George Howell fund started

A group of Dimmitt teachers has started a medical fund for George Howell at the First State Dank.

Howell has been hospitalized since April 12, when he suffered a heart attack. At last report, Howell had been taken off the respirator and was showing a slight improvement.

Anyone wishing to donate to the George Howell Medical Fund may do so by mailing donations to Box 929, Dimmitt, 79027, or leaving the donation at any teller's window at the First State Bank.

Distributing books and periodicals isn't the public library's only function. It's also a resource and cultural center. It carries musical records, tapes and film programs, is a depository for printed and microfilmed records and family histories, is a public meeting place, and is a showplace for cultural exhibits.

And, it's used by the community as a general information service.

"During 1980, the library staff answered an average of 1,000 questions a month,' Autry said.

Provider, Inc., located at 402 NW Third St. in Dimmitt, does not anticipate being forced to close as a result of a decision by the South Plains Health Systems Agency executive committee to veto a $2.4 million migrant workers' health care grant.

Funding to operate the local clinic and eight other clinics would expire May 31, but the agency is appealing the judgment, according to Walt Allinger, director of planning and evaluation in the Plainview administrative office.

The executive committee evidently gave no reason for rejecting the grant, but Dr. John Selby, chairman, said he thought the reason was based more on philosophical reasons than with problems with the

The committee apparently raised questions on how much help migrant workers should with receive, compared indigent people and others, how much more federal government spending the agency should accept, and how much the project should really accomplish.

GOOD FRUITS

"The wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated,

full of mercy and GOOD FRUITS."

There are two forces at work in this world, evil and good. We have the freedom to choose between these two things.

"O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Grishams are doing well with Nevada church work

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS Word from Rev. and Mrs. Charles Grisham, of Winnemucca, Nev. is that they are doing quite well with their church work and have a very busy summer scheduled, with schools, building projects, summer camps, Bible studies and Mission objectives. The Grishams were here a year as interim pastor, until last August. They were also employed in Dimmitt schools a couple of years during that time, living in Dimmitt.

Newcomers to Hereford are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bell and Robin, their four-month-old daughter. Bell is employed with Mobil Comm and his wife Marge is a speech therapist in Panhandle public school. They have moved into the house that is part of the estate of Esther Springer. Mrs. Bell is a great niece. She is commuting to Panhandle, until the closing of the school session. Mr. and Mrs. Olin Parris have moved into a modern apartment and their son, Walker and his family have the Parris home on Ranger. Olin and Velma Lee are sampling the more carefree life, minus the responsibilities of a large house and grounds and the grandchildren are enjoying the roomy house and nice yard.

The D. F. Yandells have been keeping in close touch heart surgery last week. They have been to Big Spring to be with the brother and ing at latest report.

Here with Mrs. Floyd Cole and Bill for the holiday weekend were the Cole children, Herman Childress, and the Sol D'Amato family, Oklahoma City. Also with them on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reno, Mildand, Mrs. H. M. Mobley and the John Mobley's sister, Mrs. Claude Price and her friend, Mrs. Grace Grundy, both of Floydada, came for the week-

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gripp took a tour up into Kansas, as far as Dodge City, during the Easter weekend. This week, they went to Lubbock to meet their daughter, Gail (Mrs. Mike) Probst, who brought some of her students of Brady High School to a Bi-District meet for debating and other competition. Gail has taught there a few years.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ashby and daughter, Kimber, two and a half months old. spent the weekend visiting his folks, the Lloyd Shultzs. They were accompanied by Mrs. Ashby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sawyer. Both couples are from Lubbock.

The Pat Robbins entertained the Robbins kin, on Easter Sunday. They included the Gary Masons, Van Mason, the Doug Janovecs, the Ted Longgoods, the Frank Robbins and Gene Duvalls, of Amarillo.

The Ted Caros recently visited her parents, at Dallas and his mother and other relatives at Van. The Easter weekend, daughter Sonie, a student at Lipperts Court Reporting School, in Plainview, came home and she and Mrs. Caro spent Sunday with the other Caro girls, Denie with his brother, Jack and Cindy, at Portales. It was Yandell, since he underwent a celebration of birthdays for Denie and Sonie, who is a Senior in E.N.M.U. and will be graduating May 8. She family. He is in Veterans plans to be an elementary hospital there and is improv- teacher. Cindy is employed full time with the Portales radio station.

> Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Richardson flew to Mc-Cormick, S.C. on Friday. Jerry's maternal grandmother died on Thursday. She was Mrs. Nellie Lawton. The funeral was at McCormick, on Saturday.

Presbyterians pick officers

Presbyterians had a congregational meeting after the morning church worship service Sunday and elected new officers.

Elders elected to the Session were, in the class of 1981: Bea Hawkins and Alice Cowen; class of 1982: Chester "Chet" Braafladt and Doyle Hoover; class of 1983: Mary Jo Brown and Polly Elected to serve on the board of trustees were Joe Cowen, M. L. Simpson and Helen Braafladt.

Ruth Cochran was elected Sunday Church School superintendent and Betty Hoover was elected assistant superintendent.

Those who have been elected elders for the first time will be ordained and all of them will be installed at the morning church worship service on Sunday, May 3, at 11:00 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stafford bought Stafford Apartments in 1975. The apartment complex, built in 1965, was originally known as S&K Apartments.

Roy and Florene now own and manage the complex, which houses 15 apartments, both furnished and unfurnished, as well as a laundry facility for the tenants, and the Staffords' home.

Because of the excellent location right across from Dimmitt High School, several of the Staffords' tenants

Roy is always hard at work keeping the grounds around the building looking their best.

The Staffords make a point of getting to know their tenants and are always sad to see them leave. As Florene says, "We're like a big family here."

Thanks...

We consider ourselves fortunate to have served as your Chevrolet and Pontiac dealers for the past eight years.

We purchased the Chevrolet dealership in Dimmitt in June 1973, built our new building in 1975, and later added Pontiac to our line. Through these years, we have appreciated your business and your friendship.

Our special thanks to all our employees. We have enjoyed our association with you.

We have sold the Chevrolet-Pontiac dealership here to Larry Kirsch, and we wish him success as he and his family become a part of our community.

We like Dimmitt and Castro County, and plan to stay here.

King is only local farmer to testify

Carl King, president of the Texas Corn Growers Association, was the only Castro County farmer to testify in Lubbock at last week's hearing of the House Agriculture Committee concerning the Agricultural Act of 1981.

King, as well as the congressmen present expressed disappointment at the light turnout of area farmers for the hearing.

In his testimony, King illuminated the plight of today's farmer due to weather factors, low loan and target levels and increased cost of King stressed the need for a higher loan level and the expansion of export sales.

He protested the recent dumping of embargoed corn on the West Texas market by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

King listed the provisions that farmers feel should be included in the Agricultural Act. He summarized his remarks saying, "The farmer is the backbone of our economy and coupled with the agri-business is the largest industry in the world, and yet, it is ignored much too often."

'Jaws' dance being planned

The purpose of the "Banker's Day" meeting is to update bankers of the area with the progress and facilities at the Ranch, according to Virgil Patterson, president of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch.

The bankers will be presented a brief program, given a tour of the Ranch and share lunch with the boys in the dining hall.

The boys and members of the Ranch staff will assist in the bus tours.

Currently, the Ranch is home for nearly 400 boys from 21 states, ages 4 to 19. About 35 will receive diplomas and vocational certificates during commencement exercises May 25.

The Ranch was founded by Cal Farie; in 1939 for homeless, troubled boys. Farley died in 1967.

A 22-member special "bankers steering committee" has organized the "Banker's Day" activities. Chairman of the committee is Glen E. Lemon, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer, First Bank & Trust Co. of Booker.

Faced with the possibility of a doubling of world population before the midtwenty first century, famed wheat breeder and 1970 Nobel Peace Prize winner Norman Borlaug challenged the nation's wheat growers during a recent visit to a mid-western college. The challenge: An increase in wheat production over the next sixty years equaling the production of the past 12,000 years . . . that's the kind of super production needed to feed the people of the world. Food, Borlaug said, is the number one priority of developing nations "Developing superior plant strains isn't enough," Borlaug said, "unless you know enough about soil fertility to allow the plant to express itself to its full potential." Borlaug asserted his belief in food as a weapon for peace as expressed in the old proverb: "With a full stomach comes a

These policies earned dividends for the first time in 1980 when an average of $94 per insured was paid. In 1981, the 165,549 holders of these special policies will receive an average of $96 each because their policies earned $100,000 more than they did in the previous year.

A greater share of the higher interest rates was earned by those veterans who converted their insurance plans to permanent type policies rather than countinuing to hold the original term policies, Cleland said.

Our office would like to add to the above because of an annual fraudulent rumor that turned up again this year about a bonus or dividend being paid to all WWII or other war veterans. The annual dividend only goes to those veterans who have kept their policies in force.

We recently attended the annual spring conference of Veterans Service conducted in Lubbock. We acquired some helpful, up-to-date information to better serve our veterans and their susvivors.

Farm workers plan mass march on D.C.

Determined to bring their case before congressional lawmakers and the American public, a coalition of farmworker organizations has called for a mass march on Washington on May 7 to protest proposed Reagan Administration budget cuts and economic initiatives.

The decision to march on Washington was reached during a recent conference held in Nashville by the National Association of Farmworker Organizations, a national farm labor advocacy group. Over 300 farmworkers and farm labor advocates from across the country attended the three-day session to formulate a national strategy for promoting national farmworker initiatives.

administration's "safety net" approach, march organizers contend, will have severe adverse affects on migrant and seasonal farm-

'We invite all Americans

-a moral obligation to each other-to join us in our efforts." the coalition declared in a prepared statement announcing the march. "We are going to Washington to demonstrate our sense of outrage at the lack of sensitivity and understanding of the widespread poverty in this country. Our call goes out to all people. . . We come to make a public declaration that we will not let our nation's leaders forget that we are part of America, and that we will not be ignored or neglected." The Coalition leaders said farmworkers would especially hard hit proposed changes in the key programs serving nutrition, stamps, energy, and others. Reductions programs, they noted, would eliminate many of the services provided to farmworker families should the proposed changes be adopted.

"This administration has

March 'organizers declared that there was growing opposition of the administration's economic plan. They pointed to a recent national poll that found that while the American public generally supported the Reagan Administration's effort to reduce federal spending, a majority of those interviewed opposed cuts in programs serving the

The project is open to youth between the ages of 9 and 19. The objectives of the clothing project are to help youth develop skills in planning, buying, and constructing clothing. Develop an ability to select suitable and becoming accessories. Develop an understanding of "self" in order that the individual may select and make clothing which is becoming and expressive of their personality. To develop grace, good posture, and habits of good grooming, and to work and share with others.

The 4-H Clothing Project is designed to help youngsters learn in their age groups. The 9-11 year olds learn about good grooming habits, fabric facts, and how to plan for, buy and construct clothing. They learn the importance of social roles. Care of shoes, hands and nails, clothing and how to style different hair types. The 4-H'ers learn about textiles, fabric terms, fabric grain, difference in knit and woven, and they test fabrics with crease resistant finishes. Clothing economics is also part of the program. They learn about the different types of stores where clothing is sold, label information and selection of garments. > Moeller (pronounced Miller), a farmer-stockman and tax specialist who once was Kent Hance's chief of staff in the Texas Senate, spoke to an audience of more than 80 Farmers Union members and guests in the Nazareth American Legion Hall.

He urged members and other farmers to write their congressmen and US senators about their feelings on current farm legislation.

"We've got to stay on top of this farm bill, and we need everybody's participation,' he said. "Nobody's staffed well enough to make all the contacts and suggestions that will need to be made in a hurry. We can't afford to think our problems are over, and just let this farm bill go through.

He added, "Of course, I'm glad that the embargo is over, and I hope there are no other motives behind this action. But I just want to caution you Moeller got put on the carpet during the questionanswer session later when Charles Heck of Nazareth asked, "Why were there no Farmers Union representatives at the ag bill hearing in Amarillo last Wednesday?'

"If we didn't get any testimony in Amarillo, it's a shock to me, because we were set up to testify at each of those hearings," Moeller answered. "We had three scheduled to testify in Amarillo, and they had all filed to testify.' Moeller pledged to find out if any more embargoed corn is scheduled to be shipped into Texas by the Commodity Credit Corp. after Harold Bob Bennett of Hart commented that "for the small amount of corn that Texas produces, we sure got a disproportionate share dumped in this area . . . and it's affecting our local market by 30 cents already. Moeller said the US may have a hard time re-establishing the Soviet corn market because the Russians "are not enthusiastic right now about pursuing any contracts with the US. He said the Farmers Union "will be encouraging the administration to negotiate for a new contract, and this time to get us a parity price."

He noted that the Soviet Union is now buying grain from several other countries prices substantially than getting.

Turning back to the farm bill now being considered by Congress, Moeller explained that the program favored by the Farmers Union provides for guaranteed loan rates at 75% of parity on basic commodities.

"We can live with the abolition of target prices if the loan rates are raised to levels 'So I don't feel like we've that we can live with,"

> rates we're going to need the lutely target prices. 'If you can write your about the importance congressmen and can say just one thing, it should be that we need a loan rate that we can live with." he said. "We know the loan rates set the

He also said Texans have the best reason for favoring the continuation of disaster program as it has been maintained since 1973: "Texas has received about 60% of the dollar benefits of the disaster program, with most of that in West Texas." 'No one can deny that we have been the chief beneficiaries," he said. "But last year Texas wasn't alone the droughts that hit the Midwest and East brought the disaster program to the attention of many parts of the country that hardly even knew it existed. As a result, many of these other sections of the country don't want to lose the disaster program," he said. "All sections of the country seem to favor its continua-

He said the Federal Crop Insurance Program "would not be preferable as a replacement for the disaster program as far as Texas is concerned, because we know we wouldn't get 60% of the benefits from any insurance program unless we paid 60% or 70% of the

On state gasohol legislation, Moeller reported, Texas is lagging behind Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado, and if the Texas Legislature doesn't pass a state tax exemption on fuel alcohol to help the industry get started, "we're going to lose the plants - especially the co-op plants - to Oklahoma or Arkansas, which the incentives, and where gasohol can be produced profitably.

However, he said, "I am optimistic about our gasohol package. 'Our state legislative program, by and large, is in pretty good shape now," he said. "The governor has said he'll sign all the programs if they get to his desk, although he isn't too hot on the Family Farm Security program.' In addition to Moeller's talk, the banquet included a program of "toe-tapping" music by Weldon and Jimmy Ray Davis, Travis Carruth and James Baird, and a dinner of barbecued ham and covereddish vegetables.

. Jerry Stump, new Farmers Union Insurance agent in Castro County, and his wife, Donna, were in charge of banquet arrangements. Joe Drerup prepared the barbecued ham.

"Reading, to me, is life, and our library furnishes an opportunity to read everything new as well as the classics," Mrs. Schaeffer

'Our library is a connection," board member Diane Axtell said. "It connects people in Castro County with the whole world. It connects us with the past. It connects us with ideas and people to which we would otherwise not have access.'

Mrs. Hanners said that the library is "an impressive and essential asset" for a town the size of Dimmitt, which has limited recreational activities. The Library Board has innovative plans for the library's future, she added.

'Because the library is a prime source of entertainment and information for the citizens of Castro County, tax money that goes to the library obviously is an investment in betterment of the community as a whole," Mrs. Axtell said.

However, board member Swain Burkett said, "It would be more healthy for the library if it was supported largely by private citizens instead of by the taxpayers.'

Organizations that support the library include the Friends of the Library (Mable Heard, chairman) and the Dimmitt Book Club (Ruth Coleman, president).

"Man does not live by bread, or computers, or backhoes alone," Helen Braafladt commented. She reads about 100 books from the library each year, she stated.

"As an inveterate user of our fine and growing library, she said, "I'm sorry to see it downgraded by the peremptory vote by the Board of Aldermen to cancel its contract with the county and the library. The issue needs more study by this group."

Autry and Mrs. Hanners both said that they plan to meet with the city governing board Monday to present library facts and figures.
