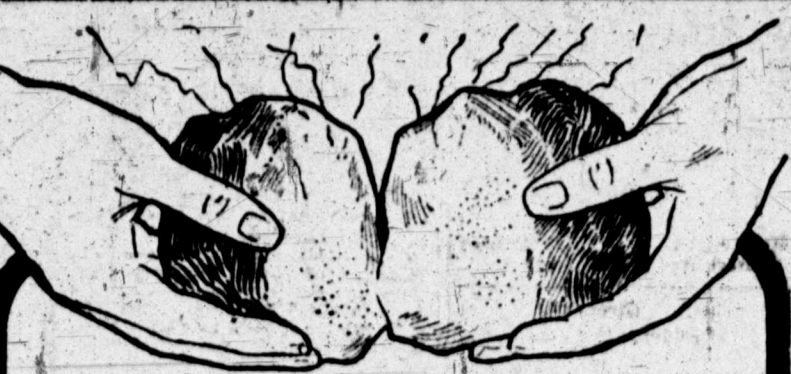

The State of Texas, County of Wichita.

By virtue of a certain execution issued out of the Honorable District Court of Wichita County, on the 15th day of August, 1911, by A. E. M., I will sell said property at public vendue for cash to the highest bidder as the property of said Clark Fowler by virtue of said levy and said execution.

And in compliance with law I give this notice by publication in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Wichita Daily Times a newspaper published in Wichita County.

The Delights In Baking With CALUMET BAKING POWDER

To fully appreciate the real pleasure of baking, buy a can of Calumet and as a test bake a batch of biscuits. See how light and wonderfully raised they come from the oven. Then break one of them open and note how thoroughly evenly and fluffily the dough has risen. And the final test—the one that counts—better and taste. This test will prove to you that Calumet is the most dependable Baking Powder for every purpose. It will prove its economy over the high-price trust brands and its great superiority over the cheap and big can kinds. For Calumet is highest in quality—and moderate in cost. Received Highest Award World's Pure Food Exposition.

Hardly Up to Expectations.

With the exception of Miss Olga Steek's work, the performance of "The Girl in the Train," at the Wichita Theatre Saturday night, was hardly up to the advance press notices nor to the reviews given it in some of the larger cities where it has been played. It was all there, just as advertised, and the scenic effect was good, as was also the chorus ensemble, but somehow there is a feeling of something lacking in the play. A sort of a feeling of "this is only the prelude, the best is yet to come," which feeling follows one right up to the drop of the curtain.

Like most present day musical comedies, the play has no plot, other than a mere suggestion, and depends entirely on the individual effort and ability of the performer. It starts off with a good swing, the scenic being laid in a divorce court, with Mr. C. William Kolb as the presiding judge. The chorus is placed as spectators in the court room, who are there to hear what they expect will be a rare display of the divorce trial. The part of the erring husband is taken by Edwila Wilson, who has a very good voice, with plenty of opportunity to display it. The plaintiff, suing for divorce on the ground that her husband gave up his apartment in a sleeping car to another woman, is by Mrs. Violet Seaton, who rather falls short of the part. Miss Olga Steek, "the woman in the case" has the leading female role, and is to the good all the through. She has a magnificent voice, with a penetrating sweetness and volume that one would hardly expect from so small a body. Moreover, she is a charming actress, with a lithe, graceful stage presence that wins her glory in every situation and scene.

Mr. Kolb, as the umpire of courses, has the leading male role, which gives him opportunity for a number of good singing parts, a few rather suggestive aside and some light comedy. He also has a strong voice and makes good use of it.

Otto Schrader, as the conductor of the sleeping car, doesn't act like the autocrat of our sleeping cars; he is a student, with a sense of humor and a splendid voice, and in his song numbers and comedy parts won generous applause.

The second act is a brown macabre scene, and here the scenic effect and the costume get in their best work. An old Dutch windmill in notion and a rocking boat at the landing are features of the stage settings while the gathering at the party gives opportunity for some of the best chorus work.

As the opening bill of the new season the play was greeted by a good audience, who evidenced with generous applause at every climax, and seemed happy that the show season was on once more.

Modern Methods OF IRONING LINEN

By constant experimenting the Manufacturers of Laundry Machinery have invented and perfected machinery for the ironing of Linen, whereby the life of linen is prolonged.

This method is known as the American Pressing System, now being used by all the largest and best Laundries throughout this country.

The manner of operation is simply to place the material being ironed on a padded board, which moves beneath a highly polished chest HEATED BY STEAM, and hold tacks by pressure until it is thoroughly ironed, thus preventing the ERUPTION WEAR that is produced when using the rotary type machines, that were designed more than twenty years ago, besides there is no possible danger of SCORCHING OR BURNING THE LINEN!

The bosom of the shirt is placed upon the padded surface in the same manner that it is placed on the body of the weaver, thus giving the shape and effect with no chance of producing the "bulger" bosom.

This Pressing system is used for the ironing of Shirts, Neck Bands, Collars and Vests, as well as Ladies' Shirt Waists.

At a great expense we have installed a set of these machines and invite the citizens of this city to see the same in operation.

This is My 49th Birthday.

Henry L. Myers, the successor of the late Thomas H. Carter as United States senator from Montana, was born in Booneville, Mo., October 9, 1862, and was educated in the public schools of his native town. He worked on his father's farm, taught school, became a newspaper man and finally a lawyer. He was admitted to practice in the supreme court of Missouri at the age of 23 and practiced for some time at Booneville and West Plains. In 1893 he went to Montana and opened a law office in the town of Hamilton. He was elected county attorney in Payville county in 1894 and re-elected two years later. In 1898 he was elected State Senator on the Democratic ticket. In the senate Mr. Myers confined his attention largely to measures aiming at the reform of judicial procedure. After his retirement from the senate he was elected a district judge. His election to the United States senate last spring was something of a surprise as he was in no sense an active candidate for the honor.

Fads and Fashions

New York, Oct. 9.—Many of the fashionable shops made a specialty of separate costume blouses in their fall display and shoppers will find a large variety of handsome and attractive models. Black and white and dark blue take first place both in quantity and quality. One need not look far for the reason, since dark blue seems to be the most popular of colors for the autumn suit, and black suits are always numerous. Dark blue never loses its hold upon feminine fancy, so far as tailored suits are concerned. No other color generally becoming; none so amicably with all other colors. This year the vogue of blue is pronounced than usual. The color is not only practical but extremely chic, and all the great French dress-makers have done much with it in their autumn models. As a result there is a great demand for blue blouses, and one finds them in all degrees of dressiness and wide range of prices.

Velvet effects are still much to the fore, chiffon (tulle) and marquisette not having lost their vogue, though among the French models there are more blouses of crepe, satin, etc. than one saw last year. It would be hard to conceive of any other blouse materials giving as becoming and effective an effect while still suggesting the color of a dark costume as do the sheer silken stuffs such as chigon and marquisette, when made over white or cream, and the designers are wise in harping upon the old themes, though introducing many variations.

The hemstitched hems which were a spring fad figure prominently again and are frequently almost the only trimming on the outer chiffon, although the foundation may be beautiful lace or of white chiffon or satin inset with handsome lace or hand-embroidered. Black chiffon over cream net and Venetian lace, the chiffon trimmed in deep hems, collar, etc., of white-chiffon, is an arrangement often repeated, and dark blue and white are handled in the same way.

Big collars of exquisite lace adorn some of the models, but in selecting a blouse of this type it is well to remember that it will have to be worn under a coat and not to choose anything that will be crumpled or lose its distinctness by being crowded into coat confined.

The kimono sleeve of elbow or three-quarters length is used as much as ever throughout the province of the blouse, but some of the most exclusive French models show long sleeves, often with frills falling over the hands, and because of this there is already a demand in the shops for long-sleeved blouse models. Manufacturers are quick to note such demands and a little later the supply will doubtless appear, but just now it is hard to find a good looking costume blouse with long sleeves unless one goes to exclusive houses and pays high prices.

The Oriental feeling pervading recent fashions makes itself felt among the blouses in the embroideries sometimes lovely, sometimes more than beautiful. Embroideries of Oriental design and coloring more or less barbaric are executed in wool crewels on chiffon net, silk, etc., and wonderful color schemes are obtained by embroideries in rich jewel-like tones on heavy metallic nets and laces of dull gold or silver. Even white blouses are built up of these materials, and if artistically and cleverly accomplished are curiously rich and effective, without being garish or spectacular. Bad embroideries are not altogether laid aside, but the type of bead embroidery over blouse or chiffon shown in every shop last season is quite out of style, though one still sees such models occasionally. Instead of such effects beads in wood, crystal, porcelain, etc., are used to produce Oriental effect in color and design, usually in combination with other embroidery of wools or chenilles.

Narrow fringes appear upon some of the attractive models and faces are asserting themselves more, while whole blouses of white, cream or ochre are looser and more expensive than before. Several laces are used combined in one blouse, and in many cases all are real laces, so that prices mount to giddy heights.

There are many signs to indicate that long sleeves, at least on afternoon costumes, will be fashionable again. This is clearly shown in some of the most exquisite models by several of the most famous Paris designers. The long sleeve, fitted quite closely over the wrist and ending in a frill of lace over the hand is the dernier cri, and especially welcome to the woman who does not rejoice in plump forearms. The lace over the hand is frequently continued on the outer sleeve line four or five inches, and on some models almost to the elbows.

This outer line of the long sleeve is also defined and emphasized by rows of tiny buttons or by braid in border designs. Sometimes the sleeve lines will be held together by buttons and loops, with fine net lace undersleeves showing through the openings. Pippings of satin or velvet are used on the edges of the long cuffs. Wonderful handwork is seen on long lace sleeves. This takes the form of embroidered flowers, ribbon work, narrow quillings of frayed silk and narrow soutache effects worked over the design of lace.

The very newest thing in sashes might be called a sash or a baya panel with equal accuracy. It is about sixteen inches broad and aired and finished at the top with a three-inch upstanding frill. It may be of material of the body of the dress or of a contrasting fabric; or, better still, of reversible satin. In the latter one finds an excellent suggestion for refurbishing a last season's frock.

Black tulle hats for the theatre will be much worn. They will most likely assume the niche of calzeiro shape, and also the Louis XIV. capeline shape. Black tulle will be the favorite for these hats, because of its very perishableness and a gainty delicacy which render them quite precious. Shirred and gathered into the form of lamp-shapes, trimmed with big loops rising from the crown, they make a marvellously pretty frame to young faces and golden hair.

Worsted embroideries done in bright-colored crewels are used as enchanting touches on costumes, suits and wraps.

The revival of pippings is being stimulated by some novelties which are in keeping with the new cult of mixing materials.

Broadcloths are being made up by some of the Paris houses in combination with serge, and may again become popular.

Valentine is a new town in El Paso county (in a rich agricultural district) where farming is being successfully practiced without irrigation, the rainfall being sufficient to bring to maturity the crops adapted to that region.

Good Roads are what we are all panting for, not to enable some scissor William to burn a bunch of gasoline that he bought on credit in a smoke wagon that has a mortgage on the honk. Nay, nay, Vivian, not that; we want to fix it so a span of frisky mules can butt into the speed limit with a load of wheat or a tub of farm sausage or a gang of frying size Shanghai's without giving the mules apoplexy.

If the farmers of Wichita county could get to town with a load of real food occasionally they would soon have a glad word of the long green and we could dispense with the eggs that are not dated and cut out the butter that was intended for the army during our late unpleasantness with Spain.
