

RANGER SCOUT TROOP HOLDS COURT HONOR

Troop No. 9, Boy Scouts, held a court of honor Thursday night on the vacant lot west of the post-office building. A large number of visitors were present and witnessed the ceremony of presentation of badges to 18 tenderfeet.

One application for a merit badge in first aid was made and the application was approved. The merit badge will be presented at a later meeting of the court of honor.

Guy Quiri, executive of the Comanche Trail council, accompanied by two scouts from Brownwood, took part in the services. Scout Keneff blew the bugle call, assembly and taps, at the opening and closing of the meeting.

J. E. Meroney, chairman of the scout committee in Ranger, was in charge of the meeting. He turned the meeting over to D. W. Nichol at the beginning of the court of honor and Rev. Nichol, assisted by C. G. King, scoutmaster of the troop, and Clyde Alworth, assistant scoutmaster, presided in the presentation of merit badges.

Those who took part in the ceremony, in addition to the scouts, were Ben Whitehouse, chairman of Troop 9 committee; C. E. May, vice chairman of the district committee; D. W. Nichol, C. G. King, Clyde Alworth, and J. E. Meroney.

Scouts who received tenderfoot badges were Jeff Rawls, Ernest Glazner, Dean Crawley, Buster Higdon, E. O. Samms, Jack Palmer, Earl Walton, Stephen Pressner, Bill Bragg and Junior Westfall. John Thomas Scott passed the test for merit badge (first aid).

Children Lead Auto Casualties for State

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Seventeen per cent of motor accident victims in Pennsylvania for the first four months of 1932 were children, according to State Motor Vehicle bureau records.

Automobiles killed 583 persons in the state during the period, and 101 of the total were children.

Hawkins Running For Congress Place

W. H. Hawkins of Stephenville, was a visitor in our office Wednesday, while in this city in the interest of his candidacy for Congressman-at-large, Group No. 2. Mr. Hawkins is nearing the 5000 mile notch of his tour through Texas, and says he has met with a fine degree of encouragement all along the various routes.

Mr. Hawkins' main platform text is this: "Unless the Farmers Make Money, We Are All Losers," and he declares that if sent to Washington he will support no measure which in his judgment would interfere with remunerative farming, but will favor every measure he thinks would prove helpful thereto. He believes all voters, no matter what their avocation in life should be vitally interested in the success of a program like that, and has found that most of them do favor it.

Mr. Hawkins was for many years owner and editor of the Stephenville Empire, and it was at the solicitation of many of his former friends that he had long read after him that he decided to become a candidate for the first

THE cop who'd scared wee Copsy said, "Just follow me and you'll be lead into the tent where all the clowns put on their funny clothes."

"We'll show you how the work is done, that gives the youngsters lots of fun. On little Duncy we will build a funny looking nose."

"Oh, that will be a heap of fun," cried Duncy. "See! Come on, let's dress up in crazy things galore."

"So it will be a treat, I guess, to see how they make up and dress. This is our chance to find out what bright grease paint's really for."

THEY scampered 'cross the circus ground to reach the tent. Inside they found a lot of very funny things that made the Tinmites roar.

Two clowns were dressing like a horse and they looked mighty strange, of course. They shortly got all twisted up and toppled to the door.

Another clown put paint in place, until he had a monkey face. And then he donned a monkey suit which had a real long tail. Said he, "In just a little while I'll make the circus audience smile. My act is such a good one that I seldom ever fail."

ALL of a sudden Scouty cried, "I hear some music right outside." The other Tinmites followed him as he ran from the tent.

A group of seals was practicing and one of them was trying to sing. "Come, hear them lads," exclaimed a very kindly looking gent.

"Oh, let me lead your fine seal band," said Scouty. "My! That would be grand!" "All right," replied the trainer. "You can try it, if you wish."

The seals seemed thrilled to see the boys. They played and made a lot of noise. And then they started clapping. How they made their flappers swish!

time in life. He is a native Texan and has resided in Stephenville forty-one years.

Mr. Hawkins says he is and has ever been opposed to the booze traffic and all his votes on the liquor question have been so cast. Yet, if elected to the position he seeks, he will regard himself as one of three congressmen chosen by all Texas, and as such he intends to do the will of the majority of the sovereign voters of this state, as he understands it.

He is against nepotism; against the cancellation of war debts due this country; favors reduction of all salaries from $3600 up, and will do all in his power to see that there are more jobs for the jobless.

RODNEY DUTCHER'S POLITICAL STORIES OF THE DAY

Rodney Dutcher is a NEA Service writer. Those who have missed his political stories of the past and present are missing political literature of a high order as well as of rare informative value.

Rodney Dutcher is not only accurate but he is impartial. He is not engaged in the work of writing "one man up and another man down."

Republicans will assemble in Chicago this week. Rodney Dutcher will be there. Democrats will assemble later along in the month.

A VERY OPTIMISTIC BUSINESS REVIEW

There is another rainbow in the business heavens. Bradstreet pointed it out. Indeed the weekly review of the Bradstreet organization sounded a definitely optimistic note.

There is another rainbow in the congressional heavens. A $300,000,000 emergency bill for relief to the destitute, providing for reconstruction finance corporation loans to the state, was rushed through the American senate in less than five hours by a vote of 72 to 8.

An amendment by Senator Robert LaFollette inhibiting the reconstruction finance corporation from exercising any jurisdiction in connection with the awards of loans or advances was adopted.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

JACOB, THE FATHER

Text: Gen. 46:1-7 and 28-30; 47:7.
BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist.
Since the event of the last lesson, Joseph has made himself known to his brethren, and he has sent for Jacob, his father, to come down to Egypt.

BUT FIRST OF ALL JACOB WENT TO BEERSHEBA TO OFFER SACRIFICES OF PRAISE AND THANKSGIVING.

So, the record is that Jacob's sons carried him down to Egypt with their wives and their families, in the wagons which Pharaoh had sent for the journey.

Joseph stands as a great example of faithfulness and integrity under the cruel buffetings of misfortune, and likewise under the tests of prosperity which have often been fatal to men who could stand the buffetings.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

The other day we almost, but not quite, mooched a drink off of Eastland. He was walking up and down South Austin street looking like he was lost. He said he was looking for Bill McDonald to summon him as a witness in a case to be tried in Eastland, but couldn't find him.

That is the second time lately that the two have been confused on account of a similarity in names. Gus says that a report that Bill McDonald played golf was going to hurt the other Bill McDonald with some of the voters who thought he ought to be attending to his duties instead of playing golf.

The senate is due to vote on the $2,400,000,000 Patman bonus bill today, the vote having been delayed from yesterday in order to give some of the senators time to read the measure over more carefully.

The vote will probably be taken in time for this paper to carry the result, and the prediction is that it will be defeated by a narrow margin. When, and if, the senate does vote down the measure there is some danger of trouble in Washington.

So far the "bonus expeditionary force" has been orderly and peaceful in its actions, both on the march and while staying in Washington. But it is impossible, these days, to get together a crowd of between 20,000 and 30,000 without having some radicals in the crowd who would like to start trouble.

The republicans at Chicago have renominated Hoover and Curtis. There was never any doubt that Hoover would be chosen to carry the standard of the party, but there was some talk of discarding Charles Curtis.

Hoover is reported to have listened over long-distance telephone and to reports sent out from the convention stadium with much interest. He was trying to find out whether he is wet or dry and why.

According to the last information we had from the yard and garden contest, the judging that was originally scheduled to be held on Wednesday, June 15, will be held on Tuesday, June 21.

The delay was voted by the committee because many had been unable to do as much work on their yards and gardens as they wanted to do, on account of the rains that fell during the latter part of the contest period.

Prizes will be awarded during the week, after awards have been announced.

A hunt that developed into a home run featured the game between Eastland and Ranger Thursday afternoon. Three errors in fielding the hunt and throwing to bases assisted in converting the five-foot blow into a four-bagger.

It was a hectic affair, but worth watching.

Joe Jobe, office deputy in the office of Sheriff Virge Foster of Eastland, has returned to his home from Gorman, where he has been for some time.

Mr. Jobe underwent an operation at Gorman and his many Eastland friends are glad to know that he is able to be back at home. He is expected to be back in his office in a short time.

Drills Seek Gold Under City Streets

OROVILLE, Cal.—Belief in the boom-time mining days that beneath this prosperous agricultural and mining city existed rich gold veins, has led many to suggest moving the city to find out.

Now the curiosity born three-quarters of a century ago will be satisfied. But Oroville's streets and buildings will stay where they are. The giant drills are operating in basements and alleys to test whether the long-rumored gold veins exist.

SCOUT NEWS
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

As wood carving, leather craft, tin craft, silversmithing, archery, nature lore, swimming, and exploring various points of interest on the 42,000-acre ranch—this is some of the things that a scout attending Billy Gibbons camp will have an opportunity to do.

The scout office is getting reports every day of boys who want to sign up to go.

Juniors.

Several inquiries have been made regarding the attendance of boys under 12 years of age attending camp, who are not scouts. There is a national rule forbidding any Boy Scout camp accepting boys for attendance at camp, who are not registered Boy Scouts. Therefore we are not permitted to let any boy attend camp who is not a scout. He may attend with his parents and visit camp on Sunday.

Mass Hall.

The mess hall which is located on the Llano river is being moved this week to the Gibbons camp site. Preparations are being forwarded daily to have the camp in readiness for the large number of boys who will be in attendance July 19.

Council Meeting.

About 50 were in attendance last Tuesday night at the Comanche Trail council meeting which was held in Eastland at the city park. Much enthusiasm was manifested, good reports made, and a good time was enjoyed by all. The next meeting was voted to be held at the summer camp the afternoon of July 24.

Water Carnival.

The water carnival held last Thursday for troops surrounding Stephenville was a decided success from every standpoint. Contests in various water activities were given. The Stephenville troop, of which Homer Tudor is scoutmaster, won first place in the meet. Hamilton, with Dr. Baker as scoutmaster, took second place, and the Dublin troop with W. E. Sparks acting scoutmaster took third place. The mothers furnished an exceedingly nice basket picnic supper, which was served on the lake front, after a hard day's work on the part of the scouts participating. After supper a ceremony was given with L. W. Phillips, chairman of the Stephenville district, presiding, assisted by Connor Blakeney, chairman of the troop committee; Homer Tudor, scoutmaster, and G. N. Quiri, scout executive. Ribbons for the various events were awarded.

Ex-Scribe New Seattle Mayor

After an unprecedented midnight inauguration, Mayor John F. Dore of Seattle, Wash. (above), former police reporter, launched a wholesale clean-up of the police department, warned the underworld that graft and vice must cease, and dashed salaries of all city officials, including his own.

Good Attendance.

Troop 2 of Brownwood reorganized Friday night with the following officers: Stuart Painter, junior assistant scoutmaster; Earl Baker, junior patrol leader; Estle Mills, scribe; Tom Vaughn, patrol leader; Larkie Towery, patrol leader. The troop committee reported that they would be responsible for transportation for the boys to camp and would work out plans whereby the scouts could earn their camp fee. The troop is expecting a good attendance at camp.

Pioneer Cowboys To Hold Reunion

Special Correspondent.

STAMFORD, Texas.—Pioneer Texas cowboys, who "won and ruled an empire from the saddle" will hold their annual round-up in Stamford in connection with the Texas Cowboy reunion July 4, 5 and 6. The oldtimers have their own organization known as the Texas Pioneer Cowboy Reunion association.

The pioneers will hold their convention and elect officers on the morning of July 4. However, they will be guests of the Texas Cowboy Reunion throughout the three days of the gathering. Membership badges of the pioneer association will admit the veteran cowhands to all rodeo performances, to the chuck wagon dinner each day and the oldtime square dance each night.

Men who were actively employed on the range or trail 35 years ago are entitled to membership. Widows of men who would be entitled to membership also are eligible. Col. R. L. Penick of Stamford, president of the pioneers' organization, is mailing out invitations to some 600 members and prospective members.

The assembling of the pioneer cowboys and cattlemen to renew acquaintances, swap stories and revive memories of the Old West, is one of the outstanding features

Man and Horse May Run Marathon

By United Press.

NEW CASTLE, Pa.—A marathon race between a man and a horse may mark the next visit of Governor Gifford Pinchot to the $1,500,000 Pymatung flood control dam.

Earl Lin Dilks, New Castle distance runner, has announced he will race a horse from New Castle to Espyville, Pa., a distance of 63 miles.

Dilks said he would try to lower the record of 9 hours, 37 minutes, for the 100-kilometer run, which he is said to have broken several times in unofficial attempts.

Lueders Encampment Has Strong Program

At a two-day meeting on the Lueders encampment grounds last week, there were present representatives of seven associations and indications from each one were to the effect that the encampment would be largely attended. It begins July 11 and runs through the 22nd.

Lueders encampment grounds represent a value of about $25,000. The tabernacle is said to be the largest of any encampment in the state.

Numerous individual cottages have been erected. The management is offering free sites for the erection of private buildings. The grounds are only open for those who have property interests at times the encampment is not in session.

The management is arranging to feed three in a family or from a church group for the sum of $15, or $5 each for the entire 11 days. Each additional member of a family will be given his meals for $4.50. Every effort is being made to help the people get away from any drudgery and the prices have been made the lowest by far in the history of the encampment.

It is believed the program is the strongest that has ever been outlined. State workers will include Mrs. J. E. Leigh, corresponding secretary of the W. M. U. of Texas; Andrew Allen, from the Sunday school department, and Miss Grace Conn, from the B. T. S. department.

The small fee of $1 registration per car will prevail again this year. Those who wish to register before the encampment time will please write Mrs. J. E. Burnam, care Simmons University, Abilene, Texas.

PLUMBER FREED SKUNK.

By United Press.

BAD AXE, Mich.—A skunk, which had caught its head in a salad bottle, owes its freedom—if not its life—to Arthur Dundas. Dundas discovered the trapped skunk while fixing plumbing at Lakeside, near here. He placed a plank on the bottle and stood on one end of it while the little animal worked loose.

HEALTH IMPROVED 40%

Use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

you are constipated, read this which Mr. Murray had at by Notary Public:

Two months ago I commenced Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to reconstipation. I am in better today than I have been in due to the use of your wonderful product. My bowels move regular and my general health has improved 40%.—George A. Murray, Street, South Boston, Mass.

laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN two things needed to correct constipation: "Bulk" to expand the intestines; Vitamin B to soothe the intestinal tract. ALL also furnishes iron for the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar that of lettuce. Inside it forms a soft mass. Gently expands the intestines of wastes, much better to use ALL than to abuse your system pills and drugs—often fatal.

teaspoonfuls daily will tame most types of constipation—in serious cases, with every 10 grains of ALL-BRAN, is believed this way, see your doctor as a cereal with milk or in cooking. At all grocers the red-and-green package, by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

105,000 RED CROSS MEMBERS IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM.—The Swedish Red Cross now has 105,000 members, it was revealed by Prince Carl, brother of King Gustaf, who heads the organization. He also announced at the annual meeting that the resources of the Red Cross had risen from 4,000,000 kronor in 1914 to 14,000,000 kronor today.

SPEAKING of SPORTS

By STUART CAMERON, United Press Sports Editor.

Juan Carlos Zabala, Runner Extraordinary. Not since the last visit of Paavo Nurmi, the "Phantom Finn," has this country entertained as speedy a distance runner as Juan Carlos Zabala, of Buenos Aires.

Zabala established a new American record for the 10,000-meter race by winning a recent special event of that distance in New York. The old record was 31:28.4 and was held by the Kankakee flier, Joe Ray. Zabala was timed at 31:26.6. The latter time is better than that made by Nurmi in winning the 1920 Olympic event.

Zabala is a somewhat shy youngster of 20 years. He has a typical runner's build, lithe, but with legs of proper power. Based on records made up to the present, Zabala seems destined to win an Olympic championship. Lindgren of Sweden has been timed at 31:52, and his mark is the best of the European national champions expected to compete at Los Angeles. Certainly, no United States runner has given promise of being able to match strides with the Argentine.

Actually, Zabala's recent record-breaking run is more impressive than it appears to be. He was running virtually alone on an oddly shaped track. The surface of the track was too hard for proper running. Let Zabala was timed at 44:9.8 for the first mile, 9:52.6 for the second, 14:57.4 for the third, 20:05.6 for the fourth, 25:18.2 for the fifth, and 30:27.8 for the sixth. (The 10,000-meter is slightly more than six miles.)

Zabala was one of the first of the foreign athletes to arrive for the games to be held next month in Los Angeles. After a training period in New York, he will migrate west, competing in the various events of his distance prior to the games themselves.

Questionnaire Is Issued To Give Employers Aid

The following questionnaire was sent out by a big business firm with the view of a check-up on applicants for positions with their firm. It may not be a bad idea to read it, it may give us a check-up on ourselves.

- Promptness
1. Is his work prompt?
2. Is he habitually late or absent?
3. Does he do routine regularly and efficiently?
4. Does his work indicate that he is doing his best or merely trying to get by?
5. Does he make up missed work promptly and without urging?
6. Does he ordinarily keep his promises?
7. Is he abnormally forgetful of his obligations?
Honesty
1. Does he tell the truth even when the consequences may be serious to him?
2. Does he indulge in "verbal" or "half-truths" that so often give wrong impression?
3. Does he "bluff"?
4. Will he give frank opinions, criticisms or advice?
5. Is he above being nice to superiors merely to gain favors?
6. Does he pay his debts promptly?
Standards
1. Are his standards different from those commonly accepted?
2. Does he live up to his own standards?
3. Does he lead a clean personal life?
4. Does he keep good company?
5. What is his stance on sex? Does it seem normal?
Factors of Originality
1. Does he make helpful suggestions?
2. Does he display marked originality in his work and try new ways of doing it?
3. Does he often do work better than that required?
4. Does he readily apply outside material to his work?
5. Can he work on large projects that are not laid out step by step for him?
6. Is he a leader or follower in his work?
Enthusiasm
1. Does he work with evident zest?
2. Does he work without apparent rest, but with dogged, plodding perseverance?
3. Is he evidently enthusiastic about his work?
4. Is he enthusiastic toward new methods or does he have to be dragged into them against his will?
5. Can he talk something besides "shop" and will he?
Leadership
1. Do others tend to follow his example in morals, conduct, dress, speech?
2. Do others seek advice from him?
3. Is he usually ready to back up any worthy suggestion?
Forcefulness
1. Does he have a pretty good idea of what he was to do or say and how he wants to do or say it?
2. Does he render definite and prompt decisions?
3. Can he command attention by speaking as if he means what he says?
4. Is he afraid to give criticism?
Social Aptness
1. Does he ask intelligent questions?
2. Can he stick to a question?
3. Does he reason logically?
4. Does he recognize and profit by his own mistakes?
5. Can he have a good command of English, oral and written?
Good Judgment
1. Does he foresee problem situations and forewarn a situation and his own for meeting it adequately?
2. Does he foresee a situation and his own for meeting it adequately?

Boating is Recipe For Longevity

By United Press. BUFFALO, N. Y.—The best recipe for a ripe old age is plenty of boating, according to Dr. Elish P. Hussey, 86. An audience of 500 "landlubbers" heard Dr. Hussey give the initial lesson on a "ground school" course in yachting at the Buffalo Yacht club headquarters. "Some landlubbers may get a thrill out of knocking a little ball into a hole in the ground," Dr. Hussey said. "But I don't want to even mention them. Let's talk about the yachting. "There is something spiritual in every mood of the sea, from a dead calm to the heaviest gale. It takes you out of yourself. It builds the serenity and depth of character which is the basis of a long and happy life. There is something missing from the life of every man who has not held a tiller. "If you would live deeply, live well, and live long, own a boat."

SIDELIGHTS ON CANDIDATES

Texas Governorial Race Brings Out Many Aspirants for the Office.

Editor's Note: This is another of a series dealing with the personalities of the leading candidates at the Texas primary election.

By GORDON K. SHEARER, United Press Staff Correspondent. AUSTIN, June 17.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, candidate for governor, has been the victim and the beneficiary of many popular fallacies. She was not the first woman governor of a state though she was the first woman elected governor. Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming actually took office before Mrs. Ferguson, becoming governor of Wyoming on Jan. 5, 1925. Mrs. Ferguson was inaugurated a few days later.

Mrs. Ferguson was not a suffragette. In fact it has never made the women who worked for suffrage in Texas very happy to have had the first high honors go to one who was not with them.

Being governor was not Mrs. Ferguson's idea. Someday the story of who originated the plan may become known. Now he will admit it only in confidence. On the other hand, the idea Mrs. Ferguson was merely a figurehead as governor is also far wide of the mark. To those who were about the capitol in her administration it was made very apparent she could speak for herself. Mrs. Ferguson suffered from an over eager press-agenting in the early days of her governorship. She was pictured as the great housewife, happy only among her pots and pans, her chickens and her garden. Unwittingly she heightened this impression herself in obligingly posing for photographers.

She suffered from the same when she retired after her defeat by Governor Dan Moody. Stories were published she was "through with politics" and "happy to be back at housekeeping." She promptly said she had not given up her interest in politics. She attended the democratic national convention at Houston four years ago, partly as a demonstration she had not given up political interest.

The truth is she is a good housekeeper but she is no fonder of kitchen drudgery than other women. The contrast between her official position and her accustomed home life was stressed out of all proportion. "Governor Jim" Ferguson likes to be known as "Farmer Jim." He specializes in murdering the King's English and usually wears a black alpaca coat and thin string tie while campaigning.

Mrs. Ferguson is always well dressed. The gowns for her inauguration and the inaugural ball were expatiated upon in great detail. They were more elaborate than usual but she is always attired in good taste and good style. Trained in one of the noted private schools of its day in Texas, she speaks correctly and is an interesting conversationalist. Her initials inevitably led to her becoming known as "Ma." "Me for Ma" became a campaign slogan. Yet being called "Ma" is probably her pet aversion.

The surprise of the present campaign has been the way in which she has come forward as a public speaker. She no longer says a few words and introduces "my husband." Now she makes a 15-minute speech. "Governor Jim" who used to monopolize the plat-

Officials Will Consider Request For Farm Loans

AUSTIN.—Reconstruction finance corporation officials will seriously and carefully consider the request for additional crop loans to farmers of the west, they promised a delegation from Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, which recently appeared before the relief agency.

Commissioner of Agriculture E. McDonald, a member of the governor's contact committee, claimed upon his return that he was assured by the admission that a continuation of agricultural loans will be given "with care and careful consideration." "The secretary of agriculture has been pronounced upon loaning the farmers money further to the already burdened surplus of farm products," he stated. "He stated that some means be found to curtail production of farm products. It is his belief that proper economic status of Texas members of the delegation were A. P. Barrett of Worth, Leon Goodman of Dallas and Commissioner McDonald in Washington, joined Col. T. Woods of New Mexico, former Gov. T. E. Campbell of Arizona, John W. Carver of John E. Owens of Dallas, man and member of the governor's committee, did not make the delegation carried to Austin. The delegation carried to Austin the plea that government funds should be available for farming just as long as farm production is not so far in excess of demand as to be prohibited by Congress as to be able to do so.

It is discrimination to shut the door in the face of the farm May 1 when they continue to be preached from that Book and the many souls saved through its reading. Old time gospel songs were given, many were the memories of God's saints who have gone to the happy heavenly home. One of God's ministers related his call to the ministry and testified to the great power of the Bible in his life.

This morning's service is the last week day service of the revival. Prayer bands meet this afternoon at 7:30, preaching at 8:15. There will be no service tomorrow morning. Services tomorrow night at regular time.

And Another Cat Came Back!

(And Glad To Get Back)
We have leased from the J. M. Shena Milling Company the mill elevator which we sold them nearly two years ago, and is now ready for business. The plant has been cleaned up and overhauled. J. L. Stone will continue as manager, and we do not think there is a small mill in the state with as good a mill as he is.
We will do an exchange business as before, swapping flour for oat, corn, oats or any kind of grain. We will also continue to run our corn mill. Will also run feed grinder and feed mixer and will put out a line of mixed feed for "compression" uses, for cash.
We have assumed payment of flour left on storage and just soon as we can get started, we are glad to have those having flour stored to come and get it. We would like to have them bring more wheat when coming, as we are doing business.

Cambridge Firemen Have Own Building

By United Press.
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — The Cambridge fire department now has a flag of its own, designed by Private Edward R. Bradshaw. It shows an eagle with a cross of mercy painted over its body, clutching a fireman's trumpet in its talons and in its mouth a banner bearing the Latin motto, "Aut cinere aut auri." "To conquer or to die."
It will be carried by the firemen in parades and may be flown from masts on the fire stations.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

MEAN WHILE TODAY
CHERRY DIXON, is and pretty, fails to love with DAN PHILLIPS, newspaper reporter whom her wealthy aristocratic parents have forbidden her to see. When Cherry learns Dan's telephone messages have been kept from her she steals out of the house to meet him. Her father discovers this and threatens to send her to California. Cherry defies him and he orders her to leave.
She goes to Dan, tells him what has happened and asks him to marry her. The ceremony is performed that night by a Justice of Peace.
Cherry looks for an apartment but is discouraged to find them so expensive. Dan writes her one night a letter. TONY TONCALI, gangland chief, is coming to Wellington. Cherry suddenly receives this news tip to a reporter on the rival newspaper. The other paper gets the story and Dan's boss threatens, "One more slip and you're fired."
DIXIE SHANNON, movie critic, helps Cherry and an inexperienced apartment agent. They invite DAN PHILLIPS, friend of Dan's, to dinner but the food burns up and they have to dine in a restaurant.
A week later Cherry works all day cleaning houses. Dixie invites her and Dan to a bridge party but Dan refuses to go. He tries to write to Wellington. Cherry suddenly tears the paper from the typewriter and bangs out the apartment.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXI
DAN opened the door quietly and entered. He had been gone nearly an hour. "Hello," he said to Cherry.
The girl had turned at the sound of the key in the lock but now she did not glance up. She was sitting in the window seat, looking very small with her feet curled beneath her, her face white against the cloudy mass of dark hair. The light through the window behind her was dark. Dan had been staring at that starmen sky.
"Hello."
Phillips put down his hat and crossed the room. "I'm sorry," he began abruptly. "I didn't mean the things I said tonight. I—well, I want you to know I'm sorry about it."
"It's all right."
But it wasn't all right. Phillips could see that. The brown eyes raised to his showed how deeply Cherry had been hurt. There were no tears in those eyes now but the wisp of handkerchief she clutched was a damp and twisted ball.
Dan waited uncertainly. He wanted to say more, did not know how to begin.
"Can I sit down here?"
She moved to make room for him and he dropped to the seat with a sigh.
"I've been walking," he told her. "Walking? Where did you go?"
"Oh, I don't know. Down the street—I didn't notice. It's getting cold out."
Suddenly Cherry was concerned. "And you didn't have your topcoat! Oh, Dan, you shouldn't have done that. You've probably taken cold and now you'll be sick!"
"I don't think so."
"But you can't be sure. You should have a hot bath and—"
