ALFALFA WILLIAM PLANS INVASION OF TEXAS.

Alfalfa Bill Murray, governor of Oklahoma and self-elected idol of the farmers of the United States, is a native Texan. He is out for the "presidency or nothing."

North Dakota grass rooters gave the Murray boom an awful knock. Regardless of the McAdoo declarations on Texas soil, the North Dakotans preferred a New Yorker as their presidential candidate...

DISADVANTAGE OF THE DOLE

We have been told plenty of times, during the past few months, that the dole is demoralizing. Nobody ever took the trouble to show just how and why it is demoralizing, though, until the Welfare Council of New York City...

From reports of some 900 social workers and public health nurses, the Welfare Council was able to get a pretty clear picture of what happens in a hitherto self-supporting, self-reliant family when it is forced to live on charity.

"When employment was long delayed, those who at first were uncomfortable at the necessity for seeking assistance, and grateful for whatever was given, became demanding and grasping..."

The survey explains, too, that many unemployed workers "became so mentally and physically fatigued by the constant discouragement of unsuccessful search for employment that they were as open to the mental infection of dependency, as they were to various physical infections."

This amply buttresses all the bad things that we have been hearing about the dole. Yet it is worth noticing that the people studied in this report were the recipients of local charity. Their money was coming from their immediate fellow-citizens and not from Uncle Sam.

One kind of dole, evidently, is just as bad as another kind. It is tragic that people have to ask for help; inevitable, when they do, that some of them will lose their self-reliance and their energy.

HOUSE ROUGH RIDERS HIKE LEVY ON INCOME.

There are house rough riders, republicans and democrats and progressives, who have broken away from the Hoover administration as well as control of the speaker of the house and the majority and minority leaders.

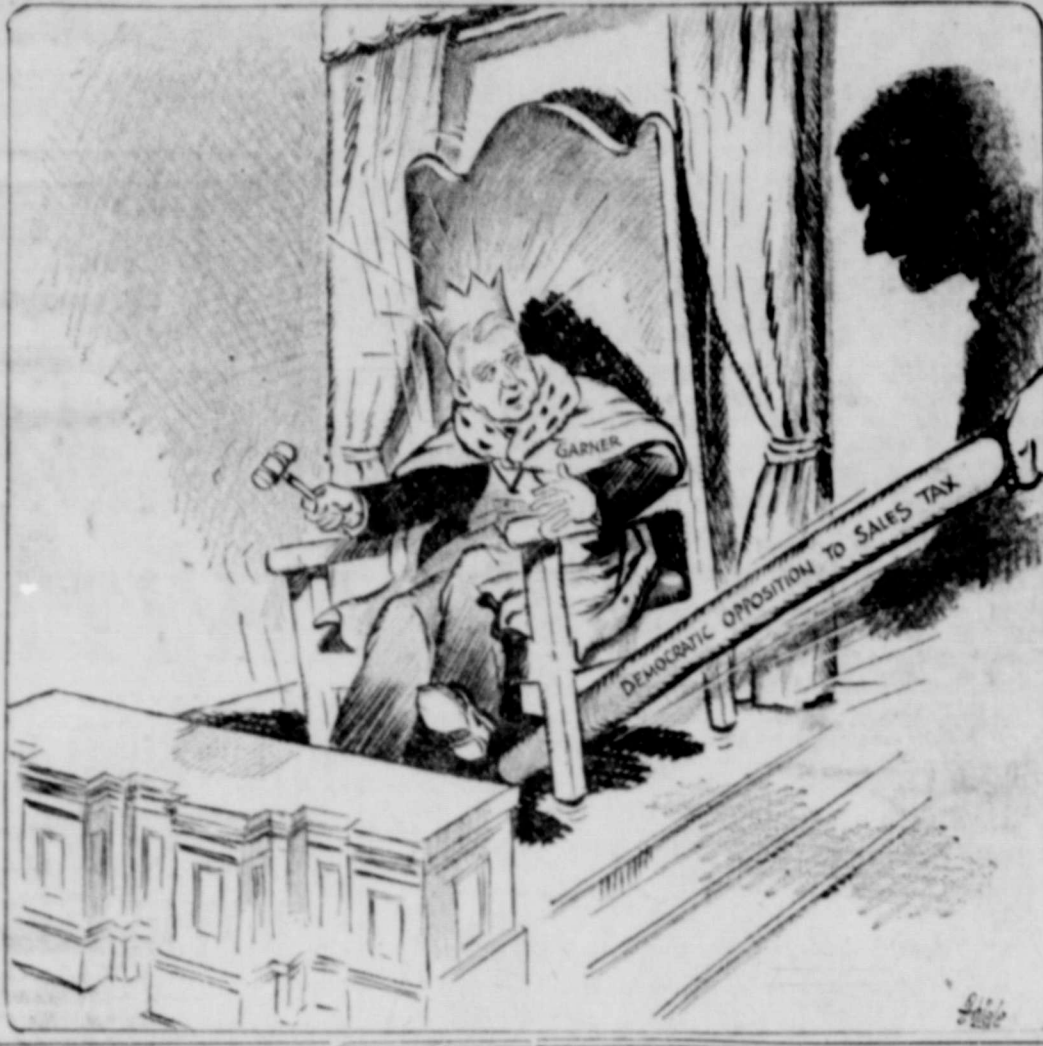

Is President Hoover a busy man? Ask the rough riders. Is Speaker Garner a busy man? Ask the hikers.

DEEP SALARY SLASHES SAID TO BE ON THE WAY. National sojourns are coming out of their trance. They are facing re-election. Early skirmishes of the presidential election war are on their way.

Coming nearer home Governor Ross S. Sterling lets it be known that discovery of frauds and irregularities in state affairs will save Texas between $600,000 and $1,000,000 annually.

It is unnecessary to go to Chicago or New York or Pittsburgh for material to point a moral or adorn a tale, show what would be wrong about cutting out the dead timber next winter under the big dome and more important, why not cut out the inefficient timber offerings for legislative place and all minor offices under the skies of Texas?

Rocking the Throne!

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—There's only one thing wrong in Congress...

These two issues are often buried. But they never die. In fact, you can hardly keep them buried overnight.

The proposal to cash the adjusted compensation certificates if all war veterans at a cost of nearly $2,500,000,000 was commonly regarded as interred at sea for this session after the American Legion voted last fall to defer it and after it became certain that the federal deficit would be far greater than anyone had anticipated.

Just Like Old John

BUT here it is again, rising from the earth like yesteryear's old friend John Barleycorn. And rapidly gathering strength.

The Patman cash bonus bill has a 50 per cent chance of passing the House and the Thomas cash bonus bill is likely to pass the Senate. There is no doubt that Patman's bill will go through the House if it comes out of committee for a vote.

All members of the House are up for re-election this year. Only a third of the senators are, but that fact can't be depended upon to stop the bill when it gets going.

Veto in Prospect

PRESIDENT HOOVER will veto any cash bonus bill. Patman thinks he can then get the necessary two-thirds majority to override the veto in the House.

That seems problematical at this writing, but the best opinion is that the Senate would not dare override the veto for fear of consequences to the country.

The best bet for stalling the bonus bill at the outset seems to be the hope that the Legion can hold its members in line against it. Many of the local Legion posts have been endorsing the Patman bill.

measure, along with the Veterans of Foreign Wars—it's chief sponsor, the Disabled American Veterans and other organizations.

Last year, before the compromise bonus loan bill was passed, the Legion leadership was forced by rank and file demand to change its position. If Congress can be convinced of a strong sentiment among veterans against bonus cashing at this time it will not be so likely to be seized by the type of panic which usually grips it on such occasions.

Leaders Are Helpless

BOTH Republican and Democratic leaders are girding themselves to suppress the bill, but their impotence against veteran legislation has often been proved.

Patman is a jolly, carefree soul in these days of deficits and heroic efforts at budget balancing. How to get those billions to pay the vets? Easy, says he. Just issue currency notes for the necessary amount. All that new money in circulation will mean prosperity and everything!

Treasury officials, however, contend that this would be merely fat money. It is asserted by opponents that money in circulation would be increased about 50 per cent and that the value of the dollar would depreciate proportionately. And that to issue all that money without placing any gold behind it or any provision for paying off the notes would be likely to drive the United States off the gold standard.

Thomas Bond Plan

THE bill offered by senator Thomas of Oklahoma, which proposes issuance of 20-year bonds to be held by Federal Reserve banks as security for the currency paid out, is regarded with equal disfavor by financial experts, who fear it would threaten the Reserve system in addition to battering down the bond market.

Those who believe the cash bonus proposal will go crashing through both houses may be wrong, but we will soon be finding out.

A. & P. Store In Southern Division Begin Sales Drive

Starting Monday the southern division of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company inaugurated the biggest sales drive in its history, dedicated to their beloved divisional president, O. C. Adams.

R. H. Crocker, vice president of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company, in charge of the Dallas unit, issues challenge to W. A. Terry of Houston.

"Dallas will finish this sales drive in a blaze of glory, finishing ahead of Houston. I can always depend on the wholehearted support of my organization, so I know that in challenging Houston I do so with the backing of my fellow workers and knowing that Dallas will come out on top."

Great rivalry exists between these two units and a friendly "hot and heavy" fight for sales supremacy is expected as the result of this challenge.

Texas Purchases Run Into Millions. During the past year the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company purchased merchandise in the state of Texas in the amount of $17,567,000. This merchandise was sold through their local outlets and also shipped to their warehouses throughout the country.

Extra Values Attractive. During these four weeks, very attractive specials will be offered for sale. Values that will be outstanding in both quality and price will be featured in the A&P newspaper advertisements. It is expected that the public appreciating these great values will join in with the occasion and patronize their A&P stores.

D. L. Piper, local manager of Ranger's A&P store, has entered into this contest with great enthusiasm, and Mr. Whitten and Mr. Simmons are both optimistic, and say the Ranger will be there with a wonderful sales record when the contest closes.

MILLIONS HELPED TO HEALTH BY ALL-BRAN

Has "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation; Also Iron for Blood

In ten years, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has gained an increasing number of friends. Today, it is used by millions with satisfactory results.

Another benefit of ALL-BRAN is that it has twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

The headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from constipation can be overcome by this pleasant cereal. How much better than using habit-forming pills and drugs.

ALL-BRAN action is gentle. Its "bulk" is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. Tempting recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The Red Cross sent its emergency organization into action, speeding medical supplies, tents, coats and other necessities into the stricken area.

Rescue parties picked their way over the wreckage strewn road to isolated cross roads settlements and farm homes in Alabama, fearing to find unreported instances of death and destruction at the isolated places.

Narrow escapes were numerous. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammett reported they drove their automobile into the cyclone near Sylacauga, Ala. Their car was hurled into the air and landed upright eight feet from the road.

How Young Lady's Health Improved

THOUSANDS of cases, like described below, have been reported in which better health followed the use of Cardui by women:
"When I was a young girl," writes Mrs. W. H. Ginn, of Milroy, Ind., "I was delicate, thin and pale. I was nervous, at times. My mother knew of Cardui and thought it would be a good thing for me to take. I took three bottles and my health improved a great deal. My mother was pleased. I kept on taking it for a while. I have been in good health ever since."

Postal Clerk Says Earthquake Will Visit Coast Area

YOAKUM, Texas.—L. G. Wade, a postal employe here who has successfully predicted five earthquakes in 18 months as a result of his hobby of studying such earth movements, warned today that tremors may be expected at any time along the Louisiana and Texas gulf coast.

With only a high school education, Wade has evolved the theory that the prediction of tremors rests upon the composition of matter which responds to variations in gravitation and magnetic influence. Gravitation and magnetic attraction are both governed by the rotation and weight of earth matter, Wade theorizes. If a certain matter is shifted, Wade maintains there would be a decrease in the force of gravitation along the area where the shift occurs.

Using his theory, Wade reports that the coastal area of Texas and Louisiana now appear to be shifting to the southeast, with a source of pressure from the underground strata to the northwest. These conditions cause him to predict a quake in this region in the near future.

Although Wade has been able to accurately forecast five tremors in 19 months, he says it is not yet possible to determine future occurrences to the exact minute and hour. He believes he can define the area where they will occur and fix the time within a few months or a year, however.

By the use of his theory, Wade wrote an article in the spring of 1931 predicting that tremors would be felt in Southwest Texas in the fall of 1931.

On Sunday morning, Aug. 16, 1931, earth tremors rumbled through Southwest Texas, with the most severe shocks being felt at Valentine.

A year previously, this amateur scientist announced that he had discovered an area subject to immediate tremors in western Oklahoma. He prepared an article about it and had it copyrighted Dec. 10, 1929. Nineteen days later a quake occurred in the area he defined.

Wade's explanation of the Valentine quake is that a slow and continuous decline of an elevated area comprising several counties to the north and east of Valentine met irresistible strata formations existing in a curve around the Big Bend, in Mexico.

These forced the slipping area back to the northwest, where they encountered the main break near Valentine, he explained.

SPEAKING of SPORTS

By STUART CAMERON, United Press Sports Editor. Keen Competition Due For 1,500-Meter Places. Olympic rules provide that each nation may not enter more than three contestants for each event. The rule, of course, is eminently fair, but it will only serve to augment the troubles of the United States officials charged with selecting this nation's competitors.

Especially will the task be a difficult one when 1,500-meter choices are made. Everyone expects to see Gene Zenzke, Pennsylvania high school student, be named as No. 1 man. His world record indoor run of 4:10 for the mile has made it appear his selection will be a certainty.

But what of the two other places? Eastern track fans have nominated Norwood Penrose Halliwell, Jr., or, rather his victory in the I. C. A. A. A. indoor championship caused the nomination.

Now look at the other runners who cannot be counted out of the competition: Carl Coan of the University of Pennsylvania, Ralph Hill of Oregon, Ray Conger of the Illinois A. C., Leo Lermond of the New York A. C., Frank Crowley of Manhattan college, Rufus Kiser of Washington. All of these runners have done miles in figures approximating 4:14, and some of them have considerably improved that time.

It's entirely possible that Lermond and Conger are run out. However, Olympic team places are not decided in a single race. When Zenzke and Halliwell might be counted on to win one wild run to decide team membership, it is reasonable to expect the veterans, Lermond and Conger, might have the necessary staying power to win out in a series of tests.

If Zenzke and Halliwell should fail to place on the basis of U. S. Olympic tryout tests, this country's officials would be in a pretty pickle. Especially would this apply to Zenzke, or Halliwell, or both.

If the latter course were followed, and if the runner, or runners, so chosen should finish the Olympic 1500 well back with the also-rans—but you know the rest. A field day would have been created for the second guessers.

Work to start soon on Highway No. 119 in Goliad county.—Runge, Karnes County News.

EAGER TO TELL ABOUT HER STOMACH

"I want to tell others about my experience with Doan's Pills," says Mrs. B. Eastman, 1200 California St., Denver, Colo. "I tried a lot of things for my indigestion, but none of them did any good. Then a friend persuaded me to take a few tablets of this wonderful preparation. Now I even eat cabbage without any distress afterwards. It used to cause real suffering. I am not nearly so nervous as I used to be; feel much stronger and better in every way. A medicine must have real merit to bring forth enthusiastic statements like this. And when not one, but hundreds, even thousands, are telling the same story of success, there seems no reason to doubt the day-in and day-out reliability of Doan's Pills to help stomach sufferers. These harmless, candy-like tablets relieve the heartburn, nausea, gas, belching, headaches, dizziness and other symptoms of indigestion."

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS By Blosser

Nevada Woman May Attack Gammig Laws

By United Press. RENO, Nev.—"Open Reno" may not be so open next year should a group of influential ladies in all parts of the state have their way about repealing the state's open gambling law.

An under-cover movement, on the part of the Women's Christian Temperance union and various women's clubs, to refer the gambling law, is now under way.

The W. C. T. U. will have a state convention at Las Vegas in April and no one would be surprised if the referendum movement is started at that time.

No Official Action. Although no official action has been taken, it is probable, according to well-informed observers, that the Nevada Federation of Women's Clubs will join in the movement.

There are only 300 members of the W. C. T. U. in the state—not a sufficient number to cause professional gamblers to get gray-haired over night. The Federation of Women's Clubs, however, is another matter. There are 3,000 on the roll call.

All members of the W. C. T. U. are opposed to the open gambling bill and at least 90 per cent of the Federation of Women's Clubs members. Combined, that is a powerful block of votes in a state of less than 100,000.

Women Oppose Gambling. The result is in the lap of the gods just as surely as chance is involved in a dice game. Most of

The dime-a-dance girl

BEGIN HERE TODAY Ellen Rossiter, beautiful 20-year-old, loves Larry Harrowgate, young artist. When he becomes engaged to another girl, Ellen agrees to marry Steven Barclay, 37 years old and wealthy. Her impoverished family is indebted to Barclay. Barclay has been married before. A scandal accompanied his Mexican divorce from Leda Grayson, a dancer. To avoid notoriety Ellen and Barclay are secretly married. They drive to his Long Island home, deserted except for Fergus, a butler. There Barclay suffers a heart attack. Louis Symes, Barclay's lawyer, arrives with doctors and nurses. Barclay dies at dawn.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XLIII

"Of course I'd want to tell him about Steven," Ellen went on, "though if I thought telling him would destroy his faith, I might destroy my happiness we might otherwise build up together, I wouldn't tell."

"My child, you've grown up," Symes told her a little sadly. The next day, Sunday, ushered in the first of the autumn rains. All day long the rain came down. Late in the afternoon Myra and Bert, bundled into slickers and galoshes, called at the old apartment. They carried damp, heavy armloads of Sunday newspapers.

There was nothing about Steven Barclay in the news columns but in one of the society sections Ellen found a picture of Larry, an old picture badly reproduced. Seeing this she was seized with sharp longing for him to hear his gay voice and careless laugh.

When on one was observing her Ellen tore out the picture. "Ha!" Myra exclaimed significantly.

Ellen whirled. Her color deepened and she had an impulse to hide the picture but she did not. She only stood flushing furiously, the picture pressed against her heart.

"I was wondering if you'd do that," Myra observed, a wise smile on her lips. "I saw the picture, too."

"Why shouldn't I?" Ellen demanded in a trembling, half defiant way.

"No reason at all, my dear. Here's wishing you all the luck in the world!"

"It doesn't really seem right for me to be thinking of Larry, does it?" Ellen asked timidly.

"Goodness Myra ejaculated. "Have you learned yet that love has nothing to do with right and wrong? The person who said all's fair in love and war understood that."

Ellen crossed the room and sank to the footstool at Myra's feet. She threw her head back so that it touched her sister's knee and stared into the blue and orange glow of the gas log. Delightfully she let her thoughts center on Larry.

"Maybe I've learned now," she said dreamily, after a long silence. She added, "I suppose it's right that it should be that way and right that the world should go on. Everything was so horrible at first I couldn't seem to remember Steven at all. The whole thing was mixed up with misery and shame and the horrible, horrible way I felt when I found out what had happened. Now I know I'll never forget Steven or how kind he was, how generous, how good."

"That hasn't anything to do with the way you feel about Larry," Myra interrupted. "No, I guess it hasn't."

Both girls were silent and then Myra said abruptly, "Did Mr. Symes tell you how the suits between Mrs. Harrowgate and Leda Grayson have been settled? Which one's to get Steven's money?"

"He told me they'll probably settle out of court," Ellen responded in vague, uninterested way. "Steven's last will, the last one he signed, left most of his money to his sister but I guess Leda Grayson, as his widow—she seems to be accepted as his widow—probably has a claim on some of it."

"You aren't sorry about that?" Myra asked curiously. Ellen considered. "It would have been nice to be rich," she admitted honestly. "Nice" for mother and for Mike. Still I'm glad I didn't take any money. It makes the whole thing seem better somehow—makes it easier to forget and that's what I want to do."

"You've done that already," Myra hazarded. Ellen returned to Dreamland and danced again. Salomon rejoiced at the chance to regain her services. None of the other hostesses were inquisitive about what she had been doing—none, that is, except Tony. Tony was difficult with her teasing, persistent questions but Ellen only told her that she had changed her mind about being married. After a while Tony reluctantly let the matter drop there.

Ellen found the evening long. A light and feverish restlessness seized her when she heard the familiar voices, saw the familiar setting and familiar faces. As she danced again and again and girl made of marble. Someone dropped into the chair opposite. For the moment Ellen was blind and deaf. She heard Larry's voice and slowly raised her head. He was sitting across the table from her in the place he had so often occupied. As always her hurt pride could not resist him.

"Larry," she whispered. He leaned toward her and caught her clenched hands. He was laughing excitedly as if he himself did not know why he laughed. His eyes were bright as the girl's.

"It's wonderful to see you again," he exclaimed over and over.

How to Escape FLU and Grippe

- 1 Avoid so far as possible the places where flu germs are most likely to be spread; over-crowded cars and public meeting places; overheated, stuffy rooms.
2 Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughers and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air, but avoid drafts or chilling.
3 Get lots of rest. Drink plenty of water. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have normal resistance against germs.
4 Try, particularly, to avoid catching cold. Colds lower your resistance to disease germs. At the first sign of any cold, take Bayer Aspirin; remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. And if you have a sore throat, dissolve some Bayer Aspirin tablets in water and gargle; this relieves the soreness, and it usually reduces the inflammation.
5 If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of flu, call your doctor at once.

RANGER HIGH SCHOOL NOTES MISS JEWELLE JUDD, Editor

Senior Class Max "Kid" Day The Senior class today had their "Kid Day" which is held each year by members of the Senior class. On this day all seniors dress and act as "kidish" as they wish. Ladies and gentlemen, I will now give you a brief review of the characters of the Kid Day of the famous senior class of 1932 of Ranger High school. On with the show! First we see Mary Jane Driehoffer, who looks as simple and childishly sweet as a baby, in her red and white schoolgirl dress. She makes all the men sigh and say, "Oh, for my youth again." But look! Here the comic strips came to life! Steven (Roy Stevens) looks just like "Stinky Davis" and Bob King seems to have just stepped out of "Dot Our Way." Catherine Martin with her dog, "Sandy," says the "No Dogs Allowed" sign doesn't concern her, and Crystal Head is thinking about joining a show with her educated "Fido." Willie Williams is a typical "Mickey McGuire." Majorie Clark must have mixed her words and called dog "doney" but she persists in carrying "Janet" everywhere she goes. Marie Jones makes an excellent "Tomboy Taylor," beware you boys! Louise Cunningham says one thing she has learned in high school is "not to say 'ain't' cause it ain't right." Take notice! We have other famous children among us. Norman Davenport, who could double for Jackie Coogan in "Ragman's Son." And too, Louise Harris says she is the child the fireman saved. Which fireman, Louise?

NOVACK KEEPS MAT TITLE IN BOUT MONDAY

Bobby Novack, national junior welterweight wrestling champion, Monday night successfully defended his title in a match with Benny Wilson of Brownwood, champion of the 36th division, Texas National Guards. The match was hard fought throughout, Novack winning the first fall in 28 minutes, 30 seconds, losing the second in a little over five minutes and winning the third in slightly under five minutes. The two wrestlers struggled for an advantage for more than 20 minutes on the first fall before Novack won with a Japanese leg split. The second fall went to Wilson when he put Novack to sleep by some jiu-jitsu hold. Novack revived for the third fall and after wrestling but a few minutes he slammed Wilson to the floor, falling on him and pinning his shoulders to the mat. In the preliminaries, Louise Arnett, 14-year-old girl, boxed three fast and snappy rounds with Forest Donley. The two youngsters showed surprising ability in boxing and the bout was one of the best that has been seen in a local ring in some time. The bout was called a draw and the fans were well satisfied with the decision. Sam Matlock, 160 pounder of Breckenridge, won on a foul from Joe Thomas, 160, of Abilene in the sixth round of a scheduled five round bout. Matlock had been making a good showing against his opponent throughout the fight until the last round, when he seemed to be getting the worse of the going. Thomas had been warned twice about using a "rabbit punch" and in the sixth round, with Matlock out on his feet, he was given the bout on a foul because of another of the illegal blows. His seconds had some trouble in getting his head cleared so he could leave the ring. The curtain raiser between two negro boys was enjoyed by the fans. Though both were worn out before the bout was over, they were still trying to slug, without much success, at the final going. Ralph Pancake won a decision over C. W. Wickham of Oklahoma City. Pancake had a decided advantage over his opponent, who seldom mixed it with his opponent.

Blind University Wrestler Proves a Fine Mat Man

SEATTLE, Wash.—A chat with Howard "Bill" Dent, blind heavy-weight wrestler of the University of Washington, convinces one that most any disability can be overcome where will and intelligence are applied. The 19-year-old, 184-pound youth is an excellent wrestler. He asks no quarter. He is not buffeted around the ring by flying tackles, nor do opponents sneak behind him. Dent lost the sight of one eye when 4 and was totally blind at 7. Yet he is an eagle scout and instructed many boys in camp in swimming and other sports. "I got kick out of wrestling," he explained. "These fellows who tear into you are easy," he added. "Ordinarily they have only one hold. Stop that and you have them." "I worked for two weeks perfecting a defense against butts and flying tackles. As soon as I shake hands with my man I assume a rather low crouch with my left leg up. Opponents don't get back of me because a fellow keeps moving on the mat and I back up when I know a wrestler is trying to get behind me." Dent took up wrestling against advice of his father. The parent said, "The more I opposed it—the more determined he was to succeed." The youth plans to become a lawyer. He is a fine student. He can read the Braille system for the blind but ordinarily his texts are read to him.

SPANISH SOCIALISTS TO VOTE

MADRID—The number of paid-up members of the General Union of Workers (Union General de Trabajadores) is now more than 165,000. Only a fraction of these belong at the same time to the Socialist party, but since their general orders emanate from the same sources, the Socialists can fully count upon that many persons at any given time. In the case of future elections—the first to be held in Spain with woman's suffrage—the Socialists believe that they will poll heavily with the wives and daughters of the Union members.

YOUTHS PASS RESOLUTION

ST. LOUIS—More than 1,000 youths, representing Catholic high schools, colleges and St. Louis university here, are on record as believing "hat Mother's place is in the home." A resolution to that effect was passed at a meeting. It said in part: "Be it resolved, that the Catholic students of this city bend their efforts to remedy present conditions that prevent the realization of this ideal." SABINAL—Twenty cars grain shipped from here recently.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY, N.E.A. Service Writer CHOCOLATE is one of the most popular flavors the cook has at hand and, cleverly used, will make many an otherwise uninteresting dessert attractive. Aside from this, chocolate is a good food and contributes many calories to any dish to which it is added. On account of its composition, chocolate and chocolate mixtures scorch quickly. For this reason, don't try to melt chocolate over direct heat. Put the chocolate on a piece of wax paper in a saucepan and place over hot water until melted. The paper can be thrown away and the dish is easily washed. You may have had much trouble in combining chocolate and liquids. Try melting the chocolate in top of a double boiler over hot water, then add the liquid, which should be warm or about the same temperature as the chocolate. Add very slowly, heating constantly. Do not cut out the chocolate in small bits and put it in the double boiler with cold liquid. Place over hot but not boiling water and heat slowly so that the chocolate will melt as fast as the liquid heats. Add with a rotary egg beater until the mixture is smooth and perfectly blended. Chocolate Bread Pudding Chocolate bread pudding is very little trouble to make and exceedingly good. Two cups stale bread crumbs, 2 cups milk, 2 squares butter chocolate, 2-3 cup granulated sugar, 1 egg, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla. Soak bread in scalded milk for thirty minutes. Melt chocolate over hot water, add half the sugar and enough milk taken from the

Add to bread and milk mixture with remaining sugar, salt, vanilla and egg slightly beaten. Turn into a buttered pudding dish and bake forty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with hard sauce or whipped cream. Chocolate Rice Pudding Chocolate rice pudding is a good, nourishing dessert for young and old. One-third cup rice, 2 cups milk 1 tablespoon butter, 1 egg, 1-4 cup granulated sugar, 1 square butter chocolate, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla. Scald milk in top of double boiler, add rice, salt and butter and cook until rice is soft. Add chocolate, cut in small pieces and sugar. Cook until chocolate is melted. Add yolk of egg well beaten and remove from fire. Fold in white of egg beaten until stiff and dry. Add vanilla and turn into a buttered pudding dish. Bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven and serve warm with sugar and cream. Dates or raisins can be added with the chocolate if wanted.

BERLIN.—The Ralph Beaver Strassburger Foundation in Germany, which each year awards a prize of $1,000 for the best work in the German language contributing toward German-American good will, has this year presented the prize to Walter Reinhardt, former German consul in Seattle, Wash., for his biography "George Washington," which has just appeared. The jury consisted of George Count von Arco, Dr. K. O. Hertling, Prof. Albert Einstein, Thomas Mann, Dr. Heinrich Simon, Jakob Wassermann and Stefan Zweig. The prize was awarded in connection with the Washington bi-centennial, and the jury praised Reinhardt's clear presentation of the facts of Washington's life in a manner which would create better understanding among Germans of the origins and development of America. The Ralph Beaver Strassburger Foundation was created in 1930 when Mr. Strassburger was on a visit to Germany.
