Death Toll In Tornadoes Reaches Thirteen

PEEPING THROUGH THE KNOTHOLE

By BILL MAYES

When Gus trekked over Tuesday afternoon from the county seat and we talked about tornadoes and other things, we agreed that it was no trouble to write a column each day if you just had something to write about, but that it was hard to find subjects on which to write.

We also agreed that the thing to do would be to find several good subjects that would be timely any time, write up several paragraphs about each and stick them away until such time as a brain fog enveloped the writer and then use what he had previously written. But we overlooked one important fact—that these brain fogs are the rule rather than the exception and it would be difficult to find time between lapses to write enough to carry over the period of mental depressions.

Yesterday the members of the citizens' school tax committee met at the office of the Chamber of Commerce, but C. E. May, the chairman, got busy selling someone an insurance policy or a house and lot or something, and called that he would be detained a few minutes to go on without him.

The conversation drifted around to dogs and everyone told a story or two about dogs. Jess Meroney told of a man who had two vicious dogs that would bite anyone who would come in the yard. A man he knew he could make the dogs bite from him and anyone coming near or hurting them in any way. When he started into the yard a youth wanted to go along, so he agreed. He instructed the youth to walk toward the dogs rapidly and to never shake his pipe or pay them any attention and they would run. The youth lost his nerve, grabbed a horse collar and threw it at one of the dogs and draped the collar around his neck and both dogs fled. The man lost his temper because the boy threw the horse collar.

Everyone agreed that if you just had the nerve to keep walking toward a dog he wouldn't bite. But I'd like for someone to convince me of the fact. One day we were walking down the street when a dog ran out and growled at us. "Don't pay any attention to him and just walk on toward him like you didn't see him," we advised. "And he won't bite you." She did and he did. She walked up to the dog and he grabbed her by the leg and the doctor charged me two bucks for patching her up again. Maybe that was the exception to the rule.

E. L. Fontaine told about a dog getting him cornered between a screen door and a locked front door at a man's house and he had to stand there and prey while he wasn't frightened for a long time before the dog finally let him out.

There were a lot more dog stories but we can't remember them right now and anyway, maybe you are not interested. But there is one thing that everyone should be interested in. This is election year and there remains only about two weeks and a half in which to pay poll taxes. All those who voted for Hoover will be given a chance to pay their poll taxes just the same as anyone else and they will get a chance to vote for one of two pretty good presidential candidates, according to the present indications.

We heard a man say the other day that he went to pay his poll tax as he could get a vote but that they wouldn't let him pay his own tax unless he also paid one for his wife, and that she didn't want to vote so he wouldn't buy her a poll tax. However, everyone who can should pay a poll tax in order to get to vote this year. There may be some mighty important issues to be voted on this year and everyone should have an opportunity to have a voice in the matter.

COMMITTEE HEARS VIEW ON BEER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Prohibition was assailed today by Dr. Graham Lusk of the Cornell University medical center in Senate hearings on the 4 per cent beer bill.

Lusk produced before the committee a letter he wrote at the request of the director of prohibition but suppressed by that office apparently because of its anti-prohibition sentiment. The letter deplored that moderate use of 8 to 10 per cent wine "can possibly be harmful to an individual."

Speaking of the Weather--

By Charles Fitzhugh Talman of the U.S. Weather Bureau

No farm home seems complete without an almanac, and no farmer's almanac is quite complete without a series of weather predictions. The farmer's desire for foreknowledge of the weather is as old as agriculture itself.

RANGER CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS MADE EXCELLENT SHOWING

Members of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce met in regular session Monday night and heard reports on the activity of the body during the past year and read and approved the financial statement and the budget for the year 1932. The report showed that the Chamber of Commerce went into the year owing $1,785 in salaries, rent and other items and finished the year with all bills paid, all salaries brought up to date and a total of $78,81 in cash on hand and in the bank. The salary item was mentioned in particular because in addition to the back salaries due on the first of last year, several typists had been used at different times in making out farm loan applications and in aiding in sending out literature for other organizations in town.

Table with columns: RECEIPTS Budget, Miscellaneous Collections, DISBURSEMENTS Budget, Miscellaneous Disbursements. Lists various financial items and their amounts.

Activities of Ranger Chamber of Commerce Set Out In Report

The following report is an account of the activities of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce for the year 1931, as submitted to the board of directors Jan. 11, 1932, by the secretary, Wayne C. Hickey.

Civic Affairs... Assisted the Ranger Lions Club in sponsoring the most successful tree planting campaign ever held in Ranger. Our organization offered three prizes for the best hand-painted posters entered by the ward school children... Finance... Handled the raising of funds for placing Christmas colored street lights over business district during holiday seasons... Good Roads and Highways... Sent committee of 10 to Abilene to represent Ranger in meeting of the West Texas unit of the Highway of America Highway association... Agricultural and Livestock... Held meeting for the re-election of officers for 1931 of the Oil Belt Sheep and Goat Raisers meeting...

Transportation and Traffic

Called special directors meeting to confer with T. P. Railway officials on July 21, regarding a 15 per cent increase in freight rates and charges; officials asked that directors draw up petition asking Inter-State Commission to grant increase. Held over until next meeting at which time motion was made and passed that Ranger remain neutral.

Industrial... Considerable work done by this organization attempting to secure a cheese factory for Ranger to take care of surplus milk supply; a committee of business men from Valley Mills met with directors to discuss possibilities of moving a plant now located at Valley Mills but no agreement could be reached... Aviation... The Aviation department, Charles J. Moore, chairman, accomplished considerable work in clearing the airport of trees and shrubs which proved hazardous... Conventions and Entertainments... John Thurman, W. D. Conway, William Dusey and Wayne Hickey joined the Broadway of America motorcade on April 15, attending Broadway of America highway convention in Hot Springs, Ark. Mr. Conway was elected first vice-president of the association during this convention.

Ranger Quintet Loses To Cisco By 31-28 Score

Ranger's basketball team went down in defeat before the Cisco quintet Tuesday night on the Eastland high school court by a score of 38 to 21. The Bulldogs were leading at the half by a score of 10 to 7, but fouls on their undoing and they took the small end of the score at the end of the game. The Cisco quintet got 30 free throws during the game and Weaver and King were forced from the game because of personal fouls. After these two left things were all in Cisco's favor. Coach Trickey Ward said today that as soon as Landers' sprained ankle was in condition for him to get back into the game he would have a pretty good team and could start winning some games. The next encounter is with Breckenridge next Tuesday night at Breckenridge. The Rangers line-up: Townsend and Stevens, forwards; King, center; Duvall and Weaver, guards. Substitutions were Cole, Lyons and Williams.

Crop Report Is Good Farm Index

HELENA, Mont.,—The best index to the condition of Montana agriculture at the outset of 1932 is found in the crop yields for the past three years. In round figures, 1931 was the worst crop year for farmers since 1919. The state-federal crop reporting service placed the cash return of last year's crops at 36 million dollars. The year just ended was the second of two years of drought, and by far the worse, as shown by the 1930 crop return of 60 million dollars. The year of 1929 was a comparatively good year, and the state's crops returned 92 million dollars. But this past year's experience has been invaluable. The farmers of the state have at last concluded that farming of marginal land does not pay, except in abnormal times such as existed during the World War, and that development of irrigation through flood control, artesian water and diversion systems is essential to the agricultural future of the state. Sponsored Second Monday Trade Days twice each month beginning April 13, using vacant lot opposite Walker-Smith Grocery company. These trade days brought many people into Ranger, and enthusiasm was shown in the sales. Committees appointed to arrange merchandise prizes for the participants tended to arouse more interest. Handled the raising of funds for placing Christmas colored street lights over business district during holiday seasons. Cooperated with and handled all detail work of raising the annual budget of the Child Welfare association, Roy Speed, chairman of the drive. Sponsored the annual drive for raising Ranger's quota to the Oil Belt Council of the Boy Scouts of America, H. C. "Andy" Anderson, chairman. Paid Ranger High school band uniform note at bank for $178.00 after attempting to raise deficit by subscription for same. Handled the raising of Ranger's portion of the Eastland county quota in the annual roll call of the American Red Cross, J. E. McConroy, chairman. The chamber's committee raised funds by merchant donations for the installing of the Christmas colored lights in business district. Good Roads and Highways. Sent committee of 10 to Abilene to represent Ranger in meeting of the West Texas unit of the Highway of America Highway association. Also sent representatives to West Texas unit meeting in Colorado, April 10, in effort to secure more tourist travel over the south loop of U. S. Highway 80. Appointed committee to meet with Commissioners court and discuss with them the work needed on Breckenridge highway between Ranger and Pleasant Grove; resulted in the county greatly improving the shoulders and bad places in this highway. This organization has consistently worked on the project of securing the Strawn-Weatherford cut-off being designated as a state highway and at the present time it looks as though this project may be accomplished. Agricultural and Livestock. Held meeting for the re-election of officers for 1931 of the Oil Belt Sheep and Goat Raisers meeting; plans made for the assembling and sale of the spring clip. Cooperated with the other cities of Eastland county in preparing and putting up a county exhibit at the Fort Worth Fat Stock show, same exhibit winning third place. Fifty thousand pounds of wool and mohair assembled from Eastland, Erath, Stephens and Palo Pinto counties in warehouse furnished by Chamber of Commerce and sold for $6,596.22. The Chamber of Commerce organized the Ranger Truck and Fruit Growers Association with the aim of protecting the home truck growers and to help provide a market for their products. With this in view, the chamber built a public market containing eight stalls for wagons or cars with counters facing the street, and a top for protection, same being opened to farmers July 9. A small fee was charged for daily use of stalls, this money being used to defray the expense of placing electric lights in stalls for night use, and for the electric service. Held a series of weekly meetings giving the farmers in Ranger's trade territory instructions in commercial fertilizers, terracing, and other important subjects vital to diversified farming. Made all preparatory arrangements, sold stock and organized the Ranger cannery for the purpose of interesting the people of Ranger and nearby communities in canning, and the importance of saving their own products for home consumption when the market provided no outlet for them. Approximately 5,000 cans of vegetables were canned. Sent Ben Whitehouse to East Texas to inspect sweet potato drying kilns and to draw up plans for a dry kiln plant for Ranger. Plans were made, a building obtained, and arrangements made to handle the potatoes but due to an unexpected change in crop production, plans were discontinued until next year. Held a mass meeting of farmers for the purpose of discussing the cotton restriction law and to take action on same. Representative Victor Gilbert addressed the meeting. Assisted in sending seven vocational agricultural boys judging teams to John Tarleton college and to A. M. Colton. Sponsored the annual Oil Belt Sheep and Goat Raisers barbecue and business meeting at Ranger Country club, Aug. 8. Raised premiums for first, second and third bales of cotton brought in and ginned at the Ranger Gin company. Held fall sale of mohair clip for association, assembling same in warehouse furnished by the chamber; approximately 30,000 pounds sold for $5,714.61. The chamber handled wool and mohair sales at cost to members of the Oil Belt Sheep and Goat Raisers association. This organization put on the fourth annual Oil Belt Poultry show, Dec. 10, 11 and 12; arrangements were made with Ranger merchants and merchandise prizes were given the winners. This show proved to be one of our largest and best. Cooperated with the other towns in Eastland county in entering an agricultural exhibit in the Dallas State Fair, this exhibit winning $350.00. In addition to this, Eastland county won 99 ribbons on individual entries and $300.00 in prizes. Assisted the Texas Cotton Co. cooperative association in obtaining new members and aided the farmers in handling their cotton the cooperative method. The chamber's agricultural committee, in cooperation with Graham Mill & Elevator and Red Chain Feed Store, handled and

It's got to be good to be ADVERTISED

All the king's horses . . . and all the king's men can't make a success out of a bad product. No amount of advertising will create a market for it. The more it's advertised, the more its defects become known.

But a good product well advertised grows as swiftly and naturally as a healthy plant. People try it and like it. They tell others. They like it. Soon that product is found everywhere . . . and its name, spread abroad by advertising, is on every tongue.

When you see something widely and consistently advertised, you can be pretty sure its well worth having. If it weren't . . . if it didn't represent an honest and worthy value . . . the maker couldn't afford to advertise it.

Look over the advertisements in this paper. Some of these names you know. Others perhaps are newcomers, potential friends bringing some new comfort or convenience. But all are entitled to your trust . . . all are here because they have something real to contribute to your advantage . . . your service . . . your happiness.

THE TIME HAS COME

To Draw the Line Between Two Kinds of Ranger People

THEY LOOK ALIKE—THEY GO TO THE SAME CHURCH—THEIR CHILDREN SIT SIDE BY SIDE IN SCHOOL—IN EVERY WAY THEIR INTERESTS ARE THE SAME!

BUT

Son, our New Year's resolution is that we are going to buy what we need in Ranger. I earn my salary here, my home is here, my friends are in business here—we have always traded at home, most of the time.

This family appreciates the advantages of citizenship in a city where opportunity is offered for pleasant living, cultural expansion and substantial income. They know that they are benefitted both in dollars and cents and in a score of other ways by being a part of a modern community.

They appreciate that a city is only a great number of other families like themselves. As families about them are benefitted, so is the community strengthened and improved, and in their own circumstances made better.

When they buy for the needs of their home, they buy in RANGER. What they spend becomes INCOME for a neighbor who works in a shoe store, the friend in a clothing store, the man who delivers the milk and a score of others. They make their community BETTER.

Son, we will take a few days off and visit in the city. Then we can buy what we need. Of course the home merchant has what we want, I earn my salary here, if I were to get sick my friends here would look after my needs—but . . .

This family is making a mistake . . . they have not given home trading the proper consideration.

This family enjoys every advantage of the family on the other side of the line. But they are thoughtless of the obligations of their community.

Money spent by this family does NOT become income for their friends and neighbors. When people they know stop them on the streets and tell of efforts to find work, they do not know that THEY and others like themselves are so largely responsible.

Almost without exception Ranger merchants can serve the needs of this family as economically and efficiently as anyone else. This family cannot call themselves good Ranger citizens in every sense of the word unless they do their part toward swelling and strengthening the life steam of trade on which is built the present and future.

THIS is a Matter of Vital Importance to Everyone of YOU!

The welfare of Ranger and your own personal welfare are so closely interwoven that anything that is harmful to the one is necessarily damaging the other. That is why we say that determining your policy as to where you do your buying is of vital importance to you.

- ✘ That is why we suggest that you determine NOW, ONCE and FOR ALL to do ALL YOUR TRADING IN RANGER, thereby promoting not only the best interests of the community in which you live but your own personal welfare as well.

In co-operation with the business interests of Ranger we re-publish the above facts in the hope that citizens of this community may realize the importance of centralizing their business activities in this immediate territory for profitable results. We feel no hesitancy in stating that should you be unable to find what you want in Ranger, let your local merchant know. He can assist you.

Yellow and White Is Effective Color Motif at Dennis Party
Tones of yellow and white presented an effective color motif with clusters of yellow roses entwined with fern sprays last evening when Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dennis entertained with a delightful yet informal "42" party at their home, Young addition.
Table covers with striking accessories helped in carrying out the well chosen color hues. A refreshment plate of fancy sandwiches—olive, potato chips, and confections with coffee was served to Messrs. and Meses. Bryne, L. H. Taylor, W. R. Clardy, Blacklock, O. S. OUT OUR WAY

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON.

J.R. WILLIAMS

Yesterday-Today A Comparison
1882
Fifty years ago women wore hoop skirts, bustles, petticoats, corsets, cotton stockings, high button shoes, puffed cotton drawers, flannel nightgowns, puffs in their hair, did their own cooking, baking, cleaning, washing, ironing and raised big families, went to church on Sunday, and were too busy to be sick.
Men wore whiskers, square hats, Ascot ties, red flannel underwear, big watches and chains, chopped wood for stoves, bathed once a week, drank 10 cent whisky and 5 cent beer, rode bicycles, buggies or sleighs, and went in for politics, worked 12 hours a day and lived to a ripe old age.
Stores burned coal oil lamps, carried everything from a needle to a plow, trusted everybody, never took an inventory, placed orders for goods one year in advance and ALWAYS MADE MONEY.
Today women wear silk stockings, short skirts, low shoes, no corsets, and an ounce of underwear, have bobbed hair, smoke, paint, powder, drink cocktails, play bridge, drive cars, have pet dogs, and go in for politics.
Men have high blood pressure, wear no hats and some have no hair, shave their whiskers, shoot golf, bathe twice a day, drink poison, play the stock market, ride in airplanes, never go to bed the same day they get up, are misunderstood at home, work five hours a day, play ten, and die young.
Stores have electric lights, cash registers, elevators, but never have what the customer wants, trust nobody, take inventory daily, never buy in advance, have overhead, markup, markdown, quotas, budget, advertising, stock control, annual, semi-annual, end of month, dollar, founders day, rummage, economy day sales and never make any money.
If you like these conditions and think life worth living, we wish you the compliments of the season.
CARRIER USED HORSE AND BUGGY
SOUTH HARWICH, Mass.—Only one of Cape Cod's rural mail carriers continues to cover his daily route with horse and buggy. He is hardy 83-year-old George F. Crowell, a real Cape Codder who did not turn to the U. S. mails for a livelihood until he had spent 38 years at sea.

In Bank Probe
John H. Bain, above, son of the head of 12 closed Chicago banks, is under $15,000 bond after being served with a warrant sworn out by investigators to make certain that young Bain would be on hand when results of the probe are announced. The charge against Bain was conspiracy to defraud depositors.

CHEANEY NEWS

Tear Gas Gun Causes Customers To Leave Weeping
EL PASO.—Copious tears were shed in a cafe here because of the carelessness of Deputy Constable Hermenegildo Garcia.
Garcia, while exhibiting a tear-gas gun to a friend, accidentally discharged the weapon.
"The trigger catch slipped, tears were filled the air, everybody cried, I was blinded," Garcia said at an emergency hospital.
"I don't want to carry it around any longer."

Plans Grocery On Honor System
MT. CLEMENS, Mich.—A grocery with an honor credit system for worthy indigents is to be inaugurated here. The store will handle only the staple foods and will accept no cash.
The commissary will be operated and supported by the Rotary club, the Detroit Edison and other organizations.
Recipients are expected to pay for their "purchases" on returning to work. However, it is only a gentlemen's agreement and not enforceable.

"I was afraid Grandfather would be Shocked.."

"HES rather a bossy old darling, and I didn't know how he'd like the idea of my smoking."
"The first time I lit a Chesterfield in front of him, he sniffed like an old war-horse... and I braced myself for trouble. But all he said was, 'That's good tobacco, Chickabiddy.'"
"But I still think that if he hadn't been so impressed by the quality of Chesterfield, the old dear might have been less agreeable. Human nature is like that!"
"Grandfather raised tobacco in his younger days, so he knows what's what. I don't, of course—but I do know that Chesterfields are milder. It's wonderful to be able to smoke whenever you want, with no fear you'll smoke too many."
"And it doesn't take a tobacco expert to prove that Chesterfield tobaccos are better. They taste better... that's proof enough. Never too sweet. No matter when I smoke them... or how many I smoke... they always taste exactly right."
"They must be absolutely pure... even to the paper which doesn't taste at all. In fact... as the ads say... 'They Satisfy!'"

WILD RABBITS always have been an important source of food during their "season," but it has been only recently that the value of the domesticated rabbit as a producer of food has been appreciated.
Comparatively few housewives realize the possibilities of tame rabbit. It can be prepared and served in numerous ways that are both appetizing and unusual. Furthermore, it is a nutritious and delicious meat, closely resembling poultry in food value, appearance and flavor.
Rabbit salad will prove a welcome change from chicken salad for a supper party when a hearty salad is wanted. Steamed or boiled rabbit is better for this than roast rabbit because it is not so dry.
Rabbit Salad
Two cups diced rabbit, 1 cup finely shredded cabbage, 1-2 cup chopped green pepper, 1-2 teaspoon salt, paprika, French dressing, mayonnaise, 6 stuffed olives.
Marinate rabbit in French dressing for one hour. Drain and combine with cabbage, pepper, salt, paprika and mayonnaise to make moist. Arrange on a bed of lettuce and garnish with olives cut in slices.
Rabbit also makes an excellent stew. Onions, celery, carrots and potatoes combine well to make a savory dish. The rabbit is disjointed in pieces for serving and put on to cook for half an hour before the onions and celery are added. When almost done, the carrots and potatoes cut in neat dice are added. It will take about three hours to prepare and cook the stew.
Young rabbit is delicious fried just as spring chicken is. After

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST Chilled apple sauce, cereal, cream, crisp bacon, diced potatoes in cream sauce, graham muffins, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON Oyster short-cakes, cross with French dressing, mixed fruits in lemon jelly, milk, tea.
DINNER Rabbit stew, corn croquettes, endive and pineapple salad, squash pie, milk, coffee.
disjointing, let the rabbit stand in cold salt water for two hours. Then drain and roll in well seasoned flour. Brown quickly in hot bacon fat, cover and cook slowly for one hour. Serve with creamed cauliflower.
Rabbit en Casserole
One rabbit, about 5 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon powdered sage, 1-4 teaspoon white pepper, 4 cups milk, 4 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper, 4 thin slices bacon.
Disjoint rabbit in pieces for serving. Mix and sift flour, sage, salt and pepper. Coat each piece of rabbit with this mixture. Saute in fat in a hot spider until brown on all sides. Place in a casserole and cover with bacon. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and pour over rabbit. Bake in a moderate oven for two hours or until the rabbit is tender. Serve with triangles of crisp toast.

Night Coughs
Nothing stops a night cough as quickly as Piso's. For Piso's is especially good for night coughing. It clings to your throat better than a spray or gargle. A bottle of Piso's at your bedside insures a good night's sleep. Safe even for babies—contains no opiates—does not upset the stomach.
