ROGER Q. MILLS DIES AT OLD HOME

NOTED STATESMAN SUGGUMBS AT CORSIANA HOME AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

FORMER U. S. SENATOR

Served in Congress for Many Years, and Made a Distinguished Record.

By Associated Press. Corsicana, Texas, Sept. 2.—Former United States Senator Roger Q. Mills, died here today, aged 79 years. Senator Mills has been in poor health for some time and while his death was not unexpected, the news thereof was quite a shock to his many friends...

ROGER QUARLES MILLS, SOLDIER, STATESMAN and one of the most noted free-trade advocates of his time, was born in Food county, Kentucky, March 30, 1832, the son of Charles Henley and Tabitha (Daniel) Mills. He received a good education and, at the age of seventeen, removed with his parents to Palestine, Texas.

He began to practice and met with immediate success. He was a Democrat of great sincerity and loyalty to the time-honored doctrines of his party and identified himself with the supporters of states rights and free trade.

He moved to Corsicana, Texas, in 1862 and soon held a prominent position at the bar and in political circles. On January 7, 1858, he married Miss Caroline R., daughter of Col. Henry Jones, a well known planter and Indian fighter, who later became one of the largest ranch owners in Texas.

After his exchange he was given command of a regiment, with which he fought bravely at Chickamauga, September 19-20, 1865. When Gen. James Deshler fell, Col. Mills took command of the brigade. He was in command of a regiment at the battle of Missionary Ridge, Nov. 24-25, 1863 and was seriously wounded.

Mr. Mills' career in the House of Representatives was extremely brilliant. He took a leading part in the tariff agitation and was the author of the famous "Mills Bill," which kept Congress and the whole country in a state of agitation for a long time and later caused a serious reaction, which culminated in the election of the "Apostle of Protection," Wm. McKinley, to the presidency.

It was generally supposed he would be, but he would not admit it when the question was put to him; but one of his friends made that authoritative statement today that the former United States Senator from Illinois is in the race.

It had been understood that Mr. Mason would not contest the right of Uncle Shelby Cullom to succeed himself, but even that is not so certain now owing to disconcerting reports which have come out of Springfield during the last few days.

CONDITION OF THE COTTON CROP 73.2

MONTH'S FIGURES FALL 15.9 PER CENT BELOW JULY 25 REPORT.

TOTAL YIELD ESTIMATED.

Texas and Oklahoma, 68 and 62, Respectively, Are Lowest Figures of Fourteen States.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—The condition of the growing crop on Aug. 25 was 73.2 per cent of a normal crop as compared with 89.1 per cent of July 25, 1911; 72.1 per cent on Aug. 25, 1910; 63.7 per cent on Aug. 5, 1909, and 78.5 per cent, the average of the past ten years on Aug. 25, according to the crop reporting board of the Bureau of Statistics of the United States Department of Agriculture, estimated from the reports of the correspondents and agents of the bureau.

COMPARISONS OF CONDITIONS BY STATES

Table with 4 columns: State, 1911, 1910, 1910 Av. Rows include Virginia, N. Carolina, S. Carolina, N. Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri, Oklahoma, California.

TOTAL YIELD ESTIMATE

A total production of 12,918,200 bales of cotton as the final yield this year is indicated by the Department of Agriculture official report of conditions of the growing crop on Aug. 25. This estimate, based in ratio of the average yield for the last ten years to the average condition of the crop on Aug. 25 for the past ten years, would mean a final yield of 181.65 pounds an acre on the planted area of approximately 34,900,000 acres, allowing for an abandoned acreage of 6,000,000, and providing the crop does not decline or improve from the date the condition was estimated to time of picking.

FOUR PRESIDENTIAL SPEAKING TOURS

ANNOUNCED SENATOR LA FOLLETTE WILL TAKE STUMP, PROBABLY IN OCTOBER.

TEXAS TO BE VISITED

Taft, Woodrow Wilson and Speaker Clark Complete Quartet Which Make Addresses Next Month.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—Four Presidential stars will be projected into the political heavens in October, when President Taft, Gov. Woodrow Wilson, Speaker Clark and Senator La Follette begin at preliminary speechmaking campaign for the Presidency. President Taft will be then on his way to the Pacific Coast; Gov. Wilson will be making his excursion into the South as far as Texas; Speaker Clark will be speaking in the Middle West and now it is announced that Senator La Follette, the insurgent Republican candidate for the Presidency, is going to take the stump in the West and the Central States.

No specific date and no definite itinerary for the La Follette tour has been decided upon, but it seems generally accepted that the militant Senator from Wisconsin will take the field as generally some time in October. In general it may be said he will follow the route of the La Follette tour, with the result the insurgents believe, of making the Taft re-nomination difficult, if not impossible.

The party of fifty oil men who went to Fort Worth for a special treat at the invitation of business men of that city Saturday afternoon returned last night singing praise of Fort Worth's whole-hearted hospitality which they say surpassed anything they have ever met with.

Upon the arrival of their train in Fort Worth the party was met by Mayor Davis, W. P. Gate, head of the Lone Star Gas Co., H. E. Finney, president of the Board of Trade and other representative citizens and from that moment until they were bid adieu Sunday-night their entertainment was one continuous whirl of pleasure, which was enjoyed to the limit by every member of the party.

E. Finney, F. P. Deniston, Mr. Brumby, Sam Bell and others responded to toasts. After the banquet followed a theatre party at the magnificent new Majestic Theatre and a smoker at the University Club concluding the entertainment Saturday night.

Wichita Falls has been entertaining the members of the Northwest Texas Editorial Association, and for their entertainment and education brought in a full-fledged, spouting oil well for them. Wichita Falls never does anything by halves.—Denton Herald.

Without a dissenting vote, Francisco I Madero has been nominated for the presidency of Mexico by the progressives, a party composed largely of the best citizenship of the republic, and his nomination is almost equal to election. He will be opposed by General Reyes, who has a large military following, but there is hardly any chance of his election. General Madero has accepted the nomination, promising to faithfully carry out so far as possible every plank of the platform should he be elected.

Now that the congressional regulating bill failed to pass, Texas will elect two congressmen at large in addition to the number she already has.
Several have already been mentioned as probable candidates for these two positions, and among the number the names of Ben F. Looney of Greenville and Clarence Gilmore of Willis Point.
Looney is a Bailey man and a prohibi-tionist, while Gilmore is anti-Bailey and is also for prohibition. Both are clean, able men, and would do credit to Texas.

If the recommendation of the Texas legislature is heeded the Democratic State Executive Committee will order a primary election to determine the choice of Texas Democrats for a presidential candidate, and if this is done there can be no mistake as to the verdict. There are both Wilson and Harmon organizations throughout the State. The former endorse the primary system, which is evidence that they have no fears of the verdict as expressed in a primary election, when every Democrat will be given the same equal opportunity of voting for his choice.

Hon. W. J. Bullock of this city, in an article in today's Dallas News, suggests the following as the next Democratic State Ticket: For Governor, Morris Sheppard; Lieut. Governor, B.
F. Looney; Attorney General, Jewell P. Lightfoot; Congressmen at Large, Cone Johnson and William Poindexter.
The writer is of the opinion that this is the strongest ticket that could be named from every point of view and would sweep the State and give us clean and able men for public office.

Over twenty of the biggest saw mills of East Texas and Louisiana are shut down and 3,000 men are out of work.
The shut down is said to be due to the action of a labor organization known as the Timber Workers' Brotherhood.
It seems that the men worked for an increase in wages. Very likely they are entitled to all they ask.
Laboring men are usually consistent in their demands. It is stated the mills are all in a trust, and that they have closed down for the purpose of curtailing the output. A little investigation by the attorney general's department would develop whether there is a lumber trust in Texas, and if so, to what extent it is carried on. Everything else is being investigated, why not the lumber trust?—Tyler Courier-Times.

Handicapped as it has been by the governor, the attorney general's department cannot be expected to do much along the line of prosecuting the lumber or any trust or combination of capital. Lightfoot was elected without opposition to the attorney generalship. This was because of the splendid record he had made as assistant attorney general, during which time those who had been violating the Texas anti-trust laws were forced to have a wholesale respect for it. The legislature placed at his disposal an appropriation sufficient to pay all necessary expenses incident to enforcement of the laws of the State, and Gov.
Colquitt used his veto power to cut the appropriation in the middle.

The death of Aviator Frisbee at Norton, Kansas, was caused, it seems, by attempting to make a flight when neither the atmospheric conditions were suitable for the occasion or his machine in proper repair. This Frisbee knew better than anyone, but the crowd jeered and called him "fakir," and he then determined to take the chances and fell to his death. That crowd thought more of the admission fee they had paid than they did of human life. This should remind all of us that when a man is about to perform an act that, to most of us at least, seems like tempting Providence, we should be content for him to be the judge of conditions, for it is his life that is at stake, not our. Frisbee was not a fakir. He had often made successful flights in the presence of thousands and there was slight provocation to jeer when he announced his machine would not stand the strain of another flight on that day.

FIGHTING A BATTLE WITHOUT AMMUNITION.

President Taft has sent to wage war on the Democrats and insurgent Republicans for their efforts at tariff revision during the extra session. He characterizes these attempts as dealing with the public interests "in light-hearted way and with absolute ignorance of the effect of the legislation and with a willingness to sacrifice business interests to political expectancies."

But it is like fighting a battle without ammunition. President Taft's criticism may create sound, but it will have no killing effect. The cold, penetrating logic of the situation is with the Democrats and Insurgents.
The president says the tariff must be lowered. So say his opponents, the Democrats and Insurgents. On that both sides are agreed. But when proposition is put to the test of deed, how does it work out, each? The allies pass revision laws and Taft vetoes them, his excuse being that the hard conditions should continue until such time as his tariff board shall deem it proper to make a report of their findings. He thinks that all tariff wisdom will die with this board, while the allies are confident that the people will die with tariff oppression before the board will ever uncoil its wisdom.

Tariffs were made and unmade before the idea of this board was ever conceived, and the country, notwithstanding, increased both in wealth and population. A chance for immediate relief from schedules admitted by every one to be too high was seen by the Democrats and Insurgents, and they took advantage of it.
Their action was disapproved by the president, but it is unquestionably approved by the nation.—The Atlanta Georgian.

IDEALISM A DOMESTIC DRAGON.

San Antonio Express.
Will some sociologist, full of soci-ological statistics based not upon the masses but upon the uplift classes in general, rise and explain why it is that a married man devoted to uplifting the masses seems to become persona non grata to his wife?

Mr. Upton Sinclair, founder of Utopia colony and grand high priest of that Elysian community, is the latest victim of domestic tragedy which has been suffered by leaders of Higher Cult ever since the term "Cult" was established as pertaining to anything from its old creed definition, down to the leader of a hobo party bent upon riding the rods under sleeping cars at fast trains.

Mr. Sinclair, in a reported frantic rush to file suit for divorce from the wife whom he married eleven years ago, seems to have been the victim of the Higher cult dragon, infamous because of its hungered rapacity in devouring domestic happiness, domestic content—domestic tolerance, even. We assume this from the quoted utterance of Mrs. Sinclair herself.

"It does not seem to me that divorce should be a disgrace, even divorce obtained upon such grounds as you say must be shown in this state," said Mrs.
Sinclair to the New York reporters.
"I believe that an individual is justified in pursuing his or her ideal." This is a bit of real logic and coming from a woman at that. Mr. Upton Sinclair has followed his ideal in establishing Utopia. Mrs. Sinclair says that his cultic pose has lost her a husband in everything but name, simply that Upton might follow his ideal.

She, apparently without the Higher Cult ideal, has seemed to turn to the individualism of a poet—Harry Kemp, by name—as the subject of her idealistic emotionalism. Granting Mr. Sinclair his ideal colony, Mrs. Sinclair simply begs to be allowed her Poet Ideal.

Putting the proposition in this way, who shall deny the logic of the situation? We admit that the situation itself and in detail, will not allow of orthodox social close scrutiny and judgment. But Utopia itself isn't socially orthodox, either. Some time ago it failed of clearing itself of a sudden and unexpected application of the old blue laws of a former conventionality.
At the least, however, we are interested to know that a Mr. Harry Kemp is a Poet!

CHURCHES UNBUSINESSLIKE.

Rev. Moses Breeze is one of those militant preachers who believe the churches and the ministry need overhauling every now and then, and that more than gentle reproofs are required to arouse them to action. In an article in Munsey's Joseph H. Odell quotes Rev. Breeze as the author of these epigrams:

"If the average business man ran his business as the average church is run, he would land on the financial scrap-heap."
"One great proof to me that the church is divine is that it stays on earth and does business with so little business ability in it; if God were not in it, it would have gone bankrupt long ago."
"The time has gone by when we can trust the financial affairs of our churches to the Good Spirit who takes care of little children and idiots."
"If the men of the world got money from the world as some of the home mission churches get it from the Home Mission Board, they would go to jail for obtaining money under false pretenses."
"It's the man in the church who doesn't put up the dollar who does put up the holler."
Some churchmen may or may not take exception to Rev. Breeze's conclusions.

"GET THE FACTS."

These are the words of instruction to reporters on The Times-Herald staff when they go out in search of news. It indicates clearly the policy of The Times-Herald, adhered to strictly, to print news without bias in the news columns.—The editorial columns should and do reflect the views of The Times-Herald.—Dallas Times-Herald.

If certain other Texas newspapers followed this rule we believe they would find it to their advantage and profit. With reporters getting the facts and writing the facts and with news editors writing headlines in conformity with the facts it doesn't matter with the people what the paper's editorial policy is. Bileyties and anti-Baileyties, prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists delight in reading the facts, then if they have time they can read what the editors think on the editorial page. Sticking to the policy of getting the facts and printing them has gained a wonderful popularity for the Times-Herald and has won for it a larger home circulation than any paper published in Dallas. It is now one of the most profitable newspapers in the Southwest.

FAVORS WILSON.

Cleburne Enterprise.
The Enterprise doesn't like the sensitiveness of some Senator Balley's friends about the Wilson boom in Texas. Some of them seem to believe that the effort to secure the Texas delegation for Governor Wilson is intended as an affront to the Junior Senator. If a man has to consult these friends of the Senator on all public questions, to find out the Senator's preference, before expressing an opinion, then is the political condition in Texas deplorable indeed. So far as the Enterprise is concerned, it never for one moment thought how Senator Bailey stood on the question, but formed its own opinion from the relative marks of the probable candidates. The Enterprise has been a friend and an admirer of Senator Bailey for a number of years, but the Senator has never attempted to direct the opinions of the editor, and it is not becoming to his friends to assume that every difference of opinion as to men and measures is a slap at Senator Bailey. Governor Wilson suits the editor of the Enterprise for president of the United States. The Enterprise has always wanted a Southern man for president, and Gov. Wilson is a Southern man, a Virginian, the state that furnished the first great president of the United States. He has been in the North long enough to understand the viewpoint of the people of the North. He is for the people against the interests, and has demonstrated his ability to cope with his political opponents upon any question involving governmental principles. He is a good, clean, cultured gentleman, free from entangling alliances, and has no strings upon him.

The Enterprise hopes that he will be nominated, and that he will receive the vote of the Texas delegation.

This editor had the pleasure recently of a couple of days in Wichita Falls, proclaimed to the world as the "Best Built City in Texas." The slogan may not be wholly true, but there is no doubt but Wichita Falls is one of them, and the city's progress in the past few years has been remarkable in more ways than one. Supporting a Chamber of Commerce with contributions totaling $15,000 per annum, the town has not hidden its light under any bushel, but has proclaimed to the world its many advantages as a place to do business or a place to reside. Results: Wichita Falls has gained more than 230 per cent in population from 1900 to 1910, and perhaps 70 per cent of the growth came between 1908 and 1910. Fifty miles of concrete walks, several miles of vitrified brick and block pavement, well-built stores, handsome residences, plenty of lake water, gas for manufacturing, oil fields only a few miles away, good hotels, street cars—these are only a few of the many advantages of the thriving little city. And the advantages and industrial enterprises are increasing constantly. The city has been handicapped these past three years by short crops, this year deplorably short on account of the drouth. Earlier in Wichita's history three consecutive years would have left the town almost in its last throes. Today, by virtue of its wholesale houses, its industrial enterprises, its big railroad interests and its cheap fuel and proximity to the oil fields, the town continues to thrive despite the short crops and business is exceptionally good, all things considered, in all lines. The present growth and prosperity of Wichita Falls are a monument to the public spiritedness and get up and push of a few men. They took—they are still taking—the lead in every enterprise, in every project that is brought up for the up-building or betterment of the town. They led and their spirit was caught by the men of smaller means, until the most noticeable feature of all the town is the spirit with which virtually every citizen of the town, rich or poor, pulls together and contributes as his means permit to anything calculated to advance Wichita's interests. "This a good town and its citizenship is deserving of a good town to live in.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

Anyhow, it will go down in history that the now adjourned 32nd legislature did accomplish one thing—it developed a new "white man's hope."

Wichita Falls has said farewell to baseball for the 1911 season, and our nine won the two last games played on the home diamond.

The wets carried Tom Green county in yesterday's local option election by a majority of 54. In the recent statewide election Tom Green county gave a pro majority of over 300, which would indicate that while the people of that county favor statewide prohibition, they are not in favor of local option.

The four new counties carved out by the last Texas legislature, make a total of 26 for the State. The names of these new counties are Culberson, Jim Wells, Brooks and Willacy, and comprise a total area of 8,000 square miles, equal in area to the State of Massachusetts.

There are now thirteen cities and towns in Texas that have adopted the commission form of government.
But since Gov. Colquitt has refused Texasians the right of the recall, it is noticed that no other cities are showing any great desire for commission government.

Wichita Falls should have a "Woodrow Wilson Democratic Club." Who will be the first to start the movement?

There has been over one hundred thousand dollars paid out to owners of land situated in Wichita county for oil leases during the past two months, and in all probability there would have been fully double that amount had the owners been willing to grant the leases at the price per acre offered. Each succeeding day apparently is adding to the develop- ment of the oil field at Electra and there is every good reason to believe that before another month passes this oil field will show unmistakable evi- dence of being the greatest in the United States. At present there are from one hundred to one hundred and fifty oil men of wide experience, (nearly every one of whom is the repre- sentative of concerns that have mil- lions at their command), who are prospecting in this field. More than a score of well equipped oil well drill- ing outfits are at work in the field and so far no well that has been drilled has been a failure. With such an outlook as this land owners within a radius of ten or fifteen miles around Electra have every reason to feel en- couraged. The price at which the land leases range all the way from $1 to $200.00 per acre, per annum and in nearly every lease that has so far been drawn and recorded it provides that the owner of the land shall re- ceive some part of the oil or gas pro- duct, usually one-eighth of the oil. If the present activity in the Electra oil field is now considered a boom, the chances are that it will not subside but grow in magnitude as the proven territory is extended.

Upton Sinclair, author of "The Jungle" is seeking a divorce from his wife. He is a socialist, and therefore believes in free love. His wife, in all probability had been converted to his ideas along that line, hence the divorce.
In the meantime the mother of Mrs.
Sinclair has taken charge of the 8-year-old son of the couple, and she is a believer in "free love." If she had been of that belief, and everybody was of the same belief, the question of who would take care of the children, the off-springs of such matches, is one that some wild-eyed socialist should answer.

If they succeed in their efforts, Dallas

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO ARE BAD

RETURNING TRAVELER SAYS PRESS REPORTS DO NOT CARRY TRUE IMPRESSION OF UNREST.

EXPECT TROUBLE SEPT. 15

Pedons Threaten Foreigners With Fate of Chinese When Three-Day Fiesta Begins.

(San Antonio Light) "The real occurrences in Mexico are being suppressed at a time when the people are drunk with the liberty that means license and when the whole country is suffering with an acute disease that might be called 'Maderitis'."

"Daily the libertines stalk the streets of Torreon and other cities, their sabers in their hands, threatening all the foreigners with the same fate that came to the Germans and the Chinese some few months ago."

The foregoing is a brief summary of the present conditions in Mexico, which is now on the eve of the elections to which so many have looked forward as the salvation of the country, as made by a man who returned yesterday from an extended trip through the disturbed sections of the southern republic.

At the Menger hotel last night he said: "What the press of the United States receives concerning the real conditions in Mexico is the worst part. From Washington the statement comes that everything is quiet across the Rio Grande. But that is contrary to the facts. All who have recently traveled in Mexico know that the northern route through El Paso has been practically abandoned, and that trains from that city to the interior have to be guarded by soldiers. Whenever the trains stop at a water tank a guard of about half a dozen soldiers is posted at the rear of the coaches to prevent an attack."

"Everybody is now taking the southern route through Laredo. The country is like two different nations—one in a dangerous turmoil, the other in a tranquil state and apparent safety. The rebel Zapata is not yet disarmed. His forces are still marauding in the state of Morelos. Madero has been temporizing. Already Zapata has made about four deals with him, each time approximately $30,000."

"I believe that the elections scheduled for October will be postponed. That is the opinion of many of the people in Mexico, for it is expected that shortly crises will be committed on the occasion of the three days' fiesta in celebration of the 101st anniversary of Mexican independence. In Torreon the foreigners are becoming afraid of their shadows, so imminent does the danger appear. Everywhere the Mexicans of the pilado class are saying to the foreigners 'Just wait, until September 15—we will get you then!' Many of the foreigners in Torreon and other cities in that section of the country have been ordered to leave. A sort of 'night riding movement has started, and those who have been warned are getting out."

"Madero is certain to be elected, but it is the general opinion that he will never be seated. He is not considered a strong man even among his closest adherents. He takes his wife with him everywhere he goes. The people regard her as his political adviser and they have begun to talk about it. 'He is not capable,' they say, 'and can never do anything without his wife's support.' I believe that General Reyes will be nominated by one of the parties opposing Madero. Madero will be elected and then there will be such a widespread distribution of arms that they will come in and establish martial law. Ultimately he will become another Porfirio Diaz."

Army in Need of Officers.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—To fill the unusually large number of vacancies in the ranks of the minor officers of the army the War Department conducted examinations of candidates to-day at the fort military posts throughout the country. Of late years much difficulty has been experienced in securing a sufficient number of desirable applicants, as a result of which the department decided to let down the bars and admit to the examination any capable young man between the age of 21 and 27 years. The successful candidates will receive appointments as second lieutenants in the army, paying from $1800 to $2000 annually at the start. Some of the successful ones will be appointed to the Engineers' Corps of the army, which heretofore has always been made up of the cream of the West Point graduates.

DELEGATES HEAR PRACTICAL WORKERS

METHODS OF CONDUCTING SUNDAY SCHOOL DEPARTMENTS DISCUSSED BY EXPERTS.

SING INSPIRATIONAL SONGS

Dinner Served by Baptist Ladies Was Just as Good as Other Splendid Features of Convantion.

From Tuesday's Daily Inspirational songs and earnest practical talks on Sunday school work are making the District Sunday School Convention now in session at the First Baptist Church of great interest to every one interested in Sunday school work.

W. C. North, the wonderful song leader and Alvin W. Roper, the talented pianist, are leading in the singing, and that feature alone is an inspiration that is worth miles of travel to feel. A dinner such as that served by the ladies of the Baptist church at noon today was no less satisfactory than the other splendid features of the convention. They will serve another dinner tomorrow.

This morning's session opened with a most able discussion on Bible School Activity by Messrs. D. W. Adams and Rogers. This was followed by a song service in which all the delegates joined with the great enthusiasm.

John M. Adams, state field worker, discussed "The Adult Division," and H. A. Dowling "The Secondary Division."

Probably the most interesting talk and certainly one that was heard with the deepest interest was delivered by Miss Margaret Ellen Brown, elementary superintendent of the Nebraska Sunday School Association. Miss Brown discussed "The Elementary Division." Miss Brown is a pleasing, forceful speaker and she illustrated her theme her hearers could almost see the pupils and their teacher before them.

Mrs. W. N. Wiggins, state field worker for the Texas Association, discussed the work in the homes in the interest of the Sunday school. At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon departmental conferences were held in several different churches, following which the afternoon session was opened with a song service at 2:30. "Temperance Teaching in the Sunday School," by Mrs. Nannie Curtis, state temperance superintendent is on the program this afternoon.

Farmers' Union in Session.

Shawnee, Okla., Sept. 5.—A national convention for farmers... undoubtedly, probably in importance, in the history of America, assembled in Shawnee today for a three days' session. The occasion is the annual convention of the National Farmers' Union, the largest, most influential and most successful organization of its kind that ever existed in this country, not excepting the Farmers' Alliance which made itself felt in national politics several decades ago.

The present convention is attended by delegates representing a membership of over 2,000,000, scattered over more than half the States of the Union. While the South and the West are the best represented, especially there is abundant evidence to show that the organization is steadily making headway among the farmers of other sections of the country.

The National Farmers' Union, though not primarily a political organization, has in the past made its influence felt in national or State politics where the interests of the farmers were believed to be at stake. Consequently and in view of the approaching presidential and congressional elections, the discussions and addresses of the three days' sessions will be watched carefully by the politicians.

The proposed reciprocity agreement with Canada will naturally receive attention from the convention, as will also such subjects of general interest as the parcels post, the restriction of foreign immigration, and the abolition of gambling in large resorts. Much attention will be given also to plans for increasing the membership and influence of the organization.

CONFEDERATE SOLDIER SLAIN AT DALLAS

Negro Highwayman Believed Responsible for Death of Forreston Man.

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Sept. 5.—The police are scouring East Dallas for traces of the murderers of G. W. L. Perry, a well do farmer of Forreston, Texas, who was slain last night on White Rock Creek with a blunt instrument. It is believed he was killed and robbed by a negro highwayman. He came here for cotton pickers. He was a Confederate soldier.

Unbusiness in Germany.

By Associated Press. Berlin, Germany, Sept. 5.—Nervousness over the prolonged Moroccan controversy with France is increasing. In German provincial towns wild rumors are in circulation, money being withdrawn from banks in some instances.

News From the Oil Fields

A Solinsky, an oil operator from Beaumont, has leased 1000 acres of land from J. A. Ails, lying about seven miles east of the city and has contracted to start a well on the same within ninety days from date. Mr. Solinsky has leased other land in the vicinity and is planning extensive developments.

Marketing Conditions in Texas.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 5.—The oil situation generally is getting into such shape that the oil correspondents and others are getting up against it for news and when such fertile subjects as the "Mexican Menace" and a "Texas Oil War" present themselves they make the most of the opportunity and the papers have been full of dope on the above subjects for several weeks past.

The space writer on one of the Galveston papers saw an opportunity in the story that the Gulf Pipe Line Company had purchased the oil business of W. A. Guyton & Co. of Galveston, and also in the story that the Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association, successors to the Waters-Pierce Oil Co. in Texas, had purchased the Texas City Refinery, and credits the Guyton purchase to the Mexican situation and the refinery purchase to a Texas oil war with the Gulf Refining Company, the Texas Company, the Magnolia Petroleum Company and the Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association as the principals interested.

The Gulf Pipe Line Company has been making a determined effort for years to secure all the fuel oil business it could get and to that end has recently secured some large contracts in the Gulf Coast country, among the largest being a 600,000 barrel contract with the Southern Pacific Railroad and an annual contract with the Union Sulphur Company, which will run for at least 750,000 barrels. The Gulf has also sought a franchise to lay lines under the streets of Houston, Texas, to supply its customers in that city. For ten years, W. A. Guyton & Co. have been in the fuel oil business and of late years have practically controlled the fuel oil situation in Galveston, Texas. The company handled 500,000 barrels of oil each year, purchasing it from the Gulf Pipe Line Company, the Texas Company, the Higgins Oil and Fuel Company and others. The Guyton company owned big own barges and hauled its oil from Port Arthur and Sabine. It has eight miles of lines under the streets of Galveston and has worked up a splendid business. The Gulf Pipe Line Co.

saw an opportunity of increasing its fuel business as well as decreasing a portion of its competitors' business at the same time and put the deal through. The consideration involved was $100,000 and W. A. Guyton, the president of the old company, goes with the Gulf company as agent and will look after the Galveston end of the business. It is true that with its fuel facilities the Gulf company will be in good shape to unload Mexican oil at Galveston in case that the company imports much oil from that country, but there is no doubt but the real significance in the purchase is the addition to its fuel oil business.

The Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association purchased the Texas City Refinery last week paying approximately $172,000 for the property, thus signifying the intention to manufacture its own oil. The Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association, with headquarters in Dallas, Texas, is the successor to the Waters-Pierce Oil Company in Texas, and since the dissolution of that company by the State, several years ago, has been purchasing the bulk of its oil from the Magnolia Petroleum Company, but with that company's determination to go into the open market with its own products it became necessary for the Pierce-Fordyce Association to get some oil of its own, especially in view of the fact that the Magnolia Petroleum Company is invading the Pierce-Fordyce territory with its distributing stations. The Texas City Refinery is a small plant having no pipe line of its own and depending on its car shipments for oil, Oklahoma supplying the bulk of its purchases. It is the intention of the Pierce-Fordyce people to enlarge the plant and about $500,000 will be spent for improvements. The suggestion is that the oil will be imported from Mexico to run the plant, but that is doubtful, as there is not very much refinable oil in that country and it would be a hard matter to compete with the refineries owning their own pipe lines under that condition. The refinery has some splendid docks and it would be an easy matter for barges to unload their cargoes if Mexican oil is to be used.

As has been stated above, the Magnolia Petroleum Company is going into the open market with its products and will be a factor in the oil business from now on. When the plant at Beaumont, under the name of the Security Refinery, was declared to be operating in violation of the anti-trust law and the attorney general secured the appointment of a receiver, the plant was shut down and after the suit dragging some months' compromise was affected and lines were paid into the state treasury. The plant operating under the name of the Navarro Refining Company, at Corsicana, was also affected by the court's orders and also shut down. The receiver appointed ordered the properties sold to the highest bidder, which was done, John Sealy, of Galveston, becoming the purchaser. Mr. Sealy is a very wealthy Galvestonian who was well able to finance such a large proposition. The plants operated on part time under the name of John Sealy & Co. and lately was reorganized under the name of the Magnolia Petroleum Company with the following trustees and officers: Messrs. John Sealy, R. Waverly Smith, O. C. Edwards, E. R. Brown and George C. Green; and the officers chosen are: John Sealy, president; O. C. Edwards and E. R. Brown, vice presidents; C. Marshall, secretary and assistant treasurer and W. C. Proctor, treasurer and assistant secretary.

Both the Corsicana and Beaumont refineries have been operating with oil shipped in by cars, but a pipe line from Caddo has long been contemplated and it is very likely one will be built as survey has been made to Corsicana and a right of way taken. That the Magnolia Petroleum Co. will come in competition with the other Texas refineries, there is no doubt, but that a war is on is very unlikely, as the Pierce-Fordyce Association is in no shape at present to get some oil of its own, especially in view of the fact that the Magnolia Petroleum Company is invading the Pierce-Fordyce territory with its distributing stations. The Texas Company is getting its share of the business, the Texas Company with its stock at the present quotation is hardly likely to mix up in a fight until its affairs, which necessarily were somewhat disarranged by the death of John W. Gates, are straightened out and it is very likely that the Magnolia Company, the new company in the state will hardly start anything at this rate until it is better equipped with oil than at present.

An oil war may be imminent but present conditions do not seem to justify it unless strong competition with two new refineries in the field means war.

Developments South of Tulsa.

South of Tulsa there is a boom on right. All the hustlers are out getting leases within a radius of seven or eight miles of the White, Ufer and Sinclair well brought in down there, which is still making 500 barrels in section 7-18-13 on the Homer Perryman farm. This firm has moved the machine one location north and are drilling on the John Perryman and ought to get fully as good a well as the No. 1 on the Homer Perryman. This new field looks like a good logical proposition and it is a good chance to put practical geology to good use. Surface indications appear to bear out the geological theory very plainly, and it would appear that the trend will be easily marked in advance of drilling operations. While it may not be a very large pool, it ought to be a rich one, and will probably follow the trend as outlined by those who held the theory that all will be found on both sides of the river at this depth. The two wells at Jenks seem to strengthen this theory, they being of equal depth.

W. C. McBride, drilling to the northwest on the Wilbur Jones in section 5 (the center of the quarter on the east line) failed to get the shallow sand, and will drill to the deep pay, which Roy and also Minshall and Eppes found on the adjoining farms to the east.

A new location down that way is the Charles Page test, who has a rig up for No. 1 on the Annie Orcutt in section 23-19-13.

Suppes and Minshall are also starting their test on the southwest corner of the Lizzie Fisher in section 8-18-13. It looks like a sure winner for the 1,000 foot sand.—Tulsa Democrat.

Clarence E. Menzie, manager of the National Supply Company at Ranoma, Okla. is at Wichita Falls, Texas, and will probably remain there to look after the National's interests in the new Electrica field. C. E. went to Ranoma in the early days of the Osage development and certainly landed his share of the business. He finally became mayor of the town, vice president of the Citizens bank and general high factotum of the adjacent oil country. Inasmuch as Texas leans his way politically new oil towns established in that state may have the advantage of his beneficent-boasting—Oil and Gas Journal.

Andrew Benson, general manager of the Petroleum Products Company, Independence, Kansas, was a business visitor in St. Louis this week. Mr. Benson hails originally from Jamestown, N. Y., but has followed the oil business through several states and in the Mid-Continent field has been unusually successful. He was one of the first to enter the Electrica field and is now drilling a well on what looks to be as good as any lease in the district. Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Benson have moved from Independence to Wichita Falls, and is the new field proves to be a stayer will probably locate there permanently.—Oil and Gas Journal.

Some of the eastern operators who have been attracted to Electrica, Texas, have enjoyed some novel experiences in their efforts to secure leases. One man reported to have taken a lease which provides that he shall have all it produced at a depth of not more than 1,000 feet. He will enjoy the sensation of having another operator come in the same lease with a rig and drill with his eyes shut until he passes the 1,000-foot mark. If the second lease got a flowing well at 990 feet he would probably enjoy turning his head lines into the banks of the first lease. Other possibilities along this line will have to be referred to the legal department.—The Oil and Gas Journal.

LORIMER BARELY ESCAPED DEATH

Aeroplane Swept So Close to His Head That His Hat Was Knocked Off.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Ill., Sept. 5.—Senator Lorimer yesterday narrowly escaped death at High Lake, where just as he was preparing to make a speech an aeroplane became unmanageable and swept so closely over his head that the tip of the wing knocked off his hat. The plane was wrecked against a tree and Aviator Knick injured.

FOR MURDER THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS AGO

Gov. Colquitt Offers Reward of 500.00 for Arrest of Adolphus Collin.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Sept. 5.—Governor Colquitt today offered a reward of five hundred dollars for the capture and conviction of Adolphus Collin, charged with killing Collins Davis, thirty-eight years ago at Kosse. The reward is offered because it is reported Collin is now in Texas.

Elections in the two new States of New Mexico and Arizona will be held in November and the United States senators will be chosen in January. William M. Andrews, the present Republican delegate from New Mexico, will be a candidate for United States senator from that State, and Ralph H. Cameron, the present Republican delegate from Arizona, is expected to be in the running from that State.

BAILEY CONFIRMS RETIREMENT REPORT

In reply to the inquiry if he had any statement to make to the press he said:

"You can say for me that I will not be a candidate for re-election to the senate next year, and you can also say that this decision is irrevocable. I know that the state cannot find a successor who will be more faithful to the honor and the welfare of her people than I have been, but I sincerely hope that she will find one who can represent her in the senate with greater ability than I have done."

Senator Bailey declined to make any other statement or assign any reason for his action, though he said he would make an announcement in a few days, regarding requests for speaking at various points. He will probably go to Ardmore to speak on Thursday by previous engagement, and will speak at the Producers and Consumers' convention in Fort Worth which is to be held Sept. 12 and 13.

This announcement will surprise and shock Senator Bailey's friends throughout the state and the nation, though for several days his intimates have had reason to fear that he was resolved upon this course. So far as known, however, he did not advise them of his purpose, though apparently he had made up his mind before he left Washington last Thursday. For months he has often expressed his weariness of the strife that surrounded him, and while his friends always were perfectly confident of his success, as he himself was and is, he seemed to long for the peace and greater happiness of private life.

Joseph W. Bailey is the youngest man in American public life of his fame and influence. Not yet 48 years old, he is acknowledged by even the most partisan critics as the greatest intellectual force in the United States senate. His speeches have been adjudged by the unbiased commentators of the times as ranking with those of Webster, Clay and Calhoun. Recent discussions in which he has participated are fresh in the public mind as exhibiting both his progress and the esteem in which he is held by his colleagues.

He was elected to the house for the first time in 1890 and continued to represent the old Fifth district until 1901, when he was elected to the senate to succeed Hon. Horace Chilton. Re-elected in 1907, his term will expire March 3, 1913. Hence he is yet to sit in the senate during the session next winter and the winter following. Since 1906 Senator Bailey has been fiercely assailed by a well organized and persistent group of citizens, but in two contests in which he and his record were the distinct issue he won such decisive victories as to leave no question that he is the political idol of a majority of the Democrats of Texas. The first was his contest with Cone Johnson for delegate-at-large at the Denver convention in 1908 and the other was the contest for supremacy in the state nominating convention last year.

The few friends who learned last night of his resolution ventured the prediction that he would not long remain in private life, even if he is permitted to retire, for the reason that his fellow citizens will make demands upon his service which his patriotism will not permit him to refuse.

DOUBLE BARRELED SENATE FIGHT

Believed That Virginia Will Return Both Senators Swanson and Daniel.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 6.—A Democratic primary election is to be held throughout Virginia tomorrow for the nomination of two United States senators, members of the legislature and county officials. The campaign has been one of the quietest that the Old Dominion has seen in years. Even the senatorial contests have failed to arouse the usual amount of interest and enthusiasm, although the interest has increased to a noticeable extent during the closing days of the campaign.

Senator Claude A. Swanson, who was appointed to fill out the term of the late Senator Daniel, which ended with the close of the last session, is a candidate for election to the full six-year term. Senator T. S. Martin, whose term will not expire until 1913, but whose successor will be chosen by the legislature to be elected this fall, is a candidate for re-election. Senator Swanson is opposed for the nomination by Representative Carter Glass of the Sixth district. Senator Martin's opponent is Representative Jones of the First district. The general opinion seems to be that both Swanson and Martin will win out in the primaries.

Drillers are now down more than 2000 feet in Byers No. 5 being drilled at Petrolia by the Producers Co., and the townspeople there have their ears strained for the roar of a gusher. The drill is now below the gas and the shallower oil strata which have been cased off so as not to interfere with drilling. The well is located at the edge of town. Important developments are expected this week. Seven or eight rigs are wild-cattling around Petrolia. Some of them are down nearly 2000 feet without showing oil in paying quantities.

DON'T SHOCK YOUR LIVER

Dodson's Live-Tone Persuades It To Work Naturally and Safely—No Restriction of Habits or Diet.

If you have a sick horse, you cannot make him work by beating him, and if you try it you are liable to ruin him forever. It's the same way with your liver. When it becomes weak and sluggish, you can take a colic and whip it into action, but the colic will leave your body weaker and sicker than ever. Calomel is a very powerful chemical made from mercury. A perfect substitute for calomel, that has all of its medicinal properties without any of its dangerous and uncertain follow-ups, is Dodson's Liver-Tone.

Miller's Drug Store sells Dodson's Liver-Tone with the guarantee that if you don't find it a perfect substitute for calomel, this store will give you your money back. Dodson's Liver-Tone is a true tonic for the liver, purify vegetable, and with such a pleasant taste that it is no trouble to get children to take it. It is absolutely impossible for it to do anyone any harm, because it simply persuades the liver to do what it ought to do—no more and no less.

When they came to look at the prices at which these broilers were sold in the restaurants they rose for altitude and some of them have not yet come to earth.

Much interest was shown by the committee in butter. At one of the best stores in the city they acquired several small pounds at 60 cents a pound.

"Good butter, all right," said one of the farmers. "About as good as I ever had, very fine butter, friends, but we could doily get 26 cents for butter just as fine. The profits are a little too high."

Other grades of satisfactory butter were found at from 28 to 40 cents a pound. Price of eggs were found way high. Apples were 5 cents each. My, what a shock! The delegates told a vendor if he would go to the country he could have all he wanted for "nothing."

SOME PROFITS THE FARMER LOSES

COUNTRYMEN ASTONISHED BY PRICES THE NEW YORKER PAYS.

MUST OUST MIDDLEMAN

A Committee Went Shopping and Paid for Chicken That Netted Its First Owner Not More than Thirty Cents.

New York, Sept. 4.—Scouts of that army of farmers which has enlisted in the campaign to suppress the middleman and sell directly to the retail dealer or the public explored today this metropolis, the scene of conquest to be, and were amazed at the high prices which city folks are paying for provisions.

This will not be when their plans have gone into operation, for they feel sure that not only will the five million inhabitants of New York get better and cheaper produce, but that there will be more in it for the farmers.

Under the convoy of an agent of the United States Association and the Grangers, Dealers and Consumers' Union, a committee in which were forty men who had never seen New York City before made a marketing tour of the metropolis.

In Madison Avenue, not far from the Grand Central Station, they bought a broiler undrawn which weighed one pound and a half. They gave $1 in cold cash for this storage bled. A pallid creature he was, for either he had been wet picked or had rested in ice and water.

Up in Harlem 88 cents was given for a 2 1/2 pound broiler of firm and rosy flesh, and evidently of more recent killing.

For small live chickens the farmers of New York State have been receiving 12 1/2 cents a pound, while in some parts of Pennsylvania, one of the delegates said today broilers had been sold for 6 cents a pound on the claw.

Anyhow, the jury of farmers decided the top prices which they could have got for these broilers would have been 23 cents a pound, or about 30 cents each. Under a readjustment the committee felt that 50 cents would have been enough to pay for either of the chickens which they had acquired.

Price of eggs were found way high. Apples were 5 cents each. My, what a shock! The delegates told a vendor if he would go to the country he could have all he wanted for "nothing."

New York Solons Meet Again

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The New York legislature reassembled to consider the subjects of congressional re-appointment and the proposed new charter for New York City. The subject of the charter is the one in which most interest is manifested. Whether the Tammany influence can muster enough votes among the independent Democrats to put the measure through is a matter of much speculation. The Republican members of the assembly are believed to be solidly opposed to it.

Court to Settle Contest for Office.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 6.—The contest between Frank S. Hoag and F. S. Kendall for the office of State railway commissioner of Colorado came up for trial today before Judge Shattuck. Kendall contends that he should have the office because of his election last November, selected for the place by the people of Colorado. Hoag claims he is entitled to it by reason of an appointment by Governor Shafroth under a law passed by the last legislature making all members of the commission appointive.

To Discuss "No Temper" Decree

London, Ont., Sept. 6.—The Anglican church in the Dominion are concentrated in this city today. On every train distinguished clergymen and influential laymen have been arriving for the meeting of the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada, the sessions of which were formally opened today and will continue until well into the coming week. The indication point to a meeting of unusual importance to the denomination. The resolutions to be introduced and acted upon are numerous and of more than ordinary interest and importance. Foremost on the list is a motion condemning the "No Temper" decree of the Roman Catholic Church, which will be introduced by the dioceses of Toronto, Saskatchewan, Ontario, Algoma and Rupert's Land.

Other resolutions to be discussed by the convention will deal with the proposal to change the name of the church, the preservation of the laws of morality on ships carrying immigrants, the proposed increase of the episcopate of the Canadian Church, the necessity of interesting young men in the work of the ministry, and the long standing controversy in regard to church union.
