ABOUT THIS AND THAT.....

A communication comes to our this morning stating that the of an oil company had that if Niagara Falls gasoline the amount burn-in Texas in 1930 would have the falls running just one and 42 seconds and that the of lubricating oil con-equalled the amount of ice eaten. After reading it over it away in our archives of this information.

While waiting at a filling sta-last night having a flat fixed of the clients of this column suggested that we write a tirade the nails and tacks that are left the city streets and the county all of which would be fine it would do any good, but we if anyone would volunteer us out and pick them all up.

There are many laws that are dated daily, but there are prob-ly none that are ignored so compactly as the headlight laws. It is so easy to put in a new bulb the bulb that is needed and then is so easy to forget. Like the king rook that didn't need fixing in dry weather and couldn't be repaired when it was raining, we don't think of the bulb in the night and at night there are no places where you can get one. All of which is an alibi for the one-eyed cars, which makes none the less dangerous and as annoying.

Speaking of football reminds us at R. L. Maddox, director of the Ranger High school band, has announced that he is to organize a band in order to have replacements in the senior band now and to time as the members graduate. Eastland has a good senior band—in fact it is so good that last year the youngsters turned out for one occasion and we heard a stranger in the city remark that it was a good city band for a town of that size. He didn't know that it was the junior organization and that there was another band that could make just as much music and a lot more.

Which reminds us we once heard the chief justice of the court of appeals at Austin asked if he had music.
"O, yes," he answered, "I think music is the pleasantest thing I ever heard."

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH IN PRAYER AND PRAISE SERVICE TONIGHT

Special prayer and praise service will be held at Central Baptist church at 8 o'clock tonight. All members of the church are urged to be present and everyone expected to take part.

Like other rangers of the west, Katie Smith, 17, above, always "gets her man" but not at the point of a forty-five. Her presence alone is sufficient to bring luck to Texas Rangers stationed near Brownsville when they go on a raid. Katie, who can ride a horse, rope and shoot with the best of them, is the daughter of veteran Ranger Bob Smith and has been the outfit's pet mascot so long they feel their luck is gone if she doesn't accompany them.

A GLASS HOUSE.

"Chicago inserted a white leaf in its smudgy history. Wouldn't it be well for us to do likewise before we begin telling the Windy City how to finish the job that's well begun?" suggests the Editorial Digest in referring to Al Capone's ignominious downfall.

"Texas newspapers are elated at the beer baron's overthrow," it declares. "Some of them—a little over-enthusiastic, perhaps—are telling Chicago it should now go out and get the rest of the gang. Chicago should, there isn't any question about that. But it is not becoming for us to offer too much advice until we've curtailed the glass walls of our own house."

"There are cities in Texas where the red lights still blink. There are Texas rum trucks, Texas rum planes and Texas rum ships that ply their trade almost unmolested. Chances are that there's a Texas overlord of the beer racket, too."

"Let's get him and his lieutenants. Let's get the man who ordered Aviator Edwards of Houston put upon the spot. Let's get the gangster who spread a reign of terror over the cleaning and dying industries of Fort Worth and Dallas. Chicago inserted a white leaf in its smudgy history. Wouldn't it be well for us to do likewise before we begin telling the Windy City how to finish a job that's well begun?"

"And shouldn't we get busy, before the government decides that we, too, need help?"

CUSTOMERS PROFIT FROM PROGRESSIVE MANAGEMENT.

"If every industry had been able to do what the electric industry has accomplished during the last ten years, it is reasonable to suppose that business would not be in its present state of inactivity," says the Hartford Courant. "The policy of this industry has been to reduce its costs in every way possible and to make electric current not only cheaper, but more available to the public. The result has been, the country over, an increase of 30 per cent in the amount of electricity used by the average household, with that item figuring only one per cent of the total family budget."

"Although the cost of living is about 57 per cent above what it was in 1913, domestic electric service is 69 per cent below its average price in that year. This average revenue to the companies on a kilowatt-hour basis is the lowest in history."

"In 1920 the average customer consumed less than 250 kilowatt-hours a year. Today he consumes more than 600. Within this decade rate structures have been revamped to enable the consumer to use all manner of household appliances at a decreased cost. The completely electrified home has now been brought within the means of a numerous class, while the small consumer is constantly encouraged by low rates to extend his use of electricity. We have, therefore, in the electric industry throughout the United States, a conspicuous example of profits through lower costs and extension of service, in all of which scientific research has played a notable part."

FOR ALL THE PEOPLE.

Persons of limited means are the greatest beneficiaries of life insurance.

A survey has produced the fact that more than 60 per cent of outstanding life insurance is upon the lives of persons earning less than $5,000 a year. Life insurance is not a rich man's luxury.

An important change has taken place within the industry within the last generation. Then, insurance was offered only to those in good physical condition—the less fortunate were refused policies. But now, for a slight extra cost, those ailing in body can obtain protection for their dependents. Excepting those who are suffering from the most serious diseases and maladies, insurance goes to all who want it.

The influence of life insurance, with its more than $100,000,000,000 of coverage in force in this country, on the lives and futures of the people, is incalculable. It is a splendid investment, that never fails. It is a testimonial to an individual spirit of thrift and foresight.

WESTERN ENGINEERS DEVELOP LOW-COST ROADS.

The progress which western engineers have made and are making in improving their secondary or farm-to-market roads with limited funds available, should be of interest to taxpayers in all sections of the country.

Low-cost, bituminous treatments of soil, gravel and broken stone roads constitute in a large measure the methods adopted by the western states to secure mudless and dirtless farm-to-market roads built and maintained at reasonable costs.

Good farm roads are closely identified with the national oil program that will assure a continuous supply of an indispensable road building material.

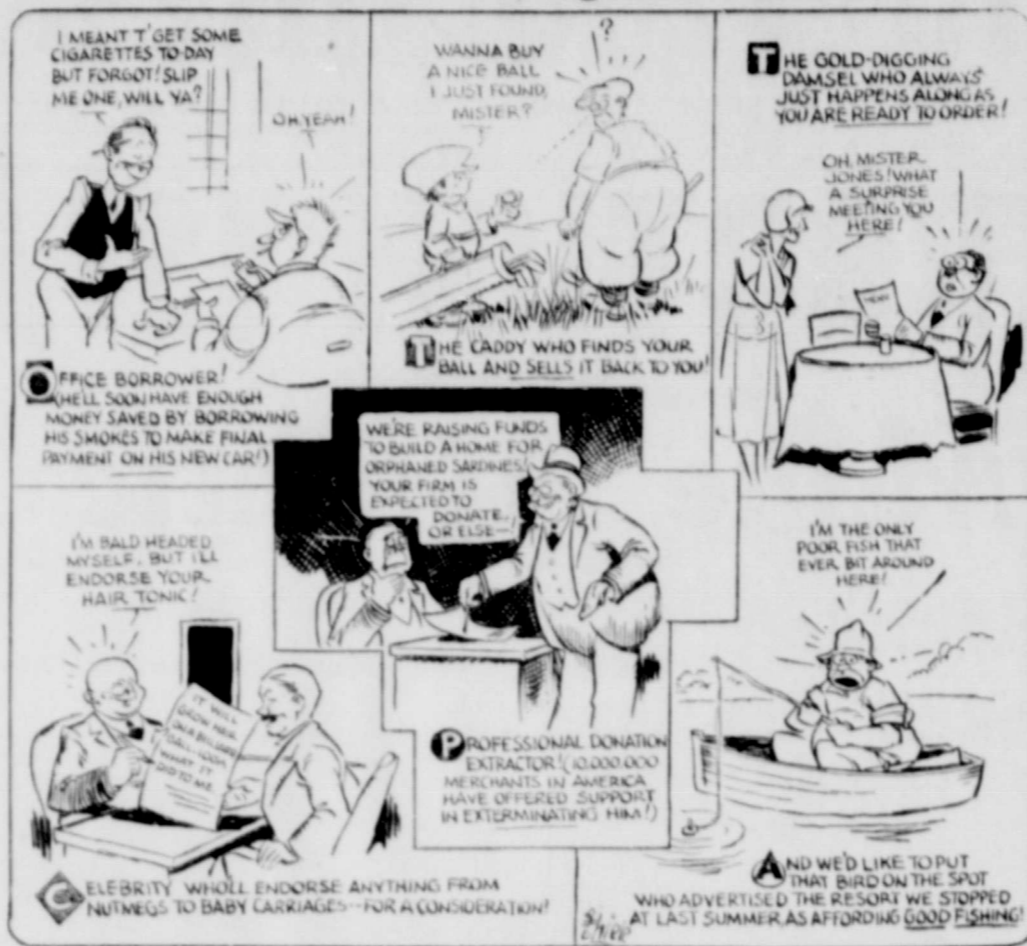

SPEAKING OF COTTON.

Speaking of cotton and its foreign demand from the beginning of the season to the end of May, 517,000 bales were taken by the French and 784,000 bales by the British compared with 1,204,000 bales taken during the same period last year. Imports of raw American cotton during April into Japan increased to 164,000 bales as against 188,700 bales of Indian cotton with price parity continuing to favor the American product, according to a report from Kobe, King Cotton may score a comeback the wide world over but not in the near future—according to the signs of the time.

ANOTHER NEWSPAPER ON THE AUCTION BLOCK.

Edward A. McLean inherited the Washington Post from his father, John R. McLean, who was likewise the publisher of the Cincinnati Inquirer. Now the Post is on the auction block and David Lawrence has made an offer of three million dollars for the property. William Randolph Hearst is in the field as a buyer. Hearst is said to be worth $200,000,000. If he has decided that he needs to Post then Hearst will get the Post. He has tons of coin and coin talks.

Man Steals For Food and a Bed

SUNBURY, Pa. — Unemployed and hungry John Hicks, 55, Kansas City, stole a package from a United States mail truck here because it will be paradise after my experience, he told officers who arrested him.

Weak and emaciated he grabbed the first package he saw on the truck and walked up to a policeman. "I just stole something and want to be locked up," Hicks said. The policeman believed him. Then he told his story.

As the theft was made from the mails, United States authorities probably see that Hicks has a fine and food.

Huge Trout Pulls Angler Off Pier
By United Press.

BANFF, Alta. — When a man catches a fish it is not news; but when a fish catches a man, it is. Authenticated by police reports, this is the story of a fisherman who refused to give his name. He was fishing last week off the pier at Lake Minnewanka near here with a light rod and line when a 20-pound lake trout struck so viciously that the angler lost his balance and was hauled off the end of the pier into 20 feet of water. He did not lose his head with his balance, but, still clinging to his rod and line, fought the trout in the water until Constable James of Calgary and another man put off in a boat and landed both fish and man.

Pan-American Conference Seeks Standardization

WASHINGTON. — Steps that may be taken to assist in procuring standard specifications and a uniform nomenclature for the principal raw materials exported by the American republics will receive considerable attention from the Fourth Pan-American Commercial Conference, which will meet here Oct. 5-12 next.

This topic has recently been added to the conference agenda and the various governments members of the Pan-American union have been solicited for suggestions.

Recognition of the advantages to be derived from uniformity of specifications influenced the Fifth Pan-American Conference to propose the calling of a special conference on standardization. As a result, the First Pan-American Conference on Standardization in Specifications met at Lima, Peru, during January, 1925.

The purpose of the Lima conference was to develop more uniform specifications and higher quality standards for commodities produced in the American republics; to promote greater production of relatively superior grades and quantities of materials; and to advance the standard of living.

A few specific projects received the endorsement of this conference. In accordance with a resolution of the First Pan-American Conference, a second conference was held in Washington in May, 1927. This meeting discussed practical problems in cocoa, coffee, fruits, hides, oleaginous seeds, and wool industries and initiated plans for a standardization program to be effected in all the American republics.

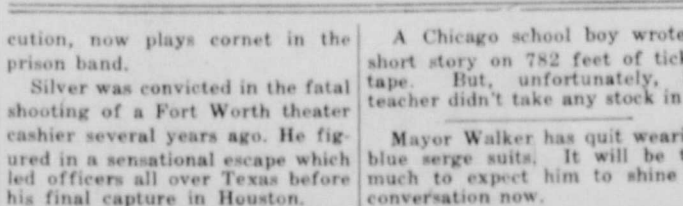

The next step came when the Sixth Pan-American Conference met in Havana in 1928. This conference recommended the creation of a permanent Pan-American commission to study the best means of standardizing the specifications of products and the co-ordinating of the Third Pan-American Conference on Standardization in Cuba within a maximum period of three years.

The First Inter-American Conference on Agriculture, which met in Washington during September, 1930, recommended that the Pan-American Union make a survey of problems in which several countries have a common interest, such as coffee production, cocoa, sugar, dyestuffs, live stock, etc., and endeavor to promote community of interest in all the countries affected by any one problem; standardization of the terminology used in the sciences of agriculture, forestry and animal industry, and the determination of appropriate words and phrases for the translation into Spanish of expressions not commonly used in that language but which exist in other languages.

The conference also recommended that a standard system of weights and measures be adopted for use in statistics and other works which should come under Inter-American co-operation.

When the Fourth Pan-American Commercial Conference convenes here in October the delegates will be called upon to decide if possible what measures may be taken to carry into effect the recommendation that has been made that national organizations be formed for investigation and study of theories relative to standardization; the obstacles that may be impeding compliance with this recommendation and the steps which may be taken to remove such obstacles.

The next step came when the Sixth Pan-American Conference met in Havana in 1928. This conference recommended the creation of a permanent Pan-American commission to study the best means of standardizing the specifications of products and the co-ordinating of the Third Pan-American Conference on Standardization in Cuba within a maximum period of three years.

The First Inter-American Conference on Agriculture, which met in Washington during September, 1930, recommended that the Pan-American Union make a survey of problems in which several countries have a common interest, such as coffee production, cocoa, sugar, dyestuffs, live stock, etc., and endeavor to promote community of interest in all the countries affected by any one problem; standardization of the terminology used in the sciences of agriculture, forestry and animal industry, and the determination of appropriate words and phrases for the translation into Spanish of expressions not commonly used in that language but which exist in other languages.

The conference also recommended that a standard system of weights and measures be adopted for use in statistics and other works which should come under Inter-American co-operation.

When the Fourth Pan-American Commercial Conference convenes here in October the delegates will be called upon to decide if possible what measures may be taken to carry into effect the recommendation that has been made that national organizations be formed for investigation and study of theories relative to standardization; the obstacles that may be impeding compliance with this recommendation and the steps which may be taken to remove such obstacles.

Old Fashioned Meals Win for Hotel in Dixie

By FOSTER EATON
United Press Staff Correspondent
ATLANTA, June 23. — There is a hotel in the heart of Alabama, the Purefoy at Talladega, which is out of the beaten path and in a section where even in boom times you would expect nothing but a rather lazy trade, but it is doing a "right smart" business.

It was built upon the notion that people like to eat. Its cuisine is famed among traveling men, many of whom deliberately go miles out of their way to put up at that hotel.

If there is any secret to the success of the Purefoy, it probably lies in the fact that every meal is as good, as copiously supplied with all sorts of food, as the Thanksgiving dinner your Aunt Het used to prepare once a year. "We lose money on our meals, but we make money on our rooms," the manager said.

The meals upon which a really modest hotel has outgrown its original quarters, has taken over a nearby apartment house and even built an annex across the street, are all served in the old fashioned style of putting every dish upon the table at once.

A recent evening meal (price 75 cents), consists of the following dishes, steaming hot, brought in by negro waiters and piled on one of several big "family" tables: Steak, chicken, chicken croquets, ham patties, creamed chicken (plain), grits, sweetpotatoes, Irish potatoes, fruit salad, tuna fish salad, spaghetti, spiced peaches, string beans, lettuce, French fried potatoes, fresh green peas, slaw salad, huckleberries, honey, coffee (hot or iced), tea (hot or iced), and milk.

Hot biscuits and butter served fresh every five minutes in a never ending parade. To the uninitiated there's a tendency to attempt too much with such a layout, rather than make a rational selection.

That's the evening meal, and only an indication of lunch, the manager said. "Sorry you're not going to be with us this noon, for that's our real meal."

Even a man of the world doesn't always know how the land lies.

Swim and Picnic Enjoyed At Willows Swimming Pool.
 Everything is beginning to point to a very successful as well as enjoyable season at the Willows swimming pool, recently opened by the Lions club of this city.
 Early morning and late evening with the mid-afternoon hours in between, one can drive by and view bathers enjoying the cool and delightful diversion of a clean plunge and swim.
 An attractive group of kiddies were entertained at the pool yesterday evening who compose class No. 3 of the junior department of the First Christian church, with Miss Naomi Matthews, teacher and hostess in charge.
 The group of 20 members with guests entered into the merriment of the occasion by a swim at 6:30.
 Following a swim and play all over the well equipped pool, a picnic supper was held with Miss Matthews assisted in serving by Miss Mattie Ben Shipp, Miss Mildred Matthews, sister of the hostess, Mrs. E. A. Grigolet, Mrs. C. L.
 Childs, Mrs. Speece, and the Rev.
 H. H. Johnson, pastor of the church.

Parents of Movie Actresses Arrive for Visit With Relatives.
 Mr. and Mrs. Wallace W. Mc-Dowell of Los Angeles, Calif., arrived in Ranger this morning for visit with Mr. McDowell's mother, Mrs. Eva McDowell, his sister, Mrs. Alice Davenport, and his brother, J. S. McDowell.
 Mr. and Mrs. McDowell are the parents of Eva Angeli, popular and well known movie actress, who has appeared in the showing of several pictures at the Arcadia theatre. Mr. McDowell was formerly of Ranger, later living in Fort Worth. From there he and his family moved to Los Angeles 18 years ago.

SHIPMENTS OF LIVESTOCK ARE ABOVE MAY '30

Special Correspondent.
AUSTIN, June 24.—Total shipments of live stock for May, 1931, showed an increase of 19 per cent over May, 1930, according to the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. The shipments of cattle showed a slight increase of 4 per cent, calf for-wardings increased by 17 per cent, and swine shipments declined 59 per cent, the bureau's report showed.
 "During May, 1931, sheep forwarding to Fort Worth numbered 220,670 head, which broke the record set last month of 201,404 head as the largest number sent to that market during one month," the report said. "The total number of sheep forwarded in May, 1931, was 308,154 head, as compared with 53,393 head for the same month in 1930."
 "Total receipts of live stock during last month showed a decrease when compared with May, 1930.
 A decline of 15 per cent occurred in the receipts of cattle, and a decline of 20 per cent in the receipts of calves. It is of interest to note that the interstate shipments of swine increased by 68 per cent, but the intrastate shipments declined so as to make the total shipments approximately the same as that of May, 1930." Timely rains during the latter part of May helped to maintain the ideal condition which has characterized the range for the past several months, according to the June 1 report of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the bureau of business research report declared. The large lamb crop made unusually good growth, and spring lambs are expected to move in large volume during the summer season. The calf crop is smaller than last year.

Co-Ops Expect To Handle 1,000,000
 Bales Texas Crop

DALLAS, June 24.—Plans and policies for handling approximate 1,000,000 bales of this season's Texas cotton crop through the channels of cooperative marketing have been completed by the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, according to an announcement by B. C. Pittuck, acting general manager. Last season the association handled 618,000 bales of the Texas crop under the Federal Farm Board and Agricultural Marketing Act program, it was said.
 "In the face of the trade's attack upon the cooperatives and the dissemination of propaganda, rumors, allegations, etc., with respect to the Federal Farm Board," Mr.
 Pittuck said, "reports to the War Department from every section of the State indicate that the value and benefit of organized effort is appreciated more than ever before, and that with the low price of cotton prevailing the individual farmer can hope for, but little relief from present conditions. He must meet organized industry in an organized way," he said.
 The association's program this season is on a greatly enlarged scale for direct membership service, it was said, through district offices, branch offices and receiving agents located in every section of the State. The Federally licensed cotton classing program will be continued, it was stated, and according to Mr. Pittuck, "the association will be ready with its facilities to care for the movement of cotton when it starts soon in the South Texas area, and as it pro-ceases throughout other sections of the State."

FORT MISSOULA TO GO
 By United Press.
MISSOULA, Mont.—Fort Missoula, last of a long line of military establishments which guarded the advance of Western civilization, has been recommended to the War Department for abandonment. It was the only active post between Fort Snelling, Minn., and Fort George Wright, Wash., and was garrisoned by 15 officers and 300 men.

Legionnaires Of 17th District To Meet at Llano

LLANO, June 24.—The quarterly meeting of the 17th district, department of Texas, American Legion, will meet at Llano on July 4-5. As this is the last district meeting preceding the meeting of the State convention, and as it comes on a holiday, a large crowd of delegates and visitors are expected. Committees from the local post of the American Legion, and from the Auxiliary have been appointed and preparations are well under way.
 Among the items of entertainment are a rodeo, a free barbecue and a dance. The Llano country is full of scenic interest; among points of interest to visitors are Enchanted Rock and the new Hamilton Dam being constructed on the Colorado near its junction with the Llano river.

Lueders Baptist Encampment Plans are Worked Out

It is about two weeks before the Lueders Baptist Encampment will open. Full details are being worked out and everything will be in readiness to open on the 13 of July.
 At a recent meeting of the program and arrangement committee it was decided to make special rates for meals. Where five or more attend in groups from one church, society or family meals will be served for the entire time at the rate of $4.00 per person.
 Every inducement is being made to make it easy on the campers so they may take part in the program for the full time. This is also done in order to induce attendance for the full time of the camp.
 The best leaders available have been secured to lead the various conferences. Playgrounds have been cleared and the play features will be varied and full.
 Encouraging reports are coming in from all points. Services in many of the surrounding churches will be dismissed for the one Sunday of the encampment in order that the various congregations may attend the encampment services.
 Dr. W. R. White, State Secretary, will be the principal speaker.
