PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

Ranger school kids who rejoiced for the long holidays granted them during Christmas, are now eager to make up for part of the loss. The schedule called for ten days more of school, but it was decided that the two days could be given at Christmas time and made up later. One day was made up this Saturday and the other day made up on the following Saturday.

We went to a school for a while before school started on Tuesday and remained open until Thursday. This going to school on Saturday and getting Monday off was all right, but we never would see it.

Body of Big Spring, otherwise Kendall Bedichek, managing editor of the Big Spring Daily Herald, has much to say about the proposed highway between Ranger and Weatherford. This new stretch of highway would make the distance from Fort Worth and Dallas much shorter than the present loop that goes from Strawn northward through Mineral Wells and then back toward the south to Weatherford.

The airline highway which would shorten the distance from all West Texas cities on the Bankhead is being favorably considered at this time.

Mr. Bedichek says: "Remember when you used to get up about 4 a. m. and drive out long after nightfall to get to Fort Worth by automobile? In those days you followed the T. & M. all the way. When you got to Strawn you continued right on down the bottoms through Mingus, rase, Millsap to Weatherford. You didn't loop northward via Palo Pinto and Mineral Wells.

"You didn't go via the Desert City unless you wanted to resort to a little and take a rest and a lot of hot water for your health—mostly because it was out of the way. You went the shortest route.

Now, with paving all the way from Strawn to Weatherford, that old loop via Strawn and Millsap will be of more benefit to about 20 miles further in order to have a paved road all the way to Fort Worth.

"When we advocate the paving of that stretch from near Strawn to Millsap, that is cutting 20 miles off the distance from Dallas and Fort Worth to all points westward along the Broadway of America, we do so simply and solely because we believe it would be beneficial and convenient for Big Spring.

"No, sir," he said, "not because we dislike Mineral Wells or Palo Pinto or Strawn, Breckenridge, Albany, Sado or that famous highway junction—Metcalf Gap.

"But to our way of thinking the paving of that strip from Strawn to Millsap would be of more benefit to more people in Texas, as well as throughout the nation, than any other stretch of paving that could be built in Texas.

"Another thing: when motorists take Mineral Wells and continue westward journey they often loop on a route north of the main artery of highway No. 1, turning off at Metcalf Gap and continuing along highway 1- to Albany, where they get that far. If they're trans-state travelers or sound to points on the lower South Plains, they often keep right on along the Dal Paso or No. 83 route into Anson, Koby, Snyder, Lamesa and into New Mexico.

"It would be beneficial to us if that strip were built, thus shortening the distance about 20 miles. We ought to advocate it in any way possible, without, however, any spirit of animosity toward any town that might be damaged by construction of the road.

"In a case like this it is every man for himself."

And now that Mr. Bedichek has written the most of our column for we can spend more time this morning going places around town to find out what the citizenry has been up to.

The Man Who Finde Fault With His Home Paper

When you hear a man finding fault with the local newspaper, you get up and you find out what he never gives it a job of printing; 3 to 1 he does not take the paper; two to one that if he is a subscriber he is a delinquent one; even odds he never does anything to help the publisher to run a good paper, and 40 to 1 he is the most eager to see the paper when it comes out and borrows it from his neighbors before they get time to read it.—Royalton (Minn.) Banner.

WOOD SURGEON DIES

BROWNWOOD, Jan. 8.—Funeral arrangements for Dr. L. P. A. Wood, 60, widely known surgeon, who was awaiting the arrival by plane of his wife and daughter from New York.

Dr. Allison, an 1893 graduate of the Louis Medical school, died last night.

Speaking of the Weather

by CHARLES TALMAN of the U.S. Weather Bureau

CHARLES FITZHUGH TALMAN, librarian of the U. S. Weather Bureau at Washington since 1908 and author of popular books on the weather, has written for this paper and NEA Service a series of 12 short daily articles on the weather, which is a tremendously interesting subject now in view of the remarkably mild winter.

Sheriff Seizes A Cooker For Still

The sheriff's department made a raid in the southwest part of the county Thursday afternoon and brought in the cooking vat of a small still. The coil had been removed from the vat and hidden and a careful search of the vicinity failed to disclose the cache.

The sheriff said that had he been able to find the coil the complete still would have been in a case sufficient evidence to make an arrest and secure a conviction because it is known to whom the equipment belongs.

Eastland County Singers To Meet January 9 and 10

The Eastland County Singing convention will meet at Long Branch, seven and one-half miles west of Carbon, Saturday night and all day Sunday, Jan. 9 and 10.

Several quartets that attended the last convention have promised to be with us again at this session. Mr. Combs, with the Stamps & Baxter music company of Dallas, quartet from Hamlin and Stephens counties, Ripeto quartet from Dublin and the Abilene quartet are all expected. No better music can be rendered than by these singers.

All singers and lovers of good music are cordially invited to attend.

JAPANESE CABINET RESIGNS

The Japanese cabinet resigned today after a bomb attempt had been made on the emperor. It is customary for the cabinet to resign under such circumstances and a change of government was not likely.

The Stimson note regarding Japan's obligation was received with a satisfactory reply which was made in Washington since 1908 and American business firms was expected against infringement against their business.

The Chinese were understood to have decided on an appeal through the League of Nations for an international boycott of Japan, applying the penalties of article 16 of the league covenant. It also was understood that China had decided to break diplomatic relations with Japan.

OLD ADVICE STILL GOOD

The following appeared in the Bridgeport (Minn.) Post on June 15, 1886. The advice though 45 years old, is as good today as it was when it was first uttered. It says:

"My son, there is nothing so mutually funny as an advertisement. The prime, first, last, and all-time object of an advertisement is to draw customers. It is not, was not, and never will be designed for any other purpose. So the merchant wants the busy season comes, and his store is so full of customers he can't get his hat off, and then he rushes to his printer and goes in for plenty of advertising.

"When the dull season gets along and there is no trade and he wants to sell his goods so badly he can't pay his rent, he stops advertising. That is, some of them do, but occasionally a level-headed merchant does more of it and scoops in all the business, while his neighbors are making mortgages to pay the gas bill.

"There are times when you could not stop people from buying everything in the store if you planted a cannon behind the door, and that's the time the advertisement is sent out upon its mission. It makes light work for the advertiser, for a chalk sign on the sidewalk could do all that was needed and have a half-holiday six days in the week; but who wants to favor an advertisement? They are built to do hard work, and should be sent out in the dull days when a customer has to be knocked down with hard facts, and kicked in with bankrupt reductions and dragged in with irresistible slaughter of the prices and other inducements before he will spend a cent.

"That's the aim and end of advertising, my son, and if you ever open a store don't try to get them to come when they're already sticking out of the windows, but give them your advertisement first, between the eyes in the dull season, and you will wax rich and own a fast horse, and perhaps be able to smoke a good cigar once or twice a year.—Minnesota Press.

Hopes Seen for Democratic Tariff Bills Passage

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Passage of the House of the tariff bill was indicated today on a test vote which showed 214 supporting the measure and 174 against it.

The test came on adoption of a rule for consideration of the bill. Usually this is a mere formality. Republicans, however, sought to kill the measure by defeating the rule for its consideration.

Economic Program Will Get Speedy Action in Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The administration program for economic relief being considered in the Senate today will be taken in the House next week and held for final action.

Speaker Garner announced the committee progress on the two billion dollar reconstruction finance corporation and said that once presented the bill would be pushed through to a vote.

TEXAN OWNS BOOTH'S PISTOL

EDINBURG, Tex.—The pistol with which John Wilkes Booth fatally wounded President Abraham Lincoln, is one of a curious collection of weapons exhibited here by William W. Wynant. It is a Colt made in 1850. The date 1861 and the name of John Wilkes Booth are engraved on the stock.

Gandhi Leads Revolt From Behind Bars

Mahatma Gandhi, wizened idol of India's masses, may prove more of a threat to Great Britain in prison than he did free. From behind the bars, Gandhi is still leader of the revolt against British rule. Pictures within this outline map of India show Gandhi at his spinning wheel, reading and reclining on a hard pallet on the floor, where he sleeps. The mahatma took his spinning wheel to prison.

Yale Professors Say Beer Will Keep Youths From Drinking Liquor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Two Yale professors went on record before a senate beer committee today as favoring the return of beer in an effort to save the country's youth from hard liquor.

Dean Clarence W. Wendell in a letter to the committee holding hearings on the 4 per cent beer bill of Senator Hingham, republican, Connecticut, said beer developed team play by bringing people of divergent types together. Failing to get beer, he said, students turned to hard liquor.

Previously Prof. Yandell Henderson had said "cutting off beer has had a bad effect upon college student life in promoting the drinking of the highly intoxicating forms of distilled spirits."

Henderson, professor of applied psychology and expert on volatile poisons at Yale, estimated it would take "eight or 10 gallons" of 4 per cent beer to cause what he would consider intoxication.

Gifford Admits He Knows Nothing About Conditions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A hostile Senate committee today drew from Walter F. Gifford, director of President Hoover's organization on unemployment an admission of lack of familiarity of needs throughout the country.

He admitted that despite requests for federal aid he thought the matter of relief was one cities, counties and states must settle themselves.

"How many people in New York State are in need?" he was asked. "I don't know," he replied.

Seek Man Swept to Sea in Boat

FREEMONT, Tex., Jan. 8.—Searching parties patroled the beach in this vicinity today looking for some sign of Oliver O'Brien, 40-year-old Houstonian, who was swept out to sea in a rowboat while his wife stood helplessly on the shore.

O'Brien was rowing across the mouth of the Brazos river when the tide and current caught his boat.

Roosevelt Forces Strengthen Position

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Forces favoring nomination of Governor Franklin Roosevelt for president, strengthened their command of the situation on the eve of the democratic national committee meeting.

They succeeded in arranging for the selection of Robert Jackson, democratic national committeeman for New Hampshire, to be elected tomorrow as secretary of the democratic national committee to fill the unexpired term of the late Charles Gresham.

PAUL YOUNG GIVES UP TO POLICE

HOUSTON, Jan. 8.—Paul Young, brother of Harry and Jennings Young, the Missouri slayers of six peace officers, surrendered here today.

He was wanted for questioning in the slaying last Saturday in Springfield of six officers and wounding of three others when they sought to arrest the two, who killed themselves here Tuesday.

Police Chief Percy Heinz wanted to question Paul about his actions prior to the slaying and about a "death note" J. P. Tomlinson, who reported the hideout of the brothers to the police, received Thursday. The note was signed "Paul Young."

The bodies of Harry and Jennings were "somewhere between Houston and Missouri" today. Movement of a hearse which came here from Springfield last night was kept secret.

TROOPS ARE SOUGHT FOR FLOOD AREA

SUMNER, Miss., Jan. 8.—An appeal for U. S. Army troops to patrol the crumbling levee sector in the flooded Tallahatchie River valley was sent to the war department today by citizens of Glendora.

Glendora is one of the hardest hit of the dozen towns in the inundated area.

Appeals for food, clothing and shelter have been broadcast for the 2,000 inhabitants of East Tallahatchie county made homeless by a levee break. A wall of water 150 feet wide roared through the break flooding 50,000 acres of farm land from three to 11 feet.

H. B. JOHNSON IS SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

A large number of friends and members of the First Christian church of Ranger, numbering 80 adults and eight children, gathered at the Lottie Davenport office supply store Thursday night and from there went to the home of Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor of the church, for a surprise party.

Rev. and Mrs. Johnson had no intimation that the surprise party was to be given in honor of the pastor's birthday which falls on Jan. 8, but were delightfully pleased when the gathering showed up.

Ire McKee Goes To Chair Friday

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 8.—A prayer on the lips of Ire McKee, 32, Palo Pinto county farmer, was cut short by the strap of the deathcap and McKee went to his death in the electric chair early today at the state penitentiary.

He was followed to the chair by Alfred Jackson, 48, a San Antonio negro.

Merchants Going in To Bring More Money to Ranger

Merchants with an eye toward reaching the greatest number of readers in their trade territory are continuing to patronize the Ranger Times, particularly the Friday and Sunday issues, because they reach a large number of readers over the territory most advantageous to the advertisers.

Each Friday the grocers, seeking buyers for their Saturday specials, reach the readers over a large territory. Other far-sighted merchants reach the most customers through either the Friday or the Sunday issues.

NEGRO ARRESTED

T. Pitties, negro, known in Ranger as "Tennessee," was arrested Thursday night by Patrolman Guy Pledger of the Ranger police department and lodged in the city jail charged with disturbing the peace.

Pitties is reported to have been quarreling with a negro woman at the time of his arrest. He had not been released at noon today.

JOE YOUNG AND SON-IN-LAW IN HIGHWAY CRASH

Joe Young, 65, pioneer Ranger citizen, was almost instantly killed and George Hamilton, his son-in-law, was painfully injured when their truck in which they were riding overturned late Thursday afternoon at a turn in the Bankhead highway east of Thurler hill.

The two were returning from Fort Worth when the accident happened on the curve that is sometimes referred to as "Dead Man's Curve."

PAUL YOUNG GIVES UP TO POLICE

FARMERS SHORT COURSE PLANNED FOR EASTLAND

At a meeting of civic leaders of Eastland and adjoining communities held at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning arrangements were made for a farmers' short course to be held in Eastland Feb. 4 and 5, under the auspices of a manufacturer of farm tools.

The following committees were selected to co-operate:

Texas Prison System Will Observe New Cotton Acreage Law

AUSTIN, Jan. 8.—The Texas prison system has bent its knee to the cotton acreage law, and surrendered one-third of its productive money crop.

The system last year planted 20,815 acres in cotton. It has made plans to obey the acreage reduction law by this year turning out an aggregate of 8,000 acres in its various tracts, and planting it in something else.

WRECKED PLANE SIGHTED

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 8.—Two Goodyear blimps were ordered out over the Everglades swamp in search for a wrecked plane sighted today by a flier from Tampa about 25 miles from the Miami airport.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH.
 A Kentucky judge has barred representatives of a certain newspaper from his court room because he believes that editorials published in that paper are libelous and in contempt of court. He declared that no representative of the paper would be allowed in his court room until the paper had retracted the statements complained of. The paper has appealed the case to the supreme court of Kentucky asking a writ of prohibition to restrain the district judge from enforcing his injunction against the paper.

The case involves much greater significance than the justice or injustice of the judge's charges against the particular paper. The freedom of the press to obtain and publish the news and its freedom of speech both to print the facts and to comment editorially upon the facts are involved. Freedom of speech has been the cornerstone of American independence, and out of the clash of ideas and opinions that has gone on for the past 150 years has come much of the progress that this nation has experienced. To abridge that right means simply to muzzle freedom of expression and deny the public the institution of the open forum wherein the interchange of ideas serves to shape aggressive national character and stimulate progressive action.

If one judge or any one other person is empowered to bar a newspaper from his courtroom or from any other public institution merely because to his mind the expressions of that paper's opinions are libelous, or derogatory that privilege, carried to its furthest extreme, means that one person is able to penalize the majority for its opinions and consequently to dominate what would otherwise be a liberty of mind. That is the question that is involved in the Kentucky case, a question intimately associated with the constitutionally guaranteed freedom of the press. The Kentucky appellate court is to determine whether or not the merits of the case upon which the district judge based his enjoining order justify the permanence of the order. If the newspaper is found to have overstepped its bounds and invaded other rights to the extent of obstructing justice, the judge's action may be justified on grounds that do not threaten constitutional guarantees. But, according to reports of the case, the jurist was actuated solely by his opinion that the expressions of the paper editorially were unfair and libelous and in that event he has forced an issue that is national in its scope and one that must be decided in the fight of what its effect will be upon the nation and not what influence it will exert upon a particular cause in a district court in the state of Kentucky.

ALGEBRA OF TAXATION.
 "There will be a tax problem in Texas until taxpayers are convinced their tax dollars are buying one hundred cents worth of good government, and until the total tax bill is recruited equally and indiscriminately from the various interests of the state," comments the Editorial Digest.

The Digest continues:
 "In a state where justices-of-the-peace may earn two and three times the compensation given the governor and the attorney general, you may expect to find a tax problem. In a state where as many as twenty separate and distinct tax levying and tax-collecting agencies levy upon and collect from the same people, the economist would be surprised did he not find a full-grown tax problem. In a state where the unit of government—the county—has retained all of the limitations imposed by horse-and-buggy transportation, where three county clerks serve a territory one could serve and where three sets of county commissioners do the work that one could do, it would be surprising indeed did the taxpayers' dollar purchase one hundred cents worth of efficient, economical government.

"The Texas tax problem is a compound problem in that it embodies two separate and distinct 'unknown quantities.' First is the 'X' that represents the minimum amount of money that citizens must contribute to secure a maximum of good government. To solve this equation, it is necessary to weigh the benefits of county consolidation, of city-county consolidation, of the elimination of unnecessary offices and the merging of others, of modernizing procedure and of plugging the holes through which waste and extravagance seep into the machinery politic.

"This done, but not until this is done, it is time to attack the rest of the Texas tax problem. When we have put our government in good working order, we can intelligently attack the problem of how best to raise the money necessary for its operation.

"When the first unknown quantity is found, the tax problem becomes a simple algebraic equation."

Two-Thirds of Defunct Banks Are Re-Opened

By United Press.
 AUSTIN.—Texas entered the new year with two-thirds of the banks that were closed during the stress period of October and November already reorganized and reopened, according to figures in the state banking department here.
 An upward trend in the values of basic commodities in Texas commensurate with the recovery, according to Shaw, are inevitable in business as the ancient parable of the wild oats in morals.
 "Periods of depression have followed each period of wild inflation and they always will," said Shaw. "It is the natural consequence."
 "It is going to be a long climb back to better times and ultimate general prosperity but the climb uphill is always satisfying."
 Commissioner Shaw believes 1931 will be remembered as a year of business readjustments, with many of these readjustments left over for the year 1932 to care for.

Texas Fiddlers To Meet Next Friday

By United Press.
 AUSTIN.—Fiddlers from all parts of Texas will tune their instruments in a wild medley of chords and strains here Friday in the first annual meeting of the Texas Fiddlers association.
 More than 200 string musicians will take part in the music tournament that features the convention program. Three prizes for the best musicians in each of the fiddle, mandolin and guitar divisions will be given, according to W. T. Kirk of Temple, secretary of the state association.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

THE FIRST DISCIPLES

Text: John 1:35-49.
 The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 10. The First Disciples. John 1:35-49.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist.

The growth of Christianity in the world, particularly in the first three centuries after the crucifixion of Jesus when it advanced to that position of world strength in which it became the official religion of the Roman empire, is difficult to account for on a material ground. As a matter of fact, the advancement of Christianity to world power may have been at the expense of the simple religion of Jesus of Nazareth, and to the disadvantage of Christianity as a spiritual force working in the hearts of men. But the outward power could not have come without deep and wide foundations in inner thought and motive. The greatest stream can be traced to its sources in small springs and rivulets; so the mighty stream of Christianity had its beginning in personal and limited contacts.

Here in this first chapter of the Gospel of John the process is very simply yet very graphically set before us. Men unacquainted with Jesus, who were afterwards to be in the inner circle of his disciples, discovered the richness and power of his life through personal contact.

Here we have two of these disciples standing with John, the forerunner, and as John sees Jesus in the distance he says to these two men, "Behold the Lamb of God." Immediately their interest was aroused. The two men followed Jesus, but were apparently hesitant to approach Him or to speak to Him. But Jesus, seeing them following, turned and asked them, "What seek ye?" They asked where he dwelt, and Jesus replied in the words that have become almost a watchword for a method of Christian evangelism, "Come and see." They went with Jesus to his dwelling place and stayed with him that day.

The two men who had heard John speak and who followed Jesus were fired immediately with the passion to bring other men into that wonderful experience that had befallen them. One of them was Andrew, and he thought immediately of his brother, Peter, whom he brought to Jesus.

The following day when Jesus was on his way to Galilee he found Philip, and gave Philip also an invitation to join his company. Philip was from Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter. He finds Nathaniel and reports to him that they have found the Messiah—namely, Jesus of Nazareth. Nathaniel is somewhat skeptical. He replies in the proverb, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" And Philip again responds with watchword of Christian evangelism, "Come and see." Nathaniel, seeing, is convinced, and he acknowledges Jesus as his lord and master.

Chicken Lives Ten Months Under Shed

By United Press.
 WHITE SALMON, Wash.—A year ago John Wiers purchased a small flock of chickens. One was missed from the flock, but little attention was paid to the loss.
 About two months ago the missing chicken was discovered under the chicken house floor. It was a full grown hen, emaciated, and wobbled when it attempted to walk.
 Wiers estimated the hen had lived under the shed floor almost 19 months without food or water, except what little grain and rain trickled through the cracks.

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 Old age pensions continued to advance as Delaware, Idaho, New Hampshire, New Jersey and West Virginia adopted such laws, making 17 states in all.

SPEAKERS attacked the "hypocritical shouting of the word 'dole'" to obscure the need for protecting workers against sudden loss of jobs. The A. A. L. L. a year ago began promoting what it called "an American plan for unemployment reserve funds" and Secretary John R. Andrews reported that there had been "marked progress" in American public opinion on such legislation. The association proposes to place directly on industry responsibility of making systematic advance provision for the involuntarily unemployed worker, asserting that the plan would tend to sustain purchasing power and create a permanent economic incentive to employment stabilization.

Professor T. N. Carver of Harvard was the student who pointed out what he called errors in the theory that shorter working time was an unemployment remedy. He argued that while it would give employment to some men it would give part-time unemployment for all. He scouted the commonly accepted idea that increased leisure stimulated demand for goods, pointing out that if the demand were to be effective it would have to be accompanied by increased purchasing power and that greater leisure might be employed by its possessors without any increase of expenses—such as in hiking, games and visiting libraries or museums. If wages under reduced working time remained the same, Carver said, production costs would rise and consumption would decrease. If wages were reduced with shortened hours the same effect would be felt.

By United Press.
 MADISON, Wis.—Jack Roe, son of a former law partner of the late Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Sr., and himself a member of the present LaFollette firm, may be the fourth one from that office to serve as district attorney of Dane county. The senior LaFollette began his career in public office as district attorney here, Gov. Philip LaFollette, his son, did likewise. State Sen. Glenn Roberts, a member of the LaFollette firm now, served a term as district attorney after Philip LaFollette. Roe is reported considering candidacy next spring.

What follows is merely what one man thought at the time it was written, and the writer reserves the right to change his mind concerning any subject, without notice, explanation or apology.

It would seem that some little stir has been caused by the recent ordinance passed by the city commission regulating the method of handling fresh meats sold in Eastland. Many say it's a bum law. If the present city commission has taken a constructive step since going into office, this sanitary meat ordinance ranks among the most constructive.

The opponents say it will kill our town. Your humble servant says that the free and unregulated sale of fresh meat without any inspection whatsoever might kill off a bunch of our people. I wrote a column similar to this in a town one time where a fellow from the country came in and peddled out a bunch of hog head cheese. The result of that little error was 29 cases of ptomaine poison in one day.

Deliver me from eating meat that has been killed out in the cow lot, scalded in a molasses barrel, hung out to cool where the flies have free access to it and then cut up and peddled into town on days when the temperature is 45 degrees and above. It is often true that what we don't know doesn't hurt us. It is also true that many of us get poisoned from eating foods improperly handled and preserved, not to mention diseased livestock which could easily creep in.

We have heard so many things mentioned lately that were just about to sound the death knell of the Egg Basket that we see no reason for getting alarmed because the decision of the city commission to do its part to protect us from unclean meats has not found the unanimous favor of everybody in Eastland county. Shuckin's! The farmer is certainly entitled to bring his products to town and sell them. We all agree on that. But his customer in town is entitled to know that the meat he brings in is not diseased and has been killed and prepared under the right kind of sanitary conditions.

In Ripley's "Believe It or Not," he depicts a cowboy wearing chaps with a notation to the effect that cowboys are not actually bow-legged, but that the leather chaps are banded to the shape of the horse and gives the wearer the appearance of being bow-legged. It would give me great pleasure to show Mr. Ripley a few cowboys who have really ridden after cattle and let him disprove his own statement. Of course, the drag store, type of cowboy isn't bow-legged, because he is accustomed to draping his carcass over an automobile seat in as graceful a manner as his aesthetic poise will allow. But if a guy spends several years riding a horse regularly he'll be bow-legged. Take me, for instance. I haven't been on a horse since 1912, but you can still pass a fair sized corn cob between my knees. And never was a cowboy either. I was only a newspaper boy who rode horseback every day for five years.

Call Issued to All Interested In Lower Taxes

A mass meeting of Eastland county citizens has been called for 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon, January 9th, at Gorman. The call was issued by the Citizens Democratic Tax League and was signed by D. J. Neill, as president; W. O. Russell, vice president; and J. M. Parker, secretary. The call was in the form of a letter, which stated the purposes of the meeting, and was as follows:
 Gorman, Tex., Dec. 30, 1931
 You are hereby requested to be present and participate in a meeting, called by the Citizens Democratic Tax League, to be held in Gorman, on Saturday, January 9, 1932, at 2 o'clock P. M.

The meeting is called for the purpose of discussing political and financial matters including the subject of taxation, schools, county expenditures, and many other things of vital importance that concern Eastland County and the entire citizenship; that we may learn and be informed of the exact condition that now exists in our county and in our state, and for the further purpose of perfecting a county organization with the view of the betterment of the condition of the taxpayer, and if possible, relieve to some degree the condition that now exists.
 The topics to be discussed in this meeting probably will be the issues in the coming campaign—County, State and National. Exact copies of this letter are going to representative citizens throughout Eastland County. Your attendance is earnestly desired, and you are requested to notify all who may wish to attend.

A Hidden Mesa To Be Searched

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—A hidden mesa, once the meeting place of prehistoric Indians, will be excavated by a party of archeologists in northwestern Nebraska this summer. Location of the mesa, said to contain the evidences of three distinct periods of Indian life, is being kept secret for fear of vandalism. Thomas L. Green of Scottsbluff, discovered it.

The remains found on the site are believed to be those of the old Caddo tribes, dating back over 2000 years. The mesa lies between the districts inhabited by the Pawnees and the Arikara Indians. Indian implements, potters, bones of prehistoric animals, flints and other specimens of Indian life are to be found, the preliminary investigation revealed.
 Three layers of remains can be found on the top of the mesa, investigators say. Many of the bones found in one layer are cracked and broken, indicating, scientists say, that the Indians were a primitive race, which cracked open bones for marrow.

Here's a chance to earn $5.00—simply by seeing a free movie. But the catch to it is that the movie is "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," the story of a man turned monster, and the local Arcadia manager gives his word for it that it is the most horrifying picture that has ever reached the screen.

Those selected to see the picture will probably be taken from among the unemployed. They will be chosen from the first two letters, telegrams or phone calls that reach the office of the Arcadia Theatre.

MILLION POUNDS OF MEAT
COLUMBUS, O.—A million pounds of meat annually are produced Ohio penitentiary prisoners, whose meal checks amount to 5.7 cent per meal. The prison population averaged about 4,000 in 1931. Hungry prisoners eat $300,000 worth of food in a year, the largest part of which is meat and lard, which cost about $120,000.

LEAGUE PLANS TO COUPLE ON DISARMAMENT

By United Press.
GENEVA.—Complete plan and procedure for the holding of the disarmament conference have been perfected.

With 63 nations invited and with the certainty that it will last from six months to a year the conference will be the most formidable ever held.

Twelve years of experience has permitted the league to work out a technique and form of procedure which will enable the conference to get under way quickly and continue to work smoothly except for the differences that must necessarily occur.

Regular Procedure.
As now planned the conference will follow closely the organization and procedure of the annual league assembly. This was given its first try out at the first international labor conference at Washington in 1929.

With a president already appointed, who will deliver an opening address during the forenoon of Feb. 2, the conference is expected to get down to real work the same afternoon by the opening of a general discussion on disarmament.

Following the close of the general discussion, wherein the whole problem of disarmament will be touched, the conference will split up into five general commissions.

Work of Commissions.
These commissions will handle the military, naval, aerial, budgetary and political aspects of the disarmament problem.

They will have for the basis of their work the draft disarmament convention which the league's preparatory disarmament commission was over five years in completing.

Monthly sessions only will be held rarely, as some one of the commissions reach agreement upon some particular point which the conference can then adopt in formal session.

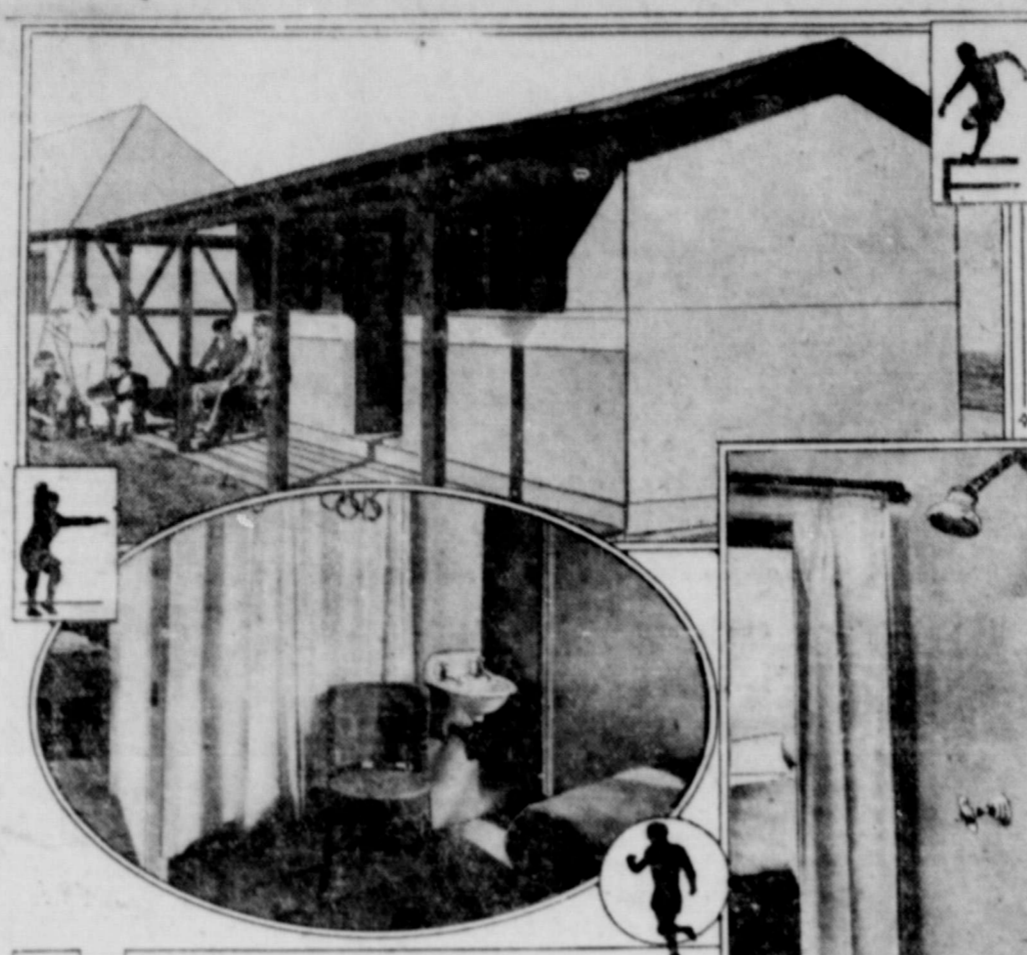

The work of the commissions will last over months at a time and as this will involve a tremendous amount of work upon the secretariat's staff of bi-lingual (French and English) translators, interpreters, stenographers, typists, and others it has been recognized that it will be necessary to adjourn from time to time in order to give them adequate vacations.

The conference will then continue another three months session down till about the first of August when adjournment is considered imperative in order to have the secretariat's staff in shape to handle the September assembly.

Following the close of the latter and possibly a brief vacation afterwards the conference will again get down to business for three months' period until it has either attained agreement—or disagreement.

Top—Typical cottage of the Village of Champions that will house 2,800 of the world's greatest athletes. Oval—Interior showing the two double bedrooms, lavatories and shower bath.

THE Village of Champions, with a population of 2,800, each man one of the world's greatest athletes will soon arise on the highlands of Los Angeles, California. This center consisting of 700 cottages, officially known as Olympic Village, will house the contenders at the Xth Olympiad in the summer of 1932. More brawn and agility than perhaps ever have been assembled before in a single group will be represented in the biceps sprayers, herculean weight lifters, wing-footed jumpers, and soaring pole vaulters who will train and dream of victory in the Village of Champions. It will be the first time that any Olympic Games have afforded standard accommodations for the competing athletes. They will have privacy with all conveniences, and what is equally important, special meals cooked according to national customs so that each athlete will be able to "eat in his own language."

Due care will be taken to guard the health of the athletes, particularly in the matter of pure water supplied through copper plumbing. The houses of the village will not go to the junk pile after the games. They will be stanchly constructed and added together with their rust-proof copper plumbing is expected to make them ready for use as mountain or beach cottages.

Note: Scrapple may be thoroughly cooked and not canned. With this method, the cereal and stock mixture should be cooked until done. Then add the meat, season and heat thoroughly. Pour into pans which have been oiled, and set aside to cool. After standing for about 6 hours, it is ready to be sealed, served (cold or dredged in flour and fried). Scrapple may be kept for several weeks in cold weather. It may be cut into one and two pound sizes, wrapped in butter paper and marketed.

The County Livestock Show which is an annual spring event at Cisco will be held this year on February 26th and 27th. No cash awards will be made, ribbons only having been arranged for. This show is open to all classes of livestock of Eastland county.

One feature of the show will be an exhibition of the lambs and pigs being fed by high school boys as a part of their school work. Accurate records of costs, feed used and gains made are usually shown here are educational and deserve much attention. It is not how fat the lambs get that counts but what it costs to put on the fat.

Guard Your Table, Poast the Label—Farm and Ranch
Housewives will find new words printed in bold-face type, upon the labels of some canned peaches, peas, tomatoes, cherries, and apricots packed this season and going on the market now. These words are: "Below U. S. STANDARD: low quality but not illegal."

What do the words mean, and what should the housewife do when she finds them on a particular can?
The words mean that the National pure food law has been amended to authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to prescribe and formulate quality standards for all canned foods save meat and most meat products, and canned milk. The Secretary has already announced official standards for peas, peaches, pears, tomatoes, cherries and apricots, and these standards are now in effect. The amendment, nominally known as the canner's bill further authorizes the Secretary to prescribe a designation to be printed upon the labels of canned foods that fall below the standards.

The canner's bill also gives the Secretary authority to define a standard fill for canned foods. Canned foods shall be considered as of standard fill if the entire contents occupy 90 percent or more of the volume of the closed container. If a housewife finds the words "Slack Filled" on a can, she will know that the food in that container does not occupy 90 percent of the volume.

A housewife with a limited amount of money to spend will be greatly aided in making her purchases of canned foods within the coming months if she will carefully read the labels on the containers," says Dr. P. B. Dembo.

"Nor need she fear that if she buys a can of food labeled with the substandard designation that she is getting an unwholesome product."

"If the food actually were unwholesome, it would of course be illegal under the food and drug act and subject to action under that measure. She need not hesitate to purchase a food branded 'Below U. S. Standard: low quality but not illegal,' because that food will carry the nutritive, if not the esthetic value of standard canned goods."

The housewife need not look for the wording indicating a substandard product of any other canned goods, save the six mentioned, for some time to come. The standards for canned peas, peaches, pears, apricots, cherries and tomatoes are all that have been formulated and officially announced to date. The Food and Drug Administration will work out standards for other canned foods as rapidly as possible, however.

Preserving Fresh Pork
Cold weather starts hog killing and with this comes the scrappy parts of the hog, the head, feet and the meat from the bones. The two recipes below may be helpful to you.

Head Cheese: Cut the hog's head into four pieces. Remove the brains, ears, skin, snout, and eyes. Use the fastest part for lard. Let the lean and bony parts of the head soak overnight in cold water, in order to extract the blood and dirt. After soaking and cleaning the head, cover the meat with plenty of water, boil until the meat separates readily from the bone. When done, remove all bones. Draw off the stock, strain and save for future use. Chop the meat finely. Return to the kettle and cover with stock. Boil gently for about half an hour. Season to taste with pepper and salt, use before removing from the fire. Turn into a loaf pan, cover and weight down to make a solid loaf. When cold, slice thin and serve without further cooking. Avoid getting too much fat in head cheese.

By United Press. PORTLAND, Ore.—The sea lion, long an attraction for visitors to the Pacific coast, is in a fair way to be exterminated. That is the belief of local students of marine life, who point to recent sea lion census data as proof.

Back Taxes May Be Paid Without Penalty, Interest

A law was passed at a recent session of the legislature and has been sustained by the supreme court of the state which requires the tax collector to accept payment of all delinquent or back taxes for any and all years without penalty and interest if paid during January, 1932, according to a statement made today by T. L. Cooper, county tax collector and assessor.

This is an opportunity for those who have back taxes for any years to make a considerable saving and it is hoped that all who can possibly do so will take advantage of this new ruling while it is effective.

Extra help is being added to the tax collector's force and every effort will be made to give the best service possible to all tax payers. However, those who have unpaid taxes for back years will confer a favor upon the tax collector if they will call as early as convenient to discuss and arrange to clear up those delinquencies while this saving is available.

France Ends Census Count

By United Press.
 PARIS.—The complete census returns made public by the government show that the author of the lyric which had its run on Broadway several years ago, "Fifty Million Frenchmen Can't Be Wrong," was guilty of exaggeration.

By actual count there are but 38,248,255 Frenchmen and 2,495,642 foreigners in France, a total population of 41,843,923.

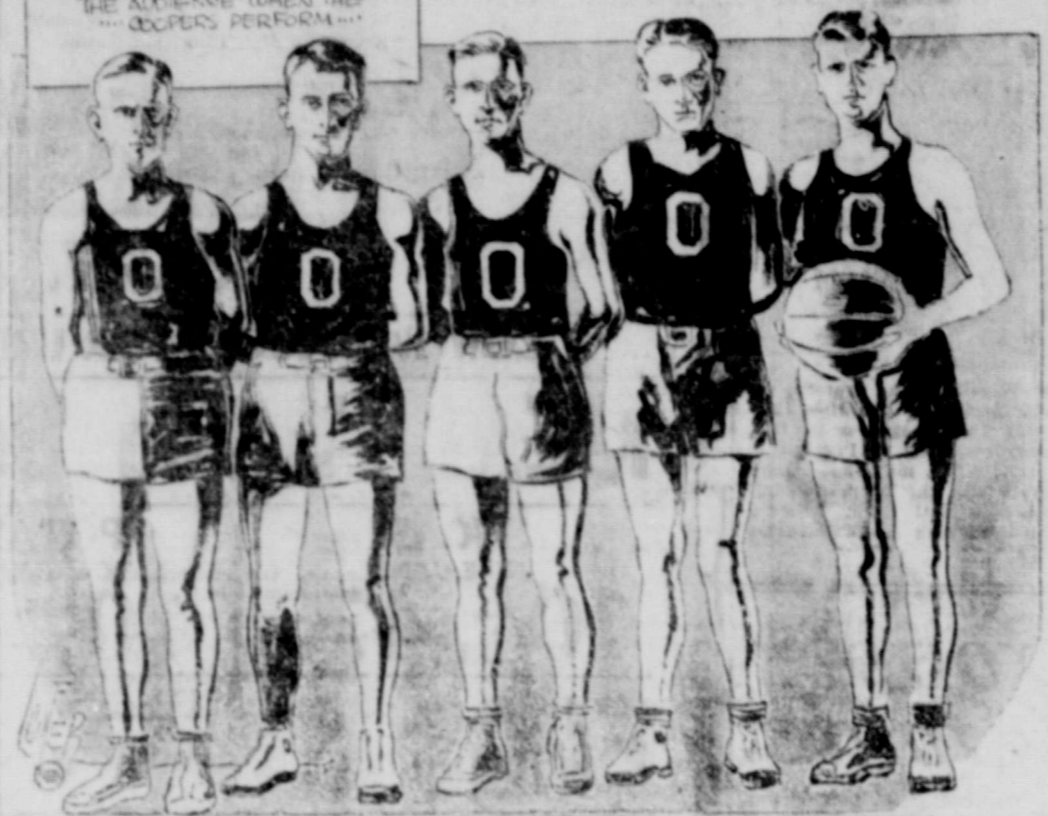

This census was very satisfactory, for it showed a revitalized race, and for the first time in a quarter of a century, France showed a population gain through births rather than through increased influx of foreigners. The previous census, in 1926, showed but 38,248,255 Frenchmen and a total population of 40,743,897.

The foreign penetration is so great that in the Alpes-Maritimes department, which comprises the French Riviera and the Franco-Italian frontier, two out of every five persons are foreigners. Italians predominate, with English in second place.

In Paris and the Seine depart-

Judges Hearing Truck Law Appeal

By United Press.
 DALLAS, Jan. 8.—Arguments by the plaintiff's counsel that the Texas truck law was invalid because it attempts to regulate interstate commerce, opened the hearing today before three federal judges who will pass on the statute's constitutionality.

The case was brought by H. B. Sage, W. C. Davis and other interstate truck operators against Justice of the Peace John Baldwin and other Dallas county enforcement officers.

Waitress No-Billed On Theft Charge

By United Press.
 BIG SPRING, Texas, Jan. 8.—Fritzie Staples, pretty 20-year-old waitress, was no-billed on a charge of theft from person filed by W. R. King, 47, local business man.

King, thrice married and the father of five children, charged Miss Staples took $2,304 from him in the course of an evening liquor party in a hotel room here. Miss Staples was arrested in Dallas, where she had flown during the night in a special plane.

She told Dallas officers King gave her the money.

Record Shipment Made From Lower Rio Grande Valley

BROWNSVILLE, Tex.—The Lower Rio Grande Valley opened the new year with a record shipment of fruits and vegetables. A grand total of over 5,000 carloads of produce moved out by rail and highway on New Year's Day.

Solid carload movements totaled 4,000 cars, established another record. Citrus fruit shipments reached 1,980 cars, while vegetables carried 1,300 cars.

Supporting the position of this area as the garden for northern and eastern dining tables, federal and state departments of agriculture estimated that during this month 1,200 cars of cabbage will be shipped out of the valley.

Ex-Soldier Needed Oil For His Knee

WEYMOUTH, England.—A motorcycleist, riding on a main road near here, heard a voice calling from a ditch: "Can you oil my knee joints?"

Bradley's Moss
 A WHOLE pack of horses can be rated ahead of Burgoon King, the Kentucky Derby of 1932. Top flight certainly comes first with something like $219,000 earned as a two-year-old.

But "the Kannel," as Bradley is affectionately known, has "passed the word" about Burgoon King. And when the Kannel passes the word, it is a good word to pass along.

When Bradley offered to bet $5000 that Burgoon King would beat any other colt of his age as a three-year-old when spring rolls around, he was giving the world his idea about the winner of the next Kentucky Derby.

He passed the same word some years ago about Bubbling Over, and the Bubbler won the Derby. Some years earlier he passed the word about Black Servant and Behave Yourself. Sure enough, Behave Yourself popped right down there in front at the Derby payoff and Black Servant was in the place position.

He passed the word about Blue Larkspur, too, and though he won his five grand wagers that the Larkspur would win his first heat as a grown-up horse, it rained cats and dogs on Derby Day and the big Blue boy bogged down.

Rated Black One Tops
 THE Kannel has been mistaken, of course. If he could have won all his bets he wouldn't have had any fun. He was all wrong about Behave Yourself, for instance, because he thought Black Servant would be the boss that would win the Derby in a driving finish with Behave Yourself.

That was 1921. Before the race, the Kannel told Jockey Thompson on Behave Yourself to make the early running. Black Servant was expected to overhail the leader in the stretch and win the heat.

But when the time came for Behave Yourself to start behaving and let Black Servant go to the front, Behave Yourself just wouldn't behave. Thompson could have been Strangler Lewis that day and Behave Yourself still would have won the race. The jockey tried, but when he found Behave Yourself didn't want to quit now, he just sat back and let him ramble. Black Servant couldn't get up.

Scientifically Purer..

Something every smoker wants to know!

Absolutely pure... that's what you expect in the things you eat and drink... and in the cigarettes you smoke.
"Chesterfields are as pure as the water you drink," a noted scientist writes. There's no way to make a purer cigarette.
Starting with tobaccos... the ripest, finest, purest leaf that grows is selected for Chesterfields. Mild to start with... Cross-Blending makes it milder still. Then it's wrapped in paper that is so pure it burns without any taste or odor.
The phrase "Scientifically Purer" is entirely justified. By our use of a highly scientific process which was worked out by Dr. Paul Gross, the Head Chemist of our Research Department, Chesterfield reaches a state of purity unmatched, to our knowledge, by any other cigarette.
In addition, scientists check every ingredient, every method. Even the factory air is washed, and changed every 4 1/2 minutes. More purity!
Notice, too, the clean, white, attractive package... moisture-proof. Chesterfields come to you as good and as pure as they're made. Good... they've got to be good! Change to Chesterfields and see.
