PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

Early this week we read a short news dispatch that made us feel really sorry for a couple of seven-year-old kids and their dog "Spotty." Maybe some of the clients of this column saw the same story, but it may not have had the same effect on them as it did on us. The story impressed us so much that we clipped it with the intention of commenting on it. It read:

"OKLAHOMA CITY, March 22. (UP)—Day Felzer, Jr., and Bobby Oliver, both seven, felt sorry for their dog 'Spotty,' as he shivered in the raw March wind.

"So they took the puppy into a garage. But he still shivered. Bobby got some matches, filled a can with straw and struck the match.

"A sheet of flame shot from the partially dry gasoline can.

"The boys barely escaped from the burning garage with their lives. Before the fire department arrived two garages and one house burned, and 'Spotty's' body was found in the charred ruins.

"The story made more of an impression on us than it would have if the two boys had been playing with matches and had burned two garages and a house. We imagined the little spotted dog shivering in the cold and the two boys feeling sorry for him because he was so cold and trying to start a fire to keep him warm.

"No doubt they had wanted to take Spotty in the house on other occasions when they thought he was cold, but their parents objected because they did not understand boys and dogs. No doubt the two lads received spankings for burning the two garages and got not a bit of sympathy from their parents for the tragedy that was enacted—the burning to death of their dearest playmate.

"Maybe that is getting a little too sentimental over a boy and a dog but there has always been a soft spot in our heart for a kid and his dog. They seem to understand each other so well and have such wonderful times together.

"No doubt Spotty will be a fond memory of these two boys long after they have grown up. They may have other dogs, but none, no matter what the breed, if any, will compare to Spotty. They will remember the way he licked their hands and faces and the way he ran to meet them, overjoyed at seeing them again.

"It would have been a real tragedy to the parents of the two boys if the youngsters themselves had burned to death, but that would possibly have been little worse to the two boys than the loss of Spotty.

Just Resting

"Feeling better, thanks," was Mayor James J. Walker when this picture was taken of the New York chief executive at Hot Springs, Va. He was taking a rest cure, prescribed by physicians. That's the mayor's Japanese spaniel, "Admiral Togo," who's regarding the cameraman so haughtily.

STUDENTS OF MANY SCHOOLS ARE ON HAND

Track and Field Events To Be Held All Day Saturday.

Between 1,500 and 2,000 pupils from schools all over the county had gathered in Cisco today at noon for the preliminaries for the Eastland county interscholastic tennis meet.

Preliminaries were held this morning in junior girls' declamation as well as for high schools and rural schools. Sammie Ruth Matthews of Hodges Oak Park, Ranger, won second place in this event. First place was taken by Cisco. Dorris Lawrence of Eastland took third place.

The South Ward rhythm band of South Ward, Eastland, took first place, winning over the rhythm band from Rising Star.

Hodges Oak Park, Ranger, Young school, Ranger, South Ward, Eastland, and Colony, were tied at noon for first place in the picture memory contests. Many entrants from all over the county entered this contest and the competition was keen.

Preliminaries in senior track and field events were being held in the afternoon for high schools and rural high schools. Many contestants from over the entire county were present this morning, ready to take part in the preliminaries in the athletic events.

Finals in the athletic events will start at Cisco Saturday morning and will continue throughout the day.

A SMILE OF COURAGE

The smile that pretty Ann Booker once turned upon crowds that watched her daring dives, hasn't faded her now that she is confined to an invalid's bed at Miami Beach, Fla. Her back was broken during a dive in Vienna, Austria, last summer, and now doctors fear she may be permanently crippled.

OFFICERS SAY RING WORKING IN THIS AREA

Three Bogus $5 Bills Are Found On Man By Federal Men.

A man giving his name as C. Clark of Rising Star, was arrested in Cisco this morning by federal officers in connection with the alleged passing of counterfeit bills in the city of Cisco. No charges had been filed on Clark at noon today, but he was being detained in the city jail on a charge of drunkenness.

Three $5 bills, said by federal officers to be counterfeit, are alleged to have been found on Clark at the time of his arrest. He is said by the officers to have passed two other worthless bills on citizens of Cisco.

Belief was expressed by officers in Cisco today that the man was a member of a counterfeit ring that has been operating in this part of the country for some time. They have been checking up on the activities of the alleged ring for several months and the arrest today is thought to be the forerunner of other arrests.

The bills found on Clark were described as being well engraved but poorly printed. It was believed that the engraving had been done by some street counterfeiter and the plates turned over to the local counterfeiting ring for printing.

Just Dropped In

Here's one passenger who was on the liner He de France when it docked in New York the other day, but wasn't aboard when the ship left France. He's Pierre Vanlaer, wealthy French amateur aviator, whose plane dived into the English channel when he was saluting departing friends from the air. The ship's crew rescued him and he was brought to America on an unexpected visit.

JURY BRINGS IN VERDICT AT 10 TODAY

Was Second Conviction Of Murder In Slaying of Dunson.

The jury in the Oscar Privett trial returned a verdict of guilty today at 10 a. m. and placed his punishment at 50 years in the state penitentiary. The case was given to the jury late Thursday.

Frank Sparks of Eastland and L. H. Flewelling of Ranger, attorneys for the defense, announced today that they would file a motion for a new trial and if not granted they would file an appeal to the court of criminal appeals at Austin. The defense attorneys today said that they thought they had a good chance of getting a reversal before the appeals court.

Privett was previously convicted of the slaying of Melvin Dunson in Ranger in 1926. At his first trial he was given 30 years and an appeal the case was reversed and remanded. The 50-year penalty was given at his second trial.

Many witnesses for the defense took the stand and testified that Privett was in their opinion of sub-normal mentality. Several of the witnesses also testified that they believed many of the Privett family were also below normal mentality.

Privett took the stand in his own defense and testified that he killed Dunson because he believed he had planned to kill Privett and because of trouble between Dunson and a sister of Privett's.

The defendant was alleged to have asked the Dunson boy to go with him to hunt for a house, and killed him near the crossing of the Texas & Pacific and J. K. Hamon railways, near the outskirts of Ranger.

A confession, said to have been signed by Privett at the time of his arrest in Ranger and a letter alleged to have been written by the defendant in his other stating that he had killed a man, were introduced as evidence in the trial.

Shoots at Radio, Kills a Divorcee

CHICAGO, March 25.—Dorothy Evelyn Renshaw, 23, Sioux City, Iowa, a divorcee, was killed in a shooting today when a customer fired at a radio because he didn't like the music and the bullet went wild.

Miss Renshaw, daughter of a United States Deputy Marshal at Sioux City, died in a hospital where she was taken by Frank Taggart, who admitted he was one of the owners of the boot fit.

Search was started for Earl McDowell, one of the patrons of the speakeasy, who Taggart told police, killed Miss Renshaw with the help of a half dozen shots he aimed in drunken anger at the radio.

LEGION POST OPPOSES ACT OF W. T. C. C.

At the regular meeting of the Carl Barnes post of the American Legion, held at the Legion hall, Ranger, Thursday night, the post went on record as condemning the action of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in stating that the directors had voted to go on record as opposing the payment of the balance of the amount due on adjusted service certificates.

It was brought out in the discussion that the Ranger director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Jess Meroney, had never been contacted to see what stand he took in the matter and that the body was acting on a matter with which it has no concern.

At the time the fire department arrived the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to prevent total loss of the house and furniture.

Fire Destroys Ranger Home Early Friday

The home of Grady Jennings, Pershing street, Ranger, was completely destroyed by fire Friday morning about 12:30. No one was at home at the time of the fire.

No alarm was turned in to the Ranger fire department until the blaze had gained such headway that it was seen in the business night patrolman, who turned in the section of town by Guy Plogder, alarm.

By the time the fire department arrived the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to prevent total loss of the house and furniture.

Thurber Golfers To Play Ranger

Members of the Thurber golf team, association of the Oil Belt Golf Association for 1931, will give the course of the Ranger Country club Sunday afternoon in the first match of the season between the two teams.

Each team has played one match of the 1932 season to date, Ranger winning from the Phil-Pe-Co Country club by a score of 19 to 13 and Thurber losing to Mineral Wells by a score of 15 to 13.

A. Neill, president of the Ranger Country club, has issued an invitation for visitors to be present at the golf course Sunday afternoon to watch the matches and has assured all that they will be cordially welcomed. All members of the club are also urged to be present and take part in the matches as a large number of players is expected to make the trip from Thurber.

Eastland will open the 1932 season on Sunday, when members of the Eastland Golf and Country club will journey over to the Dynamic City to play the Breckenridge Country club. Breckenridge has played one match this year, losing to Cisco by a score of 8 to 7.

Sub-Committee Has Tax Measure

WASHINGTON, March 25.—A sub-committee from the rank and file of the house ways and means committee, was appointed today to work out a plan of taxation to be submitted in place of the sales tax now eliminated from the billion dollar revenue bill.

The rank and file members yesterday defeated the sales tax which was sponsored by leaders of both parties.

Anti Hoarding Is Called a Success

FORT WORTH, March 25.—The anti-hoarding campaign in Texas was declared a success by A. P. Barrett, chairman of the drive, who cited increases in bank deposits, trade revival and a general trend toward business confidence as evidence.

An encouraging sign, he said, was the absence of bank failures in Texas during the last month. Prior to opening the drive, he pointed out, an average of one bank failure a week had been reported for more than a year.

Eastland to Hold School Election

The annual election of the Eastland Independent School District will be held Saturday, April 2 election. Those members whose names are to be selected at the April 2 election. Those members whose terms expire, but who have consented to become candidates for re-election are Frank T. Crowell, Jno. M. Mosser and K. E. Tanner. Holdovers will be Geo. Brogdon, Milburn McCarty, Guy Parker and Grady Pipkin.

Names for places on the ticket must be filed with the board secretary, C. A. Hertig, not later than the first day of April.

Big Liquor Haul Made By Officers

STAMFORD, Conn., March 25.—A seagoing tug, many trucks and automobiles and assorted liquors valued at more than $250,000, were seized today when police surprised a rum runner's landing party. Fifty men were arrested. Stevedores were marching in a steady procession from the tug to trucks. Seven trucks loaded with champagne, whiskey and assorted fine liquors, stood on shore. Empty trucks were ready to be filled.

Lewis Pope of White Plains, N. Y., allegedly in charge was among those arrested.

Thug Victim Names Rescuer In Will

DETROIT, Mich.—A kind deed pays, according to Walter W. Ewing, drapery hanger, here.

Eight years ago Ewing rescued H. L. Douglas from two thugs on a Los Angeles street. He and Douglas, a real estate owner, became friends. Then, Ewing moved here and the contact was broken.

But Douglas didn't forget. Ewing has received word that Douglas is dead. He left part of his fortune to the man who befriended him.

Free Cooking School Opens On April 5th

On Tuesday, April 5, a cooking school will start in Ranger under the supervision of Miss Zella Allen, noted cooking expert, and sponsored by the Ranger Times.

Miss Allen is one of the best known cooking instructors in the country and has had wide experience in conducting cooking schools of this kind over a long period.

The school will be absolutely free to all who wish to attend and there are no prizes to be offered, and nothing you will have to buy. Every lady of the trade territory of Ranger, either from the towns or the rural communities, are invited to be present on Tuesday, April 5, for the opening of the school and are urged to attend as many sessions as possible.

Miss Allen will give many valuable tips to the housewife and will have many new recipes for use around the home.

COMMISSIONERS TO MEET WITH TAX ASS'N.

County Judge C. L. Garrett, County Commissioners V. V. Cooper, Ranger; Birt Brittain, Cisco; Gilford Gray, Gorman; and J. D. Shearley, Rising Star, together with County Auditor W. S. Michael, have been invited by the Eastland County Taxpayers Association to meet with members of the association at the courthouse in Eastland on the afternoon of April 2 for the purpose of discussing together the financial affairs of the County.

It is presumed that Judge Garrett, the commissioners and Mr. Michael will accept the invitation, however nothing has come from them so far regarding the matter.

The invitation to the county officials named to attend the April 2 meeting and take part in the discussion of county financial affairs was extended by the County Taxpayers' association at its last meeting in Eastland.

At a recent meeting of the Association among other resolutions adopted were one asking the commissioners court to not make any contrast for the collection of delinquent taxes and if one was already in effect to cancel same if possible. Another resolution asked the court to take steps to obtain some manner of relief for the taxpayers on county bonds and to reduce county expenditures as much as possible.

Well Known Texas Mason Is Dead

COMMERCE, Texas, March 25. Aubrey H. Goff, 45, well known in Texas Masonic circles, died here today.

Funeral services will be held here Sunday afternoon.

Oxford Movie Merger Ideal

LONDON.—If Oxford and Hollywood could form a merger, America would have better movies and Britain better business men, in the opinion of R. C. Sherriff, English dramatist.

Sherriff, who wrote the famous war play, "Journey's End," has been studying the Oxford undergraduates, but now is on the way to California to write for the screen. He is not very enthusiastic about it.

"I admit to think that this is probably the last time I shall ever speak in English," he remarked to his Oxford classmates just before he left for Hollywood.

"There is a great gulf between our seats of learning and our popular amusement factories. It would be possible to spend three years at Oxford and never officially realize there was a talking picture. And one could certainly spend 30 years in talking picture production without realizing there was such a place as Oxford.

"I admire the commercial acumen of Hollywood, but it cannot offer artistic or mental nourishment. The movies may become more cultured—but I do not suggest there will ever be a Greta Garbo chair at Oxford, or a Pella Negri scholarship at Cambridge."

Pastor Not In On Lindbergh Case

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 25.—The morning press statement of the police in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping case said:

"The Rev. Dobson Peacock and two other citizens of Norfolk, Va., are not negotiating for the return of the Lindbergh baby so far as police know. They visited Col. Lindbergh Wednesday night, gave his information, which on being investigated, was found to have no specific bearing on the investigation. There has been no report made to the police as to the finding of any piece of the baby's clothing.

"We have had no negotiations with any underworld character and the police have no knowledge of any arrangements made with them."

Times Covers a Large Territory With Issue Today

Thurber, Mingo, Strawn, Granttown and all the Ranger trade territory is being covered today, as on every Friday, by the Ranger Times.

Merchants today have advertisements in the paper, because they know that in this manner they can reach the largest possible number of readers and give their advertising the widest distribution at a nominal cost.

Throughout the territory readers of The Times will have their papers delivered to their doors, just as they are delivered by the city carriers. In this way the greatest possible service to both the buyers and the merchants who advertise is rendered.

Proposed Tax On Beer Is Defeated

WASHINGTON, March 25.—A proposal for a tax on beer was defeated in the House today after wetts had made a spectacular demonstration with demands for the abolition of prohibition.

Tickville Band On Elks Broadcast

Dr. Harry A. Logsdon of Ranger, president of the Texas Elks State association, has announced that an Elks program will be broadcast from Fort Worth tonight at 10:35.

In addition to a number of speakers, who will talk on Elksdom, the American Legion, Tickville band will render selections between talks.

Ranger Rifle Club to Shoot Sunday

Jim Ingram, president of the American Legion Rifle club, announced today that a shoot would be held at the rifle range on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

At a meeting of the club members, held Thursday night, it was decided to hold the shoot. All members of the club are invited to be present Sunday and take part in the rifle, pistol and shotgun events.

GERMANS HIGHLY VALUE THE FRANCHISE

It will be recalled that the total vote for Von Hindenburg for renomination was 18,661,736 out of 37,660,377 cast for all presidential candidates. Von Hindenburg fell just 167,752 short of getting a majority. He expects to be re-elected at the run-off April 10. Germany has a population of 63,000,000. It will be recalled that the population of the United States is approximately 120,000,000. In 1928 in the bitterest presidential contest in American history less than one-third of the population of the United States was drawn to the polls and yet only 36,879,414 votes were cast for all presidential candidates in that year, or 780,963 less than all the German candidates received. Suffrage is universal in Germany just as it is in the United States. In Germany all men and women over 21 are permitted to vote without any property qualifications or other limits. Polling places are carefully guarded and there has been no changes of fraud in the German presidential election. Really, the German voter must look upon the franchise as a sworn duty and not a flimsy responsibility. There is direct action in Germany. In other words, a direct ballot without the electoral college cumbersome system of decision.

CHINA PAVES THE WAY FOR PEACE

China has had enough. Chinese officials have made a concession to Japan. This concession consists of a decision to drop the anti-Japanese boycott during the formal armistice and subsequent round table peace negotiations said to be on the way. Whenever the Chinese institute a boycott against foreign goods or a foreign government, they boycott to destroy. Should peace come the boycott would be continued and the Chinese government would be powerless to prevent it.

Gandhi is in prison. Mrs. Gandhi is in prison. Hundreds of Gandhi's followers are behind the jail bars. Is the Indian boycott of British goods dead? Hardly. British textile manufacturers are being boycotted as they never were before under the skies of India. Chinese are fatalists. Japanese are fatalists. East Indians are fatalists. They always turn the other cheek, but a boycott never dies in those strange lands of the Orient.

WHY SHOULD THE BAN BE LIFTED?

Hearings on the Cutting bill to admit alien pacifists to citizenship is on before the senate immigration committee. The bill would lift the present citizenship ban on aliens who declined to take the oath to bear arms in defense of the United States. Why the discrimination in favor of the aliens who wish citizenship honor but refuse to pledge themselves to bear arms for their adopted country should a war of invasion or a war of protection come in the future? There is a vast number of Americans who believe that a man who will not fight for his country, native or adopted, should be permitted to worry along without a country and without a flag.

MANY NEW USES FOR METAL

This is the machine age and the laboratories of the world are ever busy. The latest is a felt coated steel, a new material and it is said the felt coating of metal opens a world of new commercial possibilities. It means that for many practical uses steel can be covered with all sorts of protective or practical finishes, even to the imitation of a silken surface. Steel houses are on the way. This is the age of scientific achievements. There is no telling just what will happen next.

WHERE THE BIBLE CANNOT BE SOLD ON SUNDAY

Maryland, one of the wettest of states, has its blue laws. A police magistrate in the city of Baltimore ruled that it is a blue law offense to sell a Bible on Sunday. The culprit was making a house to house canvass for buyers of the Bible and religious tracts. A charge against him was working on Sundays. This is what the police magistrate said: "If you want to sell it, do it on week days, not on Sundays." Then he dismissed the culprit.

There are thousands of dead laws on the statute books of American commonwealths that should be repealed and thrown in the ash can.

AN ANCIENT HOARDER OF COINS

Money a century old came back to light in Easton, Pa., when a man made a purchase of a store, proffering silver coins apparently unused for many decades. Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, head of the national "hoarded" money drivers, has thoroughly convinced himself that his campaigning has placed $150,000,000 of hoarded coin in circulation and that economic conditions are improving at a rapid rate.

Colonel Knox is a newspaper publisher. He knows the value of publicity. He knows the value of political advertising. He coyly admits that he has driven fear from the hearts of millions and that the Dawes reconstruction credit corporation is working wonders in many sections of the republic. Give him a hand.

DR. VOLSTEAD SIDESTEPS A NOMINATION

Dr. Andrew Volstead, for whom the federal prohibition enforcement statute was named, sidestepped a presidential nomination in double quick time. He refused to be a favorite son of Minnesota. He declared himself completely out of politics, said that he would not be a candidate for president under any consideration, even as the representative for the dry-drys. Dr. Volstead's name is a household word. He is known everywhere under the American sun. He is well fixed financially. He has had his share of political honors. Now he is willing to sit by the side of the road and let the political procession pass by. Wise man.

CIGARET SMOKERS ARE PUBLIC BENEFACTORS

For the first eight months of the fiscal year American cigaret smokers paid into the federal treasury $211,767,796. This was a drop of $25,458,795. Manufactured tobacco continued the downward trend. Playing cards followed the upward trend established with a total of 5,524,156 packs in February, an increase of 430,000 packs over a year ago. Bride continues to be the favorite game of cigar playing Americans. The cigaret smoker is scorched by nation and state and is running neck and neck with the American gasoline taxpayer for place.

Taking Him for a Walk!

GRIPINGS

By GUS

This column is published as a daily feature and may not be construed as representing the editorial views of this paper. What follows is merely what one man thought at the time it was written, and the writer reserves the right to change his mind concerning any subject, without notice, explanation or apology.

Hello, world! Now don't go way. Dog-gone you! This is station B.L.A.H., operating on our assigned frequency of umpteen kilocycles under authority of the federal balloon commission. Are you listening? Your announcer for today is one of the hired hands of none other than little ole Gus the Griper, recognized by his contemporaries as the greatest free style griper of all time. The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Glutz, the celebrated philosopher and what have you, who acquired his world-wide fame from peeping through key holes, and who has been residing incognito in the vicinity of the Egg Basket for several moons. Stand by while the mike is lowered to best suit the stooped stature of the doctor, who acquired this position from his occupation of peeping through key holes. O. K. Dr. Glutz.

Thank you, Mr. Hired Hand, for your most gathering introduction, and I wish to say, folk, that it is indeed my pleasure to peep through the many interesting key holes of this fair city. I am reminded on this occasion of a bed-time story; but we won't go into that now, as I have something far more important to discuss. I am sure you have read in the papers where our candidate for mayor has three opponents in the field, which has made our candidate more or less downhearted and on top of that Mrs. Reed has forbidden Herbert's smoking and he has brought the rest of his bad smelling pipes to the office, which makes it hard for us to stay in his office long enough to discuss the issues with him. However, since he is the candidate for the "power trust," it may be well that he has this powerful odor.

We would tell you the story of a certain prominent gentleman in this city being out with a certain blond baby the other night; but it might cause him family trouble, as well as detour us from the political issues. However, we trust this gentleman will take warning and not let it happen again, so back to the subject. Donald Kinnaird has stuffed his key holes, making it difficult for me to get the low down on him. However, for your information, I think he is exempt from the office of mayor. Too, whoever heard of an insurance man being mayor. On top of that, I am reliably informed that he has flat feet, which is not a good sign, and oh! that rope he smokes for a cigar.

They are driving me off the air! Good-bye, everybody. Ladies and gentlemen, you have just heard Dr. Glutz, the famous key hole specialist, who may be with you again soon. So don't go 'way world, dog-gone you.

Airplane Lines to Replace Asia Minor Caravan

ISTANBUL, Turkey. — Asia Minor, once the gateway between East and West, through which the caravans of traders passed, will be restored to its former importance by a network of modern air lines. The Curtiss-Wright corporation has signed a contract with the Turkish government for establishing air transport service across Anatolia. The country is so sparsely settled that railways are uneconomical.

The air lines will connect Europe with commercial interests in Asia and East Africa. The historic road from Trebizond to Persia will be rebuilt when they are started.

POOR CHURCH FEELS POOR.

PONTIAC, Mich.—The Pontiac Memorial Baptist church, admittedly so poor it can't pay the salary of its minister, is feeding school children of unemployed parents. Last month the church provided 2,800 meals. The Rev. E. E. Lockwood, the unpaid minister, is supervising the relief work.

Expert Finds New Neutrone Ray

LONDON. — Further progress in an understanding of the structure of the atom has been made through the discovery of a new ray, which gives off particles called neutrons.

Discovery of the new ray was recently made by Dr. J. Chadwick, of the Cavendish laboratory, Cambridge, while Dr. Chadwick was studying the effect of bombarding a metal called beryllium with alpha particles.

"The existence of the neutrone has been suspected for 12 years," Dr. Chadwick said. The neutrone contradicts all the accepted laws. It is without an electric charge and therefore cannot be deflected by magnetism from its mass."

The discovery of the neutrone follows earlier discoveries of the electron and the proton and their relationship to the structure of the atom.

62,000 MILES FOR DEGREE.

ELECTION ORDER.

He is ordered by the board of trustees of the Ranger Independent School District that an election be held at the city hall, in the town of Ranger, Texas, in said Ranger Independent School District on the 2nd day of April, 1932, for the purpose of electing three trustees for said Ranger Independent School District.

Walter Harwell is hereby appointed manager of said election, and he shall select two judges and two clerks to assist him in holding the same, and said election shall be held in the manner prescribed by law for holding other elections.

The returns of said election shall be made to the board of trustees of said Independent School District in accordance with law.

A copy of this order signed by the president and attested by the secretary of said Ranger Independent School District shall serve as proper notice of said election, and the president shall cause notice of said election to be given in accordance with law.

In testimony whereof, witness the signatures of the president and secretary of said Ranger Independent School District and the seal thereof hereunto affixed, this 12th day of March, 1932.

H. C. WILKINSON, President of Board. R. S. BALCH, Secretary.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

When the Haugland airport was first opened in Ranger, Charlie says, he had a hankering for an airplane and was determined to get one. After much scheming and thinking and saving, he went to Dallas, or Fort Worth or somewhere and bought a plane. And was he proud of it? Well, just ask Charlie.

Anyway, a meeting was held and Charlie was elected manager of the airport and the Times carried a story of his selection, with a few words of praise for Charlie and the work he had done in securing the field.

Charlie arrived in Ranger that afternoon without knowing anything about the election. As he went down the street several friends rushed up to him and congratulated him.

"Yes," Charlie said, thinking they were referring to his managing to purchase a plane, "that is all I have worked for in the past few months. It was the one thing I wanted and by working hard I managed to make the grade. And I surely am proud of the fact that I managed to put it over, because I thought for a while I wouldn't be able to do so. But I think I deserve it, though, after all the work I have done for it."

Charlie made the same spiel several times before he got home, and when he opened up his evening paper and saw that he had been elected manager of the airport he realized that the people were referring to that and knew nothing about his buying a plane.

Then he had to go back down town, look up all the people he had talked to and explain to them, so they would not think he was all puffed up with ego.

Charlie says he is going to buy another plane some day, but he is going to be sure what people are congratulating him for before he starts bragging.

Writers Reveal Tastes For Books In Symposium

By H. ALLEN SMITH, United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK.—Literary tastes differ among leading authors and editors of the United States, according to a symposium collected by the United Press.

A number of prominent writers were asked to name three recently published books particularly to their liking. Their selections follow:

H. L. Mencken, editor The American Mercury—The Messiah Jesus and John the Baptist, by Robert Eisler; The Mysterious

Madame, by C. E. Bechofer Roberts; The Work, Wealth, and Happiness of Mankind, by H. G. Wells. Carl Van Doren, editor The Literary Guild—Expression in America, by Ludwig Lewisohn; Wellington, by Philip Guedalla; The Social Life of Area and Monkey, by S. Zuckerman.

Fannie Hurst, novelist—The Good Earth, by Pearl S. Buck; Russia, by Hans von Eckhardt; Christopher Marlowe, novelist and critic—The Tragedy of Henry Ford, by Jonathan Leonard; Kamongo, by Homer W. Smith; And Life Goes On, by Vicki Baum.

Alexander Woolcott, critic—Stepping Westward, by Lauree E. Richards; The Unseen Assassin, by Norman Ansell; Loads of Love, by Anne Parrish; Benjamin DeCasseres, critic—

Mental Healers, by Stefan Zweig; The Decline of the West, by Oswald Spengler; Brave New World, by Aldous Huxley.

Anthony Abbott, detective novel writer—Death Answers the Bell, by Valentine Williams; The Kennel Murder Case, by S. S. Van Dine; The Documents in the Case, by Dorothy Sayre.

William McFee, novelist—Way of the Lancer, by Richard Bolelawsky; Racketty Rax, by Joel Sayre; Seventy Years in Archeology, by Sir Flinders Petrie.

George Jean Nathan, critic—Essays in Persuasion, by J. M. Keynes; The Story of My Life, by Clarence Darrow; The Puritan, by Liam O'Flaherty.

stetter's Spavin & Cold Cure Al- mante; Pueblo, Colo., telephone di- rectory, issue of 1932; Black Beauty.

Harry Elmer Barnes, author and critic—Only Yesterday, by Fred- erick Lewis Allen; The Story of My Life, by Clarence Darrow; Is Capitalism Doomed? by Dennis.

NEW SHIP NEARS COMPLETION

PHILADELPHIA.—Work on the liner Manhattan, the new ten million dollar ship being constructed by the New York Shipbuilding company in Camden for the United States Lines, is about 75 per cent completed, officials of the ship company said.

Swedish Prince May Buy Plane

LONDON.—Prince Lennart, who renounced his rights to the Swedish throne in order to marry a commoner, took his first flying lesson here.

While waiting for the necessary period of demerit to elapse before they could be married here, both the prince and his fiancée, Miss Karin Nisevand, visited the St. Louis airfield, toured the airplane sheds and engine shops, and then went for a flight in a light plane piloted by J. Buckingham, one of De Havilland's test pilots.

Within a few minutes of their landing, the prince, who showed great enthusiasm for aviation, was again in the air, this time handling the dual controls to get the "feel" of the machine. It was then arranged for him to take a series of lessons, and it is expected that after the honeymoon a light airplane may form part of the equipment of the old castle on Lake Constance.

COMPLETES GIANT PLANE. DETROIT, Mich.—A giant airplane, believed the "largest land plane ever constructed," has been completed in the aircraft plant of the Ford Motor company, Dearborn. Officials plan a test flight in the immediate future.

MEDFORD, Ore.—Heavy snow crusted the roofs of five privately owned summer lodges at Lake Umatilla this winter, a ski party learned.

He doesn't look a day over fifty. And feels like forty. At the age of 62. That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant! When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, listless, half-alive—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better in every way. You will never need to take another laxative. Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant that makes them eat and keeps the bowels from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colds. Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every way. Syrup pepsin isn't expensive.

Russians Show Reluctance To Release Grain

being too soft-hearted in their treatment of recalcitrant private peasants, especially kulaks. The official verbiage, however, does not conceal that the peasants in many instances have no more grain to give up, or so little that they fear to relinquish it.

The local communist party branches in dozens of grain sections either do not apply pressure, or have passed resolutions justifying the peasants, on the ground that they have no more grain.

These communists thereby open themselves to attack by the central authorities. But neutral observers are forced to the conclusion that the local communists know more about the conditions locally than the Moscow officials who fix the program. There is every likelihood that the quotas for grain collection have been set too high and that much discontent is being generated among the peasantry by the policy of insisting on these quotas regardless of objective conditions.

Plan 91 Per Cent Filled. By Feb. 25, the year's grain collection plan was fulfilled by only 91 per cent. In actual volume this exceeded the total collections for the same date last year. The missing 9 per cent, however, represents a sharp deficit as compared with expectations. The Ukraine and Kazakhstan are the regions most behind, their plans on Feb. 25 having been fulfilled by only 85 and 79 per cent, respectively.

Song, No. 275.
Prayer.
Scripture reading.
Song, No. 275.
Bible story, John Ross Avant.
Bible questions, Carroll Boon.
Lesson, Mrs. N. Griffin.
Bible drill, Mrs. C. E. Bay.
Special Music, Gladys Larson.
Business session.
Benediction.

The club is rapidly developing into one of the most active clubs of its kind. Each member of the organization manifests personal interest at each lesson. Every member of the club is asked to attend the program Sunday evening.

Guests Are Complimented With Easter Party

Decorations and appointments carried out an Easter motif in a colorful way, yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Wade Swift entertained in compliment to 25 guests with one of the prettiest affairs of early spring.

Tables for games of bridge were decked with accessories all blending in pastel color notes from pale pink to deep lavender. Centering each table stood Easter blossoms dotted with lilies. The feathery fern intermingling these bouquets afforded a deeper color base for their fragrance, and their beauty. At the close of play Mrs. D. H. Davenport was winner of high score, Mrs. William R. Mayes, second high, Mrs. Rupert Murphy, touring, Mrs. George Murphy, low, and Miss Juanita Elliott of Cisco, the cut.

To each guest was passed a lovely refreshment plate appointed with miniature carts. The daintily colored candy eggs nestled amid green straw, were each inscribed with the names of each guest. Fruited punch filled each glass resting on the dessert plate.

The Easter affair was attended by Mrs. McArdis Barnes, and Misses Joiner and Elliott, all of Cisco, and Mrs. Walter High, E. E. Hadley, Rupert Murphy, Mickey Sloan, D. H. Davenport, L. H. Young, Eunice Jo Morgan, Earl Sweland, Bonds Martin and E. E. Crow.

Bring-a-Dish Luncheon Entertains Adolphian Class

The Adolphian class of the First Christian Church were entertained yesterday with a bring-a-dish luncheon with proved pleasant entertainment for the full group of members.

After the serving of luncheon a business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. O. E. Samms. During the period of class discussion Mrs. O. E. Samms opened her set aside for the election of officers.

Mrs. R. O. King was re-elected vice president, as was Mrs. Samms for president. Mrs. H. C. Anderson was elected secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. N. L. Perry, re-elected press reporter.

The day proved thoroughly enjoyable as well as profitable.

Members present were Mrs. Samms, E. S. Dudley, Watson, R. O. King, William Deuman, C. E. Childs, N. L. Perry, H. C. Anderson and Harvey Vaughn.

Musical To Be Given Easter Sunday Afternoon

Miss Gillian Buchanan is presenting her pupils in a musical on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. Besides the private piano and violin pupils appearing in solo and duet numbers, the violin classes enrolled in the First National Institute of Music, directed by Miss Buchanan, will make their first appearance in recital. The program will be varied and pupils of all ages will take part in the program.

The public is cordially invited to attend this program.

First Christian Church To Observe Easter With Sunrise Prayer Meeting

Observing Easter in an impressive manner the First Christian Church will hold a sunrise prayer service at the church Sunday morning at 6 o'clock. The special service will be conducted through the leadership of the Christian Endeavor. Immediately following the service a breakfast of bacon, eggs, toast and coffee, will be served.

Child Welfare Club To Meet Saturday At Acorn Acres

All members of the Child Welfare club are asked to meet at Acorn Acres Tea Room, Saturday afternoon, at 12:30, for an important session.

First Baptist Choir To Present Easter Music

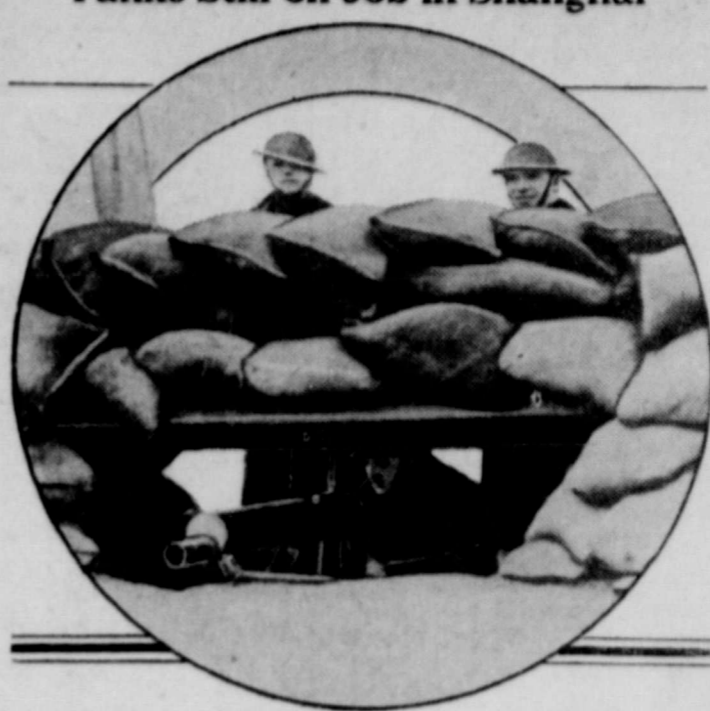

A vested choir at the First Baptist Church, under the direction of Carl Brumblow, will sing special music at the services Easter morning and evening. The evening program will consist of a general musical program by the choir, assisted by Miss Gillian Buchanan and her advanced violin pupils. Several solos and quartette selections will be presented during the hour.

The public is cordially invited for this special feature of musical entertainment.

Where Uncle Robbie Sat

The Brooklyn Balmness Boys, a rollicking baseball troupe that toured the National League for years with an act consisting of making three outs on a home run, are going to school now.

What used to be the jolly Robbins has become the Brooklyn Institute for Bigger and Better Baseball, under the direction of Prefect Maximilian Carey, a smart and earnest young man who has changed the ribald training camp of other years into a baseball reformatory where pep talks are regularly administered and where the fellows are supposed to behave.

Even the old hotel at Clearwater, Fla., where your Uncle Wilbert Robinson used to house his cast, has been deserted for a more pretentious hostelry where the clerk doesn't carry the keys in his pocket, and where the window shades actually are on rollers that roll.

The Sagging Throne

At the rickety little ball park where Uncle Robbie used to herd his athletes together and try vainly to remember their right names, all is haste and bustle and drills and instruction.

I looked for the rickety little bench in front of the crude grandstand where Robbie used to hold his court. It was still there, still sagging a trifle perhaps from the burden of Uncle Robbie's benevolent weight. Its emptiness was pathetic.

Robbie sat there in the spring for many years. There he issued his inimitable, good-humored commands. From there he used to send as many as three athletes to play right field. There he sat and read his mail and told hilarious tales of the old days of pen-and-ink signing teams he had served as manager and coach.

Cuss Words and Fun

WHERE he wagged his stub of a finger at one of his athletes after the execution of a particularly bright play. There he berated dumbness with resounding cuss words. There he sat, perhaps next to old Dazzy Vance, and turned to ask who "that feller" was playing shortstop and "guessed he'd better get him outa there 'fore he gets killed."

There he told how he had "stuck to" Glenn Wright and knew that his arm would come around okay because it wasn't a shoulder injury. And, probed there, he had turned to ask in a stage whisper if that Joe what's-his-name got there pitching wasn't a "one-year pitcher."

There he had chortled in high glee as his athletes pounded the ball across the high board fence in the outfield. And as he sat he told how he had fooled some of them fellers about of League—he called it "Locks"—being all washed up as a pitcher when he was brought to Brooklyn from Cincinnati in a trade.

By the hour your Uncle Robbie had regaled the newspaper boys about the glamorous old days when he had been coach of the Giants. His words were pictures. His stories were sparkling with wholesome humor.

What Would He Say?

WELL—there was the bench. There were players there, but the bench was strangely empty.

Out on the diamond, Manager Max Carey, a young man with military bearing, was moving about here and there, telling this one how to do that, and that one how to do this, according to the code.

On one corner of the bench sat Waite Hoyt talking to Hack Wilson. Hoyt was telling Hack something about starches at noon-time and proteins in the evening. Wilson listened, blinking owlishly.

If Uncle Robbie could have been there to hear Hoyt telling Hack Wilson about his diet!

BIRTHDAYS ON SAME DAY.

BOSTON, Mass.—Mrs. Mary Shruhan and her three children all celebrate their birthdays on the same day. The mother was born March 2, 1906. Rita was born March 2, 1925. Robert and Richard, twins, were born March 2, 1929.

FRIEND TOLD HIM ABOUT ALL-BRAN

Those who are bothered with constipation should read Mr. Gelpke's unsolicited letter:

"I have suffered with constipation for years. A friend of mine told me to try ALL-BRAN. I have taken ALL-BRAN for the past six weeks as a breakfast food. It has regulated my bowels as clockwork. Now I would not be without a package at all times."—Mr. Leslie Gelpke, 273 Ridgewood Ave., Newark, N. J.

And It Brought Relief From Constipation

Common constipation—with its headaches, loss of appetite, sleeplessness—is due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. Both are present in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Being a natural corrective, ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of pills and drugs—so often harmful. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—serious cases with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

INDIANS RALLIED AS APACHE FOUGHT FOR LIFE

Convicted of the murder of a co-ed on an Arizona Indian reservation, Golney Seymour, young Apache, testified in his trial at Globe, Ariz., that the girl, Henrietta Schmeier, gave him liquor and that he slew her in self-defense. Above, Seymour is shown with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H-4, in front of the federal building at Globe. The older Indians have not assumed English names, so the government designates them by number. Below, Golney and his attorney, John Dougherty, are shown discussing the case in court.

Mrs. Golney Seymour, wife of Apache on trial in co-ed murder, is shown here on her way to court at Globe, Ariz., to show Seymour his new-born son whom he had never seen. The child was born after Seymour's arrest for the killing of Henrietta Schmeier, eastern college girl. Mrs. Seymour staunchly defended her husband, who was given a sentence of life imprisonment.

Kreuger Turned Down a Title

By United Press.
DETROIT, Mich.—Moritz Kahn, business manager of Albert Kahn, Inc., the nationally known firm of architects, was recalling incidents of his meetings with Ivar Kreuger, the match king, who ended his life recently, and with whom he once refused a partnership.

"Kreuger always was a most modest man, and even when he was the friend and confidant of monarchs and presidents, he did not forget the friendships formed when he was struggling for a foothold," Kahn recalled. "I once asked him why he had never married. He said it was because he traveled so much he made few social contacts. He did not mention the fact, which I already knew, that he had refused a title of nobility, offered him by the king of Sweden."

Kahn first met Kreuger in London, in 1909.

"Kreuger came to me one day and asked that I sell him the German concession for reinforcing concrete system. I think he was then earning about $50 a week. He was about 29. But he made such an impression on me that I sold him the concession."

Later, Kahn said, Kreuger came to him with a proposition that they enter the match business in Sweden as partners.

"He said the match business there was in a rundown condition. He thought that for $10,000 he could get control of several companies, abandon those in the worst condition and combine the best features of the others. I told him he was selling steel at $100 a ton, and didn't see why he wanted to start selling penny boxes of matches. I turned down his offer to invest $5,000 in a half partnership. His vision was far better than mine."

Special Correspondent.

STAFF, March 24.—W. T. Duncan was a business visitor in Eastland last Friday.

Berry Elliott and family of Olden were visitors in the home of their uncle, M. O. Hazard, on last Thursday evening.

W. C. McFadden has been busy the past week taking the scholastic census of this district.

L. E. Davenport of Ranger was a business visitor in the community last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron White of Wink were guests in the home of Mr. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. White last week-end.

Farmers of this community are very busy now. Some are preparing the soil for planting a crop, others are planting corn and garden.

A good shower of rain would be much appreciated just as this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne White of Cheaney attended church at Staff last Sunday.

A large crowd attended church at Staff last Sunday morning and night. We are glad to have all the visitors and invite them back again.

Survey Showed Causes of Crimes

By United Press.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Unemployment, improper home conditions and lack of education were outstanding factors in the lives of 500 Milwaukee criminals studied by Dr. R. E. Bushong, psychiatric director of the county medical hygiene clinic.

Dr. Bushong's survey disclosed that at the time of committing crimes 302 of the 500 were unemployed. The majority were in good physical condition. Mental tests showed 344 were normal, 12 insane, 46 feeble-minded, 13 psychopathic, 14 psychoneurotic, and 81 had abnormal traits.

Most of the subjects were single and the average age was 27 years, eight months. The majority had less than an eighth grade education.

Serious quarrels with parents were found in the majority of cases. Most of the single men were divorced, separated, or lived unhappily.

Only 52 of the 500 studied have a favorable outlook for the future, Dr. Bushong reported. The outlook was reported doubtful in 229 cases and unfavorable in 219.

MINE WOMAN MOTHER FOUR SETS OF TWINS

By United Press.

LEWISTON, Me.—Mrs. Charles Paulin of this city is the mother of four sets of twins.

One fact that does stand out very clearly is that in an hour when the disciples were broken in spirit and thoroughly disheartened, feeling that the faith that they had placed in Jesus was frustrated and hopeless, their faith suddenly revived in such a way that life and purpose were renewed and strengthened, and they went forth with this new vision of their God, strong to proclaim the Gospel.

What was the nature of these visions of the Master? That is precisely what we cannot answer. But the records indicate that in effect the appearance of Jesus to his disciples had all the reality of his earthly presence with the added effect of mystery and inspiration in the consciousness that death had not triumphed over him.

Here we have the picture of Mary standing outside the tomb, weeping. Her disappointment had not weakened her love and her personal devotion. Her hope might be lost, but it was as a treasure that she still mourned.

There in that hour she saw a remarkable vision—two angels sitting, one at the head and one at the feet of Jesus, and she heard their voices saying, "Woman, why weepest thou?"

Mary saw her Lord, and he spoke to her, and she came back to the disciples, telling them the remarkable story.

The discussion of such experiences would take us far afield. A friend told me that in the moment of the bursting of an 80-pound shell near where he was standing, he saw a little child running to him with outstretched arms, calling to him, "Oh, Daddy."

He said it was to him just as real as if the child had been there in actual physical form.

We have no evidence that the vision that Mary had was of the same sort. In fact, we have no evidence at all other than the record in our lesson. One ought to recognize, however, that such experiences, whatever their explanation, are real and vital. We have not begun to explore the mysteries

RESTFUL SLEEP for FRETFUL, FEVERISH CHILD

—With Castoria's regulator

When your child tosses and cries out in his sleep, it means he is not comfortable. Very often the trouble is that poisonous waste matter is not being carried off as it should be. Bowels need help—mild, gentle help—but effective. Just the kind Castoria gives. Castoria is a pure vegetable preparation made especially for children's ailments. It contains no harsh, harmful drugs, no narcotics. Don't let your child's rest—and your own—be interrupted. A prompt dose of Castoria will urge stubborn little bowels to act. Then relaxed comfort and restful sleep! Genuine Castoria always has the name:

The Newfangles (Mom 'n' Pop)

Sunday School Lesson, Mar. 27

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 27.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist.

The miraculous story of the rising of Jesus from the dead is allied in this lesson with the interest of human relationship. It is interesting that all the stories of the Resurrection of Jesus have that deep note of personal and human interest, and this fact is not without its significance as an evidence of the truth of the record.

The miracle of the Resurrection of Jesus cannot be explained. If it could, it would not be a miracle.

It may be that some day we shall discover laws of the spiritual world, and of the power of spirit over matter, that may put such facts as the Resurrection of Jesus within the range of the scientific explanation. At present we approach the record in faith and in appreciation of its spiritual significance.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS By Blosser

of the spiritual world and of the resurrection life.

If belief in the Resurrection of Jesus were merely a matter of mystery, it would not be spiritual. The significant fact of resurrection faith is the acceptance of Jesus in his risen power and glory, and the yielding of our lives to him as an ever-living, ever-loving Master, whose presence is an abiding power of comfort and inspiration.

The dime-a-dance girl

By Joan Clayton

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Ellen Rositter, beautiful 20-year-old, loves Larry Harrowgate, young artist. When he becomes engaged to another girl Ellen agrees to marry Steven Barclay, 57 years old and wealthy. Her impoverished family is indebted to Barclay.

Barclay has been married before. Scandal accompanied his Mexican divorce from Leda Grayson; dancer. To avoid publicity Ellen and Barclay are secretly married. They drive his Long Island home, except for Fergus, the butler. There Barclay suffers a heart attack. Louis Symes, Barclay's lawyer, arrives with doctors and nurses. Barclay dies at dawn.

Symes tells Ellen her marriage is not legal because papers proving Barclay's divorce have been stolen. Ellen yields all claims to Barclay's fortune to avoid scandal. Then she learns Larry Harrowgate is Barclay's nephew. Heartbroken, she returns home.

Ellen distrusts Fergus. She goes back to work as a hostess at Dreamland. Larry comes there, tells her his engagement is broken and asks her to marry him. Ellen has not the courage to tell him of her marriage to Barclay.

Larry shows Ellen an anonymous letter he has received threatening to tell newspapers that Barclay died as a result of a night of carousal with a feminine companion. Ellen knows Fergus has written the letter.

Swedish Prince Weds "Commoner"

Prince Lennart renounced his royal rank when he fell in love with Miss Karin Nilsvand, daughter of a Stockholm merchant—so a wedding followed. Here the prince and his bride are shown as they were leaving a reception given for them in London after they were married at the Prince's Row Register office.

you to come to tea this afternoon," Larry finished triumphantly.

"This afternoon! But I haven't a thing to wear!"

Larry knew she had surrendered. "You've gobs of things," he said firmly. "Even if you hadn't sweated them, you'd be a queen to me in calico."

He really meant that. Ellen flushed with pleasure and went to tell Molly. All three of them bubbled and laughed and planned through the luncheon preparations. Afterwards Larry helped dry the dishes and then departed.

"An errand for Mother," he explained. "She wants some things from my uncle's place. Since the suit has been settled it belongs to her. You know the house is quite a show place." He interrupted himself to say suddenly, "Why don't you go out with me?"

"To—your uncle's home?"

"Not—drummed against the window pane, but inside was utter silence. Ellen was conscious of an inward trembling. She glanced toward Molly and saw that her mother's face was pale.

"There'd be plenty of time," Larry drew a deep breath. "Her rescue amends for the past yet her eyes were like stars and her cheeks were blazing. With Larry she entered a richly furnished, warmly lighted apartment. The curtains were drawn and there was a crackling fire in the grate.

Mrs. Harrowgate came to meet them. She was a smart, thin, skillfully made-up woman wearing a Paris gown. She appeared hospitable and at the same time vaguely formidable. She seemed anxious to make amends for the past yet her manner was not quite convincing.

It seemed impossible for Larry's mother to make a generous surrender. She did apologize casually for her negligence but it was with an air of expecting instant pardon. Ellen smiled shyly in confusion and inclined her head. She knew she would never come to like Mrs. Harrowgate but she could get along with her. The older woman dropped a light kiss on the girl's forehead, linked arms with her and drew her forward into the warm, flower-scented living room.

Ellen was never to forget the hour that followed. There were two roses in a blue bowl on the low polished coffee table where Mrs. Harrowgate stationed herself to pour the tea. Always ever afterward the sweet heavy odor was to bring the scene back to the girl. She would see that room again in all its luxurious and infinite details. She would hear Mrs. Harrowgate's throaty voice slipping along in conversation that was gracious but not from the heart. She would remember Larry's dark red head against the blue of his hair and the special smile he flashed toward her frequently.

An outsider would have observed only a stary-eyed, flushed young girl in a smoky velvet dress, sitting at tea with a man who obviously adored her and an older woman who adored them both. But for two of them the meeting meant much more than that. To Larry and to Ellen this was the beginning of true happiness. Nothing now stood in the way of their marriage.

The hour fled away. Ellen glanced at Larry with the interrogative glance that asked if he were

YAQUIS START STRANGE RITES FOR EASTER

TUCSON, Ariz.—In a strange mixture of rites, borrowed half and half from Christianity and paganism, the Yaqui Indians today began their annual observance of the trial, crucifixion and resurrection of Christ.

The allegory is pure Christian, with one exception. The vestments and chants are Yaqui.

Dancing began at dawn in an open space at the end of the village. Led by the high priest, a long column of half-nude braves arose to meet the sun. At all other seasons the sunrise dance is a paean, but their chant today was a dirge.

Because the spectacle is too painful for them to watch, so deeply do they feel the tragedy, the actual crucifixion is omitted.

Slower Steps.

Toward sunset, the steps become slower and the bodies of the braves are bowed with their sorrow.

The high priest then advances down an aisle between standing dancers to a tier of brambles. In his arms he bears a wooden effigy of Christ. The effigy is laid gently on the bier, the dancing ceases, and all pray silently until the sun has set.

The reclining figure is left in the charge of three clean-scrubbed, chubby little girls in white dresses. They are the three guardian angels.

Tomorrow is a day of action. Arising again with the sun, the braves are more brightly painted, and their masks are portraits of anger and vengeance.

Sunrise Chant.

The sunrise chant is a sharp, warlike bark. The dancing is a series of short, rapid charges toward a cloth-covered bier in the center of the "chapel." The dancing becomes more rapid as the day years on.

Finally, at a signal from the priest, all rush up and fling away the cloth. A small wooden figure, clothed in the soiled black robes of villainy, is disclosed. It is Judas Iscariot.

The braves lift him over their heads and start dancing—slowly, for the victim must not be permitted a quick, merciful death—toward the bier of Christ. With a concerted roar of rage and hate, Judas is thrown upon a fire prepared for him.

When the betrayer is ashes, all retire again to meditate beside the bier.

At sunset, the climax dance begins. It has a new note. It is easier and more graceful. All night long it continues, and with the first flush of the desert dawn, the Christ is raised from the bier, garbed in bright vestments and placed in state on a throne in a grove of green branches. Desert flowers are placed at His feet, and the sunrise dance is a paean of joy.

It is followed by feasting.

ALTHOUGH food value in the terms of calories, mineral constituents and vitamin content is of prime importance in the planning of menus, the color of the various foods chosen enters into the general scheme of things.
Try visualizing your menus as you read them over. Foods of contrasting color usually combine excellently, since the color contrast speaks contrast also in flavor and texture.
If you see the menu in your "mind's eye" as you plan it you will find a new interest in serving it. In this day of colored linens and glasses, the family luncheon or breakfast table can be made a veritable picture. You yourself may be the only one at the table who fully appreciates the color effect, but every member of the family, blindly, perhaps, will enjoy his meal more than usual.
Contrast is such an important factor in meal planning that it should constantly be kept in mind. It is this definite difference in foods that makes a meal appetizing and well balanced. Repetition is always monotonous and soon satiates the appetite regardless of the merits of the various dishes.

Light and Dark Menus
Cookbooks of fifty years ago in their "hints" on meal planning advised housekeepers to serve "light-colored vegetables with dark meats and dark colored vegetables with light meats." And while there are some vegetables we serve with any and all meats, the rule is worth remembering.
The following luncheon menu is for a simple family meal, but it is colorful and offers opportunity for experiment:
Cream of spinach soup, crostons, English monkey, jellied tomato salad, gingerbread waffles, milk, tea.

Light and Dark Menus
One cup molasses, 5 tablespoons shortening, 1 1/2 teaspoons soda, 1/2 cup sour milk, 1 egg, 2 cups pastry flour, 2 teaspoons ginger, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder.
Mix and sift last four dry ingredients three times. Heat molasses and shortening to the boiling point. Remove from heat and beat in soda. Add sour milk and egg well beaten. Mix well and add dry ingredients. Stir until smooth and bake on a hot waffle iron. Serve hot with whipped cream lightly sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

Good hard cheese and the finished dish is a warm golden color.
Of course the jellied tomato salad is a dark red. Served on vivid green shredded leaf lettuce with a golden mayonnaise, the effect is colorful and inviting.
Crisp brown gingerbread waffles with gleaming whipped cream add the finishing touch. Can't you see the whole menu and doesn't it look good?

Tornado and Hail Insurance--

Easter Sale of Spring Dresses
In pricing our Dresses for this sale we have kept in mind the fact that our customers have learned to expect only honesty and truthfulness in our advertising. We are listing separately the newer arrivals in Spring Dresses, listing the ones that have been on hand some time and pricing them, of course, at greater reductions. This same statement holds with our Coats.
