THREAT MADE TO AMEND ALL TARIFF RATES

Senator Thomas Demands Oil Tariff Remain In Remain.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The senate finance committee today climaxed a morning of extensive revenue increases in the revenue bills by making all excise taxes contained in the bill including the new postal rates permanent levies.

There are 25,000 tariff rates in the Smoot-Hawley bill, Thomas said. "If oil is not included in the tax bill, I shall move, one by one, to reduce all protective tariffs to levels where they will raise revenue only, but provide no protection for the northeast."

And What Did Governor of Ohio Say?

It seems there was plenty of that old-fashioned "southern hospitality" for which Dixie is justly famed when Governor George White of Ohio, often mentioned as a possible Democratic presidential nominee, attended the Beaux Arts ball given in connection with the governors' convention at Richmond, Va. Here is Governor White, in a happy mood, between two charming Richmond matrons—Mrs. Wichter Dudley, Jr., left, and Mrs. John T. Lewis, right—who seem to be bent on making his visit a pleasant one.

NEFF RAPPED BY SMITH AND C. V. TERRELL

TYLER, Texas, May 4.—Chairman C. V. Terrell and Commissioner Len A. Smith of the Texas railroad commission, here for a personal investigation of oil thefts in the East Texas fields, today issued a statement charging Commissioner Pat Neff with failure to cooperate with them.

They described the absent third member of the commission as a "vociferous stage decorator" and said most of the charges which he made in an open telegram sent them last night will be ignored.

SENATOR SHEPPARD EVER A REGULAR

Senator Norris Sheppard is an aggressive opponent of a third party if the drvs fail to dominate the platform makers of the great political parties. There was a third ticket, a dry one, four years ago. It received slightly in excess of 20,000 votes. Mark Goodman writes from Washington that the senator who was the author of the 18th amendment is against referendum, resubmission of amendment. This is his latest:

"Prohibition will not be repealed until it is possible for a bird to fly to Mars with the Washington monument tied to its tail."

Hand it to Sheppard for knowing where to find his hat. He never deserts the democratic ship. He never bolts. He never sulks. Again he has made the positive announcement "that he will remain in the democratic party in the next election as he did four years ago with Alfred E. Smith the nominee." He supported the reduction of the prohibition enforcement funds, $11,369,500 to $10,250,000, under the drive for a 10 per cent reduction all along the line.

Senator Sheppard is never a four flusher in or out of politics. He knows that Texas has constitutional prohibition and the Dean statutory enforcement law. He knows that if the 18th amendment and the Volstead acts were repealed tomorrow Texas would have constitutional prohibition and the Dean act—and that's that. He is as sincere a pro as ever walked the earth. He is a party man. He goes all the road. He agrees with Jefferson that in "a democracy the will of the majority is the law of the party." Let Tom Love learn from him.

HUEY P. LONG'S LATEST

Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana visited Cleveland, where he addressed the Civic club. This was his foreword: "We ought to quit whittling away at the tariff and prohibition and abolish hangar, the real enemy of mankind in this land of plenty."

He predicted that the nation is facing evolution or revolution in the next 10 years. Sure, the nation is facing evolution—the law of life and nature. Present economic conditions, according to the Pelican senator, should be rectified by placing purchasing power in the hands of 20,000,000 people. He was given "great applause" when he said "You are no man if you wouldn't steal to keep your family from starving," and was given wild applause when he attacked "a bloated plutocracy whose senses have been deadened by the lethal fumes of prosperity."

Strange to relate, Senator Huey P. Long is the king of the Louisiana "stoppers." He had his state committee elect a delegation which will jump in any direction, when Huey cracks the whip. At least, this is what the boys on the inside say in the Creole state of Louisiana. There are many political straphangers in America. There is an old story of a wolf in the clothing or skin of a sheep. Well, the story was true in the long ago and it is true today. It would be much truer if it were revised to read "sly foxes in the skins of lambs."

GOVERNOR BILL TAKES IT ON THE NOSE

Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma ousted Col. Lew Wentz from the Oklahoma highway commission April 1, by an executive order. Colonel Wentz, who was the republican member and a multi-millionaire oil philanthropist, appealed to the courts. Two district judges collaborated. They heard the evidence and they read the constitution and laws of Oklahoma. Then they nullified the executive order and ordered the reinstatement of Wentz. This was the ruling: "We hold that the act of the legislature, Chapter 68 of the Session Laws of 1929, is not contrary to any provision of the state constitution, but is in all respects a constitutional law. We hold that this law is the sole and only source of the power of the governor to appoint a highway commissioner."

Governor Bill will appeal from the decision of the district judges to the supreme court. Really, the disrespect shown the governor by the district judges is shocking to the mind. Didn't Governor Bill, when statehood was ushered in, make the constitution of Oklahoma? Hasn't he admitted time and again that from foreword to last word it is his making? Isn't the creator more all-wise than the creation of a powerful mind? What a world.

GEN. SMEDLEY BUTLER AS A HUMORIST

General Smedley Butler, candidate for the office of United States Senator in Pennsylvania, is for the soldiers' bonus but in the same breath characterized as a crazy scheme the proposal to make the payment an issue of new money. These are the words of the distinguished soldier who turned in another army officer for serving cocktails at a reception given in honor of Smedley: "The World war veteran is entitled to have his bonus in the soundest money in the world and I won't stand for paying him off in phony money." Now which one of the horses is the gallant marine riding in his remarkable race for office? By the way, he promises to rid the senate of millionaires if he makes a successful landing. Why jump the millionaires?

SPEAKING OF COTTON AND COTTON SHIRTS

Col. William E. Talbot of Dallas is vice president of Progressive Texans. As the decentralization of industry is on the way now is the time, according to Col. Talbot, for Texas to secure plants using cotton and other raw materials. He points out that the six cents worth of cotton now used in a shirt made of Texas cotton can be increased to $1.55 income to this state for each shirt if the shirts are made in Texas. Moreover, he said that $15,000,000 worth of shirts bought in Texas annually represented an expenditure greater than the Texas rice, sweet potatoes and citrus crop. Some day Texas will be a great manufacturing state and the people of Texas will buy the products of Texas as mills and factories and keep their money at home.

CHICAGO'S DEATH TOLL

Chicago had a thousand deaths caused by automobile accidents in a single year. Indeed, Chicago automobilists killed more men, women and children, three to one, than all the gunmen of Chicago and Cook county. A gunman gets into the picture and on the front page daily. A victim of an automobile driver is given a three line local. Why the rank discrimination in the matter of space? Why should a gunman get all the pictorial and prose glory?

M. O'ELSHNER, above, of Abilene, has announced his candidacy for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals for the Eleventh District at Eastland, which office is now held by Honorable O. C. Funderburk, who has announced for re-election.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON.—Tom Heflin, the unlamented erstwhile senator from Alabama, spent five hours trying to talk himself back into the Senate, standing on the same Senate floor where in years past he had consumed many long, weary hours.
But he must have talked himself out of whatever chance he had, if any, in his contest against Senator John Bankhead. It was a fearful thing to have to watch and to listen to. It made the Senate itself look pretty sick and there wasn't the faintest ray of sunshine that day except as it might be found in the remote hope that the Senate itself realized how awful it all was. But the sight and sound of old Tom was enough to remind the senators of the great loss they had sustained in Tom's defeat—and to reconcile them to that loss completely.

Better Than Old Tom

NOT that anyone is especially enthusiastic over Bankhead, who made a weak speech on his own behalf, or over the skullduggery which unquestionably figured to some extent in the election in which Bankhead defeated Heflin by an alleged 50,000 votes.
But there is a preponderant opinion here, tonight as it may be, that a silent Bankhead is more to be desired than an erupting Heflin.
Most of these election contests are pretty smelly, anyway in both the Senate and the House. Members vote on party lines as a rule, apparently disregarding the merits of the cases.

Good Politics for G. O. P.

OLD TOM, however, would not have been given the Senate floor for the whole day if a number of Republicans hadn't felt that it was good politics to let him rave.
Whether he deserved the privilege of addressing the Senate or not, he at least demonstrated all over again that the dignity and prestige of that body were enhanced when the voters of Alabama—or the election officials as the case may have been—deprived him of his seat.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma
GUTHRIE, Okla.—A city where the merchants use plenty of newspaper advertising is a city that keeps step with progress.
All eyes are strained to see signs of better times. Unfortunately, the end of the world slump has been heralded more than once, only to be proved later that such optimism was premature. The result of this has been that the public has adopted a very conservative, not to say incredulous, frame of mind in such matters.

Fragment Of Church Bell Is Returned

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER, France. A fragment of the bronze bell of the village church, shattered by gunfire during the war, has been found and returned to the little town of Ablain-Saint-Nazaire, in the Pas-de-Calais, by a Canadian ex-soldier.
John Paterson, of Montreal, formerly of the 60th Canadian infantry, found the fragment on the battlefield in May, 1917, and has sent it back encased in a silver coffer, which is now on view in the war museum at the town hall.

GRIPINGS

This column is published as a daily feature and may not be construed as representing the editorial views of this paper. What follows is merely what one man thought at the time it was written, and the writer reserves the right to change his mind concerning any subject, without notice, explanation or apology.
While waiting to see Judge Funderburk this morning I had quite an enjoyable chat with Ben Childers. Childers seems to be quite conversant with both state and national politics, more so than anyone I've talked with in Eastland. He has reasons that sound reasonable for his convictions, which is more than I can say about lots of folks I talk with.

For instance, he says the republicans want to see John Garner nominated as the democratic candidate for president because they think it's easier to defeat a Texas man or any southerner than it would be a democrat from an eastern state like Roosevelt from New York. That's reasonable.
He has lots of folks from the east who come by here to see the horned frog and the fine courthouse. They come up to the fifth floor and he's the man to greet them. The president of one of the nation's largest automobile manufacturing concerns was up there talking to him recently. Boosting Garner, too.

This has been the quietest week around the courthouse for many moons. No court in any court except the J. P. court and he hasn't had any business to speak of. He has appointed me to defend a certain Ranger negro provided I can get the negro to come over and stand trial. If I can get Grady Owen to ease up a little I'll get my client to come over.
Grady has got to where he makes a political speech whenever he talks to a jury and if he'll keep that up, he might becloud the issue to where we can both win. I'll get the jury to free my negro and he'll get the men on the jury to vote for him.

Eastland Music Study Club Gives Fine Arts Recital

Music lovers from all over the county and adjoining counties filled the auditorium of the First Methodist church in Eastland last night for the fine arts recital sponsored by the Music Study Club of Eastland and presented under the direction of Miss Wilda Drago.
Mrs. W. K. Jackson presided and introduced the guests of honor, Mrs. S. E. Hittson, president of the Sixth District T. F. W. C., and Miss Wilda Drago. Mrs. Jackson was profuse in her compliments to both the guests. Mrs. Hittson addressed the gathering as a part of the regular program.
Mrs. Grady Pipkin made an address of welcome. Mrs. M. H. Haganman of Ranger made an address on "Music in Club Life."
The musical part of the program was carried out in accordance with previous announcements.
The entire recital was an event of more than ordinary importance to the music lovers of this locality. It was far the biggest thing of its kind yet attempted in cities of this size and ranked in quality with the programs in the more metropolitan cities of the state.
All performers appeared in evening dresses and each speaker was presented with a bouquet of flowers. Miss Drago and her committee were given a shower bouquet. The church was decorated artistically with flowers of all kinds.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

With BILL MAYFS
We hope he has better luck with his than we did with the one that was brought into this office last week by the owner of the hen that laid it. The egg was unusually large and it was brought down to us so we could give the hen a writeup about doing bigger and better things and all that. The egg rested on our desk for two or three days, but yesterday it got covered with some newspapers and someone sat down on our desk and squashed the egg. The insides ran all over our desk and we had to do a lot of scrubbing to get it off. Which may account for the fact that a whole colony of flies took up quarters on the northwest corner of the desk and pestered us all the rest of the day.
All hens planning to lay any of those balloon type eggs would confer a favor on us if they would make arrangements to lay only hard-boiled eggs.

"Andy" Anderson, district governor elect of the 41st district of Rotary, returned from Mineral Wells Tuesday afternoon wearing a new straw hat and a broad grin.
Andy's campaign for district governor was so successful that he had no opposition and was unanimously elected, for which we should claim some credit for the high-powered publicity we wrote for him and sent to all the leading papers in his district. But modesty forbids and we attribute his successful campaign only to his standing in Rotary circles throughout the district. We predict that he will make the best district governor the Rotarians of this section have ever had.

The TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)
NOW that the skinny lad was gone, wee, lazy Duncy, with a yawn said, "Well, I guess I'll take a nap. I'm tired as I can be.
There's nothing much that I can do right now to help the rest of you. Our boat just travels by itself, while sailing out to sea.
"Why don't two of you join me now? The last one can get by somehow until it is his turn to snooze. That way we'll all keep fit.
"We'll sleep a half an hour or so. The one on watch can then shout, 'Ho! Wake up, one of you Tinies and right in the guard's seat!"

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

A GIRAFFE HAD ONLY SEVEN VERTEBRAE, ONE HALF AS MANY AS A HUMMING BIRD.
YOUNG DUCKS ARE BORN-SWIMMERS, BUT YOUNG SWANS HAVE TO BE TAUGHT BY THEIR PARENTS.
A HANDFUL OF AMERICAN POTATOES, SENT TO CHINA SEVEN YEARS AGO, SAVED THE LIVES OF A MILLION CHINESE IN THE WARS OF THE PAST FEW YEARS.
ALMOST ALL MAMMALS HAVE seven neck bones. In land animals, the vertebrae are merely longer than those of short-necked animals. A giraffe has no more than a whale. In birds, the number is more variable. Humming birds have 14 to 16 vertebrae, ducks 15 or 17, and swans 25.

- Sixteenth—The lady receiving the greatest number of votes will be elected; which gives her the right to select a lady companion for the tour. Except in case of a tie, in which event the two ladies tying would take the tour.

Who Wants a Vacation Trip?

Well, who doesn't want one? Who wouldn't enjoy a week's vacation trip, riding the Greyhound busses, stopping at the best hotels, seeing the side trips, visiting the South's finest theatres?

And this with ALL EXPENSES PAID!

Many women haven't been able to save money to take a trip this year. Many would like to go but don't feel able to spend the money. Consider this seriously and see how easily and with what little effort you can take a vacation this year without cost to you.

What Do You Have To Do?

All you have to do in this campaign is go out among your friends and ask them to save their votes for you. The merchants who are giving the trip will give votes with every cash purchase and on every payment received on account.

These votes will be given to the person making the purchase or the payment. All you have to do is to collect the votes from among your friends who trade with these merchants, sign your name to the votes, and put them in the ballot box.

TWO FREE TRIPS!

Two free trips will be awarded. The woman receiving the highest number of votes in the campaign will be awarded a trip and she will have the privilege of selecting her own companion to accompany her on the trip.

Read the rules! Register as an entrant! Get busy! Get out among your friends and tell them to save their votes for you. You'll be surprised how quickly they'll respond and how much interest everyone will take in the campaign.

Where You Will Go

You'll get on a Greyhound bus here and be taken to San Antonio where you will spend the night in one of its finest hotels. After a good night's rest you'll be taken over the city to see the historical missions, the Alamo, Brackenridge Park, the Sunken Garden . . . the most interesting places in Texas.

That night you'll visit the fine theatres and enjoy their superb entertainment. The next morning you'll get up and go to Monterey, Mexico. An old city of more than 100,000 population, with hundreds of places of interest. You'll spend two days there in a good hotel with everything arranged for your enjoyment. My . . . what a trip.

You may return by way of Corpus Christi, seeing the sea wall, the cliff and other points of interest.

Who Can Go?

You can go! You furnish the time, we furnish everything else! You select your own companion so the trip will not be lonesome, yet it will be congenial.

The dates of the trip will be announced later, for if possible a date will be selected when there'll be something extra going on in some of the places you'll visit.

Register Now!

Merchants will start giving votes one week from today. The contest officially opens Tuesday, May 6th. Register now at The Times office and be ready to start off with the starting date.

You will be given 5000 votes free to start you off the minute you register as a contestant.

The contest runs until 6 p. m., Tuesday, August 9th, at which time the ballot box will be opened, the votes counted and the winner announced.

DON'T DELAY! Register NOW AT THE TIMES OFFICE!

Oil Refineries Most Valuable Texas Industry

AUSTIN.—Texas petroleum refineries, producing goods valued at $519,005,136 led all other single manufacturing interests, according to the biennial report of the United States Bureau of Census. The value of raw products used in refineries during the year was $127,495,437.

There were 83 refineries in Texas during that year, employing 22,245 persons who were paid $33,069,387. The value of the refined petroleum products was more than one-half the total value of all manufactured products produced in Texas during the year, the total being $1,450,246,431.

While crude oil production was not considered in the report, the 296,876,000 barrels of oil produced during that year was valued at approximately four hundred million dollars. Refinery employees were more highly paid than the average worker in manufacturing plants, receiving an average of around $15.06 annually while the average for all employees was approximately $13.05.

As a whole, Texas industry during 1929 consumed $289,939,528 worth of raw materials, turning them out as finished products with an added value of $460,306,863. A grand total of 822,860 horsepower was required to keep the wheels spinning in all the factories of the state.

While oil refining was the state's most valuable industry, bakeries were found to be more numerous than any other manufacturing business. There were 587 bakeries, employing 5,672 persons and paying them $14,360,419. Raw materials used in making were valued at $16,897,287 and the finished products at $36,881,042.

Consuming $15,758,161 worth of raw materials, the state's 325 lumber mills produced $44,506,126 worth of finished merchandise. They employed 17,206 persons and paid them $15,777,522. The 107 flour mills hired 1,031 persons and paid them $3,155,066 while their raw materials were valued at $4,501,040 and the finished products at $51,378,284.

Spanish Bull Fighters Facing Another Off Year

MADRID.—Bull fighting, which has an unusually bad year in 1931, seems doomed for another bad season.

If things keep on the prophetic of the great "matador" Juan Belmonte, when he said that bull fighting will disappear by the year 2010, will seem to be far too optimistic.

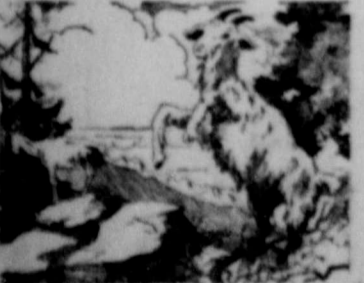

Early last year it was predicted that the 1931 season would be one of the worst in the history of the bull fighting business. The final statistics, however, prove the correctness of the prediction, for in 1931 only 249 "senior" bull fights were held in Spain, compared with 502 in 1930. The number of "junior" bull fights held in Spain during 1931 were 600, compared with 954 in 1930.

It now seems that the slump will continue. And to cap the climax, the weather has been bad this year, for up to the end of March it was still cold in most cities, and, while American football enthusiasts may enjoy watching a game in zero weather, the Spaniards want a good hot sun for bull fights.

In some places, such as Cordoba, for instance, there is no prospect of any bull fights this year, as no one has been found who is willing to operate the bull ring.

Here there is proof that the business has not progressed as expected, for the new bull ring in the suburb of Las Ventas, erected in 1929 still is unused for bull fighting. One bull fight, to celebrate the advent of the Republic, was held there last year, but now it is the scene of an occasional mass meeting or band concert.

A Little Jumping Goat Gave Its Name to TAXICAB

Taxicab is an abbreviation of taximeter-cabriolet—a vehicle carrying an instrument for automatically registering the fare. The name cabriolet is the diminutive of the French cabri, meaning "a leap" like that of a goat, and was applied to this type of carriage because of its light, bounding motion. Cabriolet came from the Italian capriolo, meaning "a leaping" from the Latin capra "a goat," capra "a she-goat." There are thousands of such stories about the origins of English words.

Not Perfect—But Just About

There is no such thing as a perfect woman, according to Professor Lora Maxwell, physical educational department, Arizona State Teachers' College, Flagstaff, Ariz. But Sina Siniha, 18-year-old sophomore shown above, comes nearest to physical perfection in the school, Professor Maxwell says. Sina's measurements are: height, 63 inches; weight, 123 pounds; bust, 36 inches; chest expansion, 4 inches; calf, 13 inches; ankle, 8 inches; hips, 35 inches. She is a blue-eyed blond, wears a 16 dress, a size 5 shoe and is an all-round athlete.

Lightweight—Tony Canzoneri, Italian-American.

Junior lightweight—Kid Chocolate (Eligio Sardinis), Cuban negro.

Featherweight—Vacant; Freddie Miller ranks No. 1, German-American.

Bantamweight—Panama Al Brown, negro.

Flyweight—Victor Perez, French.

Montana City Tried Ballyhoo

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—"Ballyhooing" by cities to lure new citizens to their confines is not such a modern movement after all. The Fort Benton Press for Jan. 2, 1884, published an article entitled "Facts About Fort Benton" and designed to attract new residents to its gates.

The article set forth the many agricultural and mining resources of the territory surrounding Fort Benton and the many business and social advantages in the town itself.

Fort Benton, then a town of 2,000 population, had two banks, two daily newspapers, a $50,000 school building and a $15,000 hospital.

Steamboat trade on the Missouri river was flourishing at that time and the town boasted its commerce was greater than that of any other Montana town.

Boats brought 17,000,000 pounds of merchandise to the town's wharves in 1883 and the coming of the railroads killed the river trade, and when the boat lines passed out of existence, Fort Benton's aspirations went with them.

HERE TODAY SUSAN CAREY, pretty secretary, is in love with BOB DENISE, young millionaire she met at business college. At a party given by DENISE ACKROYD, society girl, Susan realizes Bob is not for her. Bob fights with BEN LAMPMAN, another admirer of Susan's. ERNEST HEATH, Susan's employer, happens along and escorts the girl back to the Arkway house. MISS HEATH, bitterly jealous, later threatens to sue Susan for alienation of affections. JACK WARING, Heath's assistant, is able to prevent this by producing an incriminating letter. Mrs. Heath goes to Reno instead. Susan tries to forget Bob. HAY FLANNERY, strong-earner in the next office, confides to Susan that she is heartbroken because "BOBBY" WEBB has married another. Susan's chum, ROSIE MILTON, plans to give up a career for the man she loves. Bob comes to the office but Heath interrupts his conversation with Susan. On Christmas eve Bob calls to see Susan. Angered because Heath has sent her flowers, he forces unwilling kisses on her lips.

young man mind if I carry you off like this?" Denise said, "never mind about him. He's in a fearful temper anyhow. I'll let him cool off." They found a little table just under the balcony in the big hall. The man noticed with idle interest that his companion's frock was by far the most outrageously revealing in the place. In front the bodice was demurely cut but there was the merest ribbon at the back. What he could not know was that Denise's mother, a futile, nervous little woman, had spent hours trying to argue the girl out of wearing it. What were young girls thinking of nowadays, he wondered idly. They wore gowns which 10 years ago would have been dared only by women of the half world.

Waring was finding this crude child amusing now. Furthermore there was something he wanted to find out. "Don't be that way," Denise admonished him. "Of course he does but I never worried about it until a few months ago." "What happened then?" "He got the most insane idea! He began to rave about a girl he'd met at some frightful business school. I fixed that!" Waring's tone became softly admiring. "Clever child!" "It was a plot really," laughed Denise excitedly. "It was lots of fun. I had this girl and her gang come out for a week-end and showed her up. It was simple."

HAVING learned what he wanted to know, Waring exerted himself to please. Underneath his blasé exterior there was a current of excitement. He liked meddling in other's affairs. It was one of the diversions he permitted himself. Remembering the expression on Susan's face that day he had spoken to her of young Dunbar, Waring felt the thrill of the discoverer. He made no plans. His mental processes were essentially simple. He began by employing methods which had succeeded with cherus girls, shop assistants, and ladies of the great world. "What makes you go beautiful?" he began. Denise laughed, recognizing this form of attack and enjoying it. "I love that," she said. "You've been staring at me all evening and you've just come to."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXI ARE you with the Gladding's party?" Jack Waring smiled down at the heart shaped face tilted up to his. "I am."

Denise narrowed her long eyes at him. "I thought you were. Laura Gladding said they were having a very smooth man out for the New Year's shindig."

"Did she eat with her knife?" Denise pouted. "Now you're making fun of me." "On my word of honor I'm not. I'm vastly entertained. How did you show her up?" "Oh, things happened," said Denise vaguely. "I spiked it away."

Denise stared at him. "I don't know what you mean. Of course I like Bobby and you have to marry some time. We'd be a pair. He'd let me go my way and—well, anyway it's virtually settled. His father expects it and so does mine."

Denise shrugged. "Well, pretty much. The rest are mostly infants home from college for the holidays. You couldn't really call them men." Her disdainful glance swept over the bright room. "Not even that one?" Waring indicated with a lift of one eyebrow a tall, fair haired young man glowering in the stag line. "He looks fairly grown up."

Waring continued to smile mockingly. "And I'm the only one who answers that description I suppose?" Denise shrugged. "Well, pretty much. The rest are mostly infants home from college for the holidays. You couldn't really call them men." Her disdainful glance swept over the bright room. "Not even that one?" Waring indicated with a lift of one eyebrow a tall, fair haired young man glowering in the stag line. "He looks fairly grown up."

"Oh, Bobby!" Denise took the trouble to throw a provocative glance in the stern young man's direction. "Of course I wasn't counting him. He's special."

Denise came fluttering toward him, her voluminous wrap of white fur clutched around her. She took his arm. "You're not such a slow s lumber," she approved. "I said when I saw you, I like that man's looks. He looks like a bit of a rogue."

Women Golfers To Enter Tournament

By United Press. HENDERSON, Tex.—More than 100 women golfers from all over East Texas are expected here next Saturday, April 30, for the quarterly tournament of the East Texas Women's Golf association at the Highland Park Golf Club. The links are being conditioned so they will be in as near perfect shape as possible when play starts. Many of the women golfers from practically every section of the district have already visited the local course for practice rounds. Mrs. Clyde Anthony, president of the association, and Mrs. Will Kelley, both of Palestine, have written Henderson golfers that judging by the number of inquiries they have received, the gathering here will eclipse all attendance records for similar events. There will be four beautiful silver cups offered as prizes. A bridge tournament will be staged in connection with the golf meet, featured by an elaborate luncheon at the clubhouse, with the Parent-Teachers association in charge.

Ice Picks Assume New Domestic Role

By United Press. AUSTIN.—The ice-pick is playing a prominent part in home and industry these days. It has replaced the old-fashioned rolling pin as arbiter of domestic disputes, according to police records here. #### NEW WRINKLES TO KEEP COOKS YOUNG.

For That Spring Chicken.
Nature erred when she gave us chickens in the spring and cranberries in the fall. But man, in the shape of the canning industry has outwitted Dame Nature and we can have cranberry sauce packed in the height of the season in seven-ounce cans, to serve with our spring chicken. To serve canned cranberry sauce at its best you should have one of the can openers which takes off the entire rim of the can. If the cranberry sauce hates to leave the can in smooth, round mold, just punch a hole in the bottom of can (use the ice pick) and air pressure will do the rest.

Try Fresh Pineapple in This New "Pie-let"

The "bite-y" flavor and irresistible tang of fresh pineapple is with us again, as the bomb-shaped fruit bids fair to be better and cheaper than usual for the next few weeks. After the family has enjoyed its first plain pineapple, try it in this delicious "pie-let". Stuff pasteurized dates with wedges of the sugared fresh pineapple. Wrap each stuffed date in a thin layer of left over pastry and bake in a hot oven for about thirty minutes. Delicious and good for picnic too!

Frosting Sans Fatigue.

A "gay" but a real boon to frosting makers whose layer cakes disappear at one eating is a new kind of frosting for frosting. Spread the cake between layers and on top with an eighth-inch layer of jelly, then sprinkle with coconut from package or can, pretty, satisfactory and easy as turning over when the alarm clock rings!

100 Per Cent American.

It would seem that the popular grapefruit cocktail has taken its place along with pumpkin pie and fried chicken as a universally-served American food. In a recent contest conducted by a magazine in leading chefs submitted typical menus and four of them contained grapefruit cocktail as a fruit combination using grapefruit, as a first course. Even greater popularity has been enjoyed by the golden fruit since it is canned, for this variety requires no peeling, slicing or segment removal. And not a squirt in a canful!

Pantry Shelf vs. Ice Box.

Your refrigerator is the best possible place for storing most foods, but not for all foods. Olive oil, for instance, turns to rancid when stored in the refrigerator. The sweet dried fruits—raisins, prunes, dates—become dry and hard as the sugar comes out of solution in fine white crystals. These foods from the hot countries keep best in the pantry shelf even in the summer.

"Treasure Islands" Please the Kitchen Kids.

A real treasure to hurried cooks is a new emergency dessert just originated by a staff of home economists called "Treasure Islands." For quick servings of the delicate minute-saver, cut six slices of sponge cake (purchased variety if desired) into half-inch slices, and then, if preferred, into rounds. Heat two egg whites with a fourth teaspoon of salt, until stiff, then beat in two table-spoonfuls of the granulated sugar. Fold in a half cup of pasteurized dates, pitted and finely cut. Sprinkle with chopped nuts (a fourth cup) if desired. Then pile this mixture on the sponge cake slices and bake in a slow oven until thoroughly brown (about 15 minutes). Serve warm or cold.

Of Course They'll Keep.

If you don't use the entire contents of a can of pimientos, just put the lid back on the can and lock it away in the refrigerator. They will keep for a week or so without moulding if your refrigerator is at all adequate.

Country Club Dance Postponed.

The Ranger Country club dance, to have been given on Saturday evening, has been postponed due to the absence of several members over the week-end. With Mother's day so closely approaching many out-of-town visits are being planned. The dance affair will likely be included during the month of May's functions.

Mrs. Williams Hostess At Class Luncheon Affair.

At small tables brightly appointed with harmonizing colors impressing to an attractive degree spring's color notes, Mrs. Dick Williams acted as hostess to the Central Sunday school class of the Central Baptist church at her Tiffin home yesterday.

The Business Session, Occupying the Mid-afternoon, was Termed as "Class Problems," in which every member of the group offered suggestions and discussed freely the various round table subjects.

The business session, occupying the mid-afternoon, was termed as "class problems," in which every member of the group offered suggestions and discussed freely the various round table subjects. This period of the meeting was capably presided over by the president, Mrs. Owen Bray. Splendid reports were rendered by all chairmen and their active committees. Several new members have been welcomed into the class, with 66 visits made to absentees and prospective members.

The class will gladly donate flowers for the church auditorium, as has been planned.

The following members were appointed composing a nominating committee who will serve when new officers are elected next month: Mrs. J. B. Houghton, Mrs. A. L. Murrell and Mrs. Dick Williams.

May 17 has been named as the day for the tacky party to be held at the residence of Mrs. T. D. Shaffer, 812 Young street.

The following members and visitors were present for the busy but happy affair: Misses Ralph Arnold, Ben Whitehouse, George Rogers, Clyde H. Davis, Clarence Kirby, Owen Bray, J. B. Houghton, Jerry Lindsey, O. A. Rhodes, W. S. Barrett, A. L. Murrell, T. D. Shaffer, J. E. Watson, J. E. Ogg, C. W. Howard, D. H. Whittier, Bonds Martin, R. H. Snyder, C. D. Coe, C. C. Cash.

A beautiful lesson, taken from the Missionary Voice, "What the Chimes Did," was well given by Mrs. Opal Fultz. Mrs. Mills Davenport rendered a lovely reading, "Her Message."

A short business period followed in which Mrs. Aveni offered her resignation as chairman and Mrs. Griffin was elected to fill this place. Those attending this meeting were Misses J. S. Reynolds, Bob Smith, George Parsons, F. E. Jacobs, Opal Fultz, Penton, I. N. Griffin, Gid J. Bryan, J. H. Nottingham, T. L. Wilson, W. R. Aveni, Miss Mary Elizabeth Campbell, and one visitor, Mrs. Miller, of Dallas.

Dancing At Elks Club Thursday

Dancing will again be enjoyed on the extremely good floor of the Elks club Thursday evening at 9 o'clock. Clayton Hunt and his orchestra will play and out-of-town guests are expected to attend.

Dr. Reynolds Talks on 'Conversion' At Revival at Ranger

Another large audience attended the gospel meeting last night at the Ranger Church of Christ with several out-of-town visitors. There was another confession of faith and baptism at the night services. Evangelist Reynolds used for his subject: "New Testament Conversion," and spoke as follows:

What I mean by "New Testament," is the plan the Christ announced after his resurrection, and which had its beginning with Holy Spirit filled Apostles on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2). God's people were not made thus during the days of the Patriarchs and the Jewish or Old Testament Age. "Conversion" simply means a change. It might be a physical change; e. g. Christ converted water into wine. One might have his taste changed from one food to another. Our Lord taught in John 3 that it is not a physical conversion that man is to undergo in becoming a child of God, but a "moral and spiritual change," as is defined by Webster. An unconverted man cannot tell (by sound) from whence the wind comes and whither it goes, neither can the converted man tell where his heart is moral and spiritual.

Who need conversion? Children do not, for mature persons must become like little children—pure, humble, submissive—in being converted and entering Christ's kingdom. The servant of Satan must be converted, whether he be rich or poor, educated or ignorant, "blue blood" or otherwise. A sinner is a "sinner" in God's sight, and no man can stand in His holy presence with his sins.

The Laodicean church (Rev. 3) thought they were all right because they were rich, but when our God turned on His light of revelation He showed them that they needed everything, for they were shown that they were "miserable, wretched and blind and naked." Because of their lukewarm condition, the Lord had gone out of the entire church. God had rather his servant be either "cold or hot," and of course He wants them "Hot," but if they won't be, He cannot stand the "lukewarm." They need conversion.

The moral man needs conversion as much as any other person on earth. Morality alone has never saved anyone. The blood of Jesus Christ is the cleansing power, and this comes through obedience to the gospel of Christ (Rom. 6:1-8). Cornelius was not only a moral man, but he was very religious, had great influence over all his house, and very generous. Yet he had to send for Peter to tell him "words whereby he and his house should be saved." He had not been converted to Christ—had not been saved through His blood.

The "alien sinner" must be converted. An "alien" is a foreigner. The alien sinner is one who is a citizen of the Devil's kingdom. When he is converted, and when does he enter into the "kingdom of the Son of His love" (Gal. 3:13).

What converts? "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul" (Psa. 19:7). The gospel is "the power of God unto salvation" (Rom. 1:16). God's love and mercy are revealed in the great sacrifice that he made in the gift of Christ Jesus as man's Savior in the gospel. Therefore at home and abroad, everywhere that is saved, the power of God's converting power—the Gospel. Prayer and the Holy Spirit directly upon the sinner have never been God's saving power. If so, Christians could keep their missionaries at home and just hold prayer meetings and they would save the heathen.

When is one converted? The heart must be cleansed, and that is done by "faith" (Acts 15:9). Certainly every step of obedience to Christ is an act of faith (Rom. 1:5), but we are using this in limited sense here. The moment

Bandit Gets Life for Murder of Boy in Grocery Store Holdup

Expressing regret at Michigan's lack of capital punishment, a Detroit judge sentenced Theodore Lily, 26, shown in inset, to life imprisonment while hundreds prepared to attend the funeral of little Billy Reynolds, 8, murdered by Lily during a grocery store holdup. The boy is shown with his mother shortly before his death. Billy, who sold magazines after school, entered the store while Lily had the proprietor covered. Lily heartlessly shot the boy down.

one believes he is not thoroughly converted, for Christ said, "Repent or perish" (Luke 13:3). Repentance changes the life—cleans up one's past, as far as it is possible for him to do. Repentance is a vital principle in the second step of conversion. But there is still another step to take before one is fully converted and a member of the kingdom of Christ. The book newswire says one "faiths into Christ," or "Repents into Christ," but Paul did say to the Galatian church that they were "baptized into Christ" (Gal. 3:27). Paul also declared that when one is baptized that he reaches the death of Christ. Christ shed His blood in His death, therefore, one then reaches the blood of Christ. Then Paul plainly taught that "the body of sin might be done away" (See Rom. 6:3-8). To sum up: The gospel, God's saving power, is preached to a lost man. It convinces and convicts, it produces saving faith, repentance, and causes one to be baptized into Christ, at which time, He reaches the blood of Christ, and is, therefore, a converted, or a saved man.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. Subject for tonight: "The Life and Teachings of John the Baptist."

San Antonio Zoo Adds Valuable Bird

SAN ANTONIO.—A Comora Island parrot, valued at more than $300 and believed to be the only one of its kind in the United States, has been added to the zoo here.

Zoo attendants believe there are not more than five such birds in captivity. The addition of an African gray parrot, one of the best "talkers" of its species, filled an order that had been standing for three years.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

AS the weather grows warmer, the salad gradually acquires greater importance in the menu. Each month brings new greens and a wider variety of solar materials from which to choose.

There is no other line of cookery in which there have been so many innovations and delightful discoveries of tempting combinations as in the realm of salads. They can be arranged so attractively and combined so appetizingly that they are usually one of the most popular features of a dinner or luncheon.

To be quite perfect, the lettuce of "green" preferred must be thoroughly chilled and crisped without a trace of water clinging to its surface.

In some parts of the country hotness like to serve the salad immediately after the soup course. This custom has several points in its favor. In this case the salad acts as an appetizer and whets latent spring appetites. Of course, this type of salad should never be substituted and must be very plentiful. However, authorities on "just how" to do things seem to be agreed that the proper place for the salad course is following the meat course in the dinner menu.

Hearty spring salads are welcome for Sunday night suppers and noon luncheons. The combination of meat and vegetables is excellent and the following salads are nourishing examples.

Ham Salad

One and one-half cups diced cold boiled ham, 1-2 cups diced cold boiled potatoes, 1 cup diced celery,

1 hard cooked egg, mayonnaise, lettuce, combine ham, potatoes and celery, tossing lightly with a fork.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Steamed figs, cereal, cream, waffles with marmalade, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Tomato bottled salad a la Russe, rye bread, strawberries, vanilla cookies, milk, tea.
DINNER: Salmon steak, peas, stuffed tomato salad, date and walnut pudding, milk, coffee.

Add mayonnaise to make moist and serve on crisp lettuce. Garnish with slices of hard cooked egg and serve.

Potato Salad a la Russe

Two cups diced cooked potatoes, 1-2 teaspoon grated onion, 1-2 cup diced pickled beets, 4 sardines, 4 hard cooked eggs, mayonnaise, lettuce.

Use small new potatoes. Scrub and boil in salted water until tender. Peel as soon as cool enough to handle. Cut into neat dice and chill. Remove skin and bones from sardines and separate into small pieces. Cut eggs into slices. Combine materials lightly with mayonnaise and serve on crisp lettuce.

A salad of tuna fish, celery and hard cooked eggs is another good combination.

Canned salmon and green peas, either canned or fresh, makes an inviting salad for luncheon.

Veal, diced carrots and celery is another good meat and vegetable combination.
