KEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE WITH BILL MAYES

The housewives of Ranger and territory around Ranger get a pain and we husbands get a pain too, says Bill Mayes.

Zella Allen, noted culinary artist, is to hold a free cooking school in Ranger at the Masonic hall, on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Allen is co-operating with the school and the housewives will be getting the benefit through improved methods of cooking and new dishes. Miss Allen will give many new recipes during the school and the housewives will try them out on their husbands. And what a benefit it will be for everyone. Better dishes, greater economies and new ways during the school and the housewives will try them out on their husbands. And what a benefit it will be for everyone.

Letter to Roy Henderson From H. Brandon Has Libel Threat

As an aftermath of the Fred Hightower case which resulted in the Cisco high school being suspended from the interscholastic league, it appears probable that a libel suit involving a large amount of damages and naming several prominent school officials as defendants will be filed by certain teachers in the Cisco high school.

Today we received a letter telling us how Babe Ruth thinks the big league season will end. We never knew that Babe Ruth was an expert at picking winning teams, because for a number of years he has predicted that the Yankees would win the American League. However, Connie Mack has had ideas along these lines, too, and sometimes they did not agree with Babe Ruth's predictions.

Persons now receiving dividends are not required to pay normal income taxes. The dividends, however, are subject to surtax charges. The new tax will include the dividends in the income upon which normal taxes must be paid.

MAGNOLIA CO. INCREASES OIL PRICES TODAY

DALLAS, April 1.—The Magnolia Petroleum company today announced advancement of 10 to 15 cents a barrel in crude oil prices for Texas and Oklahoma.

Other qualified persons who have qualified for the presidential primary are former Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland, and Olin J. Ross of Columbus, both Republicans.

At a meeting of representative taxpayers held at the county courthouse, Wednesday evening, April 6, 7:30 p. m., Ranger, Cisco and other communities will be represented. A member of the tax committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be present to explain the program.

Rev. Gid J. Bryan, pastor of the First Methodist church of Ranger, announced today that revival services which would last about two weeks, would be started at the church Sunday.

The American Legion-Roy Scout Junior Rifle club of Ranger is to hold its second outdoor shoot Saturday morning at the small-bore range at the Ranger rifle range, according to an announcement made this morning by George Armstrong, instructor for the club.

SOLDIERS BONUS AND THE GOLD STANDARD

In days gone, for more than a hundred years, the London Times was known as "The Newspaper Thunderer of the British Empire." Now The Times says that payment in full of the soldiers bonus in the United States would be in itself enough to carry America off the gold standard.

HE FAVORS ANOTHER NOBLE EXPERIMENT

President Hoover has given his warm approval to a movement designed to increase the total vote at the general election next fall. In the wake of the German election this newspaper editorially declared that Germany with a population of 68,000,000 polled a larger vote in its presidential contest than the United States with a population of 122,000,000 had cast in 1928 for Hoover and Smith and the "also rans."

DEMAND ACTION ON THE WORLD COURT

There is a world court proposal pending "in the pigeon holes of the American senate." There is a demand for immediate action by those who believe that the United States should hold a membership in the international tribunal. Now the American History club of Austin, speaking through Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, has advised Senator Tom Connally, member of the committee on foreign affairs, that it would be well to strike while the iron is hot.

MARTIAL LAW A GREAT REVENUE MAKER

Texas has profited more than $1,690,000 as the result of martial law in East Texas, declared Governor Sterling to press representatives, basing his estimates on a report from Auditor Moore Lynn. Furthermore, land owners and royalty owners have profited more than $12,000,000 as the result of increased price of oil as the result of troops in the East Texas fields.

TOM HUNTER THROWS HIS HAT IN THE RING

PRIMARY PLACE RULING UPHELD

Texas has a supreme court. Texas has a democratic executive committee. That committee adopted a rule requiring 25 or 30 candidates for congressmen-at-large to divide into three groups on the primary ballot.

Why not governors and all state officers in the nominating game are subject to the rule of the majority. Now to the bat in the great political game and award the three prizes in the finals to the three candidates who have been given a majority distinction as well as the prizes offered.

There are said to be five repealers in the field of entrants and 25 who are opposed to legislative tinkering with the pro laws of the nation. Joe Eagle of Houston is a repealer; Joe Burkett of San Antonio, a dry-dry, is for a national referendum; Mrs. Ida M. Darden of Fort Worth is a repealer and stands pat on the proposal.

Woodrow Wilson was fond of saying "Let the people rule." Well, out on the firing line and hit the high spots of the political arena.

Counting Noses!

WASHINGTON CIRCUS

—BY DAVID WRIGHT—

Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON.—The mysterious Al Smith continues to be the chief topic for political speculation in this far city. He is like Kipling's monkey; nobody knows what he is going to do next.

on the roadside. Everybody—or nearly everybody—was at Roosevelt's party before Al said that Frankie couldn't holler dogh his rain-barrel.

Up to then Governor Roosevelt was having everything his own way. His fight managers were claiming 678 delegates in the bag. Some of these wouldn't have pledged to Roosevelt if they had had the least notion that Mr. Smith was intending to defy the lightning.

Naturally, that created a difficult situation by halting Roosevelt's progress. The Roosevelt leaders are saying that the New York governor will win no matter what Smith does.

I may be all wet with a certain theory that has more and more been impressing itself upon my mind; and for this reason I'll make no prediction. But let us look into the crystal for a moment.

Place: Houston. Time: June, 1928. Al is the lead but hasn't votes enough to grab off the nomination. Governor Ritchie delivers his delegation to Al and turns the trick. Remember?

From what I hear, Al's mysteriousness hasn't added to his popularity with the dyed-in-the-wool Roosevelt men.

There is no denying that Roosevelt never lost an opportunity to sing Smith's praises from the political houseposts. Even when "F. D."

was recovering from the effects of infantile paralysis which almost killed him he went contrary to the advice of his physician and instead of remaining at Warm Springs, Ga., to bask in the healing waters of the baths there, he braved the inclemency of a severe winter to enter the strenuous gubernatorial race.

Consensus of opinion among newspapermen here in Washington is that Roosevelt pulled an awful luner when he yielded to William Randolph Heart's cleverness to lure him into the open on the League of Nations issue.

It would have been the better strategy to ignore Heart's challenge. Mr. Heart, as the country knows, is for Speaker Garner, and all the dogs of war are not strong enough to make the astute publisher ease up against anybody who stands in Garner's way.

But, as I was saying, Mr. Heart put over a fast one when he inveigled Roosevelt to declare against the League of Nations. Roosevelt swallowed the bait when he should have refused even to nibble at it.

Roosevelt has grievously offended supporters of the World Court and the League by completely reversing his own position which he eagerly took in 1926.

Roosevelt's advisers were asleep at the switch when they let their candidate get mired in the League fight again. I don't think any vital damage has been done his candidacy, but his repudiation of his own boasted idealism in this respect has created in certain minds the impression that he has trimmed his political sails to the winds of expediency.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Susan Carey, who lives with her Aunt Jessie on Chicago street west side, is learning shorthand at a downtown business school. Robert Dunbar, heir to the Dunbar fortune, is a student at the same school. Susan has little gaiety, since her aunt objects to her having callers. At a neighborhood party the girl meets a dark, moody young man named Ben Lampman. He seems attracted to her, and escorts her home. The next day she coincides with young Dunbar in the elevator at school. He asks her to lunch with him. Susan feels too shabby but he insists on her coming.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

Now she hung back looking with dismay at her shabby coat and skirt. "I'm not dressed to lunch here," she faltered, peony red with confusion.

Young Dunbar took her arm with a gentle but compelling pressure. "Nonsense," he said firmly. "You look charming, and you're lunching here with me."

After the glare of the street the dim coolness of the big restaurant was almost startling. Silvery mauve curtains hung at the great window and against the scattered whiteness of the immense tables there were bright flowers. Roses and iris, apple blossoms, tall pink tulips. Susan had never seen such lavishness. She caught her breath at the sight and forgot to be appalled by the prospect of having the eyes of other diners.

Young Dunbar knew the maitre d'hotel. That dignity was all smiles for the heir to the Dunbar millions. He found them a small, cozy table by a window and lingered, attentively, bringing the menu himself.

"Now, tell me," said Susan's host, smiling across the table at her when the order had been given. "Tell me what you're doing in this business sweatshop of ours."

Susan wondered why young men always seemed to assume that girls went in for business as a whim. Seriously she said, "I've got to earn my living."

Just why this answer should have abashed the young man she couldn't understand. He reddened.

"Sorry. That was a dumb question. Just wondered—here he floundered more than ever—"Just wondered why a girl as pretty as you shouldn't be in pictures or on the stage."

Susan buttered a roll. "Poor girls have to go in for safer jobs," she said sententiously. She was echoing Aunt Jessie quite unconsciously. "Besides, you know Hollywood is filled with girls out of jobs. They can't all be stars."

The waiter intruded with half a dozen small silver dishes mysteriously hooded. Demurely Susan permitted herself to be served. Sweetbreads, aux champignons, creamed spinach, little golden potato balls—this food was not even distantly related to the fare Aunt Jessie served at the white kitchen table at home.

Susan refused an ice and a cigaret and sipped her coffee with a pleasant sense of well being. Luxury was delightful no matter what Aunt Jessie had to say about it. It must be, thought Susan, her mother's lazy southern blood (that was what Aunt Jessie called it) that made her love all this.

"Why are YOU at Blooms?" she countered faintly as young Mr. Dunbar signed the check and slipped some silver on the tray.

"My father's fool notion," the boy confessed with a frown. "I flunked my finals and Dad got all hot and bothered about it. Tried me in the shops for a bit and de-

Romance Leads 'Round World'

When Wolf Barnato of London, England, son of a South African diamond magnate, met Miss Leckle Quaveley, San Francisco society girl, in Europe a year ago he asked her to become his bride. She demurred. Then Barnato started a world tour. As the liner neared San Francisco he sent a barrage of radiograms. Miss Quaveley, who had returned home, met him at the dock. They were married and flew to Los Angeles in time to catch the same liner and are circling the balance of the globe for their honeymoon.

Dusk deepened and the girl felt so discouraged that a little trickle of tear drops disturbed the creamy surface of her cheek. She was so absorbed in her reflections that she neither heard the creak of the bottom step nor observed the arrival of the saturnine young man who approached.

"Good evening," a voice muttered throatily.

Susan gasped. She looked up, startled, and saw the dark, moody face of Ben Lampman, her curious cavalier of the night of Rose Milton's party.

"How—I mean hello," she stammered.

"I thought I'd drop in and see how you were getting along," said her caller, looking embarrassed.

"That was kind of you," Susan said. She began to feel rather frightened. Suppose Aunt Jessie should turn the corner? She met Aunt Jessie on the way!

Made specially for BABIES and CHILDREN

Physicians tell us that one condition is nearly always present when a child has a digestive upset, a starting cold or other little ailments. Constipation. The first step toward relief is to rid the body of impure wastes. And for this nothing is better than genuine Castoria! Castoria is a pure vegetable preparation made specially for babies and children. This means it is mild and gentle; that it contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. Yet it always gets results! You never have to coax children to take Castoria. Real Castoria always bears the name:

Poppy Sales to Aid Veterans

By United Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—The main purpose of the national Memorial Day Poppy sale, sponsored by Veterans of the Foreign Wars, is to perpetuate the flower as America's symbol of remembrance, according to Harold D. Doonee, of Sacramento, Calif., the organization's commander.

"Memorial Day is a day of memories, and that is why we selected that occasion for our poppy sales," Doonee said. "The Buddy Poppy is the symbol of service. It is fashioned by veterans who still are paying the price for their service in the war to our country."

"Most of the money obtained from sale of the flowers goes for relief work among veterans and their families. One cent is taken from the sale of every poppy for the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., used to house soldiers' orphans."

What follows is merely what one man thought at the time it was written, and the writer reserves the right to change his mind concerning any subject, without notice, explanation or apology.

Sid Pitzer and John Burke and myself are holding a mass meeting tonight after John gets the show closed. We will discuss our uniform and rousing speeches will be made. If we get elected to the city commission we guarantee to do everything we promise to do. We don't say we'll endeavor to do this or that... we say we'll positively do everything we promise to do.

We think everything's too high except wages. It won't be long until even the grass will be too high. Some of last year's wood crop is too high. However, we're not out to bring anything down except the house. We've always been taught that whatever goes up must come down and we'll just mess along and let it come down like it would anyway if we didn't fool with it.

We'll experiment on controlling the high water down at the creek.

After Meals, a Pinch of Black-Draught For Indigestion

"I had a son who had indigestion—he would spit up his food and looked so weak and had a bad, nervous, Mary Pearson, son of 247 So. Main St., Atlanta, Ga. "I tried different remedies, but he did not get better. I thought maybe Black-Draught would help him. I gave him a very small dose after meals. Soon I could see an improvement. He quit spitting up his food and complaining of the bad taste in his mouth. He was soon well as anybody."

HOW DO YOU LIKE THAT BIG CAKE OF KIRK'S, BOB? IT'S CERTAINLY MARVELOUS FOR SHAMPOO—AND SO ECONOMICAL!

JUST LOOK AT IT LATHER, MARY. THAT TELLS THE STORY. AND HOW IT DOES SOFTEN AND GET THE DIRT! I NEVER USED A SOAP THAT CLEANS SO EASILY.

Oceans of lather, quick!

What an effort—trying to get clean with ordinary soap! Even after you wash your hands—even after you bathe or shampoo your hair—a dirty, soapy film remains. Ordinary soaps will not remove that dirty film—especially if the water is the least bit hard! That's why thousands of families are turning to Kirk's Cocoa Hardwater Castile. Try it today—for hands, for bath, for a wonderful shampoo. You'll be amazed at the difference. Handfuls of foamy lather, instantly. Hard-working lather that quickly softens and loosens that grimy film. Quick-rinsing lather that washes it away completely, leaving skin and hair as fresh and clean as a spring morning. You can't get really clean in this hard water without it.

Body odor vanishes like magic
Made from 100% pure coconut oil, Kirk's Castile makes instant lather—even in water hard as the hardest... even in water cold as ice. And what a saving! Of the four leading toilet soaps Kirk's is half again larger, half again heavier. Yet the price is the same! There are many imitations; so be sure to ask for Kirk's by name.

Largest Soap Makers in America

Quality at a Bargain 3 for 25c

Even the costliest imported toilet soap couldn't give you more pure lather than you get from a large-size cake of Kirk's Cocoa Castile. Mild and deep-cleaning, it lathers instantly, in hard or soft water, because it's made from 100 Per Cent Pure Coconut Oil

...and when we've learned how to do that we'll give you something definite on our plan to control high taxes, etc., etc., and even etc. We don't plan to reduce the expenses of the city because they're too low already. We'll try to figure ourselves in for a little salary somewhere, but that's far up to worry about and not the voters. The voters are supposed to worry about who gets elected and not what they do after they get in there.

We will have two campaign slogans: "Turn those birds out and put us in" and "We don't know what it is but we're agin it." Any promise we make only holds good until election day and all con-

Preparations for Times Free Cooking School

Promise Best Ever Held In City of Ranger

TO CONDUCT FREE COOKING SCHOOL

With Ranger merchants joining with the Ranger Daily Times in its plans for the annual Ranger Times Free Cooking School, beginning on next Tuesday afternoon, April 5, at the Masonic building, corner of Elm and Rusk streets, promises to exceed past successes with such ventures in the city. Miss Zella Allen, economist who will conduct the school, will arrive in Ranger on Monday and will take charge of last minute preparations for the school. The school is absolutely free to the public and the Times cordially invites every housewife in this section of the country, whether she lives in Ranger or not, to avail herself of this opportunity to profit from the experience and training of one of the best kitchen economists available. Miss Allen comes to Ranger with many years of work in her profession, backed by training under the best teachers in the country. New recipes in variety, covering every character of dishes, will be demonstrated by Miss Allen during the course of the school. Economy in the preparation of meals will be stressed throughout Miss Allen's lectures, which will be featured on the schedule of the school. A meal does not need to be expensive to be good, she says. On the contrary, inexpensive meals can be made just as good and as appetizing and nourishing as more expensive menus. The co-operation of the merchants has been secured in promoting the school and in securing the services of Miss Allen during the course of the free cooking school in Ranger. The value of these schools is not theoretical argument, it has been proved by past schools. Not only are many of the merchants of the city co-operating in making the school possible, but many of the manufacturers of nationally known products are helping to make the school a success.

Inland Waterways Provide An Easy Course From Colonel Lindbergh's Home to Chesapeake Bay

By driving only nine miles from Hopewell, N. J., kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby could have escaped by water direct to Chesapeake Bay, as map above shows. A road leads direct from Hopewell to the Delaware and Raritan canal. Passing through the canal the kidnapers could have continued down the Delaware river past Wilmington to the Chesapeake and Delaware canal, which would carry them across to Chesapeake bay. There it would be easy to hide away among the thousands of islands and conduct negotiations, as is indicated in developments at Norfolk. Norfolk police, the United States coast guard and military authorities made no move to apprehend the yacht on which the baby was supposed to be, which strengthened opinions that the negotiations included a pledge of immunity. Students Plan Convention To Talk Politics

By United Press. PRINCETON, N. J.—The School of Public and International Affairs of Princeton university will hold a student convention on national political issues of 1932, here, April 29-30. Delegations of students will be present from about 20 universities and will debate and vote upon important national problems. Prominent representatives of both political parties will speak. The conference will open April 29, in the new McCarter theatre. Two students will speak on "The Democratic Idea," and "The Republican Idea."

They'll Be Good

When the 1933 football season rolls around Cisco will probably be good. But what of the horde of youths over there who had nothing to do with the Fred Hightower case? Two semesters will be chalked up against them. It wasn't their fault that Hightower flitted between Tyler and Cisco like a friendly firefly visiting a couple of candles. Yet, they must bow to the idol of clean sports. We see there is very little we can do about it. In fact, we believe there is nothing we can do about it. And we guess that the state committee could do nothing else but uphold the decision of the district committee. There were serious irregularities and they demanded attention. If we're not wrong, they received it. CROSBYTON—Caliche being spread on highway No. 21 from Dickens county west line to point four miles west of here.

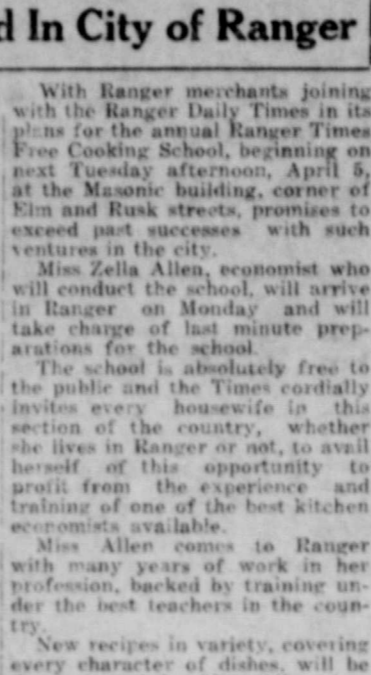

Taxes Forcing Sales of Lands

LONDON—One-sixth of Scotland is for sale.

Some of the biggest landowners north of the border are being forced by taxation and the inevitable inheritance duties to put their estates on the market. The Duke and Duchess of Montrose, jointly two of the largest landowners in Scotland, are planning to sell most of their estates at Drymen and build a house much smaller than Buchanan castle. The duke already has disposed of thousands of acres of Scotland's most historic and fertile land. The territory includes Ben Lomond and a large part of the domain around Loch Lomond, where Rob Roy had his haunts. He is now offering for sale the valuable estate of Invernaid and contemplating further disposals of his holdings in the west of Scotland. Lord Strathcona and Mountroyal has announced that his Glencoe estate is for sale. Altogether it is estimated that more than £3,000,000 in inheritance taxes are hanging over the Scottish estates.

ALPINE—Contract may be let soon for construction of U. S. highway No. 90 from this place west to Presidio county line.

April Marks 30th Anniversary of J. C. Penney Co.

Thursday, April 14th will be the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of the J. C. Penney Company, that being the date in 1902 when Mr. Penney opened the store in the mining town of Kemmerer, Wyoming, which ultimately became the mother store of an organization now covering every state in the Union.

Mr. Penney's original invested capital was $500, which, together with his unsecured note for $1500, bought for him a one-third interest in the one room shop operated under the name "Golden Rule Store." The other two-thirds interest was owned by Johnson & Callahan with headquarters in Evanston, Wyoming.

The plan of allowing store managers to acquire an interest in the stores they operated was a growing one in the West at that time. It was largely due to the fact that there was little money.

As a partner, a manager was likely to exert himself more than as an employee, and he also became responsible for his share of the operating expense of the store.

Early spread was close to Kemmerer and was largely in the states of Utah, Colorado and Idaho.

In 1907, Mr. Penney acquired full ownership of three stores in the Johnson & Callahan group and immediately set his avowed plan of operation into effect.

The plan was simple in its objects. It put the possibility of a store partnership before every man who worked in the company. The man who through his own ability could qualify for a store of his own. In modified form, the general plan is still working today, thirty years later.

Despite the fact that this plan was at one time termed too alluring to admit of success by banks, it has resulted in a growth at a more rapid rate than has been shown by any like enterprise in this country.

Each original dollar of the $500 Mr. Penney put into the project thirty years ago turned over 375,000 times last year.

In the first ten years, between 1902 and 1912, store units increased to 34 as men were attracted by the promise of partnership and new and efficient managerial material was developed.

Total sales at the close of 1912 for the year, were slightly over $2,000,000.

The next ten year period carried the J. C. Penney Company west from the Western states to the far east a Iowa and South through Texas and into the Southwestern states.

In 1914, Earl Corder Sams, one of the first men to start working with Mr. Penney in Kemmerer, was chosen President to succeed the founder, who wanted to pass the reins to other hands than his own.

Under Mr. Sams' direction the moves in expansion went on rapidly and at the end of the first twenty years in business, total sales for 1922 were more than $49,000,000.00 and there were 271 stores carrying the name of the Company.

Between 1922 and 1927, which marked the twenty-fifth anniversary year, stores had increased to 387 and sales for 1927 were $150,000,000.

In general, the expansion of the company in its first twenty-five years of growth, had been among the smaller cities and towns.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT, United Press Staff Correspondent. PARIS.—"When in doubt, wear black." That is the answer you will receive from the majority of couturiers here when you ask them, "What color should I wear when I haven't money enough to have the accessories that should go with dresses of different colors."

One well known dressmaker in the Rue de la Paix says, "A woman with limited means should never wear anything but black and white, or touches now and then of some brighter color." This permits the black accessories to be good, and because one doesn't have to change them, more can be put into them than would otherwise be the case.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson GOD IN CREATION

Text: Genesis 1:15, 26-31. The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for April 3.

By WM. B. GILROY, D. D. Editor of The Congregationalist. The mystery of the world and its origin has occupied the minds of men in every age and in every part of the world.

Among many peoples the philosophy of creation has been expressed in folklore tales, sometimes crude and uninspiring, sometimes with a touch of poetic imagery. In the modern world scientists have sought to explain creation within the limits of their own work and knowledge.

It is from such attempts to explain creation, superstitious, poetical, and imaginative, and scientific, that one turns with some interest to the ancient story in Genesis. By the consensus of opinion among all outstanding Biblical scholars of today, the Genesis account of creation is not a literalistic story to be read with prosaic mind.

It is a poem of creation, and to understand it in exact scientific terms is to read into the narrative, written ages ago, modern thoughts and a modern environment that were not in the mind of the writer. For a time after the literalistic idea of the creation of the world in six days of 24 hours each was abandoned, it became the custom to speak of the days as "creative epochs" or periods.

The better judgment of Biblical interpreters today casts aside all such literalistic and materialistic devices to read the narrative for its spiritual interest, and with an appreciation of the great facts for the spiritual life which it emphasizes.

What are these facts? First of all, the writer's strong conviction that back of the universe is spirit and thought—the creative life that we call "God." That is a logical conclusion from what we see. Secondly, the writer represents the creative act of God as a bringing of order out of chaos. That also is a lofty conception in accordance with all progressive human experience. Everything that comes into the world of truth and right, all that upbuilds and enlarges, is in the nature of a bringing of order out of chaos. The best thought today does not think of creation as having all taken place ages ago. On the contrary, creation is still taking place. The world is moving and altering as it has in past eras, and this great creative act of progress is in the nature of an outworking of the laws of God that bring order where chaos was before.

But boldest and greatest of all in the faith and conception of the writer of this story of creation is the association of this creative life with man himself. It was profound religious daring that the ancient prophet the courage

Buffalo Plans a Birthday Party

By United Press. BUFFALO, N. Y.—During the first 10 days of July this city will hold the largest carnival and celebration since the Pan-American exposition in 1901.

It will be the city's hundredth birthday party. Nearly a million visitors are expected for the celebration. Specific invitations have been sent to the citizens of western New York, northern Pennsylvania, and western Ohio.

Dedication of Buffalo's new $7,000,000 city hall, a mammoth civic parade, and the unveiling of monuments to Millard Fillmore and Grover Cleveland are among the scheduled highlights.

July was chosen for the celebration because that is the time of year when Buffalo usually enjoys the most pleasant weather.

Crowning the 10 day program will be pageants, parades, fireworks displays, concerts, track and field events, a horse show and outdoor motorboat races. All the events will center around the new Centennial park being built along the Niagara river front.

ARRESTED PROSPECTOR

Oldfield Plans An Attempt to Set a New Speed Mark

By United Press. TULSA, Okla.—Barney Oldfield, who back in 1910 set the world automobile speed record at the then unheard of speed of 131 miles an hour, will attempt to set a new record of 300 miles an hour next year, he announced.

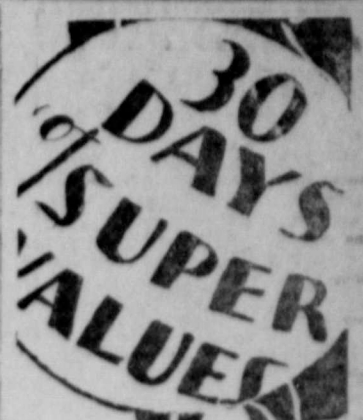

Oldfield, now 54 years old, was here with his wife and daughter visiting his sister-in-law, Mrs. S. P. Bobst.

The veteran said he would return to the racing game in an attempt to better the world record of 253 miles an hour, set by Sir Malcolm Campbell, Great Britain. He has set his goal at 300 miles an hour and will make the attempt on the Daytona Beach course.

Oldfield started race driving in 1902. Shortly after the Indianapolis classic in 1916, he retired and has not done much racing since.

FOSSIL HUNTING SEASON

By United Press. JOHN DAY, Ore.—It will soon be elephant hunting time in Oregon. The elephants are fossilized, but nevertheless are hunted as enthusiastically by scientists in the famed John Day deposits as are the live ones of the African jungles. A "rush" into the fossils occurs every spring. Saber-tooth tigers and other old-timers are also "bagged."

CHINESE TONG KILLER WORKS IN BRICK YARD

SANTA FE, N. M.—In the brick yard of the New Mexico state penitentiary works a nationally famous Chinese, Woo Dak San, wined little killer, happy for the first time in five years, acutely aware he is safer in prison than out.

Woo killed Yee Foo, member of a rival tong, at Silver City five years ago and Yee's tong would kill Woo if he were released, prison authorities say. The tong hired a skilled attorney to help prosecute Woo and obtain a death sentence.

The dread prospect of execution so frightened Woo that he offered himself for inoculation to a group of scientists seeking a remedy for trachoma if they would have his death sentence commuted. The inoculation might have been fatal, but Woo said he would rather die that way than in the electric chair.

His offer attracted international notice. Sociologists argued whether it would be better to accept it, or throw away the chance of scientific progress that might be made by the inoculation. Tong enemies of Woo were credited with having the argument settled against acceptance of the offer. Woo was put in the death dungeon.

Three Texas Towns Seek Court House

LITTLEFIELD, Texas.—Three towns in Lamb county are fighting over which will be the county seat—but this town offers a unique inducement.

There will be no bond issue for a courthouse, the Littlefield boosters argue, for the city hall that was built here last year will be rented to the county for 10 years for a dollar a year.

Against such a tantalizing bit to shrewd taxpayers, Amherst argues it should be the county seat because of its geographical location in the county. And Olton, which is now the county seat, wants to know what's the object of changing.

U. S. Scholarships Total 10 Millions

WASHINGTON.—To imppecunious but ambitious youth 402 U. S. colleges and universities offer scholarships totaling approximately $10,000,000.

The federal office of education has just published a pamphlet listing available educational aids. Twenty-two states now furnish, by legislative enactment to institutions in the state, some sort of scholarship aid, the pamphlet states. Negro scholarships also are listed.

Scholarships offered during 1927-28, the brochure says, ranged from $50 to $2,500. The greatest number of scholarships and fellowships ranged from $50 to $300 a year.

A scholarship offered by Harvard university is nearly 300 years old, being given by Lady Mowson of London in 1643 when the university was only seven years old.

Record-Making Firestone Rail Car

Harvey S. Firestone (left foreground) finds the new Firestone rail tires in perfect condition after they had enabled an automobile running on railroad tracks to set a record between Miami and Jacksonville, Florida. The car, covering 46.7 miles at an average speed of 64.29 miles an hour, bettered by 42 minutes the fastest railroad run between these two cities made over a route 40 miles shorter. The smooth and quiet operation of the flanged pneumatic tires was a revelation. Mr. Firestone believes that miles of unused railway tracks will be reopened through their use. With Mr. Firestone, who is chairman of the board of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, are, left to right, Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., vice president; Clifford D. Smith, development engineer, who operated the car; and John W. Thomas, president of the company.

Washington Cantata To Be Sung May 7

FORT WORTH.—A cantata, Washington, presented by 500 singers and 250 pageantry performers, May 7, will be the principal event in the George Washington bicentennial celebration here.

The pageant will be performed at Texas Christian university stadium and will depict Washington's life, his struggles with the Indians, the famous winter at Valley Forge, scenes from colonial Lexington and Concord, and Washington's life at Mount Vernon.

PLANS CELEBRATION. FORT WORTH.—The Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of its founding, May 22 to 27. A combined homecoming and commencement week will be held.

MENUS FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY

As a satisfying and nourishing article of diet, a properly made stew cannot be surpassed from an economical standpoint. There is no waste in food value since the juices of both meat and vegetables are served in the finished stew.

Fish stews always have been popular as "chowders" in the seaboard states and they should take their place among the lamb, veal and beef stews of the inland housewife. Salted or canned fish can be used if fresh fish is not available.

The best fish for stews is a firm fleshed, rich flavored fish but there's a wide variety from which to choose. Cod, haddock, scallops and clams are commonly used, although salmon and halibut make delicious flavors. A combination of several fish often is used. The famous Bouillabaisse of the south always is made with a combination of two or more fish.

A fish stew combining fish and vegetables is a nourishing and economical dish that furnishes protein, fat, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins. The rules for making it are simple and easy to follow. Haddock is used in the following recipe but any fish can be substituted.

Haddock Stew.
One pound fresh haddock, 3 medium sized onions, 2 cups diced carrots, 2 cups diced tomatoes (optional), 1-2 cup diced parsley, 2 cups boiling water, 4 tablespoons butter or bacon fat, 1-2 cups hot milk, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 teaspoon salt, 1-2

Eastland Mayor's Proclamation On Clean-Up Week

Mayor McCullough calls upon the citizens of Eastland to participate in the general spring clean-up campaign in a proclamation which follows:

The week of April 2 to 9, inclusive, has been designated as Spring Clean-Up Week.

There are many reasons why the Spring Clean-up campaign this year should receive the enthusiastic support of every man, woman and child. First, because a city that is clean and beautiful creates cheer and hampers gloom. Clean produces courage and confidence, and no doubt, most of us are badly in need of both of these attributes at this particular time. Second, because every dollar in property destroyed by fire which is frequently the result of "careless" house-keeping in the home and in the average business is a serious drain upon our present economic condition. Third, because every job created in connection with Clean-up campaign not only develops better fire protection, but supplies better sanitation and public health. It creates an atmosphere of encouragement.

Now, therefore, I, M. McCullough, Sr., Mayor of the City of Eastland, do hereby designate the week of April 2 to 9, inclusive, as Spring Clean-Up Week and most respectfully call upon all departments of the City, the Chamber of Commerce, Civil Clubs, Patriotic Clubs and our people in general, to take an active part in this campaign.

I further designate that the Fire Marshal and Fire Chief as a committee of two to work with the city officials in promulgating active committees to carry on this campaign and ask the cooperation of all of our people in this enterprising campaign for a clean city. In testimony whereof, I hereto sign my name and seal of office, this 21st day of March, 1934.

M. McCullough, Sr., Mayor.
Attest: W. C. Maslow, City Secretary.

Platform Adopted By Candidates In Eastland Race

The following is the platform adopted by N. A. Moore, Frank Castiberry and M. L. Keasler, who are running for places on the Eastland city commission.

To the Voters:

We believe that the present gas rate is entirely too high. If elected, we pledge our best efforts to secure a reduction of the gas rate in keeping with the present prices of other commodities. We realize that this cannot be accomplished by the action of the city commission in passing an ordinance reducing rates, but that reductions must be secured by lawful means and before the proper legal tribunals. We believe that all utility rates should be reduced to a level in keeping with other commodity prices and the present income of the people.

We believe that all expenses of the city should be reduced to the very minimum. If elected, we pledge our time and best efforts to the end that expenses of the city be reduced in every way possible.

We believe that the present tax on property in the city is unreasonable. We believe that taxes should be reduced at least 50 per cent. If elected, we will do all in our power to reduce taxes in keeping with the fair value of the property taxed.

debtors is out of proportion with the ability of the people to pay. We feel that the revenue derived from taxation based upon reasonable property values will not pay the necessary operating expenses of the city and at the same time retire the bonded indebtedness. If elected, we will undertake to secure a reduction of the bonded indebtedness in keeping with the ability of the people to pay.

We realize that these matters must be accomplished in lawful means and by application of reasonable business principles. In solving these problems we will use our best business ability and experience to accomplish these reforms. If elected, we will counsel with the business men of the town and undertake to serve the best interest of all the people. We believe that now is the time to serve and do less talking. There is no difference of opinion as to what should be done for the city, but the big question is how to accomplish the desired results. We will endeavor to solve the problems that arise in a conservative and prompt manner as our best judgment and experience dictates.

Respectfully submitted,
N. A. MOORE,
FRANK CASTIBERRY,
M. L. KEASLER.

EASTLAND AND RANGER HOSTS TO GOLF TEAMS SUNDAY

CISCO TEAM, RESORTERS TO PLAY MATCHES

Indications Are That Close Matches Will Be Played At Both Cities.

Eastland, Ranger and Thurber will be hosts in the Oil Belt Golf Association matches Sunday when Cisco invades Eastland, Mineral Wells plays at Ranger and Phil-Pe-Co plays at Thurber. Breckenridge, the other club in the association, will be idle over the weekend as the club is not scheduled to play.

Spectators have been given a cordial invitation by both the Eastland and Ranger clubs to follow the matches to be played on Sunday afternoon and the members of the clubs have been urged to be present to take part in the matches played in these two towns.

Eastland has played but one scheduled match in the current season, having been idle on the opening date, March 20, and losing to Breckenridge last Sunday by a score of 8 to 7.

Ranger has played two matches, one at Phil-Pe-Co, which they won by a score of 19 to 13, and the other played on the home course when they drew a tie with Thurber, winning 12 matches and losing 12.

A close contest is expected in both the Eastland and the Ranger matches this week-end. Cisco won its first match with Breckenridge by a score of 8 to 7 and Eastland lost to the Breckenridge club, indicating that Cisco has a strong team this season.

Mineral Wells has defeated Thurber in the one contest the two have played, winning by a score of 15 to 13. Ranger's tie with the same club from Thurber also indicates that Mineral Wells has a slight advantage. The Mineral Wells club was idle last Sunday when they were scheduled to play the Phil-Pe-Co club on the Mineral Wells course.

More interest is being shown by the gallery at the Ranger Country club this season than ever before. Sunday more people followed the golfers than has ever been seen on the Ranger course in the few years, except during the first invitation tournament last year.

The Eastland-Cisco game at Eastland will be the first held on the course of the Eastland Golf and Country club this year and a good crowd is expected to follow the players around the course Sunday.

SPEAKING of SPORTS

By GEORGE KIRKSEY, United Press Staff Correspondent.

Nate Lewis Rates McGovern Greatest National Fighter.

Nate Lewis, matchmaker of the Chicago stadium, and connected with the boxing game more than 30 years as manager, matchmaker, promoter and second, lists the following as the greatest fighters he has seen in action during his career:

Flyweight—Pancho Villa and Jimmy Wilde.

Bantamweight—Jimmy Barry.

Featherweight—Abe Attel.

Lightweights—Joe Gans and Benny Leonard.

Welterweight—Tommy Ryan.

Middleweight—Stanley Ketchell.

Light-heavyweight—Jack Dillon.

Heavyweight—Jack Dempsey.

In this list, Lewis does not mention the greatest natural fighter he ever saw in action. That honor goes to Terry McGovern, who won the featherweight title by knocking out George Dixon in nine rounds at Brooklyn in 1900.

"McGovern was the greatest natural fighter I ever saw," says Lewis. "He was more anxious for combat than any other man I ever saw in the ring. The moment the bell rang he knew nothing but to fight. Every round was the last round for him. He fought until he was worn or exhausted, every ounce of strength in his body. He wouldn't spar or save himself. He plunged, ripped and tore after his opponent every second. He might go down, but he never stopped fighting."

Of the present day battlers Lewis ranked Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion, Christopher (Bat) Battalino, former featherweight titleholder, and Mickey Walker as three of the leaders.

Canzoneri is Lewis' favorite battler. He does not believe any fighter with more courage ever lived.

"Canzoneri is a clever boxer," says Lewis, "and might prolong his career, win his matches by a wide enough margin as to leave no doubt as to his superiority by boxing. Instead Canzoneri takes a punch to give one. He stands toe to toe and fights. He has fought most of the outstanding fighters of the present from 120 to 140 pounds. He has been beaten but he has never quit under fire nor has he tried to save himself from punishment."

BRIAND FARM MAY BE MADE FRENCH SHRINE

By RALPH HEINZEN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS.—A movement has been started to acquire Cocherel, the Normandy retreat of Aristide Briand, for the nation, to become a shrine of pacifism, maintained as a memorial to one of the greatest of "Europeans." By his will, the property was left to his niece, Mme. Billiau.

Nothing has been changed at Cocherel where the prize stock is still seen in the fields and farmers are proceeding with the spring planting just as it was ordered by M. Briand a few days before he returned here and died.

The great farmhouse is filled with souvenirs of his career, gifts offered by admirers, photographs of important events in his life. His study is littered with documents and private papers just as he left it.

Visited By Pilgrims.

Like the Clemenceau fishing-but retreat in Vendee which became a national shrine, Cocherel is visited daily by hundreds of pilgrims. It is far easier of access than the Clemenceau hut on the dunes.

Down a narrow lane from the Briand property, near the little cottage "La Chevillotte," where he spent many of his afternoons and where he is asked to be buried, is the village cemetery in which workmen are already clearing the site of a mausoleum.

Mixed Card Is Worked Out For Elk Athletic Show

A mixed card of local and out-of-town fighters has been arranged for the Elks Athletic show for Monday night, April 4, it was announced today by Promoter J. B. Heister.

Dick Griffin, formerly of Ranger and now of Mineral Wells, will clash with Gene Nobles, 135-pounder, of Abilene, in the main bout of the boxing program. In the semi-finals, R. O. King of Ranger will box Sam Thomas. Both men weigh in at 160 pounds. King has been training for the past month for this fight and is in good condition for the bout. Sam Evans, also of Ranger, will fight a four-rounder with Jack Tucker of Abilene.

Troy Grubbs, who has not fought in Ranger before, will mix leather with Corporal Thurman O'Keefe in a special bout. Both boys are from Ranger.

In the main wrestling bout of the program Leon Pafford of Eastland, a 190-pounder, will wrestle for the best two out of three falls with Fat Swanson of Fort Worth, who referred the match between Bobby Novack and Benny Wilson for the junior welterweight title on the last Elks card.

Judging Teams Of Ranger To Go To Stephenville

Ben Whitehouse, vocational agricultural teacher of Ranger, and judging teams from Ranger high school will go to Stephenville Saturday to take part in judging contests to be held at John Tarleton college.

The teams will enter the poultry judging, the farm shop and the dairy cattle judging contests at the college. Three men will be taken for each team with two alternates.

The judging at John Tarleton is a preliminary to which the best men will be picked for the teams that will go to A. & M. college on April 25, to enter the state contests.

Last year the team from Ranger won the farm shop judging contest at John Tarleton as well as taking the sweetpeaks. Strong competition from boys from all over this part of the state is expected at the meet at Stephenville Saturday.

STATE HONORS FOUNDER OF ARBOR DAY

By United Press.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., April 1.—Nebraskans, who has watched the state's transformation from an expanse of barren plains to a land of beautiful shade trees and valuable orchards, will pay tribute April 22 to the man who was largely responsible for the change.

That day will mark the 60th anniversary of Arbor Day, set aside for the planting of trees, and the centennial of the birth of its founder, J. Sterling Morton, Nebraska City pioneer.

Joined with residents of Nebraska City in the tribute to the man who taught the world to recognize the economic value of trees, will be persons throughout the state, the nation and in foreign lands. For Arbor Day is now recognized throughout the world.

Legal Holiday

The state will pay its tribute to Morton and his ideal through recognition of Arbor Day as a legal holiday. Several other states will do likewise.

The nation will pay tribute through issuance of a commemorative stamp. The stamp will go on sale at Nebraska City on April 22, and throughout the nation on April 23.

Arbor Day originated in Nebraska in 1872 after Morton had proposed that a day be set aside for the planting of trees. Later it was changed from April 10 to the 22, the date of Morton's birth.

Other States Copied Plan

Other states took up the idea. Seasonal days were set aside in various states as days for the planting of trees and were designated "Arbor Day." The movement now has become international.

In 1922, President Harding issued a proclamation, urging all governors to set aside the week of April 16 to 22 as a forest protection week, climaxed by the observance of April 22 as the golden anniversary of Arbor Day.

Economical cooking is the boast of the clever and well trained housewife, whether she gets her training in a school of home economics or in her own kitchen. The household budget may be made a reflection of the thrifty housewife.
Nor are the dishes made from vegetables, fruits, meats, and puddings to be scorned as a "poor man's meal." Even the excuse of camouflaging left-overs is unnecessary. They can be made palatable and attractive and, used as the base served with either a thin or medium white sauce, as the type of dish demands, they are essentially nutritious.
A creamed meat served on toast may be garnished with a sprig of parsley, or it may be served in a timbale or souffle party.
Do not scrap your left-over vegetables. Serve them either in a cream soup these cold winter days or creamed as a side dish. Green beans, carrots, asparagus, onions, cabbage, potatoes and cauliflower lend themselves to this style with a thin white sauce. This sauce is best made with evaporated milk.
In a cream vegetable soup or in a creamed vegetable dish you are giving your family important nutrition protection. This is one way of introducing milk into the daily menu. The thrifty housewife is never without several cans of evaporated milk nowadays and since this is much more economical than bottled milk, she is caring two thrifty birds with one stone, by planning a menu of creamed left-over dishes.

Cream of Vegetable Soup.
1 1/2 cups diced or sliced vegetables, double recipe of thin white sauce, 1/4 tsp. celery salt, 1 tsp. onion juice, if desired, 1/2 tsp. chopped parsley, if desired.
Add the seasonings and sieved vegetables to the hot white sauce; pour hot over boiling water until ready to serve. Serve piping hot with a dash of paprika. Yield: 6 servings.
Variation: If there is any vegetable liquor available it may be substituted for the boiling water called for in the recipe of thin white sauce.

Creamed Vegetables.
3 cups sliced or diced cooked vegetables, 1/2 the recipe of thin white sauce.
Such vegetables as carrots, green beans, asparagus, onions, cabbage, potatoes and cauliflower are particularly suitable to be creamed. White sauce for creaming vegetables is improved if vegetable liquor is substituted for boiling water called for in the white sauce recipe. Yield: 6 servings.

Thin White Sauce.
1 tsp. butter, 1 tsp. salt, dash pepper, 1 tbsp. flour, 1 cup boiling water, 1 cup evaporated milk.
Melt butter in top of double boiler placed directly over flame. Add salt, pepper and flour and mix thoroughly. Do not let flour brown. Add water, stirring to keep smooth. Cook directly over flame two minutes, stirring constantly. Add milk and continue cooking over hot water 5 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Yield: 1 1/2 cups.
Variation: This may be used as a cream sauce for left-over cooked vegetables, left-over meats or cream soups.
Creamed Meats.
1 1/2 cups of cubed cooked meat 1 recipe thin white sauce.
Cut the meat in 1/2-inch cubes. Add to the hot white sauce and mix well. Serve hot on toast or mashed potatoes, and garnish with parsley or pimiento. Yield: 6 servings.
A la Kine Variations may be made by adding 1/2 to 1 cup of cooked pepper or cooked, diced celery; 1 cup of mushrooms, chopped and sauted for 5 minutes in 1/2 tsp. butter; 1/4 cup shredded pimiento or 1/2 cup chopped, hard cooked eggs. These may be used in any desired combination. Variation may also be obtained by substituting meat broth (or bouillon cubes plus water) for the water

Century Mark Is Lady's Handicap

SAPULPA, Okla.—People, who believe that a person 100-years-old can't do washing, kept Mrs. Lizzie Devers from making her own living, she confessed to County Commissioner George Willibey when she applied for charity. She makes a living gathering up rags and selling them.
"I would rather do washings," she said, "but people won't give me work. They thing I am too old."
Mrs. Devers, who said she will be 101 years old her next birthday, insisted she could do as much work as a 25-year-old woman and had not her milk goat been sick and she down with "flu" would not have had to apply for aid.
She was married nine times. All her husbands are dead. She said her first husband was a veteran of the American Revolution and the next fought in the Civil War.
Modern girls grow old because they use too much rouge and lipstick, Mrs. Devers confided, but she said tobacco was different.
"Sure, I use tobacco when I can get it," said she. "I smoke a pipe, chew and even dip snuff when I have the chance."

Scout Executive Spends Two Weeks Assisting Towns

Minor Huffman, from the regional Boy Scout office in Dallas has spent the last two weeks in the Comanche Trail council assisting the various towns in setting up their community committees.
The new council is a partnership of towns co-operating to make possible the carrying on and the promotion of the Boy Scout movement in the following counties: Mills, Erath, Lampasas, Stephens, Eastland, San Saba, Comanche and Brown.
A program that will improve the scout leadership and the troop activities has been outlined. It will include the training of leaders, advancement of scouts, and the promotion of outdoor activities.
The Ranger scout program is under the leadership of O. S. Driskill and Walter Harwell.
