West Texas—Fair, colder to night. Probably frost in northwest and west portions. Friday fair and warmer.

Several of the big hat companies are considering a merger, but it's a cinch they won't do it to get rid of the overhead.

DISTRICT MEET TO OPEN ON FRIDAY

Capt. Frank Hawks Seriously Injured In Crash

KEEPING THROUGH THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

The district No. 9 interscholastic league meet will begin tomorrow in Ranger with the literary events being held at various places throughout the town. The track and field events will begin on Saturday morning and the meet will be held in the afternoon.

A committee that was headed by G. H. Murphy was appointed some 30 days ago to raise $75 for the purpose of holding the meet. Chief Murphy promised to have the money raised. As this is the first meet in plenty of time. But, usually, the chief was long on promises and short on performance and this morning the money was not forthcoming and nothing had been done to raise it. G. H. Murphy was so busy building a road for the farmers to use to drive in their cotton next fall that he didn't have time to hold the meet that he said he was going to hold off to pay the expenses.

So, this morning a number of men met and began to solicit the money for donations for the meet. It was not intended at first to ask the merchants to contribute for a meet, but, as the time was at hand and nothing had been done to raise the money, this was the only way left in which the money could be raised. As this is the first meet, but we presume that it will be raised in plenty of time.

This morning E. A. Ringold stepped on the street and said he had received some advice from the schools should be run. He offered the suggestion to us and thought it rather good, as he thought it would be absurd to consider such a movement.

A man had been notified that school taxes were delinquent, and Ringold told us. The man said he had a plan for cutting the taxes of the school so that they could be reduced and every one would be satisfied. That was a kind of a scheme everyone would be interested in, so he stepped to listen. The plan was this: Fire all the teachers. Then, let the preachers in the town, who are nothing during the week, but on any Sunday, according to the temper, let them do most of the talking. Then the church workers, aside from the preachers, and the school workers and the whole union would be closed. It was understood, however, that all these people would work from about 8 o'clock morning until the close of school each day for nothing and, in addition, do all the night work that teachers find it necessary to do. Since all would be doing for nothing, the schools would cost very little and taxes would be reduced.

However, as we see it, there are few hitches. No one has been successful in getting people to do a lot of hard work, day in and day out, for nothing, and, besides, when the preachers and church workers stopped working at the churches it would mean they would have to close. The scheme didn't think of that.

Well, Mr. Ringold can work the problems along these lines, as he will worry about his own scheme, whatever they are.

E. B. Heister said that he had our plan of having a union of some kind at the lights would be pretty good, but that teachers find it necessary to do. For instance, if a Ranger school would win the lightweight (Continued on page 2)

Selected as king and queen of the mid-South Mardi Gras and queen of the football football star at Mexia last fall, was killed instantly and six others suffered shocks when they came in contact with a power line near here today.

IS RESCUED UNCONSCIOUS FROM PLANE

Name Is Not Placed On Danger List At The Hospital.

WORCESTER, Mass., April 7.—Captain Frank M. Hawks, famous speed flier and holder of many air records, suffered severe injuries when he crashed today in an attempted take-off from Worcester airport.

Rescued unconscious after his plane failed to take off from a boggy field and crashed against a stone wall, he was taken to the Worcester city hospital where his name had not been put on the danger list more than two hours later.

Hawks' most severe injury appeared to be a fractured jaw on which an operation was performed. Also the flier suffered painful lacerations of the head, face and hands.

Hawks flew here from Detroit yesterday and his big plane nosed over in the mud in landing. His handling of the craft then averted an accident, however. He came here to speak at a Boy Scout meeting last night.

Speaking to Worcester Boy Scouts, Hawks stressed the need of faster and pool-proof planes.

Hawks probably will be in the hospital five or six weeks. Doctors after examining facial wounds expressed the fear he would have permanent scars.

"Jazz Age" Row Splits Church

Just how much dancing parties and athletics have to do with Sunday school and junior department work is a question on which the fashionable Rogers Park Congregational Church of Chicago is split. Dr. Howard Dabe, instructor and center of the dispute, is shown above with two pretty students of indoor baseball. Alleged discovery by a janitor of empty liquor bottles and cigar stubs following a school affair brought on an investigation and heated hearings, but Dr. Dabe is still in control. He is criticized for stressing athletics and good times.

BOMB WAS IN BUILDING FOR MANY MONTHS

The bomb which was found in the Sam Houston Life building Wednesday was in the building for more than two years, it was said today by a former janitor of the building.

A well shooter had an apartment in the building and when he failed to pay his rent, his belongings were held and the bomb was part of the things seized. About 18 months ago his effects were moved to the third floor and the bomb was stored along with some trunks and other property. It had been in the building for more than two years and had been on the third floor for something like 18 months, the man stated today.

The story of the finding of the bomb created considerable interest in Ranger and many people were of the opinion that it had been placed in the building as one boy was quoted as saying that he had been in the room and had not seen it before the day it was found.

Jack Rapp, of the United States Torpedo company, who has been handling high explosives for more than 30 years and an expert in that line, made a careful examination of the "bomb" which was found yesterday in the Sam Houston Life building, and pronounced it a time bomb for setting off shots in oil wells.

Speaking of the bomb, Mr. Rapp said: "I have handled hundreds of bombs of the same character, and I have a number in my garage at my home at this time. They are a device used to ignite or set off shots in oil wells. The nitroglycerin is first placed in the well, and the time bomb is later placed in the well to set off the glycerin. The danger is in the nitroglycerin and not in the bomb, as the bomb is used merely to set off the glycerin. The time bomb is equipped with a clock which works like an alarm clock and the shooter sets the clock to strike at a particular time, and this in turn sets off the nitroglycerin in the well. Without the clock the bomb is perfectly harmless, as this is the only means to set it off. The bomb did not contain the clock, and was therefore harmless."

Home, But Doesn't Remember Family

When Tobias J. Burke (above), shell-shocked World War veteran, was reunited with his family at Philadelphia the other day after an absence of eleven years, he said: "I'm sorry—I don't remember you." Discovered operating a gasoline service station in a Chicago suburb, he was revealed to have no memory of anything that happened before the war. He has been living under the name of "Joe Bond."

MODEL HOME IS INSTALLED BY KILLINGSWORTH-COX

The Killingsworth-Cox & Co. of Ranger has worked out the most attractive furniture display ever seen in this part of the country in the form of a completely furnished home.

As one enters the door at the front of the building on the corner of Tusk and Main streets, a beautiful room is to the right with a living room on the left. Immediately behind the living room is a dining room and the kitchen is to the right, across the hall from the dining room. The complete display of furniture, rugs, drapes, pictures, clocks, radio and other items of home furnishings, have been arranged in such a manner that one has no feeling of being in a furniture store, but appears to be visiting in some well-kept and well-arranged home.

All the furniture and fixtures in the home are arranged with an eye toward the beautiful in modern interior decorating. Each article of furniture has been selected with the view to convenience and beauty and the whole home has an appearance of comfort and good taste.

The four rooms were built on the display floor with a hall between. All materials used in the display were purchased in Ranger, all work was done by Ranger workmen and the entire layout of the home was completed with materials and furnishings from Ranger, showing that it is possible to have as attractive a home out of Ranger products as can be obtained by going to a much larger city.

Joseph Dry Goods company, the Texas Electric Service company, Burton-Lingo Lumber company, the Ranger Floral company, John J. Carter, plumber, Bill's Dry Cleaning Plant and the Commercial State Bank have aided in helping to make the display possible and in giving it a home-like appearance.

At night the four rooms are well lighted so that the lighting effects bring out to advantage the different parts of the home and giving it an even more attractive appearance than it presents in the day.

An interior decorating estimate department has been established to aid the people in securing the desired effects in the home and this department will be at the service of the public at all times. The new slogan of the furniture department will be "Watch Our Windows" because the displays will be changed from time to time to present complete changes in home decoration.

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 7.—The diligent work towards recovery of the kidnaped Lindbergh child continued today with belief prevalent that the child was well and would be returned to its parents.

AND NOW BOSTON CLAIMS THE HONOR
 And now Boston makes the claim to fame as the highest ranking American city in point of financial rating. Heads of the Boston finance commission assert that Boston enjoys a far superior position in the matter of municipal debts and taxation. In its challenge the Boston finance commission reports that Milwaukee's percentage of debt to $1000 valuation is $47.90 for city debt and $55.60 for combined city and county against $33.20 for Boston debt and $22.81 for city and county obligation.

Boston is the democratic stronghold of New England. In fact, the democratic majority rolls as high as 70,000. Mayor James M. Curley is its chief executive. He is the leader of the Roosevelt forces in Massachusetts, a former member of congress, and one of the most aggressive of all the Democratic leaders of the Old Bay State.

Mayor Daniel Hohan of Milwaukee has the floor. His figures have been challenged by the mayor of the baked beans and brown bread metropolis of the ancients of New England.

MILLIONS BACK IN THE CHANNELS OF TRADE
 More than $200,000,000 of hoarded money has been lured into the channels of trade. This is the verdict of Secretary Ogden L. Mills of the Department of the treasury. He says the vast sum has been brought into commercial channels since the Hoover administration announced its anti-hoarding campaign. It was all brought about by strengthening banking structure and increased confidence as a result of reconstruction loans to business.

Well, there is a $2,000,000,000 fat financial watermelon. Texas ranks fifth or sixth in American commonwealths in population, first in the production of agriculture and mineral wealth and second in volume of foreign exports. Are the legitimate industries of Texas, rail and bank and agriculture and manufacturing, in position to say that they have been given due recognition by the powers that be? Like the dew of Heaven the favors of the Dawes reconstruction credit corporation should fall on all alike. There should be no pets nor favored sections.

COLONEL McADOO HAS THE DEPRESSION BLUES
 Colonel William Gibbs McAdoo made a landing in Washington. Press representatives gathered. He had just concluded his trip across the continent. This is what he said to the scribes:

"He could see no sign of improvement in either agriculture, business, or industry, in California, the South, West, or the Pacific Coast."

A reminder that before the coming of the 1929 flurry in the financial world all the big voices of politics and commerce were advising the people that men were fools who would go about selling their America short. False prophets, almost to a man. False prophets, now are those who "see no signs of improvement." Only just the other day Thomas B. Love remarked to a newspaper friend: "Really the business situation is improving and the outlook is most encouraging." There are wire crossers to be found everywhere under American skies.

STILL TIME TO PLANT A CORN CROP.
 State survey shows that very little corn had been planted prior to the freeze in some South Texas counties. Northern and eastern counties report corn planting to be from one to three weeks later than usual. Hence, despite the late freeze, there is still time to plant a corn crop, but the survey shows the danger of expanding cotton acreage at the expense of feed and food as a result of adverse weather and that conditions had favored heavy infestation in the southern half of the state but lighter infestation in Northern Texas. Is farming a gamble? Is the farmer a gambler? He is, and he is hit on the nose oftener than the fancy gamblers of the cities and towns of the world.

A FAMOUS RANCH KNOCKED DOWN TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER
 And it has now come to pass that the personal properties of the Miller Brothers 101 Oklahoma ranch has gone under the hammer of the auctioneer. Two of the famous brothers are dead while the remaining brother is listed among the broken favorites of Dame Fortune. It would be impossible to write a history of Oklahoma, a complete history without large space given to the Miller Brothers ranch, their oil lands of yesteryear, their Wild West shows, and the romances in the lives of these pioneers as well as their ups and downs while riding the wheel of Dame Fortune.

WHERE THE JIM CROW LAW IS VALID
 Texas has a Jim Crow law. It segregates negro passengers on trains, interurbans, and street cars in special compartments. Well, the court of criminal appeals has spoken. This Jim Crow law of ancient vintage does not apply to motor buses. All the fault of Texas lawmakers. This very important decision holds that "it may be unfortunate that the legislature did not provide for such a contingency by inserting buses or other public conveyances in the statute." Well, another legislature will be grinding next winter. Then there may be a new Jim Crow law enacted.

A POLITICAL FLASH FROM GEORGIA
 All the returns are in and the lesson of the presidential primary is a bit impressive. Franklin D. Roosevelt carried all the 159 counties and increased his tremendous lead in popular vote. In other words he made a clean sweep of all the counties, all the voting units allotted in a state convention to name national delegates which is about the most complete victory ever accorded to a presidential aspirant in Georgia for native or adopted son.

A REPUBLICAN DRY FLOPS IN ILLINOIS
 Senator Orrin F. Glenn of Illinois, elected as a dry, has flopped to the wet side of the issue. He has made the prediction that prohibition will be abolished at the next session of congress. Senator Glenn must be of the opinion that another maker of miracles has returned to the earth.

Celebration of April 14 as Pan-American Day will have at least one good point. It will remind everybody that Charlie Curtis is still vice president.

 championship of the Oil Belt, then there would be someone from Breckenridge, Abilene, Mineral Wells, Eastland, Cisco or some of these towns around here, who would want a try at the title. He could challenge the holder and the holder would have to accept all challenges that the promoters considered worthy. Then, if the championship went to Mineral Wells, for instance, there would be a lot of interest in trying to win it back for Ranger.

The more we think about it the more we think that we have, for once, had a real thought. Almost real, at least.

Incidentally about half a dozen fight fans said that we had hit the nail on the head, so to speak, when we suggested the championship idea, so maybe we weren't so hairy as we thought when we first made the suggestion.

We have heard that Jacksboro is now in the Oil Belt Golf association, but the schedule we have does not include any games by that outfit, and we have not received any notice of the change in schedule, so until we are sure we are not even admitting that Jacksboro exists, much less that it is part of the Oil Belt. The birds out at the Country club are hounds for publicity, but unless they can get us suggested the championship idea, we will just have to let it ride rather than take a chance on being all wrong. Our schedule says Ranger doesn't play this Sunday and until we are told different Ranger doesn't play as far as we are concerned.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Andrew W. Mellon isn't treasurer of the United States, though countless persons are under that impression.

Mellon is secretary of the treasury, whereas the position of treasurer carries with it custody of the nation's gigantic gold reserves—is Major W. O. Woods. Maybe his name is strange to you, but you carry Woods' signature around with you at all times, except when you are broke, because his signature appears on every piece of paper money Uncle Sam issues.

In addition to being the man who has custody of nearly one-half of all the gold in the world just now—which has come about with the big flow of gold to the United States—Major Woods is the man who signs the president's pay check. Every month inclusion among the thousands of checks the White House, by a messenger, payable to the president of the United States for $6250—or one-twelfth of $75,000—to help keep the wolf from Hoover's door.

The exact amount of gold—in coin and bullion—held by the treasury on a certain recent date was $9,357,148,224—equal to approximately $22.50 for every man, woman and child in the land.

BUT only a mere $5,000,000 of that huge amount in gold is stored in the big vaults of the Treasury Department building in Washington. The bulk of it is distributed as follows at the treasury's New York assay office: $25,000,000, San Francisco; $1,225,000,000, Philadelphia; $555,000,000, Denver; $412,000,000, in various banks; $100,000,000, and smaller amounts in various government assay offices in the west.

The coins are in dusty bags and the bullion is in equally dusty sacks. This vast treasure is seldom disturbed, except when an occasional shipment is made abroad to re-establish a trade balance. It plays little part in trade as it is merely the security of the paper money that represents gold in the channels of business.

"See this!" said Major Woods as he drew a $10 bill from his pocket. "This piece of paper means that the owner thereof can get $10 in gold for it any time he elects to come to the treasury and demand it. The treasury has the gold dollar for dollar and will pay to the paper money holder without question."

These are five kinds of paper money in current use, Major Woods explained: United States Reserve notes, national bank notes, and silver certificates. These sleeping hoards of yellow metal guarantee every note and silver certificate are issued against deposits of standard silver dollars for the convenience of the public, which prefers the paper to the heavy and bulky metal.

THERE are in existence $40,000,000 silver dollars, of which 494,000,000 are stored away by the treasury. $0,000,000 of these are held in Washington. At places where the government stores its gold and silver the treasury is so safely vaulted and so well guarded that any attempt at holdup by robbers would be futile.

The government pays $20.67183 an ounce for all gold offered if the price fixed by law. Thus $5000 worth weighs 17 1/2 pounds while a 14-ton truck could haul away $5,000,000 worth. The bars of bullion, each about 2-3 the size of an ordinary brick, are worth approximately $5000 each.

If all the gold in the United States were melted into one lump that lump would just about fill an ordinary box car.

The treasury issues paper money in denominations from $1 to $10,000. The latter bills being used most often to settle bank clearings and to facilitate cash real estate deals, it hardly would be good business management for a man to carry a $10,000 bill around in his pocket, says Major Woods, since the loss of interest thereon—at 4 1/2 per cent—would be about $115 each day.

THE new $1,000,000 treasury bill, of which the public has heard so much recently, isn't carried at all, says Major Woods. It is a government bond which is issued at a discount, payable at face value at maturity. The discount represents the interest.

The $10,000 bill is the largest currency denomination the government has ever issued, and there are 5546 of these in circulation.

Government of Newfoundland Is Asked To Resign

By United Press.
 ST. JOHNS, N. F., April 7.—Immediate removal of the Newfoundland government was requested today to prevent further truth in the capitol, still threatened by a mob.

Police and citizen volunteers kept the crowd in hand. Unless the government resigned, however, more mob violence such as that which wrecked the parliament buildings and threatened the life of the premier, was feared.

A citizens committee called on Gov. Sir John Middleton and warned him of the threats of violence and urged that he take immediate action.

The governor said he had no authority to act on any of the committee's suggestions.

Prime Minister Sir Richard Squires, however, returned to the capitol from hiding where he was taken to escape from rioters and "let it be known that he would stand pat."

He appeared little the worse for his experience.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

TOMORROW: Can a glass be broken by sound alone?

THAT persistent newspaper advertising is the best investment any business concern can make. Nothing can be compared with it to bring steady business, safety and security to those directing it.

Business concerns who are successful have become successful by the aid of persistent, truthful advertising.

Progressive business men know that it pays to maintain equality and then tell the public about it.

Advertising is the best selling force in existence. It brings the business advertised before the public.

Persistent advertising means the honest telling of goods or service.

It is necessary for a business concern to carry quality in goods and service and to sell at reasonable prices.

Next, it is necessary to advertise truthfully and to continue to do so as long as a business exists.

Business comes where it is invited and stays where it is well treated.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING HELPS TO REMOVE OUTSIDE COMPETITION MORE EFFECTIVELY THAN ANY OTHER KNOWN METHOD OF SECURING BUSINESS.

Too many people spend too much time building castles. Building air castles is, no doubt, a whole lot of fun, but it doesn't bring results.

Member of Quantrell Band Still Restless

By United Press.
 A Texas restlessness that gave him a career as a member of Quantrell's famous outlaw band—outlaw, buffalo hunter, fighter and soldier—still has Frank Dalton to "move on" at the age of 34.
 "I'm too old to change my habit—settle down," declared Dalton, who claims he is the last survivor of the band that colored the war character, Quantrell, as the weather clears up on. Roaming is a sort of habit me—I like to keep moving.
 Excitement of an oil town led him here just to "win" Dalton said, and soon he will go again. Where, he doesn't know, but to some place give relief to his restless days when he was a member of Quantrell's band, which has become the mystery of the world, were recalled by Dalton. Dalton's right name was Charles who was a man of education and exceptional intelligence, Dalton said.
 Dalton was engaged in teaching at Lawrence, Kan., when an oil boom started. Dalton re-portedly advised moderation, but a man of mild and tolerant ways was not of unreasonable ambition. Dalton was chased him out after a while.
 Dalton wanted to "hang the" rebel sympathizer, but he was released and Quantrell came to the rescue, mostly of boys ed. "He was too young to enlist in the regular southern army. Our were to patrol and protect the homes while the men were away."
 Dalton's band was outlawed because of the war because we had been regularly enrolled in the Confederate army.
 Dalton has had a checkered career as a pioneer in the old west. Born in Galati, Texas, March 8, 1848, he was taken to Georgia by his parents when he was five months old. In 1862 they went to Missouri when the negroes rebelled.
 "The next spring, when I was 15, I joined Quantrell and stayed to the end of the war," Dalton re-ported. "Then some of us under Joe Shelby went to Mexico intending to join Maximilian but conditions were not satisfactory and I came back."
 Furnishing buffalo meat to railroad camps, several years with the regular army fighting Indians in the Black Hills and Texas next furnished Dalton excitement.

Are You Enjoying These 4 Advantages of Modern Gas Cookery?

Thanks to the untiring efforts of gas range engineers, cooking today is easier and more economical than ever before. Improvements unthought of just a few years ago are saving time, money and work for countless women all over the United States. Here are four advantages of the LATEST ranges that no woman will want to be without:

- OVEN HEAT CONTROL. Keeps the oven at any degree of heat you want. Simply set the dial at the desired temperature and thermostatic control will hold it there as long as you like.
- INSULATED OVEN WALLS. Seal heat inside of the oven. Keep the kitchen cooler. Save gas.
- SCIENTIFIC HEAT CIRCULATION. Makes the temperature uniform throughout the oven. No hot spots or cool corners. Foods brown evenly and quickly.
- AUTOMATIC LIGHTER. Eliminates the bother of matches. A turn of the gas cock and the flame is ready.

If you are not now enjoying these advantages, see Miss Allen demonstrate the conveniences and economy of the MODERN gas range at the Ranger Times Cooking School. The ease and accuracy of the new methods will be a revelation to you.

Now the economic depression has caused a decrease in the need for private nurses and an increase for the services of the public nurse who is expected to be discussed by the delegates and speakers.

S. public health service, Washington; Hazel Corbin, general director, Maternity Center association, New York; Blanche F. Webb, director of the Norfolk City Union of the King's Daughters; Dr. Carl E. the MAN HUNTERS BY MABEL McELLIOTT

Susan folded the letter prayerfully and stamped it.

OUT OUR WAY "I can't be fired," she told herself. "I mustn't." As the days passed Susan slipped into a fixed and demanding routine...

AT RANGER HOSPITALS

City-County Hospital. Mrs. Ada Copp, nurse at the City-County hospital, is resting very nicely after having undergone an operation this morning.

West Texas Clinic. Miss Lucille Ford of Graham was operated this morning. Mrs. A. L. Wilson underwent an operation today.

Waring bowed royally. "Delighted, I'm sure. Quite an addition to our happy little family. And now can I help the little lady?"

Although Susan hated being called "little lady" above all things she could not deny that the purring softness of Mr. Waring's voice had a soothing quality.

Her self-control threatened to desert her. Sheer tragedy it seemed to Susan, that the beautiful neat and correct sheets, already signed by the exquisite flourish of the absent Mr. Heath...

"Only the first sheet is spoiled," he said rapidly. "Copy it over. Let me see the book." She gave it to him and he smiled.

She wondered even as she answered this man slowly and deliberately why she hesitated. There was something in her blood warning her against him...

Still she refused. "Not this time," she said. She fibbed, "I'm busy Saturday."

RANGER HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
