C. OF C. ASKS FOR PRORATION RELIEF Governor To Survey Work of Legislature

HAS TWENTY DAYS TO ACT ON MEASURES

So Far He Has Not Vetted Any Bill That Has Been Passed.

AUSTIN, May 25.—Governor Ross Sterling will return to Austin tomorrow from a week-end on the gulf coast and start a survey of the work accomplished by the state legislature. He will decide what bills he will approve and determine if a special session shall be called.

The governor has 20 days in which to veto or approve approximately 75 bills, among them the appropriation bill and motor truck regulation bill. He may cut out items in the appropriation bill and approve other parts. Other bills must be accepted as passed or vetoed altogether.

Bills that were passed with four-fifths vote in both the house and senate bearing an emergency clause are effective upon the governor signing them. Others take effect Saturday, Aug. 22.

So far the governor has vetoed no bills.

BOARD TO SELECT NEW RANGERS

AUSTIN, May 25.—Fourteen new rangers, authorized by the legislature will be selected by a board consisting of the adjutant general and Ranger Captains W. W. Sterling and said today. The governor will be invited to sit with them.

"Crime waves are prevalent in northern and eastern cities whose police chiefs have to appoint friends of politicians," said Adjutant General Sterling. "This department will be kept out of politics with appointments only on merit.

Applicants were warned against coming to Austin. The appropriation for more rangers will not take effect until Sept. 1.

WILD PARTY STORY LINKED WITH SLAYING

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 25.—Stories of a gay party, which it was said David H. Clark attended three years ago when he was a deputy district attorney, kept today into the Crawford-Spencer double slaying which had threatened among other things to "blow the lid off racketeering."

Police said Clark, now accused of murdering Charles Crawford, powerful politician, and Herbert Spencer, magazine editor, was prosecuting Albert Marco, vice controller, on charges of assault to commit murder at the time.

Clark, it was said, attended the party between two trials of Marco. It was said during the party he was supposed to have been photographed with a girl.

Officers believe such photographs were taken but their supposed existence may have been used by foes of Clark during the recent primaries when he won the right to contest for a municipal judgeship in the June 2 elections.

QUALIFY EARLY CLUB MEMBERS ARE BEING TOLD

"Qualify early" is the word that is being passed along to the members of the Ranger Country club in connection with the opening of the first annual invitation tournament.

A. Neill, president of the club and members of the invitation committee are confident that many of the prominent golfers of the state will be present on the opening day and it is hoped that the Ranger golfers will have finished their qualifying rounds before that time.

The members of the Ranger club are being urged to be present on Friday, even though they have qualified, in order that they may show the visitors who are not familiar with the course around.

C. D. Hartnett and H. P. Earnest, members of the invitation committee, are working hard to make the attendance better than at any other tournament in the Oil Belt this year and preparations are being made to see that all golfers who attend are well provided for during the three days of the meet.

Former Ranger Woman Is Dead at Goldthwaite

Lloyd Peery Wins In Bean Contest

Lloyd Peery, Box 161, Thurber, was the winner in the bean contest held by the Leveille-Maher Motor company of Ranger in connection with the Ford tent show the latter part of last week.

The beans were displayed in a frame in the offices of the company and anyone was eligible to attempt to count them.

Jim Ingram and Bill Dorsey counted the beans this morning and found there were exactly 4,450. The guess of Mr. Peery was 4,350 and as his guess was nearer than any other, he was declared the winner.

VANDALIA, Ill., May 25.—State troops stood guard today about the burned wire boundaries of the Vandalia prison farm after a night of rioting during which five buildings were burned and several persons were injured in hand-to-hand fighting.

National guardsmen were rushed to the farm from Mt. Vernon by Governor Louis L. Emmerson when it appeared the prison guards and more than 100 volunteer citizen guards from Vandalia might be unable to cope with the situation.

WOMAN IS SLAYER OF 2 CHILDREN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Mrs. Bernice Sanders, 30, surrendered to police today an hour after the bodies of her two children, drugged to death by chloroform, were found in the rear of her small luncheon.

Beside the bodies was a note signed by Mrs. Sanders written with a typewriter and pencil, saying, "I hate to do this."

The young mother was found at the edge of the ocean near Golden Gate Park on the verge of hysteria. She told she had planned to jump into the water but decided "this was too easy a way out."

She was held at a district police station on a double charge of murder.

"I just couldn't let the children face the hard life I have led," Mrs. Sanders said.

When Chicago Was "Destroyed" by Air

If this had been actual war instead of the mimic kind, Chicago might be in ruins today. Here you see part of the 659 planes engaged in the army's great air maneuvers as they staged an "attack" on the nation's second largest city, just before heading for New York. The Michigan avenue skyline and Grant park are shown.

"Judge, This Is Just the Way It Happened"

Here is a little joint action that was taken in a Los Angeles court room the other day when pretty Tut Mace, film dancer, climbed on a table to show the judge a few hand springs. Miss Mace was a witness for Cynthia Goodie, suing Walter Wills, dancing instructor, for damages as the result of a broken ankle sustained while receiving instruction. She alleged Wills failed to catch her.

Services for J. T. Killingsworth Will Be Conducted This Afternoon

Funeral services for J. T. Killingsworth, who died at his home in Ranger Sunday afternoon, 1:45 o'clock, will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Methodist church at Ranger with Rev. L. J. Powers officiating. He will be assisted in the services by Rev. George W. Shearer, pastor of the First Methodist church of Eastland and formerly pastor of the Ranger church. Interment will be in the Evergreen cemetery with the Masonic lodge conducting a short service at the grave.

James Thomas Killingsworth was born in Wise county, Texas, on Aug. 9, 1882, and would have been 49 years old next August. He had been confined to home for the past three weeks, but his death came unexpectedly.

He came to Ranger during the early days of the oil boom and had been one of the outstanding business men of the town for the past 13 years. His passing will be felt throughout the entire town as he was not only one of the leading citizens but one of the best liked men in this part of the county.

Prior to moving to Ranger Mr. Killingsworth lived in Haskell for 10 years where he was engaged in the hardware and furniture business and where he had many friends.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lydia Killingsworth; one son, Floyd, who is a senior in the University of Texas; his father, I. D. Killingsworth, and five brothers and six sisters.

Alfalfa Crop Cut And Baled Already

WICHITA FALLS.—The first crop of alfalfa has been cut and most of it baled in the territory from Wichita Falls westward to Turkey in Hall county, and in the Frederik and Altus sections of southwestern Oklahoma.

The first crop averaged close to a ton to the acre and prospects are excellent for another cutting within three or four weeks.

Farmers are baling oats and some expect to bale wheat and barley, preparing to place in reserve a feed supply that will last for at least two years.

AUSTIN PAPER SAYS SPECIAL SESSION SURE

AUSTIN, May 25.—Lieutenant Governor Edgar Witt today said that he will advise Governor Ross Sterling against calling a special session for this year.

The Austin Statesman today printed the statement that "Governor Sterling has announced a special session for June 15 or June 22. Taxation and appropriations were named as the main subjects." The governor's office said they gave out no such announcement and the governor is spending the week-end on the Gulf of Mexico.

SENIOR IS SUICIDE AT EXERCISES

Mitchell, whose home is in Grenada, Miss., was the youngest member of the graduating class. Several of his poems had appeared in Southern Intercourse publications.

Ford Show is a Big Success Officials Say

Eleven thousand people registered at the Ford tent show which was held in Ranger on Friday and Saturday of last week, it was announced today by officials of the Leveille-Maher Motor company, one of the Ford agencies that participated in the two-day exhibition.

Davies, assistant manager of the branch. Mr. Davies is in charge of the sales for the entire United States.

The show was a complete success from every standpoint, it was said today, and those who sponsored the bringing of the exhibit to Ranger were well pleased with the attendance. Three thousand people visited the tent in one hour on Saturday, which is about the capacity of the show.

DIRECTORS OF RANGER BODY URGE ACTION

The Resolution Is Wired To Governor Sterling By Business Men.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce met in a called session this morning and passed a resolution requesting Governor Ross Sterling to help prevent shutting down many small wells in Central Texas, which would be necessary from a standpoint of economy if the present proration schedule for the section was enforced.

The resolution was sent to the chief executive of the state this morning by wire after it had been adopted at the meeting.

The resolution follows:

"Hon. Ross S. Sterling, Governor of Texas, Austin, Texas:

"Whereas, there are approximately 10,000 wells in the Central West Texas district, of which more than 7,000 are very small producers. This district is capable of producing 50,000 barrels of gravity oil daily, but in compliance with the conservation orders of the commission is producing only about half that amount, and if market is not retained for this it will be necessary to abandon and plug more than 7,000 of the wells, as the distressed condition is such that the producers cannot carry half that amount, and if therefore, implore you to call a special session of the legislature immediately to enact such legislation that will give the oil industry immediate relief. Our condition is such that we believe it is most important that any other request ever made by our people for relief, and we implore you to give your most serious consideration for early action.

"RESOLUTION CHAMBER OF COMMERCE."

The father had not been told of the death of his son as he feared the shock of the news would prove fatal.

Morales was injured Sunday when he evidently went to sleep on the track and a train passed over his leg. The son was drowned Sunday afternoon and the mother found his body on a sandbar.

NEEDS OF OLD MAN TEXAS.

Out at Lubbock the 13th annual West Texas Chamber Commerce convention has completed its session. Establishment of new markets by ranchers and feeders was urged by speakers and to a man they declared that "banks must support the breeder-feeder movement if it is to be successful." The speakers declared Texas was the largest livestock producing state but marketed few finished animals. A Mar-breeder said the goal of the movement two years ago was 40,000 cattle under feed in West Texas by the close of the fifth year, that more than that number was fed in the second year attesting the popularity of the movement.

Chairman W. R. Ely of the Texas highway commission addressed a group of men from the Panhandle, where the great highway building program is underway and told them
at legislators had left the wrong impression with the people by describing the commission as an autocratic body. Of course, the legislative critics of the commission are advocates of an elective and not an appointive commission. If the people of Texas are wise they will never adopt the suggestion of a critics.

What are the demands of the Panhandle group addressed by Chairman Ely? They resolved for a continuation of the federal plan; federal designation of more West Texas highways; final passage of the $25,000 appropriation for the Panhandle Plains Historical society museum at Canyon and endorsed a program for the restoration and preservation of the best Texas section. West Texas has the most powerful regional chamber of commerce in the American world. Its leaders and directors have a program. They know what they want. They are not backward in fighting for their demands, so-called needs, in or out of legislative halls. Their senators and representatives are ever battling for the demands of their constituents. It is an established fact.

COUNTY HOME RULE RESOLUTION PUT AWAY.

In the closing hours of the session the Beck county home rule resolution was put away by a majority of the grave and reverend senators. Although defeated for the time being it is a magnificent proposal for the relief of taxpayers the state over. It is not dead. It is enjoying a little nap and will come to the fore again in the winter of 1932. County home rule, which calls for the consolidation of county-city governments optional with the voters) and a sweeping reduction in the cost of county-city government, is certain of submission in coming years and it does not require a political prognosticator to go on record as predicting that it will become a part of the organic law of Texas.

HAMILTON READY TO BACK PRORATION TO A FINISH.

William B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls, an outstanding figure in the petroleum world and president of the organization of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce last year and chairman of the oil and gas committee, was one of the speakers at the Lubbock convention. He declared most emphatically that the chamber should continue in its support of production and that "the East Texas situation was presenting the greatest problem ever known in the oil industry in Texas."

It certainly is. East Texas is close to tide water. East Texas is said to be potentially the greatest petroleum field ever brought in in America and East Texas independent producers are battling for what they call their own. Self-interest is very appealing. Self-preservation is very appealing.
It is ever the viewpoint and the pocket shapes the viewpoint is a very great extent. Why foreign crude on the free list?
Protection is a good thing, why not shower its blessings
on the oil producers of Texas?

STERLING SIGNS THE WEINERT BILL

Governor Ross Sterling signed the Weinert bill allowing suspended sentences for first time offenders under the state quorum law thus permitting enforcement of liquor laws on the same basis as other offenses. This rounds out the remarkable humanitarian record of former Senator F. C. Weinert.
He is the author or co-author of all the humanitarian prison laws. He would have one law for all. He would show mercy to first offenders. He would salvage those who are willing to be salvaged and he would place the incorrigibles behind the walls and keep them behind the walls or down on the prison farms. He is known to thousands as "The Grand Old Man of Texas" and he served under Hogg and may close his legislative career under Sterling. He was the unanimous voice for representative in 1930 of the voters regardless of party in the district composed of the counties of Guadalupe and Comal, and if he cares to return next year it is said he will be their unanimous choice for another term as representative.

He was born in Comal; all his activities have been in the county of Guadalupe, he is a life-long democrat and he has been drafted for more positions of trust, in a political sense, than any follower of Thomas Jefferson under the big name.

WHERE LEGISLATION IS NEEDED.

Railroad Commissioners C. V. Terrell and Lon A. Smith
sent a communication to the governor pointing out that while a pipeline law was enacted two years ago no appropriation was given the commission to enforce it and umpires in proration are paid now from funds raised by voluntary subscription of operators in the oil fields." A queer procedure to say the least.

President of Grocery Is A Suicide

DENTON, May 25.—W. T. Bolton, 43, prominent business man
was found dead in the office of the Terrestrial Bolton Wholesale Grocery company this morning when employes opened the office. The top of his head had been torn away by a shotgun bullet. The gun was found nearby.
Police found a letter which invited Bolton had taken his life
because of dependency over ill
health and financial reverses.
Bolton was president of the grocery company. He is survived by his widow and one son.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—This may be an item of blissful unconcern
to 42 other states, but we now have both Republicans and Dem-

that their state isn't getting a fair

47 Available Chairmanships

There are 47 committee chairmanships which will be available for Democrats if they organize the next House. Many of the committees are so unimportant as to be hardly worth mentioning.

South Would Get Plans

On the other hand, if it appears that the Democrats can organize the House and elect Leader Jack Garner of Texas to the speakership, Democratic congressmen
from New York—probably with the support of other northern Democrats—will be hollering because the old seniority practice will then give virtually all the important committee chairmanships to southern members. A few Tennessee congressmen might even refuse to vote for Garner
unless they could make some arrangements about the chairmanship.

HOW AND SLIDES
Henry L. Farrell

A Puzzle for You

PERHAPS you have seen remember how people used to follow Jack Dempsey around.
down at the boss track in Phila-ville the other day Max Schmeling
ing made his way about unac-ered by a solicited throng.
didn't give him a tumble.
In hotel lobbies and other places where people gather for such an important transaction as looking at other people, Max was not bothered. Was he recognized? He must have been. His features are unmistakable; it is a face that you cannot forget. He looks just like his pictures.

What's the Answer?

YET there were no necks
stretched to see him. Throughs
didn't crowd around him asking him this and that foolish question.
He ate his meals in hotel dining rooms, undisturbed. There were no autograph seekers.
What do you make of this, Watson? Have prize fighters lost their lustre? Surely the reason cannot be that Max is unpopular;
even unpopularity draws crowds.
Why was Schmeling neglected?
Search me.
Perhaps the answer is the way
he won the championship. He was beaten badly by Sharkey for three rounds and was handed the title
by a low left hand. In looking at Schmeling do people remember
only that he was losing to Sharkey before the mistake which made him successor to Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey and the others? Again, search me.

Something to Remember

BUT I am beginning to believe that Max is a fighter at that,
rather a better fighter than he generally is given credit for being, and I haven't been talking to

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

WHEN an amateur fight
show in Chicago can draw 500 customers, professional fighters ought to go and ask themselves a few questions
one of the questions
ought to be: "What is the matter with professional boxing?"
to which the boxer might reply, "Me." Ty Cobb's son is captain of the Yale
freshman tennis team . . .
which must give the old
Peach a terrific thrill . . .
George Earnshaw is a good billiard player. . . . Hornby thinks a lot of Bill Jurgens, second baseman who came to the Cubs from a Brooklyn sandlot . . . after Uncle Robbie sent Rookie John Krider to Hartford, the young man pitched two straight shutouts.

Sam Hall, who is busy over at Cleveland steaming-up the fight either.

It should not be forgotten that this chap has indomitable courage. He came from behind to knock out Johnny Risko. He took an early shacking from Paul-ino, rallied and won. Who is there to say that he would not have rallied and beaten Sharkey
after the Boston sailor man lost
his enthusiasm for the task?
Sharkey, himself, gives the German at least the credit for courage.

In picking Max to beat Strih-
ling, Sharkey expressed himself
the other day of the opinion that Max would start slowly, with Stribling taking the early rounds, but would come forward at the last to beat Willie back.

Yet the crowds at Louisville
did not give him a tumble. Again,
search me.

Remains of Joan d'Arc's Betrayer Are Exhumed

LISEUX.—The remains of the Bishop of Beauvais, Pierre Couchon, charged by many French historians with having sold Joan of Arc to the English, have been exhumed and photographed. The exhumation was for the purpose of proving whether he was accorded full sacerdotal rights.
The lead coffin, in which the remains had been brought from Rouen to Lisieux was opened in the presence of ecclesiastical authorities and a representative of the ministry of Beaux-Arts. No traces of sacerdotal relics were found within the coffin, which, however, was marked with an ivory cross on the lid. The bishop died suddenly in 1442 while shaving.

The singing service for children will be held each evening at 7 o'clock in the auditorium of the church, at which time Rev. Hull will be in charge. The young people will meet at 7 o'clock in the senior room of the church with Rev. H. D. Tucker as leader. Rev. Shearer will preach each morning at 10 o'clock and each evening at 7:45 o'clock. The MELODY GIRL

by RUTH DRISCOLL GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Beryl Borden, secretly in love with Tommy Wilson, delays his elopement with her half-sister, Irene Everett, but fails to convince him that it is his duty to finish college.

Irene wants to be a radio singer. She secures an audition and Beryl goes to the studio with her. While waiting, Beryl croons melodies at a piano. A director accidentally hears and is charmed by her voice. He gives her a test and offers a contract which states the girl but her joy is short-lived, for Irene fails and the family blame Beryl. Irene again promises to elope with Tommy but his aunt dies and the marriage is postponed.

Beryl's debut is a success. She tries to forget Tommy by going to gay parties with Prentiss Gaylord, wealthy son of her employer. Irene attempts to win Prentiss for her sister. Beryl becomes ill and the doctor warns her to stay in bed and guard her throat. Irene meanwhile avoids Tommy and tries to captivate Prentiss. He takes her driving.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIII
Mrs. Everett had come upstairs to put Irene's room in order. She sighed over the task as she put the satin mules away in the closet and hung up the crumpled negligee that had been left on a chair. Maybe she hadn't been as strict with Irene about the care of her room as she should have been, but Irene was such a pretty little thing. It had been hard to scold her.

joyed dancing with her. Didn't they always finish by calling her pet names—all except the kids—names such as Sugar Pie, Baby Doll, Cuddles and even Piggy? Would it help if Prentiss kissed her good-night? Could she let him do that and not spoil things? She turned a provocatively lifted face toward him as they sat in the car and sighed: "Well, good-night, I've had a lovely time."

FAMILY MENU

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer
DURING the last few years science has done much to convince us of the worth-whileness of fish. Their vitamin content makes them particularly important for children and young folks whose bodies are still growing. Any variety, whether from deep sea or fresh water, is an excellent meat substitute and the regular use of fish once or twice a week makes for a pleasant change in family menus.

Fish can be divided into two general groups: fat and lean. The so-called lean fish have fat secreted in the liver, leaving the flesh clear and white. After cooking, lean fish are decidedly dry and flaky. Fat fish have the fat distributed all through them as in salmon, butterfish and mackerel.

Well-cooked fish is a delicious food and the homemaker who "simply can't cook fish" would do well to study the art and learn how.

Cooking Methods Are Varied
The way you cook your fish depends on the kind. Oily or "fat" fish should not be cooked in fat but lean fish may be sautéed or broiled or broiled or steamed. Fat fish can, of course, be cooked by means of broiling, boiling or steaming. If it is baked it should be placed on a rack to prevent it from becoming strong flavored by being cooked in its own fat.

Keep in mind that fish should be cooked at a low temperature and never over-cooked. This is particularly true if fish is broiled. The prepared fish, tied in cheesecloth, into a large kettle of boiling water. Then reduce the heat and simmer until tender at

Funeral Services For W. B. Ferrell Are Held Today

Are Held Today

Funeral services for William B. Ferrell, 79, who died at his home in Eastland early Sunday morning, were conducted from the First Christian Church at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Burial followed immediately in the Eastland cemetery. Rev. M. C. Franklin, pastor of the First Christian church, and Dr. George W. Shearer, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiated at the funeral, which was in charge of Ben Hamner of the Hamner-Barrow Undertaking company.

W. B. Ferrell, was born in Georgia on Dec. 1, 1851. He came to Texas early in life and was a resident of Eastland. He was a member of the First Christian Church and one of the county's best and most useful citizens.

"The deceased is survived by his widow, who is critically ill in a hospital at Fort Worth and does not know her husband is dead, and the following children: J. M. and Henry Ferrell, Eastland; Mrs. T. A. Bandy and Mrs. Fred Davenport, Eastland; Mrs. Harry Keifer, Corpus Christi, and Murrel Ferrell of St. Louis. All of the children, except Mrs. Bandy, who was with her mother in Fort Worth, were present when Mr. Ferrell died.

LESSON-SERMON GIVEN
The lesson-sermon subject was "Soul and Body" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 24.

The golden text was from Romans 8:13: "If ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live."
Included in the service was the following passage from the Bible (Hebrews 10:39): "We are not of them who draw back into perdition; but of them that believe to the saving of the soul."
There was also read the following citation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key To the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 114):

"Christian Science explains all cause and effect as mental, not physical. It lifts the veil of mystery from Soul and body. It shows the scientific relation of man to God, disintegrates the interlaced ambiguities of being, and sets free the imprisoned thought."
Inmates of the Ohio State penitentiary sell gags to humor magazines. Most of them, we expect, are serving "Life." And maybe "Judge" recommended it.

FACTS TO BE BASED UPON AIR MANEUVERS

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Army Air Corps is learning during these late May days, to fight on a mammoth scale without precedent in the history of American military aviation.

In the days of old generals learned military tactics by fighting battles. Then men wrote books, showing how to outflank the enemy and spot his weak points. After that they learned from the printed page as well as on the battlefield. But there are no textbooks about aerial military operations. So the army officers say, is the salient reason for the great aerial maneuvers which started at Dayton this month, and which, according to program, will proceed eastward, continuing until the end of May, with problems of attack on defense over New York and other large eastern cities.

The Army Air Corps expects to learn many lessons from the rush of 372 military planes from the middle west to the east coast and from their warlike "attacks" on Chicago, New York, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Seek Definite Knowledge. Brig. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, commander, and his staff are seeking answers to some very definite questions which would be solved if the Air Corps were called on to protect this country from attack.

They want to know, for instance, whether present tables of organization and equipment needs are adequate. They want to know whether an air division, or a group of attack aircraft, can be handled by the army's present staff. Other questions are:

1. How many and what spare parts must be laid down at various airbases to insure proper maintenance of aircraft?
2. Are present methods of communication adequate and what are the most effective methods of communication?
3. Can an air division, or parts of it, be controlled by radio so that changes in operations or routes may be made after it is in the air?
4. How many airplanes can be successfully operated from one airbase? How many airbases would be needed in time of war?
5. What length of time does it take for large organizations to take off from, or land in, an airbase? How long does it take to service a large air organization?

These are not theoretical questions, but concrete queries in the event of war. If and when the needed facts are apparent, they will be put into military textbooks for future officers to study.

New Lessons. As the result of the world war, nearly every American is familiar with at least some of the terms of military phraseology. But the science of military aviation is new and virtually unknown outside the Air Corps. With this in mind, the War Department has issued an illustrated dictionary of those terms, some of them are:

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY IN VACATION TIME

Before Friendship Ceased

Max Schmeling, right, champion of this world's heavyweight boxers, and William L. (Young) Scribbling, left, the Georgia challenger, won't be strangers when they enter the ring in Cleveland's stadium the night of July 3. They met and shook hands at a dinner held in Cleveland for the fighters and the fight executives, put on by the Madison Square Garden Corporation of Ohio, backers of the championship tussle.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

Frost-Bitten Note. AFTER backing in the sunshine for five or six weeks, the noble diamond athlete is hustled back to Arctic neighborhoods. A week or two of playing ball in bilizards goes far toward undoing the long toil to the south. Saying nothing of the poor leads in the press coop who get their fingers frost-bitten. It costs something like $500 for every ball player taken north, and the only team that takes in more at the exhibition gate than the trip costs is the Yankees. The reason is not hard to find—in the Yankees' right field.

Turned Out by Turner. THREE ball players sent to the Athletics by Pressy Tom Turner of Portland, have a very good chance to stay up this year. They are Hank McDonald, Bob Johnson and Joe Palmisano. Hank is a pretty fair pitcher. Mack sees a lot of possibilities in the young giant. Johnson is a good-looking young outfielder. Palmisano, though he threw his arm over the fence in a snappy pep to first in a game with the Cards recently, has impressed Mack by his ambition and ability.

The Blue Ridge. AMONG the little leagues that rookies won't have to worry about being sent to this year is the Blue Ridge. The reason, to use a baseball term, is that the Blue Ridge "blew." Bad business conditions and what was declared by the Blue Ridge officials as "lack of assistance from the majors" caused the abandonment of the little loop. It was the oldest of the Class D leagues.

The Blue Ridge sent to the majors Hack Wilson, Ledy Grove, Willie Sherdel, Eddie Rommel, Joe Boley, Jimmy Dykes, Adam Co-morosky and others.

Colored Singers Entertain Rotary Club at Noon

A group of singers from the colored churches of Eastland provided the entertainment for the Eastland Rotary club at its regular weekly meeting and luncheon today. T. J. Martin was in charge of the program which was one of the best ever presented. The club has witnessed in some time. Among the visitors present at today's meeting were J. T. Hughes, Breckenridge; "Andy" Anderson, Ronger, and George Lee, Cisco. Miss Martha Francis Thomas, who has taken the place of Mrs. Joe Gibson as club pianist while Mrs. Gibson is away for the summer, presided at the piano.

A number of members were absent and President Breifelder made a special request that these members make up their attendance. The program next week will be in charge of W. L. Gupton, W. I. Clark, J. H. Johnson.

Six Feet of Homers. EIGHT thousand new seats are nearly ready for the fans of dear old Flatbush. Most of the new seats will be up by April 19 when the Robins open at home for a single game with the Phils, and everything but the roof will be ready by April 22 when the official opening with the Braves is staged. The new grandstand seats are along the left field fence, running to the center field exit gate. After that, on the other side come 500 bleacher seats. The new capacity of Flatbush Field will be 35,000.

Judge Steve McKeever denies that the new seats are going to cramp the ball park a bit making it like the Phillies' sandbox. Actually, according to McKeever, only about six feet of playing field will be sacrificed.

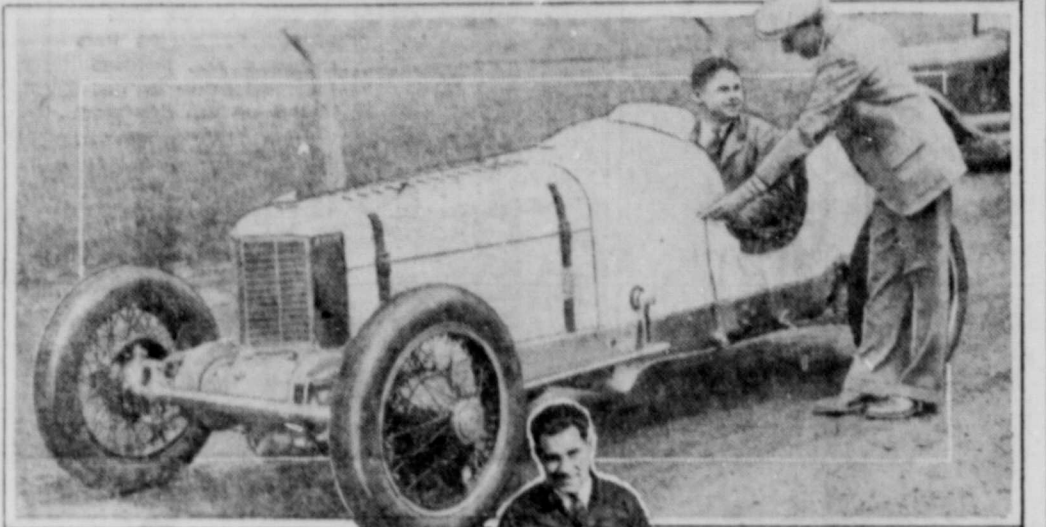

Well that six feet of home runs, anyway.

planes in coordinated flight. Rallying point—The point at which various elements of an air command reassemble after an attack. Rendez vous point—The point at which supporting or supported formations of two or more operating aerial units join in the air. Flies of take-off—The instant at which an airplane or the leading airplane of a formation begins its run on the ground preparatory to flying. Readiness—The condition obtaining when flying personnel is at the airframe, airplanes ready to take off within one hour after orders are given. Alert—Airplanes fully serviced, and engines warm, with pilots ready to take final orders and take off in fifteen minutes. Stations—Blocks out from under planes and pilots ready to take off on signal. Use Many Types. Many types or airplanes—all designed for specific duties—all take part in the maneuvers. Some of them, with their outstanding characteristics, are: Pursuit planes—Fast, easily maneuvered planes designed to shoot down and destroy enemy craft. They are each armed with two machine guns forward of the pilot, synchronized to shoot through the propeller. Their high speed is around 192 miles per hour. They have a service ceiling of 29,900 feet and can climb five miles in 20 minutes. Observation planes—Slower, larger ships, generally two-seaters, armed with three machine guns—one forward, two aft, small fragmentation bombs. Their cruising speed is 100 miles per hour, but they can make 130. Bombardment planes—Giant ships, carrying heavy loads of bombs to destroy ground objectives. Their speed varies from 100 to 130 miles per hour. They are usually dual-motored and carry from two to four thousand pounds of bombs. They also carry machine guns to fight off attack by swift pursuit ships.

HOME-MADE RACER, WINNER IN 1930 BACK FOR MORE IN 500-MILE RACE

By NEA Service. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Backyard and crossroads automotive engineers have swelled the entry list for the 500-mile Memorial Day race in the Indianapolis Motor Speedway to the largest total in the history of this classic. New specifications, inaugurated last year and made even more elastic this year, have proved an incentive and won $150,000 in prize money with heads full of ideas but with weak bank balances. Now it is possible for embryo race stars to take any stock car and for a few hundred dollars make it a contender for money and honors in the greatest auto race in America. Take Russell Snowberger for instance. The Philadelphia chauffeur who piloted Duesenbergs and Millers for many a year decided to build his own car last year. He chose a well-known brand of stock car. He built the chassis and body, bought tires, paid all his expenses and reported at the starting line the morning of the race, after qualifying at the amazing speed of 105 miles an hour, with a total cost account of $1455.00. Makes Good Showing. "Most of the money I spent was on the body and chassis," Snowberger explains. "I have been working on fine racing motors for many years. So that the only expense of the motor, after the original cost, was the knowledge and experience I put in it. Since I already had that knowledge and experience it really didn't cost much." Snowberger placed his home-made car in eighth place in the big race and won $1500 in prize money. Then he competed in eight other races, finishing in seven of them second five times. In all he won approximately $10,000 in prize money. "The only expense there was on my motor the entire racing season after I left Indianapolis was $1.25 for a cylinder head gasket," says Snowberger. "It really was a successful racing season for me."

Miss Louise Tate of John Tarleton was home for Sunday program. L. M. Able and wife of Okra were here for Sunday. Misses Grace Gentry, Retha Bean and Lena Belle Wolf of Albany were here Sunday for the graduating sermon. Mrs. S. A. Garrett is spending this week with her son, Judge C. L. Garrett and wife of Eastland, where she will celebrate her 83rd birthday. Mrs. T. C. Bennett entertained the Eastern Star chapter Thursday night with progressive "42". Pineapple Mousse topped with whipped cream and cherries and homemade angel food was served to the following guests: Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Williams, Mrs. Dillard Howard, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Stubbins, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. White, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Underwood. Mrs. O. W. Ford and children of Cisco were last week guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ford.

Miss Edna Harwell of Gorman sent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Ira Ford. Miss Janie Johnson was given a bridal shower last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Jargie Lee Crooney, assisted by Miss Beas McClellan. Soon after the guests arrived games were enjoyed. Then a nice program was rendered by the following: Piano duet, Misses Vera Davis and Anna Thurman; talk by Miss Beas McClellan; piano solo, Miss Anna Ruth Thurman; several members of the Lucky 13 club of which the bride-to-be was a member made appreciative talks. Suddenly an alarm clock sounded and Mrs. Johnson was asked to locate it and in doing so found also a wonderful treasure of many beautiful and useful gifts. After expressing her deep appreciation, refreshments was served and each guest left wishing their friend much happiness.

Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, Miss Jargie Lee Crooney, and Horace Robason were united in marriage by Rev. H. D. Blair, with a beautiful ring ceremony. The bride wore an orchid dress with white accessories to match. The groom wore a light grey suit. The bridal room was arranged with beautiful cut flowers and ferns. Only a few close friends were present for the occasion. The young couple left immediately for a brief bridal tour after which they will make their home in May, Texas, where Mr. Robason is in business. Mrs. Robason leaves a wide circle of friends and will be missed also in church circles. Mr. Robason comes highly recommended as a prominent, generous man and many friends wish the young couple happiness and prosperity. Jack McEllan, 12 years of age, while out hunting Wednesday accidentally discharged his shotgun and tore his right hand off. He was taken to the sanitarium where the hand was amputated leaving the thumb. Carbon regrets this tragedy and sympathy goes to Jack and his father and two sisters. Jack's father is the agent of the Katy at this place. Mmes. Brazell and Hill of Albany are here with their relatives at the bedside of J. L. Wilson who is seriously ill.
